(3) A loan of this type to a mutual or stock insurer is subject to the commissioner's approval. The insurer shall, in advance of the loan, file with the commissioner a statement of the purpose of the loan and a copy of the proposed loan agreement. The loan and agreement are approved unless within 15 days after filing the insurer is notified of the commissioner's disapproval and reasons for the disapproval. The commissioner shall disapprove any proposed loan or agreement if the commissioner finds the loan is unnecessary or excessive for the purpose intended or that the terms of the loan agreement are not fair and equitable to the parties, and to other similar lenders, if any, to the insurer, or that the information filed by the insurer is inadequate.

(4) A loan to a mutual or stock insurer or a substantial portion of the loan must be repaid by the insurer when the loan is no longer reasonably necessary for the purpose originally intended. Repayment of either principal or interest on the loan may not be made by a mutual or stock insurer unless approved in advance by the commissioner.

(5) This section does not apply to loans obtained by the insurer in the ordinary course of business from banks and other financial institutions or to loans secured by pledge or mortgage of assets.

33-3-432. Impairment of capital or assets. (1) If a stock insurer's capital, as represented by the aggregate par value of its outstanding capital stock, becomes impaired or the assets of a mutual insurer are less than its liabilities and the minimum amount of surplus required to be maintained by it under 33-3-204 for authority to transact the kinds of insurance being transacted, the commissioner shall at once determine the amount of deficiency and serve notice upon the insurer to make good the deficiency within 60 days after service of such notice.

(2) The deficiency may be made good in cash or in assets eligible under chapter 12 for the investment of the insurer's funds as follows:

(a) if a stock insurer, by reduction of the insurer's capital to an amount not below the minimum required for the kinds of insurance to be transacted; or

(b) if a mutual insurer, by amendment of its certificate of authority to cover only the kind or kinds of insurance for which the insurer has sufficient surplus under this title.

(3) If the deficiency is not made good and proof is filed with the commissioner within the 60-day period, the insurer is insolvent and the commissioner shall institute delinquency proceedings against it under chapter 2, part 13; except that if the deficiency exists because of increased loss reserves required by the commissioner or because of disallowance by the commissioner of certain assets or reduction of the value at which carried in the insurer's accounts, the commissioner may, upon application and good cause shown, extend for not more than an additional 60 days the period within which the deficiency may be made good and proof of making good is filed.

33-3-433. Assessment of stockholders or members. (1) Any insurer receiving the commissioner's notice mentioned in 33-3-432(1):

(a) if a stock insurer, by resolution of its board of directors and subject to any limitations upon assessment contained in its articles of incorporation, may assess its stockholders for amounts necessary to cure the deficiency and provide the insurer with a reasonable amount of surplus in addition. If a stockholder fails to pay a lawful assessment after notice given to the stockholder in person or by advertisement in a time and manner approved by the commissioner, the insurer may require the return of the original certificate of stock held by the stockholder and in cancellation and in lieu of the original certificate issue a new certificate for the number of shares that the stockholder may then be entitled to, upon the basis of the stockholder's proportionate interest in the amount of the insurer's capital stock as determined by the commissioner to be remaining at the time of determination of the amount of impairment under 33-3-432, after deducting from the proportionate interest the amount of the unpaid assessment. The insurer may pay for or reissue fractional shares under this subsection.

(b) if a mutual insurer, shall levy such an assessment upon members as is provided for under 33-3-412.

(2) Neither 33-3-432 nor this section may be considered to prohibit the insurer from curing any deficiency through any lawful means other than those referred to in 33-3-432 or this section.

33-3-434. Directors' liability for losses during deficiency. The directors of the insurer shall be individually liable as to losses incurred under policies issued by the insurer after expiration of the period provided in 33-3-432 for curing any deficiency of the insurer's capital stock or surplus and prior to the curing of the deficiency.

33-3-435. Stock transfer during impairment of capital. Any transfer of the stock of a domestic insurer made during the existence of any impairment of such insurer's capital does not release the stockholder making the transfer from any liability as a stockholder of such insurer which accrued prior to such transfer.

33-3-436. Mutual member's share of assets on liquidation. (1) Upon any liquidation of a domestic mutual insurer, its assets remaining after discharge of its indebtedness, policy obligations, repayment of contributed or borrowed surplus, if any, and expenses of administration must be distributed to existing persons who were its members at any time within 36 months preceding the date that liquidation was authorized or ordered or the date of last termination of the insurer's certificate of authority, whichever date is the earlier.

(2) The distributive share of each member under subsection (1) must be in the proportion that the aggregate premiums earned by the insurer on the policies of the member during the combined periods of membership bear to the aggregate of all premiums earned on the policies of all members. The insurer may, and if the insurer is a life insurer shall, make a reasonable classification of its policies held by members and a formula based upon the classification for determining the equitable distributive share of each member. The classification and formula are subject to the approval of the commissioner.

33-3-441. Equity securities of domestic stock insurance company — statement of ownership. (1) When used in 33-3-441 through 33-3-447, the term "equity security" means:

(a) any stock or similar security;

(b) any security convertible, with or without consideration, into an equity security or carrying any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase an equity security;

(c) any warrant or right described in subsection (1)(b); or

(d) any other security that the commissioner considers to be of a similar nature and considers necessary or appropriate, by rules as the commissioner may prescribe in the public interest or for the protection of investors, to treat as an equity security.

(2) A domestic stock insurance company shall report to the commissioner the name of any person who acquires 10% or more of any class of equity security of the company. The company shall report the name of the person within 30 days of the person acquiring 10% or more of any class of equity security of the company. The company shall provide any other information about the person that the commissioner may require.

(3) If a person has not acquired at least a 10% interest of any class of equity security of a domestic stock insurance company during the last calendar year preceding the annual statement filing date, the company is only required to report in the annual statement the names and percentages of those persons holding at least 10% interest in any class of equity security.

33-3-442. Inside trading of securities — profit inures to company — limitation of action to recover — rules. (1) For the purpose of preventing the unfair use of information that may have been obtained by the beneficial owner, director, or officer by reason of the individual's relationship to the company, any profit realized by the individual from any purchase and sale, or any sale and purchase, of any equity security of the company within any period of less than 6 months, unless the security was acquired in good faith in connection with a debt previously contracted, must benefit and be recoverable by the company, irrespective of any intention on the part of the beneficial owner, director, or officer in entering into the transaction of holding the security purchased or of not repurchasing the security sold for a period exceeding 6 months.

(2) Suit to recover the profit described in subsection (1) may be instituted at law or in equity in any court of competent jurisdiction by the company or by the owner of any security of the company in the name and in behalf of the company if the company fails or refuses to bring suit within 60 days after request or fails to diligently prosecute the suit. However, the suit may not be brought more than 2 years after the date the profit was realized.

(3) This section may not be construed to cover any transaction in which the beneficial owner was not the beneficial owner both at the time of the purchase and sale, or the sale and purchase, of the security involved or any transaction or transactions that the commissioner may exempt by rule as not comprehended within the purpose of this section.

33-3-443. Short sales of equity securities prohibited — time for delivery after sale. (1) It is unlawful for any beneficial owner, director, or officer, directly or indirectly, to sell any equity security of the company if the person selling the security or the person's principal:

(a) does not own the security sold; or

(b) if the person owns the security, does not deliver it against the sale within 20 days or does not within 5 days after the sale deposit it in the mail or other usual channels of transportation.

(2) A person may not be considered to have violated this section if the person proves that notwithstanding the exercise of good faith the person was unable to make the delivery or deposit within that time or that to do so would cause undue inconvenience or expense.

33-3-444. Exemptions — securities held in an investment account — primary or secondary market — rules. (1) The provisions of 33-3-442 do not apply to any purchase and sale, or sale and purchase, and the provisions of 33-3-443 do not apply to any sale of an equity security of a domestic stock insurance company not then or later held by a person in an investment account by a broker-dealer in the ordinary course of business and incident to the establishment or maintenance by the broker-dealer of a primary or secondary market, except on an exchange as defined in the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, for the security.

(2) The commissioner may, by rules that the commissioner considers necessary or appropriate in the public interest, define and prescribe terms and conditions with respect to securities held in an investment account and transactions made in the ordinary course of business and incident to the establishment or maintenance of a primary or secondary market.

33-3-445. Exemptions — arbitrage transactions. The provisions of 33-3-441 through 33-3-443 shall not apply to foreign or domestic arbitrage transactions unless made in contravention of such rules as the commissioner may adopt in order to carry out the purposes of 33-3-441 through 33-3-447.

33-3-446. Exemptions — registered securities — holding by less than 100 persons. The provisions of 33-3-441 through 33-3-443 shall not apply to equity securities of a domestic stock insurance company if:

(1) such securities shall be registered or shall be required to be registered, pursuant to section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended; or

(2) such domestic stock insurance company shall not have any class of its equity securities held of record by 100 or more persons on the last business day of the year next preceding the year in which equity securities of the company would be subject to the provisions of 33-3-441 through 33-3-443 except for the provisions of this subsection (2).

33-3-450. Purpose. The purpose of 33-3-450 through 33-3-453 is to authorize domestic insurance companies to utilize modern systems for holding and transferring securities without physical delivery of securities certificates, subject to appropriate rules adopted by the commissioner.

(1) "Clearing corporation" has the meaning provided in 30-8-112, except that with respect to securities issued by institutions organized or existing under the laws of any foreign country or securities used to meet the deposit requirements pursuant to the laws of a foreign country as a condition of doing business in the foreign country, a clearing corporation may include a corporation that is organized or existing under the laws of any foreign country and is legally qualified under those laws to effect transactions in securities by computerized book entry.

(2) "Direct participant" means a bank, trust company, or other institution that maintains an account in its name in a clearing corporation and through which an insurance company participates in a clearing corporation.

(3) "Federal reserve book-entry system" means the computerized systems sponsored by the United States department of the treasury and certain agencies and instrumentalities of the United States for holding and transferring securities of the United States government and those agencies and instrumentalities, respectively, in federal reserve banks through banks that are members of the federal reserve system or that otherwise have access to the computerized systems.

(4) "Member bank" means a national bank, state bank, or trust company that is a member of the federal reserve system and through which an insurance company participates in the federal reserve book-entry system.

(5) "Security" has the meaning provided in 30-8-112.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-3-452. Use of book-entry systems — rules. (1) (a) Other provisions of law may not be construed as prohibiting a domestic insurance company from depositing or arranging for the deposit of securities held in or purchased for its general account and its separate accounts in a clearing corporation or the federal reserve book-entry system.

(b) When securities are deposited with a clearing corporation, certificates representing securities of the same class of the same issuer may be merged and held in bulk in the name of the nominee of the clearing corporation with any other securities deposited with the clearing corporation by any person, regardless of the ownership of the securities. Certificates representing securities of small denominations may be merged into one or more certificates of larger denominations.

(c) The records of any member bank through which an insurance company holds securities in the federal reserve book-entry system and the records of any custodian bank through which an insurance company holds securities in a clearing corporation at all times must show that the securities are held for the insurance company and for which accounts of the insurance company.

(d) Ownership and other interests in securities subject to this subsection (1) may be transferred by bookkeeping entry on the books of a clearing corporation or in the federal reserve book-entry system without, in either case, physical delivery of certificates representing the securities.

(2) The commissioner may adopt rules that include but are not limited to rules governing the deposit by insurance companies of securities with clearing corporations and in the federal reserve book-entry system and rules pertaining to evidence that must be provided to the commissioner with respect to the recording of securities.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-3-453. Deposit of securities by insurance companies. (1) Securities qualified for deposit under 33-3-450 through 33-3-453 may be deposited with a clearing corporation or held in the federal reserve book-entry system.

(2) An insurance company that is using securities to help meet the deposit requirements of Title 33, chapter 2, parts 1 and 6, and depositing those securities with a clearing corporation or holding the securities in the federal reserve book-entry system:

(a) may not withdraw the securities without the approval of the commissioner; and

(b) shall provide to the commissioner evidence issued by its custodian or member bank through which the insurance company has deposited the securities in a clearing corporation or through which the securities are held in the federal reserve book-entry system, respectively, in order to establish that the securities are actually recorded in an account in the name of the custodian, other direct participant, or member bank and that the records of the custodian, other direct participant, or member bank reflect that the securities are held subject to the order of the commissioner.

33-3-502. Solicitations in other states. (1) A domestic insurer may not knowingly solicit insurance business in any reciprocating state in which it is not then licensed as an authorized insurer.

(2) This section does not prohibit advertising through publication and radio, television, and other broadcasts originating outside the reciprocating state if the insurer is licensed in a majority of the states in which the advertising is disseminated and if the advertising is not specifically directed to residents of the reciprocating state.

(3) This section does not prohibit insurance, covering persons or risks located in a reciprocating state, under contracts solicited and issued in states in which the insurer is then licensed. This section does not prohibit insurance effectuated by the insurer as an unauthorized insurer in accordance with the laws of the reciprocating state.

(4) A reciprocating state, as used in this section, is one under the laws of which a similar prohibition is imposed upon and enforced against insurers domiciled in that state.

(5) The commissioner shall suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of a domestic insurer found by the commissioner, after a hearing, to have violated this section.

33-3-503. Membership in mutuals. (1) Each policyholder of a domestic mutual insurer, other than of a reinsurance contract, is a member of the insurer with all rights and obligations of such membership, and the policy shall so specify.

(2) Any person, government or governmental agency, state or political subdivision thereof, public or private corporation, board, association, firm, estate, trustee, or fiduciary may be a member of a domestic, foreign, or alien mutual insurer. Any officer, stockholder, trustee, or legal representative of any such corporation, board, association, or estate may be recognized as acting for or on its behalf for the purpose of such membership and shall not be personally liable upon any contract of insurance for acting in such representative capacity.

(3) Any domestic corporation may participate as a member of a mutual insurer as an incidental purpose for which such corporation is organized and as much granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred.

Dissolution and Liquidation

Part Cross-References

33-3-601. Voluntary dissolution of domestic insurers — plan of dissolution. (1) At least 60 days before a domestic stock insurer or a for-profit domestic mutual insurer submits a proposed voluntary dissolution to shareholders or policyholders under 35-14-1402 or voluntarily dissolves under 35-14-1401, the insurer shall file the plan for dissolution with the commissioner. The commissioner may require the submission of additional information to establish the financial condition of the insurer or other facts relevant to the proposed dissolution. If the shareholders or policyholders adopt the resolution to dissolve, the commissioner shall, within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution, begin to examine the insurer. The commissioner shall approve the dissolution unless, after a hearing, the commissioner finds the insurer is insolvent or may become insolvent in the process of dissolution. If the commissioner approves the voluntary dissolution, the insurer may dissolve under 35-14-1401 through 35-14-1409. The papers required by 35-14-1401 through 35-14-1404 to be filed with the secretary of state must instead be filed with the commissioner. The duties required by 35-14-125 to be performed by the secretary of state must instead be performed by the commissioner. If the commissioner does not approve the voluntary dissolution, the commissioner shall petition the court for liquidation or rehabilitation under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13.

(2) At least 60 days before a nonprofit domestic mutual insurer submits a proposed voluntary dissolution to the board or members under 35-2-721 or voluntarily dissolves under 35-2-720, the insurer shall file the plan for dissolution with the commissioner. The commissioner may require the submission of additional information to establish the financial condition of the insurer or other facts relevant to the proposed dissolution. If the board or members adopt the resolution to dissolve, the commissioner shall, within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution, begin to examine the insurer. The commissioner shall approve the dissolution unless, after a hearing, the commissioner finds the insurer is insolvent or may become insolvent in the process of dissolution. If the commissioner approves the voluntary dissolution, the insurer may dissolve under Title 35, chapter 2, part 7, except that 35-2-728(1)(d) does not apply. The papers required by 35-2-720 through 35-2-725 to be filed with the secretary of state must instead be filed with the commissioner. The duties required by 35-2-119 to be performed by the secretary of state must instead be performed by the commissioner. If the commissioner does not approve the voluntary dissolution, the commissioner shall petition the court for liquidation or rehabilitation under Title 33, chapter 2, part 13.

33-3-602. Conversion to involuntary liquidation. An insurer may at any time during liquidation under Title 35, chapter 2, part 7, or Title 35, chapter 14, part 14, apply to the commissioner to have the liquidation continued under the commissioner's supervision. Upon receipt of the application, the commissioner shall apply to the court for liquidation under 33-2-1341.

33-3-603. Revocation of voluntary dissolution. If an insurer revokes the voluntary dissolution proceedings under 35-2-724 or 35-14-1404, the insurer shall file a copy of the revocation of voluntary dissolution proceedings with the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 389, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 191, Ch. 368, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 151, L. 2017; amd. Sec. 235, Ch. 271, L. 2019.

33-3-604. Distribution of assets of mutual insurer. The maximum amount that a mutual insurer may pay to a policyholder upon dissolution, in addition to the benefits promised in the insurance policy, is the total of the premium payments made by the policyholder with interest at the legal rate compounded annually. Any excess over the amounts must be deposited with the state treasurer to the credit of the state general fund. A person may participate in the distribution of assets of a mutual insurer only if the person has a policy in effect 180 days before the insurer files its plan for dissolution with the commissioner. The amount that a person eligible to participate in the distribution of assets of a mutual insurer may receive must be in the proportion that the premiums paid by the policyholder bear to the total premiums paid to the mutual insurer by all policyholders who had policies in effect 180 days before the insurer filed its plan for dissolution with the commissioner.

Part 7
Disclosure of Material Transactions

33-3-701. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Disclosure of Material Transactions Act".

History: En. Sec. 78, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-3-702. Report. (1) An insurer domiciled in this state shall file a report with the commissioner disclosing material acquisitions and dispositions of assets or material nonrenewals, cancellations, or revisions of ceded reinsurance agreements unless the acquisitions and dispositions of assets or material nonrenewals, cancellations, or revisions have been submitted to the commissioner for review or approval or for information purposes pursuant to other provisions of the insurance code, laws, or regulations or other requirements.

(2) The report required in subsection (1) is due within 15 days after the end of the calendar month in which any of the transactions in subsection (1) occur.

(3) One complete copy of the report, including any exhibits or other attachments, must be filed with:

(a) the insurance department of the state in which the insurer is domiciled; and

(b) the national association of insurance commissioners.

(4) All reports obtained by or disclosed to the commissioner pursuant to this part must be treated confidentially, may not be subject to subpoena, and may not be made public by the commissioner, the national association of insurance commissioners, or any other person, except to insurance departments of other states, without the prior consent of the insurer to which it pertains unless the commissioner, after giving the insurer notice and an opportunity to be heard, determines that the interest of policyholders, shareholders, or the public will be served by publication, in which event the commissioner may publish all or any part of the report in the manner the commissioner chooses.

33-3-703. Acquisitions and dispositions of assets. (1) Acquisitions or dispositions of assets that are not material are not required to be reported pursuant to 33-3-702 if the acquisitions or dispositions are not material. For purposes of this part, a material acquisition or the aggregate of any series of related acquisitions during any 30-day period or a disposition or the aggregate of any series of related dispositions during any 30-day period is one that is nonrecurring and not in the ordinary course of business and involves more than 5% of the reporting insurer's total admitted assets as reported in its most recent statutory statement filed with the insurance department of the insurer's state of domicile.

(2) Asset acquisitions subject to this part include every purchase, lease, exchange, merger, consolidation, succession, or other acquisition, other than the construction or development of real property, by or for the reporting insurer or the acquisition of materials for this purpose.

(3) Asset dispositions subject to this part include each sale, lease, exchange, merger, consolidation, mortgage, hypothecation, assignment, whether for the benefit of creditors or otherwise, abandonment, destruction, or other disposition.

(4) The following information is required to be disclosed in any report of a material acquisition or disposition of assets:

(a) the date of the transaction;

(b) the manner of acquisition or disposition;

(c) the description of the assets involved;

(d) the nature and amount of the consideration given or received;

(e) the purpose or reason for the transaction;

(f) the manner by which the amount of consideration was determined;

(g) the gain or loss recognized or realized as a result of the transaction; and

(h) the names of the persons from whom the assets were acquired or to whom they were disposed.

(5) An insurer is required to report material acquisitions and dispositions on a nonconsolidated basis unless the insurer is part of a consolidated group of insurers that uses a pooling arrangement or 100% reinsurance agreement that affects the solvency and integrity of the insurer's reserves and the insurer ceded substantially all of its direct and assumed business to the pool. An insurer cedes substantially all of its direct and assumed business to a pool if the insurer has less than $1 million total direct plus assumed written premiums during a calendar year that are not subject to a pooling arrangement and the net income of the business not subject to the pooling arrangement represents less than 5% of the insurer's capital and surplus.

33-3-704. Nonrenewals, cancellations, or revisions of ceded reinsurance agreements. (1) A nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision of a ceded reinsurance agreement need not be reported pursuant to 33-3-702 if the nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision is not material. For purposes of this part, a material nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision is one that affects:

(a) property and casualty business, including disability business written by a property and casualty insurer, so that:

(i) more than 50% of the insurer's total ceded written premium is affected; or

(ii) more than 50% of the insurer's total ceded indemnity and loss adjustment reserves are affected;

(b) life, annuity, and disability business, so that more than 50% of the total reserve credit taken for business ceded, on an annualized basis, as indicated in the insurer's most recent annual statement is affected;

(c) either property and casualty or life, annuity, and disability business and causes either of the following events that constitutes a material revision that must be reported:

(i) an authorized reinsurer representing more than 10% of a total cession is replaced by one or more unauthorized reinsurers; or

(ii) previously established collateral requirements have been reduced or waived as respects one or more unauthorized reinsurers representing collectively more than 10% of a total cession.

(2) However, a filing is not required if:

(a) with respect to property and casualty business, including disability business written by a property and casualty insurer, the insurer's total ceded written premium represents, on an annualized basis, less than 10% of its total written premium for direct and assumed business; or

(b) with respect to life, annuity, and disability business, the total reserve credit taken for business ceded represents, on an annualized basis, less than 10% of the statutory reserve requirement prior to any cession.

(3) The following information is required to be disclosed in any report of a material nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision of ceded reinsurance agreements:

(a) the effective date of the nonrenewal, cancellation, or revision;

(b) the description of the transaction with an identification of the initiator of the transaction;

(c) the purpose or reason for the transaction; and

(d) if applicable, the identity of the replacement reinsurers.

(4) Insurers are required to report all material nonrenewals, cancellations, or revisions of ceded reinsurance agreements on a nonconsolidated basis unless the insurer is part of a consolidated group of insurers that uses a pooling arrangement or 100% reinsurance agreement that affects the solvency and integrity of the insurer's reserves and the insurer ceded substantially all of its direct and assumed business to the pool. An insurer is considered to have ceded substantially all of its direct and assumed business to a pool if the insurer has less than $1 million total direct plus assumed written premiums during a calendar year that are not subject to a pooling arrangement and the net income of the business not subject to the pooling arrangement represents less than 5% of the insurer's capital and surplus.

General Provisions

33-4-101. Scope of chapter — provisions applicable. (1) The chapter applies to:

(a) all domestic mutual hail, fire, and other casualty insurers of farm property and stock and rural buildings formed and immediately prior to January 1, 1961, lawfully transacting insurance under sections 40-1501 through 40-1517 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947;

(b) all domestic mutual rural insurers formed and immediately prior to January 1, 1961, lawfully transacting insurance under sections 40-1601 through 40-1625 of the Revised Codes of Montana, 1947;

(c) all insurers formed under this chapter.

(2) The insurance laws of this state do not apply to or govern, either directly or indirectly, domestic farm mutual insurers except as provided in this chapter.

(3) The following chapters and sections of this title apply to farm mutual insurers to the extent applicable and not inconsistent with the express provisions of this chapter and the reasonable implications of the express provisions of this chapter: chapter 1, parts 1 through 4, 7, 12, and 13; 33-2-112; 33-2-501; 33-2-502; 33-2-708; 33-2-1212; chapter 2, parts 13 and 16; 33-2-1501; 33-2-1517(2); 33-3-218; 33-3-308; 33-3-309; 33-3-401; 33-3-402; 33-3-431; 33-3-436; chapter 3, part 6; and chapters 18 and 19.

(2) A "farm mutual insurer" is an insurer that meets the qualifications of 33-4-101(1).

(3) A "state mutual insurer" is a farm mutual insurer authorized to insure property and liability risks throughout the state.

(4) "Surplus" is the extent to which the value of an insurer's assets exceeds its liabilities.

33-4-103. Corporate powers in general. (1) An insurance corporation formed under this chapter or existing on January 1, 1961, and of a type which might be formed under this chapter shall have the same capacity to act possessed by individuals but with authority to perform only such lawful acts as are necessary or proper to accomplish its purposes.

(2) Without affecting the authority contained in subsection (1) above, every such corporation shall have the following corporate powers:

(a) to have succession by its corporate name for the period stated in its articles;

(b) to sue and be sued in its corporate name;

(c) to adopt, use, and alter a corporate seal;

(d) to acquire, hold, sell, use, dispose of, pledge, or mortgage any such property as its purpose may require, subject to any limitation prescribed by law or the articles of incorporation;

(e) to transact insurance;

(f) to conduct its affairs through its directors, officers, employees, insurance producers, and representatives thereunto duly authorized;

(g) to make bylaws not inconsistent with law for the exercise of its corporate powers, the management, regulation, and government of its affairs and property, including but not limited to calling and holding of meetings of its directors or members, and to modify or amend such bylaws;

(h) to exercise, subject to law and the express provisions of the articles of incorporation, all such incidental and subsidiary powers as may be necessary or convenient to the attainment of the objectives set forth in such articles;

(i) to dissolve and wind up or be dissolved and wound up in the manner provided by law.

(3) An insurance corporation formed under this chapter may also form a subsidiary entity for the purpose of acting as an insurance producer, transacting insurance underwritten by other insurers. The subsidiary entity shall comply with the licensing requirements of chapter 17, as well as all other laws that apply to insurance producers. Funds used by an insurance corporation formed under this chapter for a subsidiary entity insurance producer are considered investments but are exempt from the requirements of 33-4-403.

Part 2
Formation

33-4-201. Eligible incorporators. (1) One hundred or more individuals residing in this state, each of whom is 18 years of age or more, who collectively own farm property as referred to in 33-4-501(1)(a) valued at not less than $500,000 which they desire to insure, and each of whom owns farm lands or ranch lands situated in this state valued at not less than $5,000, may incorporate a state mutual insurer.

(2) Twenty-five or more individuals residing in this state, each of whom is 18 years or more of age, each of whom owns farm land or ranch land valued at $5,000 or more in the county wherein is to be located the principal office of the proposed insurer or in any county in this state contiguous with such county, and who collectively own in such counties farm property referred to in 33-4-501(1)(a) valued at not less than $125,000 which they desire to insure, may incorporate a county mutual insurer.

33-4-202. Declaration of intention to incorporate — articles of incorporation. (1) The individuals proposing to form a farm mutual insurer as referred to in 33-4-201 shall file with the commissioner:

(a) a declaration of their intention to form the corporation signed by at least 100 persons if a proposed state mutual insurer or by at least 25 persons if a proposed county mutual insurer; and

(b) proposed articles of incorporation executed by three or more incorporators. The signatures of the incorporators must be notarized.

(2) The articles of incorporation must state:

(a) the name of the corporation. If a state mutual insurer, the words "farm mutual" must be a part of the name; if a county mutual insurer, the name must contain the words "farm mutual" or "rural mutual" together with the name of the county in which its principal place of business is to be located. The name may not be so similar to one already used by a corporation in this state as to be misleading.

(b) if a county mutual insurer, the name of the county or counties in which the corporation is to transact insurance and the address where its principal business office will be located;

(c) if a state mutual insurer, the location of its principal business office, which must be located in this state;

(d) the objects and purposes for which the corporation is formed;

(e) whether the insurer intends to transact business on the cash premium plan or the assessment plan;

(f) the duration of the corporation's existence, which may be perpetual;

(g) the number of its directors, which may not be less than 5 or more than 11, and the names and addresses of the members of the initial board of directors appointed to manage the affairs of the corporation until the first annual meeting of the members at which time successors must be elected and qualified;

(h) other provisions, not inconsistent with law, considered appropriate by the incorporators;

(i) the names, residences, and addresses of the persons signing the declaration under subsection (1)(a) and the value of their property to be insured in the county or counties where the operations of the corporation are to be transacted.

33-4-203. Approval of articles — commencement of corporate existence. (1) If the commissioner finds the proposed articles of incorporation to be in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and not in conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States or of this state, the articles must be approved. The commissioner shall forward the approved articles and the applicable fees to the secretary of state.

(2) If the commissioner considers the name of the proposed corporation to be so similar to one already appropriated by another company or corporation as to be likely to mislead the public, the commissioner shall reject the name applied for and shall notify the incorporators of the rejection.

(3) The corporation has legal existence upon the issuance of the certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, but it may not transact business as an insurer until it has obtained a certificate of authority as provided in 33-4-505.

Cross-References

33-4-204. Amendment of articles — change of status. (1) A farm mutual insurer may, by a vote of two-thirds of its members present at any annual meeting or at any special meeting called for that purpose, amend its articles of incorporation to extend its corporate duration or any other particular within the scope of this chapter by causing amended articles to be filed in the same form and manner as required for original articles of incorporation.

(2) (a) A county mutual insurer may change its status to that of a state mutual insurer by amending its articles of incorporation pursuant to the requirements of this section.

(b) A county mutual insurer that changes its status to that of a state mutual insurer shall conform with all requirements for a state mutual insurer under this chapter.

(3) (a) A state mutual insurer may change its status to that of a county mutual insurer by amending its articles of incorporation pursuant to this section.

(b) A state mutual insurer that changes its status to that of a county mutual insurer shall conform with all requirements for a county mutual insurer under this chapter.

(4) The commissioner shall review the amended articles for compliance with this title. The amended articles of incorporation may be signed only by the president and secretary of the corporation. Notice of the proposed amendment must be contained in the notice of the annual or special meeting.

33-4-205. Certified copies of articles as evidence. A copy of the articles of incorporation of a farm mutual insurer and any amendments thereof filed pursuant to law and certified by the commissioner shall be received in all courts and other places as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated and of the due incorporation of the insurer.

33-4-206. Initial qualifications. When applying for an original certificate of authority as an insurer newly organized in this state or for an amended certificate of authority in the case of a county mutual insurer that is changing its status to that of a state mutual insurer pursuant to 33-4-204, the insurer must have surplus as required by 33-4-401 and be otherwise qualified under this chapter, and:

(1) if a county mutual insurer, it must have received acceptable bona fide written applications from 25 separate persons for substantial insurance of the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted, aggregating at least $100,000. The applicants must have given to the insurer the obligations referred to in 33-4-508 or paid the premium required for the insurance, subject to the insurer qualifying to transact the kinds of insurance for which it has applied.

(2) if a state mutual insurer or a county mutual insurer that has changed its status to that of a state mutual insurer pursuant to 33-4-204, it must have received acceptable bona fide written applications from 100 separate persons, each for substantial insurance, aggregating at least $500,000 of the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted. The applicants must have given to the insurer the obligations referred to in 33-4-508 or paid the premium required for the insurance, subject to the insurer qualifying to transact the kinds of insurance for which it has applied.

(3) if to insure growing crops against loss or damage by hail, it must have received applications for hail insurance from not less than 100 persons residing in Montana and owning in the aggregate not less than 5,000 acres of grain. Each applicant must have given to the insurer the obligations referred to in 33-4-508 or paid the premium required for the insurance, subject to the insurer qualifying to transact hail insurance.

Part 3
Management

33-4-301. Bylaws — adoption — power to amend. Upon commencement of the legal existence of an insurer, its initial board of directors shall adopt such original bylaws, not inconsistent with the state constitution or this chapter, as may be deemed necessary for the management of its affairs. The bylaws shall be subject to the approval of the insurer's members at their next succeeding meeting. The members shall otherwise have the power to make, modify, and revoke bylaws.

33-4-302. Bylaws — contents. (1) The bylaws of a farm mutual insurer must provide:

(a) for the liability of each member for payment of the expenses and losses of the insurer and for what obligations must be given for the expenses and losses when a person applies for insurance;

(b) for the time when obligations of members for losses and expenses become due;

(c) for the limitation of liability of members for the payment of expenses and losses of the insurer;

(d) for the terms of office of the directors. At least part of the directors must be elected at each annual meeting of members. The term of any director may not be longer than 3 years.

(e) the month of the annual meeting of the members, at which vacancies existing or occurring on the board of directors are to be filled by election by the members. Each member must be permitted to cast at least one vote, either in person or, if authorized in the bylaws, by proxy, for each director to be elected and may cumulate the member's votes for one or more directors, not exceeding the number to be elected.

(f) how directors are to be elected in case an election does not occur at the annual meeting or in event of resignation, disability, or death of a director;

(g) the manner and time of giving notice of annual and special meetings of members.

(2) The bylaws may provide:

(a) the character of property to be insured and under what restrictions and limitations;

(b) restrictions and limitations as to membership and the powers, duties, and obligations of the members other than as to obligations covered under subsection (1)(a);

(c) the manner of making and collecting assessments;

(d) the manner of the suspension and expulsion of members;

(e) the form of application and the form of policy;

(f) the manner of making proof, adjustment, and payment of losses;

(g) for who is authorized to adjust losses for the insurer;

(h) for arbitration, as provided in 33-4-411, in the event that the insurer's adjuster and any claimant cannot agree as to the amount of any insured damage or loss;

(i) the duties and compensation of the officers and the bonds to be required of them;

(j) the books and records to be kept by the insurer, the reports required of the officers, and the manner of examining and auditing their accounts;

(k) what must be contained on the corporate seal and when the seal is required to be used;

(l) other matters as may be considered necessary or convenient for the management of the affairs of the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 485, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4818; amd. Sec. 1149, Ch. 56, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 169, L. 2013.

33-4-303. Bylaws binding upon members. The bylaws of a farm mutual insurer are binding upon all of its members and as from time to time amended are a part of the contracts of insurance between the insurer and its members.

33-4-304. Annual meetings of members — where held. Annual meetings of the members of a farm mutual insurer may be held at its principal business office or at any other place located in any county in this state in which the insurer is authorized to transact insurance.

33-4-305. Annual meeting — presentation of annual statement. The annual statement of the insurer as required to be filed with the commissioner under 33-4-313 shall be presented at the annual meeting of the members of the insurer next following the end of the calendar year to which such statement relates.

33-4-306. Adjourned annual meetings — notice. Notice of any adjourned annual meeting of members shall be given to the members of an insurer in the same manner as provided in the insurer's bylaws for the regular annual meeting of members.

33-4-307. Members' voting rights. Each member of an insurer is entitled to one vote upon each matter coming to a vote at meetings of members of the insurer. A member may vote by written proxy if and as may be provided in the insurer's bylaws. No such proxy shall be made irrevocable or for longer than 1 year.

33-4-308. Board of directors — quorum. (1) The general management of the affairs of a farm mutual insurer is vested in its board of directors.

(2) A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum to do business at any lawful meeting of the board.

33-4-309. Directors — election and term. (1) Directors of a farm mutual insurer must be elected by its members by ballot or acclamation for terms not to exceed 3 years and hold office until their respective successors are elected and have qualified.

(2) An individual may not serve as a director unless the individual is a member of the insurer.

33-4-310. Officers. The board of directors of an insurer shall elect from their number a president and vice-president. The board shall also elect a secretary and treasurer or a secretary-treasurer, who may or may not be members of the insurer. Officers shall hold their offices for 1 year and until their successors are elected and qualified, unless earlier removed by the board of directors.

33-4-311. Bonding of officers, managers, and employees. (1) When acting in a fiduciary capacity, officers, managers, and employees shall each give bonds to the insurer for the faithful performance of their duties. The bond must be issued by an authorized corporate surety.

(2) The commissioner may adopt rules to determine the amount of the bonds required under this section.

33-4-312. Officers, agents, and employees not licensed — exception for liability insurance. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), an agent of an insurer is not required to obtain a license or authority from any public official to transact business for the insurer. The insurer or its officers, agents, or employees are not required to pay any fee for a license for the transaction of the business of the insurer, except as provided in this chapter.

(2) A farm mutual insurer that offers liability insurance is required to have an insurance producer licensed by the state of Montana to transact liability insurance. A person may not sell, solicit, negotiate, or take applications for, procure, or place for others liability insurance for a farm mutual insurer unless that person is licensed under Title 33, chapter 17.

33-4-313. Annual statement. The president and secretary of each insurer, on or before March 1 each year, shall prepare, affirm under oath, and file with the commissioner, on forms prescribed and furnished by the commissioner, an annual statement for the preceding calendar year showing the condition of the insurer as of December 31 of the preceding year and exhibiting the following facts:

(1) the names of the president and secretary;
(2) the date of the annual meeting;
(3) the amount of insurance in force;
(4) the number of members;
(5) the number of assessments made during the year;
(6) the amount paid in losses during the year;
(7) the number of members withdrawn, suspended, and expelled during the year;
(8) the number of new members admitted during the year;
(9) the expenses during the year;
(10) the amount of money on hand;
(11) the amount and character of the insurer's assets;
(12) the amount of the insurer's liabilities, including any reserves required to be established under this chapter; and
(13) other information concerning the insurer's affairs that the commissioner may reasonably require.

33-4-314. Annual statement — exclusive report — penalty for failure to file. (1) A report, statement, or return of any nature may not be required of any farm mutual insurer other than those required by 33-4-313.

(2) The commissioner may:

(a) suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of any insurer failing to file its annual statement as required; or

(b) impose a fine of up to $100 a day for each day that an insurer is late in filing its annual statement, with the aggregate penalty not to exceed $1,000.

33-4-316. Records — inspections. (1) A farm mutual insurer, through its president and secretary, shall keep or cause to be kept accurate records and accounts of its transactions. The books, files, and records of the insurer must be located at its principal place of business or, in the case of a county mutual insurer, at a place within the county of its principal place of business as may be designated by the insurer's board of directors and shown in the minutes of the board.

(2) The books, files, and records of the insurer must be available for inspection by the insurer's directors and officers and by the commissioner or the commissioner's duly constituted examiner at all reasonable times.

33-4-320. Managing general agent waiver — exceptions. (1) The commissioner may waive the requirements for a managing general agent under Title 33, chapter 2, part 16, for a person managing the property and liability business of a resident domestic farm mutual insurer.

(2) The commissioner may revoke the waiver if the commissioner determines through examination that licensure of the person as a managing general agent is necessary.

(3) A person serving as a managing general agent for crop hail insurance may not receive a waiver under this section.

Part 4
Finance

33-4-401. Surplus funds required. A domestic farm mutual insurer is authorized to transact insurance if it is otherwise in compliance with the applicable provisions of this chapter and if it maintains surplus funds as follows:

(1) if a state mutual insurer or a county mutual insurer that has changed its status to that of a state mutual insurer pursuant to the provisions of 33-4-204, surplus of not less than $200,000; or

(2) if a county mutual insurer, surplus of not less than $50,000.

33-4-402. Members' liability — limitation. All liability of the members of a farm mutual insurer must be as limited in the insurer's bylaws. For insurers transacting business on the cash premium plan, the limitation must comply with 33-4-504(4). A member may not be required to pay more than the full amount of the member's obligation given to the insurer or of the member's liability as provided for in the bylaws.

33-4-403. Investments. (1) When directed by a majority vote of its members present at a meeting of members, the directors of a farm mutual insurer may invest the insurer's funds or any part of the funds in any of the following:

(a) bonds or other securities issued by the United States government or by any agency of the United States;

(b) bonds or other obligations the payment of the interest and principal of which is assumed or guaranteed by the United States government or any agency of the United States;

(c) general obligation bonds or warrants of any state, county, or city, when approved by the commissioner;

(d) loans secured by a first mortgage on real estate situated in the state of Montana but subject to the provisions of subsection (3);

(e) common stock of a domestic insurer formed as an affiliate company to two or more farm mutual insurers for the purpose of offering companion insurance products that farm mutual insurers are prohibited from selling. The investment may not exceed one-third of the assets of the farm mutual insurer.

(f) corporate bonds that are rated A3 or better by Moody's investor service, inc., or A- or better by Standard and Poor's corporation and that are issued with the full credit of the parent corporation. An investment in corporate bonds may not exceed 20% of the total assets of the mutual insurer, and no more than 5% of the total assets of the mutual insurer may be invested with one corporation.

(g) money market funds as defined by rules adopted by the commissioner. An investment in money market funds may not exceed 20% of the total assets of the mutual insurer, and no more than 5% of the total assets of the mutual insurer may be invested in a single money market fund.

(2) At the time of making an investment the document evidencing the investment must be stamped with the name of the insurer with the following notation printed or written on the document: "Negotiable only upon the order of the Board of Directors of .... (naming the insurer)."

(3) A real estate loan may not be for more than 60% of the appraised value of the real estate securing the loan, and the appraisal must have been made within 30 days prior to the date of the loan. The loan may not be for a term longer than 10 years. This subsection does not prevent the renewal or extension of loans already made and does not apply to real estate loans that are insured under the provisions of any act of the congress of the United States or to the making, extension, or renewal of any loans that are made under subchapter II of the act of congress known as the "Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944", or any amendment thereof or supplement thereto, as to any part of the loans. This subsection does not prevent an insurer from taking another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust when it already holds a first mortgage or deed of trust on the same real estate or from accepting a second lien on real estate to secure the payment of a debt previously contracted in good faith. This subsection does not prevent subsequent liens of any kind from being taken to secure the payment of a debt previously contracted in good faith when in the judgment of the insurer's board of directors the subsequent liens are necessary to further secure the payment of any debts and save the insurer from loss.

33-4-406. Reserves — cash premium plan. Each insurer transacting business on the cash premium plan shall maintain the following reserves:

(1) a loss reserve, in amount reasonably adequate to pay in full all losses already incurred but currently unpaid. The amount subsequently paid on such losses shall be credited against this reserve.

(2) a reserve for unearned premiums, which reserve shall be computed at 50% of net premiums (gross premiums less premiums returned) charged and collected for unexpired policy periods that commenced during the calendar year covered by the financial statement plus 100% of such net premiums charged and collected in advance for policy periods that are to commence after such calendar year. In the alternative, the insurer may at its option compute its entire reserve for unearned premiums as the aggregate amount of the pro rata unearned premiums for each policy in force as at the end of the calendar year to be covered by the financial statement.

33-4-407. Profits or dividends. An insurer may not accumulate any profits or pay any dividends. This provision does not prohibit an insurer from accumulating and maintaining surplus funds as required to be maintained by the insurer under this chapter or from accumulating and maintaining other voluntary reserves for purposes and in amounts that may be reasonable. Limitations on any accumulations and the purposes of the accumulations may be provided for in the insurer's bylaws.

33-4-408. Deficiency of surplus. (1) If the surplus funds of a farm mutual insurer at any time fall below the amount required to be maintained under this chapter, the insurer shall cure such deficiency within 6 months thereafter, notwithstanding that new losses or expenses may be incurred within such 6-month period.

(2) If the deficiency is not so cured, the commissioner may, upon the insurer's written application therefor, allow an additional reasonable period, not to exceed 6 months, for the curing of the deficiency.

(3) If the deficiency is not so cured within the first 6-month period, if additional time is not so applied for, or within such additional period as the commissioner may so allow, the commissioner shall forthwith suspend or revoke the insurer's certificate of authority.

33-4-410. Losses — notice — adjustment. (1) Every member of a domestic farm mutual insurer who has sustained any insured loss or damage shall immediately notify the insurer's secretary thereof and of the amount of damage or loss claimed.

(2) Upon receipt of the notice of loss referred to in subsection (1) above, the secretary shall notify the person or persons authorized by the bylaws of such insurer to ascertain the amount of the loss or damage and adjust the same.

33-4-411. Arbitration — committee — compensation. (1) If any insurer's adjuster and a claimant fail to agree as to the amount of the insured loss or damage sustained by the claimant and if provided for in the insurer's bylaws, the matter must be submitted to three persons as a committee of reference. One member must be selected by the claimant, one by the insurer, and the third by the other two members, all of whom must be sworn to a faithful and impartial investigation and award.

(2) The committee of reference has authority to examine witnesses and determine all matters in dispute. The decision or award of the committee must be made in writing to the secretary of the insurer. If it relates to any claimed loss or damage to a crop, the decision or award may not be made until after maturity of the crop. The decision or award of the committee is final and binding upon all parties unless an interested party appeals to the court within 30 days after the decision or award.

(3) The compensation of each member of any committee must be at the rate of $10 per day for each day of service in the discharge of duties. The compensation must be paid by the claimant unless the award of the committee exceeds the sum offered by the insurer in settlement of the claim, in which case the compensation must be paid by the insurer.

33-4-412. Obligations or assessments due — losses payable. (1) Obligations or assessments of members for losses and expenses become due and payable at such time as may be provided in the bylaws of the insurer, and the insurer shall use due diligence to collect each obligation or assessment.

(2) Any valid claim for an insured loss against an insurer transacting business on the assessment plan shall not be payable by the insurer until 30 days after such obligations of the members are due and payable.

33-4-413. Suit to collect obligations — liability of directors or officers. (1) An insurer may institute a suit against any member of such insurer if the member fails to pay when due any obligation or liability of the member given such insurer under the provisions of this chapter.

(2) The directors or officers of an insurer are liable in their individual capacity to the person sustaining an insured loss if they willfully refuse or neglect to perform the duties imposed upon them by the provisions of this section.

33-4-414. Proportionate payment of losses. If the aggregate whole amount of the members' obligations to an insurer transacting business on the assessment plan are insufficient to pay all valid claims for losses under the insurer's contracts of insurance after necessary expenses in any one year, then such claimants insured by the insurer shall receive their proportionate share of the funds realized from such obligations in full satisfaction of such losses.

33-4-415. Suit to collect for loss. If the insurer fails to pay any insured loss when due, an action may be maintained against it to collect for such loss, but subject to 33-4-414 as to assessment plan insurers.

Part 5
Insurance Operations

33-4-501. Insuring powers in general. (1) In respect to property insurance as defined in 33-1-210, a farm mutual insurer shall insure against loss or damage by fire or other casualty only:

(a) rural dwellings and buildings, including the usual contents, farm livestock, machinery, vehicles, growing crops, and other forms of farm property owned by a member of the insurer or by the member's spouse;

(b) residential dwellings, appurtenant structures, and personal property owned by a member of the insurer or by the member's spouse;

(c) dwellings and related buildings designed for occupancy by not over four families, together with the usual contents;

(d) rural schoolhouses and buildings used in connection with the schoolhouse, rural community houses, rural churches, or other rural public buildings.

(2) A farm mutual insurer may insure against the liability risks provided in 33-1-206(1)(b):

(a) only to the extent of the limit of risks provided in 33-4-502(3); and

(b) if contingent liability exists, provided that every policy contains a statement that each member of the farm mutual insurer is subject to a contingent liability under 33-3-411.

33-4-502. Limit of risk — retention of liability. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3), the maximum amount of insurance that an insurer may retain on a single risk, after deduction of applicable reinsurance, may not exceed the greater of 10% of the admitted assets of the insurer or $50,000.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a "single risk" as to insurance against fire and hazards other than windstorm, earthquake, or other catastrophic perils includes all properties insured by the same insurer that are reasonably susceptible to loss or damage from the same fire or the same occurrence of another hazard insured against.

(3) A farm mutual insurer:

(a) that insures any portion of a liability risk shall maintain a surplus of at least $50,000;

(b) that retains any portion of a liability risk shall obtain reinsurance on that liability insurance with an insurer that meets the criteria established in 33-4-503. A farm mutual insurer's retention on a single liability risk may not exceed the greater of 3% of admitted assets or $50,000.

(c) may not retain liability risk or risk resulting from insuring growing crops against loss or damage from hail or other hazards greater than the proportional share of each limit of liability in the following schedule:

Surplus as of the Preceding December 31:	Proportional Share of Each Limit of Liability Retained:
$1,000,000 or greater	15%
$800,000 to $999,999	12%
$600,000 to $799,999	9%
$400,000 to $599,999	6%
$200,000 to $399,999	3%

History: En. Sec. 471, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 259, L. 1967; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 94, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4804; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 319, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 132, L. 1981; amd. 33-4-503. Reinsurance. A farm mutual insurer may cede reinsurance to any other farm mutual insurer or insurers and to other authorized property insurers and reinsurers meeting the requirements of 33-2-1216 and may accept reinsurance from other farm mutual insurers.

33-4-504. Cash premium or assessment plans. (1) An insurer may transact business either on a cash premium plan or on an assessment plan, depending upon which plan is provided for in its articles of incorporation or bylaws.

(2) If transacting business on the cash premium plan, the insurer shall collect from each member a premium in cash in an amount that the insurer considers adequate to cover losses and expenses incurred during the term of the insurance.

(3) If transacting business on the assessment plan, the insurer shall principally depend for the payment of losses and expenses upon assessments from time to time levied upon members either before or after any losses or expenses have been incurred. This provision may not be construed as preventing any insurer from collecting from each member an initial amount that the insurer considers proper prior to or at the time of the effectuation of the member's insurance, and this provision may not be considered to prohibit the acquisition, accumulation, and maintenance of surplus or unallocated funds.

(4) An insurer transacting business on the cash premium plan may provide in its bylaws and policies for special assessment of its members if the cash premium charged is found by the insurer to be inadequate to pay in full losses and expenses currently incurred. The bylaws must provide a specific limitation on the amount that can be assessed in any one policy year, and the amount may not be less than one or more than six times the premium charged on each member's policy at the annual rate for a term of 1 year.

33-4-505. Certificate of authority required — issuance — continuation — fee. (1) A farm mutual insurer may not insure any risk in this state unless it then holds a subsisting certificate of authority issued to it by the commissioner.

(2) Upon application, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to every insurer qualified under this chapter.

(3) Every certificate of authority continues in force as long as the farm mutual insurer is entitled under this chapter and until suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated; subject, however, to continuance of the certificate by the farm mutual insurer each year by payment before May 15 of the continuation fee of $10 if a county mutual insurer or $25 if a state mutual insurer, to be deposited by the commissioner with the state treasurer to the credit of the state general fund.

(4) If the farm mutual insurer does not continue its certificate of authority in accordance with subsection (3), its certificate of authority expires at midnight on May 31 next following its failure to continue it in force. The commissioner shall promptly notify a farm mutual insurer that has not continued its certificate of authority of the impending expiration of its certificate of authority.

(5) A certificate of authority is subject to suspension or revocation by the commissioner for violation of or noncompliance with any provision of this chapter or referred to in this chapter.

(6) The commissioner may reinstate a certificate of authority that a farm mutual insurer has inadvertently permitted to expire, after the farm mutual insurer has fully cured all failures that resulted in the expiration and upon payment by the farm mutual insurer of the current continuation fee as provided in subsection (3). If a certificate is not reinstated, the commissioner may grant a farm mutual insurer another certificate of authority only after the farm mutual insurer files an application for a certificate of authority and meets all other requirements for an original certificate of authority in this state.

(7) The commissioner may amend a certificate of authority at any time to accord with changes in the farm mutual insurer's charter of insuring powers.

33-4-506. Members — minimum membership. (1) A person may not become a member of a farm mutual insurer except by insuring property owned by the person insurable under this chapter.

(2) The membership of an insurer consists of the persons lawfully insuring in the insurer.

(3) The total membership of the insurer must at all times be not less than the number of persons required by 33-4-201 to incorporate an insurer.

33-4-507. Withdrawal of member — cancellation by insurer. (1) A member of an insurer may withdraw by surrendering the member's policy to the insurer for cancellation and paying all obligations then owed by the member to the insurer.

(2) The insurer may cancel the policy of any member for any cause considered adequate by the insurer and upon not less than 10 days' written notice in advance of cancellation delivered to the member or mailed to the member's last address of record on file with the insurer.

33-4-508. Application for insurance. A person desiring insurance shall make written application to the insurer. If the insurer is transacting business on the assessment plan, the applicant shall at the time of application give the applicant's obligation to the insurer for the payment of losses and expenses as provided in the insurer's bylaws and make advance payment in cash as the insurer may require.

33-4-509. Application and policy forms filed with commissioner. All forms of application for insurance and of policies proposed to be used by an insurer must be filed with and approved by the commissioner prior to the issuance, delivery, or use in this state. The commissioner shall disapprove any form found by the commissioner to be unlawful, illegible, or misleading. An insurer may not use any form after it has received the commissioner's notice of disapproval setting forth the reasons for disapproval.

33-4-510. Rates — filing — discrimination. (1) A farm mutual insurer is not required to file any of its insurance rates with the commissioner. No such rate shall be unfairly discriminatory as between subjects of insurance covered for like perils under like policies and having substantially the same insuring, exposure, and underwriting characteristics.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision of subsection (1) or chapter 18, part 2, of this title, a farm mutual insurer transacting insurance under this chapter may refuse to renew a casualty or liability policy upon nonpayment of dues to the farm mutual insurer if payment of dues is a condition for obtaining or continuing such insurance.

33-4-511. Insurance of schools, community houses, and churches. (1) A contract of insurance effected upon the property of any school district, rural community house, rural church, or rural public building pursuant to 33-4-501 does not constitute the school district or the owners of the community house, church, or public building a member of the insurer.

(2) A contract of insurance effected upon any rural school building, rural community house, rural church, or other rural public building referred to in 33-4-501(1)(d) is not invalid because the directors or any director or officer of the insurer at the time of effecting the insurance coverage was a trustee, director, insurance producer, custodian, or manager or in any way in control, supervision, or management of any or all of the property insured.

33-4-512 through 33-4-520 reserved.

33-4-521. Farm mutual insurers — merger. (1) A domestic farm mutual insurer may not merge or consolidate with a stock insurer.

(2) A domestic farm mutual insurer may merge or consolidate with another farm mutual insurer or another domestic mutual insurer if:

(a) the insurers transact similar lines of business;

(b) the insurers agree on a plan for merger or consolidation which must be submitted to all members of each insurer by ballot and approved by two-thirds of the members voting for each respective insurer; and

(c) after submitting the plan for review and opportunity for a hearing, the commissioner provides written approval or denial of the merger or consolidation within a reasonable time.

(3) After opportunity for a hearing in subsection (2), the commissioner may not approve the merger or consolidation if evidence shows that it:

(a) is inequitable to the policyholders of any domestic mutual insurer involved;

(b) would substantially reduce the security of and service to be rendered to policyholders of the domestic mutual insurer; or

(c) is contrary to law.

(4) Sections 33-3-217(5) and 33-3-218 also apply to mergers and consolidations of mutual insurers with farm mutual insurers.

(5) Upon merger or consolidation of a domestic farm mutual insurer with another domestic mutual insurer under this chapter, the corporate charter of the merged or consolidated domestic farm mutual insurer must automatically be extinguished and nullified.

33-4-522. Bulk reinsurance — farm mutual insurers. (1) A domestic farm mutual insurer may reinsure all or substantially all its business in force, or all or substantially all of a major class of its business, with another insurer, stock or mutual, by an agreement of bulk reinsurance after compliance with this section. An agreement may not become effective unless filed with the commissioner and approved by the commissioner in writing.

(2) The commissioner shall approve an agreement within a reasonable time after filing if the commissioner finds it to be fair and equitable to each domestic insurer involved and that the reinsurance if effectuated would not substantially reduce the protection or service to its policyholders. If the commissioner does not approve the agreement, the commissioner shall notify each insurer involved in writing specifying the reasons for disapproval.

(3) The plan and agreement for reinsurance must be approved by a quorum of the board of directors of each farm mutual insurer involved in the agreement.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-5-101. Scope of chapter — existing insurers. (1) All authorized reciprocal insurers shall be governed by those sections of this chapter not expressly made applicable to domestic reciprocals.

(2) Existing authorized reciprocal insurers shall after January 1, 1961, comply with the provisions of this chapter and shall make such amendments to their subscribers' agreement, power of attorney, policies, and other documents and accounts and perform such other acts as may be required for such compliance.

33-5-102. Definitions. (1) "Reciprocal insurance" is that resulting from an interexchange among persons, known as "subscribers", of reciprocal agreements of indemnity, the interexchange being effectuated through an attorney-in-fact common to all such persons.

(2) A "reciprocal insurer" means an unincorporated aggregation of subscribers operating individually and collectively through an attorney-in-fact to provide reciprocal insurance among themselves.

Cross-References

Indemnity, Title 28, ch. 11, part 3.

33-5-103. Name — suits. A reciprocal insurer shall:

(1) have and use a business name. The name shall include the word "reciprocal", "interinsurer", "interinsurance", "exchange", "underwriters", or "underwriting".

(2) sue and be sued in its own name.

33-5-104. Attorney — not doing business. (1) "Attorney", as used in this chapter, refers to the attorney-in-fact of a reciprocal insurer. The attorney may be an individual, firm, or corporation.

(2) The attorney of a foreign or alien reciprocal insurer, which insurer is duly authorized to transact insurance in this state, shall not, by virtue of discharge of its duties as such attorney with respect to the insurer's transactions in this state, be thereby deemed to be doing business in this state within the meaning of any laws of this state applying to foreign firms or corporations.

Part 2
Formation

33-5-201. Organization of reciprocal insurer. (1) (a) Twenty-five or more persons domiciled in this state may organize a domestic reciprocal insurer and apply to the commissioner for a certificate of authority to transact insurance.

(b) Eight or more employers with a total of more than 500 employees may organize a domestic reciprocal insurer and apply to the commissioner for a certificate of authority to transact insurance for the purpose of providing workers' compensation coverage for their employees.

(2) The proposed attorney shall file with the commissioner when applying for a certificate of authority a declaration setting forth:

(a) the name of the insurer;

(b) the location of the insurer's principal office, which must be the same as that of the attorney and must be maintained within this state;

(c) the kinds of insurance proposed to be transacted, which in the case of a reciprocal insurer organized pursuant to subsection (1)(b) may only be workers' compensation coverage for employees;

(d) the names and addresses of the original subscribers;

(e) the designation and appointment of the proposed attorney and a copy of the power of attorney;

(f) the names and addresses of the officers and directors of the attorney, if a corporation, or its members, if a firm;

(g) the powers of the subscribers' advisory committee and the names and terms of office of the members of the committee;

(h) that all money paid to the reciprocal insurer must, after deducting any sum payable to the attorney, be held in the name of the insurer and for the purposes specified in the subscribers' agreement;

(i) a copy of the subscribers' agreement;

(j) a statement that each of the original subscribers has in good faith applied for insurance of a kind proposed to be transacted and that the insurer has received from each subscriber the full premium or premium deposit required for the policy applied for, for a term of not less than 6 months at an adequate rate filed with and approved by the commissioner;

(k) a statement of the financial condition of the insurer, a schedule of its assets, and a statement that the surplus as required by 33-5-401 is on hand; and

(l) a copy of each policy, endorsement, and application form proposed for issue or use.

(3) The declaration must be acknowledged by the attorney in the manner required for the acknowledgment of deeds.

Cross-References

33-5-202. Merger or conversion. (1) A domestic reciprocal insurer, upon affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of its subscribers who vote on a merger pursuant to due notice and the approval of the commissioner of the terms, may merge with another reciprocal insurer or be converted to a stock or mutual insurer.

(2) A stock or mutual insurer is subject to the same capital or surplus requirements and has the same rights as a similar domestic insurer transacting the same kinds of insurance.

(3) The commissioner may not approve any plan for merger or conversion that is inequitable to subscribers or that, if for conversion to a stock insurer, does not give each subscriber a preferential right to acquire stock of the proposed insurer proportionate to the subscriber's interest in the reciprocal insurer as determined in accordance with 33-5-411 and a reasonable length of time within which to exercise the right.

Part 3
Management

33-5-301. Power of attorney. (1) The rights and powers of the attorney of a reciprocal insurer shall be as provided in the power of attorney given it by the subscribers.

(2) The power of attorney must set forth:

(a) the powers of the attorney;

(b) that the attorney is empowered to accept service of process on behalf of the insurer in actions against the insurer upon contracts exchanged;

(c) the general services to be performed by the attorney;

(d) the maximum amount to be deducted from advance premiums or deposits to be paid to the attorney and the general items of expense in addition to losses to be paid by the insurer; and

(e) except as to nonassessable policies, a provision for a contingent several liability of each subscriber in a specified amount, which amount shall be not less than 1 or more than 10 times the premium or premium deposit stated in the policy.

(3) The power of attorney may:

(a) provide for the right of substitution of the attorney and revocation of the power of attorney and rights thereunder;

(b) impose such restrictions upon the exercise of the power as are agreed upon by the subscribers;

(c) provide for the exercise of any right reserved to the subscribers directly or through their advisory committee; and

(d) contain other lawful provisions deemed advisable.

(4) The terms of any power of attorney or agreement collateral thereto shall be reasonable and equitable, and no such power or agreement shall be used or be effective as to a domestic reciprocal insurer until approved by the commissioner.

Cross-References

33-5-302. Modifications. Modifications of the terms of the subscribers' agreement or of the power of attorney of a domestic reciprocal insurer shall be made jointly by the attorney and the subscribers' advisory committee. No such modification shall be effective retroactively or as to any insurance contract issued prior thereto.

33-5-303. Attorney's bond. (1) Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for in 33-5-201, the attorney of a domestic reciprocal insurer shall file with the commissioner a bond in favor of this state for the benefit of all persons damaged as a result of breach by the attorney of the conditions of the attorney's bond as set forth in subsection (2). The bond must be executed by the attorney and by an authorized corporate surety and must be subject to the commissioner's approval.

(2) The bond must be in the penal sum of $25,000, aggregate in form, conditioned that the attorney will faithfully account for all money and other property of the insurer coming into the attorney's possession and that the attorney will not withdraw or appropriate to the attorney's own use from the funds of the insurer any money or property to which the attorney is not entitled under the power of attorney.

(3) The bond must provide that it is not subject to cancellation unless 30 days' advance notice in writing of cancellation is given to both the attorney and the commissioner.

33-5-304. Action on bond. Action on the attorney's bond or to recover against any such deposit made in lieu thereof may be brought at any time by one or more subscribers suffering loss through a violation of its conditions or by a receiver or liquidator of the insurer. Amounts recovered on the bond shall be deposited in and become part of the insurer's funds. The total aggregate liability of the surety shall be limited to the amount of the penalty of such bond.

33-5-305. Subscribers' advisory committee — duties. (1) The advisory committee of a domestic reciprocal insurer exercising the subscribers' rights shall be selected under such rules as the subscribers adopt.

(2) Not less than two-thirds of such committee shall be subscribers other than the attorney or any person employed by, representing, or having a financial interest in the attorney.

(3) The committee shall:

(a) supervise the finances of the insurer;

(b) supervise the insurer's operations to such extent as to assure conformity with the subscribers' agreement and power of attorney;

(c) procure the audit of the accounts and records of the insurer and of the attorney at the expense of the insurer; and

(d) have such additional powers and functions as may be conferred by the subscribers' agreement.

History: En. Sec. 555, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5018.

Part 4
Finance

33-5-401. Surplus funds required. (1) A domestic reciprocal insurer subject to this part, if it has otherwise complied with the applicable provisions of this code, may be authorized to transact insurance if it has and maintains surplus funds as follows:

(a) to transact property insurance, surplus funds of not less than $500,000;

(b) to transact casualty insurance:

(i) including authority for workers' compensation insurance, surplus funds of not less than $750,000; or

(ii) excluding authority for workers' compensation insurance, surplus funds of not less than $500,000.

(2) In addition to surplus funds required to be maintained under subsection (1), the insurer must have, when first authorized, expendable surplus in the same amount as required of a like foreign reciprocal insurer under 33-2-110.

(3) A domestic reciprocal insurer may be authorized to transact additional kinds of insurance if it has otherwise complied with the provisions of this code for the additional kinds of insurance and maintains surplus funds in an amount equal to the minimum capital stock required of a stock insurer for authority to transact a like combination of kinds of insurance.

33-5-402. Contributions to insurer. The attorney or other parties may advance to a domestic reciprocal insurer upon reasonable terms funds that it may require from time to time in its operations. Sums advanced may not be treated as a liability of the insurer. Except upon liquidation of the insurer, during any calendar year, the total of withdrawals and repayments of the advanced sums may not exceed the lesser of the insurer's realized earned surplus or 10% of the sums advanced as of the previous December 31. A withdrawal or repayment may not be made without the advance approval of the commissioner. This section does not apply to bank loans or to loans for which security is given.

33-5-403. Financial condition — method of determining. In determining the financial condition of a reciprocal insurer the commissioner shall apply the following rules:

(1) The commissioner shall charge as liabilities the same reserves that are required of incorporated insurers issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis.

(2) The surplus deposits of subscribers must be allowed as assets, except that any premium deposits delinquent for 90 days must first be charged against the surplus deposit.

(3) The surplus deposits of subscribers may not be charged as a liability.

(4) All premium deposits that are delinquent for less than 90 days must be allowed as assets.

(5) An assessment levied upon subscribers and not collected may not be allowed as an asset.

(6) The contingent liability of subscribers may not be allowed as an asset.

(7) The computation of reserves must be based upon premium deposits other than membership fees and without any deduction for expenses and the compensation of the attorney.

33-5-404. Subscribers' liability. (1) The liability of each subscriber, other than as to a nonassessable policy, for the obligations of the reciprocal insurer must be an individual, several, and proportionate liability, and not joint liability.

(2) Except as to a nonassessable policy, each subscriber must have a contingent assessment liability, in the amount provided for in the power of attorney or in the subscribers' agreement, for payment of actual losses and expenses incurred while the subscriber's policy was in force. The contingent liability may be at the rate of not less than 1 or more than 10 times the premium or premium deposit stated in the policy, and the maximum aggregate contingent liability must be computed in the manner set forth in 33-5-406.

(3) Each assessable policy issued by the insurer must contain a statement of the contingent liability.

33-5-405. Subscribers' liability on judgment. (1) An action may not lie against any subscriber upon any obligation claimed against the insurer until a final judgment has been obtained against the insurer and remains unsatisfied for 30 days.

(2) Any judgment described in subsection (1) is binding upon each subscriber only in the proportion that the subscriber's interests may appear and in an amount not exceeding the subscriber's contingent liability, if any.

33-5-406. Assessments. (1) Assessments may from time to time be levied upon subscribers of a domestic reciprocal insurer liable for the assessment under the terms of their policies by the attorney upon approval in advance by the subscribers' advisory committee and the commissioner or by the commissioner in liquidation of the insurer.

(2) Each subscriber's share of a deficiency for which an assessment is made, but not exceeding in any event the subscriber's aggregate contingent liability as stated in accordance with 33-5-404, must be computed by applying to the premium earned on the subscriber's policy or policies during the period to be covered by the assessment the ratio of the total deficiency to the total premiums earned during the period upon all policies subject to the assessment.

(3) In computing the earned premiums for the purposes of this section, the gross premium received by the insurer for the policy must be used as a base, deducting only charges not recurring upon the renewal or extension of the policy.

(4) A subscriber may not have an offset against any assessment for which the subscriber is liable on account of any claim for unearned premium or losses payable.

33-5-407. Time limit for assessments. Every subscriber of a domestic reciprocal insurer having contingent liability must be liable for and shall pay the subscriber's share of any assessment, as computed and limited in accordance with this chapter, if:

(1) while the subscriber's policy is in force or within 1 year after its termination, the subscriber is notified by either the attorney or the commissioner of the intention to levy an assessment; or

(2) an order to show cause why a receiver, conservator, rehabilitator, or liquidator of the insurer should not be appointed is issued while the subscriber's policy is in force or within 1 year after its termination.

Cross-References

Supervision, rehabilitation, and liquidation of insurers, Title 33, ch. 2, part 13.

33-5-408. Aggregate liability. No one policy or subscriber as to such policy shall be assessed or charged with an aggregate of contingent liability as to obligations incurred by a domestic reciprocal insurer in any one calendar year in excess of the amount provided for in the power of attorney or in the subscribers' agreement, computed solely upon premium earned on such policy during that year.

33-5-409. Nonassessable policies. (1) If a reciprocal insurer has a surplus of assets over all liabilities at least equal to the minimum capital stock required of a domestic stock insurer authorized to transact similar kinds of insurance, upon application of the attorney and as approved by the subscribers' advisory committee, the commissioner shall issue a certificate authorizing the insurer to extinguish the contingent liability of subscribers under its policies then in force in this state and to omit provisions imposing contingent liability in all policies delivered or issued for delivery in this state for as long as all the surplus remains unimpaired.

(2) Upon impairment of the surplus, the commissioner shall revoke the certificate. The revocation may not make a policy subject to contingent liability if the policy is then in force and for the remainder of the period for which the premium has been paid. However, after the revocation, a policy may not be issued or renewed without providing for contingent assessment liability of the subscriber.

(3) The commissioner may not authorize a domestic reciprocal insurer to extinguish the contingent liability of any of its subscribers or in any of its policies to be issued unless it qualifies to and does extinguish the liability of all its subscribers and in all policies for all kinds of insurance transacted by it. However, if required by the laws of another state in which the insurer is transacting insurance as an authorized insurer, the insurer may issue policies providing for the contingent liability of those of its subscribers that may acquire the policies in that state and need not extinguish the contingent liability applicable to policies previously in force in that state.

33-5-410. Distribution of savings. A reciprocal insurer may from time to time return to its subscribers any unused premiums, savings, or credits accruing to their accounts. Any such distribution shall not unfairly discriminate between classes of risks or policies or between subscribers, but this shall not prevent retrospective rating, distribution on a retrospective plan, or distribution varying as to classes of subscribers based on the experience of such subscribers.

33-5-411. Subscribers' share in assets. Upon the liquidation of a domestic reciprocal insurer, its assets remaining after discharge of its indebtedness and policy obligations, the return of any contributions of the attorney or other persons to its surplus made as provided in 33-5-402, and the return of any unused premium, savings, or credits then standing on subscribers' accounts shall be distributed to its subscribers who were such within the 12 months prior to the last termination of its certificate of authority, according to such reasonable formula as the commissioner may approve.

33-5-412. Impaired reciprocals. (1) If the assets of a reciprocal insurer are at any time insufficient to discharge its liabilities, other than any liability on account of funds contributed by the attorney or others, and to maintain the required surplus, its attorney shall make up the deficiency or levy an assessment upon the subscribers for the amount needed to make up the deficiency, but subject to the limitation set forth in the power of attorney or policy.

(2) If the attorney fails to make up the deficiency or to make the assessment within 30 days after the commissioner orders the attorney to do so or if the deficiency is not fully made up within 60 days after the date the assessment was made, the insurer is considered insolvent and must be proceeded against as authorized by this code.

(3) If liquidation of an insurer is ordered, an assessment must be levied upon the subscriber for an amount, subject to limits as provided by this chapter, that the commissioner determines to be necessary to discharge all liabilities of the insurer, exclusive of any funds contributed by the attorney or other persons but including the reasonable cost of the liquidation.

Insurance Operations

33-5-501. Insuring powers of reciprocals. (1) A reciprocal insurer may, upon qualifying therefor as provided for by this code, transact any kind or kinds of insurance defined by this code, other than life or title insurances.

(2) Such an insurer may purchase reinsurance and may grant reinsurance as to any kind of insurance it is authorized to transact.

(1) Individuals, partnerships, and corporations of this state may make application, enter into agreement for, hold policies or contracts in or with, and be a subscriber of any domestic, foreign, or alien reciprocal insurer. Any corporation now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state shall, in addition to the rights, powers, and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation, have full power and authority as a subscriber to exchange insurance contracts through such reciprocal insurer. The right to exchange such contracts is hereby declared to be incidental to the purposes for which such corporations are organized and to be as fully granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred upon such corporations.

(2) Government or governmental agencies, state or political subdivisions thereof, boards, associations, estates, trustees, or fiduciaries are authorized to exchange nonassessable reciprocal interinsurance contracts with each other and with individuals, partnerships, and corporations to the same extent that individuals, partnerships, and corporations are herein authorized to exchange reciprocal interinsurance contracts.

(3) Any officer, representative, trustee, receiver, or legal representative of any such subscriber shall be recognized as acting for or on its behalf for the purpose of such contract but shall not be personally liable upon such contract by reason of acting in such representative capacity.

33-7-105. Fraternal benefit societies. Any incorporated or unincorporated society, order, or supreme lodge, without capital stock, including a society exempted under the provisions of 33-7-126(1)(b), that is conducted solely for the benefit of its members and their beneficiaries and not for profit, that is operated on a lodge system with ritualistic forms of work, that has a representative form of government, and that provides benefits in accordance with this chapter, is a fraternal benefit society.

33-7-106. Lodge system. (1) A society is operating on the lodge system if it has a supreme governing body and subordinate lodges into which members are elected, initiated, or admitted in accordance with its laws, rules, and ritual. Subordinate lodges must be required by the laws of the society to hold regular meetings at least once a month in furtherance of the purposes of the society.

(2) A society may organize and operate lodges for children under the minimum age for adult membership. Membership and initiation in local lodges may not be required of children, and children may not have a voice or vote in the management of a society.

33-7-107. Representative form of government. (1) A society has a representative form of government if it has a supreme governing body organized as provided in subsection (2) or (3).

(2) (a) The supreme governing body may be an assembly composed of delegates who meet the criteria of subsection (5) and who are elected either by the members directly or at intermediate assemblies or conventions of members or their representatives, together with other delegates as may be prescribed in the society's laws. A society may provide for election of delegates by mail.

(b) The delegates elected must be a majority of delegates and may not have less than a majority of the votes and not less than the number of votes required to amend the society's laws. The assembly must be elected and shall meet at least once every 4 years and shall elect a board of directors to conduct the business of the society between meetings of the assembly.

(c) Vacancies on the board of directors may be filled in the manner prescribed by the society's laws.

(3) (a) (i) The supreme governing body may be:

(A) a board composed of persons who meet the criteria of subsection (5) and who are elected by the members, either directly or by their representatives in intermediate assemblies; and

(B) any other persons prescribed in the society's laws.

(ii) A society may provide for election of the board by mail.

(b) The term of a board member may not exceed 4 years. Vacancies on the board may be filled in the manner prescribed in the society's laws.

(c) The persons elected to the board must be a majority of the board and may not be less than the number of votes required to amend the society's laws. A person filling an unexpired term of an elected board member is considered to be an elected board member.

(d) The board shall meet at least quarterly to conduct the business of the society.

(4) The officers of the society must be elected either by the assembly or by the board of directors, either of which constitutes the supreme governing body.

(5) Only benefit members are eligible for election to the assembly, the board of directors, or an intermediate assembly.

(6) Each voting member shall have one vote. A vote may not be cast by proxy.

33-7-108. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Benefit contract" means the agreement for provision of authorized benefits described in 33-7-520.

(2) "Benefit member" means an adult member who is designated by the laws or rules of the society to be a benefit member under a benefit contract.

(3) "Certificate" means the document issued as written evidence of the benefit contract.

(4) "Laws" means the society's articles of incorporation, charter, constitution, and bylaws.

(5) "Lodge" means subordinate member units of the society, known as camps, courts, councils, or branches or by any other designation.

(6) "Premiums" means premiums, rates, dues, or other required contributions that are payable under the certificate.

(7) "Rules" means all rules, regulations, or resolutions that are adopted by the supreme governing body or board of directors and that are intended to have general application to the members of the society.

(8) "Society" means a fraternal benefit society described in 33-7-105. The term includes an order or supreme lodge.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-109. Purposes and powers. (1) A society shall operate for the benefit of members and their beneficiaries by:

(a) providing benefits as provided in 33-7-520; and

(b) providing for one or more social, intellectual, educational, charitable, benevolent, moral, fraternal, patriotic, or religious purposes, which may be extended to others. The purposes may be carried out directly by the society or indirectly through subsidiary corporations or affiliated organizations.

(2) A society may adopt laws and rules for the government of the society, the admission of its members, and the management of its affairs. It may amend laws and rules and exercise powers necessary and incidental to the objectives and purposes of the society.

33-7-110. Qualification for membership. (1) A society shall specify in its laws or rules:

(a) eligibility standards for each class of membership. However, if benefits are provided on the lives of children, the minimum age for adult membership must be set at not less than 15 years of age and not more than 21 years of age.

(b) the process for admission to each membership class; and

(c) the rights and privileges of each membership class. However, only benefit members may vote on the management of the insurance affairs of the society.

(2) A society may admit social members who have no voice or vote in the management of the insurance affairs of the society.

(3) Membership rights in the society are personal to the member and are not assignable.

History: En. Sec. 671, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5358.

33-7-117. Scope — provisions applicable. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), societies are governed by this chapter and are exempt from all other provisions of the insurance laws of this state, not only in governmental relations with the state but for every other purpose. The provisions of a law enacted after January 1, 1992, do not apply to fraternal benefit societies unless expressly made applicable by the provisions of the law.

(2) In addition to the provisions of this chapter, the provisions of chapter 1, parts 1 through 4 and 7; 33-2-104; 33-2-107; 33-2-112; chapter 2, parts 13 and 19; 33-3-308; 33-3-701 through 33-3-704; 33-15-502; and chapters 17, 18, 20, and 22 apply to fraternal benefit societies to the extent applicable and to the extent not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter and the reasonable implications of this chapter.

33-7-118. Reports — fee. Reports must be filed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(1) On or before March 1 of each year, unless for cause shown the time has been extended by the commissioner of insurance, a society that transacts business in this state shall file with the commissioner of insurance a statement of its financial condition, transactions, and affairs for the preceding calendar year and pay a filing fee of $25. The statement must be in the general form and context approved by the national association of insurance commissioners for fraternal benefit societies and as supplemented by additional information required by the commissioner.

(2) As part of the annual statement, each society shall, on or before March 1, file with the commissioner a valuation of its certificates in force on the preceding December 31. The commissioner may, for cause shown, extend for not more than 2 calendar months the time for filing the valuation. The valuation must be done in accordance with the standards specified in 33-7-411. The valuation and underlying data must be certified by a qualified actuary or, at the expense of the society, verified by the actuary of the department of insurance of the state of domicile of the society.

(3) A society that fails to file the annual statement in the form and within the time provided by this section shall forfeit $100 for each day during which the failure continues, and, upon notice by the commissioner to that effect, its authority to do business in this state ceases while the default continues.

33-7-119. Examination of societies. (1) The commissioner of insurance or any person appointed by the commissioner may examine any domestic, foreign, or alien society transacting or applying for admission to transact business in this state in the same manner as authorized for examination of domestic, foreign, or alien insurers. Requirements of notice and an opportunity to respond before findings are made public, as provided in the laws regulating insurers, are applicable to the examination of societies.

(2) The expense of each examination and of each valuation, including compensation and actual expenses of examiners, must be paid by the society examined or whose certificates are valued, upon statements furnished by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 586, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1168, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-7-120. Injunction — liquidation — receivership of domestic society. (1) The commissioner of insurance shall notify a domestic society of a deficiency or deficiencies and state in writing the reasons for the dissatisfaction, whenever the commissioner, upon investigation, finds that the society:

(a) has exceeded its powers;

(b) has failed to comply with any provision of this chapter;

(c) is not fulfilling its contracts in good faith;

(d) has a membership of less than 400 after an existence of 1 year or more; or

(e) is conducting business fraudulently or in a manner hazardous to its members, creditors, the public, or the business.

(2) Whenever a deficiency or deficiencies are found, the commissioner shall issue to the society a written notice that requires the deficiency or deficiencies to be corrected. The society shall within 30 days comply with the commissioner's request for correction. If the society fails to comply, the commissioner shall notify the society of the noncompliance and require the society to show cause by a stated date why it should not be enjoined from transacting business until the violation complained of is corrected or why an action in quo warranto should not be commenced against the society.

(3) If the society does not present sufficient reasons why it should not be enjoined from transacting business or why the quo warranto action should not be commenced, the commissioner may present the facts relating to the commissioner's determination to the attorney general who shall, if the attorney general finds that the circumstances warrant, commence an action to enjoin the society from transacting business or an action in quo warranto.

(4) The court shall notify the officers of the society of a hearing. If after a hearing it appears that the society should be enjoined or liquidated or that a receiver should be appointed, the court shall enter the necessary order. A society enjoined from transacting business may not do business until:

(a) the commissioner finds that the violation complained of has been corrected;

(b) the costs of the action have been paid by the society if the court finds that the society was in default as charged;

(c) the court has dissolved its injunction; and

(d) the commissioner has reinstated the certificate of authority.

(5) If the court orders the society liquidated, it is enjoined from transacting any further business. The receiver of the society shall proceed at once to take possession of the books, papers, money, and other assets of the society and, under the direction of the court, proceed to close the affairs of the society and distribute its funds to those entitled to the funds.

(6) An action under this section may not be recognized in any court of this state unless brought by the attorney general upon request of the commissioner. The court shall appoint the commissioner as the receiver for a domestic society.

(7) The provisions of this section relating to hearing by the commissioner, action by the attorney general at the request of the commissioner, hearing by the court, injunction, and receivership apply to a society that voluntarily decides to discontinue business.

33-7-121. Suspension, revocation, or refusal of license of foreign or alien society. (1) The commissioner of insurance shall notify a foreign or alien society of a deficiency or deficiencies and state in writing the reasons for the commissioner's dissatisfaction whenever the commissioner, upon investigation, finds that the society transacting or applying to transact business in this state:

(a) has exceeded its powers;

(b) has failed to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter;

(c) is not fulfilling its contracts in good faith; or

(d) is conducting its business fraudulently or in a manner hazardous to its members, creditors, or the public.

(2) Whenever a deficiency or deficiencies are found, the commissioner shall issue to the society a written notice that requires the deficiency or deficiencies to be corrected. The society shall within 30 days comply with the commissioner's request for correction. If the society fails to comply, the commissioner shall notify the society of the noncompliance and require the society to show cause by a stated date why its authority to do business in this state should not be suspended, revoked, or refused.

(3) If the society does not present sufficient reason why its authority to do business in this state should not be suspended, revoked, or refused, the commissioner may:

(a) suspend or refuse the authority of the society to do business in this state until satisfactory evidence is furnished to the commissioner that the suspension or refusal should be withdrawn; or

(b) revoke the authority of the society to do business in this state.

(4) This section may not be construed as preventing any society from continuing in good faith all contracts made in this state during the time the society was legally authorized to transact business in this state.

33-7-125. Penalties. (1) A person who makes a false or fraudulent statement in or relating to an application for membership or for the purpose of obtaining money from a benefit in any society is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(2) A person who solicits membership for, or in any manner assists in procuring membership in, any society not authorized to transact business in this state is subject to an administrative fine, imposed by the commissioner of insurance, of not less than $25 or more than $500 for each violation.

(3) A person convicted of a willful violation of, or neglect or refusal to comply with, any provision of this chapter for which a penalty is not otherwise prescribed shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each violation and not more than $10,000 for all related violations.

33-7-126. Exemption of certain societies. (1) Nothing in this chapter may be construed to affect or apply to:

(a) grand or subordinate lodges of societies, orders, or associations doing business in this state on July 1, 1992, that provide benefits exclusively through local or subordinate lodges;

(b) (i) orders, societies, or associations that admit to membership only persons engaged in one or more crafts or hazardous occupations or in the same or similar lines of business and that insure only their own members and their families; and

(ii) the ladies' societies or ladies' auxiliaries to such orders, societies, or associations;

(c) domestic societies that limit their membership to employees of a particular city or town, designated firm, business house, or corporation and that provide for a death benefit of not more than $400 or disability benefits of not more than $350 to any person in any 1 year, or both; or

(d) domestic societies or associations of a purely religious, charitable, or benevolent description, which provide for a death benefit of not more than $400 or for disability benefits of not more than $350 to a person in any 1 year, or both.

(2) A society or association described in subsection (1)(c) or (1)(d) that provides for death or disability benefits for which benefit certificates are issued and a society or association included in subsection (1)(d) that has more than 1,000 members are not exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

(3) A society that is exempt under this section from the requirements of this chapter, except a society described in subsection (1)(b), may not give or allow or promise to give or allow to any person any compensation for procuring new members.

(4) A society that provides for benefits in case of death or disability resulting solely from accident and that does not obligate itself to pay natural death or sick benefits has all of the privileges and is subject to all the applicable provisions and regulations of this chapter except the provisions of this chapter that relate to medical examination, valuations of benefit certificates, and incontestability.

(5) The commissioner may require from a society or association, by examination or otherwise, any information that will enable the commissioner to determine whether the society or association is exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

(6) A society that is exempt under the provisions of this section is also exempt from all other provisions of the insurance laws of this state.

33-7-208. Organization. A domestic society organized on or after January 1, 1992, must be formed as follows:

(1) Ten or more citizens of the United States, a majority of whom are residents of this state, who desire to form a fraternal benefit society, may make, sign, and acknowledge before a notary public an application for articles of incorporation that states:

(a) the proposed corporate name of the society, which may not so closely resemble the name of any society or insurance company as to be misleading or confusing;

(b) the purposes for which it is being formed and the mode in which its corporate powers are to be exercised. The purposes may not include more liberal powers than are granted by this chapter.

(c) the names and residences of the incorporators and the names, residences, and official titles of all the officers, trustees, directors, or other persons who are to have and exercise the general control of the management of the affairs and funds of the society for the first year or until the ensuing election at which all officers are elected by the supreme governing body. The election must be held not later than 1 year from the date of issuance of the permanent certificate of authority.

(2) The application for articles of incorporation, certified copies of the society's bylaws and rules, copies of all proposed forms of certificates, applications for certificates, and circulars to be issued by the society, and a bond conditioned upon the return to applicants of the advanced payments if the organization is not completed within 1 year must be filed with the commissioner, who may require further information considered necessary. The bond, with sureties approved by the commissioner, must be in an amount, not less than $300,000 or more than $1,500,000, required by the commissioner. All documents filed must be in English. If the purposes of the society conform to the requirements of this chapter and all provisions of law have been complied with, the commissioner shall certify, retain, and file the articles of incorporation and furnish to the incorporators a preliminary certificate of authority authorizing the society to solicit members.

(3) A preliminary certificate of authority granted under the provisions of this section is not valid after 1 year from its date of issuance or after an extended period, not exceeding 1 year, as may be authorized by the commissioner upon good cause shown, unless the 500 applicants required under subsection (4) have been secured and the organization has been completed. The charter and all other proceedings under the charter are void 1 year from the date of issuance of the preliminary certificate of authority or at the expiration of the extended period unless the society has completed its organization and received a certificate of authority to do business.

(4) Upon receipt of a preliminary certificate of authority from the commissioner, the society may solicit members for the purpose of completing its organization, shall collect from each applicant the amount of not less than one regular monthly premium in accordance with its table of rates, and shall issue to each applicant a receipt for the amount collected. A society may not incur a liability other than for the return of an advance premium, issue any certificate, or pay, allow, offer, or promise to pay or allow any benefit to a person until:

(a) actual applications for benefits have been secured, aggregating at least $500,000, on not less than 500 applicants and any necessary evidence of insurability has been furnished to and approved by the society;

(b) at least 10 subordinate lodges have been established into which the 500 applicants have been admitted;

(c) there has been submitted to the commissioner, under oath of the president, secretary, or corresponding officer of the society, a list of the applicants, giving their names, addresses, date each was admitted, name and number of the subordinate lodge of which each applicant is a member, amount of benefits to be granted, and premiums for benefits; and

(d) it has been shown to the commissioner, by sworn statement of the treasurer or the corresponding officer of the society, that at least 500 applicants have each paid in cash at least one regular monthly premium. The aggregate premiums must amount to at least $150,000. The advance premiums must be held in trust during the period of organization. If the society has not qualified for a certificate of authority within 1 year, unless extended as provided in subsection (3), the premiums must be returned to the applicants.

(5) The commissioner may require and examine additional information that the commissioner considers advisable. Upon presentation of satisfactory evidence that the society has complied with all the provisions of law, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to the society, authorizing it to transact business pursuant to the provisions of this chapter. The certificate of authority is prima facie evidence of the existence of the society at the date of the certificate. The commissioner shall record the certificate of authority.

(6) A society authorized to transact business in this state on January 1, 1992, is not required to reincorporate.

(7) An unincorporated or voluntary association may not transact business in this state as a society. Every voluntary association incorporated as provided in section 629(2), Chapter 286, Laws of 1959, may incur the obligations and enjoy the benefits of a society as if it were originally incorporated, and the corporation is considered a continuation of the original voluntary association. The officers must be elected and serve as provided in its articles of incorporation. Incorporation of a voluntary association does not affect existing suits, claims, or contracts.

33-7-209. Amendments to laws. (1) A domestic society may amend its laws in accordance with the provisions of its laws by action of its supreme governing body at any regular or special meeting or, if its laws provide, by referendum. The referendum may be held in accordance with the provisions of its laws by a vote of the voting members of the society, by a vote of delegates or representatives of voting members, or by a vote of local lodges. A society may provide for voting by mail. An amendment submitted by referendum may not be adopted unless, within 6 months from the date of submission, a majority of the members voting have signified their consent to the amendment.

(2) An amendment to the laws of a domestic society does not take effect unless approved by the commissioner of insurance, who shall approve the amendment if the commissioner finds that it has been adopted and is not inconsistent with any requirement of the laws of this state or with the character, objectives, and purposes of the society. Unless the commissioner disapproves an amendment within 60 days after its filing, the amendment is considered approved. The approval or disapproval of the commissioner must be in writing and mailed to the secretary or corresponding officer of the society at its principal office. If the commissioner disapproves an amendment, the reasons for the disapproval must be stated in the written notice.

(3) Within 90 days of approval by the commissioner, all amendments or a synopsis of the amendments must be furnished to all members of the society, either by mail or by publication in full in the official publication of the society.

(4) A foreign or alien society authorized to do business in this state shall file with the commissioner a certified copy of all amendments of or additions to its laws within 90 days after their enactment.

(5) Printed copies of the laws, as amended, that are certified by the secretary or a corresponding officer of the society are prima facie evidence of their legal adoption.

33-7-210. Institutions. (1) A society may create, maintain, and operate, or may establish organizations to operate, not-for-profit institutions to further the purposes permitted by 33-7-109(1)(b). The institutions may furnish services free or at a reasonable charge. Any real or personal property owned, held, or leased by the society for these purposes must be reported in every annual statement but may not be allowed as an admitted asset of the society.

(2) A society may not own or operate funeral homes or undertaking establishments.

33-7-214. Reinsurance. (1) A domestic society may, by a reinsurance agreement, cede any individual risk or risks in whole or in part to an insurer, other than another fraternal benefit society, having the power to make the reinsurance and authorized to do business in this state or, if not authorized to do business in this state, an insurer that is approved by the commissioner of insurance. A society may not reinsure substantially all of its insurance in force without the written permission of the commissioner. A society may take credit for the reserves on the ceded risks to the extent reinsured. A credit may not be allowed as an admitted asset or as a deduction from liability to a ceding society for reinsurance made, ceded, renewed, or otherwise becoming effective on or after July 1, 1992, unless the reinsurance is payable by the assuming insurer on the basis of the liability of the ceding society under the contract or contracts reinsured without diminution because of the insolvency of the ceding society.

(2) Notwithstanding the limitation in subsection (1), a society may reinsure the risks of another society in a consolidation or merger approved by the commissioner under 33-7-215.

33-7-215. Consolidations and mergers. (1) A domestic society may consolidate or merge with any other society by complying with the provisions of this section. The consolidated or merged society shall file with the commissioner of insurance:

(a) a certified copy of the written contract containing in full the terms and conditions of the consolidation or merger;

(b) a sworn statement by the president and secretary or corresponding officers of each society showing the financial condition of each society on a date fixed by the commissioner, but not earlier than December 31 preceding the date of the contract;

(c) a certificate of the officers of each society, verified by their respective oaths, that the consolidation or merger has been approved by a two-thirds vote of the supreme governing body of each society, held at a regular or special meeting of each body or, if the society's laws permit, by mail; and

(d) evidence that at least 60 days prior to the action of the supreme governing body of each society, the text of the contract was furnished to all members of each society, either by mail or by publication in full in the official publication of each society.

(2) If the commissioner finds that the contract containing the terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation or merger is in conformity with this section, that the financial statements are correct, and that the consolidation or merger is just and equitable to the members of each society, the commissioner shall approve the contract and issue a certificate approving the contract.

(3) Upon approval, the contract is in full force and effect unless a society that is a party to the contract is incorporated under the laws of any other state, district, territory, province, or country. In that event, the consolidation or merger is not effective until it is approved as provided by the laws of that state, district, territory, province, or country and a certificate of approval has been filed with the commissioner of insurance of this state.

(4) When the consolidation or merger becomes effective, all the rights, franchises, and interests of the consolidated or merged societies in and to every type of property, real, personal, or mixed, and things in action pertaining to the property are vested in the society resulting from or remaining after the consolidation or merger without any other instrument, except that conveyances of real property may be evidenced by deeds. The title to any real property or interest in real property vested under the laws of this state in any of the societies consolidated or merged may not revert or be impaired by reason of the consolidation or merger, but the title vests in the society resulting from or remaining after the consolidation or merger.

(5) The affidavit of any officer of the society or of anyone authorized by the society to mail a notice or document, stating that the notice or document has been addressed and mailed, is prima facie evidence that the notice or document has been furnished to the addressees.

33-7-216. Conversion of society into mutual life insurance company. A domestic society may be converted and licensed as a mutual life insurance company by compliance with all the applicable requirements of Title 33 if the plan of conversion has been approved by the commissioner of insurance. The board of directors shall prepare a written plan of conversion that sets forth in full the terms and conditions of conversion. An affirmative vote of two-thirds of all members of the supreme governing body at a regular or special meeting is necessary for the approval of the plan. A conversion may not take effect unless approved by the commissioner, who may approve the conversion if the commissioner finds that the proposed change is in conformity with the requirements of law and not prejudicial to the certificate holders of the society.

33-7-217. Annual certificate — fees. (1) A society may not insure a risk in this state unless it holds a certificate of authority issued to it by the commissioner of insurance.

(2) A society's certificate of authority continues in force as long as the society is entitled to it under this chapter and until suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated. However, continuance of the certificate by the society is conditioned upon payment before May 15 of each year of a continuation fee of $10. The fee must be deposited by the commissioner of insurance with the state treasurer to the credit of the state general fund.

(3) If a society does not continue its certificate of authority in accordance with subsection (2), its certificate of authority expires at midnight on the May 31 following its failure to continue it in force. In that case, the commissioner shall promptly notify the society of the impending expiration of its certificate of authority.

(4) The commissioner may reinstate a certificate of authority that a society has inadvertently permitted to expire, after the society has fully cured all failures that resulted in the expiration and upon payment by the society of a $25 fee for reinstatement in addition to the continuation fee provided for in subsection (2). If a certificate is not reinstated, the commissioner may grant a society another certificate of authority only after the society files an application for a certificate of authority and meets all other requirements for an original certificate of authority in this state.

(5) The commissioner may amend a certificate of authority at any time to conform to changes in a society's charter of insuring powers.

(6) A certified copy or duplicate of a certificate of authority is prima facie evidence that the society is a fraternal benefit society within the meaning of this chapter.

33-7-306. Location of office — meetings — communication to members — grievance procedures. (1) The principal office of a domestic society must be located in this state. The meetings of its supreme governing body may be held in any state, district, province, or territory where the society has at least five subordinate lodges or in a location determined by the supreme governing body. All business transacted at meetings is valid. The minutes of the proceedings of the supreme governing body and of the board of directors must be in English.

(2) (a) A society may provide in its laws for an official publication in which any notice, report, or statement required by law to be given to members, including notice of election, may be published. Required reports, notices, and statements must be printed conspicuously in the publication. If the records of a society show that two or more members have the same mailing address, an official publication mailed to one member is considered to be mailed to all members at the same address unless a member requests a separate copy.

(b) Not later than June 1 of each year, a synopsis of the society's annual statement, providing an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the society, must be printed and mailed to each benefit member of the society, or the synopsis may be published in the society's official publication.

(3) A society may provide in its laws or rules for grievance or complaint procedures for members.

33-7-307. No personal liability. (1) The officers and members of the supreme governing body or any subordinate body of a society are not personally liable for any benefits provided by a society.

(2) A person may be indemnified and reimbursed by a society for expenses reasonably incurred by and liabilities imposed upon the person in connection with or arising out of an action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative, or threat of a proceeding in which the person may be involved by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the society or of a firm, corporation, or organization that the person served in any capacity at the request of the society.

(3) (a) A person may not be indemnified or reimbursed in relation to any matter in an action, suit, or proceeding:

(i) in which the person is finally found to be guilty of breach of a duty as a director, officer, employee, or agent of the society; or

(ii) that is the subject of a compromise settlement.

(b) A person may be indemnified or reimbursed if the person acted in good faith for a purpose that the person reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, the best interests of the society and, in a criminal action or proceeding, in addition, did not have reasonable cause to believe that the conduct was unlawful.

(4) The determination of whether the person's conduct met the standard required in order to justify indemnification or reimbursement in relation to any matter described in subsection (3) may be made only by the supreme governing body or board of directors by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of persons who were not parties to the action, suit, or proceeding or by a court of competent jurisdiction. The termination of an action, suit, or proceeding by a judgment, order, settlement, or conviction or upon a plea of no contest, does not create a conclusive presumption that the person did not meet the standard of conduct required in order to justify indemnification or reimbursement. The right of indemnification or reimbursement is not exclusive of other rights to which the person may be entitled as a matter of law, and the right inures to the benefit of the person's heirs, executors, and administrators.

(5) A director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer of a society who serves without compensation may not be held liable for and a cause of action may not be brought for damages resulting from the exercise of judgment or discretion in connection with the person's duties or responsibilities for the society unless the act or omission involved willful or wanton misconduct.

(6) A society may purchase and maintain liability insurance for acts incurred in the course and scope of the position for a person who is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the society or who is or was serving at the request of the society as a director, officer, employee, or agent of any other firm, corporation, or organization.

33-7-408. Investments. A society may invest its funds only in investments authorized by the laws of this state for the investment of assets of life insurers. A foreign or alien society that is permitted or seeking to do business in this state and that invests its funds in accordance with the laws of the state, district, territory, province, or country where it is incorporated meets the requirements of this section for the investment of funds.

33-7-409. Funds. (1) All assets must be held, invested, and disbursed for the use and benefit of the society, and a member or beneficiary may not have or acquire individual rights in assets or become entitled to any apportionment on the surrender of any part of the assets except as provided in the benefit contract.

(2) A society may create, maintain, invest, disburse, and apply any special fund or funds necessary to carry out any purpose permitted by the laws of the society.

(3) Pursuant to a resolution of its supreme governing body, a society may establish and operate one or more separate accounts and issue contracts on a variable basis, subject to the provisions of law regulating life insurers establishing similar accounts and issuing similar contracts. To the extent the society considers it necessary in order to comply with any applicable federal or state laws or any rules issued under those laws, the society may adopt special procedures for administering a separate account and may, for persons having beneficial interests in a separate account, provide special voting and other rights, including without limitation special rights and procedures relating to investment policy, investment advisory services, selection of certified public accountants, and selection of a committee to manage the business and affairs of the account. A society may issue contracts on a variable basis to which the provisions of 33-7-523(2) and (4) do not apply.

33-7-410. Taxation. A society organized or licensed under this chapter is a charitable and benevolent institution, and all of its funds are exempt from all state, county, district, municipal, and school taxes other than taxes on real estate and office equipment.
History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 586, L. 1991.

33-7-411. Valuation. (1) Standards of valuation for certificates issued prior to July 1, 1993, must be those provided by the laws applicable immediately prior to July 1, 1992.

(2) (a) The minimum standards of valuation for certificates issued on or after July 1, 1993, must be based on the following tables:

(i) for certificates of life insurance—the commissioner of insurance's 1941 standard ordinary mortality table, the commissioner's 1941 standard industrial mortality table, the commissioner's 1958 standard ordinary mortality table, the commissioner's 1980 standard ordinary mortality table, or any more recent table made applicable to life insurers;

(ii) for annuity and pure endowment certificates, for total and permanent disability benefits, for accidental death benefits and for noncancelable accident and health benefits—the tables authorized for use by life insurers in this state.

(b) All of the certificates must be valued under valuation methods and standards, including interest assumptions, that are in accordance with the laws of this state applicable to life insurers that issue policies containing similar benefits.

(3) The commissioner may accept other standards for valuation if the commissioner finds that the reserves produced by the valuation will not be less in the aggregate than reserves computed in accordance with the minimum valuation standard prescribed in this section. The commissioner may vary the standards of mortality applicable to all benefit contracts on substandard lives or other extrahazardous lives by a society authorized to do business in this state.

(4) A society, with the consent of the commissioner of insurance of the state of domicile of the society and under conditions, if any, that the commissioner may impose, may establish and maintain reserves on its certificates in excess of required reserves, but the contractual rights of a benefit member may not be affected by the excess reserves.

33-7-520. Benefits. (1) A society may provide the following contractual benefits in any form:

(a) death benefits;

(b) endowment benefits;

(c) annuity benefits;

(d) temporary or permanent disability benefits;

(e) hospital, medical, or nursing benefits;

(f) monument or tombstone benefits to the memory of deceased members; and

(g) other benefits authorized for life insurers that are not inconsistent with this chapter.

(2) A society shall specify in its rules those persons who may be issued or covered by the contractual benefits in subsection (1), consistent with providing benefits to members and their dependents. A society may provide benefits on the lives of children under the minimum age for adult membership upon application of an adult person.

33-7-521. Beneficiaries. (1) The owner of a benefit contract may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries in accordance with the laws or rules of the society unless the owner waives this right by specifically requesting in writing that the beneficiary designation be irrevocable. A society may, through its laws or rules, limit the scope of beneficiary designations and shall provide that a revocable beneficiary may not have or obtain a vested interest in the proceeds of a certificate until the certificate becomes due and payable under the provisions of the benefit contract.

(2) A society may make provision for the payment of funeral benefits of up to $500 under a certificate due to a person equitably entitled to payment for the burial of a member.

(3) If, at the death of any person insured under a benefit contract, there is no lawful beneficiary to whom the proceeds are payable, the amount of the benefit, except to the extent that funeral benefits may be paid as provided in subsection (2), is payable to the estate of the deceased. If the owner of the certificate is a person other than the insured, the proceeds are payable to the owner.

33-7-522. Benefits not attachable. Money or other benefits, charity, relief, or aid to be paid, provided, or rendered by a society is not liable to attachment, garnishment, or other process and may not be seized, taken, appropriated, or applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any debt or liability of a member, a beneficiary, or any other person who may have a right to the benefit, either before or after payment by the society.

33-7-523. Benefit contract. (1) A society authorized to do business in this state shall issue to the owner of a benefit contract a certificate specifying the amount of benefits provided. The certificate must state that the certificate, together with any attached riders or endorsements, the laws of the society, the application for membership, the application for insurance and declaration of insurability, if any, signed by the applicant, and all amendments to each, constitutes the benefit contract, as of the date of issuance, between the society and the owner. A copy of the application for insurance and declaration of insurability, if any, must be endorsed upon or attached to the certificate. All statements on the application must be representations and not warranties. Any waiver of this provision is void.

(2) Any changes, additions, or amendments to the laws of the society made or enacted after the issuance of the certificate bind the owner and the beneficiaries and control the benefit contract in all respects as if the changes, additions, or amendments were in force at the time of the application for insurance. However, a change, addition, or amendment does not destroy or diminish benefits that the society contracted to give the owner as of the date of issuance.

(3) A person upon whose life a benefit contract is issued before attaining the age of majority is bound by the terms of the application and certificate and by all the laws and rules of the society to the same extent as though the age of majority had been attained at the time of application.

(4) A society shall provide in its laws that if its reserves for one or more classes of certificates become impaired, its board of directors or corresponding body may require that the owner of a certificate pay to the society the amount of the owner's equitable proportion of the deficiency as ascertained by its board and that if the payment is not made either:

(a) it is an indebtedness against the certificate and draws interest not to exceed the rate specified for certificate loans under the certificates; or

(b) in lieu of or in combination with the provisions of subsection (4)(a), the owner of the certificate may accept a proportionate reduction in benefits under the certificate.

(5) The society may specify the manner of election and which alternative under subsection (4) is to be presumed if no election is made.

(6) Copies of any of the documents mentioned in this section, certified by the secretary or corresponding officer of the society, must be received in evidence concerning the terms and conditions of the documents.

(7) A certificate may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless a copy of the form has been filed with the commissioner of insurance in the manner provided for policies issued by life and disability insurers in this state. Certificates issued prior to July 1, 1993, must conform to the requirements provided by the laws applicable immediately prior to July 1, 1992. A life, disability, or annuity certificate issued on or after July 1, 1993, must meet the standard contract provision requirements not inconsistent with this chapter for policies issued by life and disability insurers in this state, except that a society may provide in its certificates for a grace period of 1 month for payment of premiums. The certificate must contain a provision stating the amount of premiums payable under the certificate and a provision reciting or setting forth the substance of any sections of the society's laws or rules in force at the time of issuance of the certificate that, if violated, will result in the termination or reduction of benefits payable under the certificate. If the laws of the society provide for the expulsion or suspension of a member, the certificate must contain a provision that a member expelled or suspended, except for nonpayment of a premium or within the contestable period for material misrepresentation in the application for membership or insurance, has the privilege of maintaining the certificate in force by continuing payment of the required premium.

(8) Benefit contracts issued on the lives of persons below the society's minimum age for adult membership may provide for transfer of control of ownership to the insured at an age specified in the certificate. A society may require approval of an application for membership in order to effect this transfer, and it may provide in all other respects for the regulation, government, and control of the certificates and all rights, obligations, and liabilities incident to and connected with the transfer. Ownership rights prior to the transfer must be specified in the certificate.

(9) A society may specify the terms and conditions on which benefit contracts may be assigned.

33-7-524. Nonforfeiture benefits, cash surrender values, certificate loans, and other options. (1) For certificates issued prior to July 1, 1993, the value of every paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and the amount of any cash surrender value, loan, or other option granted must comply with the provisions of law applicable immediately prior to July 1, 1992.

(2) For certificates issued on or after July 1, 1993, for which reserves are computed on the commissioner of insurance's 1941 standard ordinary mortality table, the commissioner's 1941 standard industrial mortality table, the commissioner's 1958 standard ordinary mortality table, the commissioner's 1980 standard mortality table, or any more recent table made applicable to life insurers, every paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and the amount of any cash surrender value, loan, or other option granted may not be less than the corresponding amount ascertained in accordance with the laws of this state applicable to life insurers issuing policies containing similar benefits based upon the tables.

33-7-525. Insurance producer defined — fraternal benefit society insurance contracts. (1) The term "insurance producer", as used in this chapter, means any authorized or acknowledged insurance producer of a society who acts as an insurance producer in the solicitation, negotiation, or sale of a life insurance, accident and health insurance, or annuity contract.

(2) The term does not include any regular salaried officer or employee of a licensed society who devotes substantially all of the officer's or employee's services to activities other than the solicitation of fraternal insurance contracts from the public and who receives for the solicitation of the contracts no commission or other compensation directly dependent upon the amount of business obtained.

33-7-531. Foreign or alien society — admission. (1) A foreign or alien society may not transact business in this state without a license issued by the commissioner of insurance. A foreign or alien society desiring admission to this state shall comply substantially with the requirements and limitations of this chapter applicable to domestic societies. A society may be licensed to transact business in this state upon filing with the commissioner:

(a) a certified copy of its articles of incorporation;

(b) a copy of its bylaws, certified by its secretary or corresponding officer;

(c) a statement of its business, under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers, in a form prescribed by the commissioner, verified by an examination made by the supervising insurance official of its home state or other state, district, territory, province, or country satisfactory to the commissioner of this state;

(d) certification from the proper official of its home state, district, territory, province, or country that the society is legally incorporated and licensed to transact business in that jurisdiction;

(e) copies of its certificate forms; and

(f) other information the commissioner considers necessary.

(2) A foreign or alien society applying for authority to transact business in this state must have the qualifications required of domestic societies organized under this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 586, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-7-532. Insurance producer licensing — fraternal benefit society. (1) A society's insurance producer is considered to be an insurance producer and is subject to the same licensing requirements as insurance producers under Title 33, chapter 17.

(2) A society doing business in this state may not pay to a person who is not a licensed insurance producer of the society any commission or other compensation for any services in obtaining in this state any new contract of life, accident, or health insurance or any new annuity contract.

History: En. Sec. 33, Ch. 586, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 427, L. 2003.

33-7-533. Unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts and practices. A society authorized to do business in this state and its insurance producers are subject to the provisions of chapter 18 that relate to unfair or deceptive trade practices. However, nothing in chapter 18 may be construed as applying to or affecting the right of a society to determine its eligibility requirements for membership or be construed as applying to or affecting the offering of benefits exclusively to members or persons eligible for membership in the society by a subsidiary corporation or affiliated organization of the society.

CHAPTER 9
PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

Part 1 — General Provisions

33-9-101. Definitions.
33-9-102. Professionals as members, stockholders, or subscribers of mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurers.
33-9-103. Incorporation and regulation.
33-9-104. Initial qualifications.
33-9-105. Foreign or alien insurers — certification.

Chapter Cross-References

Professional liability, Title 33, ch. 23, part 3.

Part 1

(1) "Health care provider" means any person, corporation, facility, or institution of a governmental unit of any state licensed by that state to provide health care, including but not limited to physician, osteopath, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, dentist, optometrist, podiatrist, hospital, hospital-related facility, or long-term care facility.

(2) "Other professional" means an attorney, certified public accountant, public accountant, architect, veterinarian, pharmacist, and professional engineer licensed or otherwise legally authorized by a state to render professional services.

33-9-102. Professionals as members, stockholders, or subscribers of mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurers. A health care provider or other professional may be a member of a mutual insurer, a stockholder of a stock insurer, or a subscriber of a reciprocal insurer, whether the mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurer is domestic, foreign, or alien, for the purpose of protecting the provider or professional by insurance against loss, damage, or expense incident to a claim arising out of a breach of contract, pecuniary or personal injury to or death of any person, or other loss as the result of negligence in rendering professional services by any health care provider or other professional.

33-9-103. Incorporation and regulation. A domestic mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurer, organized for the purpose of transacting insurance business as set forth in 33-9-102, shall organize under the provisions of Title 33 and be regulated as therein provided. The provisions of this part govern whenever in conflict with other laws or parts of laws of any state.

Cross-References

33-9-104. Initial qualifications. No original certificate of authority for a mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurer may be issued by the commissioner until applications representing 250 members of the profession under consideration have been received by the commissioner or in the case of health care providers that are hospitals, hospital-related facilities, or long-term care facilities, applications representing 50% of the beds in the state or states affected, and until the commissioner has determined that such insurer or insurers have bona fide applications representing the number of applicants required.

Original certificate of authority — general requirements, 33-2-115.

33-9-105. Foreign or alien insurers — certification. Any mutual, stock, or reciprocal insurer organized under the laws of another state substantially similar to this part for the purpose of transacting the kind of business described in this part may, upon an application and without prior operating experience or examination, be admitted to solicit applications. If the necessary number of applications is obtained, the insurer may do business in this state if the commissioner finds such admission is in the public interest. Thereafter the insurer shall make all reports and be subject to taxation, examination, and supervision by the commissioner to the same extent and in the same manner as are other foreign or alien insurers.

History: En. 40-4763 by Sec. 5, Ch. 119, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4763.

Part 1
Casualty and Property Insurance Guaranty Associations

Part Cross-References

33-10-101. Short title, purpose, scope, and construction. (1) This part shall be known and may be cited as the "Montana Insurance Guaranty Association Act".

(2) The purpose of this part is to provide a mechanism for the payment of covered claims under certain insurance policies to avoid excessive delay in payment and to avoid financial loss to claimants or policyholders because of the insolvency of an insurer, to assist in the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies, and to provide an association to assess the cost of such protection among insurers.

(3) This part shall apply to all kinds of direct insurance, except life, title, surety, disability, credit, mortgage guaranty, and ocean marine insurance.

(4) This part shall be liberally construed to effect the purpose under subsection (2) which shall constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

History: En. Secs. 1, 2, 3, 4, Ch. 63, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5701, 40-5702, 40-5703, 40-5704; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 139, L. 1987.

Cross-References

Types of insurance — definitions, 33-1-205 through 33-1-212.

(1) "Association" means the Montana insurance guaranty association created under 33-10-103.

(2) (a) "Covered claim" means an unpaid claim, including one for unearned premiums, that arises out of and is within the coverage and not in excess of the applicable limits of an insurance policy to which this part applies issued by an insurer, if the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer after July 1, 1971, and:

(i) the claimant or insured is a resident of this state at the time of the insured event; or

(ii) the property from which the claim arises is permanently located in this state.

(b) Covered claim does not include any amount:

(i) awarded as punitive or exemplary damages;

(ii) sought as a return of premium under a retrospective rating plan; or

(iii) due a reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool, or underwriting association as subrogation recoveries, reinsurance recoveries, contribution, or indemnification. A reinsurer, insurer, insurance pool, or underwriting association may not assert a claim for any amount against the insured of the insolvent insurer other than to the extent that the claim exceeds the policy limits of the insolvent insurer's policy.

(3) "Insolvent insurer" means an insurer:

(a) authorized to transact insurance in this state either at the time the policy was issued or when the insured event occurred; and

(b) against whom an order of liquidation has been entered with a finding of insolvency by a court of competent jurisdiction in the insurer's state of domicile.

(4) "Member insurer" means a person who:

(a) writes any kind of insurance to which this part applies under 33-10-101(3), including the exchange of reciprocal or interinsurance contracts; and

(b) is licensed to transact insurance in this state.

(5) (a) "Net direct written premiums" means direct gross premiums written in this state on insurance policies to which this part applies, less return premiums on the policies and dividends paid or credited to policyholders of policies to which this part applies.

(b) Net direct written premiums does not include premiums on contracts between insurers or reinsurers.

(6) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or voluntary organization.

33-10-103. Creation of the association. There is created a nonprofit unincorporated legal entity to be known as the Montana insurance guaranty association. All insurers defined as member insurers shall be and remain members of the association as a condition of their authority to transact insurance in this state. The association shall perform its functions under a plan of operation established and approved under 33-10-106 and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under 33-10-104.

33-10-104. Board of directors — commissioner approval — compensation. (1) The board of directors of the association consists of not less than seven or more than nine persons serving terms as established in the plan of operation. Two of the members must be appointed from the public at large by the commissioner. The other members of the board must be member insurers and must be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. Vacancies on the board must be filled for the remaining period of the term in the same manner as initial appointments.

(2) In approving selections to the board, the commissioner shall consider among other things whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

(3) Members of the board may be reimbursed from the assets of the association for expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors.

33-10-105. General powers and duties. (1) Subject to subsection (2), the association:

(a) (i) is obligated to the extent of the covered claims existing prior to the determination of insolvency and arising within 30 days after the determination of insolvency or before the policy expiration date if less than 30 days after the determination or before the insured replaces the policy or causes its cancellation if the insured does so within 30 days of the determination;

(ii) is obligated under subsection (1)(a)(i) only for that amount of each covered claim that does not exceed $300,000, except that:

(A) the association shall pay an amount not exceeding $10,000 for each policy for a covered claim for the return of unearned premium; and

(B) the association shall pay the full amount of any covered claim arising out of a workers' compensation or excess workers' compensation policy; and

(iii) is not obligated to a policyholder or claimant in an amount in excess of the obligation of the insolvent insurer under the policy from which the claim arises;

(b) is considered the insurer to the extent of its obligation on the covered claims and to that extent has all rights, duties, and obligations of the insolvent insurer as if the insurer had not become insolvent;

(c) shall investigate claims brought against the association and adjust, compromise, settle, and pay covered claims to the extent of the association's obligation and deny all other claims and may review settlements, releases, and judgments to which the insolvent insurer or its insureds were parties to determine the extent to which the settlements, releases, and judgments may be properly contested;

(d) shall notify persons as the commissioner directs under 33-10-109(2)(a), including the department of labor and industry for workers' compensation claims;

(e) shall handle claims through its employees or through one or more insurers or other persons designated as servicing facilities. Designation of a servicing facility is subject to the approval of the commissioner, but the designation may be declined by a member insurer.

(f) shall reimburse each servicing facility for obligations of the association paid by the facility and for expenses incurred by the facility while handling claims on behalf of the association and shall pay the other expenses of the association authorized by this part.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), a covered claim may not include a claim filed with the association or a liquidator for protection under the insured's policy for losses incurred but not reported and may not include a claim filed with the association after the earlier of:

(i) 36 months after the date of the order of liquidation; or

(ii) the final date set by the court for the filing of claims against the liquidator or receiver of an insolvent insurer.

(b) (i) If the claimant learns that the claimant's condition resulted from an occupational disease compensable under Title 39, chapter 71, within 36 months of the order of liquidation or the final date set by the court for the filing of claims against the liquidator, the claimant shall file a claim, which must be paid under the terms of subsection (1)(a). If the claimant does not learn of a compensable condition under Title 39, chapter 71, until after the time specified in either subsection (2)(a)(i) or (2)(a)(ii) has expired, the claimant shall file a claim with the association within 1 year from the date the claimant knew or should have known that the claimant's condition resulted from an occupational disease.

(ii) Notice by a claimant or insurer to the department of labor and industry of a workers' compensation claim or an occupational disease claim pursuant to Title 39, chapter 71, constitutes notice to the liquidator for the purposes of workers' compensation or occupational disease claims.

(3) The association may:

(a) employ or retain persons necessary to handle claims and perform other duties of the association;

(b) borrow funds necessary to effect the purposes of this part in accord with the plan of operation;

(c) sue or be sued;

(d) negotiate and become a party to contracts necessary to carry out the purpose of this part;

(e) perform other acts necessary or proper to effectuate the purpose of this part;

(f) refund to the member insurers in proportion to the contribution of each member insurer to the association that amount by which the assets of the association exceed the liabilities, if, at the end of any calendar year, the board of directors finds that the assets of the association exceed the liabilities of the association as estimated by the board of directors for the coming year.

Standing — rehabilitation or liquidation proceedings, 33-2-1335, 33-2-1349.

33-10-106. Plan of operation — delegation to other organization. (1) (a) The association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments to the plan of operation that are necessary or suitable to ensure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments to the plan become effective upon approval in writing by the commissioner.

(b) If at any time the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate reasonable rules that are necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this part. The rules continue in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

(2) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(3) The plan of operation must:

(a) establish the procedures under which all the powers and duties of the association under 33-10-105 and 33-10-116 will be performed;

(b) establish procedures for handling assets of the association;

(c) establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under 33-10-104;

(d) establish procedures by which claims may be filed with the association and establish acceptable forms of proof of covered claims;

(e) establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors;

(f) establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the association, its insurance producers, and the board of directors;

(g) provide that any member insurer aggrieved by any final action or decision of the association may appeal to the commissioner within 30 days after the action or decision;

(h) establish the procedures under which selections for the board of directors will be submitted to the commissioner;

(i) contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

(4) The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the association, except those under 33-10-105(3)(b) and 33-10-116, are delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization that performs or will perform functions similar to those of the association or its equivalent in two or more states. A corporation, association, or organization must be reimbursed as a servicing facility would be reimbursed and must be paid for its performance of any other functions of the association. A delegation under this subsection takes effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization that extends protection not substantially less favorable and effective than that provided by this part.

33-10-108. Prevention of insolvencies — directors' and commissioner's action. (1) It is the duty of the board of directors, upon majority vote, to notify the commissioner of any information indicating that any member insurer may be insolvent or in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public.

(2) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer that the board in good faith believes may be in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public. Within 30 days of the receipt of the request, the commissioner shall begin the examination. The examination may be conducted as a national association of insurance commissioners examination or may be conducted by persons that the commissioner designates. The cost of the examination must be paid by the association, and the examination report must be treated as are other examination reports. The examination report may not be released to the board of directors prior to its release to the public, but this does not preclude the commissioner from complying with subsection (3). The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed. The request for an examination must be kept on file by the commissioner, but it may not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public.

(3) It is the duty of the commissioner to report to the board of directors when the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that any member insurer examined or being examined at the request of the board of directors may be insolvent or in a financial condition hazardous to the policyholders or the public.

(4) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision of any member insurer. The reports and recommendations may not be considered public documents.

(5) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies.

(6) The board of directors shall, at the conclusion of any insurer insolvency in which the association was obligated to pay covered claims, prepare a report on the history and causes of the insolvency, based on the information available to the association, and submit the report to the commissioner.

33-10-109. Notice of insolvencies — suspension — other powers and duties of commissioner. (1) The commissioner shall:

(a) notify the association of the existence of an insolvent insurer not later than 3 days after the commissioner receives notice of the determination of the insolvency;

(b) upon request of the board of directors, provide the association with a statement of the net direct written premiums of each member insurer.

(2) The commissioner may:

(a) require that the association notify the insureds of the insolvent insurer and any other interested parties of the determination of insolvency and of their rights under this part. The notification must be by mail at their last-known addresses, where available, but if sufficient information for notification by mail is not available, notice by publication in a newspaper of general circulation is sufficient.

(b) suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative, the commissioner may levy a fine on any member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due. The fine may not exceed 5% of the unpaid assessment a month, except that a fine may not be less than $100 a month.

(c) revoke the designation of any servicing facility if the commissioner finds claims are being handled unsatisfactorily.

(3) Any final action or order of the commissioner under this part must be subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction.

33-10-110. Immunity. There is not any liability on the part of and a cause of action of any nature may not be brought against any member insurer or its agents or employees, the association or the association's agents or employees, the board of directors, or the commissioner or the commissioner's representatives for any action taken by them in the performance of their powers and duties under this part.

33-10-111. Stay of proceedings — reopening of default judgments. (1) All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party or is obligated to defend a party in any court in this state must be stayed for 6 months from the date the insolvency is determined or an ancillary proceeding is instituted in the state, whichever is later, or must be stayed for any additional time as may be determined by the court in order to permit proper defense by the association of all pending causes of action.

(2) As to any covered claims arising from a judgment under any decision, verdict, or finding based on the default of the insolvent insurer or its failure to defend an insured, the association either on its own behalf or on behalf of the insured may apply to have the judgment, order, decision, verdict, or finding set aside by the same court or administrator that made the judgment, order, decision, verdict, or finding and must be permitted to defend against the claim on the merits.

33-10-112. Examination of association. The association shall be subject to examination and regulation by the commissioner. The board of directors shall submit, not later than March 30 of each year, a financial report for the preceding calendar year in a form approved by the commissioner.

33-10-113. Claims — notice. Notice of claims to the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer shall be deemed notice to the association or its insurance producer, and a list of such claims shall be periodically submitted to the association or similar organization in another state by the receiver or liquidator.

33-10-114. Claims — effect as to insured and receiver. (1) Any person recovering under this part is considered to have assigned the person's rights under the policy to the association to the extent of the person's recovery from the association. Every insured or claimant seeking the protection of this part shall cooperate with the association to the same extent that the person would have been required to cooperate with the insolvent insurer. The association does not have a cause of action against the insured of the insolvent insurer for any sums it has paid out except causes of action that the insolvent insurer would have had if the sums had been paid by the insolvent insurer. In the case of an insolvent insurer operating on a plan with assessment liability, payments of claims of the association may not operate to reduce the liability of insureds to the receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor for unpaid assessments.

(2) The association has the right to recover from the following persons the amount of any "covered claim" paid on behalf of the person pursuant to this part:

(a) any insured whose net worth, on December 31 of the year preceding the date the insurer becomes an insolvent insurer, exceeds $50 million and whose liability obligations to other persons are satisfied in whole or in part by payments made under this part; and

(b) any person who is an affiliate of the insolvent insurer and whose liability obligations to other persons are satisfied in whole or in part by payments made under this part.

(3) The receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor of an insolvent insurer is bound by settlements of covered claims by the association or a similar organization in another state. The court having jurisdiction shall grant the claims priority equal to that which the claimant would have been entitled in the absence of this part against the assets of the insolvent insurer. The expenses of the association or similar organization in handling claims must be accorded the same priority as the liquidator's expenses.

(4) The association shall periodically file with the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent insurer statements of the covered claims paid by the association and estimates of anticipated claims on the association which shall preserve the rights of the association against the assets of the insolvent insurer.

33-10-115. Recovery — sequence — nonduplication. (1) Any person having a claim against an insurer under any provision in an insurance policy other than a policy of an insolvent insurer that is also a covered claim must be required to exhaust the person's right under the policy. Any amount payable on a covered claim under this part must be reduced by the amount of any recovery under the insurance policy.

(2) Any person having a claim that may be recovered under more than one insurance guaranty association or its equivalent shall seek recovery first from the association of the place of residence of the insured, except that if it is a first party claim for damage to property with a permanent location, the person shall seek recovery first from the association of the location of the property, and if it is a workers' compensation claim, the person shall seek recovery first from the association of the residence of the claimant. Any recovery under this part must be reduced by the amount of recovery from any other insurance guaranty association or its equivalent.

33-10-116. Assessment. (1) The association shall assess insurers amounts necessary to pay the obligations of the association under 33-10-105(1)(a) subsequent to an insolvency, the expenses of handling covered claims subsequent to an insolvency, the cost of examinations under 33-10-108, and other expenses authorized by this part.

(2) The assessments of each member insurer shall be in the proportion that the net direct written premiums of the member insurer for the preceding calendar year bear to the net direct written premiums of all member insurers for the preceding calendar year. Each member insurer shall be notified of the assessment not later than 30 days before it is due. No member insurer may be assessed in any year an amount greater than 2% of that member insurer's net direct written premiums for the preceding calendar year.

(3) If the maximum assessment together with the other assets of the association does not provide in any one year an amount sufficient to make all necessary payments, the funds available shall be prorated and the unpaid portion shall be paid as soon thereafter as funds become available.

(4) The association may exempt or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of any member insurer, if the assessment would cause the member insurer's financial statement to reflect amounts of capital or surplus less than the minimum amounts required for a certificate of authority by any jurisdiction in which the member insurer is authorized to transact insurance.

(5) Each member insurer may set off against any assessment authorized payments made on covered claims and expenses incurred in the payment of such claims by the member insurer.

33-10-117. Recognition of assessments in rates. The rates and premiums charged for insurance policies to which this part applies shall include amounts sufficient to recoup a sum equal to the amounts paid to the association by the member insurer less any amounts returned to the member insurer by the association, and such rates shall not be deemed excessive because they contain an amount reasonably calculated to recoup assessments paid by the member insurer.

33-10-201. Short title, purpose, and construction. (1) This part may be cited as the "Montana Life and Health Insurance Guaranty Association Act".

(2) The purpose of this part is to protect policyowners, insureds, beneficiaries, annuitants, payees, and assignees of life insurance policies, health insurance policies, annuity contracts, and supplemental contracts, subject to certain limitations, against failure in the performance of contractual obligations due to the impairment or insolvency of the insurer issuing the policies or contracts.

(3) To provide this protection:

(a) an association of insurers is created to enable the guaranty of payment of benefits and of continuation of coverages;

(b) members of the association are subject to assessment to provide funds to carry out the purpose of this part; and

(c) the association is authorized to assist the commissioner, in the prescribed manner, in the detection and prevention of insurer impairments or insolvencies.

(4) This part must be liberally construed to effect the purpose under subsections (2) and (3), which constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

(5) This part may not be construed to reduce the liability for unpaid assessments of the insureds of an impaired or insolvent insurer operating under a plan with assessment liability.

(1) "Account" means either of the two accounts created under 33-10-203.

(2) "Association" means the Montana life and health insurance guaranty association created under 33-10-203.

(3) "Authorized assessment" or "authorized" when used in the context of assessments means a specified amount of money authorized for collection from member insurers by a resolution of the board of directors established in 33-10-204. The authorized assessment may be called for immediately or in the future. The assessment is authorized when the board passes the resolution.

(4) "Benefit plan" means a benefit plan for a specific employee, union, or association of natural persons.

(5) "Called", when used in the context of assessments, means that the association has issued a notice to member insurers requiring that an authorized assessment be paid within the timeframe set forth within the notice. An authorized assessment becomes a called assessment when the association mails the notice to member insurers.

(6) "Contractual obligation" means an obligation under any of the following for which coverage is provided in this part:

(a) a policy or contract;

(b) a certificate under a group policy or contract; or

(c) a portion of a policy or contract or a portion of a certificate.

(7) "Covered policy" means any policy or contract or portion of a policy or contract for which coverage is provided within the scope of this part.

(8) "Extracontractual claims" includes but is not limited to those claims relating to bad faith in the payment of claims, punitive or exemplary damages, or attorney fees and costs.

(9) "Health insurance coverage" has the same meaning as provided in 33-22-140, except that the term does not include excepted benefits as defined in 33-22-140.

(10) "Impaired insurer" means a member insurer that is not an insolvent insurer and that is placed under an order of rehabilitation or supervision by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(11) "Insolvent insurer" means a member insurer that is placed under an order of liquidation by a court of competent jurisdiction upon a finding of insolvency.

(12) "Long-term care insurance" has the same meaning as provided in 33-22-1107.

(13) (a) "Member insurer" means an insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization that is licensed or that holds a certificate of authority to transact any kind of insurance in this state for which coverage is provided under this part and includes any insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization whose license or certificate of authority in this state may have been suspended, revoked, not renewed, or voluntarily withdrawn.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) a hospital or medical service organization, whether for profit or not for profit;

(ii) a fraternal benefit society;

(iii) a mandatory state pooling plan;

(iv) a mutual assessment company or any other person that operates on an assessment basis;

(v) an insurance exchange;

(vi) a multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in 29 U.S.C. 1002;

(vii) an organization that has a certificate or license limited to the issuance of charitable gift annuities; or

(viii) an entity similar to any of the entities listed in subsections (13)(b)(i) through (13)(b)(vii).

(14) "Moody's corporate bond yield average" means the monthly average corporates as published by Moody's investors service, inc., or its successor.

(15) (a) "Owner", "contract owner", and "policyowner" mean the person who is identified as the legal owner under the terms of a policy or contract or who is vested with legal title to the policy or contract through a valid assignment completed in accordance with the terms of the policy or contract and who is properly recorded as the owner on the books of the insurer.

(b) The terms do not include a person with a mere beneficial interest in a policy or a contract.

(16) "Person" means any individual, corporation, limited liability company, partnership, association, governmental body or entity, or voluntary organization.

(17) "Plan sponsor" means:

(a) the employer in the case of a benefit plan established or maintained by a single employer;

(b) the employee organization in the case of a benefit plan established or maintained by an employee organization; or

(c) in the case of a benefit plan established or maintained by two or more employers or jointly by one or more employers and one or more employee organizations, the association, committee, joint board of trustees, or other similar group of representatives of the parties who establish or maintain the benefit plan.

(18) (a) "Premiums" means the amount or consideration received on covered policies or contracts less return premiums, considerations, and deposits, and less dividends and experience credits.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) amounts or considerations received for policies or contracts or for the portions of policies or contracts for which coverage is not provided pursuant to this part, except that an assessable premium may not be reduced based on 33-10-224(2)(b) relating to interest limitations and 33-10-224(3)(b) relating to one individual, one participant, and one contract owner;

(ii) premiums in excess of $5 million on an unallocated annuity contract not issued under a governmental retirement benefit plan or the plan's trustee established under section 401, 403(b), or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code; or

(iii) premiums in excess of $5 million with respect to multiple nongroup policies of life insurance owned by one owner, whether the policyowner is an individual, firm, corporation, or other person and whether the persons insured are officers, managers, employees, or other persons, regardless of the number of policies or contracts held by the owner.

(19) "Principal place of business" means:

(a) in the case of a plan sponsor, the state in which more than 50% of the participants in the benefit plan are employed;

(b) if 50% of the participants of a benefit plan are not employed in a single state and for a person other than an individual, the single state in which the individuals who establish policies for the direction, control, and coordination of the operations of the entity as a whole primarily exercise that function, as determined by the association in its reasonable judgment by considering the following factors:

(i) the state in which the primary executive and administrative headquarters is located;

(ii) the state in which the principal office of the chief executive officer is located;

(iii) the state in which the board of directors or similar governing persons conduct its meetings;

(iv) the state in which the executive or management committee of the board of directors or similar governing person or persons conduct the majority of their meetings;

(v) the state from which the management of the overall operations is directed; and

(vi) in the case of a benefit plan sponsored by affiliated companies comprising a consolidated corporation, the state in which the holding company or controlling affiliate has its principal place of business as determined using the above factors; or

(c) with respect to a plan sponsor defined in subsection (17)(c), the principal place of business of the association, committee, joint board of trustees, or other similar group of representatives of the parties who establish or maintain the benefit plan that, in lieu of specific or clear designation of a principal place of business, is the principal place of business of the employer or employee organization that has the largest investment in the benefit plan in question.

(20) "Receivership court" means the court in the insolvent or impaired insurer's state that has jurisdiction over the supervision, rehabilitation, or liquidation of the insurer.

(21) "Resident" means a person to whom a contractual obligation is owed and who resides in this state on the date of entry of a court order that determines a member insurer to be an impaired insurer or a court order that determines a member insurer to be an insolvent insurer. A person may be a resident of only one state, and in the case of a person other than an individual, the person is a resident of the state where its principal place of business is located. Citizens of the United States who are either residents of foreign countries or residents of the possessions, territories, or protectorates of the United States and who do not have an association similar to the association created by this part must be considered residents of the state of domicile of the insurer that issued the policies or contracts.

(22) "State" means a state, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or a United States possession, territory, or protectorate.

(23) "Structured settlement annuity" means an annuity purchased in order to fund periodic payments for a plaintiff or other claimant in payment for or with respect to personal injury suffered by the plaintiff or other claimant.

(24) "Supplemental contract" means a written agreement entered into for the distribution of proceeds under a life, health, or annuity policy or a life, health, or annuity contract.

(25) "Unallocated annuity contract" means an annuity contract or group annuity certificate that is not issued to and owned by an individual, except to the extent of annuity benefits guaranteed to an individual by the insurer under the contract or certificate.

33-10-203. Creation of association — accounts — supervision by commissioner. (1) There is created a nonprofit legal entity to be known as the Montana life and health insurance guaranty association. A member insurer must be and remain a member of the association as a condition of the member's authority to transact insurance in this state. The association shall perform functions under the plan of operation established and approved under 33-10-216 and shall exercise powers through a board of directors established under 33-10-204.

(2) For purposes of administration and assessment, the association shall maintain two accounts:

(a) the health insurance account; and

(b) the life insurance and annuity account that includes the following subaccounts:

(i) the life insurance account;

(ii) the annuity account that includes contracts owned by a governmental retirement plan or the plan's trustee established under section 401, 403(b), or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code, but does not otherwise include unallocated annuities; and

(iii) the unallocated annuity account that must exclude unallocated annuity contracts owned by a governmental retirement benefit plan or the plan's trustee established under section 401, 403(b), or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(3) The association is under the immediate supervision of the commissioner and is subject to the applicable provisions of the insurance laws of this state.

33-10-204. Board of directors — commissioner approval — compensation. (1) The board of directors of the association consists of not less than seven or more than nine members serving terms as established in the plan of operation. Two of the members must be appointed from the public at large by the commissioner. The other members of the board must be selected by member insurers subject to the approval of the commissioner. Vacancies on the board must be filled for the remaining period of the term in the manner described in the plan of operation. In approving selections or in appointing members to the board, the commissioner shall consider, among other things, whether all member insurers are fairly represented.

(2) Members of the board may be reimbursed from the assets of the association for expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors, but members of the board may not otherwise be compensated by the association for their services. However, any designated representatives of members of the board who are not full-time employees of the member insurers that designated them may receive reasonable compensation for their services on the board of directors upon annual approval by the members of the association.

33-10-205. Powers and duties of association. (1) If a member insurer is an impaired insurer, the association, in its discretion and subject to any conditions imposed by the association that do not impair the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer and that are approved by the commissioner, may:

(a) guarantee, assume, reissue, reinsure, or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, reissued, or reinsured any or all of the policies or contracts of the impaired insurer; and

(b) provide any money, pledges, loans, notes, guarantees, or other means to effectuate this section and ensure payment of the contractual obligations of the impaired insurer pending action under this section.

(2) If a member insurer is an insolvent insurer, the association, in its discretion, shall do one or more of the following:

(a) (i) guarantee, assume, reissue, or reinsure the policies or contracts of the insolvent insurer, cause the policies or contracts to be guaranteed, assumed, reissued, or reinsured, or ensure payment of the contractual obligations of the insolvent insurer; and

(ii) provide money, pledges, loans, notes, guarantees, or other means reasonably necessary to discharge the association's duties;

(b) provide coverage and benefits with respect to a covered policy or contract for life or health insurance or annuities by:

(i) ensuring payment of benefits that would have been payable under the policies or contracts of the insolvent insurer for claims incurred:

(A) for group policies or contracts by not later than the earlier of the next renewal date, as specified in the policy or contract, or 45 days; or

(B) for nongroup policies, contracts, or annuities by the earlier of the next renewal date, if any, as specified in the policy or contract, or 1 year;

(ii) ensuring payment under subsection (2)(b)(i) not less than 30 days from the date on which the association becomes obligated with respect to the policies or contracts;

(iii) making diligent efforts to provide all known insureds and annuitants for nongroup policies and contracts or group policyowners with respect to group policies 30 days' notice of termination; and

(iv) (A) making available substitute coverage on an individual basis, with respect to nongroup life and health insurance policies and annuities covered by the association, to each known insured or annuitant or owner if other than the insured or annuitant and to an individual formerly insured or formerly an annuitant under a group policy if that individual is not eligible for replacement group coverage. This subsection (2)(b)(iv)(A) must be applied in accordance with the provisions of subsection (2)(b)(iv)(B), as applicable, if the insureds or annuitants had a right under law or if the terminated policy or annuity contained provisions to convert coverage to individual coverage or to continue an individual policy or annuity in force until a specified age or a specified time, during which the insurer had no right to unilaterally make changes in any provision of the policy or annuity or had a right only to make changes in premium by class.

(B) providing the substitute coverage required under subsection (2)(b)(iv)(A) either by issuing an alternative policy as provided in subsection (2)(b)(iv)(C) or reissuing the terminated coverage, as provided in subsection (2)(b)(iv)(D). Any reissued or alternative policy must be offered without requiring evidence of insurability and may not require a waiting period or exclusion that would not have applied under the terminated policy. The association may reinsure any reissued or alternative policy.

(C) submitting alternative policies or contracts adopted by the association to the commissioner for approval. The association may adopt alternative policies of various types for future issuance without regard to any particular impairment or insolvency. Alternative policies must contain at least the minimum statutory provisions required in this state and provide benefits that are not unreasonable in relation to the premium charged. The association shall set the premium in accordance with a table of rates adopted by the association. The premium must be actuarially justified and reflect the amount of insurance to be provided and the age and class of risk of each insured. The premium may not reflect any changes in the health of the insured after the original policy was last underwritten. Alternative policies issued by the association must provide coverage of a type similar to that of the policy issued by the impaired or insolvent insurer, as determined by the association.

(D) setting a premium at a premium different from that charged under the terminated policy if the association elects to reissue terminated coverage. The association shall set the premium in accordance with the amount of insurance provided and the age and class of risk. The premium must be actuarially justified and is subject to approval by the commissioner. A premium may also be set by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(c) cease any of its obligations with respect to coverage under any policy or contract of the impaired or insolvent insurer or under any reissued or alternative policy on the date the coverage or policy is replaced by another similar policy by the policyowner, the insured, or the association; or

(d) ensure the payment or crediting of a rate of interest consistent with 33-10-224(2)(b)(iii) when proceeding under this section with respect to a policy or contract carrying guaranteed minimum interest rates.

(3) Except for claims incurred or any net cash surrender value that may be due in accordance with the provisions of this part, the association's obligation under the policy or contract terminates within 31 days after the date required under the terms of any guaranteed, assumed, alternative, or reissued policy or contract or substitute coverage for nonpayment of premiums.

(4) Premiums due for coverage after entry of an order of liquidation of an insolvent insurer belong to and are payable at the direction of the association. The association is liable only for unearned premiums due to policyowners or contract owners arising after the entry of the order of liquidation.

(5) If the association fails to act within a reasonable period of time, the commissioner has the powers and duties of the association under this part with respect to a domestic, foreign, or alien insolvent insurer.

(6) (a) In carrying out its duties under subsections (1) through (4), the association may, subject to approval by a court of competent jurisdiction, impose:

(i) permanent policy or contract liens in connection with a guarantee, assumption, or reinsurance agreement if the association finds that:

(A) the amounts that can be assessed under this part are less than the amounts needed to ensure full and prompt performance of the association's duties under this part; or

(B) the economic or financial conditions as they affect member insurers are sufficiently adverse to render the imposition of permanent policy or contract liens to be in the public interest; or

(ii) temporary moratoriums or liens on payments of cash values and policy loans or any other right to withdraw funds held in conjunction with policies or contracts. This subsection (6)(a)(ii) also allows temporary moratoriums or liens on any contractual provisions for deferral of cash or policy loan value.

(b) If the receivership court imposes a temporary moratorium or moratorium charge on payment of cash values or policy loans or on any other right to withdraw funds held in conjunction with policies or contracts, out of the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer, the association may defer the payment of cash values, policy loans, or other rights for the period of the moratorium or moratorium charge imposed by the receivership court. This subsection (6)(b) does not apply to claims covered by the association to be paid in accordance with a hardship procedure established by the liquidator or rehabilitator and approved by the receivership court.

(7) The association is not liable under this part for any covered policy of a foreign or alien insurer whose domiciliary jurisdiction or state of entry provides protection by statute or regulation for residents of this state if that protection is substantially similar to that provided by this part for residents of other states.

(8) In carrying out its duties under this section, the association may, subject to the approval of the commissioner, issue substitute coverage for a policy or contract that provides an interest rate, crediting rate, or similar factor determined by use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract employed for calculating returns or changes in value. The alternative policy or contract issued under this subsection (8):

(a) must provide in lieu of the index or other external reference in the original policy or contract:

(i) a fixed interest rate;

(ii) payment of dividends within minimum guarantees; or

(iii) a different method for calculating interest or changes in value;

(b) may not contain a requirement for evidence of insurability, a waiting period, or other exclusion that would not have applied under the replaced policy or contract; and

(c) must be substantially similar to the replaced policy or contract in all other material terms.

(9) In addition to other rights provided by law, the association may:

(a) enter into contracts that are necessary or proper to carry out the provisions and purposes of this part;

(b) sue or be sued, including taking any legal actions necessary or proper to recover any unpaid assessments and to settle claims or potential claims against it;

(c) borrow money to effect the purposes of this part. Any notes or other evidence of indebtedness of the association not in default must be legal investments for domestic insurers and may be carried as admitted assets.

(d) employ or retain persons who are necessary to handle the financial transactions of the association and to perform other functions that become necessary or proper under this part;

(e) negotiate and contract with any liquidator, rehabilitator, supervisor, or ancillary receiver to carry out the powers and duties of the association;

(f) take legal action that may be necessary or appropriate to avoid or recover payment of improper claims;

(g) exercise, for the purposes of this part and to the extent approved by the commissioner, the powers of a domestic life or health insurer, but the association may not issue insurance policies or annuity contracts other than those issued to perform its obligations under this part;

(h) organize itself as a corporation or in any other legal form permitted by the laws of the state;

(i) request information from a person seeking coverage from the association in order to aid the association in determining its obligations under this part with respect to the person. The person shall promptly comply with the request.

(j) unless prohibited or otherwise limited by another section in this title and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the policy or contract, file for actuarially justified rate or premium increases for any policy or contract for which it provides coverage under this part; and

(k) take other necessary or appropriate action to discharge its duties and obligations under this part or to exercise its powers under this part.

(10) The association may render assistance and advice to the commissioner, upon request, concerning rehabilitation, liquidation, payment of claims, continuations of coverage, or the performance of other contractual obligations of any impaired or insolvent insurer.

(11) The association has standing to appear or intervene before any court or agency in this state with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer concerning which the association is or may become obligated under this part or before any court with jurisdiction over any person or property against which the association may have rights through subrogation or otherwise. The association's standing extends to all matters germane to the powers and duties of the association, including but not limited to proposals for reinsuring, modifying, or guaranteeing the covered policies or contracts of the impaired or insolvent insurer and the determination of the covered policies or contracts. The association also has the right to appear or intervene before a court or agency in another state with jurisdiction over an impaired or insolvent insurer for which the association is or may become obligated or before a court with jurisdiction over any person or property against which the association may have rights through subrogation or otherwise.

(12) The association may join an organization of one or more other state associations of similar purposes to further the purposes and administer the powers and duties of the association.

(13) The board of directors of the association may exercise reasonable business judgment to determine the means by which the association is to provide the benefits of this part in an economical and efficient manner.

(14) When the association has arranged or offered to provide the benefits of this part to a covered person under a plan or arrangement that fulfills the association's obligations under this part, the person is not entitled to benefits from the association in addition to or other than those provided under the plan or arrangement.

(15) Venue in a suit against the association arising under this part is in the first judicial district of this state. The association is not required to give an appeal bond in an appeal that relates to a cause of action arising under this part.

(16) The protection provided by this part does not apply when any guaranty protection is provided to residents of this state by the laws of the domiciliary state or jurisdiction of the impaired or insolvent insurer that is other than this state.

33-10-210. Unfair trade practice — notice to policyowners. (1) It is a prohibited unfair trade practice for any person to make use in any manner of the protection afforded by this part in the sale of insurance.

(2) The association shall prepare a summary document, complying with subsection (3) and describing the general purposes and current limitations of this part. The document must be submitted to the commissioner for approval. Sixty days after receiving approval, a member insurer may not deliver a policy or contract described in 33-10-224(2)(a) to a policyowner or contract owner unless the document is delivered to the policyowner or contract owner prior to or at the time of delivery of the policy or contract. The document must be available upon request by a policyowner. The distribution, delivery, contents, or interpretation of this document does not mean that either the policy or the contract or the owner of the policy or contract would be covered in the event of the impairment or insolvency of a member insurer. The description document must be revised by the association as amendments to this part may require. Failure to receive this document does not give the policyowner, contract owner, certificate holder, or insured any greater rights than those stated in this part.

(3) The document prepared under subsection (2) must contain a clear and conspicuous disclaimer on its face. The commissioner shall promulgate a rule establishing the form and content of the disclaimer. The disclaimer must:

(a) state the name and address of the life and health insurance guaranty association and insurance department;

(b) prominently warn the policyowner or contract owner that the life and health insurance guaranty association may not cover the policy or, if coverage is available, it will be subject to substantial limitations and exclusions and conditioned on continued residence in the state;

(c) state that the insurer and its insurance producers are prohibited by law from using the existence of the life and health insurance guaranty association for the purpose of sales, solicitation, or inducement to purchase any form of insurance;

(d) emphasize that the policyowner or contract owner should not rely on coverage under the life and health insurance guaranty association when selecting an insurer;

(e) provide other information as directed by the commissioner.

33-10-215. Duties and powers of commissioner. (1) In addition to the duties and powers enumerated elsewhere in this part, the commissioner shall:

(a) notify the board of directors of the existence of an impaired or insolvent insurer after an order of impairment or insolvency is entered or the commissioner receives notice of impairment or insolvency;

(b) upon request of the board of directors, provide the association with a statement of the premiums in the appropriate states for each member insurer;

(c) when an impairment or insolvency is declared and the amount of the impairment or insolvency is determined, serve a demand upon the impaired or insolvent insurer to make good the impairment or insolvency within a reasonable time. Notice to the impaired or insolvent insurer constitutes notice to its shareholders, if any. The failure of the insurer to promptly comply with the demand does not excuse the association from the performance of its powers and duties under this part.

(2) The commissioner may suspend or revoke, after notice and hearing, the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due or fails to comply with the plan of operation. As an alternative, the commissioner may levy a fine on any member insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due. The fine may not exceed 5% of the unpaid assessment per month, except that the fine may not be less than $100 per month.

(3) A final action of the board of directors may be appealed to the commissioner by a member insurer if the appeal is taken within 60 days of the member insurer's receipt of notice of the final action being appealed. A final action or order of the commissioner is subject to judicial review in a court of competent jurisdiction in accordance with the laws of this state that apply to the actions or orders of the commissioner.

(4) The liquidator, rehabilitator, or conservator of an impaired or insolvent insurer may notify all affected persons of the effect of this part.

33-10-216. Plan of operation — delegation of powers provision. (1) (a) The association shall submit to the commissioner a plan of operation and any amendments to the plan that are necessary or suitable to ensure the fair, reasonable, and equitable administration of the association. The plan of operation and any amendments to the plan become effective upon the commissioner's written approval or 60 days after receipt by the commissioner's office if the commissioner does not disapprove the submitted plan of operation and any amendments within those 60 days.

(b) If the association fails to submit suitable amendments to the plan, the commissioner shall, after notice and hearing, adopt and promulgate reasonable rules necessary or advisable to effectuate the provisions of this part. The rules remain in force until modified by the commissioner or superseded by a plan submitted by the association and approved by the commissioner.

(2) All member insurers shall comply with the plan of operation.

(3) The plan of operation must, in addition to requirements enumerated elsewhere in this part:

(a) establish procedures for handling the assets of the association;

(b) establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors under 33-10-204;

(c) establish regular places and times for meetings of the board of directors;

(d) establish procedures for keeping records of all financial transactions of the association, its agents, and the board of directors;

(e) establish procedures to select the board of directors and submit notice of the selections to the commissioner;

(f) establish any additional procedures for assessments under 33-10-227;

(g) establish procedures for the removal of a director for cause, including in a case in which a member insurer director becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer;

(h) require the board of directors to establish a policy and procedures for addressing conflicts of interests;

(i) contain additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers and duties of the association.

(4) The plan of operation may provide that any or all powers and duties of the association, except those under 33-10-205(9)(c) and 33-10-227, may be delegated to a corporation, association, or other organization that performs or will perform functions similar to those of this association or its equivalent in two or more states. A corporation, association, or organization to which these powers and duties are delegated must be reimbursed for any payments made on behalf of the association and must be paid for performing any function of the association. A delegation of authority under this subsection may take effect only with the approval of both the board of directors and the commissioner and may be made only to a corporation, association, or organization that extends protection not substantially less favorable or less effective than that provided by this part.

33-10-217. Prevention of insolvencies or impairments. (1) To aid in the detection and prevention of insurer insolvencies or impairments, the commissioner shall:

(a) (i) notify the commissioners of all the other states when the commissioner takes any of the following actions against a member insurer:

(A) the revocation of a license;

(B) the suspension of a license; or

(C) the issuance of any formal order that the company restrict its premium writing, obtain additional contributions to surplus, withdraw from the state, reinsure all or any part of its business, or increase capital, surplus, or any other account for the security of policyowners or creditors;

(ii) mail the notice to all commissioners within 30 days following the action taken or the date on which the action occurs;

(b) report to the board of directors when the commissioner has taken any of the actions set forth in subsection (1)(a) or has received a report from any other commissioner indicating that an action has been taken in another state. The report to the board of directors must contain all significant details of the action taken or the report received from another commissioner.

(c) report to the board of directors when the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe from any examination, whether completed or in process, of any member company that the company may be an impaired or insolvent insurer; and

(d) furnish to the board of directors the national association of insurance commissioners' insurance regulatory information system (IRIS) ratios and listings of companies not included in the ratios developed by the national association of insurance commissioners. The board of directors may use the information contained in the ratios and listings in carrying out its duties and responsibilities under this section. The report and the information contained in the ratios and listings must be kept confidential by the board of directors until the commissioner or other lawful authority makes the report or information public.

(2) The commissioner may seek the advice and recommendations of the board of directors concerning any matter affecting the commissioner's duties and responsibilities regarding the financial condition of member insurers and companies seeking admission to transact insurance business in this state.

(3) The board of directors shall, upon majority vote, notify the commissioner of any information indicating any member insurer may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(4) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, request that the commissioner order an examination of any member insurer which the board in good faith believes may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

(5) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make reports and recommendations to the commissioner upon any matter germane to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision of any member insurer or germane to the solvency of any company seeking to provide life or health insurance in this state. The reports and recommendations are not considered public documents.

(6) The board of directors may, upon majority vote, make recommendations to the commissioner for the detection and prevention of insurer impairments or insolvencies.

33-10-218. Examination by commissioner — cost. (1) The commissioner may conduct the examination requested by the board pursuant to 33-10-217(4). The examination may be conducted as a national association of insurance commissioners examination or may be conducted by persons whom the commissioner designates. The cost of the examination must be paid by the association, and the examination report must be treated as are other examination reports.

(2) The examination report may not be released to the board of directors of the association prior to its release to the public, but this may not excuse the commissioner from the obligation to comply with subsection (4). The commissioner shall notify the board of directors when the examination is completed.

(3) The request for an examination must be kept on file by the commissioner, but it may not be open to public inspection prior to the release of the examination report to the public and must be released at that time only if the examination discloses that the examined insurer is unable or potentially unable to meet its contractual obligations.

(4) The commissioner shall report to the board of directors when the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that any member insurer examined at the request of the board of directors may be unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations.

33-10-221. Nomination of liquidator by association — notification given by liquidator. (1) The association may recommend an individual to serve as a special deputy to act for the commissioner and under the commissioner's supervision in the liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision of any member insurer.

(2) The liquidator, rehabilitator, or supervisor of any impaired or insolvent insurer may notify all interested persons of the effect of this part.

33-10-222. Stay of proceedings — reopening default judgments. (1) All proceedings in which the insolvent insurer is a party in any court in this state must be stayed 180 days from the date an order of liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision is final to permit proper legal action by the association on any matters germane to its powers or duties.

(2) As to a judgment under any decision, order, verdict, or finding based on default, the association may apply to have the judgment set aside by the same court that made the judgment and must be permitted to defend against the suit on the merits.

33-10-223. Assignment by beneficiaries — subrogation. (1) Any person receiving benefits under this part must be considered to have assigned the person's rights under the covered policy or contract, pertaining to any causes of action against the person for losses resulting from or otherwise relating to the covered policy or contract, to the association to the extent of the benefits received because of this part whether the benefits are payments of contractual obligations or continuation of coverage or provision of substitute or alternative coverage. The association may require an assignment to it of the rights by any payee, policyowner or contract owner, beneficiary, insured, or annuitant as a condition precedent to the receipt of any rights or benefits conferred by this part upon the person. The association must be subrogated to these rights against the assets of any impaired or insolvent insurer.

(2) The subrogation rights of the association under this section have the same priority against the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer as that possessed by the person entitled to receive benefits under this part.

(3) In addition to the rights detailed in this section, the association has all common-law rights of subrogation and any other equitable or legal remedy that would have been available to the impaired or insolvent insurer or owner, beneficiary, or payee of a policy or contract with respect to the policy or contract, including without limitation, in the case of a structured settlement annuity, any rights of the owner, beneficiary, or payee of the annuity, to the extent of benefits received pursuant to this part, against a person originally or by succession responsible for the losses arising from the personal injury relating to the annuity or payment for the annuity, except for any person responsible solely by reason of serving as an assignee with respect to a qualified assignment under section 130 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) If subsections (1) through (3) are invalid or ineffective with respect to any person or claim for any reason, the amount payable by the association with respect to the related covered obligations must be reduced by the amount realized by any other person with respect to the person or claim that is attributable to the policy or a portion of the policy covered by the association.

(5) If the association has provided benefits with respect to a covered obligation and a person recovers any amount to which the association has rights as described in this section, the person shall pay to the association the portion of the recovery attributable to the policy or a portion of the policy covered by the association.

33-10-224. Coverage, limitations, and extent of liability. (1) (a) This part establishes coverage for the policies and contracts specified in subsection (2) to persons who, except as provided in subsections (1)(b) through (1)(e), are:

(i) beneficiaries, assignees, or payees, including health care providers, of the persons covered under subsection (1)(a)(ii) regardless of where the beneficiaries, assignees, or payees reside, except for nonresident certificate holders under group policies or contracts;

(ii) owners of or certificate holders or enrollees under the policies and contracts specified in subsection (2), other than unallocated annuity contracts and structured settlement annuities that are provided for in subsections (1)(b) and (1)(c), if the persons are:

(A) residents; or

(B) nonresidents, but only under all of the following conditions:

(I) the member insurer that issued the policies is domiciled in this state;

(II) the state in which the person resides has an association similar to the association created under this part; and

(III) the person is not eligible for coverage by an association in any other state because the insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization was not licensed in the state at the time specified in the state's guaranty association law.

(b) The provisions of subsection (1)(a) do not apply to unallocated annuity contracts specified in subsection (2). A person who is the owner of an unallocated annuity contract receives coverage under this part, except as provided in subsections (1)(d) and (1)(e), if:

(i) the contract is issued to or in connection with a specific benefit plan whose plan sponsor has its principal place of business in this state; or

(ii) the unallocated annuity contract was issued to or in connection with a government lottery if the owner is a resident.

(c) The provisions of subsection (1)(a) do not apply to structured settlement annuities specified in subsection (2). A person who is a payee under a structured settlement annuity or the beneficiary of a payee if the payee is deceased receives coverage under this part, except as provided in subsections (1)(d) and (1)(e), if the payee:

(i) is a resident, regardless of where the contract owner resides; or

(ii) is not a resident and one of the following conditions applies:

(A) the contract owner of the structured settlement annuity is a resident and is not eligible for coverage by another state's association, and the payee or beneficiary is not eligible for coverage by the association of the state in which the payee or beneficiary resides; or

(B) the contract owner of the structured settlement annuity is not a resident, the insurer that issued the structured settlement annuity is domiciled in this state, the state in which the contract owner resides has an association similar to the association created by this part, and the payee, beneficiary, and contract owner are not eligible for coverage by the association in the state in which the payee, beneficiary, or contract owner resides.

(d) This part does not provide coverage to:

(i) a person who is a payee or a beneficiary of a contract owner that is a resident of this state if the payee or beneficiary is afforded any coverage by the association of another state;

(ii) a person covered under subsection (1)(b) if any coverage is provided by the association of another state to the person; or

(iii) a person who acquires rights to receive payments through a structured settlement factoring transaction as defined in 26 U.S.C. 5891(c)(3)(A), regardless of whether the transaction occurred before or after 26 U.S.C. 5891(c)(3)(A) became effective.

(e) This part is intended to provide coverage to a person who is a resident of this state and, in special circumstances, to a nonresident. To avoid duplicate coverage, a person may not receive coverage under this part if the person who would otherwise receive coverage under this part receives coverage under the laws of any other state. To determine the application of this subsection (1)(e) to a situation in which a person could be covered by the association of more than one state, whether as an owner, payee, beneficiary, or assignee, this part must be construed in conjunction with other state laws to result in coverage by only one association.

(2) (a) (i) Except as otherwise provided in this part, this part provides coverage to the persons specified in subsection (1) for:

(A) direct, nongroup life and health policies, direct, nongroup annuity contracts, and supplemental contracts to any of these;

(B) certificates under direct group policies and contracts and supplemental contracts to any of these; and

(C) unallocated annuity contracts issued by member insurers.

(ii) Annuity contracts and certificates under group annuity contracts include but are not limited to guaranteed investment contracts, deposit administration contracts, unallocated funding agreements, allocated funding agreements, structured settlement annuities, annuities issued in connection with government lotteries, and any immediate or deferred annuity contracts.

(b) This part does not provide coverage for any of the following:

(i) a portion of a policy or contract not guaranteed by the member insurer or under which the risk is borne by the policy or contract owner;

(ii) a policy or contract of reinsurance, unless assumption certificates have been issued pursuant to the reinsurance policy or contract;

(iii) except for the portion of the policy, including a rider, that provides long-term care or any other health insurance benefits, a portion of a policy or contract to the extent that the rate of interest on which the portion is based or the interest rate, crediting rate, or similar factor determined by use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract employed in calculating returns or changes in value:

(A) when averaged over the period of 4 years prior to the date on which the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this part exceeds the rate of interest determined by subtracting 2 percentage points from Moody's corporate bond yield average that is averaged for that same period or for a lesser period if the policy or contract was issued less than 4 years before the member insurer became an impaired or insolvent insurer under this part; and

(B) when the returns or changes in value exceed the rate of interest determined by subtracting 3 percentage points from the Moody's corporate bond yield average most recently available on or after the date on which the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this part;

(iv) a portion of a policy or contract issued to a plan or program of an employer, association, or other person to provide life, health, or annuity benefits to its employees, members, or others to the extent that the plan or program is self-funded or uninsured, including but not limited to benefits payable by an employer, association, or other person under:

(A) a multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined in 29 U.S.C. 1002;

(B) a minimum premium group insurance plan;

(C) a stop-loss group insurance plan; or

(D) an administrative services-only contract;

(v) a portion of a policy or contract to the extent that it contains provisions for dividends, experience rating credits, or voting rights or for payment of any fees or allowances to any person, including the policyowner or contract owner, in connection with the service to or administration of the policy or contract;

(vi) a policy or contract issued in this state by a member insurer at any time when it was not licensed or did not have a certificate of authority to issue the policy or contract in this state;

(vii) any unallocated annuity contract issued to or in connection with a benefit plan that is protected under the federal pension benefit guaranty corporation, regardless of whether the federal pension benefit guaranty corporation has yet become liable to make any payments with respect to the benefit plan;

(viii) a portion of any unallocated annuity contract that is not issued to or in connection with a specific employee, union, or association of natural persons' benefit plan or a government lottery;

(ix) a portion of a policy or contract to the extent that federal or state law preempts or otherwise does not permit the assessments required by 33-10-227 with respect to the policy or contract;

(x) an obligation that does not arise under the express written terms of the policy or contract issued by the insurer to the contract owner or policyowner, including without limitation:

(A) claims based on marketing materials;

(B) claims based on side letters, riders, or other documents that were issued by the insurer without meeting applicable requirements for filing policy forms or for policy approval;

(C) misrepresentation of or regarding policy benefits;

(D) extracontractual claims; or

(E) a claim for penalties or consequential or incidental damages;

(xi) a contractual agreement that establishes the member insurer's obligation to provide a book value accounting guaranty for defined contribution benefit plan participants by reference to a portfolio of assets that is owned by the benefit plan or its trustee, which in each case may not be an affiliate of the member insurer;

(xii) a portion of a policy or contract to the extent that it provides for interest or other changes in value to be determined by the use of an index or other external reference stated in the policy or contract, but which have not been credited to the policy or contract, or as to which the policyowner's or contract owner's rights are subject to forfeiture as of the date the member insurer becomes an impaired or insolvent insurer under this part. If a policy's or contract's interest or changes in value are credited less frequently than annually, then for purposes of determining the values that have been credited and are not subject to forfeiture under this section, the interest or change in value determined by using the procedures defined in the policy or contract will be credited as if the contractual date of crediting interest or changing values was the date of the impairment or insolvency of the member insurer and the interest or changes in value are not subject to forfeiture.

(xiii) a policy or contract providing any hospital, medical, prescription drug, or other health care benefits pursuant to either 42 U.S.C. 1395w-21 through 1395w-152, commonly known as medicare parts C and D, or 42 U.S.C. 1396 to 1396w-5, commonly known as medicaid, or any regulations issued pursuant to those federal statutes; or

(xiv) structured settlement annuity benefits to which a payee or beneficiary has transferred the payee's or beneficiary's rights in a structured settlement factoring transaction as defined in 26 U.S.C. 5891(c)(3)(A), regardless of whether the transaction occurred before or after 26 U.S.C. 5891(c)(3)(A) became effective.

(3) The benefits for which the association may become liable may not exceed the lesser of:

(a) the contractual obligations for which the insurer is liable or would have become liable if it were not an impaired or insolvent insurer; or

(b) (i) with respect to any one life, regardless of the number of policies or contracts:

(A) $300,000 in life insurance death benefits, but not more than $100,000 in net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values for life insurance;

(B) in health insurance benefits:

(I) $500,000 for health insurance coverage;

(II) $300,000 for disability income insurance;

(III) $300,000 for long-term care insurance;

(IV) $100,000, including any net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values, for coverages not included in subsections (3)(b)(i)(B)(I) through (3)(b)(i)(B)(III);

(C) $250,000 in the present value of annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values;

(ii) with respect to each individual participating in a governmental retirement plan established under section 401, 403(b), or 457 of the Internal Revenue Code and covered by an unallocated annuity contract or with respect to the beneficiaries of each individual, if deceased, in the aggregate, $250,000 in present value annuity benefits, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values;

(iii) with respect to each payee of a structured settlement annuity or beneficiary of the payee if the payee is deceased, $250,000 in present value annuity benefits, in the aggregate, including net cash surrender and net cash withdrawal values, if any;

(iv) with respect to either one contract owner provided coverage under subsection (1)(b) or one plan sponsor whose plan owns directly or in trust one or more unallocated annuity contracts not included in subsection (3)(b)(ii), $5 million in benefits, irrespective of the number of contracts held by the contract owner or plan sponsor. If one or more unallocated annuity contracts are covered contracts under this part and are owned by a trust or other entity for the benefit of two or more plan sponsors, coverage must be afforded by the association if the largest interest in the trust or entity owning the contract or contracts is held by a plan sponsor whose principal place of business is in this state. In no event is the association obligated to cover more than $5 million in benefits with respect to all these unallocated contracts.

(4) In no event is the association obligated to cover more than:

(a) an aggregate of $300,000 in benefits with respect to any one life under subsections (3)(b)(i) through (3)(b)(iii), except with respect to benefits for health insurance coverage under subsection (3)(b)(i), in which case the aggregate liability of the association may not exceed $500,000 with respect to any one individual; and

(b) with respect to one owner of multiple nongroup policies of life insurance, whether the policyowner is an individual, firm, corporation, or other person and whether the persons insured are officers, managers, employees, or other persons, $5 million in benefits, regardless of the number of policies and contracts held by the owner.

(5) The limitations set forth in this section are limitations on the benefits for which the association is obligated before taking into account either its subrogation and assignment rights or the extent to which those benefits could be provided out of the assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer attributable to covered policies. The costs of the association's obligations under this part may be met by the use of assets attributable to covered policies or reimbursed to the association pursuant to its subrogation and assignment rights.

(6) In performing its obligations to provide coverage under this part, the association is not required to guarantee, assume, reinsure, or perform or cause to be guaranteed, assumed, reinsured, or performed the contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer under a covered policy or contract that do not materially affect the economic values or economic benefits of the covered policy or contract.

(7) For purposes of this part, benefits provided by a long-term care rider to a life insurance policy or annuity contract must be considered the same type of benefits as the basic life insurance policy or annuity contract to which it relates.

33-10-225. Association as creditor — use of assets. (1) For the purpose of carrying out its obligations under this part, the association is a creditor of the impaired or insolvent insurer to the extent of assets attributable to covered policies reduced by any amounts to which the association is entitled as subrogee pursuant to 33-10-223.

(2) All assets of the impaired or insolvent insurer attributable to covered policies must be used to continue all covered policies and pay all contractual obligations of the impaired or insolvent insurer as required by this part. Assets attributable to covered policies, as used in this section, is that proportion of the assets which the reserves that should have been established for such policies bear to the reserve that should have been established for all policies of insurance written by the impaired or insolvent insurer.

(3) As a creditor of the impaired or insolvent insurer, as established in this part and consistent with 33-2-1363, the association and other similar associations are entitled to receive a disbursement of assets out of the marshalled assets, from time to time as the assets become available to reimburse it, as a credit against contractual obligations under this part. If, within 120 days of the receivership court issuing a final determination of insolvency of an insurer, the liquidator has not made an application to the court for the approval of a proposal to disburse assets out of marshalled assets to guaranty associations having obligations because of the insolvency, then the association may make application to the receivership court for approval of its own proposal to disburse those assets.

33-10-226. Distribution of ownership rights — distribution to shareholders. (1) Prior to the termination of any liquidation, rehabilitation, or supervision proceeding, the court may take into consideration the contributions of the respective parties, including the association, the shareholders, and policyowners of the impaired or insolvent insurer and any other party with a bona fide interest, in making an equitable distribution of the ownership rights of the impaired or insolvent insurer. In the determination, consideration must be given to the welfare of the policyowners of the continuing or successor insurer.

(2) A distribution to stockholders, if any, of an impaired or insolvent insurer may not be made until and unless the association has fully recovered the total amount of valid claims of the association, with interest, for funds expended in carrying out its powers and duties under this part.

33-10-227. Assessments — abatement — basis for ratesetting. (1) For the purpose of providing the funds necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association, the board of directors shall assess the member insurers, separately for each account, at the times and for the amounts as the board finds necessary.

(2) Assessments are due not less than 30 days after prior written notice to the member insurers. An unpaid assessment accrues interest at 10% a year on and after the due date. The association may also impose any charges on a late-paid assessment if the plan of operation provides for late-paid assessments.

(3) There are two classes of assessments:

(a) Class A assessments must be authorized and called for the purpose of meeting administrative and legal costs and other expenses. Class A assessments may be authorized and called whether or not related to a particular impaired or insolvent insurer.

(b) Class B assessments must be authorized and called to the extent necessary to carry out the powers and duties of the association under 33-10-205 with regard to an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(4) (a) The amount of any Class A assessment for each account must be determined by the board and may be authorized and called on a pro rata or non-pro rata basis. If pro rata, the board may provide that the amount be credited against future Class B assessments.

(b) The amount of any Class B assessment, except for assessments related to long-term care insurance, must be allocated for assessment purposes among the accounts pursuant to an allocation formula that may be based on the premiums or reserves of the impaired or insolvent insurer or any other standard determined by the board in its sole discretion as being fair and reasonable under the circumstances.

(c) The amount of the Class B assessment for long-term care insurance written by the impaired or insolvent insurer must be allocated according to a methodology included in the plan of operation and approved by the commissioner. The methodology must provide for 50% of the assessment to be allocated to accident and health member insurers and 50% to life and annuity member insurers.

(d) Class B assessments against member insurers for each account and subaccount must be in the proportion that the premiums received on business in this state by each assessed member insurer on policies or contracts covered by each account or subaccount bear to the premiums received on business in this state by all assessed member insurers. This ratio must be calculated from information that is available for the 3 most recent calendar years preceding the year in which the insurer became insolvent or, in the case of an assessment with respect to an impaired insurer, the 3 most recent calendar years for which information is available preceding the year in which the insurer became impaired.

(e) Assessments for funds to meet the requirements of the association with respect to an impaired or insolvent insurer may not be authorized and called until necessary to implement the purposes of this part. Classification of assessments under subsection (3) and computation of assessments under this subsection (4) must be made with a reasonable degree of accuracy, recognizing that exact determinations may not always be possible. The association shall notify each member insurer of its anticipated pro rata share of an authorized assessment not yet called within 180 days after the assessment is authorized.

(5) The association may abate or defer, in whole or in part, the assessment of a member insurer if, in the opinion of the board, payment of the assessment would endanger the ability of the member insurer to fulfill its contractual obligations. In the event an assessment against a member insurer is abated or deferred, in whole or in part, the amount by which the assessment is abated or deferred may be assessed against the other member insurers in a manner consistent with the basis for assessments set forth in this section. Once the conditions that caused a deferral have been removed or rectified, the member insurer shall pay all assessments that were deferred pursuant to a repayment plan approved by the association.

(6) (a) (i) Subject to the provisions of subsection (6)(a)(ii), the total of all assessments authorized by the association with respect to a member insurer for each subaccount of the life insurance and annuity account and for the health account may not in 1 calendar year exceed

2% of that member insurer's average annual premiums received in this state on the policies and contracts covered by the subaccount or account during the 3 calendar years preceding the year in which the insurer became an impaired or insolvent insurer.

(ii) If two or more assessments are authorized in 1 calendar year with respect to insurers that become impaired or insolvent in different calendar years, the average annual premiums for purposes of the aggregate assessment percentage limitation referenced in subsection (6)(a)(i) must be equal and limited to the higher of the 3-year average annual premiums for the applicable account or subaccount as calculated pursuant to this section.

(iii) If the maximum assessment, together with the other assets of the association in an account, does not provide in 1 year in either account an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association, the necessary additional funds must be assessed as soon as permitted by this part.

(b) The board may provide in the plan of operation a method of allocating funds among claims, whether relating to one or more impaired or insolvent insurers, for use when the board determines that the maximum assessment is insufficient to cover anticipated claims.

(c) If the maximum assessment for a subaccount of the life insurance and annuity account in 1 year does not provide an amount sufficient to carry out the responsibilities of the association, then pursuant to subsection (4)(d), the board shall assess the other subaccounts of the life insurance and annuity account for the necessary additional amount, subject to the maximum assessment stated in subsection (6)(a).

(7) The board may, by an equitable method as established in the plan of operation, refund to member insurers, in proportion to the contribution of each insurer to that account, the amount by which the assets of the account exceed the amount the board finds is necessary to carry out during the coming year the obligations of the association with regard to that account, including assets accruing from assignment, subrogation, and net realized gains and income from investments. A reasonable amount may be retained in any account to provide funds for the continuing expenses of the association and for future losses.

(8) It is proper for any member insurer, in determining its premium rates and policyowner dividends as to any kind of insurance within the scope of this part, to consider the amount reasonably necessary to meet its assessment obligations under this part.

(9) The association shall issue to each insurer paying an assessment under this part a certificate of contribution, in a form prescribed by the commissioner, for the amount paid. All outstanding certificates must be of equal dignity and priority without reference to amounts or dates of issue. A certificate of contribution may be shown by the insurer in its financial statement as an asset in that form and for the amount, if any, and period of time that the commissioner may approve.

(10) (a) A member insurer that wishes to protest all or a part of an assessment shall pay when due the full amount of the assessment as set forth in the notice provided by the association. The payment must be available to meet association obligations during the pendency of the protest or any subsequent appeal. A written statement must accompany the payment and must indicate that the payment is made under protest and include a brief description of the grounds for the protest.

(b) Within 60 days after the payment of an assessment under protest by a member insurer, the association shall notify the member insurer in writing of its determination with respect to the protest unless the association notifies the member insurer that additional time is required to resolve the issue raised by the protest.

(c) Within 30 days after a final decision has been made, the association shall notify the protesting member insurer in writing of that final decision. Within 60 days of receipt of notice of the final decision, the protesting member insurer may appeal that final action to the commissioner.

(d) Instead of rendering a final decision with respect to a protest based on a question regarding the assessment base, the association may refer protests to the commissioner for a final decision, with or without a recommendation from the association.

(e) If the protest or appeal of the assessment is upheld, the amount paid in error or excess must be returned to the member insurer. Interest on a refund due to a protesting member insurer must be paid at the rate actually earned by the association.

(11) The association may request information of member insurers to aid in the exercise of its powers and duties under this section. Member insurers shall promptly comply with a request from the association.

33-10-230. Tax — writeoffs of certificates of contribution. (1) Unless a longer period has been allowed by the commissioner, a member insurer shall at its option have the right to show a certificate of contribution for a Class B assessment only as an asset in the form approved by the commissioner pursuant to 33-10-227(9), at percentages of the original face amount approved by the commissioner, for calendar years as follows:

(a) 100% for calendar year of issuance;
(b) 80% for the first calendar year after year of issuance;
(c) 60% for second calendar year after year of issuance;
(d) 40% for third calendar year after year of issuance;
(e) 20% for fourth calendar year after year of issuance.

(2) The insurer may offset the amount written off by it in the calendar year under subsection (1) above against its premium tax liability to this state accrued with respect to business transacted in the calendar year.

(3) Any sums acquired by refund, pursuant to 33-10-227(7), from the association which have therefore been written off by contributing insurers and offset against premium taxes as provided in subsection (2) above and are not then needed for purposes of this part must be paid by the association to the commissioner and deposited by the commissioner with the state treasurer for credit to the general fund of this state.

Cross-References

Tax on premiums, 33-2-705.

33-10-231 through 33-10-234 reserved.

33-10-235. Association election to continue reinsurance. (1) Within 1 year after the coverage date, which is the date that the association becomes responsible for the obligations of a member insurer, the association may elect to succeed to the rights and obligations of a member insurer that accrued on or after the coverage date under an indemnity reinsurance agreement entered into by the member insurer as the ceding insurer. The association may not exercise an election with respect to a reinsurance agreement if the rehabilitator or liquidator of the member insurer has previously expressly disaffirmed the agreement.

(2) The election to succeed to the rights and obligations of the member insurer must be accomplished through notice to the supervisor, rehabilitator, or liquidator and to the affected reinsurers.

(3) If the association makes an election, the association:

(a) is responsible for all unpaid premiums due under the agreements for the periods before and after the coverage date and is responsible for the performance of all obligations to be performed after the coverage date in each contract covered, either in whole or in part, by the association. The association may charge contracts covered in part by the association the costs for reinsurance in excess of the obligations of the association, using reasonable allocation methods.

(b) is entitled to any amounts payable by the reinsurer under the agreements with respect to losses or events that occur in periods after the coverage date and that relate to contracts covered by the association, in whole or in part. In order to receive these amounts, the association must be obligated to pay the beneficiary of the underlying policy or contract a portion of the amount equal to the excess of the amount received by the association minus:

(i) the benefits paid by the association under the policy or contract; and
(ii) any amount properly retained by the impaired or insolvent insurer for the loss or event.

(c) shall calculate, within 30 days of the election, the net balance due to or from the association under each reinsurance agreement as of the date of the association's election, giving full credit to all items paid to either the member insurer, its rehabilitator or liquidator, or the indemnity reinsurer during the period between the coverage date and the date of the association's election. Either the association or the indemnity insurer shall pay the net balance due the other within 5 days of completion of the calculation. If the rehabilitator or liquidator has received any amount under this section, the rehabilitator or liquidator shall remit it to the association as soon as practicable.

(4) If, within 60 days of the election, the association pays the premiums due for the periods before and after the coverage date that relate to the contracts covered by the association, either in whole or in part, the reinsurer may not terminate the reinsurance agreement insofar as the agreement relates to contracts covered by the association, in whole or in part, and is not entitled to set off any unpaid premium due for periods prior to the coverage date against amounts due the association.

(5) The association may transfer any rights or obligations under this section to a third-party insurer under terms agreed upon by the association and the third-party insurer.

(6) Except as otherwise expressly stated in this section, this section may not be construed to alter or modify the terms and conditions of the reinsurance agreement of an insolvent member insurer. This section is not intended to:

(a) abrogate or limit any rights of a reinsurer to claim that it is entitled to rescind a reinsurance agreement; or

(b) give a policyowner or beneficiary an independent cause of action against an insurer that is not otherwise provided for in the reinsurance agreement.

33-10-236. Deposits paid to association. (1) A deposit in this state that is held pursuant to law or required by the commissioner to be held for the benefit of creditors, including policyowners, and that is not turned over to the liquidator upon entry of the final order of liquidation or upon entry of the order approving a rehabilitation plan of an insurer domiciled in this state or in a reciprocal state pursuant to 33-2-1381 must be promptly paid to the association.

(2) The association is entitled to retain a portion of any amount paid under this section equal to the percentage determined by dividing the aggregate amount of policyowner claims related to the insolvency for which the association has provided statutory benefits by the aggregate amount of all policyowner claims in this state related to the insolvency. The association shall remit to the domiciliary receiver the amount paid to the association and not retained under this section.

General Provisions

33-11-101. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to regulate the formation and operation of risk retention groups and purchasing groups in this state formed pursuant to the provisions of the federal Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986 (15 U.S.C. 3901, et seq.).

(1) "Completed operations liability" means:

(a) liability arising out of the installation, maintenance, or repair of any product at a site that is not owned or controlled by:

(i) a person who performs that work; or

(ii) a person who hires an independent contractor to perform that work; and

(b) liability for activities that are completed or abandoned before the date of the occurrence giving rise to the liability.

(2) "Domicile", for purposes of determining the state where a purchasing group is domiciled, means:

(a) for a corporation, the state where the purchasing group is incorporated; and

(b) for an unincorporated entity, the state of its principal place of business.

(3) "Hazardous financial condition" means that, based on its present or reasonably anticipated financial condition, a risk retention group, although not yet financially impaired or insolvent, is unlikely to be able to:

(a) meet obligations to policyholders with respect to known claims and reasonably anticipated claims; or

(b) pay other obligations in the normal course of business.

(4) "Insurance" means primary insurance, excess insurance, reinsurance, surplus line insurance, and any other arrangement for shifting and distributing risk that is determined to be insurance under the laws of this state.

(5) (a) "Liability" means legal liability for damages, including costs of defense, legal costs and fees, and other claims expenses, because of injuries to other persons, damage to their property, or other damage or loss to other persons resulting from or arising out of:

(i) a business, whether profit or nonprofit, trade, product, service (including professional service), premises, or operation; or

(ii) an activity of any state or local government or an agency or political subdivision of state or local government.

(b) The term does not include personal risk liability or an employer's liability with respect to its employees other than legal liability under the federal Employers' Liability Act, 45 U.S.C. 51 through 60. As used in this subsection, "personal risk liability" means liability for damages because of injury to any person, damage to property, or other loss or damage resulting from personal, familial, or household responsibilities or activities rather than from responsibilities or activities referred to in subsection (5)(a).

(6) "Plan of operation or a feasibility study" means an analysis that presents the expected activities and results of a risk retention group, including at a minimum:

(a) the coverages, deductibles, coverage limits, rates, and rating classification systems for each line of insurance the group intends to offer;

(b) historical and expected loss experience of the proposed members and national experience of similar exposures to the extent this experience is reasonably available;

(c) pro forma financial statements and projections;

(d) appropriate opinions by a qualified independent casualty actuary, including a determination of minimum premium or participation levels required to commence operations and to prevent a hazardous financial condition;

(e) identification of management, underwriting procedures, managerial oversight methods, and investment policies; and

(f) other matters as may be prescribed by the commissioner for liability insurance companies authorized by the insurance laws of the state where the risk retention group is chartered.

(7) "Purchasing group" means a group that:

(a) has as one of its purposes the purchase of liability insurance on a group basis;

(b) purchases liability insurance only for its group members and only to cover their similar or related liability exposure, as described in subsection (7)(c);

(c) is composed of members whose businesses or activities are similar or related with respect to the liability to which members are exposed by virtue of any related, similar, or common business, trade, product, service, premises, or operation; and

(d) is domiciled in any state.

(8) "Risk retention group" means a corporation or other limited liability association formed under the laws of any state, Bermuda, or the Cayman Islands:

(a) whose primary activity consists of assuming and spreading all or any portion of the liability exposure of its group members;

(b) that is organized for the primary purpose of conducting the activity described under subsection (8)(a);

(c) (i) that is chartered and licensed as a liability insurance company and authorized to engage in the business of insurance under the laws of any state; or

(ii) that, before January 1, 1985, was chartered or licensed and authorized to engage in the business of insurance under the laws of Bermuda or the Cayman Islands and, before that date, had certified to the insurance regulatory official of at least one state that it satisfied the capitalization requirements of that state. However, the group is considered to be a risk retention group only if it has been engaged in business continuously since January 1, 1985, and only for the purpose of continuing to provide insurance to cover product liability or completed operations liability. For purposes of this subsection (8), "product liability" means liability for damages because of any personal injury, death, emotional harm, consequential economic damage, or property damage, including damages resulting from the loss of use of property, arising out of the manufacture, design, importation, distribution, packaging, labeling, lease, or sale of a product but does not include the liability of any person for those damages if the product involved was in the possession of that person when the incident giving rise to the claim occurred.

(d) that does not exclude any person from membership in the group solely to provide to members of the group a competitive advantage over the person;

(e) (i) that has as its members only persons who have an ownership interest in the group and that has as its owners only persons who are members and who are provided insurance by the risk retention group; or

(ii) that has as its sole member and sole owner an organization that is owned by persons who are provided insurance by the risk retention group;

(f) whose members are engaged in businesses or activities that are similar or related with respect to the liability to which the members are exposed by virtue of any related, similar, or common business, trade, product, service, premises, or operation;

(g) whose activities do not include the provision of insurance other than:

(i) liability insurance for assuming and spreading all or any portion of the liability of its group members; and

(ii) reinsurance with respect to the liability of any other risk retention group or member of the other group that is engaged in businesses or activities so that the group or member meets the requirement described in subsection (8)(f) for membership in the risk retention group that provides the reinsurance; and

(h) whose name includes the phrase "risk retention group".

(9) "State" means any state of the United States or the District of Columbia.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 41, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-11-103. Chartering — licensing — plan of operation. (1) A risk retention group seeking to be chartered in this state must be chartered and licensed to write only casualty insurance pursuant to the insurance laws of this state and, except as provided in this part, shall comply with all of the laws, rules, regulations, and requirements applicable to the insurers chartered and authorized in this state, including 33-11-104, to the extent that the requirements are not a limitation on laws, rules, regulations, or requirements of this state. Before offering insurance in any state, the risk retention group shall also submit for approval to the commissioner a plan of operation or a feasibility study and revisions of the plan or study if the group intends to offer any additional lines of liability insurance.

(2) At the time of filing its application for charter, the risk retention group shall provide to the commissioner in summary form the following information:

(a) the identity of the initial members of the risk retention group;

(b) the identity of those individuals who organized the risk retention group or who will provide administrative services or otherwise influence or control the activities of the risk retention group;

(c) the amount and nature of initial capitalization;

(d) the coverages to be afforded; and

(e) the states in which the risk retention group intends to operate.

(3) Upon receipt of the information required under subsection (2), the commissioner shall forward the information to the national association of insurance commissioners. Providing this information to the national association of insurance commissioners does not satisfy the requirements of 33-11-104 or any other section of this chapter.

(4) All risk retention groups chartered in this state shall file with the department and the national association of insurance commissioners an annual statement in a form prescribed by the national association of insurance commissioners, including electronically if required by the commissioner, and completed in accordance with instructions provided by the national association of insurance commissioners and the national association of insurance commissioners' accounting practices and procedures manual.

(5) All risk retention groups must be in compliance with the governance standards contained within this section within 1 year of April 30, 2015. New risk retention groups must be in compliance with the standards at the time of licensure.

(6) (a) The board of directors of the risk retention group must consist of a majority of independent directors. If the risk retention group is reciprocal, the attorney-in-fact shall adhere to the same standards regarding independence of operation and governance as are imposed on the risk retention group's board of directors under these standards. The board of directors shall affirmatively determine that a director has no material relationship with the risk retention group for that director to be considered independent.

(b) Each risk retention group shall disclose the determinations of independence to the commissioner annually.

(c) (i) For the purpose of determining independence under this subsection (6), any person that is a direct or indirect owner of or a subscriber in the risk retention group or is an officer, director, or employee of the owner and insured, unless meeting the material relationship provisions under subsection (6)(c)(ii), is considered to be independent.

(ii) A person described in subsection (6)(c)(i) is not considered independent and has a material relationship of its members, as described in 15 U.S.C. 3901(a)(4)(E)(ii), if the person, a member of the person's immediate family, or any business with which the person is affiliated:

(A) has received in any 12-month period from the risk retention group, including a consultant or a service provider to the risk retention group, compensation or payment of any item of value that accounts for either 5% of the risk retention group's gross written premium for that 12-month period or 2% of the risk retention group's surplus, whichever is greater;

(B) has a relationship of employment or affiliation in a professional capacity or has had a relationship of employment or affiliation within 1 year with a present or former internal or external auditor of the risk retention group; or

(C) has a relationship or has had a relationship within 1 year with a related entity by which a director or an immediate family member of the director is employed as an executive officer. This condition includes any of the risk retention group's present executives serving on the related company's board of directors.

(7) (a) A material service provider contract with a risk retention group or its renewal:

(i) may not exceed 5 years;

(ii) requires the approval of a majority of the risk retention group's independent directors; and

(iii) is considered material if the amount to be paid for the contract is greater than or equal to 5% of the risk retention group's annual gross written premium or 2% of the risk retention group's surplus, whichever is greater.

(b) The entire board of directors may terminate any service provider contract at any time for cause after providing adequate notice as defined in the contract.

(c) The board may not enter a service provider contract with a person who has a material relationship with the risk retention group as provided in subsection (6)(c)(ii) unless the board has notified the commissioner at least 30 days prior to entering the contract and the commissioner has not disapproved the contract.

(8) The risk retention group's board of directors shall adopt in the plan of operation a written policy that requires the board to:

(a) ensure that all owners or insureds of the risk retention group receive evidence of ownership interest;

(b) develop a set of governance standards applicable to the risk retention group;

(c) oversee the evaluation of the risk retention group's management, including but not limited to the performance of the captive manager, managing general underwriter, or any other party that is responsible for underwriting, determination of rates, collection of premium, adjusting or settling claims, or the preparation of financial statements;

(d) review and approve the amount to be paid for all material service providers; and

(e) review and approve at least annually:

(i) the risk retention group's goals and objectives relevant to the compensation of officers and service providers;

(ii) the officers' and service providers' performance in light of those goals and objectives; and

(iii) the continued engagement of the officers and material service providers.

(9) (a) Except as provided in subsection (9)(b), the risk retention group shall name an audit committee composed of at least three independent board members as defined in subsection (6)(c)(i). A nonindependent board member may participate in the activities of the audit committee but may not be a member of the audit committee.

(b) The entire board of directors shall serve as the audit committee if the board chooses not to designate a separate audit committee.

(10) An audit committee shall approve a written charter that defines the committee's purpose, which at a minimum must be to:

(a) assist board oversight of:

(i) the integrity of the financial statements;

(ii) the board's compliance with legal and regulatory requirements; and

(iii) the qualifications, independence, and performance of the independent auditor and actuary;

(b) discuss the annual audited financial statements and quarterly financial statements with management;

(c) discuss the annual audited financial statement with its independent auditor and, if advisable, discuss its quarterly financial statements with its independent auditor;

(d) discuss policies with respect to risk assessment and risk management;

(e) meet separately and periodically, either directly or through a designated representative of the committee, with management and independent auditors;

(f) review with the independent auditor any audit problems or difficulties and management's response;

(g) set clear hiring policies of the risk retention group as to the hiring of employees or former employees of the independent auditor;

(h) require the external auditor to rotate the lead or coordinating audit partner having primary responsibility for the risk retention group's audit as well as the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit so that neither individual performs audit services for more than 5 consecutive fiscal years; and

(i) report regularly to the board of directors.

(11) (a) The board of directors shall adopt and disclose standards that make information available through electronic or other means and shall provide that information upon request.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection (11), the information must include:

(i) the process by which the directors are elected by the owner or the insureds;

(ii) qualification standards, responsibilities, and compensation for directors;

(iii) director access to management and, as necessary and appropriate, to independent advisors;

(iv) director orientation and continuing education;

(v) management succession policies and procedures; and

(vi) annual board performance evaluation policies and procedures.

(12) (a) The board of directors shall adopt and disclose a code of business conduct and ethics for directors, officers, and employees. Any waivers of this code as the code applies to directors and officers must be voted on by a majority of the independent directors.

(b) The code must address:

(i) conflicts of interest, including director's conflicting interest transactions as defined in 35-14-860;

(ii) confidentiality;

(iii) fair dealing;

(iv) protection and proper use of risk retention group assets;

(v) compliance with all applicable laws, rules, and regulations; and

(vi) requirements for the reporting of any illegal or unethical behavior that affects the operation of the risk retention group.

(13) The captive manager, president, or chief executive officer of the risk retention group shall promptly notify the commissioners in writing as soon as that person is aware of any material noncompliance with any standard provided for in this section.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 63, Ch. 596, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 36, Ch. 370, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 236, Ch. 271, L. 2019.

33-11-104. Risk retention groups not chartered in this state. A risk retention group chartered in a state other than this state and seeking to do business as a risk retention group in this state must observe and abide by the laws of this state as follows:

(1) Before offering insurance in this state, a risk retention group shall submit to the commissioner:

(a) a statement identifying the state or states where the risk retention group is chartered and authorized as a casualty insurer, date of chartering, its principal place of business, and other information, including information on its membership, as the commissioner requires to verify that the risk retention group is qualified under 33-11-102(8);

(b) a copy of its plan of operation or a feasibility study and revisions of the plan or study submitted to its state of domicile. However, this provision relating to the submission of a plan of operation or a feasibility study does not apply with respect to any line or classification of liability insurance that was defined in the federal Product Liability Risk Retention Act of 1981 (15 U.S.C. 3901 through 3904) before it was amended by Public Law 99-563, approved on October 27, 1986, and that was offered before that date by a risk retention group that had been chartered and operated for not less than 3 years before that date; and

(c) a statement of registration that designates the commissioner as its agent for the purpose of receiving service of legal documents or process.

(2) A risk retention group doing business in this state shall submit to the commissioner:

(a) a copy of the group's financial statement submitted to its state of domicile, which must be certified by an independent public accountant and contain a statement of opinion on loss and loss adjustment expense reserves made by a member of the American academy of actuaries or by a qualified loss reserve specialist under criteria established by the national association of insurance commissioners;

(b) a copy of each examination of the risk retention group as certified by the insurance regulatory official of the state in which the examination was conducted or public official conducting the examination;

(c) upon request by the commissioner, a copy of any audit performed with respect to the risk retention group; and

(d) any information as may be required to verify the group's continuing qualification as a risk retention group under 33-11-102(8).

(3) (a) Each risk retention group is liable for the payment of premium taxes and taxes on premiums of direct business for risks resident or located within this state and shall report to the commissioner the net premiums written for risks resident or located within this state. The risk retention group is subject to taxation and any applicable interest, fines, and penalties for nonpayment that apply to foreign admitted insurers.

(b) To the extent that an insurance producer is used, the insurance producer shall report to the commissioner the premiums of direct business for risks resident or located within this state that the licensees have placed with or on behalf of a risk retention group not chartered in this state.

(c) To the extent that an insurance producer is used, the insurance producer shall keep a complete and separate record of all policies procured from each risk retention group. The record is open to examination by the commissioner, as provided in 33-1-408. The records must, for each policy and each kind of insurance provided under the policy, include the limit of liability, the time period covered, the effective date, the name of the risk retention group that issued the policy, the gross premium charged, and the amount of return premiums, if any.

(4) Each risk retention group, its insurance producers, and its representatives shall comply with Title 33, chapter 18, part 2.

(5) Each risk retention group shall comply with the provisions of Title 33, chapter 18, part 2, regarding deceptive, false, or fraudulent acts or practices. However, if the commissioner seeks an injunction regarding the risk retention group's conduct, the injunction must be obtained from a court of competent jurisdiction.

(6) Each risk retention group shall submit to an examination by the commissioner to determine its financial condition if the insurance regulatory official of the jurisdiction where the group is chartered has not initiated an examination or does not initiate an examination within 60 days after a request by the commissioner. The examination must be coordinated to avoid unjustified repetition and be conducted in an expeditious manner in accordance with the national association of insurance commissioners examiners handbook.

"NOTICE

This policy is issued by your risk retention group. Your risk retention group may not be subject to all of the insurance laws and regulations of your state. State insurance insolvency guaranty funds are not available for your risk retention group."

(8) The following acts by a risk retention group are prohibited:

(a) the solicitation or sale of insurance by a risk retention group to any person who is not eligible for membership in the group; and

(b) the solicitation or sale of insurance by or operation of a risk retention group that is in a hazardous financial condition or is financially impaired.

(9) A risk retention group is not allowed to do business in this state if an insurer is directly or indirectly a member or owner of the risk retention group, other than in the case of a risk retention group all of whose members are insurers.

(10) A risk retention group may not offer insurance policy coverage declared unlawful by the Montana supreme court.

(11) A risk retention group not chartered in this state and doing business in this state shall comply with a lawful order issued in a voluntary dissolution proceeding or in a delinquency proceeding commenced by the insurance regulatory official of any state if there has been a finding of financial impairment after an examination under subsection (6).

(12) Upon completion of registration requirements, the commissioner shall issue to the risk retention group a proper certificate of registration.

(13) A risk retention group that violates any provision of this chapter is subject to fines and penalties, including revocation of the right to do business in this state, applicable to licensed insurers generally.

33-11-105. Compulsory associations. (1) A risk retention group may not join or contribute financially to any insurance insolvency guaranty fund or similar mechanism in this state. In addition, a risk retention group or its insureds may not receive any benefit from any guaranty fund for claims arising out of the operations of the risk retention group.

(2) A risk retention group shall participate in this state's joint underwriting associations, mandatory liability pools, and similar mechanisms.

(3) When a purchasing group obtains insurance covering its members' risks from an insurer not authorized in this state or from a risk retention group, the risks, wherever resident or located, may not be covered by any insurance guaranty fund or similar mechanism in this state.

(4) When a purchasing group obtains insurance covering its members' risks from an authorized insurer, only risks resident or located in this state may be covered by the state guaranty fund, subject to Title 33, chapter 10, part 1.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-107. Purchasing groups — exemption from certain laws relating to group purchase of insurance. A purchasing group meeting the criteria established under the provisions of the federal Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986 (15 U.S.C. 3901, et seq.) is exempt from any law of this state relating to the formation of groups for the purchase of insurance, prohibition of group purchasing, or any law that would discriminate against a purchasing group or its members. In addition, an insurer is exempt from any law of this state that prohibits providing or offering to provide to a purchasing group or its members advantages based on their loss and expense experience not afforded to other persons with respect to rates, policy forms, coverages, or other matters. A purchasing group is subject to all other applicable laws of this state.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-108. Notice and registration requirements of purchasing groups. (1) A purchasing group that intends to do business in this state shall furnish notice to the commissioner that:

(a) identifies the state where the group is domiciled and all other states in which the group intends to do business;

(b) specifies the lines and classifications of liability insurance that the purchasing group intends to purchase;

(c) identifies the insurer from which the purchasing group intends to purchase its insurance and the domicile of that insurer;

(d) identifies the Montana-licensed insurance producer or Montana-licensed surplus lines insurance producer through which the purchasing group intends to place its business;

(e) identifies the principal place of business of the purchasing group;

(f) provides information required by the commissioner to verify that the purchasing group is qualified under 33-11-102(7); and

(g) identifies the person or persons controlling the activities of the group and includes biographical information on the person or persons.

(2) The purchasing group shall register with and designate the commissioner as its agent solely for the purpose of receiving service of legal documents or process. However, the requirements do not apply in the case of a purchasing group:

(a) (i) that was domiciled before April 2, 1986, in any state of the United States; and

(ii) that was domiciled on and after October 27, 1986, in any state of the United States;

(b) (i) that, before October 27, 1986, purchased insurance from an insurer licensed in any state; and

(ii) that, since October 27, 1986, purchased its insurance from an insurer licensed in any state;

(c) that was a purchasing group under the requirements of the federal Product Liability Risk Retention Act of 1981 (15 U.S.C. 3901 through 3904) before it was amended by Public Law 99-563, approved on October 27, 1986; and

(d) that does not purchase insurance that was not authorized for purposes of an exemption under the federal Product Liability Risk Retention Act of 1981, as in effect before October 27, 1986.

(3) Upon completion of registration requirements, the commissioner shall issue a proper certificate of registration to the purchasing group.

33-11-109. Restriction on insurance purchased by purchasing groups. (1) A purchasing group may not purchase insurance from a risk retention group that is not chartered in a state or from an insurer not authorized in the state where the purchasing group is located, unless the purchase is effected through a licensed insurance producer acting pursuant to the surplus lines laws and regulations of that state.

(2) For purposes of subsection (1), the state where a purchasing group is located is each state where a member of the purchasing group has a risk resident, located, or to be performed.

(3) A purchasing group that obtains liability insurance from an insurer not admitted in this state or from a risk retention group shall inform each of the members of the group who have a risk resident or located in this state that the risk is not protected by an insurance insolvency guaranty fund in this state and that the insurer or risk retention group may not be subject to all insurance laws and regulations of this state.

(4) A purchasing group may not purchase insurance that provides for a deductible or self-insured retention applicable to the group as a whole. Coverage may provide for a deductible or self-insured retention applicable to individual members.

(5) Purchases of insurance by purchasing groups are subject to the same standards regarding aggregate limits that are applicable to all purchases of group insurance.

33-11-110. Taxation of purchasing group. Premium taxes and taxes on premiums paid for coverage of risks resident or located in this state by a purchasing group or any members of the purchasing group must be:

(1) imposed at the same rate and subject to the same interest, fines, and penalties as those applicable to premium taxes and taxes on premiums paid to surplus lines insurers and authorized insurers, pursuant to 33-2-311 and 33-2-705, respectively; and

(2) paid by the authorized or surplus lines insurers and, if not paid by them, paid by the insurance producer for the purchasing group and, if not paid by the insurance producer, paid by the purchasing group and, if not paid by the purchasing group, paid by each of its members.

33-11-111 through 33-11-120 reserved.

33-11-121. Administrative and procedural authority regarding risk retention groups and purchasing groups. The commissioner is authorized to use any powers established under this title to enforce the laws of this state so long as those powers are not specifically preempted by the federal Liability Risk Retention Act of 1986 (15 U.S.C. 3901, et seq.). The commissioner's powers include but are not limited to the commissioner's administrative authority to investigate, issue subpoenas, conduct depositions and hearings, issue orders, and impose penalties. With regard to any investigation, administrative proceedings, or litigation, the commissioner may rely on the procedural law and regulations of the state. The injunctive authority of the commissioner in regard to risk retention groups is restricted by the requirement that any injunction be issued by a court of competent jurisdiction.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-122. Penalties. A risk retention group that violates any provision of this part is subject to fines and penalties applicable to licensed insurers generally, including revocation of its license to do business in this state.

33-11-123. Duty of insurance producers to obtain license. A person acting or offering to act as an insurance producer for a risk retention group or purchasing group that solicits members, sells insurance coverage, purchases coverage for its members located within the state, or otherwise does business in this state shall, before commencing such activity, obtain a license from the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 249, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-11-124. Enforceability of orders issued in United States district court. An order issued by any district court of the United States enjoining a risk retention group from soliciting or selling insurance or operating in any state, territory, or possession of the United States upon a finding that such a group is in a hazardous financial condition is enforceable in the courts of this state.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

33-11-125. Rules and regulations. The commissioner may make and amend any reasonable rules relating to risk retention groups and purchasing groups necessary or desirable to carry out the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 249, L. 1987.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-12-101. Purpose and scope. (1) The purpose of this chapter is to protect the interests of insureds by promoting insurer solvency and financial strength. This purpose will be accomplished through the application of investment standards that facilitate a reasonable balance of the following objectives:

(a) to preserve principal;

(b) to ensure reasonable diversification as to type of investment, issuer, and credit quality; and

(c) to allow insurers to allocate investments in a manner consistent with principles of prudent investment management to achieve an adequate return so that obligations to insureds are adequately met and financial strength is sufficient to cover reasonably foreseeable contingencies.

(2) This chapter applies only to investments and investment practices of domestic insurers and United States branches of alien insurers entered through this state. This chapter does not apply to separate accounts of an insurer.

(1) "Acceptable collateral" means:

(a) (i) as to securities lending transactions and for the purpose of calculating the counterparty exposure amount, cash, cash equivalents, letters of credit, or direct obligations of or securities that are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the government of the United States, by any agency of the United States, by the federal national mortgage association, or by the federal home loan mortgage corporation; and

(ii) as to lending foreign securities, sovereign debt rated 1 by the SVO;

(b) as to repurchase transactions, cash, cash equivalents, and direct obligations of or securities that are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the government of the United States, by an agency of the United States, by the federal national mortgage association, or by the federal home loan mortgage corporation; and

(c) as to reverse repurchase transactions, cash and cash equivalents.

(2) "Acceptable private mortgage insurance" means insurance written by a private insurer protecting a mortgage lender against loss occasioned by a mortgage loan default and issued by a licensed mortgage insurance company, with an SVO 1 designation or a rating issued by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization equivalent to an SVO 1 designation, that covers losses up to an 80% loan-to-value ratio.

(3) "Accident and health insurance" means insurance protection that provides payment of benefits for covered sickness or accidental injury, excluding credit insurance, disability insurance, accidental death and dismemberment insurance, and long-term care insurance.

(4) "Accident and health insurer" means a licensed life or health insurer or health service corporation whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutorily required reserves.

(5) (a) "Admitted assets" means, subject to subsection (5)(b), assets determined in accordance with the requirements of 33-2-501.

(b) The term does not include assets of separate accounts. The investments of separate accounts are not subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(6) "Affiliate" has the meaning provided in 33-2-1101.

(7) (a) "Asset-backed security" means a security or other instrument, excluding a mutual fund, evidencing an interest in or the right to receive payments from or payable from distributions on an asset, a pool of assets, or specifically divisible cash flows that are legally transferred to a trust or another special purpose bankruptcy-remote business entity, on the following conditions:

(i) the trust or other business entity is established solely for the purpose of acquiring specific types of assets or rights to cash flows, issuing securities and other instruments representing an interest in or right to receive cash flows from those assets or rights, and engaging in activities required to service the assets or rights and any credit enhancement or support features held by the trust or other business entity; and

(ii) the assets of the trust or other business entity consist solely of interest-bearing obligations or other contractual obligations representing the right to receive payment from the cash flows from the assets or rights.

(b) However, the existence of credit enhancements, such as letters of credit, guarantees, or support features, such as swap agreements, may not cause a security or other instrument to be ineligible as an asset-backed security.

(8) "Business entity" includes a sole proprietorship, corporation, limited liability company, association, partnership, joint-stock company, joint venture, mutual fund, trust, joint tenancy, or other similar form of business organization, whether organized for profit or not for profit.

(9) "Cap" means an agreement obligating the seller to make payments to the buyer, with each payment based on the amount by which a reference price or level or the performance or value of one or more underlying interests exceeds a predetermined number. The predetermined number is sometimes called the strike rate or strike price.

(10) "Capital and surplus" means the sum of the capital and surplus of the insurer required to be shown on the most recent statutory financial statement of the insurer required to be filed with the commissioner.

(11) "Cash equivalents" means short-term, highly rated, and highly liquid investments or securities readily convertible to known amounts of cash without penalty and so near maturity that they present insignificant risk of change in value. Cash equivalents include government money market mutual funds and class one money market mutual funds.

(12) "Class one bond mutual fund" means a mutual fund that at all times qualifies for investment using the bond class one reserve factor under the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office or any successor publication.

(13) "Class one money market mutual fund" means a money market mutual fund that at all times qualifies for investment using the bond class one reserve factor under the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office or any successor publication.

(14) "Collar" means an agreement to receive payments as the buyer of an option, cap, or floor and to make payments as the seller of a different option, cap, or floor.

(15) "Construction loan" means a loan for a term of less than 3 years that is made for financing the cost of construction of a building or other improvement to real estate and that is secured by the real estate.

(16) "Control" means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract (other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services), or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with a corporation or a corporate office held by the person. Presumption of control is pursuant to 33-12-108.

(17) "Counterparty exposure amount" means the net amount of credit risk attributable to a derivative instrument, pursuant to 33-12-109, entered into with a business entity other than through a qualified exchange or qualified foreign exchange or cleared through a qualified clearinghouse. The derivative instrument is also known as an over-the-counter derivative instrument.

(18) "Covered" means that an insurer:

(a) owns or can immediately acquire, through the exercise of options, warrants, or already-owned conversion rights, the underlying interest in order to fulfill or secure its obligations under a call option, cap, or floor it has written; or

(b) has set aside, under a custodial or escrow agreement, cash or cash equivalents with a market value equal to the amount required to fulfill its obligations under a put option it has written in an income generation transaction.

(19) "Credit tenant loan" means a mortgage loan that is made primarily in reliance on the credit standing of a major tenant, structured with an assignment of the rental payments to the lender with real estate pledged as collateral in the form of a first lien.

(20) (a) "Derivative instrument" means an agreement, an option, an instrument, or a series or combination of agreements, options, or instruments:

(i) to make or take delivery of or assume or relinquish a specified amount of one or more underlying interests or to make a cash settlement in lieu of delivery; or

(ii) that has a price, level, performance, value, or cash flow based primarily upon the actual or expected price, level, performance, value, or cash flow of one or more underlying interests.

(b) (i) Derivative instruments include options, warrants used in a hedging transaction and not attached to another financial instrument, caps, floors, collars, swaps, forwards, futures, and any other agreements, options, or instruments substantially similar to the enumerated instruments or any series or combination of the enumerated instruments and any agreements, options, or instruments permitted under rules adopted pursuant to 33-12-111.

(ii) Derivative instruments do not include an investment authorized by 33-12-203 through 33-12-209, 33-12-211, and 33-12-305 through 33-12-309.

(21) "Derivative transaction" means a transaction involving the use of one or more derivative instruments.

(22) "Direct" or "directly", when used in connection with an obligation, means that the designated obligor is primarily liable on the instrument representing the obligation.

(23) "Dollar roll transaction" means two simultaneous transactions with different settlement dates that are no more than 96 days apart, so that in the transaction with the earlier settlement date, an insurer sells to a business entity, and in the other transaction, the insurer is obligated to purchase from the same business entity, substantially similar securities of the following types:

(a) asset-backed securities issued, assumed, or guaranteed by the government national mortgage association, the federal national mortgage association, or the federal home loan mortgage corporation or their successors; and

(b) other asset-backed securities referred to in section 106 of Title I of the Secondary Mortgage Market Enhancement Act of 1984 (15 U.S.C. 77r-1), as amended.

(24) "Domestic jurisdiction" means the United States, any state, Canada, any province of Canada, or any political subdivision of a state or province.

(25) "Equity interest" means any of the following that are not rated credit instruments:

(a) common stock;

(b) preferred stock;

(c) trust certificate;

(d) equity investment in an investment company other than a money market mutual fund or a class one bond mutual fund;

(e) investment in a common trust fund of a bank regulated by a federal or state agency;

(f) an ownership interest in minerals, oil, or gas, the rights to which have been separated from the underlying fee interest in the real estate where the minerals, oil, or gas is located;

(g) instruments that are mandatorily, or at the option of the issuer, convertible to equity;

(h) limited partnership interests and those general partnership interests authorized under 33-12-104(4);

(i) member interests in limited liability companies;

(j) warrants or other rights to acquire equity interests that are created by the person that owns or would issue the equity to be acquired; or

(k) instruments that would be rated credit instruments except for the provisions of subsection (70)(b).

(26) "Equivalent securities" means:

(a) in a securities lending transaction, securities that are identical to the loaned securities in all features including the amount of the loaned securities, except as to certificate number if held in physical form, but if any different security is exchanged for a loaned security by recapitalization, merger, consolidation, or other corporate action, the different security is considered to be the loaned security;

(b) in a repurchase transaction, securities that are identical to the purchased securities in all features including the amount of the purchased securities, except as to the certificate number if held in physical form; or

(c) in a reverse repurchase transaction, securities that are identical to the sold securities in all features including the amount of the sold securities, except as to the certificate number if held in physical form.

(27) "Floor" means an agreement obligating the seller to make payments to the buyer in which each payment is based on the amount by which a predetermined number, sometimes called the floor rate or price, exceeds a price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(28) "Foreign currency" means a currency other than that of a domestic jurisdiction.

(29) (a) "Foreign investment" means an investment in a foreign jurisdiction, or an investment in a person, real estate, or asset domiciled in a foreign jurisdiction, that is substantially of the same type as those eligible for investment under part 2 of this chapter, 33-12-301 through 33-12-306, 33-12-308, 33-12-310 through 33-12-312, and this part.

(b) An investment may not be considered to be foreign if the issuing person, qualified primary credit source, or qualified guarantor is a domestic jurisdiction or a person domiciled in a domestic jurisdiction, unless:

(i) the issuing person is a shell business entity; and

(ii) the investment is not assumed, accepted, guaranteed or insured, or otherwise backed by a domestic jurisdiction or a person that is not a shell business entity and that is domiciled in a domestic jurisdiction.

(30) "Foreign jurisdiction" means a jurisdiction other than a domestic jurisdiction.

(31) "Forward" means an agreement, other than a future, to make or take delivery of or effect a cash settlement based on the actual or expected price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(32) "Future" means an agreement, traded on a qualified exchange or qualified foreign exchange, to make or take delivery of or effect a cash settlement based on the actual or expected price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(33) "Government money market mutual fund" means a money market mutual fund that at all times:

(a) invests only in obligations issued, guaranteed, or insured by the federal government of the United States or collateralized repurchase agreements composed of these obligations; and

(b) qualifies for investment without a reserve under the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office or any successor publication.

(34) "Government-sponsored enterprise" means a:

(a) governmental agency; or

(b) corporation, limited liability company, association, partnership, joint-stock company, joint venture, trust, or other entity or instrumentality organized under the laws of any domestic jurisdiction to accomplish a public policy or other governmental purpose.

(35) "Guaranteed or insured", when used in connection with an obligation acquired under this chapter, means that the guarantor or insurer has agreed to:

(a) perform or insure the obligation of the obligor or purchase the obligation; or

(b) be unconditionally obligated until the obligation is repaid to maintain in the obligor a minimum net worth, fixed charge coverage, stockholders' equity, or sufficient liquidity to enable the obligor to pay the obligation in full.

(36) "Hedging transaction" means a derivative transaction that is entered into and maintained to reduce:

(a) the risk of a change in the value, yield, price, cash flow, or quantity of assets or liabilities that the insurer has acquired or incurred or anticipates acquiring or incurring; or

(b) the currency exchange rate risk or the degree of exposure as to assets or liabilities that an insurer has acquired or incurred or anticipates acquiring or incurring.

(37) "High-grade investment" means a rated credit instrument rated 1 or 2 by the SVO.

(38) "Highly rated" means an investment rated "P-1" by Moody's investors service, inc. or "A-1" by Standard and Poor's division of the McGraw Hill companies, inc. or its equivalent rating by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO.

(58) "Obligation" means a bond, note, debenture, trust certificate including an equipment certificate, production payment, negotiable bank certificate of deposit, bankers' acceptance, credit tenant loan, loan secured by financing net leases, and other evidence of indebtedness for the payment of money (or participations, certificates, or other evidences of an interest in any of the foregoing), whether constituting a general obligation of the issuer or payable only out of certain revenue or certain funds pledged or otherwise dedicated for payment.

(59) "Option" means an agreement giving the buyer the right to buy or receive (a "call option"), sell or deliver (a "put option"), enter into, extend or terminate, or effect a cash settlement based on the actual or expected price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(60) "Person" has the meaning provided in 33-1-202.

(61) "Potential exposure" means the amount determined in accordance with the NAIC Annual Statement Instructions.

(62) "Preferred stock" means preferred, preference, or guaranteed stock of a business entity authorized to issue the stock that has a preference in liquidation over the common stock of the business entity.

(63) "Qualified bank" means:

(a) a national bank, state bank, or trust company that at all times is adequately capitalized as determined by standards adopted by United States banking regulators and that is either regulated by state banking laws or is a member of the federal reserve system; or

(b) a bank or trust company incorporated or organized under the laws of a country other than the United States that is regulated as a bank or trust company by that country's government or an agency of that government and that at all times is adequately capitalized as determined by the standards adopted by international banking authorities.

(64) "Qualified business entity" means a business entity that is:

(a) an issuer of obligations or preferred stock that is rated 1 or 2 by the SVO or an issuer of obligations, preferred stock, or derivative instruments that are rated the equivalent of 1 or 2 by the SVO or by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO; or

(b) a primary dealer in United States government securities recognized by the federal reserve bank of New York.

(65) "Qualified clearinghouse" means a clearinghouse for, and subject to the rules of, a qualified exchange or a qualified foreign exchange, which provides clearing services, including acting as a counterparty to each of the parties to a transaction so that the parties no longer have a credit risk as to each other.

(66) "Qualified exchange" means:

(a) a securities exchange registered as a national securities exchange or a securities market regulated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (15 U.S.C. 78, et seq.), as amended;

(b) a board of trade or commodities exchange designated as a contract market by the commodity futures trading commission or its successor;

(c) private offerings, resales, and trading through automated linkages;

(d) a designated offshore securities market as defined in securities exchange commission regulation S, 17 CFR part 230, as amended; or

(e) a qualified foreign exchange.

(67) "Qualified foreign exchange" means a foreign exchange, board of trade, or contract market located outside the United States or its territories or possessions:

(a) that has received regulatory comparability relief under commodity futures trading commission rule 30.1 (as set forth in appendix C to part 30 of the regulations, 17 CFR part 30);

(b) that is, or its members are, subject to the jurisdiction of a foreign futures authority that has received regulatory comparability relief under commodity futures trading commission rule 30.1 (as set forth in appendix C to part 30 of the regulations, 17 CFR part 30) as to futures transactions in the jurisdiction where the exchange, board of trade, or contract market is located; or

(c) upon which foreign stock index futures contracts are listed that are the subject of no-action relief issued by the CFTC's office of general counsel, provided that an exchange, board of trade, or contract market that qualifies as a qualified foreign exchange only under this subsection (67) is a qualified foreign exchange as to foreign stock index futures contracts that are the subject of no-action relief.

(68) "Qualified guarantor" means a guarantor against which an insurer has a direct claim for full and timely payment, evidenced by a contractual right for which an enforcement action can be brought in a domestic jurisdiction.

(69) "Qualified primary credit source" means the credit source to which an insurer looks for payment as to an investment and against which an insurer has a direct claim for full and timely payment, evidenced by a contractual right for which an enforcement action can be brought in a domestic jurisdiction.

(70) (a) "Rated credit instrument" means a contractual right to receive cash or another rated credit instrument from another entity if the instrument:

(i) is rated or required to be rated by the SVO;

(ii) in the case of an instrument with a maturity of 397 days or less, is issued, guaranteed, or insured by an entity that is rated by, or another obligation of the entity is rated by, the SVO or by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO;

(iii) in the case of an instrument with a maturity of 90 days or less, is issued by a qualified bank;

(iv) is a share of a class one bond mutual fund; or

(v) is a share of a money market mutual fund.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) an instrument that is mandatorily or at the option of the issuer convertible to an equity interest; or

(ii) a security that has a par value and whose terms provide that the issuer's net obligation to repay all or part of the security's par value is determined by reference to the performance of an equity, a commodity, a foreign currency, an index of equities, commodities, foreign currencies, or combinations of equities, commodities, and foreign currency.

(71) (a) "Real estate" means:

(i) real property;

(ii) interests in real property, such as leaseholds, minerals, oil, and gas, that have not been separated from the underlying fee interest;

(iii) improvements and fixtures located on or in real property; and

(iv) the seller's equity in a contract providing for a deed of real estate.

(b) As to a mortgage on a leasehold estate, real estate includes the leasehold estate only if it has an unexpired term, including renewal options exercisable at the option of the lessee, extending beyond the scheduled maturity date of the obligation that is secured by a mortgage on the leasehold estate by a period equal to at least 20% of the original term of the obligation or 10 years, whichever is greater.

(72) "Replication transaction" means a derivative transaction that is intended to replicate the performance of one or more assets that an insurer is authorized to acquire under this chapter. A derivative transaction that is entered into as a hedging transaction may not be considered a replication transaction.

(73) "Repurchase transaction" means a transaction in which an insurer purchases securities from a business entity that is obligated to repurchase the purchased securities or equivalent securities from the insurer at a specified price, either within a specified period of time or upon demand.

(74) "Required liabilities" means total liabilities required to be reported on the statutory financial statement of the insurer most recently required to be filed with the commissioner.

(75) "Residential mortgage loan" means a loan primarily secured by a mortgage on real estate improved with a residence for no more than four families.

(76) "Reverse repurchase transaction" means a transaction in which an insurer sells securities to a business entity and is obligated to repurchase the sold securities or equivalent securities from the business entity at a specified price, either within a specified period of time or upon demand.

(78) "Securities lending transaction" means a transaction in which securities are loaned by an insurer to a business entity that is obligated to return the loaned securities or equivalent securities to the insurer, either within a specified period of time or upon demand.

(79) "Series company" means an investment company that is organized as a series company, as defined in rules adopted under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80a-1, et seq.), as amended.

(81) "Short-term" means investments with a remaining term to maturity of 90 days or less.

(82) "Sinking fund stock" means preferred stock that:

(a) is subject to a mandatory sinking fund or similar arrangement that will provide for the redemption or open market purchase of the entire issue over a period not longer than 40 years from the date of acquisition; and

(b) provides for mandatory sinking fund installments or open market purchases commencing not more than 10½ years from the date of issue, with the sinking fund installments providing for the purchase or redemption, on a cumulative basis commencing 10 years from the date of issue, of at least 2.5% a year of the original number of shares of that issue of preferred stock.

(83) "State" has meaning provided in 33-1-201.

(84) "Substantially similar securities" means securities that meet all criteria for substantially similar specified in the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual, as amended, and in an amount that constitutes good delivery form as determined from time to time by the public securities administration.

(85) "SVO" means the securities valuation office of the NAIC or any successor office established by the NAIC.

(86) "Swap" means an agreement to exchange or to net payments at one or more times based on the actual or expected price, level, performance, or value of one or more underlying interests.

(87) "Total investment of the insurer" includes:

(a) direct investment by the insurer in an asset; and

(b) the insurer's proportionate share of an investment in an asset by an investment subsidiary of the insurer, which must be calculated by multiplying the amount of the subsidiary's investment by the percentage of the insurer's ownership interest in the subsidiary.

(88) "Underlying interest" means the assets, liabilities, other interests, or a combination of assets, liabilities, or other interests underlying a derivative instrument, such as any one or more securities, currencies, rates, indices, commodities, or derivative instruments.

(89) "Unrestricted surplus" means the amount by which total admitted assets exceed 125% of the insurer's required liabilities.

(90) "Warrant" means an instrument that gives the holder the right to purchase an underlying financial instrument at a given price and time or at a series of prices and times outlined in the warrant agreement. Warrants may be issued alone or in connection with the sale of other securities, for example, as part of a merger or recapitalization agreement, or to facilitate divestiture of the securities of another business entity.

33-12-103. General investment qualifications. (1) Insurers may acquire, hold, or invest in investments or engage in investment practices as set forth in this chapter. Investments not conforming to this chapter may not be admitted assets. Affiliate investments under 33-2-1103, other than those investments made by or on behalf of domestic insurers, are not subject to this provision.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), an insurer may not acquire or hold an investment as an admitted asset unless at the time of acquisition it is:

(a) (i) eligible for the payment or accrual of interest or discount, whether in cash or other securities;

(ii) eligible to receive dividends or other distributions; or

(iii) otherwise income-producing; or

(b) acquired under 33-12-207(3), 33-12-208, 33-12-210, 33-12-212, 33-12-307(3), 33-12-308, 33-12-310, or 33-12-311 or under the authority of sections of Montana law other than this chapter.

(3) An insurer may acquire or hold as admitted assets investments that do not otherwise qualify as provided in this chapter if the insurer has not acquired them for the purpose of circumventing any limitations contained in this chapter and if the insurer complies with the provisions of 33-12-105 and 33-12-108 and acquires the investments in the following circumstances:

(a) as payment on account of existing indebtedness or in connection with the refinancing, restructuring, or workout of existing indebtedness if taken to protect the insurer's interest in that investment;

(b) as realization on collateral for an obligation;

(c) in connection with an otherwise qualified investment or investment practice, as interest on or a dividend or other distribution related to the investment or investment practice, or in connection with the refinancing of the investment, in each case for no additional or only nominal consideration;

(d) under a lawful and bona fide agreement of recapitalization or voluntary or involuntary reorganization in connection with an investment held by the insurer; or

(e) under a bulk reinsurance, merger, or consolidation transaction approved by the commissioner if the assets constitute admissible investments for the ceding, merged, or consolidated companies.

(4) An investment or portion of an investment acquired by an insurer under subsection (3) must become a nonadmitted asset 3 years, or 5 years in the case of mortgage loans and real estate, from the date of its acquisition, unless within that period the investment has become a qualified investment under a provision of this chapter other than subsection (3). However, an investment acquired under an agreement of bulk reinsurance, merger, or consolidation may be qualified for a longer period if provided for in the plan for reinsurance, merger, or consolidation as approved by the commissioner. Upon application by the insurer and a showing that the nonadmission of an asset held under subsection (3) would materially injure the interests of the insurer, the commissioner may extend the period for admissibility for an additional reasonable period of time.

(5) Except as provided in subsections (6) and (8), an investment must qualify under this chapter if, on the date the insurer committed to acquire the investment or on the date of its acquisition, it would have qualified under this chapter. For the purposes of determining limitations contained in this chapter, an insurer shall give appropriate recognition to any commitments to acquire investments.

(6) (a) An investment held as an admitted asset by an insurer on July 1, 1999, that qualified under former law remains qualified as an admitted asset under this chapter.

(b) Each specific transaction constituting an investment practice of the type described in this chapter that was lawfully entered into by an insurer and was in effect on July 1, 1999, continues to be permitted under this chapter until its expiration or termination under its terms.

(7) Unless otherwise specified, an investment limitation computed on the basis of an insurer's admitted assets or capital and surplus relates to the amount required to be shown on the most recent statutory balance sheet of the insurer required to be filed with the commissioner. For purposes of computing any limitation based upon admitted assets, the insurer shall deduct from the amount of its admitted assets the amount of the liability recorded on its statutory balance sheet for:

(a) the return of acceptable collateral received in a reverse repurchase transaction or a securities lending transaction;

(b) cash received in a dollar roll transaction; and

(c) the amount reported as borrowed money in the most recently filed financial statement to the extent not included in subsections (7)(a) and (7)(b).

(8) An investment qualified, in whole or in part, for acquisition or holding as an admitted asset may be qualified or requalified at the time of acquisition or a later date, in whole or in part, under any other section if the relevant conditions contained in the other section are satisfied at the time of qualification or requalification.

(9) An insurer shall maintain documentation demonstrating that investments were acquired in accordance with this chapter.

(10) An insurer may not enter into an agreement to purchase securities in advance of their issuance for resale to the public as part of a distribution of the securities by the issuer or otherwise guarantee the distribution, except that an insurer may acquire privately placed securities with registration rights.

(11) Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter, the commissioner, for good cause, may under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act order an insurer to nonadmit, limit, dispose of, withdraw from, or discontinue an investment or investment practice. The authority of the commissioner under this subsection is in addition to any other authority of the commissioner.

(12) Insurance futures and insurance futures options are not considered investments or investment practices for purposes of this chapter.

33-12-104. Authorization of investments by board of directors. (1) An insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan for acquiring and holding investments and for engaging in investment practices that specifies guidelines as to the quality, maturity, and diversification of investments and that contains other specifications including investment strategies intended to ensure that the investments and investment practices are appropriate for the business conducted by the insurer, its liquidity needs, and its capital and surplus.

(2) The board of directors is ultimately responsible for investment decisions and shall review, at least annually, whether all investments acquired and held under this chapter have been made in accordance with delegations, standards, limitations, and investment objectives prescribed by the board or a committee of the board charged with the responsibility to direct its investments.

(3) An insurer's board of directors or committee of the board of directors shall:

(a) on no less than a quarterly basis and more often if considered appropriate, receive and review a summary report on the insurer's investment portfolio, its investment activities, and investment practices engaged in under delegated authority, in order to determine whether the investment activity of the insurer is consistent with its written plan; and

(b) on no less than an annual basis and more often if considered appropriate, review and revise, as appropriate, the written plan.

(4) In discharging its duties under this section, the board of directors may require that records of any authorizations or approvals, other documentation as the board may require, and reports of any action taken under authority delegated under the plan referred to in subsection (1) may be made available on a regular basis to the board of directors.

(5) If an insurer does not have a board of directors, all references to the board of directors in this chapter are considered to be references to the governing body of the insurer having authority equivalent to that of a board of directors.

(6) In discharging their duties under this section, the directors of an insurer shall perform their duties as provided in 35-14-830.

33-12-105. Prohibited investments. (1) An insurer may not, directly or indirectly, without the prior written approval of the commissioner:

(a) invest in an obligation or security or make a guarantee for the benefit of or in favor of an officer or director of the insurer, except as provided in 33-12-106;

(b) invest in an obligation or security of, make a guarantee for the benefit of or in favor of, or make other investments in a business entity of which 10% or more of the voting securities or equity interests are owned directly or indirectly by or for the benefit of one or more officers or directors of the insurer, except as authorized in Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, or as provided in 33-12-106;

(c) engage on its own behalf or through one or more affiliates in a transaction or series of transactions designed to evade the prohibitions of this chapter; or

(d) except as provided in subsection (2), invest in or lend its funds upon the security of shares of its own stock.

(2) (a) An insurer may acquire shares of its own stock for the following purposes:

(i) conversion of a stock insurer into a mutual or reciprocal insurer or conversion of a mutual or reciprocal insurer into a stock insurer; or

(ii) issuance to the insurer's officers, employees, or agents in connection with a plan approved by the commissioner in connection with stock option and employee benefit plans.

(b) Shares of stock that are subject to subsection (2)(a) may not be admitted assets of the insurer.

(3) (a) An insurer may not, directly or indirectly, without the prior written approval of the commissioner invest in a partnership as a general partner, except that an insurer may make an investment as a general partner:

(i) if all other partners in the partnership are subsidiaries of the insurer;

(ii) for the purpose of:

(A) meeting cash calls committed to prior to July 1, 1999;

(B) completing those specific projects or activities of the partnership in which the insurer was a general partner as of July 1, 1999, that had been undertaken as of July 1, 1999; or

(C) making capital improvements to property owned by the partnership on July 1, 1999, if the insurer was a general partner as of July 1, 1999; or

(iii) in accordance with 33-12-103(3).

(b) Subsection (3)(a) does not prohibit a subsidiary or other affiliate of the insurer from becoming a general partner.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-106. Loans to officers and directors. (1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2), an insurer may not, directly or indirectly, without the prior written approval of the commissioner:

(i) make a loan to an officer or director of the insurer or make another investment in a person in which the officer or director has any direct or indirect financial interest;

(ii) make a guarantee for the benefit of or in favor of an officer or director of the insurer or a person in which the officer or director has any direct or indirect financial interest; or

(iii) enter into an agreement for the purchase or sale of property from or to an officer or director of the insurer or a person in which the officer or director has any direct or indirect financial interest.

(b) For purposes of this section, an officer or director may not have a financial interest by reason of an interest that is held directly or indirectly through the ownership of equity interests representing less than 2% of all outstanding equity interests issued by a person that is a party to the transaction or solely by reason of that individual's position as a director or officer of a person that is a party to the transaction.

(c) This subsection (1) does not permit an investment that is prohibited by 33-12-105.

(d) This subsection (1) does not apply to a transaction between an insurer and any of its subsidiaries or affiliates that is entered into in compliance with Title 33, chapter 2, part 11, other than a transaction between an insurer and its officer or director.

(2) An insurer may, without the prior written approval of the commissioner, make any of the following:

(a) policy loans in accordance with the terms of the policy or contract and 33-12-211;

(b) advances to officers or directors for expenses reasonably expected to be incurred in the ordinary course of the insurer's business or guarantees associated with credit or charge cards issued or credit extended for the purpose of financing these expenses;

(c) loans secured by the principal residence of an existing or new officer of the insurer made in connection with the officer's relocation at the insurer's request if the loans comply with the requirements of 33-12-207 or 33-12-307 and the terms and conditions are the same as those generally available from unaffiliated third parties;

(d) secured loans to an existing or new officer of the insurer made in connection with the officer's relocation at the insurer's request if the loans:

(i) do not have a term exceeding 2 years;

(ii) are required to finance mortgage loans outstanding at the same time on the prior and new residences of the officer;

(iii) do not exceed an amount equal to the equity of the officer in the prior residence; and

(iv) are required to be fully repaid upon the earlier of the end of the 2-year period or the sale of the prior residence; or

(e) loans and advances to officers or directors made in compliance with state or federal law specifically related to the loans and advances by a regulated noninsurance subsidiary or affiliate of the insurer in the ordinary course of business and on terms no more favorable than available to other customers of the entity.

33-12-107. Valuation of investments. For the purposes of this chapter, the value or amount of an investment acquired or held under this chapter or an investment practice engaged in under this chapter, unless otherwise specified in statute, must be the value at which assets of an insurer are required to be reported for statutory accounting purposes as determined in accordance with procedures prescribed in published accounting and valuation standards of the NAIC, including the Purposes and Procedures Manual of the Securities Valuation Office, the Valuation of Securities Manual, the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual, the annual statement instructions, or any successor valuation procedures officially adopted by the NAIC.

33-12-108. Presumption of control. Control is presumed to exist if a person, directly or indirectly, owns, controls, holds with the power to vote, or holds proxies representing 10% or more of the voting securities of another person. This presumption may be rebutted by a showing that control does not exist in fact. The commissioner may determine, after furnishing all interested persons notice and an opportunity to be heard and making specific findings of fact to support the determination, that control exists in fact, notwithstanding the absence of a presumption to that effect.

33-12-109. Credit risk attributable to derivative statement. (1) The amount of credit risk equals:

(a) the market value of the over-the-counter derivative instrument if the liquidation of the derivative instrument would result in a final cash payment to the insurer; or

(b) zero if the liquidation of the derivative instrument would not result in a final cash payment to the insurer.

(2) If over-the-counter derivative instruments are entered into under a written master agreement that provides for netting of payments owed by the respective parties and the domiciliary jurisdiction of the counterparty is either within the United States or if not within the United States, within a foreign jurisdiction listed in the Purposes and Procedures of the Securities Valuation Office as eligible for netting, the net amount of credit risk must be the greater of zero or the net sum of:

(a) the market value of the over-the-counter derivative instruments entered into under the agreement, the liquidation of which would result in a final cash payment to the insurer; and

(b) the market value of the over-the-counter derivative instruments entered into under the agreement, the liquidation of which would result in a final cash payment by the insurer to the business entity.

(3) For open transactions, market value must be determined at the end of the most recent quarter of the insurer's fiscal year and must be reduced by the market value of acceptable collateral held by the insurer or placed in escrow by one or both parties.

33-12-110. Special rated credit instrument. (1) (a) Subject to subsection (1)(b), a rated credit instrument is a special rated credit instrument if it is an instrument that is:

(i) structured so that if it is held until retired by or on behalf of the issuer, its rate of return, based on its purchase cost and any cash flow stream possible under the structure of the transaction, may become negative because of reasons other than the credit risk associated with the issuer of the instrument; or

(ii) an asset-backed security that:

(A) relies on cash flows from assets that are prepayable at par at any time;

(B) does not make payments of par that are fixed as to amount and timing; and

(C) has a negative rate of return at the time of acquisition if a prepayment threshold assumption is used with the prepayment threshold assumption defined as either:

(I) two times the prepayment expectation reported by a recognized, publicly available source as being the median of expectations contributed by broker dealers or other entities, except insurers, engaged in the business of selling or evaluating the securities or assets. The prepayment expectation used in this calculation must be, at the insurer's election, the prepayment expectation for passthrough securities of the federal national mortgage association, the federal home loan mortgage corporation, or the government national mortgage association or for other assets of the same type as the assets that underlie the asset-backed security, in either case with a gross weighted average coupon comparable to the gross weighted average coupon of the assets that underlie the asset-backed security.

(II) another prepayment threshold assumption specified by the commissioner by rule adopted under 33-12-111.

(b) A rated credit instrument may not be a special rated credit instrument under this section if it is:

(i) a share in a class one bond mutual fund;

(ii) an instrument, other than an asset-backed security, with payments of par value fixed as to amount and timing or callable but in any event payable only at par or greater and with interest or dividend cash flows that are based on either a fixed or variable rate determined by reference to a specified rate or index;

(iii) an instrument, other than an asset-backed security, that has a par value and is purchased at a price no greater than 110% of par;

(iv) an instrument, including an asset-backed security, with a rate of return that would become negative only as a result of a prepayment due to casualty, condemnation, economic obsolescence of collateral, or change of law;

(v) an asset-backed security that relies on collateral that meets the requirements of subsection (1)(b)(ii), the par value of which collateral:

(A) is not permitted to be paid sooner than one-half of the remaining term to maturity from the date of acquisition;

(B) is permitted to be paid prior to maturity only at a premium sufficient to provide a yield to maturity for the investment, considering the amount prepaid and reinvestment rates at the time of early repayment, at least equal to the yield to maturity of the initial investment; or

(C) is permitted to be paid prior to maturity at a premium at least equal to the yield of a treasury issue of comparable remaining life; or

(vi) an asset-backed security that relies on cash flows from assets that are not prepayable at any time at par, but is not otherwise governed by subsection (1)(b)(v), if the asset-backed security has a par value reflecting principal payments to be received if held until retired by or on behalf of the issuer and is purchased at a price no greater than 105% of the par amount.

(2) For purposes of subsection (1), if the asset-backed security is purchased in combination with one or more other asset-backed securities that are supported by identical underlying collateral, the insurer may calculate the rate of return for these specific combined asset-backed securities in combination. The insurer shall maintain documentation demonstrating that the securities were acquired and are continuing to be held in combination.

33-12-111. Rules. The commissioner may adopt rules implementing the provisions of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-112. Foreign and alien insurers. A foreign insurer or an alien insurer, as those terms are defined in 33-1-201, shall maintain its investments according to the laws of its domicile. For purposes of this section, an alien insurer shall claim as its domicile the state where it maintains its principal deposit.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-113. Indemnification agreement. An insurer may contract with any national or state bank, trust company, or securities brokerage firm to act as custodian for the insurer's securities. The contract must contain an indemnification agreement stating that the custodian is obligated to indemnify the insurer for any loss of the insurer's securities in its custody resulting from the intentional or negligent act or omission of the custodian or the employee, officer, or agent of the custodian.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 109, L. 2005.

Part 2
Life and Health Insurers

33-12-201. Applicability. This part applies to the investments and investment practices of life and health insurers, subject to the provisions of 33-12-101(2).

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-202. General 5% diversification — medium-grade and lower-grade investments — Canadian investments. (1) (a) Except as otherwise specified in this chapter, an insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under this chapter if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the insurer would hold more than 5% of its admitted assets in investments of all kinds issued, assumed, accepted, insured, or guaranteed by a single person.

(b) The 5% limitation does not apply to the aggregate amounts insured by a single financial guaranty insurer with the highest generic rating issued by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization.

(c) Asset-backed securities are subject to the limitations of subsection (1)(a). However, an insurer may not acquire an asset-backed security if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or single pool of assets held by a trust or other business entity then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

(2) (a) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under 33-12-203, 33-12-206, or 33-12-209 or counterparty exposure under 33-12-210(4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments then held by the insurer would exceed 20% of its admitted assets;

(ii) the aggregate amount of lower-grade investments then held by the insurer would exceed 10% of its admitted assets;

(iii) the aggregate amount of investments rated 5 or 6 by the SVO then held by the insurer would exceed 3% of its admitted assets;

(iv) the aggregate amount of investments rated 6 by the SVO then held by the insurer would exceed 1% of its admitted assets; or

(v) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments then held by the insurer that receive as cash income less than the equivalent yield for treasury issues with a comparative average life would exceed 1% of its admitted assets.

(b) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under 33-12-203, 33-12-206, or 33-12-209 or counterparty exposure under 33-12-210(4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments issued, assumed, guaranteed, accepted, or insured by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, then held by the insurer would exceed 1% of its admitted assets; or

(ii) the aggregate amount of lower-grade investments issued, assumed, guaranteed, accepted, or insured by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, then held by the insurer would exceed 0.5% of its admitted assets.

(c) If an insurer attains or exceeds the limit of any one rating category referred to in this subsection (2), the insurer is precluded from acquiring investments in other rating categories subject to the specific and multicategory limits applicable to those investments.

(3) (a) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, a Canadian investment authorized by this chapter if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of these investments then held by the insurer would exceed 40% of its admitted assets or if the aggregate amount of Canadian investments not acquired under 33-12-203(3) then held by the insurer would exceed 25% of its admitted assets.

(b) However, as to an insurer that is authorized to do business in Canada or that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in Canada and denominated in Canadian currency, the limitations of subsection (3)(a) must be increased by the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by Canadian law to invest in Canada or to be denominated in Canadian currency; or

(ii) 115% of the amount of the insurer's reserves and other obligations under contracts on lives or risks resident or located in Canada.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 304, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 37, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-12-203. Rated credit instruments. (1) Subject to the limitations of subsection (7), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments in accordance with this section.

(2) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202(2), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by:

(a) the United States; or

(b) a government-sponsored enterprise of the United States, if the instruments of the government-sponsored enterprise are assumed, guaranteed, or insured by the United States or are otherwise backed or supported by the full faith and credit of the United States.

(3) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202(2), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by:

(i) Canada; or

(ii) a government-sponsored enterprise of Canada, if the instruments of the government-sponsored enterprise are assumed, guaranteed, or insured by Canada or are otherwise backed or supported by the full faith and credit of Canada.

(b) An insurer may not acquire an instrument under this subsection (3) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (3) would exceed 40% of its admitted assets.

(4) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202(2), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments, excluding asset-backed securities:

(i) issued by a government money market mutual fund, a class one money market mutual fund, or a class one bond mutual fund;

(ii) issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by a government-sponsored enterprise of the United States other than those eligible under subsection (2);

(iii) issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by a state, if the instruments are general obligations of the state; or

(iv) issued by a multilateral development bank.

(b) However, an insurer may not acquire an instrument of any one fund, enterprise, entity, or state under this subsection (4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held in any one fund, enterprise, entity, or state under this subsection (4) would exceed 10% of its admitted assets.

(5) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire preferred stocks that are not foreign investments and that meet the requirements of rated credit instruments if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(a) the aggregate amount of preferred stocks then held by the insurer under this subsection (5) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(b) the aggregate amount of preferred stocks then held by the insurer under this subsection (5) that are not sinking fund stocks or rated P-1 or P-2 by the SVO does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets.

(6) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, in addition to those investments eligible under subsections (2) through (5) of this section, an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments that are not foreign investments.

(7) An insurer may not acquire special rated credit instruments under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of special rated credit instruments then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

(8) The provisions of subsections (2) through (4) are not subject to the limitation provided in 33-12-202(1).

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 304, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 38, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-12-204. Insurer investment pools. (1) An insurer may acquire investments in investment pools that invest only in:

(a) (i) obligations that are rated 1 or 2 by the SVO or a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO or in the absence of a 1 or 2 or equivalent rating, the issuer has outstanding obligations with an SVO rating of 1 or 2 or an equivalent rating and that have:

(A) remaining maturity of 397 days or less or a put option that entitles the holder to receive the principal amount of the obligation and the put option may be exercised through maturity at specified intervals not exceeding 397 days; or

(B) remaining maturity of 3 years or less and:

(I) a floating interest rate that resets no less frequently than quarterly on the basis of a current short-term index such as federal funds, prime rate, treasury bills, London interbank offered rate, or commercial paper; and

(II) is subject to no maximum limit if the obligations do not have an interest rate that varies inversely to market interest rate changes;

(ii) government money market mutual funds or class one money market mutual funds; or

(iii) securities lending, repurchase, and reverse repurchase transactions that meet all the requirements of 33-12-208, except the quantitative limitations of 33-12-208(4); or

(b) investments that an insurer may acquire under this chapter if the insurer's proportionate interest in the amount invested in these investments does not exceed the applicable limits of this chapter.

(2) For an investment in an investment pool to be qualified under this chapter, the investment pool may not:

(a) acquire securities issued, assumed, guaranteed, or insured by the insurer or an affiliate of the insurer;

(b) borrow or incur any indebtedness for borrowed money, except for securities lending and reverse repurchase transactions that meet the requirements of 33-12-208, except the quantitative limitations of 33-12-208(4); or

(c) permit the aggregate value of securities then loaned, sold to, purchased from, or invested in any one business entity under this section to exceed 10% of the total assets of the investment pool.

(3) The limitations of 33-12-202(1) do not apply to an insurer's investment in an investment pool. However, an insurer may not acquire an investment in an investment pool under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this section:

(a) in any one investment pool would exceed 10% of its admitted assets;

(b) in all investment pools investing in investments permitted under subsection (1)(b) would exceed 25% of its admitted assets; or

(c) in all investment pools would exceed 35% of its admitted assets.

(4) For an investment in an investment pool to be qualified under this chapter, the manager of the investment pool:

(a) must be organized under the laws of the United States or a state and designated as the pool manager in a pooling agreement;

(b) must be:

(i) the insurer, an affiliated insurer, a business entity affiliated with the insurer, a qualified bank, or a business entity registered under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80b-1, et seq.), as amended;

(ii) in the case of a reciprocal insurer or interinsurance exchange, its attorney-in-fact; or

(iii) in the case of a United States branch of an alien insurer, its United States manager or affiliates or subsidiaries of its United States manager;

(c) shall compile and maintain detailed accounting records setting forth:

(i) the cash receipts and disbursements reflecting each participant's proportionate investment in the investment pool;

(ii) a complete description of all underlying assets of the investment pool, including amount, interest rate, maturity date, if any, and other appropriate designations; and

(iii) other records that, on a daily basis, allow third parties to verify each participant's investment in the investment pool; and

(d) shall maintain the assets of the investment pool in one or more accounts, in the name of or on behalf of the investment pool, under a custody agreement with a qualified bank. The custody agreement must:

(i) state and recognize the claims and rights of each participant;

(ii) acknowledge that the underlying assets of the investment pool are held solely for the benefit of each participant in proportion to the aggregate amount of its investments in the investment pool; and

(iii) contain an agreement that the underlying assets of the investment pool may not be commingled with the general assets of the custodian qualified bank or any other person.

(5) The pooling agreement for each investment pool must be in writing and must provide that:

(a) an insurer and its affiliated insurers or, in the case of an investment pool investing solely in investments permitted under subsection (1)(a), the insurer and its subsidiaries or affiliates, any pension or profit-sharing plan of the insurer or its subsidiaries and affiliates, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien insurer, the affiliates or subsidiaries of its United States manager shall, at all times, hold 100% of the interests in the investment pool;

(b) the underlying assets of the investment pool may not be commingled with the general assets of the pool manager or any other person;

(c) in proportion to the aggregate amount of each pool participant's interest in the investment pool:

(i) each participant owns an undivided interest in the underlying assets of the investment pool; and

(ii) the underlying assets of the investment pool are held solely for the benefit of each participant;

(d) a participant or, in the event of the participant's insolvency, bankruptcy, or receivership, its trustee, receiver, or other successor in interest may withdraw all or any portion of its investment from the investment pool under the terms of the pooling agreement;

(e) withdrawals may be made on demand without penalty or other assessment on any business day, but settlement of funds must occur within a reasonable and customary period not to exceed 5 business days. Distributions under this section must be calculated in each case net of all then-applicable fees and expenses of the investment pool. The pooling agreement must provide that the pool manager shall distribute to a participant, at the discretion of the pool manager:

(i) in cash, the then fair market value of the participant's pro rata share of each underlying asset of the investment pool;

(ii) in kind, a pro rata share of each underlying asset; or

(iii) in a combination of cash and in-kind distributions, a pro rata share in each underlying asset.

(f) the pool manager shall make the records of the investment pool available for inspection by the commissioner.

33-12-205. Equity interests. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire equity interests in business entities organized under the laws of any domestic jurisdiction.

(2) An insurer may not acquire an investment under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed 20% of its admitted assets or the amount of equity interests then held by the insurer that are not listed on a qualified exchange would exceed 5% of its admitted assets. An accident and health insurer is subject to this section but is subject to the same aggregate limitation on equity interests as a property and casualty insurer under 33-12-305 and is also subject to the provisions of 33-12-312.

(3) An insurer may not acquire under the provisions of this section any investments that the insurer may acquire under 33-12-207.

(4) An insurer may not short sell equity investments unless the insurer covers the short sale by owning the equity investment or an unrestricted right to the equity instrument exercisable within 6 months of the short sale.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-206. Tangible personal property under lease. (1) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire tangible personal property or equity interests in tangible personal property located or used wholly or in part within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments.

(b) Investments acquired under subsection (1)(a) are eligible only if:

(i) the property is subject to a lease or other agreement with a person whose rated credit instruments could be acquired by the insurer under 33-12-203 in the amount of the purchase price of the personal property; and

(ii) the lease or other agreement provides the insurer with the right to receive rental, purchase, or other fixed payments for the use or purchase of the property and the aggregate value of the payments, together with the estimated residual value of the property at the end of its useful life and the estimated tax benefits to the insurer resulting from ownership of the property, are adequate to return the cost of the insurer's investment in the property, plus a return considered adequate by the insurer.

(2) The insurer shall compute the amount of each investment under this section on the basis of the out-of-pocket purchase price and applicable related expenses paid by the insurer for the investment, net of each borrowing made to finance the purchase price and expenses, to the extent the borrowing is without recourse to the insurer.

(3) An insurer may not acquire an investment under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed:

(a) 2% of its admitted assets; or

(b) 0.5% of its admitted assets as to any single item of tangible personal property.

(4) For purposes of determining compliance with the limitations of 33-12-202, investments acquired by an insurer under this section must be aggregated with those acquired under 33-12-203 and each lessee of the property under a lease referred to in this section is considered the issuer of an obligation in the amount of the investment of the insurer in the property determined as provided in subsection (2).

(5) Nothing in this section is applicable to tangible personal property lease arrangements between an insurer and its subsidiaries and affiliates under a cost-sharing arrangement or agreement permitted under Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

33-12-207. Mortgage loans — income-producing real estate — real estate for the accommodation of business — quantitative limitations. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-203, an insurer may acquire obligations secured by mortgages on real estate situated within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. However, a mortgage loan that is secured by other than a first lien may not be acquired unless the insurer is the holder of the first lien. The obligations held by the insurer and any obligations with an equal lien priority may not, at the time of acquisition of the obligation, exceed:

(a) 90% of the fair market value of the real estate if the mortgage loan is secured by a purchase money mortgage or similar security received by the insurer upon disposition of the real estate;

(b) 80% of the fair market value of the real estate if the mortgage loan requires immediate scheduled payment in periodic installments of principal and interest, has an amortization period of 30 years or less, and has periodic payments made no less frequently than annually. Each periodic payment must be sufficient to ensure that at all times the outstanding principal balance of the mortgage loan is not greater than the outstanding principal balance that would be outstanding under a mortgage loan with the same original principal balance, with the same interest rate, and requiring equal payments of principal and interest with the same frequency over the same amortization period. Mortgage loans permitted under this subsection (1)(b) are permitted notwithstanding the fact that they provide for a payment of the principal balance prior to the end of the period of amortization of the loan. For residential mortgage loans, the 80% limitation may be increased to 97% if acceptable private mortgage insurance has been obtained.

(c) 75% of the fair market value of the real estate for mortgage loans that do not meet the requirements of subsection (1)(a) or (1)(b).

(2) For purposes of subsection (1)(a), the amount of an obligation required to be included in the calculation of the loan-to-value ratio may be reduced to the extent the obligation is insured by the federal housing administration, guaranteed by the administrator of veterans affairs, or insured or guaranteed by their successors.

(3) A mortgage loan that is held by an insurer under 33-12-103(6) or that is acquired under this section and is restructured in a manner that meets the requirements of a restructured mortgage loan in accordance with the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual or a successor publication continues to qualify as a mortgage loan under this chapter.

(4) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, credit lease transactions that do not qualify for investment under 33-12-203 with the following characteristics are exempt from the provisions of subsection (1)(a) of this section:

(a) the loan amortizes over the initial fixed lease term in at least an amount sufficient so that the loan balance at the end of the lease term does not exceed the original appraised value of the real estate;

(b) the lease payments cover or exceed the total debt service over the life of the loan;

(c) a tenant or its affiliated entity with rated credit instruments that have an SVO 1 or 2 designation or a comparable rating from a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO has a full faith and credit obligation to make the lease payments;

(d) the insurer holds or is the beneficial holder of a first lien mortgage on the real estate;

(e) the expenses of the real estate are passed through to the tenant, excluding exterior, structural, parking, and heating, ventilation, and air-conditioning replacement expenses, unless annual escrow contributions, from cash flows derived from the lease payments, cover the expense shortfall; and

(f) there is a perfected assignment of the rents due pursuant to the lease to or for the benefit of the insurer.

(5) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate situated in a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. The real estate must be income-producing or intended for improvement or development for investment purposes under an existing program, in which case the real estate is considered to be income-producing.

(b) The real estate may be subject to mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsections (7)(b) and (7)(c).

(6) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate for the convenient accommodation of the insurer's or the insurer's affiliates' business operations, including home office, branch office, and field office operations.

(b) Real estate acquired under this subsection (6) may include excess space for rent to others if the excess space, valued at its fair market value, would otherwise be a permitted investment under subsection (5) and is so qualified by the insurer.

(c) The real estate acquired under this subsection (6) may be subject to one or more mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsection (7)(d).

(d) For purposes of this subsection (6), business operations may not include that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an accident and health insurer for its insureds. An insurer may acquire real estate used for these purposes under subsection (5).

(7) (a) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (1) would exceed:

(i) 1% of its admitted assets in mortgage loans covering any one secured location;

(ii) 0.25% of its admitted assets in construction loans covering any one secured location; or

(iii) 2% of its admitted assets in construction loans in the aggregate.

(b) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (5) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under subsection (5) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed:

(i) 1% of its admitted assets in one parcel or group of contiguous parcels of real estate, except that this limitation does not apply to that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an accident and health insurer for its insureds, such as hospitals, medical clinics, medical professional buildings, or other health facilities used for the purpose of providing health services; or

(ii) 15% of its admitted assets in the aggregate, but not more than 5% of its admitted assets as to properties that are to be improved or developed.

(c) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (5) or (6) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (5) or (6) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed 45% of its admitted assets. However, an insurer may exceed this limitation by no more than 30% of its admitted assets if:

(i) this increased amount is invested only in residential mortgage loans;

(ii) the insurer has no more than 10% of its admitted assets invested in mortgage loans other than residential mortgage loans;

(iii) the loan-to-value ratio of each residential mortgage loan does not exceed 60% at the time the mortgage loan is qualified under this increased authority and the fair market value is supported by an appraisal no more than 2 years old prepared by an independent appraiser;

(iv) a single mortgage loan qualified under this increased authority may not exceed 0.5% of its admitted assets;

(v) the insurer files with the commissioner, and receives approval from the commissioner for, a plan that is designed to result in a portfolio of residential mortgage loans that is sufficiently geographically diversified; and

(vi) the insurer agrees to file annually with the commissioner records that demonstrate that its portfolio of residential mortgage loans is geographically diversified in accordance with the plan.

(d) The limitations of 33-12-202 do not apply to an insurer's acquisition of real estate under subsection (6). An insurer may not acquire real estate under subsection (6) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the acquisition, the aggregate amount of real estate then held by the insurer under subsection (6) would exceed 10% of its admitted assets. With the permission of the commissioner, additional amounts of real estate may be acquired under subsection (6).

33-12-208. Securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions. (1) An insurer may enter into securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions with business entities, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan that is consistent with the requirements of the written plan provided for in 33-12-104(1) and that specifies guidelines and objectives to be followed, such as:

(i) a description of how cash received will be invested or used for general corporate purposes of the insurer;

(ii) operational procedures to manage interest rate risk, counterparty default risk, the conditions under which proceeds from reverse repurchase transactions may be used in the ordinary course of business, and the use of acceptable collateral in a manner that reflects the liquidity needs of the transaction; and

(iii) the extent to which the insurer may engage in these transactions.

(b) The insurer shall enter into a written agreement for all transactions authorized in this section other than dollar roll transactions. The written agreement must require that each transaction terminates no more than 1 year from its inception or upon the earlier demand of the insurer. The agreement must be with the business entity counterparty, but for securities lending transactions, the agreement may be with an agent acting on behalf of the insurer if the agent is a qualified business entity and if the agreement:

(i) requires the agent to enter into separate agreements with each counterparty that are consistent with the requirements of this section; and

(ii) prohibits securities lending transactions under the agreement with the agent or its affiliates.

(c) Cash received in a transaction under this section must be invested in accordance with this chapter and in a manner that recognizes the liquidity needs of the transaction or must be used by the insurer for its general corporate purposes. For as long as the transaction remains outstanding, the insurer or its agent or custodian shall maintain, as to acceptable collateral received in a transaction under this section, either physically or through the book-entry systems of the federal reserve, depository trust company, participants trust company, or other securities depositories approved by the commissioner:

(i) possession of the acceptable collateral;

(ii) a perfected security interest in the acceptable collateral; or

(iii) in the case of a jurisdiction outside of the United States, title to or rights of a secured creditor to the acceptable collateral.

(d) The limitations of 33-12-202 and 33-12-209 do not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created by transactions under this section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this subsection (1)(d), effect may not be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction. An insurer may not enter into a transaction under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(i) the aggregate amount of securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from any one business entity counterparty under this section would exceed 5% of the insurer's admitted assets. In calculating the amount sold to or purchased from a business entity counterparty under repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions, effect may be given to netting provisions under a master written agreement.

(ii) the aggregate amount of all securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from all business entities under this section would exceed 40% of the insurer's admitted assets.

(e) In a securities lending transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 102% of the market value of the securities loaned by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than the market value of the loaned securities, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the market value of the loaned securities.

(f) In a reverse repurchase transaction, other than a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 95% of the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 95% of the market value of the securities transferred, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 95% of the market value of the transferred securities.

(g) In a dollar roll transaction, the insurer must receive cash in an amount at least equal to the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of the transaction date.

(h) In a repurchase transaction, the insurer must receive as acceptable collateral transferred securities having a market value at least equal to 102% of the purchase price paid by the insurer for the securities. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 100% of the purchase price paid by the insurer, the business entity counterparty is obligated to provide additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the purchase price. Securities acquired by an insurer in a repurchase transaction may not be sold in a reverse repurchase transaction, loaned in a securities lending transaction, or otherwise pledged.

(2) To constitute acceptable collateral for the purposes of this section, a letter of credit must have an expiration date beyond the term of the subject transaction.

33-12-209. Foreign investments and foreign currency exposure. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire foreign investments or engage in investment practices with persons of or in foreign jurisdictions if the investments or investment practices are of substantially the same types as those that an insurer is permitted to acquire under this chapter, other than of the type permitted under 33-12-204 and if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of foreign investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (1):

(a) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(b) in a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 3% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(2) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-202, an insurer may acquire investments or engage in investment practices denominated in foreign currencies, whether or not they are foreign investments acquired under subsection (1) or additional foreign currency exposure as a result of the termination or expiration of a hedging transaction with respect to investments denominated in a foreign currency, if the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) denominated in:

(i) foreign currencies does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets; and

(ii) the foreign currency of a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 3% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(b) However, an investment under subsection (2)(a) may not be considered denominated in a foreign currency if the acquiring insurer enters into one or more contracts in transactions permitted under 33-12-210 and the business entity counterparty agrees under the contract or contracts to exchange all payments made on the foreign currency denominated investment for United States currency at a rate that effectively insulates the investment cash flows against future changes in currency exchange rates during the period the contract or contracts are in effect.

(3) (a) In addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations of 33-12-202.

(b) However, investments made under this subsection (3) in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of 33-12-202 if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection (3) may not exceed the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by the law of the foreign jurisdiction to invest in the foreign jurisdiction; or

(ii) 115% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on lives or risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(4) In addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is not authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations of 33-12-202. However, investments made under this subsection in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of 33-12-202 if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection may not exceed 105% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on lives or risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(5) Investments acquired under this section must be aggregated with investments of the same types made under this chapter and, in a similar manner, for purposes of determining compliance with the limitations, if any, contained in this chapter. Investments in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises, except for those exempted under subsections (3) and (4), are subject to the limitations of 33-12-202.

33-12-210. Derivative transactions. An insurer may, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, engage in derivative transactions under this section under the following conditions:

(1) (a) An insurer may use derivative instruments under this section to engage in hedging transactions and certain income-generation transactions as provided in rules adopted by the commissioner.

(b) An insurer must be able to demonstrate to the commissioner the intended hedging characteristics and the ongoing effectiveness of the derivative transaction or combination of the transactions through cash flow testing or other appropriate analyses.

(2) An insurer may enter into hedging transactions under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(a) the aggregate statement value of options, caps, floors, and warrants not attached to another financial instrument purchased and used in hedging transactions does not exceed 5% of its admitted assets;

(b) the aggregate statement value of options, caps, and floors written in hedging transactions does not exceed 3% of its admitted assets; and

(c) the aggregate potential exposure of collars, swaps, forwards, and futures used in hedging transactions does not exceed 6.5% of its admitted assets.

(3) An insurer may enter into the following types of income-generation transactions only if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transactions, the aggregate statement value of the fixed-income assets that are subject to call or that generate the cash flows for payments under the caps or floors, plus the face value of fixed income securities underlying a derivative instrument subject to call, plus the amount of the purchase obligations under the put options does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets:

(a) sales of covered call options on noncallable, fixed-income securities, callable fixed-income securities if the option expires by its terms prior to the end of the noncallable period, or derivative instruments based on fixed-income securities;

(b) sales of covered call options on equity securities if the insurer holds in its portfolio or can immediately acquire, through the exercise of options, warrants, or conversion rights already owned, the equity securities subject to call during the complete term of the call option sold;

(c) sales of covered put options on investments that the insurer is permitted to acquire under this chapter if the insurer has placed in escrow or entered into a custodian agreement segregating cash or cash equivalents with a market value equal to the amount of its purchase obligations under the put option during the complete term of the put option sold; or

(d) sales of covered caps or floors if the insurer holds in its portfolio the investments generating the cash flow to make the required payments under the caps or floors during the complete term that the cap or floor is outstanding.

(4) An insurer shall include all counterparty exposure amounts in determining compliance with the limitations of 33-12-202.

(5) Pursuant to rules adopted under 33-12-111, the commissioner may approve additional transactions involving the use of derivative instruments in excess of the limits of subsection (2) or for other risk management purposes under rules adopted by the commissioner, but replication transactions may not be permitted for other than risk management purposes.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-211. Policy loans. A life insurer may lend to a policyholder, on the security of the cash surrender value of the policyholder's policy, a sum not exceeding the legal reserve that the insurer is required to maintain on the policy.

33-12-212. Additional investment authority. (1) Under this subsection (1), an insurer may acquire an investment or may engage in investment practices described in 33-12-208 solely for the purpose of acquiring investments that exceed the quantitative limitations of 33-12-202 through 33-12-209. However, an insurer may not acquire an investment or engage in investment practices described in 33-12-208 under this subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(a) the aggregate amount of investments then held by an insurer under this subsection (1) would exceed 5% of its admitted assets; or

(b) the aggregate amount of investments as to a limitation in 33-12-202 through 33-12-209 then held by the insurer under this subsection (1) would exceed 1% of its admitted assets.

(2) (a) In addition to the authority provided under subsection (1), an insurer may acquire under this subsection (2) an investment of any kind or engage in investment practices described in 33-12-208 that are not specifically prohibited by this chapter without regard to the categories, conditions, standards, or other limitations of 33-12-202 through 33-12-209 if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of investments then held under this subsection (2) would not exceed the lesser of:

(i) 10% of its admitted assets; or

(ii) 75% of its capital and surplus.

(b) However, an insurer may not acquire any investment or engage in any investment practice under this subsection (2) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of all investments in any one person then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

(3) In addition to the investments acquired under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer may acquire under this subsection (3) an investment of any kind or engage in investment practices described in 33-12-208 that are not specifically prohibited by this chapter without regard to any limitations of 33-12-202 through 33-12-209 if:

(a) the commissioner grants prior approval;

(b) the insurer demonstrates that its investments are being made in a prudent manner and that the additional amounts will be invested in a prudent manner; and

(c) as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (3) does not exceed the greater of:

(i) 25% of its capital and surplus; or

(ii) 100% of capital and surplus less 10% of its admitted assets.

(4) An investment prohibited under 33-12-105 that is not permitted under 33-12-210 or additional derivative instruments acquired under 33-12-210 may not be acquired under this section.

Part 3
Property and Casualty, Financial Guaranty, Mortgage Guaranty, Surety, Marine, and Title Insurers

33-12-301. Applicability. Subject to the provisions of 33-12-101(2), this part applies to the investments and investment practices of property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty, surety, marine, and title insurers.

33-12-302. General 5% diversification — medium-grade and lower-grade investments — Canadian investments. (1) (a) Except as otherwise specified in this chapter, an insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under this chapter if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the insurer would hold more than 5% of its admitted assets in investments of all kinds issued, assumed, accepted, insured, or guaranteed by a single person.

(b) The 5% limitation in subsection (1)(a) does not apply to the aggregate amounts insured by a single financial guaranty insurer with the highest generic rating issued by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization.

(c) Asset-backed securities are not subject to the limitations of subsection (1)(a). However, an insurer may not acquire an asset-backed security if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of asset-backed securities that are secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or single pool of assets held by a trust or other business entity and that are then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

(2) (a) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under 33-12-303, 33-12-306, or 33-12-309 or counterparty exposure under 33-12-310(4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of all medium-grade and lower-grade investments then held by the insurer would exceed 20% of its admitted assets;

(ii) the aggregate amount of lower-grade investments then held by the insurer would exceed 10% of its admitted assets;

(iii) the aggregate amount of investments rated 5 or 6 by the SVO then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets;

(iv) the aggregate amount of investments rated 6 by the SVO then held by the insurer would exceed 1% of its admitted assets; or

(v) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments then held by the insurer that receive as cash income less than the equivalent yield for treasury issues with a comparative average life would exceed 1% of its admitted assets.

(b) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, an investment under 33-12-303, 33-12-306, or 33-12-309 or counterparty exposure under 33-12-310(4) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of medium-grade and lower-grade investments issued, assumed, accepted, insured, or guaranteed by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, then held by the insurer would exceed 1% of its admitted assets; or

(ii) the aggregate amount of lower-grade investments issued, assumed, accepted, insured, or guaranteed by any one person or, as to asset-backed securities secured by or evidencing an interest in a single asset or pool of assets, then held by the insurer would exceed 0.5% of its admitted assets.

(c) If an insurer attains or exceeds the limit of any one rating category referred to in this subsection (2), the insurer is not precluded from acquiring investments in other rating categories subject to the specific and multicategory limits applicable to those investments.

(3) (a) An insurer may not acquire, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, any Canadian investments authorized by this chapter if as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of the investments then held by the insurer would exceed 40% of its admitted assets or if the aggregate amount of Canadian investments not acquired under 33-12-303(1)(b) then held by the insurer would exceed 25% of its admitted assets.

(b) However, as to an insurer that is authorized to do business in Canada or that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in Canada and denominated in Canadian currency, the limitations of subsection (3)(a) must be increased by the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by Canadian law to invest in Canada or to be denominated in Canadian currency; or

(ii) 125% of the amount of its reserves and other obligations under contracts on risks resident or located in Canada.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-303. Rated credit instruments. (1) Subject to the limitations of subsection (2), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments in accordance with the following:

(a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302(2), but not to the limitations of 33-12-302(1), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by:

(i) the United States; or

(ii) a government-sponsored enterprise of the United States, if the instruments of the government-sponsored enterprise are assumed, guaranteed, or insured by the United States or are otherwise backed or supported by the full faith and credit of the United States.

(b) (i) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302(2), but not to the limitations of 33-12-302(1), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by:

(A) Canada; or

(B) a government-sponsored enterprise of Canada, if the instruments of the government-sponsored enterprise are assumed, guaranteed, or insured by Canada or are otherwise backed or supported by the full faith and credit of Canada.

(ii) However, an insurer may not acquire an instrument under this subsection (1)(b) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (1)(b) would exceed 40% of its admitted assets.

(c) (i) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302(2), but not to the limitations of 33-12-302(1), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments, excluding asset-backed securities:

(A) issued by a government money market mutual fund, a class one money market mutual fund, or a class one bond mutual fund;

(B) issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by a government-sponsored enterprise of the United States other than those eligible under subsection (1)(a);

(C) issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by a state if the instruments are general obligations of the state; or

(D) issued by a multilateral development bank.

(ii) However, an insurer may not acquire an instrument of any one fund, any one enterprise or entity, or any one state under this subsection (1)(c) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held in any one fund, enterprise, entity, or state under this subsection (1)(c) would exceed 10% of its admitted assets.

(d) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire preferred stocks that are not foreign investments and that meet the requirements of rated credit instruments if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment:

(i) the aggregate amount of preferred stocks then held by the insurer under this subsection (1)(d) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(ii) the aggregate amount of preferred stocks then held by the insurer under this subsection (1)(d) that are not sinking fund stocks or rated P-1 or P-2 by the SVO does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets.

(e) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, in addition to those investments eligible under subsections (1)(a) through (1)(d), an insurer may acquire rated credit instruments that are not foreign investments.

(2) An insurer may not acquire special rated credit instruments under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of special rated credit instruments then held by the insurer would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-304. Insurer investment pools. (1) An insurer may acquire investments in investment pools that:

(a) invest only in:

(i) obligations that are rated 1 or 2 by the SVO or have an equivalent of an SVO 1 or 2 rating by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO or, in the absence of a 1 or 2 rating or equivalent rating, the issuer has outstanding obligations with an SVO 1 or 2 or equivalent rating and have:

(A) a remaining maturity of 397 days or less or a put option that entitles the holder to receive the principal amount of the obligation that may be exercised through maturity at specified intervals not exceeding 397 days; or

(B) a remaining maturity of 3 years or less and a floating interest rate that resets no less frequently than quarterly on the basis of a current short-term index (federal funds, prime rate, treasury bills, London interbank offered rate, or commercial paper) and is subject to no maximum limit if the obligations do not have an interest rate that varies inversely to market interest rate changes;

(ii) government money market mutual funds or class one money market mutual funds; or

(iii) securities lending, repurchase, and reverse repurchase transactions that meet all the requirements of 33-12-308, except the quantitative limitations of 33-12-308(1)(d); or

(b) invest only in investments that an insurer may acquire under this chapter if the insurer's proportionate interest in the amount invested in these investments does not exceed the applicable limits of this chapter.

(2) For an investment in an investment pool to be qualified under this chapter, the investment pool may not:

(a) acquire securities issued, assumed, insured, or guaranteed by the insurer or an affiliate of the insurer;

(b) borrow or incur any indebtedness for borrowed money, except for securities lending and reverse repurchase transactions that meet the requirements of 33-12-308, except the quantitative limitations of 33-12-308(1)(d); or

(c) permit the aggregate value of securities then loaned or sold to, purchased from, or invested in any one business entity under this section to exceed 10% of the total assets of the investment pool.

(3) The limitations of 33-12-302(1) do not apply to an insurer's investment in an investment pool. However, an insurer may not acquire an investment in an investment pool under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this section:

(a) in any one investment pool would exceed 10% of its admitted assets;

(b) in all investment pools investing in investments permitted under subsection (1)(b) would exceed 25% of its admitted assets; or

(c) in all investment pools would exceed 40% of its admitted assets.

(4) For an investment in an investment pool to be qualified under this chapter, the manager of the investment pool:

(a) must be organized under the laws of the United States or a state and must be designated as the pool manager in a pooling agreement;

(b) must be:

(i) the insurer, an affiliated insurer, a business entity affiliated with the insurer, a qualified bank, or a business entity registered under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80b-1, et seq.), as amended;

(ii) in the case of a reciprocal insurer or interinsurance exchange, its attorney-in-fact; or

(iii) in the case of a United States branch of an alien insurer, its United States manager or affiliates or subsidiaries of its United States manager;

(c) shall compile and maintain detailed accounting records setting forth:

(i) the cash receipts and disbursements reflecting each participant's proportionate investment in the investment pool;

(ii) a complete description of all underlying assets of the investment pool, including amount, interest rate, maturity date, if any, and other appropriate designations; and

(iii) other records that, on a daily basis, allow third parties to verify each participant's investment in the investment pool; and

(d) shall maintain the assets of the investment pool in one or more accounts, in the name of or on behalf of the investment pool, under a custody agreement with a qualified bank. The custody agreement must:

(i) state and recognize the claims and rights of each participant;

(ii) acknowledge that the underlying assets of the investment pool are held solely for the benefit of each participant in proportion to the aggregate amount of its investments in the investment pool; and

(iii) contain an agreement that the underlying assets of the investment pool may not be commingled with the general assets of the custodian qualified bank or any other person.

(5) The pooling agreement for each investment pool must be in writing and must provide that:

(a) an insurer and its affiliated insurers or, in the case of an investment pool investing solely in investments permitted under subsection (1)(a), the insurer and its subsidiaries or affiliates, any pension or profit-sharing plan of the insurer or its subsidiaries and affiliates, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien insurer, the affiliates or subsidiaries of its United States manager shall, at all times, hold 100% of the interests in the investment pool;

(b) the underlying assets of the investment pool may not be commingled with the general assets of the pool manager or any other person;

(c) in proportion to the aggregate amount of each pool participant's interest in the investment pool:

(i) each participant owns an undivided interest in the underlying assets of the investment pool; and

(ii) the underlying assets of the investment pool are held solely for the benefit of each participant;

(d) a participant or, in the event of the participant's insolvency, bankruptcy, or receivership, its trustee, receiver, or other successor in interest may withdraw all or any portion of its investment from the investment pool under the terms of the pooling agreement;

(e) withdrawals may be made on demand without penalty or other assessment on any business day, but settlement of funds must occur within a reasonable and customary period after withdrawal not to exceed 5 business days. Distributions under this subsection (5)(e) must be calculated in each case net of all then-applicable fees and expenses of the investment pool. The pooling agreement must provide that the pool manager shall distribute to a participant, at the discretion of the pool manager:

(i) in cash, the then fair market value of the participant's pro rata share of each underlying asset of the investment pool;

(ii) in kind, a pro rata share of each underlying asset; or

(iii) in a combination of cash and in-kind distributions, a pro rata share in each underlying asset; and

(f) the pool manager shall make the records of the investment pool available for inspection by the commissioner.

33-12-305. Equity interests. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire equity interests in business entities organized under the laws of any domestic jurisdiction.

(2) An insurer may not acquire an investment under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed the greater of 25% of its admitted assets or 100% of its surplus as regards policyholders.

(3) An insurer may not acquire under this section any investments that the insurer may acquire under 33-12-307.

(4) An insurer may not short sell equity investments unless the insurer covers the short sale by owning the equity investment or an unrestricted right to the equity instrument exercisable within 6 months of the short sale.

33-12-306. Tangible personal property under lease. (1) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire tangible personal property or equity interests in tangible personal property located or used wholly or in part within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments.

(b) Investments acquired under subsection (1)(a) are eligible only if:

(i) the property is subject to a lease or other agreement with a person whose rated credit instruments in the amount of the purchase price of the personal property the insurer could then acquire under 33-12-303; and

(ii) the lease or other agreement provides the insurer the right to receive rental, purchase, or other fixed payments for the use or purchase of the property and the aggregate value of the payments, together with the estimated residual value of the property at the end of its useful life and the estimated tax benefits to the insurer resulting from ownership of the property, are adequate to return the cost of the insurer's investment in the property, plus a return considered adequate by the insurer.

(2) The insurer shall compute the amount of each investment under this section on the basis of the out-of-pocket purchase price and applicable related expenses paid by the insurer for the investment, net of each borrowing made to finance the purchase price and expenses, to the extent the borrowing is without recourse to the insurer.

(3) An insurer may not acquire an investment under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed:

(a) 2% of its admitted assets; or

(b) 0.5% of its admitted assets as to any single item of tangible personal property.

(4) For purposes of determining compliance with the limitations of 33-12-302, investments acquired by an insurer under this section must be aggregated with those acquired under 33-12-303 and each lessee of the property under a lease referred to in this section is considered the issuer of an obligation in the amount of the investment of the insurer in the property determined as provided in subsection (2).

(5) This section is not applicable to tangible personal property lease arrangements between an insurer and its subsidiaries and affiliates under a cost-sharing arrangement or agreement permitted under Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

33-12-307. Mortgage loans — income producing real estate — real estate for accommodation of business — quantitative limitations. (1) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire obligations secured by mortgages on real estate situated within a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. However, a mortgage loan that is secured by other than a first lien may not be acquired unless the insurer is the holder of the first lien. The obligations held by the insurer and any obligations with an equal lien priority may not, at the time of acquisition of the obligation, exceed:

(i) 90% of the fair market value of the real estate if the mortgage loan is secured by a purchase money mortgage or similar security received by the insurer upon disposition of the real estate;

(ii) 80% of the fair market value of the real estate if the mortgage loan requires immediate scheduled payment in periodic installments of principal and interest, has an amortization period of 30 years or less, and has periodic payments made no less frequently than annually. Each periodic payment must be sufficient to ensure that at all times the outstanding principal balance of the mortgage loan is not greater than the outstanding principal balance that would be outstanding under a mortgage loan with the same original principal balance, with the same interest rate, and requiring equal payments of principal and interest with the same frequency over the same amortization period. Mortgage loans permitted under this subsection (1)(b) are permitted notwithstanding the fact that they provide for a payment of the principal balance prior to the end of the period of amortization of the loan. For residential mortgage loans, the 80% limitation may be increased to 97% if acceptable private mortgage insurance has been obtained.

(iii) 75% of the fair market value of the real estate for mortgage loans that do not meet the requirements of subsections (1)(a)(i) or (1)(a)(ii).

(b) For purposes of subsection (1)(a), the amount of an obligation required to be included in the calculation of the loan-to-value ratio may be reduced to the extent the obligation is insured by the federal housing administration, guaranteed by the administrator of veterans affairs, or insured or guaranteed by their successors.

(c) A mortgage loan that is held by an insurer under 33-12-103(6) or acquired under this section and that is restructured in a manner that meets the requirements of a restructured mortgage loan in accordance with the NAIC Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual or a successor publication continues to qualify as a mortgage loan under this chapter.

(d) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, credit lease transactions that do not qualify for investment under 33-12-303 and that have the following characteristics are exempt from the provisions of subsection (1)(a):

(i) the loan amortizes over the initial fixed lease term in at least an amount sufficient so that the loan balance at the end of the lease term does not exceed the original appraised value of the real estate;

(ii) the lease payments cover or exceed the total debt service over the life of the loan;

(iii) a tenant or its affiliated entity with rated credit instruments that have an SVO 1 or 2 designation or a comparable rating from a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO has a full faith and credit obligation to make the lease payments;

(iv) the insurer holds or is the beneficial holder of a first lien mortgage on the real estate;

(v) the expenses of the real estate are passed through to the tenant, excluding exterior, structural, parking, and heating, ventilation, and air-conditioning replacement expenses, unless annual escrow contributions, from cash flows derived from the lease payments, cover the expense shortfall; and

(vi) there is a perfected assignment of the rents due pursuant to the lease to or for the benefit of the insurer.

(2) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate situated in a domestic jurisdiction, either directly or indirectly through limited partnership interests and general partnership interests not otherwise prohibited by 33-12-104(4), joint ventures, stock of an investment subsidiary, membership interests in a limited liability company, trust certificates, or other similar instruments. The real estate must be income-producing or intended for improvement or development for investment purposes under an existing program, in which case the real estate must be considered to be income-producing.

(b) The real estate may be subject to mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsections (4)(b) and (4)(c).

(3) (a) An insurer may acquire, manage, and dispose of real estate for the convenient accommodation of the insurer's or the insurer's affiliates' business operations, including home office, branch office, and field office operations.

(b) Real estate acquired under this subsection (3) may include excess space for rent to others if the excess space, valued at its fair market value, would otherwise be a permitted investment under subsection (2) and is so qualified by the insurer.

(c) The real estate acquired under this subsection (3) may be subject to one or more mortgages, liens, or other encumbrances, the amount of which must, to the extent that the obligations secured by the mortgages, liens, or encumbrances are without recourse to the insurer, be deducted from the amount of the investment of the insurer in the real estate for purposes of determining compliance with subsection (4)(d).

(d) For purposes of this subsection (3), business operations may not include that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively. An insurer may acquire real estate used for these purposes under subsection (2).

(4) (a) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (1) would exceed:

(i) 1% of its admitted assets in mortgage loans covering any one secured location;

(ii) 0.25% of its admitted assets in construction loans covering any one secured location; or

(iii) 1% of its admitted assets in construction loans in the aggregate.

(b) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (2) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees made by the insurer in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under subsection (2) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed:

(i) 1% of its admitted assets in any one parcel or group of contiguous parcels of real estate, except that this limitation does not apply to that portion of real estate used for the direct provision of health care services by an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively, such as hospitals, medical clinics, medical professional buildings, or other health facilities used for the purpose of providing health services; or

(ii) the lesser of 10% of its admitted assets or 40% of its surplus as regards policyholders in the aggregate, except for an insurer whose insurance premiums and required statutory reserves for accident and health insurance constitute at least 95% of total premium considerations or total statutory required reserves, respectively. This limitation must be increased to 15% of its admitted assets in the aggregate.

(c) An insurer may not acquire an investment under subsection (1) or (2) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the investment and any outstanding guarantees it has made in connection with the investment, the aggregate amount of all investments then held by the insurer under subsection (1) or (2) plus the guarantees then outstanding would exceed 25% of its admitted assets.

(d) The limitations of 33-12-302 do not apply to an insurer's acquisition of real estate under subsection (3). An insurer may not acquire real estate under subsection (3) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the acquisition, the aggregate amount of all real estate then held by the insurer under subsection (3) would exceed 10% of its admitted assets. With the permission of the commissioner, additional amounts of real estate may be acquired under subsection (3).

33-12-308. Securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions. (1) An insurer may enter into securities lending, repurchase, reverse repurchase, and dollar roll transactions with business entities, subject to the following requirements:

(a) The insurer's board of directors shall adopt a written plan that is consistent with the requirements of the written plan provided for in 33-12-104(1) that specifies guidelines and objectives to be followed, such as:

(i) a description of how cash received will be invested or used for general corporate purposes of the insurer;

(ii) operational procedures to manage interest rate risk, counterparty default risk, the conditions under which proceeds from reverse repurchase transactions may be used in the ordinary course of business, and the use of acceptable collateral in a manner that reflects the liquidity needs of the transaction; and

(iii) the extent to which the insurer may engage in these transactions.

(b) The insurer shall enter into a written agreement for all transactions authorized in this section other than dollar roll transactions. The written agreement must require that each transaction terminate no more than 1 year from its inception or upon the earlier demand of the insurer. The agreement must be with the business entity counterparty, but for securities lending transactions, the agreement may be with an agent acting on behalf of the insurer if the agent is a qualified business entity and if the agreement:

(i) requires the agent to enter into separate agreements with each counterparty that are consistent with the requirements of this section; and

(ii) prohibits securities lending transactions under the agreement with the agent or its affiliates.

(c) Cash received in a transaction under this section must be invested in accordance with this chapter and in a manner that recognizes the liquidity needs of the transaction or must be used by the insurer for its general corporate purposes. For as long as the transaction remains outstanding, the insurer or its agent or custodian shall maintain, as to acceptable collateral received in a transaction under this section, either physically or through the book-entry systems of the federal reserve, depository trust company, participants trust company, or other securities depositories approved by the commissioner:

(i) possession of the acceptable collateral;

(ii) a perfected security interest in the acceptable collateral; or

(iii) in the case of a jurisdiction outside of the United States, title to or rights of a secured creditor to the acceptable collateral.

(d) The limitations of 33-12-302 and 33-12-309 do not apply to the business entity counterparty exposure created by transactions under this section. For purposes of calculations made to determine compliance with this subsection (1), no effect will be given to the insurer's future obligation to resell securities, in the case of a repurchase transaction, or to repurchase securities, in the case of a reverse repurchase transaction. An insurer may not enter into a transaction under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(i) the aggregate amount of securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from any one business entity counterparty under this section would exceed 5% of the insurer's admitted assets. In calculating the amount sold to or purchased from a business entity counterparty under repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions, effect may be given to netting provisions under a master written agreement.

(ii) the aggregate amount of all securities then loaned, sold to, or purchased from all business entities under this section would exceed 40% of its admitted assets. However, the limitation of this subsection (1)(d) does not apply to reverse repurchase transactions as long as the borrowing is used to meet operational liquidity requirements resulting from an officially declared catastrophe and is subject to a plan approved by the commissioner.

(e) In a securities lending transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 102% of the market value of the securities loaned by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than the market value of the loaned securities, the business entity counterparty must be obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the market value of the loaned securities.

(f) In a reverse repurchase transaction, other than a dollar roll transaction, the insurer shall receive acceptable collateral having a market value as of the transaction date at least equal to 95% of the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of that date. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 95% of the market value of the securities transferred, the business entity counterparty is obligated to deliver additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 95% of the market value of the transferred securities.

(g) In a dollar roll transaction, the insurer must receive cash in an amount at least equal to the market value of the securities transferred by the insurer in the transaction as of the transaction date.

(h) In a repurchase transaction, the insurer must receive as acceptable collateral transferred securities having a market value at least equal to 102% of the purchase price paid by the insurer for the securities. If at any time the market value of the acceptable collateral is less than 100% of the purchase price paid by the insurer, the business entity counterparty must be obligated to provide additional acceptable collateral, the market value of which, together with the market value of all acceptable collateral then held in connection with the transaction, equals at least 102% of the purchase price. Securities acquired by an insurer in a repurchase transaction may not be sold in a reverse repurchase transaction, loaned in a securities lending transaction, or otherwise pledged.

(2) To constitute acceptable collateral for the purposes of this section, a letter of credit must have an expiration date beyond the term of the subject transaction.

33-12-309. Foreign investments and foreign currency exposure. (1) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire foreign investments or engage in investment practices with persons of or in foreign jurisdictions if the investments or investment practices are of substantially the same types as those that an insurer is permitted to acquire under this chapter, other than of the type permitted under 33-12-304 and if as a result of and after giving effect to the investment the aggregate amount of foreign investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (1):

(a) does not exceed 20% of its admitted assets; and

(b) in a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 5% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(2) (a) Subject to the limitations of 33-12-302, an insurer may acquire investments or engage in investment practices denominated in foreign currencies, whether or not they are foreign investments acquired under subsection (1), or additional foreign currency exposure as a result of the termination or expiration of a hedging transaction with respect to investments denominated in a foreign currency if:

(i) the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) denominated in foreign currencies does not exceed 15% of its admitted assets; and

(ii) the aggregate amount of investments then held by the insurer under this subsection (2) denominated in the foreign currency of a single foreign jurisdiction does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets as to a foreign jurisdiction that has a sovereign debt rating of SVO 1 or 5% of its admitted assets as to any other foreign jurisdiction.

(b) However, an investment may not be considered denominated in a foreign currency if the acquiring insurer enters into one or more contracts in transactions permitted under 33-12-310 and the business entity counterparty agrees under the contract or contracts to exchange all payments made on the foreign currency denominated investment for United States currency at a rate that effectively insulates the investment cash flows against future changes in currency exchange rates during the period the contract or contracts are in effect.

(3) (a) Subject to 33-12-302 and subsection (3)(b) of this section and in addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2), an insurer that is authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in that foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction.

(b) However, investments made under this subsection (3) in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of 33-12-302 if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection (3) may not exceed the greater of:

(i) the amount the insurer is required by law to invest in the foreign jurisdiction; or

(ii) 125% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts.

(4) (a) In addition to investments permitted under subsections (1) and (2) and except as provided in subsection (4)(b), an insurer that is not authorized to do business in a foreign jurisdiction and that has outstanding insurance, annuity, or reinsurance contracts on lives or risks resident or located in a foreign jurisdiction and denominated in foreign currency of that jurisdiction may acquire foreign investments respecting that foreign jurisdiction and may acquire investments denominated in the currency of that jurisdiction subject to the limitations set forth in 33-12-302.

(b) However, investments made under this subsection (4) in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises are not subject to the limitations of 33-12-302 if those investments carry an SVO rating of 1 or 2. The aggregate amount of investments acquired by the insurer under this subsection (4) may not exceed 105% of the amount of its reserves, net of reinsurance, and other obligations under the contracts on risks resident or located in the foreign jurisdiction.

(5) Investments acquired under this section must be aggregated with investments of the same types made under this chapter and, in a similar manner, for purposes of determining compliance with the limitations, if any, contained in this chapter. Investments in obligations of foreign governments, their political subdivisions, and government-sponsored enterprises, except for those exempted under subsections (3) and (4), are subject to the limitations of 33-12-302.

33-12-310. Derivative transactions. An insurer may, directly or indirectly through an investment subsidiary, engage in derivative transactions under this section under the following conditions:

(1) (a) An insurer may use derivative instruments under this section to engage in hedging transactions and certain income generation transactions as provided in rules adopted by the commissioner.

(b) An insurer must be able to demonstrate to the commissioner the intended hedging characteristics and the ongoing effectiveness of the derivative transaction or combination of transactions through cash flow testing or other appropriate analyses.

(2) An insurer may enter into hedging transactions under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction:

(a) the aggregate statement value of options, caps, floors, and warrants not attached to another financial instrument purchased and used in hedging transactions does not exceed 5% of its admitted assets;

(b) the aggregate statement value of options, caps, and floors written in hedging transactions does not exceed 3% of its admitted assets; and

(c) the aggregate potential exposure of collars, swaps, forwards, and futures used in hedging transactions does not exceed 6.5% of its admitted assets.

(3) An insurer may enter into the following types of income-generation transactions only if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transactions, the aggregate statement value of the fixed-income assets that are subject to call, plus the face value of fixed-income securities underlying a derivative instrument subject to call, plus the amount of the purchase obligations under the put options does not exceed 10% of its admitted assets:

(a) sales of covered call options on noncallable, fixed-income securities, callable fixed-income securities if the option expires by its terms prior to the end of the noncallable period, or derivative instruments based on fixed-income securities;

(b) sales of covered call options on equity securities if the insurer holds in its portfolio or can immediately acquire, through the exercise of options, warrants, or conversion rights already owned, the equity securities subject to call during the complete term of the call option sold; or

(c) sales of covered put options on investments that the insurer is permitted to acquire under this chapter if the insurer has placed in escrow or entered into a custodian agreement segregating cash or cash equivalents with a market value equal to the amount of its purchase obligations under the put option during the complete term of the put option sold.

(4) An insurer shall include all counterparty exposure amounts in determining compliance with the limitations of 33-12-302.

(5) Pursuant to rules adopted under 33-12-111, the commissioner may approve additional transactions involving the use of derivative instruments in excess of the limits of subsection (2) or for other risk management purposes under rules adopted by the commissioner, but replication transactions may not be permitted for other than risk management purposes.

History: En. Sec. 34, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-311. Additional investment authority. (1) Under this section, an insurer may acquire investments, may engage in investment practices of any kind that are not specifically prohibited by this chapter, or may engage in investment practices without regard to any limitation in 33-12-302 through 33-12-309. However, an insurer may not acquire an investment or engage in an investment practice under this section if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of the investments then held by the insurer under this section would exceed the greater of:

(a) its unrestricted surplus; or

(b) the lesser of:

(i) 10% of its admitted assets; or

(ii) 50% of its surplus as regards policyholders.

(2) An insurer may not acquire an investment or engage in an investment practice under subsection (1) if, as a result of and after giving effect to the transaction, the aggregate amount of all investments in any one person then held by the insurer under subsection (1) would exceed 5% of its admitted assets.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-12-312. Reserve requirements — authority of commissioner. (1) Subject to all other limitations and requirements of this title, a property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty, surety, marine, title, or accident and health insurer shall maintain an amount at least equal to 100% of adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves, 100% of adjusted unearned premium reserves, and 100% of statutorily required policy and contract reserves in:

(a) cash and cash equivalents;

(b) high-grade investments and medium-grade investments that qualify under 33-12-303 or 33-12-304;

(c) equity interests that qualify under 33-12-305 and that are traded on a qualified exchange;

(d) investments of the type set forth in 33-12-309 if the investments are rated in the highest generic rating category by a nationally recognized statistical rating organization recognized by the SVO for rating foreign jurisdictions and if any foreign currency exposure is effectively hedged through the maturity date of the investments;

(e) qualifying investments of the type set forth in subsection (1)(b), (1)(c), or (1)(d) that are acquired under 33-12-311;

(f) interest and dividends receivable on qualifying investments of the type set forth in subsections (1)(a) through (1)(e); or

(g) reinsurance recoverable on paid losses.

(2) (a) For purposes of determining the amount of assets to be maintained under this subsection (2), the calculation of adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves, adjusted unearned premium reserves, and statutorily required policy and contract reserves must be based on the amounts reported as of the most recent annual or quarterly statement date.

(b) Adjusted loss reserves and loss adjustment expense reserves must be equal to the sum of the amounts derived from the following calculations:

(i) the result of each amount reported by the insurer as losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid for each accident year for each individual line of business; multiplied by

(ii) the discount factor that is applicable to the line of business and accident year published by the internal revenue service under Internal Revenue Code section 846 (26 U.S.C. 846), as amended, for the calendar year that corresponds to the most recent annual statement of the insurer; minus

(iii) accrued retrospective premiums discounted by an average discount factor. The discount factor must be calculated by dividing the losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid after discounting (the product of subsections (2)(b)(i) and (2)(b)(ii)) by loss and loss adjustment expense reserves before discounting subsection (2)(b)(i).

(c) For purposes of the calculations in subsections (2)(b)(i) through (2)(b)(iii), the losses and loss adjustment expenses unpaid must be determined net of anticipated salvage and subrogation and gross of any discount for the time value of money or tabular discount.

(d) Adjusted unearned premium reserves must be equal to the result of the following calculation:

(i) the amount reported by the insurer as unearned premium reserves; minus

(ii) the admitted asset amounts reported by the insurer as:

(A) premiums in and agents' balances in the course of collection, accident and health premiums due and unpaid, and uncollected premiums for accident and health premiums;

(B) premiums, agents' balances, and installments booked but deferred and not yet due; and

(C) bills receivable, taken for premium.

(3) A property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty, surety, marine, title, or accident and health insurer shall supplement its annual statement with a reconciliation and summary of its assets and reserve requirements as required in (1). A reconciliation and summary showing that an insurer's assets as required in subsection (1) are greater than or equal to its undiscounted reserves referred to in subsection (1) must be sufficient to satisfy this requirement. Upon prior notification, the commissioner may require an insurer to submit a reconciliation and summary with any quarterly statement filed during the calendar year.

(4) If a property and casualty, financial guaranty, mortgage guaranty, surety, marine, title, or accident and health insurer's assets and reserves do not comply with subsection (1), the insurer shall notify the commissioner immediately of the amount by which the reserve requirements exceed the annual statement value of the qualifying assets, explain why the deficiency exists, and within 30 days of the date of the notice, propose a plan of action to remedy the deficiency.

(5) (a) If the commissioner determines that an insurer is not in compliance with subsection (1), the commissioner shall require the insurer to eliminate the condition causing the noncompliance within a specified time from the date the notice of the commissioner's requirement is mailed or delivered to the insurer.

(b) If an insurer fails to comply with the commissioner's requirement under subsection (5)(a), the insurer is considered to be in hazardous financial condition and the commissioner shall take one or more of the actions authorized by law with respect to insurers in hazardous financial condition.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-14-101. Short title. This chapter may be cited as the "Insurance Premium Finance Company Act".

(1) "Insurance premium finance company" means a person engaged in the business of entering into premium finance agreements with insureds or of acquiring such premium finance agreements from insurance producers, brokers, or other premium finance companies.

(2) "Licensee" means a premium finance company holding a license issued by the commissioner under this chapter.

(3) "Premium finance agreement" means an agreement by which an insured or prospective insured promises to pay to a premium finance company the amount advanced or to be advanced under the agreement to an insurer or to an insurance producer or broker in payment of premiums on an insurance contract, together with a finance charge as authorized by this chapter, and as security therefor the insurance premium finance company receives an assignment of the unearned premium.

(4) "Unearned premium" means that part of the original premium, including a deposit, not yet earned by the insurer and therefore due the insured if a policy is canceled.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 123, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

Licensing

33-14-201. License required — fee — renewal of license. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4), a person may not engage in the business of financing insurance premiums without first having obtained a license as a premium finance company from the commissioner. Any person who engages in the business of financing insurance premiums in the state without obtaining a license as provided under this chapter is, upon conviction, guilty of a misdemeanor.

(2) The annual license fee is $100. A license may be renewed as of January 1 each year, upon payment of the fee of $100. The license fee must be paid to the commissioner.

(3) The person to whom the license or the renewal of the license is issued shall file sworn answers, subject to the penalties of perjury, to any interrogatories as the commissioner may require. The commissioner may, at any time, require the applicant fully to disclose the identity of all stockholders, partners, officers, and employees, and the commissioner may, in the commissioner's discretion, refuse to issue or renew a license in the name of any firm, partnership, or corporation if not satisfied that any officer, employee, stockholder, or partner who may materially influence the applicant's conduct meets the standards of this chapter.

(4) This section does not apply to and a license is not required of:

(a) savings and loan associations, banks, trust companies, licensed finance companies, credit unions, and resident insurance producers; or

(b) a person who, within 15 days after entering into an insurance premium finance agreement, transfers the agreement to a licensee or to any of the organizations exempt under this subsection (4).

Credit unions, Title 32, ch. 3.
Insurance producers, adjusters, consultants, and administrators, Title 33, ch. 17.

33-14-202. Applicant qualifications — hearing. (1) Upon the filing of an application and the payment of the license fee, the commissioner may make a background examination of each applicant and shall issue a premium finance company license if the applicant is qualified in accordance with this chapter. If the commissioner denies the application, the applicant may file a written demand for a hearing pursuant to the provisions of 33-1-701.

(2) The commissioner shall issue or renew a license when the commissioner is satisfied that the person to be licensed:

(a) is competent and trustworthy and intends to act in good faith in the capacity involved by the license applied for;

(b) has a good business reputation and has had experience, training, or education that qualifies the applicant in the business for which the license is applied; and

(c) if a corporation, is a corporation incorporated under the laws of the state or is a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in the state.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 40, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-14-203. License revocation — suspension. The commissioner may revoke or suspend the license of a premium finance company when and if after investigation it appears to the commissioner that:

(1) a license issued to the company was obtained by fraud;

(2) there was misrepresentation in the application for the license;

(3) the holder of the license has otherwise been shown untrustworthy or incompetent to act as a premium finance company; or

(4) the company has violated any provisions of this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1180, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-14-204. Records required of licensees — form — inspection. (1) Every premium finance company shall maintain records of its premium finance transactions, and the records must be open to examination and investigation by the commissioner. The commissioner may at any time require the company to bring records that the commissioner may direct to the commissioner's office for examination.

(2) Every premium finance company shall preserve its records of premium finance transactions for at least 3 years after making the final entry in respect to any premium finance agreement. The records may be preserved in photographic form.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 360, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1181, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Part 3
Operation and Regulation

33-14-301. Premium finance agreements — contents — form — delivery. (1) A premium finance agreement must:

(a) be dated and signed by the insured or by any person authorized in writing to act in behalf of the insured, and the printed portion of the agreement must be in at least 8-point type;

(b) contain the name and place of business of the insurance producer negotiating the related insurance policy, the name and residence or the place of business of the insured as specified by the insured, the name and place of business of the premium finance company to which payments are to be made, and a description of the insurance policies involved and the amount of the premium for the policies; and

(c) set forth when applicable:

(i) the total amount of the premiums;

(ii) the amount of the downpayment;

(iii) the principal balance, which is the difference between the items enumerated in subsections (1)(c)(i) and (1)(c)(ii);

(iv) the amount of the finance charge;

(v) the balance payable by the insured, which is the sum of the items enumerated in subsections (1)(c)(iii) and (1)(c)(iv); and

(vi) the number of installments required, the amount of each installment expressed in dollars, and the due date or period of the installments.

(2) The items set out in subsection (1)(c) are not required to be stated in the sequence or order in which they appear in that subsection, and additional items may be included to explain the computations made in determining the amount to be paid by the insured.

(3) The information required by subsection (1) may be required in the initial agreement only if the premium finance company and the insured enter into an open-end credit transaction, which is defined as a plan prescribing the terms of credit transactions that may be made under the plan from time to time and under the terms of which a finance charge may be computed on the outstanding unpaid balance from time to time under the plan.

(4) The premium finance company or the insurance producer shall deliver to the insured or mail to the insured at the address shown in the agreement a complete copy of the agreement.

33-14-302. Charges for premium financing regulated — method of computation. (1) A premium finance company may not charge, contract for, receive, or collect a finance charge other than as permitted by this chapter.

(2) The finance charge must be computed on the balance of the premiums due, after subtracting the downpayment made by the insured in accordance with the premium finance agreement, from the effective date of the insurance coverage for which the premiums are being advanced to and including the date when the final payment of the premium finance agreement is payable.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the finance charge may not exceed interest at the annual rate of 21%, plus a service charge of $12.50 per premium finance agreement. The service charge of $12.50 is not required to be refunded upon cancellation or prepayment.

(4) An insured may prepay the premium finance agreement in full at any time prior to the due date of the final payment, and upon payment the unearned finance charge must be refunded.

33-14-303. Delinquency charges regulated. (1) A premium finance agreement may provide for the payment by the insured of a delinquency charge of $1 to a maximum of 5% of the delinquent installment but not to exceed $5 on any installment that is in default for 5 days or more.

(2) If the default results in the cancellation of any insurance contract listed in the agreement, the agreement may provide for payment by the insured of a cancellation charge equal to the difference between any delinquency charge or default charge imposed with respect to the installment in default and $5. A premium finance agreement may also provide for the payment of attorney's fees and court costs if the agreement is referred for collection to an attorney not a salaried employee of the insurance premium finance company.

33-14-304. Cancellation of insurance upon default. (1) When a premium finance agreement contains a power of attorney or other authority enabling the insurance premium finance company to cancel any insurance contract listed in the agreement, the insurance contract or contracts may not be canceled by the premium finance company unless the cancellation is effectuated in accordance with this section.

(2) Written notice must be mailed to the insured setting forth the intent of the insurance premium finance company to cancel the insurance contract unless the default is cured prior to the date stated in the notice. The written notice must be mailed at least 10 days prior to the date stated in the notice. The insurance producer indicated on the premium finance agreement must also be mailed 10 days' notice of this action.

(3) Pursuant to the power of attorney or other authority referred to above, the insurance premium finance company may cancel on behalf of the insured by mailing to the insurer written notice stating when the cancellation will become effective, and the insurance contract must be canceled as if the notice of cancellation had been submitted by the insured but without requiring the return of the insurance contract. If the insurer or its insurance producer does not provide the insurance premium finance company with a specific mailing address for the purpose of receipt of the notice, mailing by the insurance premium finance company to the insurer at the address that is on file with the commissioner is considered sufficient notice under this section. The insurance premium finance company shall also mail a notice of cancellation to the insured at the insured's last-known address and to the insurance producer indicated on the premium finance agreement.

(4) All statutory, regulatory, and contractual restrictions providing that the insurance contract may not be canceled unless notice is given to a governmental agency, mortgagee, or other third party apply whenever cancellation is effected under the provisions of this section. The insurer shall give the prescribed notice in behalf of itself or the insured to any governmental agency, mortgagee, or other third party on or before the second business day after the day it receives the notice of cancellation from the premium finance company and shall determine the effective date of cancellation taking into consideration the number of days' notice required to complete the cancellation.

33-14-305. Return of unearned premiums. (1) Whenever a financed insurance contract is canceled by a person other than the insured, the insurer shall process cancellation of the financed insurance policy on a pro rata basis. The insurer shall return whatever gross unearned premiums are due under the insurance contract to the premium finance company for the account of the insured or insureds.

(2) If the crediting of the return premiums to the account of the insured results in a surplus over the amount due from the insured, the premium finance company shall refund the excess to the insured, except that a refund is not required if the excess amounts to less than $1.

33-14-306. Agreement effective as security interest. No filing of the premium finance agreement or recording of a premium finance transaction shall be necessary to perfect the validity of the agreement as a secured transaction as against creditors, subsequent purchasers, pledgees, encumbrancers, successors, or assigns.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 360, L. 1981.

Part 1
Scope and Definitions

33-15-101. Scope. Parts 1 through 5 do not apply as to:

(1) reinsurance;

(2) policies or contracts not issued for delivery in this state or delivered in this state;

(3) ocean marine and foreign trade insurances;

(4) title insurance, except as to the following provisions: 33-15-102, 33-15-103, 33-15-303, 33-15-305, 33-15-306, 33-15-307, 33-15-316, and 33-15-411.

Premium — exception of placement fee — state compensation insurance fund, 33-18-212.

33-15-103. Power to contract — purchase of insurance by minors. (1) Any person of competent legal capacity may contract for insurance.

(2) Any minor 15 years of age or older, as determined by the nearest birthday, may contract for annuities and for insurance upon the minor's own life, body, health, property, liabilities, or other interests or on the person of another in whom the minor has an insurable interest. The minor must be considered competent to exercise all rights and powers with respect to or under any contract for annuity or for insurance upon the minor's own life, body, or health or any contract the minor effected upon the minor's own property, liabilities, or other interests or on the person of another as might be exercised by a person of full legal age and may at any time surrender the minor's interest in any contracts and give valid discharge for any benefit accruing or money payable under the contracts. The minor may not, by reason of minority, be entitled to rescind, avoid, or repudiate the contract or to rescind, avoid, or repudiate any exercise of a right or privilege under the contract, except that the minor, not otherwise emancipated, may not be bound by any unperformed agreement to pay by promissory note or otherwise any premium on any annuity or insurance contract.

(3) If any minor mentioned in subsection (2) is possessed of an estate that is being administered by a guardian, the contract is not binding upon the estate as to payment of premiums except when consented to by the guardian and approved by the district court of the county in which the administration of the estate is pending, and the consent and approval is required for each annual premium payment.

(4) Any annuity contract or policy of life or disability insurance procured by or for a minor under subsection (2) must be made payable either to the minor, to the minor's estate, or to a person having an insurable interest in the life of the minor under 33-15-201.

History: En. Sec. 267, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3710; amd. Sec. 147, Ch. 575, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1184, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Insurable Interests

33-15-201. Restrictions on contracting for personal insurance — insurable interests — violation. (1) Any individual of competent legal capacity may procure or effect an insurance contract upon the individual's own life or body for the benefit of any person. However, a person may not procure or cause to be procured any insurance contract upon the life or body of another individual unless the benefits under the contract are payable to the individual insured, to the individual's personal representatives, or to a person having, at the time when the contract was made, an insurable interest in the individual insured.

(2) If the beneficiary, assignee, or other payee under any contract made in violation of this section receives from the insurer any benefits under the contract accruing upon the death, disablement, or injury of the individual insured, the individual insured or the individual's personal representative may maintain an action to recover the benefits from the person receiving them.

(3) "Insurable interest" with reference to personal insurance includes only interests as follows:

(a) in the case of individuals related closely by blood or by law, a substantial interest engendered by love and affection;

(b) in the case of other persons, a lawful and substantial economic interest in having the life, health, or bodily safety of the individual insured continue, as distinguished from an interest that would arise only by or would be enhanced in value by the death, disablement, or injury of the individual insured.

(4) An individual who is a party to a contract or option for the purchase or sale of an interest in a business partnership or firm or of shares of stock of a closed corporation or of an interest in the shares has an insurable interest in the life of each individual party to the contract and for the purposes of the contract only in addition to any insurable interest that may otherwise exist as to the life of the individual.

(5) A charitable institution has an insurable interest in an individual if:

(a) the individual authorizes the charitable institution to purchase insurance naming the charitable institution as an irrevocable beneficiary; and

(b) the insurance is purchased with contributions made by the individual.

33-15-205. Restrictions on property insurance — interest. (1) No contract of insurance of property or of any interest in property or arising from property shall be enforceable as to the insurance except for the benefit of persons having an insurable interest in the things insured as at the time of the loss.

(2) "Insurable interest" as used in this section means any actual, lawful, and substantial economic interest in the safety or preservation of the subject of the insurance free from loss, destruction, or pecuniary damage or impairment.

(3) The measure of an insurable interest in property is the extent to which the insured might be damnified by loss, injury, or impairment thereof.

33-15-206. Interest of named insured — change of interest on death — transfer. (1) When the name of the person insured is specified in a policy insuring property, the insurance can be applied only to the person's own proper interest.

(2) A change of interest, by will or succession, on the death of the insured does not avoid an insurance of property, and the insurance passes to the person taking the insured's interest in the thing insured. A change of interest in real property by a transfer on death deed on the death of the insured does not avoid an insurance of real property, and the real property insurance coverage continues beyond the death of the named insured in accordance with 72-6-412(5) and policy coverage, including all applicable terms and conditions.

(3) A transfer of interest by one of several partners, joint owners, or owners in common, who are jointly insured, to the others does not avoid an insurance of property even though it has been agreed that the insurance must cease upon an alienation of the thing insured.

(1) Every stipulation in a policy of insurance of property for the payment of loss without regard to absence of an insurable interest in such property on the part of the insured or that the policy shall be received as proof of such interest is void.

(2) Every policy executed by way of gaming or wagering is void.

33-15-301. Requiring standard provisions — waiver. (1) Insurance contracts must contain the standard or uniform provisions and benefits required by the applicable provisions of this code pertaining to contracts of particular kinds of insurance. The commissioner may waive a particular provision in a particular insurance policy form if:

(a) the commissioner finds the provision or benefit unnecessary for the protection of the insured and inconsistent with the purposes of the policy; and

(b) the policy is otherwise approved by the commissioner.

(2) A policy or certificate may not contain any provision or benefit inconsistent with or contradictory to any standard or uniform provision or benefit used or required to be used, but the commissioner may approve any substitute provision or benefit that is, in the commissioner's opinion, not less favorable in any particular to the insured or beneficiary than the provisions otherwise required.

(3) In lieu of the provisions required by this code for contracts for particular kinds of insurance, substantially similar provisions required by the law of the domicile of a foreign or alien insurer may be used when approved by the commissioner.

(4) A provision, if required to be contained in the policy, may not be waived by agreement between the insurer and any other person.

33-15-303. Contents of policies in general — identification. (1) Each policy must specify:

(a) the names of the parties to the contract;

(b) the subject of the insurance;
(c) the risks insured against;
(d) the time when the insurance under the policy takes effect and the period during which the insurance is to continue;
(e) the premium;
(f) the conditions pertaining to the insurance.

(2) If under the policy the exact amount of premium is determinable only at stated intervals or termination of the contract, a statement of the basis and rates upon which the premium is to be determined and paid must be included.

(3) All policies and annuity contracts issued by insurers and the forms of policies and annuity contracts filed with the commissioner must have printed on the policy or annuity contract an appropriate designating letter or figure, combination of letters or figures, or terms identifying the respective forms of policies or contracts. Each form, including riders and endorsements, must be identified by a designating letter or figure placed in a lower, preferably left-hand, corner of the first page of the form. Whenever any change is made in any form, the designating letters, figures, or terms on the form must be correspondingly changed and the revision date must be noted next to the designating letters.

33-15-304. Permissible content. A policy may contain additional provisions not inconsistent with this code and which are:

(1) required to be inserted by the laws of the insurer's domicile;
(2) necessary, on account of the manner in which the insurer is constituted or operated, in order to state the rights and obligations of the parties to the contract; or
(3) desired by the insurer and neither prohibited by law nor in conflict with any provisions required to be included therein.

33-15-307. Underwriters' and combination policies. (1) Two or more authorized insurers may jointly issue and shall be jointly and severally liable on an underwriters' policy bearing their names. Any one insurer may issue policies in the name of an underwriter's department, and such policy shall plainly show the true name of the insurer.

(2) Two or more insurers may, with the approval of the commissioner, issue a combination policy which shall contain provisions substantially as follows:

(a) that the insurers executing the policy shall be severally liable for the full amount of any loss or damage, according to the terms of the policy, or for specified percentages or amounts thereof, aggregating the full amount of insurance under the policy; and

(b) that service of process or of any notice or proof of loss required by such policy, upon any of the insurers executing the policy, shall constitute service upon all such insurers.

(3) This section shall not apply to cosurety obligations.

33-15-308. Explanation of charges. An insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization that issues policies, certificates, membership contracts, or subscriber contracts for delivery in this state on or after January 1, 2000, and that limits payment of health care services based on standards described as usual and customary, reasonable and customary, prevailing fee, allowable charges, a relative value schedule, or other comparable terms shall include, displayed in the schedule page or elsewhere in the policy, certificate, membership contract, or subscriber contract:

(1) a definition of the term or terms and an explanation of how the limitation of payment based on the term or terms is derived;

(2) if the standard of the term or terms is derived by the use of a database, a description of the database reasonably calculated to inform the insured or certificate holder of the method used to define the geographic or demographic area from which the data used to determine the term or terms is derived; and

(3) a statement informing the insured that the insured's health care provider may charge more than the limits established by the defined terms and that the additional charges may not be covered by the policy, certificate, membership contract, or subscriber contract.

33-15-322. Purpose. (1) The purpose of 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 is to establish minimum standards for language used in policies, contracts, and certificates of life, disability, credit life, and credit disability insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state to facilitate ease of reading by insureds.

(2) Sections 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 are not intended to increase the risk assumed by insurance companies or other entities subject to 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 or to supersede their obligation to comply with the substance of other insurance legislation applicable to life, disability, credit life, or credit disability insurance policies. Sections 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 are not intended to impede flexibility and innovation in the development of policy forms or content or to lead to the standardization of policy forms or content.

33-15-323. Definitions. As used in 33-15-321 through 33-15-329, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Company" or "insurer" means any life or disability insurance company, fraternal benefit society, nonprofit health service corporation, nonprofit hospital service corporation, nonprofit medical service corporation, prepaid health plan, dental care plan, vision care plan, pharmaceutical plan, health maintenance organization, and all similar types of organizations.

(2) "Policy" or "policy form" means any:

(a) policy, contract, plan, or agreement of life or disability insurance, including credit life and credit disability insurance, delivered or issued for delivery in this state by any company subject to 33-15-321 through 33-15-329;

(b) certificate, contract, or policy issued by a fraternal benefit society; and

(c) certificate issued pursuant to a group insurance policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state.

33-15-324. Application — exceptions. (1) Sections 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 apply to all policies delivered or issued for delivery in this state by any company on or after the date such forms must be approved under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329, but nothing in 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 applies to:

(a) a policy which is a security subject to federal jurisdiction;

(b) a group policy covering a group of 1,000 or more lives at date of issue, other than a group credit life insurance policy or a group credit disability insurance policy, but a certificate issued pursuant to a group policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state is not exempt;

(c) a group annuity contract which serves as a funding vehicle for pension, profit-sharing, or deferred compensation plans;

(d) a form used in connection with, as a conversion from, as an addition to, or in exchange pursuant to a contractual provision for a policy delivered or issued for delivery on a form approved or permitted to be issued prior to the dates such forms must be approved under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329; or

(e) the renewal of a policy delivered or issued for delivery prior to the dates such forms must be approved under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329.

(2) Sections 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 provide the exclusive manner for determining language simplification standards for any policy forms.

(3) A non-English language policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state is in compliance with 33-15-325(1)(a) if the insurer certifies that the policy is translated from an English language policy which complies with 33-15-325(1)(a).

33-15-325. Minimum policy language simplification standards. (1) In addition to any other requirements of law, no policy form, except as stated in 33-15-324, may be delivered or issued for delivery in this state on or after the date such form must be approved under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329, unless:

(a) the text achieves a minimum score of 40 on the Flesch reading ease test or an equivalent score on any other comparable test as provided in subsection (3);

(b) it is printed, except for specification pages, schedules, and tables, in not less than 10-point type, 1-point leaded;

(c) the style, arrangement, and overall appearance of the policy give no undue prominence to any portion of the text of the policy or to any endorsements or riders; and

(d) it contains a table of contents or an index of the principal sections of the policy if the policy has more than 3,000 words printed on three or fewer pages of text, or if the policy has more than three pages regardless of the number of words.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a Flesch reading ease test score is measured by the following method:

(a) For policy forms containing 10,000 words or less of text, the entire form is analyzed. For policy forms containing more than 10,000 words, the readability of two 200-word samples per page may be analyzed instead of the entire form. The samples must be separated by at least 20 printed lines.

(b) The number of words and sentences in the text is counted and the total number of words is divided by the total number of sentences. The figure obtained is multiplied by a factor of 1.015.

(d) The sum of the figures computed under subsections (2)(b) and (2)(c) subtracted from 206.835 equals the Flesch reading ease score for the policy form.

(e) For the purposes of subsections (2)(b) through (2)(d), the following procedures are used:

(i) a contraction, hyphenated word, or numbers and letters, if separated by spaces, are counted as one word;

(ii) a unit of words ending with a period, semicolon, or colon, but excluding headings and captions, is counted as a sentence; and

(iii) a syllable means a unit of spoken language consisting of one or more letters of a word as divided by an accepted dictionary. If the dictionary shows two or more equally acceptable pronunciations of a word, the pronunciation containing fewer syllables may be used.

(i) the name and address of the insurer; the name, number, or title of the policy; the table of contents or index; captions and subcaptions; specification pages, schedules, or tables; and

(ii) policy language which is drafted to conform to the requirements of a federal law, regulation, or agency interpretation; policy language required by a collectively bargained agreement; medical terminology; words which are defined in the policy; and policy language required by law or regulation. The insurer must identify the language or terminology excepted by this subsection and certify in writing that the language or terminology is entitled to be excepted by this subsection.

(3) Any other reading test may be approved by the commissioner for use as an alternative to the Flesch reading ease test if it is comparable in result to the Flesch reading ease test.

(4) Filings subject to this section must be accompanied by a certificate signed by an officer of the insurer stating that it meets the minimum reading ease score on the test used or stating that the score is lower than the minimum required but should be approved in accordance with 33-15-327. To confirm the accuracy of any certification, the commissioner may require the submission of further information to verify the certification in question.

(5) At the option of the insurer, riders, endorsements, applications, and other forms made a part of the policy may be scored as separate forms or as part of the policy with which they may be used.

33-15-326. Construction — time period. Nothing in 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 may be construed to negate any law of this state permitting the issuance of any policy form after it has been on file for the time period specified.

33-15-327. Powers of the commissioner. The commissioner may authorize a lower score than the Flesch reading ease score required in 33-15-325(1)(a) whenever, in in the commissioner's sole discretion, the commissioner finds that a lower score:

(1) will provide a more accurate reflection of the readability of a policy form;

(2) is warranted by the nature of a particular policy form or type or class of policy forms; or

(3) is caused by certain policy language that is drafted to conform to the requirements of any state law, regulation, or agency interpretation.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 302, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1187, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-15-328. Approval of forms. A policy form meeting the requirements of 33-15-325(1)(a) may be approved by the commissioner notwithstanding the provisions of other laws that specify content of policies if the approved policy form provides policyholders and claimants protection not less favorable than they would be entitled to under such laws.

33-15-329. Applicability schedule. (1) Except as provided in 33-15-324, the provisions of 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 apply to all policy forms filed on or after July 1, 1983. A policy form may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state on or after July 1, 1986, unless approved by the commissioner or permitted to be issued under 33-15-321 through 33-15-329. Any policy form that has been approved or permitted to be issued prior to July 1, 1986, and that meets the standards set by 33-15-321 through 33-15-329 is not required to be refiled for approval but may continue to be lawfully delivered or issued for delivery in this state upon the filing with the commissioner of a list of the forms identified by form number and accompanied by a certificate as to each form in the manner provided in 33-15-325(4).

(2) The commissioner may extend the dates in subsection (1).

33-15-330 through 33-15-332 reserved.

33-15-333. Short title. Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 may be cited as the "Property and Casualty Insurance Policy Language Simplification Act".

33-15-334. Purpose. (1) The purpose of 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 is to establish minimum language and format standards to make property and casualty policies easier to read.

(2) Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 are not intended to increase the risk assumed under policies subject to 33-15-333 through 33-15-340. Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 are not intended to impede flexibility and innovation in the development of policy forms or content. Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 do not grant authority to the commissioner to mandate the standardization of policy forms or content.

33-15-335. Definitions. As used in 33-15-333 through 33-15-340, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Casualty insurance" does not include accident and health or disability insurance.

(2) "Policy" or "policy form" means any written contract of property or casualty insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state by or on behalf of any insurer licensed in this state.

33-15-336. Applicability. (1) Other statutes of this state setting simplification standards for language or format do not apply to property and casualty policies.

(2) Sections 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 do not apply to policies in manuscript form or to the following kinds of insurance:

(a) ocean marine;

(b) surety and financial institution bonds;

(c) reinsurance; or

(d) commercial lines policies, including but not limited to commercial aviation.

(3) A non-English policy is considered in compliance with 33-15-337 if it was translated from an English policy that complies with 33-15-337.

33-15-337. Minimum policy simplification standards. (1) All property and casualty policies subject to 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 must take into consideration the following factors:

(a) use of simple sentence structure, short sentences, and personal style;

(b) use of commonly understood words and everyday conversational language consistent with the policy's standing as a contract;

(c) avoidance of use of technical and legal terms and words with special meanings whenever possible;

(d) minimal reference to other sections or provisions of the policy;

(e) logical organization of text; and

(f) legibility.

(2) The policy must include a table of contents and notice section of important provisions.

(3) Each section must be self-contained and independent. However, general provisions applicable to more than one section may be included in a common section.

(4) The policy, except for declarations pages, schedules, and tables, must be printed in not less than 10-point type, 1-point leaded.

(5) The policy must be printed in a legible type style, with adequate contrast between ink and paper. Captions, headings, and spacings must be used to increase overall legibility.

(6) Policy exclusions may use technical terms, terms with special meanings, and court-interpreted terms to ensure policy clarity.

(7) Technical terms and words with special meanings must be avoided whenever possible.

(8) The policy text must achieve a minimum score of 40 on the Flesch reading ease test, an equivalent score on a comparable test, or a lower score on either if the commissioner finds the policy reasonably easy to read. For purposes of this section, a Flesch reading ease test must be scored by the following method:

(a) For a policy containing 10,000 words or less, the entire policy must be analyzed. For a policy containing more than 10,000 words, the readability of two 100-word samples per page may be analyzed instead. The samples must be separated by at least 20 printed lines.

(b) The total number of words in the text or sample must be divided by the total number of sentences. The figure obtained must be multiplied by 1.015.

(c) The total number of syllables in the text or sample must be divided by the total number of words. The figure obtained must be multiplied by 84.6.

(d) The sum of the figures computed under subsections (8)(b) and (8)(c) subtracted from 206.835 equals the Flesch reading ease test score.

(9) (a) For purposes of subsection (8), the following procedures must be used:

(i) A contraction, hyphenated word, number, and letter, when separated by spaces, are counted as one word.

(ii) A unit of text ending with a period, semicolon, or colon is counted as a sentence.

(iii) A syllable means a unit of spoken language consisting of one or more letters of a word as divided by an accepted dictionary. When the dictionary shows two or more equally acceptable pronunciations of a word, the pronunciation containing fewer syllables may be used.

(iv) At the option of the insurer, a form made a part of the policy may be scored separately or as part of the policy.

(b) The term "text", as used in this section, includes all printed matter except:

(i) the name and address of the insurer;

(ii) the name, number, or title of the policy or form;

(iii) the table of contents or index;

(iv) headings and captions; and

(v) declarations pages, schedules, or tables.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

33-15-338. Powers of commissioner. (1) At the commissioner's discretion, the commissioner may extend any dates under 33-15-333 through 33-15-340.

(2) The commissioner has sole authority to enforce the provisions of 33-15-333 through 33-15-340 or to seek remedies for its violation.

(3) The commissioner may authorize a lower score than the Flesch reading ease score required in 33-15-337 when, in the commissioner's discretion, a lower score:

(a) will provide a more accurate reflection of the readability of a policy;

(b) is warranted by the nature of a particular policy or type or class of policy; or

(c) is caused by certain policy language that is drafted to conform to the requirements of any state law, regulation, or agency interpretation.

33-15-339. Compliance with other statutorily required language. The requirements of any other laws that specify the language or content of a policy may be met by a policy complying with the provisions of 33-15-337. However, the policy must provide protection that, considered as a whole, is not less favorable to the insured than is required by the other laws.

33-15-340. Liability and coverage not imputed. The existence or nonexistence of coverage or liability under a policy may not be construed from policy approval by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 416, L. 1993.

Part 4
Application, Issuance, Renewal, Assignment, and Return

33-15-401. Application required — life and disability insurance. No life or disability insurance contract upon an individual, except a contract of group life insurance or of group or blanket disability insurance, shall be made or effectuated unless at the time of the making of the contract the individual insured, being of competent legal capacity to contract, applies therefor or has consented thereto in writing, except in the following cases:

(1) A spouse may effectuate such insurance upon the other spouse.

(2) Any person having an insurable interest in the life of a minor or any person upon whom a minor is dependent for support and maintenance may effectuate insurance upon the life of or pertaining to such minor.

(3) Family policies insuring any two or more members of a family may be issued on an application signed by either parent, a stepparent, or by a husband or wife.

Cross-References

33-15-402. Application as evidence — copy to insured — alteration. (1) An application for the issuance of any life or disability insurance policy or annuity contract may not be admissible in evidence in any action relative to the policy or contract unless a true copy of the application was attached to or otherwise made a part of the policy or contract when issued. This provision does not apply to industrial life insurance policies.

(2) If any policy of life or disability insurance delivered in this state is reinstated or renewed and the insured or the beneficiary or assignee of the policy makes written request to the insurer for a copy of the application, if any, for reinstatement or renewal, the insurer shall, within 30 days after receipt of the request at its home office or at any of its branch offices, deliver or mail to the person making the request a copy of the application. If the copy is not delivered or mailed after having been requested, the insurer is precluded from introducing the application in evidence in any action or proceeding based upon or involving the policy or its reinstatement or renewal. In the case of a request from a beneficiary, the time within which the insurer is required to furnish a copy of the application may not begin to run until after receipt of evidence satisfactory to the insurer of the beneficiary's vested interest in the policy or contract.

(3) As to kinds of insurance other than life or disability insurance, an application for insurance signed by or on behalf of the insured may not be admissible in evidence in any action between the insured and the insurer arising out of the policy applied for if the insurer has failed, at expiration of 30 days after receipt by the insurer of written demand by or on behalf of the insured, to furnish to the insured a copy of the application reproduced by any legible means.

(4) An alteration of any written application for any life or disability insurance policy may not be made by any person other than the applicant without the applicant's written consent, except that insertions may be made by the insurer, for administrative purposes only, in a manner that clearly indicates that the insertions are not to be ascribed to the applicant.

33-15-403. Representations in applications — benefit precluded and rescission allowed if fraudulent or material. (1) All statements and descriptions in any application for an insurance policy or annuity contract or in negotiations for an insurance policy or annuity contract by or on behalf of the insured or annuitant are considered representations and not warranties.

(2) Misrepresentations, omissions, concealment of facts, and incorrect statements preclude a benefit and allow rescission under the policy or contract if:

(a) the representations are fraudulent;

(b) the representations are material either to the acceptance of the risk or to the hazard assumed by the insurer; or

(c) the insurer in good faith would either not have issued the policy or contract or would not have issued a policy or contract in as large an amount or at the same premium or rate or would not have provided coverage with respect to the hazard resulting in the loss if the true facts had been made known to the insurer as required either by the application for the policy or contract or otherwise; and

(d) the questions in the application are sufficiently specific so that a reasonable person would understand the requirement to provide the particular facts and that the applicant's response was material to the insurer's decision to provide coverage or to determine the premium or rate to be charged for the coverage.

(3) Subsection (2)(c) does not apply to nonrenewal or discontinuation of group health insurance offered in connection with a group health plan in the small group market or large group market, as those terms are defined in 33-22-140.

(4) If the parties to an insurance policy disagree regarding the propriety of rescission of a policy or a contract under this section, the district courts of this state have jurisdiction to determine the relative rights of the parties under the Uniform Declaratory Judgments Act in Title 27, chapter 8.

(5) This section may not be construed to limit or impair the powers and authority of the commissioner under this title.

33-15-411. Binders for temporary insurance. (1) Binders or other contracts for temporary insurance may be made orally or in writing and shall be deemed to include all the usual terms of the policy as to which the binder was given, together with such applicable endorsements as are designated in the binder, except as superseded by the clear and express terms of the binder.

(2) No binder shall be valid beyond the issuance of the policy with respect to which it was given or beyond 90 days from its effective date, whichever period is the shorter.

(3) If the policy has not been issued, a binder may be extended or renewed beyond such 90 days with the written approval of the insurer.

(4) This section shall not apply to life or disability insurance.

33-15-412. Delivery of policy. (1) Subject to the insurer's requirements as to payment of premium, every policy shall be mailed or delivered to the insured or to the person entitled thereto within a reasonable period of time after its issuance, except where a condition required by the insurer has not been met by the insured.

(2) In event the original policy is delivered or is so required to be delivered to or for deposit with any vendor, mortgagee, or pledgee of any motor vehicle or aircraft and in which policy any interest of the vendee, mortgagor, or pledgor in or with reference to such vehicle or aircraft is insured, a duplicate of such policy setting forth the name and address of the insurer, insurance classification of vehicle or aircraft, type of coverage, limits of liability, premiums for the respective coverages, and duration of the policy or memorandum thereof containing the same such information shall be delivered by the vendor, mortgagee, or pledgee to each such vendee, mortgagor, or pledgor named in the policy or coming within the group of persons designated in the policy to be so included. If the policy does not provide coverage of legal liability for injury to persons or damage to the property of third parties, a statement of such fact shall be printed, written, or stamped conspicuously on the face of such duplicate policy or memorandum.

33-15-413. Renewal by certificate. Any insurance policy terminating by its terms at a specified expiration date and not otherwise renewable may be renewed or extended at the option of the insurer and upon a currently authorized policy form and at the premium rate then required therefor, for a specific additional period or periods by certificate or by endorsement of the policy, and without requiring the issuance of a new policy.

History: En. Sec. 285, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3728.

33-15-414. Assignment. (1) A policy or group certificate issued under a policy may be assignable or not assignable, as provided by its terms.

(2) Subject to its terms relating to the assignability, any life or disability policy or group certificate under either, under the terms of which the beneficiary may be changed upon the sole request of the insured or owner, may be assigned either by pledge or by transfer of title, by an assignment executed by the insured or owner, alone and delivered to the insurer, whether or not the pledgee or assignee is the insurer.

(3) An assignment valid under this section may transfer to the assignee all the rights, privileges, and incidents of ownership of the assignor in the policy or group certificate, including but not limited to the rights to designate beneficiaries and of a group certificate holder to have an individual policy issued in accordance with 33-20-1209 and 33-20-1210. Any assignment entitles the insurer to deal with the assignee as the owner or pledgee of the policy in accordance with the terms of the assignment until the insurer has received at its home office written notice of termination of the assignment or pledge or written notice by or on behalf of some other person claiming some interest in the policy in conflict with the assignment. However, the insurer may not be prejudiced by any payment made or action taken inconsistent with the terms of any assignment before the insurer has received and had reasonable time to act on written notice of the assignment.

(4) This section acknowledges, declares, and codifies the existing right of assignment of interests under insurance policies. An assignment otherwise valid is not invalid because it was made prior to July 1, 1971.

(5) An insurance producer may not have an ownership interest in any policy, by assignment or otherwise, unless the insurance producer has an insurable interest, as defined in 33-15-201, in the life of the insured, except with permission of the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 286, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 167, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3729; amd. Sec. 41, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-15-415. Notice of right to return policy. Each individual life or disability insurance policy, except a single-premium nonrenewable disability policy, issued for delivery in this state or issued after January 1, 1996, must contain a notice stating in substance that if the person to whom the policy is issued is not satisfied for any reason, the person may return the policy within 10 days of its delivery or a longer period if provided by the policy and have refunded directly to the person the premium paid. A policy returned pursuant to this section is void from the beginning.

33-15-416. Dating of insurance applications — antedating prohibited. An application for issuance of an insurance policy may not be antedated by any person in order to obtain or provide coverage for losses or injuries incurred prior to the date of application.

History: En. Sec. 77, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

Part 5
Claims and Benefits

33-15-501. Payment discharges insurer — notice to contrary. Whenever the proceeds of or payments under a life or disability insurance policy or annuity contract heretofore or hereafter issued become payable in accordance with the terms of such policy or contract or the exercise of any right or privilege thereunder and the insurer makes payment thereof in accordance with the terms of the policy or contract or in accordance with any written assignment thereof, the person then designated in the policy or contract or by such assignment as being entitled thereto shall be entitled to receive such proceeds or payments and to give full acquittance therefor, and such payments shall fully discharge the insurer from all claims under the policy or contract unless, before payment is made, the insurer has received at its home office written notice by or on behalf of some other person that such other person claims to be entitled to such payment or some interest in the policy or contract.

33-15-502. Minor may give acquittance. (1) Any minor domiciled in this state who has attained the age of 16 years shall be deemed competent to receive and to give full acquittance and discharge for a payment or payments in aggregate amount not exceeding $3,000 in any one year made by a life insurer under the maturity, death, or settlement agreement provisions in effect or elected by such minor under a life insurance policy or annuity contract, provided such policy, contract, or agreement shall provide for the payment or payments to such minor and if prior to such payment the insurer has not received written notice of the appointment of a duly qualified guardian of the property of the minor. No such minor shall be deemed competent to alienate the right to or to anticipate such payments. This section shall not be deemed to restrict the rights of minors set forth in 33-15-103.

(2) This section shall not be deemed to require any insurer to determine whether any other insurer may be effecting a similar payment to the same minor.

33-15-504. Claims administration not waiver. Without limitation of any right or defense of an insurer otherwise, none of the following acts by or on behalf of an insurer shall be deemed to constitute a waiver of any provision of a policy or of any defense of the insurer thereunder:

(1) acknowledgment of the receipt of notice of loss or claim under the policy;

(2) furnishing forms for reporting a loss or claim, for giving information relative thereto, or for making proof of loss or receiving or acknowledging receipt of any such forms or proofs completed or uncompleted;

(3) investigating any loss or claim under any policy or engaging in negotiations looking toward a possible settlement of any such loss or claim.

33-15-511. Exemption from execution of life insurance proceeds. (1) If a policy of insurance is effected by any person on the person's own life or on another life in favor of a person other than the applicant or, except in cases of transfer with intent to defraud creditors, if a policy of life insurance is assigned or in any way made payable to any person, the lawful beneficiary or assignee of the policy, other than the insured or the person effecting the insurance or executors or administrators of the insured or the person effecting the insurance, is entitled to its proceeds and avails against the creditors and representatives of the insured and of the person effecting the policy whether or not the right to change the beneficiary is reserved or permitted and whether or not the policy is made payable to the person whose life is insured if the beneficiary or assignee predecease that person. However, subject to the statute of limitations, the amount of any premiums for the insurance paid with intent to defraud creditors with interest on the premiums accrues to the creditor's benefit from the proceeds of the policy, but the insurer issuing the policy must be discharged of all liability by payment of its proceeds in accordance with its terms unless before the payment the insurer received written notice at its home office, by or in behalf of a creditor, of a claim to recover for transfer made or premiums paid with intent to defraud creditors, with specifications of the amount claimed.

(2) For the purposes of subsection (1), a policy must also be considered to be payable to a person other than the insured if and to the extent that a facility-of-payment clause or similar clause in the policy permits the insurer to discharge its obligation after the death of the individual insured by paying the death benefits to a person as permitted by the clause.

33-15-512. Exemption from execution of proceeds of group life — exception. (1) A policy of group life insurance or the proceeds of the policy payable to the individual insured or to the beneficiary under the policy may not be liable, either before or after payment, to be applied by any legal or equitable process to pay any debt or liability of the insured individual, of the individual's beneficiary, or of any other person having a right under the policy. The proceeds of the policy, when not made payable to a named beneficiary or to a third person pursuant to a facility-of-payment clause, may not constitute a part of the estate of the individual insured for the payment of the individual's debts.

(2) This section does not apply to group life insurance issued pursuant to Title 33, chapter 20, parts 10, 11, and 12, to a creditor covering the creditor's debtors to the extent that the proceeds are applied to payment of the obligation for the purpose of which the insurance was issued.

The proceeds or other payments of all contracts of disability insurance and of provisions providing benefits on account of the insured's disability that are supplemental to life insurance or annuity contracts are exempt from all liability for any debt of the insured and from any debt of the beneficiary existing at the time the proceeds are made available for the insured's use.

33-15-514. Exemption from execution of proceeds of annuity contracts — assignability of rights. (1) The benefits, rights, privileges, and options that under any annuity contract are due or prospectively due the annuitant may not be subject to execution, the annuitant may not be compelled to exercise any rights, powers, or options, and creditors may not be allowed to interfere with or terminate the contract, except:

(a) as to amounts paid for or as premium on any annuity with intent to defraud creditors, with interest, and of which the creditor has given the insurer written notice at its home office prior to the making of the payments to the annuitant out of which the creditor seeks to recover.

The notice must specify the amount claimed or the facts that will enable the insurer to ascertain the amount and must set forth the facts that will enable the insurer to ascertain the annuity contract, the annuitant, and the payments sought to be avoided on the ground of fraud.

(b) the total exemption of benefits presently due and payable to any annuitant periodically or at stated times under all annuity contracts under which the person is an annuitant may not at any time exceed $250 a month for the length of time represented by the installments and the periodic payments in excess of $350 a month must be subject to garnishee execution;

(c) if the total benefits presently due and payable to any annuitant under all annuity contracts under which the person is an annuitant at any time exceed payment at the rate of $350 a month, then the court may order the annuitant to pay to a judgment creditor or apply on the judgment, in installments, the portion of the excess benefits that appear to the court to be just and proper, after due regard for the reasonable requirements of the judgment debtor and the debtor's family, if dependent upon the debtor, as well as any payments required to be made by the annuitant to other creditors under prior court orders.

(2) If the contract provides, the benefits, rights, privileges, or options accruing under the contract to a beneficiary or assignee may not be transferable or subject to commutation, and if the benefits are payable periodically or at stated times, the same exemptions contained in this section for the annuitant apply with respect to the beneficiary or assignee.

(3) An annuity contract within the meaning of this section is any obligation to pay certain sums at stated times during life or lives or for a specified term or terms, issued for a valuable consideration, regardless of whether or not the sums are payable to one or more persons, jointly or otherwise, but does not include payments under life insurance contracts at stated times during life or lives or for a specified term or terms.

Part 6
Electronic Delivery of Insurance Notices or Documents

(1) "Delivered by electronic means", "delivery by electronic means", or "electronic delivery" means:

(a) delivery to an electronic mail address at which a party has consented to receive notices or documents; or

(b) (i) posting on an electronic network or site accessible by the internet through use of a mobile application, computer, mobile device, tablet, or any other electronic device; and

(ii) sending separate notice of the posting to the electronic mail address at which the party has consented to receive notice of the posting or using any other delivery method to which the party has consented.

(2) "Party" means a recipient of a notice or document required as part of an insurance transaction and includes an applicant, insured, policyholder, certificate holder, or annuity contract holder.

33-15-602. Electronic delivery permitted. (1) Subject to the requirements of Title 30, chapter 18, 33-19-202(7)(c), and this part, a notice to a party or any other document that is required in an insurance transaction or that is to serve as evidence of insurance coverage may be delivered, stored, and presented by electronic means.

(2) Electronic delivery of a notice or document as provided in this part is equivalent to any delivery method otherwise required by law, including delivery by first-class mail, first-class mail postage prepaid, certified mail, or certificate of mailing.

(3) A requirement in law that a notice or document provided to a party expressly requires verification or acknowledgment of receipt of the notice or document may be delivered by electronic means only if the method used provides for verification or acknowledgment of receipt.

(4) If an insurer has reason to believe that a party is not receiving notices or documents that the insurer attempts to deliver by electronic means, including if the insurer attempts delivery by electronic means and receives a notice that the delivery by electronic means has failed, the insurer shall deliver the notices or documents by first-class mail or by any other delivery method required for the notices or documents.

(5) An insurer may not impose on a party a fee or charge because the party:

(a) refuses to consent to delivery of a notice or a document by electronic means; or

(b) withdraws consent to delivery of a notice or a document by electronic means.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 369, L. 2015.

33-15-603. Conditions for electronic delivery. (1) An insurer may use electronic delivery of a notice or a document to a party under this part if the insurer meets the requirements of subsection (2) and the party:

(a) has affirmatively consented to the electronic delivery method and has not withdrawn the consent;

(b) is provided, before or at the time of giving consent, with a clear and conspicuous statement informing the party of:

(i) the right of the party at any time to have the notice or the document provided or made available in paper form or by another nonelectronic form;

(ii) the right of the party at any time to withdraw consent to have a notice or document delivered by electronic means and any conditions or consequences imposed if consent is withdrawn;

(iii) the specific notice or document or categories of notices or documents that may be delivered by electronic means during the course of the relationship between the insurer and the party;

(iv) the means, after consent is given, by which a party may obtain a paper copy of a notice or document delivered by electronic means; and

(v) the procedures for a party to follow to update information needed to contact the party electronically and to withdraw consent to have a notice or a document delivered by electronic means; and

(c) is provided, before or at the time of giving consent, with a statement of the hardware and software requirements for access to and retention of a notice or document delivered by electronic means. The party shall provide electronic consent to the hardware and software requirements or confirm consent electronically in a manner that reasonably demonstrates that the party can access information in the electronic form that will be used for notices or documents delivered by electronic means.

(2) After the party consents as provided in subsection (1), if a change occurs in hardware or software needed to access or retain a notice or document delivered by electronic means that creates a material risk that the party will not be able to access or retain a notice or document to which the consent applies, the insurer shall provide the party with a statement that:

(a) provides information regarding the revised hardware or software requirements for access to and retention of a notice or document delivered by electronic means; and

(b) recognizes the right of the party to withdraw consent without the imposition of any condition or consequence that was not disclosed under subsection (1)(b)(ii).

(3) Consent to delivery by electronic means remains in effect following a policy modification or renewal if the original consent makes clear that consent continues after a policy modification or renewal.

33-15-604. Withdrawal of consent to electronic delivery. (1) Withdrawal of consent to electronic delivery does not affect the legal effectiveness, validity, or enforceability of a notice or a document that is delivered by electronic means to a party before the withdrawal of consent is effective.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), withdrawal of consent by a party becomes effective 15 days after the insurer receives notice of the withdrawal pursuant to the insurer's noticed procedures.

(b) Except as provided in 33-15-603(2) or if a party updates contact information pursuant to the insurer's noticed procedures, a withdrawal becomes effective immediately upon the insurer learning that the electronic delivery method currently used is no longer an effective delivery mechanism with respect to the party.

(3) Failure by an insurer to comply with 33-15-603(2) may be treated, at the election of the party, as a withdrawal of consent, but the party shall communicate the withdrawal pursuant to the insurer's noticed procedures.

33-15-605. Protection of information. An insurer delivering a notice or a document by electronic means shall take appropriate and necessary measures reasonably calculated to ensure that the system for furnishing the notices or documents:

(1) results in actual receipt of transmitted information; and

(2) protects the confidentiality of personal information as defined in 33-19-104.

33-15-606. Validity of electronic delivery. The legal effectiveness, validity, or enforceability of a contract or policy of insurance executed by a party may not be denied solely because the contract or policy was delivered by electronic means if the insurer has obtained the electronic consent of the party as required in 33-15-603.

33-15-607 through 33-15-609 reserved.

33-15-610. Application to other laws. The provisions of this part do not affect requirements related to content or timing of a notice or document required by laws affecting insurance policies, notices, or documents.

Part 11

Property or Casualty Insurance — Premium Changes, Cancellation, and Claim Information

Part Cross-References

Casualty insurance, Title 33, ch. 23.

Property insurance, Title 33, ch. 24.

33-15-1101. Purpose — applicability. (1) The purpose of this part is to protect the public with regard to insurance transactions that involve cancellation, renewal, nonrenewal, or premium increases on contracts of property or casualty insurance by:

(a) regulating the grounds for midterm cancellation of an insurance policy;

(b) except as provided in 33-15-1108, prohibiting midterm increases in premiums;

(c) increasing the opportunity for insureds to shop for replacement or substitute insurance;

(d) reducing the opportunity for breach of contract, misrepresentation by omission or untimely disclosure, and unfair discrimination among insureds; and

(e) increasing the opportunity for insurance producers to compete freely.

(2) This part applies to those forms of insurance defined in 33-1-206 and 33-1-210, except to the extent they conflict with chapter 23 of this title.

(3) This part does not limit the activities that may constitute undefined unfair trade practices prohibited by 33-18-1003. The commissioner may apply other provisions of this code to insurance transactions involving cancellation, renewal, nonrenewal, or premium increases on contracts of property or casualty insurance. Policies may provide terms more favorable to insureds than are required by this part. The rights provided by this part are in addition to and do not prejudice any other rights that the insured may have under common law, statutes, or rules.

(1) "Anniversary date" means the month and day that rates, rating plans, and rating systems are initially applied to a policy in effect. The term includes each annual anniversary thereafter unless the insurer establishes a different date by a filing with the commissioner.

(2) "Cancellation" means the decision by the insurer to terminate an insurance policy prior to the expiration of its term.

(3) "Classification" means an arrangement of insurance risks into an underwriting or rating group according to a classification system used by an insurer as a basis for tabulating statistical experience and determining premium rates.

(4) "Classification system" means a schedule of classifications and a rule used by an insurer for determining the classifications applicable to an insured.

(5) "Insurer" means an insurer authorized to transact property or casualty insurance in this state or an unauthorized insurer transacting surplus lines insurance in this state.

(6) "Premium" means the contractual consideration charged to an insured for insurance for a specified period of time, regardless of the timing of actual charges.

(7) "Rate" means a monetary amount applied to the units of exposure assigned to a classification and used by an insurer to determine the premium for an insured.

(8) "Rating plan" means a rule used by an insurer to calculate:

(a) the premium for an insured; and

(b) the parameter values used in such calculation after application of classification premium rates to units of exposure.

(9) "Renewal" means an agreement between an insurer and an insured to extend or continue an existing insurance policy for 90 days or more.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 120, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 180, L. 1991.

33-15-1103. Midterm cancellation. (1) An insurer may not cancel an insurance policy before either the expiration of the agreed term or 1 year from the effective date of the policy or renewal date, whichever is less, except:

(a) for reasons specifically allowed by statute;

(b) for failure to pay a premium when due; or

(c) on grounds stated in the policy which pertain to the following:

(i) material misrepresentation;

(ii) substantial change in the risk assumed, except to the extent that the insurer should reasonably have foreseen the change or contemplated the risk when the contract was written;

(iii) substantial breaches of contractual duties, conditions, or warranties;

(iv) determination by the commissioner that continuation of the policy would place the insurer in violation of this code;

(v) financial impairment of the insurer; or

(vi) any other reason approved by the commissioner.

(2) Except as provided in 33-23-401, cancellation under subsection (1) is not effective until 10 days after a notice of cancellation is either delivered or mailed to the insured.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply to a newly issued insurance policy if the policy has been in effect less than 60 days at the time the notice of cancellation is mailed or delivered. A cancellation under this subsection is not effective until 10 days after the notice is delivered or mailed to the insured.

(4) If a policy has been issued for a term longer than 1 year and if either the premium is prepaid or an agreed term is guaranteed for additional premium consideration, the insurer may not cancel the policy except:

(a) for reasons specifically allowed by statute;

(b) for failure to pay a premium when due; or

(c) on grounds stated in the policy which pertain to those grounds listed in subsection (1)(c).

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 120, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 263, L. 2005.

33-15-1104. Anniversary cancellation — anniversary rate increases. (1) An insurer may issue a policy for a term longer than 1 year or for an indefinite term if the policy contains a clause that allows cancellation by the insurer if the insurer gives notice 45 days prior to an anniversary date.

(2) If a policy has been issued for a term longer than 1 year and for additional premium consideration an annual premium has been guaranteed, the insurer may not increase the annual premium for the term of that policy.

33-15-1105. Nonrenewal — renewal premium. (1) (a) An insured has a right to reasonable notice of nonrenewal. Unless otherwise provided by statute or unless a longer term is provided in the policy, at least 45 days prior to the expiration date provided in the policy, an insurer who does not intend to renew a policy beyond the agreed expiration date shall mail or deliver to the insured a notice of the intention not to renew. The insurer shall also mail or deliver a copy to the insured's insurance producer.

(b) Notification of nonrenewal to the insured's insurance producer via electronic transfer of data or by an electronic data retrieval device meets the requirement of a mailed or delivered copy.

(2) An insurer shall give notice of premium due not more than 60 days or less than 30 days before the due date of a renewal premium. The notice must clearly state the effect of nonpayment of the premium on or before the due date.

(3) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply if:

(a) the insured has obtained insurance elsewhere, has accepted replacement coverage, or has requested or agreed to nonrenewal; or

(b) the policy is expressly designated as nonrenewable.

(4) An insurer may not refuse to renew a property and casualty insurance policy on the basis of a single loss occurring during the policy period unless the insurer has previously disclosed in writing to the insured, at the time that the insured applied for the insurance or prior to the insured's renewal, that a single loss is among the insurer's criteria for nonrenewal.

(5) (a) For the purposes of this subsection (5), the following definitions apply:

(i) "Claim" means a contact with an insurer by an insured or third party for the purpose of seeking payment. An inquiry into coverage on a property and casualty insurance policy is not claim activity unless:

(A) a payment is made;

(B) a reserve is established or loss adjustment expenses are incurred; or

(C) a written, formal denial of the claim is issued to the insured or claimant.

(ii) "Inquiry" means a request for information regarding the terms, conditions, or coverages offered under a property and casualty insurance policy that does not result in a claim.

(b) An insurer may not use a direct or indirect inquiry as the basis for declining or not renewing insurance coverage or a binder of insurance coverage or for increasing the insurance premium.

(c) An inquiry may not be considered a claim under 33-18-201.

(d) An insurer may not submit to any insurance-support organization or consumer reporting agency an insured's name if the insured made an inquiry about terms or coverage of an insurance policy.

33-15-1106. Renewal with altered terms. (1) If an insurer offers or purports to renew a policy but on less favorable terms, at a higher rate, or at a higher rating plan, the new terms, rate, or rating plan take effect on the policy renewal date only if the insurer has mailed or delivered notice of the new terms, rate, or rating plan to the insured at least 45 days before the expiration date.

(2) This section does not apply if the increase in the rate or the rating plan, or both, results from a classification change based on the altered nature or extent of the risk insured against.

33-15-1107. Information about grounds for nonrenewal. (1) If the insurer or insurance producer receives a written request from an insured within 60 business days from the date on which the insurer mailed a notice of cancellation or nonrenewal to the insured, the insurer or insurance producer shall, within 21 days of receiving the insured's written request, furnish the insured the information that the insurer or insurance producer used to make its decision. A notice is not effective unless it contains adequate information about the insured's right to make the request.

(2) This section does not apply if the ground for cancellation or nonrenewal is nonpayment of the premium and the reason is stated in the notice.

33-15-1108. Limitation on midterm premium increases. (1) In any case involving property or casualty insurance that is subject to this part, the insurer may not unilaterally increase the rate charged or decrease the coverage provided for the contract period unless:

(a) there is a change in risk during that period because of the addition or removal of persons or property that was included in the rate at last renewal;

(b) the risk was misrepresented by the insured; or

(c) the insured requests a policy change that increases the rate because of that specific request.

(2) This section does not prohibit the cancellation of a policy for any other reason permitted by the policy or by law during an initial policy period not to exceed 60 days.

(3) This section does not prohibit an insurer from providing a benefit or premium reduction relating to preventative measures taken by a policyholder under 33-24-110.

Compiler's Comments

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 2, Ch. 105, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-15-1109 and 33-15-1110 reserved.

33-15-1111. Home owner insurance not affected by day-care operations. (1) No insurer writing home owner insurance in this state may deny an applicant home owner insurance or cancel or refuse to renew a home owner insurance policy covering a dwelling located in this state for the principal reason that an insured under the policy operates at the insured location a day-care facility, as defined in 52-2-703, that satisfies the requirements of 52-2-723 or 52-2-724.

(2) This section does not prevent an insurer from excluding or limiting coverage with respect to liability or property losses arising out of an insured's business pursuits, including those related to the operation of a day-care facility.

Cross-References

Written notice required for cancellation or nonrenewal of insurance policies on homes — penalty, 33-23-401.

33-15-1112 through 33-15-1120 reserved.

33-15-1121. Unfair trade practices. (1) The failure of an insurer to comply with this part constitutes an unfair trade practice under 33-18-1003.

(2) Midterm premium increases and policy coverage reductions not in compliance with this part that are attempted or executed constitute unfair trade practices under 33-18-1003.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 120, L. 1987.

33-15-1122 through 33-15-1125 reserved.

33-15-1126. Disclosure of certain claim information on insurance policies. (1) On request of a policyholder, an insurer shall provide to the policyholder, or to an insurance producer designated by the policyholder, a list of claims charged against the policy.

(2) The information must include:

(a) the date and description of the claim;

(b) details relating to the cause and disposition of the claim; and

(c) a list of the claims charged against the policy, including payments made on each claim.

(3) The information must be provided within 10 days of the policyholder's request.

(4) The information provided under this section is confidential insurance information. The information may be used by the policyholder for internal management purposes or for procuring insurance products but may not be disclosed for any other purpose without the express written consent of the insurer.

(5) This section does not apply to workers' compensation insurance.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-16-101. Purpose and intent. (1) The purpose of this chapter is to promote the public welfare by regulating insurance rates as herein provided to the end that they shall not be excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory, to authorize the existence and operation of qualified rating organizations and advisory organizations and require that specified rating services of such rating organizations be generally available to all admitted insurers, and to authorize cooperation between insurers in ratemaking and other related matters.

(2) It is the express intent of this chapter to permit and encourage competition between insurers on a sound financial basis, and nothing in this chapter is intended to give the commissioner power to fix and determine a rate level by classification or otherwise.

(1) "Advisory organization" means each person, other than an admitted insurer, whether located within or outside this state, who prepares policy forms or makes underwriting rules incident to but not including the making of rates, rating plans, or rating systems or who collects and furnishes to admitted insurers or rating organizations loss or expense statistics or other statistical information and data and acts in an advisory, as distinguished from a ratemaking, capacity. A licensed attorney, acting in the usual course of the profession, may not be considered an advisory organization.

(2) "Dividend" means:

(a) a noncontractual and nonrecoverable payment or credit declared by an insurer's board of directors and paid out or credited out of earned surplus to policyholders, members, or subscribers; or

(b) in the absence of earned surplus, a noncontractual and nonrecoverable payment or credit declared by an insurer's board of directors and paid to policyholders, members, or subscribers with the written permission of the commissioner. The commissioner may grant permission only if the payment of the dividend or credit will not reduce the insurer's capital and surplus below an amount three times the minimum capital required under 33-2-109.

(3) "Member" means an insurer who participates in or is entitled to participate in the management of a rating, advisory, or other organization.

(4) "Rating organization" means each person, other than an admitted insurer, whether located within or outside this state, with the object or purpose of making rates, rating plans, or rating systems. Two or more admitted insurers who act in concert for the purpose of making rates, rating plans, or rating systems and who do not operate within the specific authorizations contained in 33-16-105, 33-16-302, 33-16-304, 33-16-305, and 33-16-307 must be considered a rating organization. A single insurer may not be considered a rating organization.

(5) "Subscriber" means an insurer who is furnished at its request with rates and rating manuals by a rating organization of which the insurer is not a member or with advisory services by an advisory organization of which it is not a member.

(6) "Willful" or "willfully", in relation to an act or omission that constitutes a violation of this chapter, means with actual knowledge or belief that the act or omission constitutes a violation and with specific intent to commit the violation.

33-16-103. Application. This chapter applies to all insurers and all kinds of insurance, except that nothing contained in this chapter applies to:

(1) life insurance;

(2) disability insurance, except medicare supplement insurance subject to the provisions of chapter 22, part 9;

(3) reinsurance, except joint reinsurance as provided in 33-16-307;

(4) insurance against loss of or damage to aircraft, their hulls, accessories, and equipment, or against liability, other than workers' compensation and employers' liability, arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of aircraft;

(5) insurance of vessels or craft, their cargoes, marine builders' risks, marine protection and indemnity, or other risks commonly insured under marine, as distinguished from inland marine, insurance policies; or

(6) surplus lines insurance as defined in 33-2-301.

33-16-104. Payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits not prohibited or regulated — plan for payment not rating system. Nothing in this chapter may be construed to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers. A plan for the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers may not be considered a rating plan or system. A plan for the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers does not relieve the insurer from complying with any requirements of this chapter regarding rating plans or systems.

33-16-105. Maintenance of records. Every insurer, rating organization, or advisory organization and every group, association, or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance shall maintain reasonable records, of the type and kind reasonably adapted to its method of operation, of its experience or the experience of its members and of the data, statistics, or information collected or used by it in connection with the rates, rating plans, rating systems, underwriting rules, policy or bond forms, surveys or inspections made or used by it so that such records will be available at all reasonable times to enable the commissioner to determine whether such organization, insurer, group, or association and, in the case of an insurer or rating organization, every rate, rating plan, and rating system made or used by it complies with the provisions of this chapter applicable to it. The maintenance of such records in the office of a licensed rating organization of which an insurer is a member or subscriber will be sufficient compliance with this section for any insurer maintaining membership or subscribership in such organization, to the extent that the insurer uses the rates, rating plans, rating systems, or underwriting rules of such organization. Such records shall be maintained in an office within this state or shall be made available for examination or inspection within this state by the commissioner at any time upon reasonable notice.

33-16-106. Examination by commissioner of rating organizations, admitted insurers, officers, managers, insurance producers, and employees — expense. (1) (a) The commissioner may, as often as may be reasonable and necessary, make or cause to be made an examination of each licensed rating organization. The commissioner may, as often as may be reasonable and necessary, make or cause to be made an examination of any advisory organization or group, association, or other organization of insurers that engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance.

(b) In lieu of an examination, the commissioner may accept the report of an examination made by the insurance supervisory official of another state or by the national association of insurance commissioners.

(c) In examining any organization, group, or association pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall ascertain whether an organization, group, or association and, in the case of a rating organization, any rate or rating system made or used by it, complies with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable to it.

(2) The commissioner may, at any reasonable time, make or cause to be made an examination of every admitted insurer transacting any class of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable to ascertain whether the insurer and every rate and rating system used by it for every class of insurance complies with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable to it. The examination may not be a part of a periodic general examination participated in by representatives of more than one state.

(3) The officers, managers, insurance producers, and employees of any organization, group, association, or insurer may be examined at any time under oath and shall exhibit all books, records, accounts, documents, or agreements governing its method of operation, together with all data, statistics, and information of every kind and character collected or considered by an organization, group, association, or insurer in the conduct of the operations to which the examination relates.

(4) The reasonable cost of any examination authorized by this article must be paid by the organization, group, association, or insurer to be examined.

33-16-107. Information not to be willfully withheld. No person, insurer, or organization shall willfully withhold information from or knowingly give false or misleading information to the commissioner or to any rating organization, advisory organization, insurer, or group, association, or other organization of insurers which will affect the rates, rating systems, or premiums for the classes of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable.

33-16-111. Issuance of order — suspension or revocation of certificate of authority or license. If, after a hearing pursuant to 33-16-206, the commissioner finds:

(1) that an insurer, a rating organization, an advisory organization, or a group, association, or other organization of insurers that engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance is in violation of the provisions of this chapter applicable to it, other than the provisions dealing with rates, rating plans, or rating systems, the commissioner may issue an order to the insurer, organization, group, or association that has been the subject of the hearing, specifying in what respects the violation exists and requiring compliance within a reasonable time;

(2) that the violation of any of the provisions of this chapter applicable to it by any insurer or rating organization that has been the subject of hearing was willful, the commissioner may suspend or revoke, in whole or in part, the certificate of authority of the insurer or the license of the rating organization with respect to the class of insurance that has been the subject matter of the hearing;

(3) that any rating organization has willfully engaged in any fraudulent or dishonest act or practices, the commissioner may suspend or revoke, in whole or in part, the license of the organization, in addition to any other penalty provided in this chapter.

33-16-113. Appeal from order or decision of commissioner. Any person, insurer, or rating organization aggrieved by any order or decision made by the commissioner under this chapter may appeal to the district court of the county where the aggrieved party may reside or has a principal place of business in this state or to the district court of Lewis and Clark County, Montana. The appeal must be taken within 30 days from the making and filing of the order or decision by filing in the office of the commissioner a notice of the appeal in writing. The commissioner shall, within 20 days after filing of the notice, make and return to the district court a full and complete certified transcript of the finding and order appealed from and of all parts relative to the finding and order on file in the commissioner's office, including the notice of appeal. Upon filing of the certified transcript, all matters involved in the appeal must be brought on for trial upon the merits at the next term of the court after the filing of the transcript unless otherwise ordered by the court. Upon the trial, the findings of fact on which the order is based must be prima facie evidence of the matters stated. During the pendency of the proceedings upon review, the order of the commissioner is suspended, but in the event of a final determination against any insurer, any overcharge by the insurer during review must be refunded to the persons entitled to the refund.

33-16-117. Wildfire risk score in residential property evaluation in rating. (1) An insurer that uses a wildfire risk score in connection with property evaluation in rating of residential real property shall, on the request of an insured, the insured's insurance producer, or an applicant for residential property insurance coverage for the wildfire risk score, provide the following information to the insured or the applicant to enhance transparency:

(a) the current wildfire risk score of the residential property;

(b) the range of possible wildfire risk scores under the model used;

(c) the name of the person or entity that created the wildfire risk score;

(d) the date on which the wildfire risk score was created; and

(e) the key factors that adversely affected the wildfire risk score of the residential property.

(2) An insurer shall provide to a property owner the information referred to in subsection (1) by no later than 30 days after receiving a request for the information.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) (i) "Insurer" means admitted insurers in this state.

(ii) The term does not apply to nonadmitted insurers.

(b) "Wildfire risk score" means a numerical value, rating, or categorization derived from a statistical tool, modeling system, algorithm, or other process that is used to measure or assess wildfire risk for a residential property for the purposes of property evaluation in rating.

Part 2
Rates and Rating Plans

33-16-201. Standards applicable to rates. The following standards apply to the making and use of rates pertaining to all classes of insurance to which the provisions of this chapter are applicable:

(1) (a) Rates may not be excessive or inadequate, and they may not be unfairly discriminatory.

(b) A rate may not be held to be excessive unless the rate is unreasonably high for the insurance provided and a reasonable degree of competition does not exist in the area with respect to the classification to which the rate is applicable.

(c) A rate may not be held to be inadequate unless the rate is unreasonably low for the insurance provided and the continued use of the rate endangers the solvency of the insurer using the rate or unless the rate is unreasonably low for the insurance provided and the use of the rate by the insurer has, or if continued will have, the effect of destroying competition or creating a monopoly.

(2) (a) Consideration must be given, when applicable, to past and prospective loss experience within and outside this state, to revenue and profits from reserves, to conflagration and catastrophe hazards, if any, to a reasonable margin for underwriting profit and contingencies, to past and prospective expenses, both countrywide and those specially applicable to this state, and to all other factors, including judgment factors, considered relevant within and outside this state. In the case of fire insurance rates, consideration may be given to the experience of the fire insurance business during the most recent 5-year period for which experience is available.

(b) Consideration may also be given in the making and use of rates to dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers.

(3) The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by any insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of other insurers or groups of insurers to reflect the operating methods of the insurer or group with respect to any kind of insurance or with respect to any subdivision or combination of insurance.

(4) (a) Risks may be grouped by classifications for the establishment of rates and minimum premiums. Classification rates may be modified to produce rates for separate risks in accordance with rating plans that establish standards for measuring variations in hazards or expense provisions, or both. The standards may measure any difference among risks that have a probable effect upon losses or expenses. Classifications or modifications of classifications of risks may be established, based on size, expense, management, individual experience, location or dispersion of hazard, or any other reasonable considerations.

(b) Special risk classifications may be established for private passenger automobile policies. Special risk classifications may be based on favorable aspects of an insured individual's claims history. Special risk classifications may not be established based on adverse information contained in an insured individual's driving record that is 3 years old or older.

(c) Special risk classifications may be established for commercial automobile policies. Special risk classifications for commercial automobile policies may be based on favorable aspects of an insured's claims history. Special risk classifications for commercial automobile policies may not be established based on adverse information contained in an insured's claims history or driving records that is 5 years old or older.

(d) Special risk classifications may be established for personal homeowner policies. Special risk classifications may be based on favorable aspects of an insured individual's claims history. Special risk classifications may not be established based on adverse information contained in an insured individual's claims history that is 7 years old or older.

(e) Classifications and modifications apply to all risks under the same or substantially the same circumstances or conditions.

(f) As used in subsection (4)(b), "private passenger automobile policy" means an automobile insurance policy issued to individuals or families but does not include policies known as commercial automobile policies.

(g) As used in subsection (4)(d), "personal homeowner policies" means property insurance under 33-1-210 that is sold by an insurer for personal, family, or household purposes.

33-16-202. Recording and reporting of loss and expense experience. (1) The commissioner may promulgate and may modify reasonable rules and statistical plans, reasonably adapted to each of the rating systems used, which must be used by each insurer in the recording and reporting of its loss and countrywide expense experience, in order that the experience of all insurers may be made available at least annually in form and detail as necessary to aid the commissioner in determining whether rates comply with the applicable standards of this chapter. The rules and plans may also provide for the recording and reporting of expense experience items that are specially applicable to this state and are not susceptible of determination by a prorating of countrywide expense experience.

(2) In promulgating rules and plans, the commissioner shall give consideration to the rating systems in use in this state and, in order that the rules and plans may be as uniform as is practicable among the several states, to the rules and to the form of the plans used for rating systems in other states. An insurer may not be required to record or report its loss experience on a classification basis that is inconsistent with the rating system used by it.

(3) The commissioner may designate one or more rating organizations or other agencies to assist in gathering and making compilations of loss and expense experience, and the compilations must be made available, subject to reasonable rules promulgated by the commissioner, to insurers and rating organizations.

33-16-203. Rates filed. (1) Every insurer, rating organization, or advisory organization shall file with the commissioner all rates intended for use within this state, together with supporting data sufficient to substantiate the filing. The filing required by this subsection may be made by rating organizations on behalf of their members and subscribers. However, this provision does not prohibit a member or subscriber from filing rates on its own behalf. Any deviations from a rating organization's rates by a member or subscriber must be filed with the commissioner and must be accompanied by supporting data.

(2) Rates filed must provide for a premium reduction to:

(a) qualified insured operators who are 55 years of age or older in accordance with 33-16-222; or

(3) Rates filed may provide a benefit or premium reduction for preventative measures taken by the insured for homeowner's insurance under 33-24-110.

33-16-204. Review of rates on request by aggrieved person. (1) A person aggrieved by any rate charged, rating plan, rating system, or underwriting rule followed or adopted by an insurer or rating organization may request the insurer or rating organization to review the manner in which the rate, plan, system, or rule has been applied with respect to insurance afforded the person. The request may be made by the person's authorized representative and must be written.

(2) If the request is not granted within 30 days after it is made, the requester may treat it as rejected.

(3) Any person aggrieved by the action of an insurer or rating organization in refusing the review requested or in failing or refusing to grant all or part of the relief requested may file a written complaint and request for hearing with the commissioner, specifying the grounds relied upon. If the commissioner has information concerning a similar complaint, the commissioner may deny the hearing. If the commissioner believes that probable cause for the complaint does not exist or that the complaint is not made in good faith, the commissioner shall deny the hearing. Otherwise, and if the commissioner finds that the complaint charges a violation of this chapter and that the complainant would be aggrieved if the violation is proven, the commissioner shall proceed as provided in 33-16-205.

33-16-205. Noncompliance of rates — notice. If, after examination of an insurer, rating organization, advisory organization, or group, association, or other organization of insurers that engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance or upon the basis of other information or upon sufficient complaint as provided in 33-16-204, the commissioner has good cause to believe that the insurer, organization, group, or association or any rate, rating plan, or rating system made or used by the insurer or rating organization does not comply with the requirements and standards of this chapter applicable to it, the commissioner shall, unless the commissioner has good cause to believe that the noncompliance is willful, give notice, in writing, to the insurer, organization, group, or association stating in what manner and to what extent the noncompliance is alleged to exist and specifying a reasonable time, not less than 10 days after receipt, in which the noncompliance may be corrected.

33-16-206. Hearings — notice — subject of hearing. (1) If the commissioner has good cause to believe the noncompliance to be willful or if within the period prescribed by the commissioner in the notice required by 33-16-205 the insurer, organization, group, or association does not make changes that may be necessary to correct the noncompliance specified by the commissioner or establish to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the specified noncompliance does not exist, then the commissioner may hold a public hearing in connection with the noncompliance, provided that within a reasonable period of time, which may not be less than 10 days before the date of hearing, the commissioner mails written notice specifying the matters to be considered at the hearing to the insurer, organization, group, or association. If notice has not been given as provided in 33-16-205, the notice must state in what manner and to what extent noncompliance is alleged to exist.

(2) The hearing may not include any additional subjects not specified in the notices required by 33-16-205 or this section.

33-16-222. Requirement for rate reduction. (1) Any rates, rating schedules, or rating manuals for liability, bodily injury, or collision coverages of a motor vehicle insurance policy filed with the insurance department must provide for an appropriate premium reduction as determined by the insurer for an insured operator of a covered vehicle who is 55 years of age or older and who has successfully completed a highway traffic safety program as provided by 61-2-102 and 61-2-103.

(2) In addition to providing a premium reduction, an insurer may reimburse the fee for participating in the highway traffic safety program.

(3) The premium reduction used by the insurer is presumed appropriate unless credible data demonstrates otherwise.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 49, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 469, L. 2005.

33-16-223. Effective period of reduction. (1) The premium reduction required by 33-16-222 is effective for an insured for a 3-year period after successful completion of the approved course. Each person shall take an approved course every 3 years in order to continue to be eligible for the reduction in premium required by 33-16-222.

(2) An insurer may require, as a condition of maintaining the discount, any or all of the following:

(a) that the insured not be involved in an accident in which the insured is at fault;

(b) that the insured not be convicted of or plead guilty or nolo contendere to a moving traffic violation; or

(c) that the insured not have forfeited bail or collateral for a moving traffic violation.

33-16-226 through 33-16-229 reserved.

33-16-230. Rate reduction for military defensive drivers — effective period — exclusions. (1) (a) Any rates, rating schedules, or rating manuals for liability, bodily injury, or collision coverages of a motor vehicle insurance policy filed with the insurance department must provide for an appropriate premium reduction as determined by the insurer for a member of the Montana national guard who is an insured operator of a covered nonmilitary vehicle and who has successfully completed a defensive driving course referred to in 61-2-102(2).

(2) The premium reduction required under subsection (1)(a) is effective for an insured for 3 years after successful completion of the approved course. Each person shall successfully complete a defensive driving course referred to in 61-2-102(2) every 3 years to remain eligible for the reduction provided in subsection (1)(a).

(3) Subsection (1)(a) does not apply if the approved course is taken as punishment specified by a court or other governmental entity for a moving traffic violation.

(4) An insurer may deny the discount under subsection (1)(a) if within 3 years prior to the insured's application for the rate reduction or during the period for which the rate reduction is provided:

(a) the insured was convicted of or plead guilty or nolo contendere to a moving traffic violation;

(b) the insured has forfeited bail or collateral for a moving traffic violation; or

33-16-305. Agreements for apportionment of casualty insurance — approval of commissioner — review of practices of adherents — revocation of approval. (1) Agreements may be made among admitted insurers with respect to the equitable apportionment among them of casualty insurance that may be afforded applicants who are in good faith entitled to but who are unable to procure the insurance through ordinary methods and with respect to the use of reasonable rate modifications for the insurance. The agreements are subject to the approval of the commissioner.

(2) All agreements must be submitted in writing to the commissioner for consideration and approval, together with information that the commissioner may reasonably require. The commissioner shall approve only agreements that are found to contemplate:

(a) the use of rates that meet the standards prescribed by this chapter; and

(b) activities and practices that are not unfair, unreasonable, or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(3) At any time after the agreements are in effect, the commissioner may review the practices and activities of the parties to the agreements and if, after a hearing upon not less than 10 days' notice to the parties, the commissioner finds that any practice or activity is unfair or unreasonable or is otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, the commissioner may issue a written order to the parties to any agreement, specifying in what respects the act or practice is unfair or unreasonable or otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter and requiring the discontinuance of the activity or practice. For good cause and after hearing upon not less than 10 days' notice to the parties, the commissioner may revoke approval of any agreement referred to in this section.

33-16-306. Joint underwriters and reinsurers — compliance. Upon compliance with the provisions of this chapter applicable thereto, any rating organization, advisory organization, and any group, association, or other organization of admitted insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance through such organization or by standing agreement among the members thereof may conduct operations in this state. As respects insurance risks or operations in this state, no insurer shall be a member or subscriber of any such organization, group, or association that has not complied with the provisions of this chapter applicable to it.

33-16-307. Joint underwriting and joint reinsurance — application — restrictions on operations. (1) Every group, association, or other organization of insurers which engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance through such group, association, or organization or by standing agreement among the members thereof, shall file with the commissioner:

(a) a copy of its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and of its bylaws and rules governing its activities, all duly certified by the custodian of the originals thereof;

(b) a list of its members; and

(c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process may be served.

(2) Every such group, association, or other organization shall notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and its bylaws and rules governing the conduct of its business; its list of members; and the name and address of the resident of this state designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such group, association, or organization may be served.

(3) No such group, association, or organization shall engage in any unfair or unreasonable practice with respect to such activities.

(a) a copy of its constitution, articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and of its bylaws or rules governing its activities, all duly certified by the custodian of the originals thereof;

(b) a list of its members and subscribers; and

(c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process may be served.

(2) Every such advisory organization shall notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and of its bylaws and rules governing the conduct of its business; its list of members and subscribers; and the name and address of the resident of this state designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such organization may be served.

(3) No such advisory organization shall engage in any unfair or unreasonable practice with respect to such activities.

Part 4
Rating Organizations

33-16-401. Rating organizations — compliance — application. (1) No rating organization shall conduct its operations in this state without first filing with the commissioner a written application for and securing a license to act as a rating organization. Any rating organization may make application for and obtain a license as a rating organization if it shall meet the requirements for license set forth in this chapter.

(2) Every such rating organization shall file with its application:

(a) a copy of its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and of its bylaws and rules governing the conduct of its business, all duly certified by the custodian or the originals thereof;

(b) a list of its members and subscribers;

(c) the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such rating organization may be served; and

(d) a statement of its qualifications as a rating organization.

33-16-402. Evidence prerequisite to license. To obtain and retain a license, a rating organization shall provide satisfactory evidence to the commissioner that it will:

(1) permit any admitted insurer to become a member of or a subscriber to such rating organization at a reasonable cost and without discrimination or withdraw therefrom;

(2) neither have nor adopt any rule or exact any agreement, the effect of which would be to require any member or subscriber, as a condition to membership or subscribership, to adhere to its rates, rating plans, rating systems, underwriting rules, or policy or bond forms;

(3) neither adopt any rule nor exact any agreement, the effect of which would be to prohibit or regulate the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers;

(4) neither practice nor sanction any plan or act of boycott, coercion, or intimidation;

(5) neither enter into nor sanction any contract or act by which any person is restrained from lawfully engaging in the insurance business;

(6) notify the commissioner promptly of every change in its constitution, its articles of incorporation, agreement, or association, and of its bylaws and rules governing the conduct of its business; its list of members and subscribers; and the name and address of the resident of this state designated by it upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such organization may be served;

(7) comply with the provisions of 33-16-105 and 33-16-203.

33-16-403. Examination of application and investigation of applicant — issuance of license — fee. (1) The commissioner shall examine each application for a license to act as a rating or advisory organization pursuant to this part or a workers' compensation advisory organization pursuant to part 10 and the documents filed with the application and may make a further investigation of the applicant, its affairs, and its proposed plan of business as the commissioner considers appropriate.

(2) The commissioner shall issue the license applied for within 60 days of its filing if, from the examination and investigation, the commissioner is satisfied that:

(a) the business reputation of the applicant and its officers is good;

(b) the facilities of the applicant are adequate to enable it to furnish the services it proposes to furnish; and

(c) the applicant and its proposed plan of operation conform to the requirements of this chapter.

(3) Otherwise, but only after a hearing upon notice, the commissioner shall, in writing, deny the application and notify the applicant of the decision and the reasons for the denial.

(4) The commissioner may grant an application in part only and issue a license to act as a rating, advisory, or workers' compensation advisory organization for one or more of the classes of insurance or subdivisions of the classes of insurance or class of risk, or a part or combination of a class of risk as are specified in the application, if the applicant qualifies for only a portion of the classes applied for.

(5) (a) Except as provided in subsection (5)(b), licenses issued pursuant to this section remain in effect until revoked as provided in this chapter. The fee for the license is $100 annually and must be deposited in the state special revenue fund to the credit of the state auditor's office.

(b) Each workers' compensation advisory organization is required to renew its license annually.

33-16-405. Insurers with common ownership or management. If two or more insurers having a common ownership or operating in this state under common management are admitted for the classes or types of insurance for which a rating organization is licensed to make rates, the rating organization may require as a condition to membership or subscribership of one or more that all such insurers shall become members or subscribers.

Part 10

Workers' Compensation Rates and Advisory Organizations

33-16-1001. Declaration of policy and purpose. (1) It is declared that the public welfare is served by the making of advisory premium rates for workers' compensation insurance coverage in concert.

(2) It is the purpose of this part to:

(a) authorize such ratemaking in concert and the operating of rating organizations thereto; and

(b) establish the general bases and standards for the making of such rates.

33-16-1002. Applicability of part. This part, together and in conjunction with parts 1 through 4 of this chapter, applies to the making of premium rates for workers' compensation insurance issued under compensation plan No. 2 and plan No. 3 of the Workers' Compensation Act, Title 39, chapter 71, part 22 and part 23, respectively, or related employer's liability insurance, but does not apply to reinsurance.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 329, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 558, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5602; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 320, L. 2015.

33-16-1003. Certain reciprocal insurers excluded. This part shall not apply as to any reciprocal insurer transacting workers' compensation insurance only and insuring solely the hazards or perils of its subscribers exclusively associated with a single industry.

(1) "Accepted actuarial standards" means the standards adopted by the casualty actuarial society in its Statement of Principles Regarding Property and Casualty Insurance Ratemaking and the Standards of Practice adopted by the actuarial standards board.

(2) (a) "Advisory organization" means a person or organization that either has two or more member insurers or is controlled either directly or indirectly by two or more insurers and that assists insurers in ratemaking-related activities.

(b) The term does not include a joint underwriting association, any actuarial or legal consultant, or any employee of an insurer or insurers under common control or management or their employees or manager. For the purposes of this subsection (2)(b), two or more insurers who have a common ownership or operate in this state under common control or management constitute a single insurer.

(3) "Classification system" means the plan, system, or arrangement for recognizing differences in exposure to hazards among industries, occupations, or operations of insurance policyholders.

(4) "Contingencies" means provisions in rates to recognize the uncertainty of the estimates of losses, loss adjustment expenses, other operating expenses, and investment income and profit that comprise those rates. The provisions may be explicit, including but not limited to a specific charge to reflect systematic variations of estimated costs from expected costs, or implicit, including but not limited to a consideration in selecting a single estimate from a reasonable range of estimates, or both.

(5) "Developed losses" means adjusted losses, including loss adjustment expenses, using accepted actuarial standards to eliminate the effect of differences between current payment or reserve estimates and those needed to provide actual ultimate loss payments, including loss adjustment expense payments.

(6) "Expenses" means the portion of a rate that is attributable to acquisition, filed supervision and collection expenses, general expenses and taxes, licenses, or fees.

(7) "Experience rating" means a rating procedure using past insurance experience of the individual policyholder to forecast future losses by measuring the policyholder's loss experience against the loss experience of policyholders in the same classification to produce a prospective premium credit, debit, or unity modification.

(8) "Insurer" means a person licensed to write workers' compensation insurance as a plan No. 2 insurer or plan No. 3, the state fund, under the laws of the state.

(9) "Loss trending" means a procedure for projecting developed losses to the average date of loss for the period during which the policies are to be effective, including loss ratio trending.

(10) "Market" means the interaction in this state between buyers and plan No. 2 sellers of workers' compensation and employer's liability insurance pursuant to the provisions of this part.

(11) (a) "Prospective loss costs" means historical aggregate losses and loss adjustment expenses, including all assessments that are loss-based and excluding any separately stated policyholder surcharges, projected through development to their ultimate value and through trending to a future point in time and ascertained by accepted actuarial standards.

(b) The term does not include provisions for profit or expenses other than loss adjustment expenses and assessments that are loss-based.

(12) "Pure premium rate" means the portion of the rate that represents the loss cost per unit of exposure, including loss adjustment expense.

(13) (a) "Rate" or "rates" means rate of premium, policy and membership fee, or any other charge made by an insurer for or in connection with a contract or policy of workers' compensation and employer's liability insurance, prior to application of individual risk variations based on loss or expense considerations.

(b) The term does not include minimum premiums.

(14) "Reserve estimates" means provisions for insurer obligations for future payments of loss or loss adjustment expenses.

(15) "Statistical plan" means the plan, system, or arrangement that is used in collecting data.

(16) "Supplementary rate information" means a manual or plan of rates, statistical plan, classification system, minimum premium, policy fee, rating rule, rate-related underwriting rule, and any other information needed to determine the applicable premium for an individual insured that is consistent with the purposes of this part and with rules prescribed by rule of the commissioner.

(17) "Supporting information" means the experience and judgment of the filer and the experience or data of other insurers or advisory organizations relied on by the filer, the interpretation of any statistical data relied on by the filer, descriptions of methods used in making the rates, and any other similar information required to be filed by the commissioner.

33-16-1009 and 33-16-1010 reserved.

33-16-1011. Classification review committee — membership — term. (1) There is a classification review committee.

(2) The committee is composed of five voting members, consisting of:

(a) two representatives of private insurance carriers writing workers' compensation insurance in Montana. The members must be appointed by the Montana commissioner of insurance.

(b) one licensed independent insurance producer who resides in Montana, appointed by the commissioner of insurance;

(c) one representative of the state compensation insurance fund who is an employee of the state fund and who is appointed by the executive director of the state fund; and

(d) one representative of an employer who is insured by either a private insurance carrier or the state compensation insurance fund, appointed by the commissioner of insurance.

(3) Each member shall hold office for a period of 3 years. An appointee who fills the vacancy of a member whose term has not expired shall fill only the remaining term and may be reappointed for a full term.

(4) Before appointments are to be made by the commissioner of insurance under subsections (2)(a), (2)(b), and (2)(d), established private organizations representing insurance carriers, independent insurance producers, and employers may submit names of individuals they recommend for appointments. The commissioner of insurance shall consider the names submitted before appointments are made. However, the commissioner of insurance is not required to appoint any person from the names submitted.

(5) The committee must be staffed by the advisory organization designated under 33-16-1023 and be funded by the advisory organization. Committee members may, if they request, be paid their actual and necessary travel expenses.

(6) Documents and other information concerning the committee's actions must be made available for public review in the office of the commissioner of insurance.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 329, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 558, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5618; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 114, L. 1981; MCA 1979, 33-16-1007; redes. 33-16-1011 by Code Commissioner, 1981; amd. 33-16-1012. Functions and powers of classification review committee — hearings — rulemaking. (1) The classification review committee shall:

(a) meet not less than semiannually to conduct its business;

(b) make the final determination regarding the establishment or revision of all classifications in accordance with the procedures set forth in Title 2, chapter 4, part 3;

(c) publish material and pamphlets as it considers appropriate;

(d) act as a review committee concerning objections filed by a policyholder or insurer in relation to classifications assigned to a policyholder according to rules governing the issuance or application of classifications; and

(e) make rules as may be necessary for the conduct of any business that is subject to notice and hearings. The rules must be published and adopted as provided in Title 2, chapter 4, part 3, and must be published in the Administrative Rules of Montana as part of the rules promulgated by the commissioner of insurance.

(2) (a) The initial hearing conducted by the committee pursuant to subsection (1)(d) must be informal and nonbinding upon the parties and must be conducted pursuant to rules of procedure that the committee considers to be appropriate. The committee shall issue its written advisory decision within 30 days of the conclusion of the hearing and send a written copy of the decision by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to each party. Each party to the informal hearing shall notify the committee and each other party of the notifying party's intent to be bound or not bound by the committee's advisory decision, and the notice must be made within 30 days of the date the committee mails the written copy of the decision to the parties.

(b) A party who is aggrieved by the advisory decision of the committee, or by the refusal of a party to be bound by the committee's advisory decision rendered after a hearing conducted pursuant to subsection (2)(a) may, within 30 days after the expiration of the 30-day notice deadline specified in subsection (2)(a), initiate an informal contested case proceeding pursuant to 2-4-604 before the committee, and the committee shall hear the matter in a de novo administrative proceeding as provided in Title 2, chapter 4, part 6. The committee may, in its discretion or at the request of any party, appoint a hearings examiner. If a hearings examiner is appointed, the examiner shall take evidence and prepare proposed findings of fact and conclusions of law that the committee may accept, reject, or modify, in whole or in part, based on the evidence produced during the informal contested case proceeding.

(c) A party who is aggrieved by a decision of the committee rendered after a hearing conducted pursuant to subsection (2)(b) may petition the workers' compensation court for judicial review of the decision pursuant to Title 2, chapter 4, part 7.

(3) The committee is subject to the provisions of Title 2, chapter 3, parts 1 and 2.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 114, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 528, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 23, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 290, L. 1995.

33-16-1013 through 33-16-1019 reserved.

33-16-1020. Competitive market — hearing. (1) A competitive market is presumed to exist unless the commissioner, after hearing, issues an order stating that a reasonable degree of competition does not exist in the market. The order may not expire later than 1 year after issuance.

(2) In determining whether a reasonable degree of competition exists, the commissioner shall consider the following factors:

(a) the number of insurers actively engaged in providing coverage;

(b) market shares and changes in market shares;

(c) ease of entry into the market;

(d) market concentration among plan No. 2 insurers as measured by the Herfindahl-Hirschman index;

(e) whether long-term profitability for insurers in the market is unreasonably high in relation to the risks being insured;

(f) whether long-term profitability for insurers in the market is reasonable in relation to industries of comparable business risks; and

(g) generally accepted and relevant tests relating to competitive market structure, market performance, and market conduct.

(3) The workers' compensation insurance market may not be determined to be noncompetitive if the market concentration of the 50 largest insurers writing workers' compensation insurance under plan No. 2 satisfied the U.S. department of justice merger guidelines for an unconcentrated market.

(4) The commissioner's determinations must be made on the basis of findings of fact and conclusions of law.

33-16-1021. Ratemaking standards — review by commissioner. (1) Rates may not be excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), rates in a competitive market are not excessive. Rates in a noncompetitive market are excessive if they are likely to produce a long-run profit that is unreasonably high in relation to services rendered.

(b) Rates for the state fund may not be determined to be excessive unless the rate clearly is likely to produce an excess of assets over what is reasonably necessary to pay developed losses, contingencies, expenses, and a reasonable level of surplus.

(3) A rate may not be determined to be inadequate unless:

(a) the rate is clearly insufficient to sustain projected losses and expenses;

(b) the rate is unreasonably low and the use of the rate by the insurer has had or, if continued, will tend to create a monopoly in the market; or

(c) funds equal to the full, ultimate cost of anticipated losses and loss adjustment expenses are not produced when prospective loss costs are applied to anticipated payrolls.

(4) Unfair discrimination exists if, after allowing for practical limitations, price differentials fail to reflect equitably the differences in expected losses and expenses. A rate is not unfairly discriminatory because different premiums result for policyholders with different loss exposures or expense levels.

(5) In determining whether rates comply with standards under subsection (1), consideration must be given to:

(a) past and prospective loss experience within and outside Montana, in accordance with accepted actuarial principles;

(b) catastrophe hazards and contingencies;

(c) past and prospective expenses within and outside Montana;

(d) loadings for leveling premium rates over time for dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers;

(e) a reasonable margin for underwriting profit; and

(f) all other relevant factors within and outside Montana.

(6) The systems of expense provisions included in the rates for use by an insurer or group of insurers may differ from those of any other insurer or group of insurers to reflect the requirements of the operating methods of the insurer or group of insurers.

(7) The rate may contain provisions of contingencies and an allowance permitting a reasonable profit. In determining the reasonableness of a profit, consideration must be given to all investment income attributable to premiums and the reserves associated with those premiums.

(8) The commissioner may investigate and determine whether rates in Montana are excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory. In any investigation and determination, the commissioner shall also consider the factors specified in 33-16-1020.

33-16-1022. Dividends — regulation or prohibition. (1) An advisory organization may not adopt a rule that would regulate or prohibit the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers.

(2) A plan for the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits allowed or returned by insurers to their policyholders, members, or subscribers is not a rating plan or system. A plan for the payment of dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits does not relieve an insurer from complying with any requirement of this chapter regarding rating plans or systems.

(3) It is an unfair trade practice under 33-18-1003 to make the payment of a dividend or any portion of it conditioned upon renewal of the policy or contract.

33-16-1023. Membership in advisory organization. (1) The commissioner shall designate one workers' compensation advisory organization to assist the commissioner in gathering, compiling, and reporting relevant statistical information. Each workers' compensation insurer shall record and report its workers' compensation experience to the designated advisory organization as set forth in the uniform statistical plan approved by the commissioner.

(2) Each workers' compensation insurer must be a member or subscriber of the designated workers' compensation advisory organization. Each workers' compensation insurer may adhere to the policy forms filed by the advisory organization.

(3) Each workers' compensation insurer shall adhere to a uniform classification system and uniform experience rating plan that has been filed by the designated advisory organization with the commissioner and approved by the commissioner.

(4) Each workers' compensation insurer shall use the forms and adhere to the rules that the designated advisory organization shall develop and file with the commissioner. The forms and rules must be reasonably related to the recording and reporting of data pursuant to the uniform statistical plan, the uniform experience rating plan, and the uniform classification system.

(5) The methodology of the experience rating plan required under subsection (3) must be based on:

(a) reasonable eligibility standards;

(b) incentives for loss prevention; and

(c) a premium differential to encourage safety.

(6) The designated advisory organization or an insurer may file rating plans with the commissioner that provide for prospective or retrospective premium adjustment based on an insured's expected or actual loss experience, including but not limited to scheduled rating adjustments, retrospective rating plans, optional deductible plans under 39-71-435, a construction industry premium credit plan under 39-71-2211, or other plans as authorized by statute or approved by the commissioner.

33-16-1025. Interchange of rating plan — data exchange — cooperative action in ratemaking — violation of part. (1) Reasonable rules and plans may be adopted by the commissioner for the interchange of data necessary for the application of rating plans.

(2) To ensure conformity in administering rate regulatory laws, the commissioner, each insurer, and the advisory organization designated by the commissioner may exchange information and experience data with insurance regulatory officials, insurers, and advisory organizations in other states and may consult with them with respect to ratemaking and the application of rating systems.

(3) Cooperation among advisory organizations or among insurers and advisory organizations in ratemaking or in other matters within the scope of this part is authorized, but the filings resulting from the cooperation are subject to all provisions of this part.

(4) The commissioner may review the cooperative activities and practices. If, after hearing, any cooperative activity or practice is found to violate the provisions of this part, a written order may be issued specifying that the activity or practice violates the provision of this part and requiring the discontinuance of the activity or practice.

33-16-1026. Rate filings. (1) A workers' compensation advisory organization shall file with the commissioner:

(a) workers' compensation rates and rating plans that are limited to prospective loss costs;

(b) each workers' compensation policy form to be used by its members or subscribers;

(c) the uniform classification plan and rules of the advisory organization;

(d) the uniform experience rating plan and rules of the advisory organization; and

(e) any other information that the commissioner requests and is entitled to receive under this part.

(2) Each insurer shall file with the commissioner all rates, supplementary rate information, and any changes and amendments made by it for use in this state as required by the commissioner under 33-16-1027(2).

(3) An insurer may establish rates and supplementary rate information based upon the factors in 33-16-1021. An insurer may adopt by reference, with or without deviation, the prospective loss costs filed by the advisory organization designated under 33-16-1023 or the rates and supplementary rate information filed by another insurer.

(4) An insurer may not make or issue a contract or policy of insurance under this part, except in accordance with the filings that are in effect for the insurer as provided in this part.

(5) In addition to other prohibitions in this part, an advisory organization may not file rates, supplementary rate information, or supporting information on behalf of an insurer.

(6) If each rate in a schedule of workers' compensation rates for specific classifications of risks filed by an insurer is not lower than the prospective loss costs contained in the schedule of workers' compensation rates for those classifications filed by the designated advisory organization under subsection (1), the schedule of rates filed by the insurer is not subject to 33-16-1027(1) but becomes effective upon filing.

33-16-1027. Rate filing review. (1) The commissioner shall review each insurance filing to ensure compliance with the following guidelines:

(a) The effective date of each workers' compensation insurer or advisory organization filing must be the date specified in the filing. The effective date of the filing may not be earlier than 30 days after the date on which the filing is received by the commissioner or the date of receipt of the information furnished in support of the filing, if the supporting information is required by the commissioner.

(b) Upon written application of the insurer or advisory organization, the commissioner may authorize a filing that becomes effective before the expiration of the period described in subsection (1)(a).

(c) A filing is considered to have met the requirements of this part unless disapproved by the commissioner within the period described in subsection (1)(a) or any extension of the period.

(2) Whenever a filing is not accompanied by the information required under this section, the commissioner shall inform the filer of the deficiency within 30 days of the initial filing. The filing is considered made when the required information is furnished or when the filer certifies to the commissioner that the additional information requested by the commissioner is not maintained or cannot be provided.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 23, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-16-1028. Improper rates — hearing. (1) If the commissioner finds that a rate is not in compliance with 33-16-1021 or that a rate has been set in violation of 33-16-1032, the commissioner shall order that its use be discontinued for any policy issued or renewed after the date of the order, and the order may prospectively provide for premium adjustment of any policy then in force.

(2) The order must be issued within 30 days after the close of a hearing, if one is requested by the insurer, or within a reasonable time fixed by the commissioner. The order expires 1 year after its effective date unless rescinded earlier by the commissioner.

(3) If the commissioner disapproves a rate under subsection (1), disapproval must take effect not less than 15 days after the commissioner's order and the last previous rate in effect for the insurer must be reimposed for a period of 1 year unless the commissioner approves a rate under the provisions of subsection (5) or (6).

(4) A determination made by the commissioner under this section must be in accordance with accepted actuarial standards on the basis of findings of fact and conclusions of law.

(5) For a period of 1 year after the effective date of a disapproval order under subsection (1), a rate adopted to replace one disapproved under the order may not be used until it has been filed with the commissioner and approved within 30 days.

(6) Whenever an insurer does not have legally effective rates pursuant to subsection (1), the commissioner shall, on the insurer's request, specify interim rates for the insurer that are adequate to protect the interests of all parties. The commissioner may order that a specified portion of the premiums be placed in a special reserve established by the insurer. When new rates become legally effective, the commissioner shall order the reserved funds or any overcharge in the interim rates to be distributed appropriately, except that minimal adjustments may not be required.

33-16-1029. Restrictions on certain insurers — waiting period. (1) The commissioner may require that a particular insurer file any of its rates and supplementary rate information 30 days prior to the effective date of the rates, if the commissioner finds after a hearing that the protection of the interests of the insurer's insureds and the public in this state requires closer supervision of the insurer's rates.

(2) Upon written application by an insurer, the commissioner, following review, may authorize a filing, which is effective before the expiration of the period described in subsection (1).

(3) The filing must be approved or disapproved during the waiting period and, if not disapproved before the expiration of the waiting period, is considered to have met the requirements of this section.

(4) An insurer aggrieved by the commissioner's actions under this section may request a rehearing by the commissioner after the expiration of 12 months from the date of the commissioner's initial order.

33-16-1030. Delay of rates in noncompetitive market. (1) A 30-day waiting period may be implemented or extended under one of the following circumstances:

(a) after finding that the market is not competitive under 33-16-1020, the commissioner adopts a rule requiring that any subsequent changes in rates or supplementary information must be filed with the commissioner at least 30 days before the changes become effective;

(b) the commissioner extends the waiting period under this section for a period not exceeding 30 additional days by written notice to the filer before the first 30-day period expires;

(c) upon written application by an insurer or advisory organization, the commissioner, following review, authorizes a filing, which becomes effective before the expiration of the period described in subsection (1)(a) or (1)(b); or

(d) the filing is approved or disapproved during the waiting period and, if not disapproved before the expiration of the waiting period, is considered to have met the requirements of this section.

(2) If a rule is adopted under subsection (1), the commissioner may require the filing of supporting data as to classes of risks or combinations of risk classes that the commissioner considers necessary for the proper functioning of the rate monitoring and regulating process. The supporting data must include:

(a) the experience and judgment of the filer and, to the extent that the filer wishes or the commissioner requires, the experience and judgment of other insurers or the advisory organization designated under 33-16-1023;

(b) the interpretation of any statistical data upon which the filer relied;

(c) a description of the actuarial and statistical methods used in setting the rate; and

(d) any other relevant matter required by the commissioner.

(3) A rule adopted under this section expires 1 year after adoption unless renewed by the commissioner after hearings and appropriate findings under this section.

(4) Whenever a filing is not accompanied by the information that the commissioner has required under subsection (2), the commissioner shall inform the insurer within 10 days of the initial filing. The filing is considered made when the required information is furnished.

33-16-1031. Consent to rate. Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, upon the written consent of the insured, filed with the commissioner, a rate in excess of that determined in accordance with the other provisions of this part may be used on any specific risk.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1032. Acts reducing competition prohibited. (1) In this section, the word "insurer" includes two or more affiliated insurers engaged in joint or cooperative underwriting, investment management, marketing, servicing, or administration of their business and affairs as insurers and:

(a) under common management; or

(b) under common controlling ownership or under other common effective legal control.

(2) An insurer or advisory organization may not:

(a) monopolize or attempt to monopolize or combine or conspire with any other person or persons to monopolize the business of insurance of any kind, subdivision, or class;

(b) agree with any other insurer or advisory organization to charge or adhere to any rate or rating plan other than the uniform experience rating plan or rating rules of the advisory organization, except as needed to comply with the requirements of 33-16-1026;

(c) make an agreement with any other insurer, advisory organization, or other person to unreasonably restrain trade or substantially lessen competition in the business of insurance of any kind, subdivision, or class; or

(d) make an agreement with any other insurer or advisory organization to refuse to deal with any person in connection with the sale of insurance.

(3) The fact that two or more insurers, whether they are members or subscribers of a common advisory organization, use consistently or intermittently the same advisory organization rules or insurer guidelines, rating plans, rating schedules, rating rules, policy forms, rate classifications, underwriting rules, surveys, or inspections or similar materials is not sufficient in itself to support a finding that an agreement exists.

(4) An advisory organization or member or subscriber of an advisory organization may not interfere with the right of any insurer to establish its rates independently of that advisory organization or to charge rates different from the rates made by that advisory organization.

(5) Except as required by 33-16-1026, an advisory organization may not have or adopt any rule or exact any agreement or formulate or engage in any program that would require any member, subscriber, or other insurer to:

(a) adhere to its rates; or

(b) prevent any insurer from acting independently.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 186, L. 1995.

33-16-1033. Advisory organization — permitted activity. An advisory organization may:

(1) develop statistical plans, including class definitions;

(2) collect statistical data from members, subscribers, or any other source;

(3) prepare and distribute pure premium rate data, adjusted for loss development and loss trending, in accordance with its statistical plan. The data and adjustments must be in sufficient detail to permit insurers to modify pure premiums based upon their own rating methods or interpretations of underlying data.

(4) prepare and distribute manuals for rating rules and rating schedules that do not contain any rules or schedules, including final rates, without information outside the manuals;

(5) distribute information that is filed with the commissioner and open to public inspection;

(6) conduct research and collect statistics in order to discover, identify, and classify information relating to causes or prevention of losses;

(7) prepare and file policy forms and endorsements and consult with members, subscribers, and others relative to their use and application;

(8) collect, compile, and distribute past and current prices of individual insurers, if the information is made available to the general public;

(9) conduct research and collect information to determine the impact of benefit level changes on pure premium rates;

(10) prepare and distribute rules and rating values for the uniform experience rating plan; and

(11) calculate and disseminate individual risk premium modification factors. Individual risk premium modification factors may only be disseminated to:

(a) a licensed producer or an insurer for the business of insurance only; and

(b) the department of labor and industry for regulatory purposes only. Individual employer payroll and loss information may be provided to a person other than the current licensed producer or an insurer only after obtaining the employer's written permission.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 186, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 320, L. 2015.

33-16-1034. Advisory organization — prohibited activity. In addition to other prohibitions in this part, except as specifically permitted under 33-16-1033, an advisory organization may not compile or distribute recommendations relating to rates that include expenses, other than loss adjustment expenses, or profit.

33-16-1035. Penalties — suspension of license. (1) The commissioner may impose upon a person or organization that violates 33-16-1020 through 33-16-1023 or 33-16-1025 through 33-16-1036 a penalty of not more than $500 for each violation.

(2) If the commissioner determines that the violation is willful, the commissioner may impose a penalty of not more than $1,000 for each violation in addition to any other penalty provided by law.

(3) The commissioner may suspend the license of an insurer or an advisory organization that fails to comply with any order within the time set by the order or extension granted by the commissioner. The commissioner may not suspend a license for failure to comply with an order until the time prescribed for appeal from the order has expired or, if appealed, until the order has been affirmed. The commissioner may determine the period of a suspension, which remains in effect for the period unless modified or rescinded or until the order upon which the suspension is based is modified, rescinded, or reversed.

(4) Unless a consent decree has been entered, a penalty may not be imposed nor may a license be suspended or revoked unless the commissioner, following a hearing, issues a written order with findings of fact. The hearing must be held at least 10 days after written notice to the person or organization specifying the alleged violation.

(5) A party aggrieved by an order or decision of the commissioner may, within 30 days after receiving the commissioner's notice, make a written request for a hearing.

33-16-1036. Appeals from commissioner. (1) An order, decision, or act of the commissioner under this part may be appealed to district court upon petition of a person aggrieved.

(2) A petition for review must be filed within 60 days from notice of the order, decision, or act. The commencement of the proceeding does not affect enforcement or validity of the commissioner's action unless the court determines, after notice to the commissioner, that a stay of enforcement until further direction of the court will not injure the interests of the public.

Chapter Cross-References

Agency generally, Title 28, ch. 10.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-17-101. Scope of chapter. (1) The purpose of this chapter is to govern the qualifications and procedures for licensing insurance producers.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), this chapter applies to all stock, mutual, and reciprocal insurers and to all kinds of insurance and annuities.

(3) Except as provided in 33-17-401 and 33-17-408(2), this chapter does not apply to surplus lines producers.

(1) (a) "Adjuster" means a person who, on behalf of the insurer, for compensation as an independent contractor or as the employee of an independent contractor or for a fee or commission investigates and negotiates the settlement of claims arising under insurance contracts or otherwise acts on behalf of the insurer.

(b) The term does not include a:

(i) licensed attorney who is qualified to practice law in this state;

(ii) salaried employee of an insurer or of a managing general agent;

(iii) licensed insurance producer who adjusts or assists in adjustment of losses arising under policies issued by the insurer;

(iv) licensed third-party administrator who adjusts or assists in adjustment of losses arising under policies issued by the insurer; or

(v) claims examiner as defined in 39-71-116.

(2) "Adjuster license" means a document issued by the commissioner that authorizes a person to act as an adjuster or a public adjuster.

(3) (a) "Administrator" means a person who collects charges or premiums from residents of this state in connection with life, disability, property, or casualty insurance or annuities or who adjusts or settles claims on these coverages.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) an employer on behalf of its employees or on behalf of the employees of one or more subsidiaries of affiliated corporations of the employer;

(ii) a union on behalf of its members;

(iii) (A) an insurer that is either authorized in this state or acting as an insurer with respect to a policy lawfully issued and delivered by the insurer in and pursuant to the laws of a state in which the insurer is authorized to transact insurance; or

(B) a health service corporation as defined in 33-30-101;

(iv) a pharmacy benefit manager as defined in 33-2-2402 that is licensed pursuant to 33-2-2403;

(v) a life, disability, property, or casualty insurance producer who is licensed in this state and whose activities are limited exclusively to the sale of insurance;

(vi) a creditor on behalf of its debtors with respect to insurance covering a debt between the creditor and its debtors;

(vii) a trust established in conformity with 29 U.S.C. 186 or the trustees, agents, and employees of the trust;

(viii) a trust exempt from taxation under section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code or the trustees and employees of the trust;

(ix) a custodian acting pursuant to a custodian account that meets the requirements of section 401(f) of the Internal Revenue Code or the agents and employees of the custodian;

(x) a bank, credit union, or other financial institution that is subject to supervision or examination by federal or state banking authorities;

(xi) a company that issues credit cards and that advances for and collects premiums or charges from the company's credit card holders who have authorized the company to do so, if the company does not adjust or settle claims;

(xii) a person who adjusts or settles claims in the normal course of the person's practice or employment as an attorney and who does not collect charges or premiums in connection with life or disability insurance or annuities; or

(xiii) a person appointed as a managing general agent in this state whose activities are limited exclusively to those described in 33-2-1501(10) and Title 33, chapter 2, part 16.

(4) (a) "Business entity" means a corporation, association, partnership, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, or other legal entity.

(b) The term does not include an individual.

(5) "Consultant" means an individual who for a fee examines, appraises, reviews, evaluates, makes recommendations, or gives advice regarding an insurance policy, annuity, or pension contract, plan, or program.

(6) "Consultant license" means a document issued by the commissioner that authorizes an individual to act as an insurance consultant.

(7) "Exchange" means a health benefit exchange established by the state of Montana or an exchange established by the United States department of health and human services in accordance with 42 U.S.C. 18031.

(8) "Home state" means the District of Columbia or any state or territory of the United States in which a person licensed under this chapter maintains a principal place of residence or a principal place of business.

(9) "Individual" means a natural person.

(10) "Insurance producer", except as provided in 33-17-103, means a person required to be licensed under the laws of this state to sell, solicit, or negotiate insurance.

(11) "Lapse" means the expiration of the license for failure to renew by the biennial renewal date.

(12) "License" means a document issued by the commissioner that authorizes a person to act as an insurance producer for the lines of authority specified in the document. The license itself does not create actual, apparent, or inherent authority in the holder to represent or commit an insurer to a binding agreement.

(13) "Limited line credit insurance" includes credit life insurance, credit disability insurance, credit property insurance, credit unemployment insurance, involuntary unemployment insurance, mortgage life insurance, mortgage guaranty insurance, mortgage disability insurance, gap insurance, and any other form of insurance offered in connection with an extension of credit that is limited to partially or wholly extinguishing the credit obligation and that the commissioner determines should be designated as a form of limited line credit insurance.

(14) "Limited line credit insurance producer" means a person who sells, solicits, or negotiates one or more forms of limited line credit insurance coverage to individuals through a master, corporate, group, or individual policy.

(15) "Limited lines insurance" means those lines of insurance that the commissioner finds necessary to recognize for the purposes of complying with 33-17-401(3).

(16) "Limited lines producer" means a person authorized by the commissioner to sell, solicit, or negotiate limited lines insurance.

(17) "Lines of authority" means any kind of insurance as defined in Title 33.

(18) "Navigator" means a person certified by the commissioner under 33-17-241 and selected to perform the activities and duties identified in 42 U.S.C. 18031, et seq.

(19) "Negotiate" means the act of conferring directly with or offering advice directly to a purchaser or prospective purchaser of a particular contract of insurance concerning any of the substantive benefits, terms, or conditions of the contract if the person engaged in negotiation either sells insurance or obtains insurance from insurers for purchasers.

(20) "Person" means an individual or a business entity.

(21) (a) "Public adjuster" means an adjuster retained by and representing the interests of the insured.

(b) The term does not include a person who provides an estimate of work to an insurer on behalf of an insured as long as the insured is notified of all communications between the person and the insurer related to the estimates.

(22) "Sell" means to exchange a contract of insurance by any means, for money or the equivalent, on behalf of an insurance company.

(23) "Solicit" means attempting to sell insurance or asking or urging a person to apply for a particular kind of insurance.

(24) "Suspend" means to bar the use of a person's license for a period of time.

33-17-103. Exemptions from definition of insurance producer. The definition of insurance producer does not include:

(1) an individual who is a regularly salaried officer or employee of an insurer and who is engaged in the performance of usual and customary executive, administrative, or clerical duties and whose duties do not include the negotiation, sale, or solicitation of insurance;

(2) an individual who is a salaried employee in the office of an insurance producer and who devotes the individual's full time to clerical and administrative services, including the incidental taking of insurance applications and receipt of premiums in the office of the individual's employer, if the individual does not receive any commissions on the applications and the individual's compensation is not varied by the volume of applications or premiums the individual takes or receives;

(3) a person who secures and furnishes information for the purpose of group life insurance, group property and casualty insurance, group annuities, or group or blanket accident and disability insurance or for the purpose of enrolling individuals under those plans, issuing certificates under those plans, or otherwise assisting in administering those plans if a commission is not paid for the service;

(4) an employer, the employer's officers or employees, or the trustees of an employee trust plan, to the extent that the employer, officers, employees, or trustees are engaged in the administration or operation of a program of employee benefits for their own employees or the employees of their subsidiaries or affiliates if the program involves the use of insurance issued by an insurer and the employer, officers, employees, or trustees are not compensated in any manner, directly or indirectly, by the insurer issuing the contracts;

(5) a person who is:

(a) an employee of an insurer or of an organization employed by an insurer, which insurer or organization is engaged in the inspection, rating, or classification of insurance risks or in the supervision of the training of insurance producers; and

(b) not individually engaged in the selling, solicitation, or negotiation of insurance policies and contracts;

(6) an attorney advising a client on general insurance matters, provided the attorney does not sell, solicit, or negotiate insurance;

(7) a salaried full-time employee who counsels or advises the employer or the subsidiaries or affiliates of the employer about the life insurance or annuities if the employee does not sell or solicit insurance or receive a commission or fee;

(8) a person whose activities in this state are limited to advertising without the intent to solicit insurance in this state through communications in printed publications or other forms of electronic mass media whose distribution is not limited to residents of this state if the person does not sell, solicit, or negotiate insurance contracts with respect to risks located in this state; or

(9) a person who is not a resident of this state who sells, solicits, or negotiates a contract of insurance for commercial property and casualty risks with respect to an insured with risks located in more than one state that are insured under the contract if the person is licensed in the state where the insured maintains its principal place of business and the contract insures risks located in that state.

33-17-210. Centralized producer license registry — rules. (1) The commissioner may participate, in whole or in part, with the national association of insurance commissioners, or any affiliates or subsidiaries that the national association of insurance commissioners oversees, in a centralized producer license registry in which insurance producer licenses and appointments may be centrally or simultaneously effected for all states that participate in the registry and that require an insurance producer license.

(2) If the commissioner finds that participation in the centralized producer license registry is in the public interest, the commissioner may adopt by rule any uniform standards and procedures necessary to participate in the registry, including the central collection of all fees for licenses or appointments that are processed through the registry.

33-17-211. General qualifications — application for license. (1) An individual applying for a license shall apply in a form approved by the commissioner and declare under penalty of refusal, suspension, or revocation of the license that statements made in the application are true, correct, and complete to the best of the individual's knowledge and belief. Before approving the application, the commissioner shall verify that the individual:

(a) is 18 years of age or older;

(b) has not committed an act that is a ground for refusal, suspension, or revocation as set forth in 33-17-1001;

(c) has paid the license fees stated in 33-2-708;

(d) has successfully passed the examinations for each kind of insurance for which the individual has applied within 12 months of application;

(e) is a resident of this state or of another state that grants similar privileges to residents of this state. Licenses issued based upon Montana state residency terminate if the licensee relocates to another state.

(f) is competent, trustworthy, and of good reputation;

(g) has experience or training or otherwise is qualified in the kind or kinds of insurance for which the applicant applies to be licensed and is reasonably familiar with the provisions of this code that govern the applicant's operations as an insurance producer;

(h) if applying for a license as to life or disability insurance, except as permitted by 33-20-1501(1)(c)(ii):

(i) is not a funeral director, undertaker, or mortician operating in this or any other state;

(ii) is not an officer, employee, or representative of a funeral director, undertaker, or mortician operating in this or any other state; or

(iii) does not hold an interest in or benefit from a business of a funeral director, undertaker, or mortician operating in this or any other state; and

(i) has completed a background examination pursuant to 33-17-220.

(2) A resident or nonresident business entity acting as an insurance producer is required to obtain an insurance producer's license. Application must be made in a form approved by the commissioner. To approve the application, the commissioner shall verify that:

(a) the business entity has paid the appropriate fee; and

(b) the business entity has designated an individual licensed insurance producer who is responsible for the business entity's compliance with the insurance laws of this state.

(3) A person acting as an insurance producer shall obtain a license. A person shall apply for a license in a form approved by the commissioner. Before approving the application, the commissioner shall verify that:

(a) the person meets the requirements listed in subsection (1);

(b) the person has paid the licensing fees stated in 33-2-708 for each individual licensed in conjunction with the person's license. A licensed person shall promptly notify the commissioner of each change relating to an individual listed in the license.

(c) the person has designated a licensed officer to be responsible for the person's compliance with the insurance laws and rules of this state;

(d) each member, employee, officer, director, or stockholder of a business entity who is acting as an insurance producer in this state has obtained a license;

(e) (i) with respect to a business entity, the transaction of insurance business is within the purposes stated in the partnership agreement, the articles of incorporation, or other organizational documents; and

(ii) with respect to a corporation, the secretary of state has issued a certificate of existence or registration under 35-14-128 or filed articles of incorporation under 35-14-203.

(4) (a) The commissioner may license as a resident insurance producer an association of licensed Montana insurance producers, whether or not incorporated, formed and existing substantially for purposes other than insurance.

(b) The license must be used solely for the purpose of enabling the association to place, as a resident insurance producer, insurance of the properties, interests, and risks of the state of Montana and of other public agencies, bodies, and institutions and to receive the customary commission for the placement.

(c) The president and secretary of the association shall apply for the license in the name of the association, and the commissioner shall issue the license to the association in the association's name alone.

(d) The fee for the license is the same as that required by 33-2-708(1)(a).

(e) The commissioner may, after a hearing with notice to the association, revoke the license if the commissioner finds that continuation of the license is not in the public interest or that a ground listed in 33-17-1001 exists.

(5) An insurance producer using an assumed business name shall register the name with the commissioner before using the name.

Sec. 9, Ch. 271, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 238, Ch. 271, L. 2019.

33-17-212. Examination required — exceptions — fees. (1) Except as provided in subsection (6), an individual applying for a license is required to pass a written examination. The examination must test the knowledge of the individual concerning each kind of insurance listed in subsection (5) for which application is made, the duties and responsibilities of an insurance producer, and the insurance laws and rules of this state. The examination must be developed and conducted under rules adopted by the commissioner.

(2) (a) The commissioner may conduct the examination or make arrangements, including contracting with an outside testing service, for administering the examination. The commissioner may arrange for the testing service to recover the cost of the examination from the applicant.

(b) The commissioner may not charge a fee for an applicant taking an examination pertaining to prepaid legal insurance. However, the commissioner may contract with an outside testing service for administering the examination, and the commissioner may arrange for the testing service to recover the cost of the examination from the applicant.

(3) An individual who fails to appear for the examination as scheduled or fails to pass the examination may reapply for an examination and shall remit all forms before being rescheduled for another examination.

(4) Except as provided in subsection (6), if the applicant is a business entity, each individual who is to be named in the license as having authority to act for the applicant in its insurance transactions under the license must meet the qualifications provided for in this section.

(5) Examination of an applicant for a license must cover only the kinds of insurance for which the applicant has applied to be licensed, as constituted by any one or more of the following classifications:

(a) life insurance;
(b) disability insurance;
(c) property insurance, which for the purposes of this provision includes marine insurance;
(d) casualty insurance;
(e) surety insurance;
(f) surety bail bond insurance;
(g) limited lines credit insurance;
(h) title insurance;
(i) prepaid legal insurance as provided for in 33-1-215.

(6) This section does not apply to and an examination is not required of:

(a) an individual lawfully licensed as an insurance producer as to the kind or kinds of insurance to be transacted as of or immediately prior to January 1, 1961, and who continues to be licensed;

(b) an applicant for a license covering the same kind or kinds of insurance as to which the applicant was licensed in this state, other than under a temporary license, within the 12 months immediately preceding the date of application unless the commissioner has suspended, revoked, or terminated the previous license;

(c) an applicant for a license as a nonresident insurance producer;

(d) a limited lines travel insurance producer and those registered under the limited lines travel insurance producer's license pursuant to 33-17-1402;

(e) an association applying for a license under 33-17-211; or

(f) a casualty insurance producer for the purposes of a separate exam for prepaid legal insurance if the casualty insurance producer sells prepaid legal insurance as of April 26, 2013, and continues to maintain a license in good standing as a casualty insurance producer.

(7) (a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (7)(b), an individual who applies for a nonresident insurance producer license in this state and who was previously licensed for the same lines of authority in another state may not be required to complete any prelicensing education or examination.

(b) The exemption in subsection (7)(a) is available only if the individual is currently licensed in the other state or the individual's application is received within 90 days of the cancellation of the individual's previous license and if the other state issues a certification that, at the time of the cancellation, the individual was in good standing in that state or the state's database records, maintained by the national association of insurance commissioners or any of the association's affiliates or subsidiaries that the association oversees, indicate that the insurance producer is or was licensed in good standing for the lines of authority requested.

33-17-214. Issuance of license — insurance producer lines of authority — license data — lapse of license — change of address. (1) A person who has met the requirements of 33-17-211 and 33-17-212 must be issued a license unless that person has been denied a license pursuant to 33-17-1001.

(2) An insurance producer may receive a license qualifying the insurance producer in one or more of the following lines of authority:

(a) life insurance coverage on human lives, including benefits of endowment and annuities, and the coverage may include:

(i) funeral insurance as defined in 33-20-1501;

(ii) benefits in the event of death or dismemberment by accident; and

(iii) benefits for disability income;

(b) accident and health or sickness insurance coverage providing for sickness, bodily injury, or accidental death, and the coverage may provide benefits for disability income;

(c) property insurance coverage for the direct or consequential loss or damage to property of every kind;

(d) casualty insurance coverage against legal liability, including liability for death, injury, or disability or damage to real or personal property;

(e) variable life and variable annuity products insurance coverage provided under variable life insurance contracts and variable annuities;

(f) personal lines of property and casualty insurance coverage sold to individuals and families for primarily noncommercial purposes;

(g) limited line credit insurance; or

(h) any other line of insurance permitted under Title 33.

(3) The license must state the name and primary business address of the licensee, personal identification number, date of issuance, general conditions relative to expiration or termination, kind of insurance covered, and other information that the commissioner considers necessary.

(4) The license of a business entity must also state the name of each individual authorized to exercise the license powers.

(5) Each license remains in effect unless it is suspended, revoked, or terminated or the license lapses.

(6) (a) A person shall inform the commissioner in writing within 30 days of:

(i) a change of address or a change of business e-mail address;

(ii) the final disposition resulting in disciplinary action taken against or a conviction of the insurance producer in any state or federal jurisdiction or by another governmental agency in this state of:

(A) any administrative action related to transacting insurance;

(B) any action taken against any type of securities license; and

(C) any criminal action, excluding traffic violations.

(b) (i) As used in this subsection (6), "final disposition" includes but is not limited to a settlement agreement, consent order, plea agreement, sentence and judgment, or order.

(ii) The term does not include an action that is dismissed or that results in an acquittal, for which a report is not necessary.

33-17-216. Temporary insurance producer license. (1) The commissioner may issue a temporary license to or with respect to an individual qualified for the temporary license only as to age, residence, and trustworthiness and without requiring the individual to take an examination, in the following cases:

(a) to the surviving spouse or next of kin or to the administrator or executor, or the employee of the administrator or executor, of a licensed insurance producer upon the insurance producer's death;

(b) to the spouse, next of kin, employee, or legal guardian of a licensed insurance producer disabled by injury or physical or mental illness;

(c) to an employee of a partnership, or officer or employee of a corporation, licensed as an insurance producer, upon the death or disability of an individual designated in the license to exercise the powers of an insurance producer;

(d) to the designee of a licensed insurance producer entering upon active service in the armed forces of the United States of America;

(e) in any other circumstance in which the commissioner finds that the public interest will best be served by issuing a temporary license.

(2) The temporary license must be issued upon application filed with the commissioner in the form and containing the information as the commissioner may reasonably require.

(3) The temporary license must be for a period of not over 90 days, subject to extension at the commissioner's discretion for an additional period of not more than 90 days, except that a temporary license issued pursuant to subsection (1)(a) may be continued until the executor or administrator disposes of the insurance business, but not to exceed a period of 15 months. A temporary license issued to the next of kin under subsection (1)(a) may not be extended for an additional term after the appointment and qualification of the administrator or executor.

33-17-217. Limitations and rights under temporary license. (1) The commissioner may not issue more than one temporary license, to or with respect to the same individual to be licensed, within any 12-month period.

(2) The temporary license may cover the same kinds of insurance for which the insurance producer being replaced was licensed.

(3) As to a temporary insurance producer's license issued on account of the death or disability of an insurance producer, the licensee may represent all of the insurers last represented by the deceased or disabled insurance producer, but the licensee may not be licensed for an additional kind of insurance under the temporary license.

(4) A temporary licensee has the same license powers and duties as under a permanent license.

33-17-219. Inactive status — insurance producers serving in armed forces. (1) The commissioner may place an insurance producer on inactive status if the insurance producer enters active service in the armed forces of the United States.

(2) An insurance producer may not transact the business of insurance while on inactive status.

(3) The commissioner shall waive the continuing education requirements in 33-17-1205 and the fee in 33-2-708 while an insurance producer is on inactive status.

(4) In order to be placed on inactive status, an insurance producer shall notify the commissioner when called to active service.

(5) In order to be taken off inactive status, an insurance producer shall notify the commissioner when discharged from active service.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 427, L. 2003.

33-17-220. Licensing background examination — action by commissioner. (1) (a) Each applicant for a producer's license or navigator certification shall obtain a complete background examination. The applicant or insurer shall pay the cost of the background examination. The background examination report must provide information to confirm:

(i) the applicant's:

(A) identity;

(B) current address;

(C) professional license certification; and

(D) military service; and

(ii) (A) existing or ongoing criminal investigations and court records relating to the applicant; and

(B) regulatory agencies' disciplinary actions concerning the applicant.

(b) The background examination is confidential and may not be held as part of the licensee's or navigator's public file.

(c) (i) The commissioner may, when initially making a decision regarding an applicant's navigator certification, consider the findings obtained from the background examination, including an existing or ongoing criminal investigation or any disciplinary action taken by a regulatory agency against the applicant that relates to the applicant's suitability for navigator certification.

(ii) The commissioner may not issue navigator certification to an applicant if the background examination discloses an act by the applicant that, under 33-17-1001, would allow the commissioner to suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or refuse to issue an insurance producer's license.

(iii) If the commissioner initially approves an applicant's navigator certification while the applicant is the subject of a criminal investigation or is potentially subject to disciplinary action and the applicant is subsequently found to have committed an act that, under 33-17-1001, would allow the commissioner to suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or refuse to issue an insurance producer's license, the commissioner may suspend or, pursuant to subsection (1)(c)(iv), shall revoke the navigator certification.

(iv) The commissioner shall immediately revoke a navigator's certification if the commissioner discovers that the navigator has committed an act that, under 33-17-1001, would allow the commissioner to suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or refuse to issue an insurance producer's license.

(2) For the purpose of obtaining a state and a federal criminal records check pursuant to subsection (1), the commissioner may require a person applying for a license or navigator certification to submit a full set of fingerprints to the commissioner. The commissioner shall submit the fingerprints to the Montana department of justice. The Montana department of justice may exchange this fingerprint data with the federal bureau of investigation.

(3) The commissioner may require fingerprints to be collected and remitted in an electronic format to facilitate periodic resubmission of fingerprints.

(4) The commissioner may contract for the collection, transmission, and retention of fingerprints and may agree to a reasonable fee charged by a contractor for these services. If the commissioner contracts for services, the fee for collecting, transmitting, and retaining of fingerprints must be paid directly to the contractor by the applicant or insurer.

(5) The commissioner is authorized to receive criminal history record information in lieu of the Montana department of justice relating to fingerprints submitted to the federal bureau of investigation.

(6) The commissioner may adopt rules to further implement this section, including but not limited to rules on the length of time that a background examination is valid and rules for the electronic filing of fingerprints.

33-17-231. Appointment of insurance producers — continuation and termination. (1) Each insurer appointing an insurance producer in this state shall file with the commissioner the appointment, specifying the kinds of insurance to be transacted by the insurance producer for the insurer. The appointment may be electronically filed. The commissioner may adopt rules to implement electronic filing.

(2) Each appointment remains in effect until the insurance producer's license is revoked or otherwise terminated unless written notice of earlier termination of the appointment is filed with the commissioner by the insurer or the insurance producer. The written notice may be electronically filed. The commissioner may adopt rules to implement electronic filing. Termination of the insurer's authority in Montana also terminates the appointment.

(3) Subject to the insurance producer's contract rights, an insurer may terminate an insurance producer's appointment at any time. The insurer shall promptly give written notice of the termination to the commissioner and to the insurance producer. The commissioner may require reasonable proof that the insurer has given notice to the insurance producer.

(4) As part of the notice of termination given the commissioner, the insurer shall file with the commissioner a statement of the facts relative to the termination and the cause of termination. Any information or statement contained in the notice of termination is not admissible as evidence in any action or proceeding against the insurer or any representative of the insurer by or on behalf of any person affected by the termination.

(5) (a) An insurer that sells a qualified health plan in an exchange operating in this state shall appoint any producer who is certified by the commissioner pursuant to 33-17-243 and follows the appointment application process required by that insurer.

(b) To maintain the appointment, the producer shall maintain the producer's certification and license in good standing.

(6) An appointment by affiliation terminates automatically on termination of the affiliation.

33-17-232. Rights of insurance producer following termination of appointment. (1) Following termination of an agency appointment for property, casualty, title, or surety insurance and subject to the terms of an agreement between the insurance producer and the insurer, the insurance producer may continue to service and receive from the insurer commissions or other compensation relative to business written by the insurance producer for the insurer during the existence of the appointment.

(2) This section does not apply to:

(a) insurance producers of direct writing insurers; or

(b) insurance producers or insurers between whom the relationship of employer and employee exists.

History: En. Sec. 162, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3318; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 399, L. 2007.

33-17-236. Appointments of insurance producers by insurers. (1) An insurance producer may not claim to be a representative of or an authorized or appointed insurance producer of or use another term implying a contractual relationship with a particular insurer unless the insurance producer is an appointed insurance producer of that insurer pursuant to this section. This does not prevent an insurance producer from obtaining and presenting a quotation from an insurer with whom the producer is not appointed. If the insurer consents, the insurer may bind coverage on a risk in accordance with 33-15-411 prior to the execution of an agency contract and policy issuance.

(2) The insurer shall, not later than 15 days from the date on which the agency contract is executed with an insurance producer, file with the commissioner a written notice of appointment on a form prescribed by the commissioner. The notice may be electronically filed pursuant to rules adopted by the commissioner.

(3) Upon receipt of the notice of appointment, the commissioner shall verify that the insurance producer is eligible for appointment. If the insurance producer is determined to be ineligible for appointment, the commissioner shall notify the insurer of the determination.

(4) (a) An appointment is effective on the earlier of the date of the executed agency contract or the date on which the insurer files the notice of appointment with the commissioner, unless the appointment is disapproved by the commissioner.

(b) A disapproved appointment is void on the date the department provides notification to the insurer.

(c) An appointment of which notice is not filed within 15 days of execution of the agency contract is not effective until the date that the insurer files the notice of appointment with the commissioner.

(5) An appointment is perpetual until canceled by the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 6, Sp. L. November 1993; amd. Sec. 32, Ch. 472, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 38, L. 2017; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 110, L. 2019.

33-17-237. Notification of violation or appointment termination. (1) On the termination of an appointed insurance producer by an insurer, the insurer shall notify the commissioner within 30 days in the manner prescribed by the commissioner, which may include electronic filing.

(2) If the reason for the termination is any of the causes listed in 33-17-1001 or 33-25-301, the insurer shall immediately notify the commissioner of the reason.

(3) Whenever an insurance company or an employee or representative of the company has reasonable cause to believe that a person has violated 33-17-1001 or 33-25-301, it is the duty of that entity, upon acquiring the knowledge, to notify the commissioner and provide the commissioner with a complete statement of all relevant facts and circumstances.

(4) The insurer, employee, or representative shall, on request of the commissioner, provide information, documents and records, or other data pertaining to the alleged violation or termination that may be used by the commissioner in any action taken pursuant to Title 33, chapter 17, part 10.

(5) Any information, documents, records, or other data provided pursuant to this section is privileged, and there is no liability on the part of nor may a cause of action of any nature arise against the commissioner, the insurance company, or an authorized representative of either so long as the privileged information is furnished in good faith.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 451, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 6, Sp. L. November 1993; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 8, L. 2025.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 13, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-17-238. Appointment by affiliation. (1) Unless prohibited by the insurer, a business entity insurance producer may satisfy the appointment requirements of 33-17-236(1) by affiliating with a business entity insurance producer that has been appointed directly by the insurer.

(2) A business entity insurance producer obtaining an appointment by affiliation under subsection (1) shall maintain a copy of each written affiliation agreement for 3 years following termination of the affiliation and make copies of the agreement available to the commissioner upon request.

(3) An appointment by affiliation under subsection (1) is effective on the date the business entity insurance producer enters into an affiliation agreement.

(4) A business entity insurance producer appointed by affiliation under this section is authorized to transact the kinds of insurance for which the business entity insurance producer directly appointed by the insurer is also authorized, except:

(a) a business entity insurance producer appointed by affiliation may not transact kinds of insurance for which the insurance producer is not otherwise authorized; and

(b) the insurer may specify in writing those kinds of insurance the business entity insurance producer may transact under the appointment.

33-17-241. Navigator certification — duties — prohibitions. (1) An individual or an individual performing navigator duties on behalf of an organization serving as a navigator may not act in the capacity of a navigator unless the individual has met all of the following requirements, as applicable:

(a) is at least 18 years of age;

(b) has completed and submitted the application form provided for in 33-17-242 and has declared, under penalty of refusal, suspension, or revocation of the navigator's certification, that the statements made in the form are true, correct, and complete to the best of the applicant's knowledge and belief;

(c) has completed a background examination as described in 33-17-220;

(d) has documentation of successful completion of the centers for medicare and medicaid services navigator certification training requirements or navigator recertification training requirements, as applicable; and

(e) has paid all fees required by 33-2-708.

(2) A navigator's duties may include any of the following:

(a) conducting public education activities to raise awareness of the availability of qualified health plans;

(b) distributing fair and impartial general information concerning how to enroll in any qualified health plan offered within the exchange and the availability of the premium tax credits under 26 U.S.C. 36B and the cost-sharing reductions provided under 42 U.S.C. 18071;

(c) assisting consumers in understanding how to enroll in a qualified health plan through an exchange or appropriate public programs offering health care coverage, without suggesting that the consumer purchase any particular plan; and

(d) referring consumers to the commissioner's office for assistance with complaints, appeals, or grievances or for general information about health insurance.

(3) A navigator may not do any of the following unless the navigator is otherwise licensed or authorized to do so under this chapter:

(a) sell, solicit, or negotiate health insurance;

(b) recommend, endorse, or offer opinions about the benefits, terms, or features of a particular health benefit plan or offer an opinion about which health benefit plan is better or worse for a particular individual or employer;

(c) provide any information or services related to a health benefit plan or another product not offered in the exchange;

(d) engage in any unfair method of competition or any fraudulent, deceptive, or dishonest act or practice; or

(e) enroll an individual or an employee in a qualified health plan offered through an exchange.

33-17-242. Commissioner's duties — navigator certification — training for certified application counselors and others. (1) The commissioner shall:

(a) develop a navigator certification application form that requires an applicant to disclose potential conflicts of interest and any other information the commissioner considers relevant; and

(b) certify an applicant meeting the requirements of 33-17-241(1).

(2) The commissioner may suspend, revoke, or refuse to issue or renew the navigator certification of a person that has committed an act for which the grounds for denial, suspension, or revocation are described in 33-17-1001 regarding an insurance producer's license.

(3) The commissioner may not certify as a navigator an individual, organization, or business entity that is receiving financial compensation, including monetary or in-kind compensation, gifts, or grants, from an insurer. A navigator certification must be revoked if the navigator receives financial compensation as described in this subsection from an insurer.

(4) The commissioner may prescribe training for an application counselor provided for in federal rule and other persons who while not part of the navigator program assist those who sign up for an exchange. The commissioner may require completion of the training before certification by the exchange. The training must be designed for those who assist applicants seeking to enroll in coverage through the exchange.

33-17-243. Producer exchange training — certification for exchange sales. A producer may not sell, solicit, or negotiate insurance through an exchange on or after October 1, 2013, without first completing the producer exchange training and certification program as prescribed and approved by the commissioner.

33-17-244. Lists of certified producers and navigators. (1) An exchange operating in this state shall maintain a current list of both of the following:

(a) licensed insurance producers that have met all of the producer exchange training and certification program requirements necessary to sell insurance through an exchange, as provided in 33-17-243; and

(b) individuals or entities that have met all the requirements to be certified by the commissioner as navigators.

(2) Upon request, the commissioner shall make available a list of insurance producers that are certified to sell a health benefit plan through an exchange and are operating near the requester's address. The commissioner shall also make available a list of certified navigators.

Adjusters

Part Cross-References

Hearings on decisions of Commissioner, 33-1-701.
Former criminal offenders — consideration in licensing, 37-1-203.
Private investigators — nonapplicability of provisions, 37-60-105.
Licenses — discrimination in issuance prohibited, 49-3-204.

33-17-301. Adjuster license — qualifications — catastrophe adjustments — education and examination exemption. (1) A person may not act as or purport to be an adjuster in this state unless the person holds an adjuster license. A person shall apply to the commissioner for an adjuster license in a form approved by the commissioner. The commissioner shall issue the license to persons qualified to be licensed under this section.

(2) To be licensed as an individual adjuster, the applicant:

(a) must be an individual 18 years of age or older;

(b) (i) must be a resident of Montana or a resident of another state that permits residents of Montana regularly to act as adjusters in the other state; or

(ii) if not a resident of this state, shall designate a home state in which the adjuster does not maintain a place of business or residence if:

(A) the adjuster's principal state of business or residence does not offer adjuster licensure; and

(B) the adjuster qualifies for the license as if the adjuster were a resident of the designated home state;

(c) except as provided in subsection (4), shall pass an adjuster licensing examination as prescribed by the commissioner and pay the fee pursuant to 33-2-708;

(d) must be trustworthy and of good character and reputation;

(e) shall submit to a licensing background examination that meets the requirements provided in 33-17-220; and

(f) shall maintain in this state an office accessible to the public and shall keep in the office for not less than 5 years the usual and customary records pertaining to transactions under the license. This provision does not prohibit maintenance of the office in the home of the licensee.

(3) A business entity, whether or not organized under the laws of this state, may be licensed under this section if each individual who is to exercise the license powers is separately licensed or is named in the business entity license and is qualified for an individual license under this section.

(4) (a) Subject to the provisions of subsection (4)(b), an individual who applies for a nonresident license under this section in this state and who was previously licensed in another state may not be required to complete any prelicensing education or examination requirements.

(b) The exemption in subsection (4)(a) is available only if the individual is currently licensed in the other state or the individual's application is received within 90 days of the cancellation of the individual's previous license and the other state issues a certification or the state's database records indicate that, at the time of the cancellation, the individual was in good standing in that state.

(5) An adjuster license or qualifications are not required for an adjuster who is sent into this state by and on behalf of an insurer or adjusting business entity for the purpose of investigating or making adjustments of a particular loss under an insurance policy or for the adjustment of a series of losses resulting from a catastrophe common to all losses.

(6) A license issued under this section continues in force until lapsed, suspended, revoked, or terminated. The licensee shall renew the license by the biennial renewal date and pay the appropriate fee or the license will lapse. The biennial fee is established pursuant to 33-2-708.

(7) For purposes of this section, "adjuster" includes adjusters and public adjusters as defined in 33-17-102.

33-17-302. Public adjuster contracts — financial disclosure. (1) A person licensed as a public adjuster may not act as a public adjuster unless the person has a written contract with the insured. Written contracts must be filed with the commissioner and must contain all of the following:

(a) legible full name of the adjuster signing the contract as specified in records held by the commissioner;

(b) business address and telephone number of the public adjuster;

(c) license number of the public adjuster;

(d) title specifying "public adjuster contract";

(e) insured's full name, street address, insurer name, and policy number, if known or upon notification;

(f) description of the loss and its location, if applicable;

(g) description of services to be provided to the insured;

(h) signatures of the public adjuster and the insured;

(i) date the contract was signed by the public adjuster and the date the contract was signed by the insured;

(j) attestation language stating that the public adjuster is fully bonded pursuant to state law; and

(k) full salary, fee, commission, compensation, or other consideration the public adjuster is to receive for services.

(2) A public adjuster contract may not contain any contract term that:

(a) allows the public adjuster's percentage fee to be collected when money is due from an insurer but not paid or that allows a public adjuster to collect the entire fee from the first payment issued by the insurer rather than as a percentage of each payment issued by an insurer;

(b) requires the insured to authorize an insurer to issue payment only in the name of the public adjuster;

(c) imposes collection costs or late fees; or

(d) precludes an insured from pursuing civil remedies.

(3) If the insurer either pays or commits in writing to pay the insured policy limits of the insurance policy within 72 hours after the date the loss is reported, the public adjuster may not:

(a) receive a commission consisting of a percentage of the total amount paid by an insurer to resolve a claim; or

(b) inform the insured that loss recovery amount will likely not be increased by the insurer.

(4) A public adjuster shall provide the insured with a written disclosure document concerning any direct or indirect financial interest that the public adjuster has with any other party involved in any aspect of the claim or services rendered by the public adjuster. The document must include a disclosure of any ownership interest in an entity that performs work in conjunction with the claim on which the public adjuster is engaged, including but not limited to any:

(a) construction firm;

(b) salvage firm;

(c) building appraisal firm;

(d) motor vehicle repair shop; or

(e) other entity that provides estimates for work or that performs any work.

33-17-303. Public adjuster standards of conduct. A public adjuster:

(1) is obligated to serve with objectivity and loyalty to the interest of the insured alone;

(2) may not solicit or attempt to solicit an insured during the progress of a loss-producing occurrence, as defined in the insured's insurance contract;

(3) may not permit an unlicensed employee or representative of the public adjuster to conduct business for which a license is required;

(4) may not acquire any interest in the salvage of property subject to the contract with the insured without written permission from the insured;

(5) shall abstain from referring or directing the insured to any person with whom the public adjuster has a financial interest unless disclosed to the insured pursuant to 33-17-302(4).

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 139, L. 2015.

Part 4
Nonresident Licensees

Part Cross-References

Residence — rules for determining, 1-1-215.

Licenses — discrimination in issuance prohibited, 49-3-204.

33-17-401. Nonresident insurance producer — license. (1) A nonresident person, unless denied licensure pursuant to 33-17-1001, must be granted a license if:

(a) the person is currently licensed as a resident and is in good standing in the person's home state;

(b) the person has submitted the proper request for licensure and has paid the fees required by 33-2-708;

(c) the person has submitted or transmitted to the commissioner the application for licensure that the person submitted to the person's home state or a completed application in a form approved by the commissioner; and

(d) the person's home state awards nonresident insurance producer licenses to residents of this state on the same basis.

(2) A person licensed as a surplus lines producer in that person's home state must receive a nonresident surplus lines producer license upon meeting the requirements of subsection (1). Except for subsection (1), this section does not amend or supersede any provision of the surplus lines insurance law established in Title 33, chapter 2, part 3.

(3) A person licensed as a limited line credit insurance producer or other type of limited lines producer in that person's home state must receive a nonresident limited lines producer license upon meeting the requirements of subsection (1), granting the same scope of authority as granted under the license issued by the producer's home state. For the purposes of this subsection, limited lines insurance is any authority granted by a nonresident's home state that restricts the authority of the licensee to less than the total authority prescribed in the associated major lines pursuant to 33-17-214(2)(a) through (2)(e).

(4) If a nonresident insurance producer's state of residence suspends, revokes, or terminates the insurance producer's insurance license in that state, the insurance producer's Montana nonresident license automatically terminates. The nonresident insurance producer shall notify the commissioner that the insurance producer's state of residence has suspended, revoked, or terminated the insurance producer's insurance license in that state.

33-17-503. Application — residency — fee — expiration. (1) Before a consultant license is issued or renewed, the prospective licensee shall:

(a) properly file with the office of the commissioner a written application in a form approved by the commissioner; and

(b) pay a fee pursuant to 33-2-708, which the commissioner shall forward to the state treasurer to be deposited in the state special revenue fund to the credit of the state auditor's office.

(2) To be licensed as a consultant, the prospective licensee:

(a) must be an individual 18 years of age or older; and

(b) (i) must be a resident of Montana or a resident of another state that permits residents of Montana regularly to act as consultants in the other state; or

(ii) if not a resident of this state, shall designate a home state in which the consultant does not maintain a place of business or residence if:

(A) the consultant's principal state of business or residence does not offer consultant licensure; and

(B) the consultant qualifies for the license as if the consultant were a resident of the designated home state.

(3) A consultant license continues in force until lapsed, suspended, revoked, or terminated.

33-17-511. Consideration for services only on written memorandum. A person licensed as an insurance consultant under this part may not receive a fee for examining, appraising, reviewing, or evaluating an insurance policy, a bond, an annuity, or a pension or profit-sharing contract, plan, or program or for making recommendations or giving advice with regard to any of the above unless the compensation is based upon a written memorandum that includes the insurance consultant's Montana insurance license number, is signed by the party to be charged, and specifies or clearly defines services to be provided and the amount or extent of the compensation. An insurance consultant shall retain a copy of every memorandum or contract for not less than 3 years after those services have been fully performed.

33-17-512. Limitation on type of consideration. A licensed insurance consultant may not receive a commission, service fee, brokerage fee, or other valuable consideration for the sale or service of a line of insurance, annuity, security, or pension trust if the consultant has received compensation from the client for consulting services on the same line of insurance, annuity, security, or pension trust sold or serviced within the preceding 12 months.

33-17-513. Restrictions on insurers recommended by licensee. A person licensed as an insurance consultant under this part may not recommend or encourage the purchase of insurance, annuities, or securities from an authorized insurer in which the person or any member of the person's immediate family holds an executive position or holds a substantial interest.

Part 6
Administrators

Part Cross-References

Licenses — discrimination in issuance prohibited, 49-3-204.

33-17-601. Repealed. Sec. 68, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-17-602. Written agreement required. (1) A person may not act as an administrator without a written agreement between the person and the insurer. The written agreement must be retained as part of the official records of both the administrator and the insurer for the duration of the agreement and for 5 years thereafter. The written agreement must contain provisions that include the requirements of 33-17-612 through 33-17-617 insofar as these requirements relate to the functions performed by the administrator.

(2) The agreement must contain a provision with respect to the underwriting or other standards pertaining to the business underwritten by the insurer.

(3) Whenever a policy is issued to a trustee, a copy of the trust agreement and any amendments to it must be furnished to the insurer by the administrator and be retained as part of the official records of both the administrator and the insurer for the duration of the policy and for 5 years thereafter.

33-17-603. Certificate of registration. (1) Except as provided in 33-17-604, a person may not act as or represent to the public that the person is an administrator in this state unless the person holds a certificate of registration as an administrator.

(2) An application for a certificate of registration must be accompanied by a fee of $100. The commissioner shall issue the certificate unless the commissioner finds that the applicant is not competent, trustworthy, financially responsible, or of good personal and business reputation or that the applicant has had a previous application for a license denied for cause within 5 years.

(3) A certificate of registration must be renewed each year by the administrator paying a continuation fee of $100 on or before July 1. Upon payment, the certificate continues in force unless suspended, revoked, or otherwise terminated. The commissioner shall deposit the fee with the state treasurer to be credited to the general fund.

(4) A certificate of registration may be suspended or revoked if, after notice and hearing, the commissioner finds that the administrator has violated any of the requirements of this part or that the administrator is not competent, trustworthy, financially responsible, or of good personal and business reputation.

(5) Unless a certification requirement is waived, a person who acts as an administrator without a certificate of registration is subject to a fine of not less than $500 or more than $1,500.

33-17-604. Waiver of certification requirements. The commissioner may waive the requirements of 33-17-603 for any person or class of persons. The factors taken into account in granting a waiver include but are not limited to:

(1) whether the person acting as an administrator is primarily in a business other than that of administrator;

(2) whether the financial strength and history of the organization indicates stability in its continuity of doing business;

(3) whether the regular duties being performed as an administrator are such that the covered persons are not likely to be injured by a waiver of the requirements.

33-17-606 through 33-17-610 reserved.

33-17-611. Maintenance of information. For the duration of the agreement required by 33-17-602 and for 5 years thereafter, each administrator shall maintain at its principal administrative office adequate books and records of all transactions between the administrator, insurers, and insured persons. These books and records must be maintained in accordance with prudent standards of insurance recordkeeping. The commissioner shall have access to these books and records for examination, audit, or inspection. Any trade secrets contained in the books and records, including but not limited to the identity and addresses of policyholders and certificate holders, are confidential, except that the commissioner may use the information in any proceedings instituted against the administrator. The insurer retains the right to continuing access to those books and records of the administrator sufficient to permit the insurer to fulfill all of its contractual obligations to insured persons, subject to any restrictions in the written agreement between the insurer and the administrator.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 343, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 47, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-17-612. Approval of advertising. An administrator may use only such advertising pertaining to the business underwritten by an insurer as is approved by the insurer in advance of its use.

33-17-613. Collection of charges and premiums. (1) All insurance charges or premiums collected by an administrator on behalf of or for an insurer and return premiums received from the insurer are held by the administrator in a fiduciary capacity. These funds must be immediately remitted to the person entitled to them or must be deposited promptly in a fiduciary bank account established and maintained by the administrator. If deposited charges or premiums were collected on behalf of or for more than one insurer, the administrator shall require the bank in which the fiduciary account is maintained to keep records clearly recording the deposits in and withdrawals from the account on behalf of or for each insurer. The administrator shall promptly obtain and keep copies of all these records and, upon request of an insurer, shall furnish the insurer with copies of the records pertaining to deposits and withdrawals on behalf of or for the insurer.

(2) The administrator may not pay a claim by withdrawals from the fiduciary account. Withdrawals from the fiduciary account must be made, as provided in the written agreement between the administrator and the insurer, for:

(a) remittance to an insurer entitled to the remittance;

(b) deposit in an account maintained in the name of the insurer;

(c) transfer to and deposit in a claims paying account, with claims to be paid as provided in 33-17-615;

(d) payment to a group policyholder for remittance to the insurer entitled to the payment;

(e) payment to the administrator of its commission, fees, or charges; or

(f) remittance of return premiums to the person entitled to the premium.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 343, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 48, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

Cross-References

33-17-614. Treatment of payments. Whenever an insurer utilizes the services of an administrator under the terms of a written contract as required in 33-17-602, the payment to the administrator of any premiums or charges for insurance by or on behalf of the insured is considered to be received by the insurer and the payment of return premiums or claims by the insurer to the administrator is not considered payment to the insured or claimant until the payments are received by the insured or claimant. This section does not limit any right of the insurer against the administrator resulting from the administrator's failure to make payments to the insurer, insureds, or claimants.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 343, L. 1979.

33-17-615. Payment of claims. All claims paid by the administrator from funds collected on behalf of the insurer shall be paid only on drafts of and as authorized by such insurer.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 343, L. 1979.

33-17-616. Delivery of documents. Any policies, certificates, booklets, termination notices, or other written communications delivered by the insurer to the administrator for delivery to its policyholders shall be delivered by the administrator promptly after receipt of instructions from the insurer to do so.

33-17-617. Claim adjustment and settlement. With respect to any policies where an administrator adjusts or settles claims, the compensation to the administrator with regard to the policies shall in no way be contingent on claim experience. This section does not prevent the compensation of an administrator from being based on premiums or charges collected or number of claims paid or processed.

33-17-618. Insured persons to be notified of availability of administrator. Whenever the services of an administrator are utilized, the administrator shall provide a written notice, approved by the insurer, to insured individuals, advising them of the identity of and relationship between the administrator, the policyholder, and the insurer. Whenever an administrator collects funds, the administrator shall identify and state, separately in writing, to the person paying to the administrator any charge or premium for insurance coverage the amount of such charge or premium specified by the insurer for the insurance coverage.

Revocation, Suspension, and Penalties

33-17-1001. Suspension, revocation, or refusal of license. (1) The commissioner may suspend, revoke, refuse to renew, or refuse to issue a license under this chapter, may levy a civil penalty in accordance with 33-1-317, or may choose any combination of actions when a licensee or applicant for licensure has:

(a) engaged or is about to engage in an act or practice for which issuance of the license could have been refused;

(b) obtained or attempted to obtain a license through misrepresentation or fraud, including but not limited to providing incorrect, misleading, incomplete, or materially untrue information in the license application or in the continuing education affidavit;

(c) violated or failed to comply with a provision of this code or has violated a rule, subpoena, or order of the commissioner or of the commissioner of any other state;

(d) improperly withheld, misappropriated, or converted to the licensee's or applicant's own use money or property belonging to policyholders, insurers, beneficiaries, or others and received in conduct of business under the license;

(e) been convicted of a felony;

(f) in the conduct of the affairs under the license, used fraudulent, coercive, or dishonest practices or the licensee or applicant is incompetent, untrustworthy, financially irresponsible, or a source of injury and loss to the public;

(g) misrepresented the terms of an actual or proposed insurance contract or application for insurance;

(h) been found guilty of an unfair trade practice or fraud prohibited by Title 33, chapter 18;

(i) had a similar license denied, suspended, or revoked in any other state;

(j) forged another's name to an application for insurance or to any document related to an insurance transaction;

(k) cheated on an examination for a license;

(l) knowingly accepted insurance business from a person who is not licensed;

(m) failed to comply with a final administrative or court order imposing a child support obligation; or

(n) failed to pay state income tax determined to be delinquent or to comply with any final administrative or court order directing payment of state income tax.

(2) The license of a business entity may be suspended, revoked, refused, or denied if a reason listed in subsection (1) applies to an individual designated in the license to exercise its powers.

(3) The commissioner retains the authority to enforce the provisions of and impose any penalty or remedy authorized by the insurance code against any person who is under investigation for or charged with a violation of the insurance code even if the person's license or registration has been surrendered, suspended, revoked, refused, or denied or has lapsed.

33-17-1002. Procedure following suspension or revocation. (1) Upon suspension, revocation, or refusal of a license, the commissioner shall notify the licensee or applicant by mail addressed to the licensee or applicant at the last-known address contained in the records of the commissioner. Notice is effectuated when mailed.

(2) The commissioner may reissue a license that has lapsed if the licensee has paid the lapsed license reinstatement fee pursuant to 33-2-708 and has filed certification of completion of continuing education requirements for the preceding biennium within 1 year of the lapse occurring.

(3) The commissioner may not again issue a license under this code to a person whose license has been revoked until after expiration of 1 year and until the person again qualifies for a license in accordance with this code. If the commissioner revokes a person's license, the commissioner may refuse to issue a license to the person for up to 5 years after the revocation. A person whose license has been revoked twice is not again eligible for any license under this code.

(4) If the license of a business entity is suspended or revoked, a member, officer, or director of the business entity may not be licensed or be designated in a license to exercise the business entity's powers during the period of the suspension or revocation unless the commissioner determines upon substantial evidence that the member, officer, or director was not personally at fault and did not acquiesce in the matter on account of which the license was suspended or revoked.

33-17-1004. Acting without license. In addition to the requirements and penalties described in 33-17-201 and 33-17-411, a person who, in this state, acts without having authority to do so by virtue of a license issued and in force pursuant to this chapter is subject to the provisions of 33-1-317 and 33-1-318.

33-17-1005. Restrictions on acting as legal guardian of insured or policyholder. (1) Except as otherwise approved by the commissioner or court order, an insurance producer may not act as a legal guardian of an insured or policyholder if the insurance producer conducts insurance business with the insured or policyholder when the insurance business includes but is not limited to the solicitation, offer, sale, or replacement of insurance or a contract.

(2) This section does not apply to immediate family members.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 493, L. 2003.

Part 11
Conduct of Business by Insurance Producers

33-17-1101. Place of business — display of license — records. (1) A resident insurance producer shall maintain a place or places of business in this state accessible to the public. A nonresident insurance producer may maintain a place or places of business in this state. An insurance producer's place or places of business must be a place in which transactions are conducted under the insurance producer's license. The address of the primary place of business must appear on the license. This section does not prohibit the maintenance of a place of business in a licensee's place of residence.

(2) The license or, if the insurance producer has more than one place of business, a copy of the license must be conspicuously displayed in a part of the place of business customarily open to the public.

(3) On request, resident and nonresident insurance producers are required to identify themselves and provide their license number to persons with whom they sell, solicit, or negotiate insurance.

(4) The insurance producer shall keep at a place of business complete records pertaining to transactions under the license for a period of at least 3 years after completion of the respective transactions, except that a title insurance producer, as defined in 33-25-105, shall retain records as provided in 33-25-214 and 33-25-216.

33-17-1102. Reporting and accounting for premiums — misappropriation. (1) All insurance premiums or return premiums received by an insurance producer must be held in a separate trust account. The insurance producer shall at all times act in a fiduciary capacity and shall, in the applicable regular course of business, account for and pay the insurance premiums or return premiums the insurance producer receives to the insured, insurer, or insurance producer entitled to them. Except for a title insurance producer as defined in 33-25-105, an insurance producer may deposit and commingle in the same separate deposit all funds belonging to others so long as the amount of the deposit held for each respective person is reasonably ascertainable from the records and accounts of the licensee.

(2) Any insurance producer not lawfully entitled to the funds may not divert or appropriate the funds or any portion of the funds to the insurance producer's own use.

33-17-1103. Accepting and paying commissions, fees, or consideration. (1) An insurer or insurance producer may not pay, directly or indirectly, a commission, service fee, brokerage fee, or other valuable consideration to a person for services as an insurance producer unless the person performing the service holds a valid license with regard to the kind or kinds of insurance for which the service was rendered at the time the service was performed. A person not properly licensed in accordance with this chapter at the time the person performs the service as an insurance producer may not accept a commission, service fee, brokerage fee, or other valuable consideration for the service. This section does not prevent payment or receipt of renewal or other deferred commissions to or by a person entitled to receive the payment under this section.

(2) An insurance producer may not directly or indirectly share the insurance producer's commissions or other compensation received or to be received by the insurance producer on account of a transaction under the insurance producer's license with any person not also licensed under this chapter as to the same kind or kinds of insurance involved in the transactions. This provision does not affect payment of the regular salaries due to employees of the licensee, the distribution in regular course of business of compensation and profits among members or stockholders if the licensee is a business entity, or use of funds for family or personal purposes.

(3) Surplus lines producers may share commissions with a property and casualty insurance producer pursuant to 33-2-306.

Part 12
Insurance Producer and Consultant Continuing Education Act

33-17-1201. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Insurance Producer, Adjuster, and Consultant Continuing Education Act".

33-17-1202. Purpose. The purposes of this part are to:

(1) protect insurance consumers and dedicated insurance producers, adjusters, public adjusters, and consultants by requiring continuing education for insurance producers, adjusters, public adjusters, and consultants;

(2) better educate insurance producers, adjusters, public adjusters, and consultants about changes in insurance law, products, ethical conduct as an insurance producer, adjuster, or consultant, marketing, and management; and

(3) provide standards for the qualification of instructors, courses, and materials.

(a) an individual licensed to act as an insurance producer, adjuster, public adjuster, or consultant other than an individual licensed only for surety bail bonds or for limited lines credit insurance shall, during each 24-month period, complete at least 24 credit hours of approved continuing education, including at least 3 hours of ethics credits and at least 1 credit hour on changes in Montana insurance statutes and administrative rules;

(b) an individual licensed to act as an insurance producer only for surety bail bonds, prepaid legal insurance, or limited lines credit insurance shall, during each biennium, complete 5 credit hours of approved continuing education, including at least 1 credit hour on changes in Montana insurance statutes and administrative rules and the remaining credit hours in the areas of insurance law, ethics, or topics specific to surety bail bonds, prepaid legal insurance, or limited lines credit insurance.

(2) The commissioner may, for good cause, grant an extension of time, not to exceed 1 year, during which the requirements imposed by subsection (1) may be completed.

(3) The minimum continuing education requirements do not apply to:

(a) an individual holding a temporary license issued under 33-17-216; or

33-17-1204. Review and approval of continuing education courses by commissioner. (1) The commissioner shall approve only those continuing education courses, lectures, seminars, and instructional programs that the commissioner determines would improve the product knowledge, management, ethics, or marketing capability of the licensee. Course content, instructors, material, instructional format, and the sponsoring organization must be approved and periodically reviewed by the commissioner. The fee for approval of a course, lecture, seminar, or instructional program is listed in 33-2-708(2). The commissioner shall also determine the number of credit hours to be awarded for completion of an approved continuing education activity.

(2) The commissioner may enter into a contract with a person to review and recommend for approval continuing education courses, lectures, seminars, and instructional programs that the commissioner determines would improve the product knowledge, management, ethics, or marketing capability of the licensee.

(3) In conducting periodic review of course content, instructors, material, instructional format, or a sponsoring organization, the commissioner may exercise any investigative power of the commissioner provided for in 33-1-311 or 33-1-315.

(4) If after review or investigation the commissioner determines an approved continuing education activity is not being operated in compliance with the standards established under this section, the commissioner may revoke approval, place the activity under probationary approval, or issue a cease and desist order under 33-1-318.

33-17-1205. Compliance — failure to comply — rulemaking authority. (1) Each individual subject to the requirements of 33-17-1203 shall file biennially in a format supplied by the commissioner certification as to the approved courses, lectures, seminars, and instructional programs successfully completed by that individual during the preceding biennium.

(2) If an individual fails to comply with this section, the individual's license lapses. An individual with a lapsed license may not conduct insurance business under another person's license, including a business entity license affiliation.

(3) In the continuing education affidavit, an insurance producer, adjuster, or public adjuster shall report to the commissioner the final disposition of any administrative action or the final disposition of any criminal action taken against the insurance producer, adjuster, or public adjuster in another jurisdiction or by another governmental agency in this state. As used in this subsection, "final disposition of any criminal action" means a plea agreement or sentence and judgment.

(4) Each person providing approved courses, lectures, seminars, and instructional programs, including insurance company education programs, shall file annually with the commissioner an alphabetical list of the names and addresses of all individuals who have successfully completed an approved continuing education activity during the preceding calendar year.

(5) The commissioner may, following the process provided for in 33-1-314, withdraw approval of all courses, lectures, seminars, and instructional programs of any person that fails to comply with subsection (4). The commissioner may, after having conducted a hearing pursuant to 33-1-701, impose a fine upon a person that has failed to comply with subsection (4). The fine may not exceed the penalty permitted by 33-1-317.

(6) The commissioner may adopt rules establishing the requirements for biennial filing and reporting of continuing education credits.

33-17-1206. Rulemaking authority. The commissioner may adopt rules to implement this part.

Cross-References

33-17-1207. Funding for continuing education program. All continuing education filing fees collected by the commissioner and fees paid to the commissioner for the review of initial applications for approval of continuing education courses or the periodic review of these courses must be turned over promptly to the state treasurer who shall place the money in the state special revenue fund to the credit of the state auditor's office to be used for the continuing education program. The funds allocated by this section to the state special revenue fund may be used only to defray the expenses of the state auditor's office in discharging its duties as prescribed by this part, subject to the applicable laws relating to the appropriation of state funds and to the deposit and expenditure of state money. The state auditor is responsible for the proper expenditure of this money as provided by law.

Part 13 reserved

Part 14
Travel Insurance

(1) "Aggregator site" means a website that provides access to information regarding insurance products from more than one insurer, including product and insurer information, for use in comparison shopping.

(2) "Blanket travel insurance" means a policy of travel insurance issued to any eligible group providing coverage for specific classes of persons defined in the policy with coverage provided to all members of the eligible group without a separate charge to individual members of the eligible group.

(3) "Cancellation fee waiver" means a contractual agreement between a supplier of travel services and its customer to waive some or all of the non-refundable cancellation fee provisions of the supplier's underlying travel contract with or without regard to the reason for the cancellation or form of reimbursement. A cancellation fee waiver is not insurance.

(4) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance of the state of Montana.

(5) "Eligible group" means, for the purpose of travel insurance, two or more persons who are engaged in a common enterprise or have an economic, educational, or social affinity or relationship, including but not limited to any of the following:

(a) any entity engaged in the business of providing travel or travel services, including but not limited to tour operators, lodging providers, vacation property owners, hotels and resorts, travel clubs, travel agencies, property managers, cultural exchange programs, and common carriers or the operator, owner, or lessor of a means of transportation of passengers, including but not limited to airlines, cruise lines, railroads, steamship companies, and public bus carriers, wherein with regard to any particular travel or type of travel or travelers, all members or customers of the group must have a common exposure to risk attendant to the travel;

(b) any college, school, or other institution of learning, covering students, teachers, employees, or volunteers;

(c) any employer covering any group of employees, volunteers, contractors, board of directors, dependents, or guests;

(d) any sports team, camp, or sponsor thereof, covering participants, members, campers, employees, officials, supervisors, or volunteers;

(e) any religious, charitable, recreational, educational, or civic organization or branch thereof covering any group of members, participants, or volunteers;

(f) any financial institutions or financial institution vendor or parent holding company, trustee, or agent of or designated by one or more financial institutions or financial institution vendors, including accountholders, credit card holders, debtors, guarantors, or purchasers;

(g) any incorporated or unincorporated association, including labor unions, having a common interest, constitution, and bylaws and organized and maintained in good faith for purposes other than obtaining insurance for members or participants of the association covering its members;

(h) any trust or the trustees of a fund established, created, or maintained for the benefit of and covering members, employees, or customers, subject to the commissioner's permitting the use of a trust and the state's premium tax provisions in 33-2-705 of one or more associations meeting the requirements in subsection (5)(g);

(i) any entertainment production company covering any group of participants, volunteers, audience members, contestants, or workers;

(j) any volunteer fire department, ambulance, rescue, police, or court or any first aid, civil defense, or other volunteer group;

(k) preschools, daycare institutions for children or adults, and senior citizen clubs;

(l) any automobile or truck rental or leasing company covering a group of individuals who may become renters, lessees, or passengers defined by their travel status on the rented or leased vehicles. The common carrier, the operator, owner, or lessor of a means of transportation, or the automobile or truck rental or leasing company is the policyholder under a policy to which this section applies.

(m) any other group for which the commissioner has determined that the members are engaged in a common enterprise or have an economic, educational, or social affinity or relationship and that issuance of the policy would not be contrary to the public interest.

(6) "Fulfillment materials" means documentation sent to the purchaser of a travel protection plan confirming the purchase and providing the travel protection plan's coverage and assistance details.

(7) "Limited lines travel insurance producer" means a:

(a) managing general agent or third-party administrator;

(b) licensed insurance producer, including a limited lines producer, designated by an insurer as the travel insurance supervising entity as set forth in 33-17-1404; or

(c) travel administrator.

(8) "Offer and disseminate" means providing general information, including a description of coverage and price, as well as processing applications, collecting premiums, and performing other activities not requiring licensure by the state.

(9) "Travel administrator" means a person who directly or indirectly underwrites, collects charges, collateral, or premiums from, or adjusts or settles claims on residents of this state in connection with travel insurance, except that a person may not be considered a travel administrator if that person's only actions that would otherwise cause it to be considered a travel administrator are among the following:

(a) a person working for a travel administrator to the extent that the person's activities are subject to the supervision and control of the travel administrator;

(b) an insurance producer selling insurance or engaged in administrative and facilitation of claims-related activities within the scope of the producer's license;

(c) a travel retailer offering and disseminating travel insurance and registered under the license of a limited lines travel insurance producer in accordance with this part;

(d) an individual adjusting or settling claims in the normal course of that individual's practice or employment as an attorney at law and who does not collect charges or premiums in connection with insurance coverage; or

(e) a business entity that is affiliated with a licensed insurer while acting as a travel administrator for the direct and assumed insurance business of an affiliated insurer.

(10) "Travel assistance services" means noninsurance services for which the consumer is not indemnified based on a fortuitous event and that do not result in the transfer or shifting of risk that would constitute the business of insurance. Travel assistance services include but are not limited to security advisories; destination information; vaccination and immunization information services; travel reservation services; entertainment; activity and event planning; translation assistance; emergency messaging; international legal and medical referrals; medical case monitoring; coordination of transportation arrangements; emergency cash transfer assistance; medical prescription replacement assistance; passport and travel document replacement assistance; lost luggage assistance; concierge services; and any other service that is furnished in connection with planned travel. Travel assistance services are not insurance and are not related to insurance.

(11) (a) "Travel insurance" means insurance coverage for personal risks incident to planned travel, including but not limited to:

(i) interruption or cancellation of a trip or event;

(ii) loss of baggage or personal effects;

(iii) damages to accommodations or rental vehicles;

(iv) sickness, accident, disability, or death occurring during travel;

(v) emergency evacuation;

(vi) repatriation of remains; or

(vii) any other contractual obligations to indemnify or pay a specified amount to the traveler upon determinable contingencies related to travel as approved by the commissioner.

(b) The term does not include major medical plans that provide comprehensive medical protection for travelers on trips lasting 6 months or longer, including those working overseas and military personnel being deployed.

(c) Travel insurance must be classified and filed for purposes of rates and forms under an inland marine line of insurance, provided, however, that travel insurance that provides coverage for sickness, accident, disability, or death occurring during travel, either exclusively or in conjunction with related coverages of emergency evacuation or repatriation of remains, may be filed under either an accident and health line of insurance or an inland marine line of insurance as long as the insurer is authorized to transact business in the line of insurance under which the rates and forms are filed.

(d) Eligibility and underwriting standards for travel insurance may be developed and provided based on travel protection plans designed for individual or identified marketing or distribution channels, provided those standards also meet the state's underwriting standards for inland marine.

(12) "Travel protection plans" means plans that provide one or more of the following:

(a) travel insurance;

(b) travel assistance services; or

(c) cancellation fee waivers.

(13) "Travel retailer" means a business entity that makes, arranges, or offers travel services and that may offer and disseminate travel insurance as a service to its customers on behalf of and under the direction of a limited lines travel insurance producer.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 359, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 517, L. 2023.

33-17-1402. Requirements to offer and disseminate travel insurance — types of policies — rulemaking. (1) The commissioner may issue a limited lines travel insurance producer license to an individual or business entity that has filed with the commissioner an application for a limited lines travel insurance producer license in a form and manner prescribed by the commissioner. The limited lines travel insurance producer must be licensed to sell, solicit, or negotiate travel insurance through a licensed insurer. A person may not act as a limited lines travel insurance producer or travel retailer unless properly licensed or registered, respectively.

(2) A travel retailer may offer and disseminate travel insurance under a limited lines travel insurance producer business entity license only if the following conditions are met:

(a) the limited lines travel insurance producer or travel retailer provides purchasers of travel insurance with:

(i) a description of the material terms or the actual material terms of the insurance coverage;

(ii) a description of the process for filing a claim;

(iii) a description of the review or cancellation process for the travel insurance policy; and

(iv) the identity and contact information of the insurer and the limited lines travel insurance producer;

(b) the limited lines travel insurance producer designates an employee who is an individual licensed producer as the designated responsible producer responsible for the limited lines travel insurance producer's compliance with the applicable insurance laws and rules of this state;

(c) the designated responsible producer, president, secretary, treasurer, and any other officer or person who directs or controls the limited lines travel insurance producer's insurance operations have complied with the fingerprinting requirements in the resident state of the limited lines travel insurance producer;

(d) the limited lines travel insurance producer has paid all applicable insurance producer licensing fees required pursuant to 33-2-708 or other applicable state law; and

(e) the limited lines travel insurance producer requires each employee and authorized representative of the travel retailer whose duties include offering and disseminating travel insurance to receive a program of instruction or training, which may be subject to review by the commissioner. The training material must, at a minimum, contain instructions on the types of insurance offered, ethical sales practices, and required disclosures to prospective customers.

(3) A travel retailer offering or disseminating travel insurance shall make available to prospective purchasers brochures or other written materials that:

(a) provide the identity and contact information of the insurer and the limited lines travel insurance producer;

(b) explain that the purchase of travel insurance is not required in order to purchase any other product or service from the travel retailer; and

(c) explain that a travel retailer employee or authorized representative who is not licensed as an insurance producer is permitted to provide general information about the insurance offered by the travel retailer, including a description of the coverage and price, but is not qualified or authorized to answer technical questions about the terms and conditions of the insurance offered by the travel retailer or to evaluate the adequacy of the customer's existing insurance coverage.

(4) A travel retailer's employees or authorized representatives who are not licensed as insurance producers may not:

(a) evaluate or interpret the technical terms, benefits, and conditions of the offered travel insurance coverage;

(b) evaluate or provide advice concerning a prospective purchaser's existing insurance coverage; or

(c) hold themselves out as licensed insurers, licensed producers, or insurance experts.

(5) Travel insurance may be provided under an individual policy or under a group or master policy.

(6) A person licensed in property and casualty as an insurance producer is authorized to sell, solicit, and negotiate travel insurance. A property and casualty insurance producer is not required to become appointed by an insurer in order to sell, solicit, or negotiate travel insurance.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 359, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 517, L. 2023; amd. Sec. 15, Ch. 8, L. 2025.

Compiler's Comments

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 15, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-17-1403. Authorization. Upon a limited lines travel insurance producer meeting the requirements provided for in 33-17-1402, a travel retailer is authorized to offer and disseminate travel insurance and receive related compensation when the travel retailer's insurance-related activities and those of its employees and authorized representatives are limited to offering and disseminating travel insurance on behalf of and under the direction of the limited lines travel insurance producer.

33-17-1404. Responsibility — enforcement — penalties — scope. (1) The limited lines travel insurance producer is the supervising entity responsible for the acts of the travel retailer and shall use reasonable means to ensure compliance by the travel retailer with the provisions of this part.

(2) A limited lines travel insurance producer and any travel retailer offering and disseminating travel insurance under the limited lines travel insurance producer's license are subject to the enforcement provisions applicable to insurance producers generally.

(3) All other applicable provisions of the insurance code continue to apply to travel insurance, except that the specific provisions of this part supersede any general provisions of law that would otherwise be applicable to travel insurance.

33-17-1405. Travel protection plans. Travel protection plans may be offered for one price for the combined features that the travel protection plan offers in this state if:

(1) the travel protection plan clearly discloses to the consumer, at or prior to the time of purchase, that it includes travel insurance, travel assistance services, and cancellation fee waivers, as applicable, and provides information and an opportunity, at or prior to the time of purchase, for the consumer to obtain additional information regarding the features and pricing of each; and

(2) the fulfillment materials:

(a) describe and delineate the travel insurance, travel assistance services, and cancellation fee waivers in the travel protection plan; and

(b) include the travel insurance disclosures and the contact information for persons providing travel assistance services and cancellation fee waivers, as applicable.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 517, L. 2023.

33-17-1406. Sales practices. (1) All persons offering travel insurance to residents of this state are subject to the provisions of the unfair trade practice provisions of Title 33, chapter 18, except as otherwise provided in this section. In the event of a conflict between this part and other provisions of Title 33 regarding the sale and marketing of travel insurance and travel protection plans, the provisions of this part control.

(2) Offering or selling a travel insurance policy that could never result in payment of any claims for any insured under the policy is an unfair trade practice under Title 33, chapter 18.

(3) The marketing of a travel insurance policy must meet the following requirements:

(a) All documents provided to consumers prior to the purchase of travel insurance, including but not limited to sales materials, advertising materials, and marketing materials, must be consistent with the travel insurance policy itself, including but not limited to forms, endorsements, policies, rate filings, and certificates of insurance.

(b) For travel insurance policies or certificates that contain preexisting condition exclusions, information and an opportunity to learn more about the preexisting condition exclusions must be provided any time prior to the time of purchase and included in the coverage's fulfillment materials.

(c) (i) The fulfillment materials and the information described in 33-17-1402(2)(a)(i) through (2)(a)(iv) must be provided to a policyholder or certificate holder as soon as practicable following the purchase of a travel protection plan. Unless the insured has either started a covered trip or filed a claim under the travel insurance coverage, a policyholder or certificate holder may cancel a policy or certificate for a full refund of the travel protection plan price from the date of purchase of a travel protection plan until at least:

(A) 15 days following the date of delivery of the travel protection plan's fulfillment materials by postal mail; or

(B) 10 days following the date of delivery of the travel protection plan's fulfillment materials by means other than postal mail.

(ii) For the purposes of subsection (3)(c)(i), "delivery" means handing fulfillment materials to the policyholder or certificate holder or sending fulfillment materials by postal mail or electronic means to the policyholder or certificate holder.

(d) The company shall disclose in the policy documentation and fulfillment materials whether the travel insurance is primary or secondary to other applicable coverage.

(e) When travel insurance is marketed directly to a consumer through an insurer's website or by others through an aggregator site, it is not an unfair trade practice or other violation of law if an accurate summary or short description of coverage is provided on the web page and as long as the consumer has access to the full provisions of the policy through electronic means.

(4) A person offering, soliciting, or negotiating travel insurance or travel protection plans on an individual or group basis may not do so by using negative option or opt out, which would require a consumer to take an affirmative action to deselect coverage, such as unchecking a box on an electronic form, when the consumer purchases a trip.

(5) It is an unfair trade practice to market blanket travel insurance coverage as free.

(6) When a consumer's destination jurisdiction requires insurance coverage, it is not an unfair trade practice to require that a consumer choose between the following options as a condition of purchasing a trip or travel package:

(a) purchasing the coverage required by the destination jurisdiction through the travel retailer or limited lines travel insurance producer supplying the trip or travel package; or

(b) agreeing to obtain and provide proof of coverage that meets the destination jurisdiction's requirements prior to departure.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 517, L. 2023.

33-17-1407. Travel administrators. (1) A person may not act or represent itself as a travel administrator for travel insurance in this state unless the person:

(a) is a licensed property and casualty insurance producer in this state for activities permitted under the producer's license; or

(b) holds a valid third-party administrator certificate in this state.

(2) A travel administrator and its employees are exempt from the licensing requirements of Title 33, chapter 17, part 3, for travel insurance it administers.

(3) An insurer is responsible for the acts of a travel administrator administering travel insurance underwritten by the insurer and is responsible for ensuring that the travel administrator maintains all books and records relevant to the insurer to be made available by the travel administrator to the commissioner on request.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 517, L. 2023.

33-17-1408. Rulemaking. The commissioner may adopt rules necessary to implement the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 517, L. 2023.

Part 15
Rental Vehicle Insurance

(1) "Customer service representative" means an employee of a rental vehicle entity.

(2) "Present rental vehicle insurance information" means to present the option to acquire rental vehicle insurance to a renter.

(3) "Rental agreement" means a written agreement setting forth the terms and conditions governing the use of a vehicle that is provided by a rental vehicle entity for the rental or lease of a rental vehicle for a period of not more than 90 days.

(4) "Rental vehicle" means a motor vehicle that is designated as:

(a) a private passenger motor vehicle, including an automobile, a passenger van, a minivan, or a sport utility vehicle; or

(b) a cargo vehicle, including a cargo van, a pickup truck, or a truck with a gross weight of less than 26,000 pounds that does not require the operator to possess a commercial driver's license.

(5) "Rental vehicle entity" means an entity in the business of providing rental vehicles to the public under a rental agreement.

(6) "Rental vehicle insurance" means insurance that a renter purchases from a rental vehicle entity as part of the rental agreement in conjunction with the use of a rental vehicle.

(7) "Renter" means a person who obtains the use of a rental vehicle from a rental vehicle entity under the terms of a rental agreement.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 409, L. 2003.

33-17-1502. Rental vehicle entity license — customer service representative requirements — recordkeeping. (1) A rental vehicle entity may obtain a business entity insurance producer license.

(2) A rental vehicle entity shall designate an individual licensed insurance producer who is responsible for the rental vehicle entity's compliance with the insurance laws of this state.

(3) A rental vehicle entity or customer service representative may not present rental vehicle insurance information to renters unless the rental vehicle entity is licensed and the customer service representative has been trained as required under 33-17-1503.

(4) A customer service representative may present rental vehicle insurance information only on behalf of a rental vehicle entity.

(5) A rental vehicle entity shall supervise a customer service representative who provides rental vehicle insurance under the provisions of this part.

(6) A rental vehicle entity shall submit to the commissioner an annual report listing each customer service representative presenting rental vehicle insurance information to the public.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 409, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 469, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 63, L. 2015.

33-17-1503. Training of customer service representative. (1) A rental vehicle entity shall provide a training program for each customer service representative prior to allowing that customer service representative to present rental vehicle insurance information to renters.

(2) The rental vehicle entity shall present the training program to the commissioner for approval.

(3) The training may be in an electronic or video format and must cover the following areas:

(a) rental vehicle insurance;

(b) specific instruction that information may not be presented either by statement or conduct, express or implied, that would lead the renter to believe:

(i) that the purchase of rental vehicle insurance is required to rent a vehicle;

(ii) that the renter does not have a personal automobile insurance policy in place that provides coverage; or

(iii) that the customer service representative is qualified to evaluate the adequacy of the renter's existing insurance coverage.

(4) The training and education program must be submitted for review and approval pursuant to 33-17-1204 and 33-17-1205.

33-17-1504. Rental vehicle entity requirements. A rental vehicle entity may not solicit, negotiate, or sell rental vehicle insurance unless:

(1) at every location where rental vehicle agreements are executed, the rental vehicle entity prominently displays and makes readily available written material to each renter who may purchase rental vehicle insurance that:

(a) summarizes the material terms, exclusions, limitations, and conditions of coverage offered to renters, including the identity of the insurer;

(b) describes the process for filing claims in the event that the renter elects to purchase the coverage, including a toll-free telephone number to report a claim;

(c) provides the rental vehicle entity's name, address, telephone number, and business entity license number, as well as the commissioner's consumer hotline telephone number;

(d) informs the renter that the rental vehicle entity may provide a duplication of coverage already provided by a renter's automobile insurance policy;

(e) informs the renter that the purchase by the renter of the rental vehicle insurance is not required in order to rent a vehicle; and

(f) informs the renter that neither the rental vehicle entity nor the customer service representative is qualified to evaluate the adequacy of the renter's existing insurance coverage.

(2) Evidence of the rental vehicle insurance coverage must be stated in the rental agreement.

(3) The cost of the rental vehicle insurance must be separately itemized in the rental agreement, unless preselection of coverage is made in a master, corporate, or group agreement.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 409, L. 2003.

33-17-1505. Recordkeeping and trust fund requirements. (1) A rental vehicle entity shall keep records of insurance transactions pursuant to 33-17-1101.

(2) The commissioner may not require a rental vehicle entity to hold rental vehicle insurance premium in a separate trust account pursuant to 33-17-1102 if the premium for rental vehicle insurance is itemized as part of the rental agreement.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 409, L. 2003.

Part 16
Bail Bond Insurance License

Part Cross-References

Continuing education — basic requirements — exceptions, 33-17-1203.

33-17-1601. Special qualifications for surety bail bond insurance license. (1) Before approving an application for a surety bail bond insurance license, the commissioner shall verify that the individual:

(a) is a natural person at least 18 years of age;

(b) is a citizen of the United States or is lawfully entitled to remain and work in the United States;

(c) maintains a fixed place of business or is a full-time agent within the state;

(d) has obtained a high school diploma, a general equivalency diploma or equivalent document, or an equivalent education as determined by the commissioner;

(e) has complied with the requirements of 33-17-211; and

(f) has successfully completed the training required in 33-17-1602.

(2) An individual may not receive, renew, or hold a surety bail bond license if the individual:

(a) has been convicted of a felony in this state or of any offense committed in another state that would be a felony if committed in this state; or

(b) has been convicted of an offense involving dishonesty, a breach of trust, violence, threatened violence, or the unlawful use, sale, or possession of a controlled substance.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 592, L. 2023; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 473, L. 2025.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 1, Ch. 473, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-17-1602. Surety bail bond insurance license — basic course of training — temporary license. (1) Except as otherwise provided in this section, an applicant for a surety bail bond insurance license shall satisfactorily complete a basic course of training for bail enforcement agents that is approved by the commissioner.

(2) Before approving an application for a surety bail bond insurance license, the commissioner shall verify that the individual:

(a) holds a high school diploma, general equivalency diploma, or equivalent; and

(b) has no felony convictions or offenses involving dishonesty, violence, or controlled substances.

(3) Applicants shall complete a 16-hour basic training course that includes instruction in:

(a) constitutional law and civil liability;

(b) rights of individuals in custody;

(c) use of force guidelines;

(d) procedures for arresting and surrendering defendants;

(e) handling individuals with mental health or substance use challenges;

(f) defensive tactics;

(g) bail bond ethics; and

(h) report writing and form completion.

(4) Once every 2 years, licensees shall complete continuing education that includes high-quality relevant instruction for:

(a) 1 hour on updates to state and federal laws affecting the bail industry; and

(b) 4 hours of approved credits on general bail industry knowledge or trends that is provided by a recognized state or national bail industry association or any other approved provider.

(5) (a) The commissioner may issue a temporary license valid for up to 12 months, allowing applicants to operate under supervision while completing training requirements. Supervision must be provided by a licensed surety bail bond agent who:

(i) has been licensed and actively in business in Montana for at least 5 consecutive years;

(ii) is a resident of the state; and

(iii) is in good standing with the commissioner of insurance, with no disciplinary actions or violations within the past 5 years.

(b) Renewal of the temporary license is prohibited to ensure timely completion of all training and licensing requirements.

(6) Existing licensed surety bail bond agents are exempt from initial training requirements but shall participate in the biennial continuing education program.

(7) (a) In lieu of completing the basic course of training required by subsection (1), an applicant may submit proof to the commissioner that the applicant has completed a course of training required by a municipal, state, or federal law enforcement agency or a branch of the armed forces to carry out the duties of a peace officer.

(b) Proof of on-the-job training in the basic course of training areas is sufficient for the commissioner to find that granting a surety bail bond insurance license is in the public interest. The commissioner's decision whether to grant or deny a waiver under this subsection (7) is not subject to the provisions provided in Title 33, chapter 1, part 7.

(8) An applicant for a surety bail bond insurance license shall complete the training required by this section within 12 months after the date the applicant is employed by a licensed surety bail bond agent. The commissioner may issue a temporary license to an applicant who has not completed the training if the applicant is otherwise qualified to be issued a license as a surety bail bond agent. The temporary license:

(a) authorizes the applicant to act as a surety bail bond agent while employed by a licensed surety bail bond agent;

(b) is valid for up to 12 months; and

(c) may not be renewed.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-18-101. Purposes. The purpose of this chapter is to regulate trade practices in the business of insurance in accordance with the intent of congress as expressed in Public Law 79-15 (the McCarran-Ferguson Act, 15 U.S.C. 1011 through 1015), which was approved March 9, 1945, by defining or providing for determination of all such practices in this state which constitute unfair methods of competition or unfair or deceptive acts or practices and by prohibiting the trade practices so defined or determined.

33-18-102. Unfair methods or deceptive practices prohibited — refusal to renew. (1) No person shall engage in this state in any trade practice which is defined in this chapter as or determined pursuant to this chapter to be an unfair method of competition or an unfair or deceptive act or practice in the business of insurance.

(2) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to prevent an insurer owned or controlled by an association or organization, including a mutual insurer formed to provide insurance to the members of an association or organization, from refusing to renew a casualty or liability policy for nonpayment of dues to the association or organization if payment of dues is a condition for obtaining or continuing such insurance.

History: En. Sec. 204, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3502; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 319, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 143, L. 1983.

33-18-103. Protection of active duty members of armed forces — rulemaking authority. (1) (a) As used in this section, "life insurance product" means any product, including individual and group life insurance, funding agreements, and annuities, that provides insurance for which the probabilities of the duration of human life or the rate of mortality are an element or condition of insurance.

(b) The term includes the granting of:

(i) endowment benefits;

(ii) additional benefits in the event of death by accident or accidental means;

(iii) disability income benefits;

(iv) additional disability benefits that operate to safeguard the contract from lapse or to provide a special surrender value or special benefit in the event of total and permanent disability;

(v) benefits that provide payment or reimbursement for long-term home health care or long-term care in a nursing home or other related facility;

(vi) burial insurance; and

(vii) optional modes of settlement or proceeds of life insurance.

(c) The term does not include workers' compensation insurance, health insurance, disability insurance, property and casualty insurance, or life insurance products specifically contracted by or through the federal government.

(2) As provided in Public Law 109-290, in cooperation with the national association of insurance commissioners, the commissioner shall:

(a) work collectively with other states to develop and implement appropriate standards to protect active duty members of the armed forces from dishonest and predatory insurance sales practices;

(b) identify this state's role in promoting standards developed pursuant to subsection (2)(a); and

(c) work collectively with other states to implement a system to receive and disseminate reports of disciplinary actions taken by federal or state government entities or insurers against persons that sell or solicit the sale of any life insurance product to active duty members of the armed forces.

(3) (a) The commissioner may adopt rules for:

(i) written disclosures to be used in the sale or solicitation of any life insurance product to active duty members of the armed forces and their dependents to protect the members or the members' dependents from dishonest and predatory insurance sales practices while located in this state;

(ii) requiring insurers to implement a system to report to the commissioner:

(A) disciplinary actions taken by a federal or state government entity with respect to sales or solicitations of life insurance products to active duty members of the armed forces that the insurer knows or in the exercise of due diligence should have known were taken; and

(B) significant disciplinary action taken by the insurer with respect to sales or solicitations of life insurance products to active duty members of the armed forces of this state.

(b) Rules adopted by the commissioner must be consistent with and may not go beyond the scope of:

(i) any model regulations that are adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners in response to a directive from the United States congress in Public Law 109-290, directing that the states ensure implementation of appropriate standards to protect active duty members of the armed forces from dishonest and predatory insurance sales practices;

(ii) rules or regulations adopted by the secretary of defense pursuant to Public Law 109-290; and

(iii) the requirements of Public Law 109-290.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 333, L. 2007.

33-18-104. (Effective January 1, 2026) Health insurance lead generators — scope and definitions. For the purposes of 33-18-101, 33-18-102, 33-18-201 through 33-18-206, 33-18-208, 33-18-209, 33-18-302, 33-18-303, and Title 33, chapter 18, part 10, the following terms apply:

(1) "Health insurance lead generator" means a person who utilizes a lead-generating device to:

(a) publicize the availability of what is or what purports to be a health insurance product or service that the person is not licensed to sell directly to a customer;

(b) identify a customer who may want to learn more about a health insurance product; or

(c) sell or transmit customer information to insurers or producers for follow-up contact and sales activity.

(2) "Lead-generating device" means any communication directed to the public that, regardless of form, content, or stated purpose, is intended to result in the compilation or qualification of a list containing names and other personal information to be used to solicit residents of the state for the purchase of what is or what purports to be a health insurance product or service.

(3) "Person" includes a health insurance lead generator.

Part 2
Insurer's Relations With Insured and Claimant

33-18-201. Unfair claim settlement practices prohibited. A person may not, with such frequency as to indicate a general business practice, do any of the following:

(1) misrepresent pertinent facts or insurance policy provisions relating to coverages at issue;

(2) fail to acknowledge and act reasonably promptly upon communications with respect to claims arising under insurance policies;

(3) fail to adopt and implement reasonable standards for the prompt investigation of claims arising under insurance policies;

(4) refuse to pay claims without conducting a reasonable investigation based on all available information;

(5) fail to affirm or deny coverage of claims within a reasonable time after proof of loss statements have been completed;

(6) neglect to attempt in good faith to effectuate prompt, fair, and equitable settlements of claims in which liability has become reasonably clear;

(7) compel insureds to institute litigation to recover amounts due under an insurance policy by offering substantially less than the amounts ultimately recovered in actions brought by the insureds;

(8) attempt to settle a claim for less than the amount to which a reasonable person would have believed the person was entitled by reference to written or printed advertising material accompanying or made part of an application;

(9) attempt to settle claims on the basis of an application that was altered without notice to or knowledge or consent of the insured;

(10) make claims payments to insureds or beneficiaries not accompanied by statements setting forth the coverage under which the payments are being made;

(11) make known to insureds or claimants a policy of appealing from arbitration awards in favor of insureds or claimants for the purpose of compelling them to accept settlements or compromises less than the amount awarded in arbitration;

(12) delay the investigation or payment of claims by requiring an insured, claimant, or physician of either to submit a preliminary claim report and then requiring the subsequent submission of formal proof of loss forms, both of which submissions contain substantially the same information;

(13) fail to promptly settle claims, if liability has become reasonably clear, under one portion of the insurance policy coverage in order to influence settlements under other portions of the insurance policy coverage;

(14) fail to promptly provide a reasonable explanation of the basis in the insurance policy in relation to the facts or applicable law for denial of a claim or for the offer of a compromise settlement; or

(15) upon request of a policyholder or a producer designated by a policyholder, fail to provide a list of claims charged against a policy as required by 33-15-1126.

33-18-202. Misrepresentation and false advertising of policies prohibited. A person may not make, issue, circulate, or cause to be made, issued, or circulated any estimate, illustration, circular, sales presentation, omission, comparison, or statement that:

(1) misrepresents the benefits, advantages, conditions, or terms of any insurance policy;

(2) misrepresents the dividends or share of the surplus to be received on any insurance policy;

(3) makes any false or misleading statement as to the dividends or share of surplus previously paid on any insurance policy;

(4) is misleading or is a misrepresentation as to the financial condition of any person or as to the legal reserve system upon which any life insurer operates;

(5) uses any name or title of any insurance policy or class of insurance policies misrepresenting the true nature of the policy or class of policies;

(6) is a misrepresentation, including any intentional misquote of the premium rate, for the purpose of inducing or tending to induce the purchase, lapse, forfeiture, exchange, conversion, or surrender of any insurance policy;

(7) is a misrepresentation for the purpose of effecting a pledge or assignment of or effecting a loan against any insurance policy;

(8) misrepresents any insurance policy as being shares of stock; or

(9) offers or provides insurance as an inducement to the purchase of another policy or otherwise uses certain terms including but not limited to "free" or "no cost".

33-18-206. Unfair discrimination prohibited — life insurance, annuities, and disability insurance. (1) No person shall make or permit any unfair discrimination between individuals of the same class and equal expectation of life in the rates charged for any contract of life insurance or of life annuity or in the dividends or other benefits payable thereon or in any other of the terms and conditions of such contract.

(2) No person shall make or permit any unfair discrimination between individuals of the same class and of essentially the same hazard in the amount of premium, policy fees, or rates charged for any policy or contract of disability insurance or in the benefits payable thereunder or in any of the terms or conditions of such contract or in any other manner whatever.

(3) An insurer may not refuse to consider an application for life or disability insurance on the basis of a genetic condition, developmental delay, or developmental disability.

(4) The rejection of an application or the determining of rates, terms, or conditions of a life or disability insurance contract on the basis of genetic condition, developmental delay, or developmental disability constitutes unfair discrimination unless the applicant's medical condition and history and either claims experience or actuarial projections establish that substantial differences in claims are likely to result from the genetic condition, developmental delay, or developmental disability.

(5) As used in this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Developmental delay" means a delay of at least 1½ standard deviations from the norm.

(b) "Developmental disability" means the singular of developmental disabilities as defined in 53-20-202.

(c) "Genetic condition" means a specific chromosomal or single-gene genetic condition.

33-18-207. Preferred rates to fictitious groups prohibited — approval of preferred group rates and forms. (1) No insurer, whether an authorized insurer or an unauthorized insurer, shall make available through any rating plan or form, property, casualty, or surety insurance to any firm, corporation, or association of individuals, any preferred rate or premium based upon any fictitious group of such firm, corporation, or association of individuals.

(2) No form or plan of insurance covering any group or combination of persons or risks shall be written or delivered within or outside this state to cover persons or risks in this state at any preferred rate or on any form other than as offered to persons not in such group or combination and to the public generally unless such form, plan of insurance, and the rates or premiums to be charged therefor have been submitted to and approved by the commissioner as being not unfairly discriminatory and as not otherwise being in conflict with subsection (1) above or with any provision of parts 1 through 4 of chapter 16 to the extent that parts 1 through 4 are, by their terms, applicable thereto.

(3) This section does not apply to life insurance, disability insurance, workers' compensation insurance written for industry or business associations, or annuity contracts. However, workers' compensation group insurance rates are subject to all applicable provisions of chapter 16, part 10.

33-18-208. Contract to contain agreements — rebates prohibited — life, disability, and annuity contracts. Except as otherwise expressly provided by law and in 33-22-2204, a person may not knowingly:

(1) permit or offer to make or make any contract of life insurance, life annuity, or disability insurance or agreement as to such contract other than as plainly expressed in the contract issued thereon;

(2) pay or allow or give or offer to pay, allow, or give, directly or indirectly, as inducement to such insurance or annuity any rebate of premiums payable on the contract or any special favor or advantage in the dividends or other benefits thereon or any paid employment or contract for services of any kind or any valuable consideration or inducement whatever not specified in the contract;

(3) directly or indirectly give or sell or purchase or offer or agree to give, sell, purchase, or allow as inducement to such insurance or annuity or in connection therewith and whether or not to be specified in the policy or contract, any agreement of any form or nature promising returns and profits or any stocks, bonds, or other securities or interest present or contingent therein or as measured thereby of any insurance company or other corporation, association, or partnership or any dividends or profits accrued or to accrue thereon; or

(4) offer, promise, or give anything of value whatsoever not specified in the contract.

33-18-209. Exceptions to discrimination and rebates provision. Nothing in 33-18-206 and 33-18-208 shall be construed as including within the definition of discrimination or rebates any of the following practices:

(1) in the case of any contract of life insurance or life annuity, paying bonuses to policyholders or otherwise abating their premiums in whole or in part out of surplus accumulated from nonparticipating insurance, provided that any such bonuses or abatement of premiums shall be fair and equitable to policyholders and for the best interests of the insurer;

(2) in the case of life insurance policies issued on the industrial debit, preauthorized check, bank draft, or similar plans, making allowance to policyholders who have continuously for a specified period made premium payments directly to an office of the insurer or by preauthorized check, bank draft, or similar plans, in an amount which fairly represents the saving in collection expense;

(3) readjustment of the rate of premium for a group insurance policy based on the loss or expense experience thereunder, at the end of the first or any subsequent policy year of insurance thereunder, which may be made retroactive only for such policy year;

(4) reduction of premium rate for policies of large amount but not exceeding savings in issuance and administration expenses reasonably attributable to such policies as compared with policies of similar plan issued in smaller amounts;

(5) issuing life or disability insurance policies on a salary savings or payroll deduction plan at reduced rate reasonably commensurate with the savings made by the use of such plan.

33-18-210. Unfair discrimination and rebates prohibited for title, property, casualty, or surety insurance — exceptions — limitations. (1) Except as provided in subsections (3), (4), and (11)(a), a title, property, casualty, or surety insurer or an employee, representative, or insurance producer of an insurer may not, as an inducement to purchase insurance or after insurance has been effected, pay, allow, or give or offer to pay, allow, or give, directly or indirectly, a:

(a) rebate, discount, abatement, credit, or reduction of the premium named in the insurance policy;

(b) special favor or advantage in the dividends or other benefits to accrue on the policy; or

(c) valuable consideration or inducement not specified in the policy, except to the extent provided for in an applicable filing with the commissioner as provided by law.

(2) Except as provided in subsections (3), (4), and (11)(a), an insured named in a policy or an employee of the insured may not knowingly receive or accept, directly or indirectly:

(a) a rebate, discount, abatement, credit, or reduction of premium;

(b) a special favor or advantage; or

(c) a valuable consideration or inducement.

(3) The prohibitions in subsections (1) and (2) do not apply to a benefit provided for by a telematics agreement as provided in 33-23-221 through 33-23-226 or a benefit or premium reduction for preventative measures taken by the insured for homeowner's insurance under 33-24-110.

(4) The prohibitions under subsections (1) and (2) do not apply to an active, retired, or honorably separated member of the United States armed forces as described in 33-18-217(1)(a) or to a spouse, surviving spouse, dependent, or heir of a United States armed forces member as provided in 33-18-217.

(5) An insurer may not make or permit unfair discrimination in the premium or rates charged for insurance, in the dividends or other benefits payable on insurance, or in any other terms and conditions of the insurance either between insureds or property having like insuring or risk characteristics or between insureds because of race, color, creed, religion, or national origin.

(6) This section may not be construed as prohibiting the payment of commissions or other compensation to licensed insurance producers or as prohibiting an insurer from allowing or returning lawful dividends, savings, or unabsorbed premium deposits to its participating policyholders, members, or subscribers.

(7) An insurer may not make or permit unfair discrimination between individuals or risks of the same class and of essentially the same hazards by refusing to issue, refusing to renew, canceling, or limiting the amount of insurance coverage on a property or casualty risk because of the geographic location of the risk unless:

(a) the refusal, cancellation, or limitation is for a business purpose that is not a mere pretext for unfair discrimination; or

(b) the refusal, cancellation, or limitation is required by law or regulatory mandate.

(8) An insurer may not make or permit unfair discrimination between individuals or risks of the same class and of essentially the same hazards by refusing to issue, refusing to renew, canceling, or limiting the amount of insurance coverage on a residential property risk or on the personal property contained in the residential property because of the age of the residential property unless:

(a) the refusal, cancellation, or limitation is for a business purpose that is not a mere pretext for unfair discrimination; or

(b) the refusal, cancellation, or limitation is required by law or regulatory mandate.

(9) An insurer may not refuse to insure, refuse to continue to insure, or limit the amount of coverage available to an individual because of the sex or marital status of the individual. However, an insurer may take marital status into account for the purpose of defining persons eligible for dependents' benefits.

(10) An insurer may not terminate or modify coverage or refuse to issue or refuse to renew a property or casualty policy or contract of insurance solely because the applicant or insured or any employee of either is mentally or physically impaired. However, this subsection does not apply to accident and health insurance sold by a casualty insurer, and this subsection may not be interpreted to modify any other provision of law relating to the termination, modification, issuance, or renewal of any insurance policy or contract.

(11) (a) An insurer may not refuse to insure, refuse to continue to insure, charge higher rates, or limit the amount of coverage available to an individual under a private passenger automobile policy based solely on adverse information contained in an individual's claims history and driving record that is 3 years old or older. An insurer may provide discounts to an insured under a private passenger automobile policy based on favorable aspects of an insured's claims history.

(b) An insurer may not refuse to insure, refuse to continue to insure, charge higher rates, or limit the amount of coverage available under a commercial automobile policy based solely on adverse information contained in the loss experience or an insured's driving records that is 5 years old or older. An insurer may provide discounts to an insured under a commercial automobile policy based on favorable aspects of an insured's claims history.

(c) An insurer may not refuse to insure, refuse to continue to insure, charge higher rates, or limit the amount of coverage available under a personal homeowner policy based solely on adverse information contained in the loss experience that is 7 years old or older. An insurer may provide discounts to an insured under a personal homeowner policy based on favorable aspects of an insured's claims history.

(d) As used in subsection (11)(a), "private passenger automobile policy" means an automobile insurance policy issued to individuals or families but does not include policies known as commercial automobile policies.

(e) As used in subsection (11)(c), "personal homeowner policy" means property insurance under 33-1-210 that is sold by an insurer for personal, family, or household purposes.

(12) An insurer may not charge points or surcharge a private passenger motor vehicle policy because of a claim submitted under the insured's policy if the insured was not at fault.

(13) (a) An insurer that provides personal lines insurance for an insured may not consider the insured's inquiries or claims made to any insurer that did not result in a payment by any insurer in considering an application for, renewal of, or change in an insurance policy as defined in 33-15-102.

(b) This subsection (13) does not apply to an insurer's consideration of a claim that was the basis for a criminal or civil insurance fraud action by a state or regulatory enforcement entity.

(c) (i) For the purposes of this subsection (13), the term "personal lines insurance" means vehicle insurance under 33-1-206(1)(a) and property insurance under 33-1-210 that is sold by an insurer for personal, family, or household purposes.

(ii) The term does not include disability insurance or insurance for commercial, business, or professional services, products, or activities.

33-18-211. Stock operations and advisory board contracts. No person shall issue or deliver or permit its insurance producers, officers, or employees to issue or deliver agency company stock or other capital stock or benefit certificates or shares in any common-law corporation or any advisory board contract or other similar contract of any kind promising returns and profits as an inducement to insurance.

33-18-212. Illegal dealing in premiums — improper charges for insurance. (1) A person may not willfully collect any sum as a premium or charge for insurance that is not then provided or is not in due course to be provided, subject to acceptance of the risk by the insurer, by an insurance policy issued by an insurer as authorized by this code.

(2) A person may not willfully collect as a premium or charge for insurance any sum in excess of or less than the premium or charge applicable to the insurance and, as specified in the policy, in accordance with the applicable classifications and rates filed with or approved by the commissioner; or in cases in which classifications, premiums, or rates are not required by this code to be filed or approved, the premiums and charges may not be in excess of or less than those specified in the policy and as fixed by the insurer. This provision may not prohibit the charging and collection, by surplus lines insurance producers licensed under chapter 2, part 3, of the amount of applicable state and federal taxes in addition to the premium required by the insurer. This provision may not prohibit the charging and collection, by a life insurer, of amounts actually to be expended for medical examination of an applicant for life insurance or for reinstatement of a life insurance policy.

(3) This section does not prohibit the charging and collection of a flat fee by a surplus lines insurance producer as specified in 33-2-320 for transaction of surplus lines insurance policies.

33-18-213. Extension of credit to policyholder. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an insurance producer, as defined in 33-17-102, may extend credit to a policyholder in connection with the issuance or servicing of any policy procured or negotiated by the insurance producer, but any credit so extended must satisfy one of the following requirements:

(1) if credit is extended to a policyholder for not more than 30 days from the date the premium is due and the credit is not evidenced by a written instrument, no interest may be charged; or

(2) if credit is extended to a policyholder for more than 30 days from the date the premium is due and the credit is not evidenced by a written instrument, interest may be charged for credit extended after 30 days at a rate not more than 1½% a month on the unpaid balance; or

(3) if the extension of credit to a policyholder is evidenced by a written instrument signed by the policyholder, any interest charged for such credit shall be clearly stated in the instrument and may not exceed the legal rate of interest authorized in 31-1-107.

33-18-215. Postclaim underwriting prohibited — condition. An insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization may not place an elimination rider on or rescind coverage provided by a disability policy, certificate, or subscriber contract after a policy, certificate, or contract has been issued unless the insured has made a material misrepresentation or fraudulent misstatement on the application or has failed to pay the premium when due.

33-18-216. Unfair discrimination against victims of abuse prohibited. (1) An insurer, health maintenance organization, or health service corporation may not unfairly discriminate against a victim of abuse.

(2) For purposes of this section, "abuse" means the occurrence between family members, current or former household members, or intimate partners of one or more of the following:

(a) purposely, knowingly, or recklessly subjecting another person, including a minor child, to bodily injury, severe emotional distress, psychological trauma, sexual assault, or sexual intercourse without consent;

(b) subjecting another person, including a minor child, to false imprisonment or unlawful restraint or confinement.

(3) For purposes of this section, "abuse" includes purposely or knowingly engaging in a course of conduct toward a family member, current or former household member, or intimate partner that constitutes stalking in violation of 45-5-220.

(4) The following acts, when based on the insured's status as a victim of abuse, are prohibited as unfairly discriminatory:

(a) denying, refusing to issue, renew, or reissue, canceling, or otherwise terminating an insurance policy, certificate of coverage delivered or issued for delivery in Montana, subscriber contract, or health care services agreement;

(b) restricting or excluding coverage under an insurance policy or certificate delivered or issued for delivery in Montana;

(c) adding a premium differential to any insurance policy or certificate delivered or issued for delivery in Montana on the basis that the applicant or insured has been the victim of abuse; or

(d) excluding or limiting coverage for losses or denying a claim.

(5) Upon written request of the insured or an applicant, an insurer that takes an underwriting action that adversely affects a victim of abuse on the basis of a medical condition or property or casualty risk that the insurer knows is related to abuse shall explain to the insured or applicant in writing the reason for the insurer's action.

(6) (a) This section does not prohibit an insurer from underwriting, classifying risk, or administering a contract of insurance as otherwise allowed by law based on property or casualty risk or medical information that the insurer knows is related to abuse as long as the insurer underwrites, classifies risk, or administers the contract of insurance on the basis of the applicant's or insured's property or casualty risk or medical condition and not on the applicant's or insured's status as a victim of abuse.

(b) This section does not prohibit or otherwise limit an insurer's ability to elicit information from or about an applicant or insured as otherwise provided by law.

(7) This section may not be construed to alter or modify any conditions, exclusions, or limitations clearly stated in an insurance policy or certificate delivered or issued for delivery in Montana that are not otherwise inconsistent with the provisions of subsection (4).

(8) An insurer may not be held civilly or criminally liable for the death of or physical injury to an insured that is related to acts of abuse resulting from any action taken in a good faith effort to comply with the requirements of this section.

33-18-217. Military discount exception to rebate and discount prohibition for property or casualty insurance. (1) The prohibition against rebates or discounts provided for in 33-18-210 does not apply with respect to property or casualty insurance sales to:

(a) an active, retired, or honorably separated member of the United States armed forces, including a member of a reserve component as defined in 37-1-138; or

(b) a spouse, surviving spouse, dependent, or heir of a United States armed forces member referred to in subsection (1)(a).

(2) This section does not permit unfair discrimination based on rank or pay grade.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 98, L. 2015.

33-18-218. Insurer costs prohibited — duty to defend — exception. (1) Except as provided in 33-18-219 and subsection (2) of this section, an insurer may not recover costs of defending an insured against claims asserted against the insured if the insurer is subsequently determined to not owe a duty to defend the insured.

(2) An insurer may recover costs of defending an insured against claims asserted against the insured when the insurer is subsequently determined to not owe a duty to defend the insured if:

(a) the insurance policy or contract contains language giving the insurer the right to seek reimbursement or recover those costs from the insured;

(b) the insurer provides written notice to the insured that the insurer may seek reimbursement or recovery of those costs from the insured at the time the insurer assumes the defense of the claim or when an insurer discovers facts that lead the insurer to question whether a claim is covered, whichever is later; and

(c) the insurer institutes an action to determine whether the insurer owes the insured a duty to defend within 120 days of determining whether a question exists as to whether a claim is covered under the policy.

(3) The insured has the right to recover, or seek reimbursement of, those costs from a third party pursuant to a contract or agreement or as otherwise provided by law, but only to the extent an insurer has recovered those costs.

(4) Nothing in this section compromises an insurer's right to seek recovery or reimbursement of costs under this section from any party other than the insured against whom the claim has been asserted.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 419, L. 2023.

33-18-219. Exceptions to applicability. Section 33-18-218 does not apply and an insurer may seek reimbursement from an insured for any amount paid by the insurer in defending any claim asserted against an insured if:

(1) the insured made fraudulent or material misrepresentations or concealed or omitted facts or information in the application for insurance, and the insurer, in good faith, would not have issued the policy or contract if the true facts had been made known to the insurer;

(2) the insured made fraudulent or material misrepresentations or concealed or omitted facts or information in the submission of the claim; or

(3) the insurance policy or contract is a professional liability insurance policy or contract.

33-18-220 reserved.

33-18-221. Designation of specific repair shops prohibited — lists allowed. (1) An insurance company, including its producers and adjusters, that issues or renews a policy of insurance in this state covering, in whole or part, a motor vehicle may not:

(a) require that a person insured under the policy use a particular company or location for providing automobile glass replacement, glass repair services, or glass products insured in whole or part by the policy; or

(b) engage in any act or practice of intimidation, coercion, or threat for or against an insured person to use a particular company or location to provide automobile glass replacement, glass repair services, or glass products insured, in whole or in part, under the terms of an insurance policy.

(2) (a) An insurance company may provide an insured with a list that includes the names of particular companies or locations providing automobile glass replacement, glass repair services, or glass products if some of the listed companies or locations are reasonably close and convenient to the insured. The insurance company may restrict the list to those companies or locations that meet reasonable standards of quality, service, and safety.

(b) The insured may use a nonlisted company or location at the insured's sole discretion, and subject to the provisions of subsections (2)(c) and (3), the insurance company will fully and promptly pay for the cost of automobile glass replacement, glass repair services, or glass products provided, less any deductible under the terms of the policy.

(c) If the insured does not use a list as provided in subsection (2)(a), the insurer may require the insured to obtain not more than three competitive bids to establish the cost of automobile glass replacement, glass repair services, or glass products provided.

(3) This section does not require an insurer to pay more for automobile glass replacement, glass repair services, or glass products than the market price as defined in 33-18-222.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) through (3), an insurance company may agree to pay the full cost of glass replacement or repair.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 554, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 526, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 345, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 192, L. 2009.

33-18-222. Market price. (1) For purposes of 33-18-221, 33-18-223, and 33-18-224, "market price" means the:

(a) price agreed upon between the insurer and the business; or

(b) prevailing competitive rate that is reasonable and necessary in the local area where the repairs are to be performed.

(2) The market price may not be less than cost as provided in 30-14-209.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 554, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 526, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 345, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 192, L. 2009.

33-18-223. Prohibited activities — glass broker defined. (1) It is unlawful for an insurance company, individually or with others, to directly or indirectly:

(a) establish an agreement with any person to act as a glass broker for the insurance company under which the glass broker sets a price that must be met by a glass repair shop as a condition for doing glass replacement or glass repair work for the insurance company;

(b) establish an agreement with a glass broker that requires a glass repair shop to bill through that glass broker as a condition of doing glass replacement or glass repair work; or

(c) establish a price that must be met by a glass repair shop as a condition for doing glass replacement or glass repair work that is below the market price as provided in 33-18-222.

(2) As used in this section, "glass broker" means an automobile glass company that acts as a third-party agent for the insurer whenever the glass broker enters into agreements with other automobile glass dealers to perform glass replacement or glass repair work.

33-18-224. Designation of specific automobile body repair businesses prohibited. (1) (a) An insurance company, including its producers and adjusters, that issues or renews a policy of insurance in this state covering, in whole or in part, a motor vehicle may not:

(i) require that a claimant under the policy use a particular automobile body repair business or location for an estimate or a repair;

(ii) engage in any act or practice that intimidates, coerces, or threatens a claimant or that provides an incentive or inducement for a claimant to use a particular automobile body repair business or location; or

(iii) unilaterally disregard a repair operation or cost identified by an estimating system that the insurer and an automobile body repair business or location have agreed to utilize in determining the cost of repair.

(b) An insurance company, including its producers and adjusters, that issues or renews a policy of insurance in this state covering, in whole or in part, a motor vehicle may have access to the motor vehicle for purposes of preparing a competitive estimate.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), if an insurance company has direct repair programs with automobile body repair businesses or locations, the insurance company may not limit the number of automobile body repair businesses or locations with whom it maintains direct repair programs.

(b) An insurance company may limit the number of automobile body repair businesses or locations participating in the insurance company's direct repair program to those automobile body repair businesses or locations that comply with the provisions of subsection (2)(c).

An insurance company is not required to establish a direct repair program in a particular market area in which the insurance company's number of policyholders does not support establishing a direct repair program with any automobile body repair business or location.

(c) Upon request, the insurance company shall provide, without prejudice or bias, the claimant with a list that includes all automobile body repair businesses or locations that are reasonably close or convenient to the claimant and willing to provide services and that meet the insurance company's criteria regarding whether the automobile body repair business or location:

(i) possesses the equipment necessary to undertake repairs;

(ii) undertakes training of management and technical personnel with respect to repair information and the claims process;

(iii) agrees to perform quality repairs at the market price and that meet reasonable industry repair standards;

(iv) agrees to warrant the quality of work, including refinishing, in writing to the claimant, for a period of not less than 1 year from the date of repair;

(v) agrees to inspection of its repairs and services by the insurance company and agrees that the insurance company may terminate the direct repair program with the automobile body repair business or location if the repairs and services are below the standards of quality required by the insurance company; and

(vi) if requested, agrees to execute an agreement with the insurance company that may contain additional criteria that are not designed to unfairly limit the number of automobile body repair businesses or locations with whom the insurance company maintains direct repair programs. The additional criteria may include criteria determined to be necessary by the insurance company and designed to ensure that the automobile body repair business or location has the necessary estimating systems and programs and equipment to communicate electronically with the insurance company and that the automobile body repair business or location has taken steps to ensure the privacy of the insurance company and the claimant.

(d) If the claimant requests the list provided for in subsection (2)(c), the insurance company shall inform the claimant that the claimant may use an automobile body repair business or location at the sole discretion of the claimant.

(3) For the purposes of this section, an incentive or inducement does not include:

(a) providing a claimant with the list provided for in subsection (2)(c); or

(b) referring to a warranty issued by an automobile body repair business or location.

(4) The claimant may use an automobile body repair business or location at the claimant's sole discretion, and the insurance company shall pay for the reasonable and necessary cost of the automobile body repair services for covered damages, less any deductible under the terms of the policy. This section does not require an insurer to pay more for automobile body repair services than the market price, as defined in 33-18-222.

(5) If the claimant uses an automobile body repair business or location that is not on a list provided for in subsection (2)(c), the insurance company may not be held liable for any repair work performed by the automobile body repair business or location chosen by the claimant.

(6) It is unlawful for an automobile body repair business or location to charge or agree to charge a claimant more than an uninsured customer for any automobile body repair service.

(7) An insurance company that contracts with an independent adjuster may not be held liable for the independent adjuster's failure to comply with the terms of this section.

(8) For purposes of this section:

(a) "automobile body repair business or location" does not include a business or location that exclusively provides automobile glass replacement, glass repair services, or glass products;

(b) "claimant" means the person seeking repair of a motor vehicle whether that person is the insured person or a third party making a claim against the insurer.

33-18-225. Designation of specific car rental business prohibited. (1) An insurance company, including its producers and adjusters, that issues or renews a policy of insurance in this state covering, in whole or in part, a motor vehicle may not:

(a) require that a person, whether or not insured by the insurance company, for whom the insurance company is obligated to provide a car rental while the person's own car is being repaired use a particular car rental business; or

(b) engage in any act or practice that intimidates, coerces, or threatens a person to use a particular car rental business.

(2) (a) An insurance company that is subject to the provisions of this section and that provides for direct payment to any one or more car rental businesses in this state must provide for direct payment to any car rental business selected by a person described in subsection (1)(a).

(b) For the purposes of this section, "direct payment" means a method by which an insurance company makes a direct payment on behalf of an insured or a third party either through electronic means or by check to a car rental business.

(c) The insurance company may approve the daily rate to be paid by the insurance company based on the car classification.

(d) The insurance company is not obligated to pay more to the car rental business than is provided in the insured's policy limits pursuant to 33-23-203.

(3) This section does not require an insurer to pay more for a comparable car rental than the lowest price negotiated between a car rental business and the insurer.

(4) This section does not prohibit an insurer, its producers, or its adjusters from providing to a customer the name of a car rental business with which arrangements may have been made to provide car rental services as long as the ultimate choice is left to the person described in subsection (1)(a).

33-18-231. State administrative process to provide timely payment of medical benefits — definitions. In 33-18-231 through 33-18-235 the following definitions apply:

(1) "Claim documentation" means standard claims forms or other documentation routinely accepted by insurers as proof of loss.

(2) "Insurer" means any insurer as that term is defined by this title, including any fraternal benefit society, hospital service nonprofit corporation, health service corporation, nonprofit medical service corporation, nonprofit health care corporation, health maintenance organization, self-insurer, or third-party administrator or any other public or private, profit or nonprofit, governmental or nongovernmental individual, group, or organization that sells or offers for sale insurance policies, subscriber contracts, certificates, or agreements by which the offerer promises to pay medical benefits in any form in this state.

(3) "Proof of loss" means any claim documentation received by an insurer upon which payment of claims is requested.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 300, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 378, L. 2003.

33-18-232. Time for payment of claims. (1) An insurer shall pay or deny a claim within 30 days after receipt of a proof of loss unless the insurer makes a reasonable request for additional information or documents in order to evaluate the claim. If an insurer makes a reasonable request for additional information or documents, the insurer shall pay or deny the claim within 60 days of receiving the proof of loss unless the insurer has notified the insured, the insured's assignee, or the claimant of the reasons for failure to pay the claim in full or unless the insurer has a reasonable belief that insurance fraud has been committed and the insurer has reported the possible insurance fraud to the commissioner. This section does not eliminate an insurer's right to conduct a thorough investigation of all the facts necessary to determine payment of a claim.

(2) If an insurer fails to comply with this section and the insurer is liable for payment of the claim, the insurer shall pay an amount equal to the amount of the claim due plus 10% annual interest calculated from the date on which the claim was due. For purposes of calculating the amount of interest, a claim is considered due 30 days after the insurer's receipt of the proof of loss or 60 days after receipt of the proof of loss if the insurer made a reasonable request for information or documents. Interest payments must be made to the person who receives the claims payment. Interest is payable under this subsection only if the amount of interest due on a claim exceeds $5.

(3) A private cause of action under 33-18-201 or 33-18-242 may not be based on the compliance or noncompliance with the requirements of this section and evidence of compliance or noncompliance with this section is not admissible in any private action based on 33-18-201 or 33-18-242.

(a) use due diligence in processing all claims;

(b) pay claims in a timely manner;

(c) provide proper notice, when required, with respect to the reasons for the insurer's failure to make claim payments when due;

(d) pay, without just cause, proper claims arising under coverage provided by its policies, whether the claims are in favor of an insured, in favor of a third person with respect to the liability of an insured to the third person, or in favor of any other person entitled to the benefits of a policy; or

(e) pay interest pursuant to 33-18-232(2).

(2) If an insurer can demonstrate that it has consistently paid 90% of the total dollar amount outstanding in claims to each claimant within 20 working days and all of the amount within 30 working days of receipt of claims during the 6-month period immediately preceding the hearing date, the insurer is not subject to the fine described in subsection (1).

33-18-242. Independent cause of action — burden of proof. (1) An insured or a third-party claimant has an independent cause of action against an insurer for actual damages caused by the insurer's violation of 33-18-201(1), (4), (5), (6), (9), or (13).

(2) In an action under this section, a plaintiff is not required to prove that the violations were of such frequency as to indicate a general business practice.

(3) An insured who has suffered damages as a result of the handling of an insurance claim may bring an action against the insurer for breach of the insurance contract, for fraud, or pursuant to this section, but not under any other theory or cause of action. An insured may not bring an action for bad faith in connection with the handling of an insurance claim.

(4) A third-party claimant who has suffered damages as a result of the handling of an insurance claim may bring an action against the insurer for fraud or pursuant to this section, but not under any other theory or cause of action. A third-party claimant may not bring an action for bad faith in connection with the handling of an insurance claim.

(5) In an action under this section, the court or jury may award such damages as were proximately caused by the violation of 33-18-201(1), (4), (5), (6), (9), or (13). Exemplary damages may also be assessed in accordance with 27-1-221.

(6) An insurer may not be held liable under this section if the insurer had a reasonable basis in law or in fact for contesting the claim or the amount of the claim, whichever is in issue.

(7) (a) An insured may file an action under this section, together with any other cause of action the insured has against the insurer. Actions may be bifurcated for trial where justice so requires.

(b) A third-party claimant may not file an action under this section until after the underlying claim has been settled or a judgment entered in favor of the claimant on the underlying claim.

(8) The period prescribed for commencement of an action under this section is:

(a) for an insured, within 2 years from the date of the violation of 33-18-201; and

(b) for a third-party claimant, within 1 year from the date of the settlement of or the entry of judgment on the underlying claim.

(9) As used in this section, the term "insurer" does not include a person, firm, or corporation utilizing a captive insurance company to pay claims made against it, unless that captive insurance group is a captive risk retention group.

33-18-243. Insured and third-party claimant's duties — affirmative defense. (1) An insured or a third-party claimant shall cooperate with an insurer with respect to an insurance claim or cause of action made or asserted against the insured, the insurer, or both, or reported to the insurer. The duty to cooperate includes, in addition to other duties specified in the insurance policy, the duty to comply with the reasonable requests of the insurer in the investigation and handling of the insurance claim.

(2) An insured or a third-party claimant shall deliver claim information to the insurer to allow the insurer a fair and reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate each claim made against an insured, insurer, or both, or reported to the insurer.

(3) A breach of any of the duties of an insured or a third-party claimant set forth in this section does not create a separate or independent cause of action by an insurer against an insured or a third-party claimant, but the breach of a duty may be:

(a) considered as evidence regarding whether the insurer had an opportunity to conduct a reasonable investigation based on the reasonably available claim information and whether the insurer had a reasonable basis in law or in fact for contesting the claim or the amount of the claim; and

(b) asserted by an insurer as an affirmative defense to a cause of action commenced by an insured or a third-party claimant under 33-18-242 for an insurer's alleged violation of 33-18-201(4), (5), or (6), or commenced by an insured or a third-party claimant that alleges the insurer's breach of contract or the insurer's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

(4) An insurer may introduce any evidence in a civil action regarding the actions, inactions, and other conduct of an insured or a third-party claimant in a civil action commenced by an insured or a third-party claimant with respect to a claim or cause of action under 33-18-242 for an insurer's alleged violation of 33-18-201(4), (5), or (6), or commenced by an insured or a third-party claimant that alleges the insurer's breach of contract or the insurer's breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

(5) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) (i) "Claim information" means documents, records, or information created, maintained, or stored in a media format that is reasonably available to an insured or a third-party claimant and that relates to, establishes, proves, or may tend to establish or prove:

(A) damages of any kind or nature relating to the claim or cause of action against the insured, insurer, or both; and

(B) the liability of the insured, insurer, or both to pay, satisfy, or otherwise compensate for the damages as provided in subsection (5)(a)(i)(A).

(ii) The term includes information that is reasonably available to an insured or a third-party claimant only if the claim information is in the possession of the insured or third-party claimant, or their representatives or attorneys, or if the claim information can be reasonably obtained by the insured or third-party claimant on request.

(b) "Insured" means an individual or entity insured under an insurance policy, against whom a third-party claimant is making, alleging, or pursuing an insurance claim or cause of action for damages, or an individual or entity making, alleging, or pursuing a claim or cause of action for which coverage may be provided by the insurance policy issued by the insurer to the individual or entity.

(c) "Third-party claimant" means a third party making, alleging, or pursuing an insurance claim or cause of action against an insured for damages, or against an insurer pursuant to 33-18-242. For purposes of this definition, the term also means an attorney or any other authorized representative acting for or on behalf of the third-party claimant or any assignee of the third-party claimant.

33-18-247. Unfair discrimination prohibited — anatomical gifts, organ transplants, and related treatment. (1) An insurer that provides coverage for anatomical gifts, organ transplants, or related treatment and services may not:

(a) deny coverage under an insurance policy to a covered person solely on the basis of the person's disability;

(b) deny to a patient eligibility, or continued eligibility, to enroll or to renew coverage under an insurance policy, solely for the purpose of avoiding the requirements of this section;

(c) penalize or otherwise reduce or limit the reimbursement of an attending provider or provide monetary or nonmonetary incentives to an attending provider to induce the provider to provide care to an insured or enrollee in a manner inconsistent with this section; or

(d) reduce or limit coverage benefits to a patient for the medical services or other services related to organ transplantation performed pursuant to this section as determined in consultation with the attending physician and patient.

(2) In the case of an insurance policy maintained pursuant to one or more collective bargaining agreements between employee representatives and one or more employers, any plan amendment made pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement that amends the plan solely to conform to a requirement imposed pursuant to this section may not be treated as a termination of the collective bargaining agreement.

(3) Nothing in this section may be construed to require a health insurance issuer to provide coverage for a medically inappropriate organ transplant.

33-18-250. (Effective January 1, 2026) Unfair financial planning practices — producers. (1) (a) An insurance producer may not directly or indirectly hold the insurance producer out to the public as a financial planner, investment adviser, consultant, financial counselor, or any other type of specialist engaged in the business of providing financial planning or advice relating to investments, insurance, real estate, tax matters, or trust and estate matters if the insurance producer:

(i) is engaged in only the sale of insurance policies; and

(ii) does not hold a formal and recognized financial planning or consultant certification or designation.

(b) Subsection (1)(a) does not preclude an insurance producer who holds a formal and recognized financial planning or consultant certification or designation from displaying the certification or designation when only selling insurance. An insurance producer who is selling insurance as provided in this subsection (1)(b) may not charge an additional fee for services that are customarily associated with the solicitation, negotiation, or servicing of policies.

(2) (a) An insurance producer may not engage in the business of financial planning without disclosing to the client prior to the execution of the agreement that:

(i) the insurance producer is also an insurance producer; and

(ii) a commission for the sale of an insurance product will be received by the insurance producer in addition to the fee for financial planning.

(b) The disclosure requirement under subsection (2)(a) may be met by including the required information in any disclosure required by federal or state securities law.

(3) (a) An insurance producer may not charge fees for financial planning unless the fees are based on a written agreement signed by the party to be charged before the services under the agreement are performed.

(b) A copy of the agreement must be provided to the party to be charged at the time the agreement is signed by the party. The written agreement must specifically state:

(i) the services for which the fee is to be charged;

(ii) the amount of the fee to be charged or how it will be determined or calculated; and

(iii) that the client is under no obligation to purchase an insurance product through the insurance producer or consultant.

(c) The insurance producer shall retain a copy of the agreement for not less than 3 years after completion of services, and a copy must be available to the commissioner on request.

33-18-251. Time-limited demands — requirements — insurer's fair and reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate claims. (1) A time-limited demand from a claimant to an insurer offering to settle any claim must:

(a) reference this section;

(b) be in writing and labeled "time sensitive" at the top of the first page of the writing setting forth the required material terms of the offer to settle set forth in subsection (1)(d);

(c) be sent certified mail, return-receipt requested, to the insurer of the allegedly responsible party; and

(d) contain the following material terms:

(i) the name of the allegedly responsible party;

(ii) the time period within which the offer to settle shall remain open for acceptance by the allegedly responsible party's insurer, which may not be less than 60 days or the first business day following the 60th day when that day falls on a weekend or holiday;

(iii) the amount of the monetary payment requested to settle the claim, together with a description of any other form of consideration sought to settle the claim;

(iv) the date and location of the damage, loss, professional negligence, or breach of fiduciary duty;

(v) a reasonable description of the nature and extent of all known injuries, damages, and losses sustained by the claimant;

(vi) the party or parties to be released if the insurer accepts the time-limited demand;

(vii) a description of the claim or claims to be released if the time-limited demand is accepted; and

(viii) disclosure of eligibility, or information sufficient to verify eligibility, for medicare, medicaid, any other federal or state benefit program, and any other known liens or assignments granted by the claimant that apply to any of the damages claimed.

(2) The time period within which an insurer may accept a time-limited demand commences on the date the insurer actually receives the time-limited demand through certified mail.

(3) (a) A time-limited demand made pursuant to this section must be accompanied and supported by the following:

(i) all available and supporting documents, records, and information sufficient to allow the insurer a fair and reasonable opportunity to investigate and evaluate the nature and extent of the alleged responsible party's liability and the nature and extent of the claimant's injuries, damages, and losses;

(ii) medical records, invoices, and billing statements from all health care providers, if any, who provided treatment to or evaluated the claimant or decedent for:

(A) injuries suffered in connection with the claim from the date of injury until the date of the time-limited demand, including but not limited to emotional distress; and

(B) injuries, damages, losses, ailments, diseases, or other medical conditions occurring or existing prior to the date of injury that relate or may relate in any manner to any of the claimant's claims that are the subject of the written time-limited demand.

(b) If the claimant asserts a claim for loss of wages, earnings, compensation, or profits, however denominated, the claimant shall provide records from employers or other relevant sources or tax records to document the claimed loss.

(4) On receipt of a time-limited demand, the insurer has the right to provide a proposed settlement agreement or release, or both, or seek clarification or additional information regarding terms, liens, subrogation claims, alleged damages, standing to release claims, medical bills, medical records, preexisting medical conditions, and other relevant facts. The claimant has the duty to provide any missing or needed documents, records, and information reasonably requested by the insurer. A request for clarification or for additional documents, records, or information, or to propose a settlement agreement or release, or both, may not be deemed a counteroffer or rejection of the time-limited demand to settle. On a request or proposal, any time limit imposed within the time-limited demand is extended a minimum of either 30 days, or by the number of days from and including the date of the request to the date of receipt of the information responding to the requestor, whether the terms of a settlement agreement, a release, or both, are accepted or rejected.

(5) If, during the time period within which a time-limited demand may be accepted, it is determined that a lien attaches to any settlement payment to be paid by the allegedly responsible party's insurer, including but not limited to any actual or potential medicare or medicaid lien, the claimant has a duty to cooperate with the insurer to ensure satisfaction of any valid lien interest medicare, medicaid, or other lienholder may have in the settlement payment. In addition, any time limit imposed within the time-limited demand must be stayed from date the valid lien is identified until the date on which the claimant, allegedly responsible party, and the insurer agree to address and resolve satisfaction of the valid lien.

(6) If an insurer with the right to settle on behalf of an insured receives a time-limited demand, the insurer may accept the time-limited demand by providing written acceptance of the material terms outlined in subsection (1) that is delivered or postmarked to the claimant within the time period set in the time-limited demand. The person or entity providing payment to satisfy the material terms may elect to provide payment by any one or more of the following means:

(a) cash;

(b) money order;

(c) wire transfer;

(d) a cashier's check issued by a bank or other financial institution;

(e) a draft or bank check issued by an insurer; or

(f) electronic funds transfer or other method of electronic payment.

(7) In any civil action commenced by or on behalf of a claimant, or by a claimant as an assignee of the allegedly responsible party, or by the allegedly responsible party for the benefit of the claimant:

(a) a time-limited demand that does not strictly comply with the terms of this section may not be considered as a reasonable opportunity to settle for the insurer and may not be admissible in any civil action alleging extracontractual damages against the allegedly responsible party's liability insurer; and

(b) an insurer is not liable for any extracontractual damages arising from or related to any injuries, damages, or losses suffered by a claimant that are not identified in the time-limited demand and supported by the documents, records, and information set forth in subsection (3).

(8) If an insurer receives a time-limited demand from a claimant that the insurer knows or reasonably believes is not represented by an attorney, and the insurer determines that the time-limited demand does not strictly comply with the requirements set forth in subsections (1) and (3), the insurer is obligated to notify the claimant of the requirements within 10 business days of receiving the time-limited demand from the claimant. On delivery of the notice to the claimant, any time limit imposed within the time-limited demand is extended a minimum of either 30 days, or by the number of days from and including the date on which the claimant presents a time-limited demand to the insurer that strictly complies with the requirements in subsections (4) and (5). If an insurer becomes obligated under this section to notify a claimant and fails to deliver the notice to the claimant, subsection (7) may not apply in any civil action alleging extracontractual damages against the insurer.

(9) For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Allegedly responsible party" means any person or entity:

(i) claimed or alleged to have caused or contributed to cause property damage, personal injury, bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty; or

(ii) claimed or alleged to have committed, engaged in, or be liable for professional negligence or breach of fiduciary duty.

(b) "Claimant" means:

(i) any injured party delivering a time-limited demand to an insurer, including but not necessarily limited to the injured party's attorney or any other authorized representative acting for or on behalf of the injured party;

(ii) any insured under an insurance policy pursuing a claim or cause of action arising from or related in any manner to the insurance policy issued by the insurer and delivering a time-limited demand to the insurer, including but not necessarily limited to the insured's attorney or any other authorized representative acting for or on behalf of the insured; or

(iii) any assignee of an injured party or insured delivering a time-limited demand to the insurer, including but not necessarily limited to the assignee's attorney or any other authorized representative acting for or on behalf of the assignee.

(c) "Extracontractual damages" means any amount of damages caused by the allegedly responsible party that exceeds the total available policy limit of liability for all policies of liability insurance that an insurer has issued to an allegedly responsible party and which policies of liability insurance are applicable to a claim for property damage, personal injury, bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty.

(d) "Insurer" means any insurer referred to or defined under 33-1-201 who has issued an insurance contract to an allegedly responsible party.

(e) "Time-limited demand" means any offer to settle any claim for personal injury, property damage, bodily injury, wrongful death, professional negligence or liability, or breach of any fiduciary duty, in which the offer to settle:

(i) is made by or on behalf of a claimant or is made based on or arising out of any rights of a claimant;

(ii) is delivered in writing to an allegedly responsible party's insurer for purposes of offering to settle a claim against the allegedly responsible party within any insurance policy limit of liability; and

(iii) states by its terms that it can only be accepted within a specified period of time.

Part 3
Insurers — Noninsurance-Related Prohibitions

33-18-301. Prohibited relations with mortuaries. (1) A life insurer and its board of directors, officers, employees, or representatives that sell any life insurance, other than funeral insurance as defined in 33-20-1501(1)(c)(ii), may not own, manage, supervise, operate, or maintain any mortuary, funeral, or undertaking establishment in Montana.

(2) (a) A life insurer may not contract or agree with any funeral director, mortician, or undertaker that the funeral director, mortician, or undertaker shall conduct the funeral or be named beneficiary of any person insured by the insurer.

(b) A life insurer may not sell, solicit, or negotiate life insurance, except stand-alone funeral insurance as provided in 33-20-1501, through a funeral director, mortician, undertaker, or any employee of a mortuary or undertaker.

(c) A life insurer that sells, solicits, or negotiates funeral insurance, as defined in 33-20-1501(1)(c)(ii), through a funeral director, mortician, undertaker, or any employee of a mortuary or undertaker shall comply with the provisions of 33-20-1501 and 33-20-1502.

(3) A funeral insurance policy or certificate and any solicitation material for the policy must comply with 33-20-1501.

(4) An attempt by the insurer or its representative to require the insured to designate a specific beneficiary, including but not limited to a funeral director, mortician, mortuary, or undertaker, constitutes a violation of this section punishable as a misdemeanor pursuant to subsection (5).

(5) A funeral director, mortician, or undertaker or any employee of a mortuary or undertaker who seeks to sell, solicit, or negotiate funeral insurance shall comply with this code, including the requirements of Title 33, chapter 17, and Title 33, chapter 20, part 15.

(6) Each violation of this section constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than 6 months, or both.

Part 5
Miscellaneous Prohibitions

33-18-501. Lenders — favored agent of insurer — coercion of debtors. (1) (a) A person may not require, as a condition precedent to the lending of money or extension of credit or any renewal of these, the person to whom the money or credit is extended or whose obligation a creditor is to acquire or finance to negotiate any contract of insurance or renewal of these through a particular insurer or group of insurers or a particular insurance producer or group of insurance producers.

(b) Subsection (1)(a) does not prohibit a person, a depository institution, or an affiliate of a depository institution from informing a customer or prospective customer:

(i) that insurance is required to obtain a loan or credit;

(ii) that loan or credit approval is contingent on the procurement by the customer of acceptable insurance; or

(iii) that insurance is available from the person, depository institution, or affiliate of a depository institution.

(2) A person who lends money or extends credit may not do any of the following:

(a) solicit insurance for the protection of real property, after a person indicates interest in securing a first-mortgage credit extension, until the person has received a commitment in writing from the lender as to a loan or credit extension;

(b) unreasonably reject a contract of insurance furnished by the borrower for the protection of the property securing the credit or lien. A rejection is not unreasonable if it is based on reasonable standards, uniformly applied, relating to the extent of coverage required and the financial soundness and the services of an insurer. These standards may not discriminate against any particular type of insurer or call for the rejection of an insurance contract because the contract contains coverage in addition to that required by the credit transaction.

(c) require that any consumer, borrower, mortgagor, purchaser, insurer, or insurance producer pay a separate charge in connection with the handling of any contract of insurance required as security for a loan on real estate or pay a separate charge to substitute the insurance policy of one insurer for that of another. This subsection (2)(c) does not include the interest that may be charged on premium loans or premium advancements in accordance with the terms of the loan or credit document and does not apply to charges that would be required when the person, depository institution, or affiliate of a depository institution is the licensed producer providing the insurance.

(d) use or disclose information relative to a contract of insurance that is required by the credit transaction:

(i) for the purpose of replacing the insurance; and

(ii) without the prior written consent of the borrower;

(e) use an advertisement or other insurance promotional material that would cause a reasonable person to mistakenly believe that the federal government or the state is responsible for the insurance sales activity of, or stands behind the credit of, the person, depository institution, or affiliate of a depository institution;

(f) require any procedures or conditions of licensed insurance producers or insurers not customarily required of those insurance producers or insurers affiliated or in any way connected with the person who lends money or extends credit.

(3) Each person that lends money or extends credit and that solicits insurance primarily for personal family or household purposes or on real and personal property subject to subsection (2) must explain to the borrower in writing that the insurance related to such credit extension may be purchased from an insurer or insurance producer of the borrower's choice, subject only to the lender's right to reject a given insurer or insurance producer as provided in subsection (2)(b). The disclosure must inform the customer that the customer's choice of insurer or insurance producer will not affect the credit decision or credit terms in any way, except that the depository institution may impose reasonable requirements concerning the creditworthiness of the insurer and the scope of coverage chosen as provided in subsection (2)(b).

(4) The commissioner may examine and investigate insurance activities of any person, depository institution, affiliate of a depository institution, or insurer that the commissioner believes may be in violation of this section. The person, depository institution, affiliate of a depository institution, or insurer shall make its insurance books and records available to the commissioner and the commissioner's staff for inspection upon reasonable notice. An affected person may submit to the commissioner a complaint or material pertinent to the enforcement of this section.

(5) Nothing in this section prevents a person, a depository institution, or an affiliate of a depository institution who lends money or extends credit from placing insurance on real or personal property in the event the mortgagor, borrower, or purchaser has failed to provide required insurance in accordance with the terms of the loan or credit document.

(6) Nothing in this section applies to credit life or credit accident and health insurance.

(7) For the purposes of this section, the terms "depository institution" and "affiliate of a depository institution" have the same meaning as provided in 32-1-109.

Part 6
Montana Use of Credit Information in Personal Insurance

33-18-601. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Montana Use of Credit Information in Personal Insurance Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 363, L. 2005.

33-18-602. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to regulate the use of credit information for personal insurance so that consumers are afforded certain protections with respect to the use of credit information.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 363, L. 2005.

33-18-603. Scope. This part applies to personal insurance and not to commercial insurance. For purposes of this part, "personal insurance" means private passenger automobile, home owners, motorcycle, mobile home owners, and noncommercial dwelling fire insurance policies and boat, personal watercraft, snowmobile, and recreational vehicle policies. These policies must be individually underwritten for personal, family, or household use. Other types of insurance may not be included as personal insurance for the purpose of this part.

33-18-604. Definitions. For the purposes of this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Adverse action" means, in regard to the terms of coverage or amount of coverage of any insurance, existing or applied for, in connection with the underwriting of personal insurance, any of the following:

(a) denial, nonrenewal, or cancellation of coverage;

(b) an increase in any charge for coverage;

(c) failure to give an otherwise available credit-related discount; or

(d) a reduction or any other adverse or unfavorable change in the terms of coverage or the amount of coverage.

(2) "Affiliate" means a company that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with another company.

(3) "Applicant" means an individual who has applied to be covered by a personal insurance policy with an insurer.

(4) "Consumer" means an insured whose credit information is used or whose insurance score is calculated in the underwriting or rating of a personal insurance policy or of an applicant for a personal insurance policy.

(5) "Consumer reporting agency" means any entity that, for monetary fees or dues or on a cooperative nonprofit basis, regularly engages in whole or in part in the practice of assembling or evaluating consumer credit information or other information on consumers for the purpose of furnishing consumer reports to third parties.

(6) "Credit information" means any credit-related information derived from a credit report, found on a credit report itself, or provided on an application for personal insurance. Information that is not credit-related may not be considered credit information regardless of whether it is contained in a credit report or in an application or is used to calculate an insurance score.

(7) "Credit report" means any written, oral, or other communication of information by a consumer reporting agency bearing on a consumer's creditworthiness, credit standing, or credit capacity that is used or expected to be used or collected in whole or in part for the purpose of serving as a factor to determine personal insurance premiums, eligibility for coverage, or tier placement.

(8) "Insurance score" means a number or rating that is derived from an algorithm, computer application, model, or other process that is based in whole or in part on credit information for the purposes of predicting the future insurance loss exposure of an individual applicant or insured.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 363, L. 2005.

33-18-605. Use of credit information. (1) An insurer authorized to do business in this state that uses credit information to underwrite or rate risks may not:

(a) use an insurance score that is calculated using income, gender, address, zip code, ethnic group, religion, marital status, or nationality of the consumer as a factor;

(b) deny, cancel, or not renew a policy of personal insurance on the basis of credit information without consideration of any other applicable underwriting factor independent of credit information and not expressly prohibited by subsection (1)(a);

(c) base an insured's renewal rates for personal insurance upon credit information without consideration of any other applicable factor independent of credit information;

(d) take an adverse action against a consumer because the consumer does not have a credit card account without consideration of any other applicable factor independent of credit information;

(e) consider an absence of credit information or an inability to calculate an insurance score in underwriting or rating personal insurance unless the insurer does one of the following:

(i) treats the consumer as otherwise approved by the commissioner if the insurer presents information that the absence or inability relates to the risk for the insurer;

(ii) treats the consumer as if the consumer had neutral credit information, as defined by the insurer; or

(iii) excludes the use of credit information as a factor and uses only other underwriting criteria;

(f) take an adverse action against a consumer based on credit information unless an insurer obtains and uses a credit report issued or an insurance score calculated within 90 days from the date that the policy is first written or renewal is issued;

(g) use credit information unless not later than every 36 months following the last time that the insurer obtained current credit information for the insured, the insurer recalculates the insurance score or obtains an updated credit report. Regardless of the requirements of this subsection (1)(g):

(i) at annual renewal, upon the request of a consumer or the consumer's agent, the insurer shall reunderwrite and rerate the policy based upon a current credit report or insurance score. An insurer need not recalculate the insurance score or obtain the updated credit report of a consumer more frequently than once in a 12-month period.

(ii) the insurer has the discretion to obtain current credit information upon any renewal before the 36 months provided for in this subsection (1)(g) if consistent with its underwriting guidelines;

(iii) an insurer may but does not have to obtain current credit information for an insured, despite the requirements of subsection (1)(g)(i), if one of the following applies:

(A) the insurer is treating the consumer as otherwise approved by the commissioner;

(B) the insured is in the most favorably priced tier of the insurer within a group of affiliated insurers;

(C) credit was not used for underwriting or rating the insured when the policy was initially written;

(D) the insurer reevaluates the insured beginning not later than 36 months after inception and at similar succeeding times based upon other underwriting or rating factors, excluding credit information.

(h) use a credit report or an insurance score that treats any of the following as a negative factor for the purpose of underwriting or rating a policy of personal insurance:

(i) credit inquiries not initiated by the consumer or inquiries requested by the consumer for the consumer's own credit information;

(ii) inquiries relating to insurance coverage, if so identified on a consumer's credit report;

(iii) collection accounts with a medical industry code, if so identified on the consumer's credit report;

(iv) multiple-lender inquiries, if coded by the consumer reporting agency on the consumer's credit report as being from the home mortgage industry and made within 30 days of one another, unless only one inquiry is considered;

(v) multiple-lender inquiries, if coded by the consumer reporting agency on the consumer's credit report as being from the automobile lending industry and made within 30 days of one another, unless only one inquiry is considered;

(vi) the number of credit inquiries;

(vii) the consumer's use of a particular type of credit card, charge card, or debit card or the number of credit cards obtained by a consumer;

(viii) a loan if information from the credit report makes it evident that the loan is for the purchase of an automobile or a personal residence. However, an insurer may consider the bill payment history of any loan, the total number of loans, or both.

(ix) the consumer's total available line of credit or total debt. However, an insurer may consider:

(A) the consumer's bill payment history on the debt; or

(B) the total amount of outstanding debt if the outstanding debt exceeds the total line of credit.

(2) (a) An insurer shall, on written request from an applicant or an insured, provide reasonable underwriting or rating exceptions for a consumer whose credit report has been directly affected by an extraordinary event.

(b) An insurer may require reasonable written and independently verifiable documentation of the event and the effect of the event on the consumer's credit before granting an exception. An insurer is not required to consider repeated extraordinary events or extraordinary events the insurer reconsidered previously.

(c) An insurer may also consider granting an exception to a consumer for an extraordinary event not listed in this section.

(d) An insurer may not be considered to be out of compliance with its filed rules and rates as a result of granting an exception pursuant to this subsection (2).

(e) As used in this subsection (2), "extraordinary event" means:

(i) expenses related to a catastrophic injury or illness;

(ii) temporary loss of employment;

(iii) death of an immediate family member;

(iv) theft of identity pursuant to 45-6-332; or

(v) military service overseas.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 363, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 227, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 314, L. 2011.

33-18-606. Dispute resolution and error correction. If it is determined through the dispute resolution process set forth in the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. 1681i(a)(5), that the credit information of a current insured was incorrect or incomplete and if the insurer receives notice of that determination from either the consumer reporting agency or the insured, the insurer shall reunderwrite and rerate the consumer within 30 days of receiving the notice. After reunderwriting or rerating the insured, the insurer shall make any adjustments necessary consistent with its underwriting and rating guidelines. If an insurer determines that the insured has overpaid the premium, the insurer shall refund to the insured the amount of overpayment calculated back to the shorter of either the last 12 months of coverage or the actual policy period.

33-18-607. Initial notification. (1) If an insurer writing personal insurance uses credit information in underwriting or rating a consumer, the insurer or its agent shall disclose, either on the insurance application or at the time that the insurance application is taken, that it may obtain credit information in connection with the application. The disclosure must be either written or provided to an applicant in the same medium as the application for insurance. The insurer does not have to provide the disclosure statement required under this section to any insured on a renewal policy if the consumer has previously been provided a disclosure statement.

(2) Use of the following disclosure statement constitutes compliance with this section: "In connection with this application for insurance, we may review your credit report or obtain or use a credit-based insurance score based on the information contained in that credit report. We may use a third party in connection with the development of your insurance score."

33-18-608. Adverse action notification. If an insurer takes an adverse action based upon credit information, the insurer shall:

(1) provide notification to the consumer that an adverse action has been taken, in accordance with the requirements of the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. 1681m(a); and

(2) provide notification to the consumer explaining the reason for the adverse action. The reasons must be provided in sufficiently clear and specific language so that a person can identify the basis for the insurer's decision to take an adverse action. The notification must include a description of up to four factors that were the primary influences of the adverse action. The use of generalized terms, such as "poor credit history", "poor credit rating", or "poor insurance score", does not meet the explanation requirements of this subsection. Standardized credit explanations provided by consumer reporting agencies or other third-party vendors are considered to comply with this section.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 363, L. 2005.

33-18-609. Filing. (1) Insurers that use insurance scores to underwrite or rate risks shall file their scoring models or other scoring processes with the commissioner. A third party may file scoring models on behalf of insurers.

(2) A filing relating to credit information is considered a trade secret under the laws of this state.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 363, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 151, L. 2017.

33-18-610. Indemnification. An insurer shall indemnify, defend, and hold insurance producers harmless from and against all liability, fees, and costs arising out of or relating to the actions, errors, or omissions of an insurance producer that obtains or uses credit information or insurance scores for an insurer if the insurance producer follows the instructions of or procedures established by the insurer and complies with any applicable law or regulation. This section may not be construed to provide a consumer or other insured with a cause of action that does not exist in the absence of this section.

33-18-611. Sale of policy term information by consumer reporting agency. (1) A consumer reporting agency may not provide or sell data or lists that include any information that in whole or in part was submitted in conjunction with an insurance inquiry about a consumer's credit information or a request for a credit report or insurance score. This information includes but is not limited to the expiration dates of an insurance policy or any other information that may identify time periods during which a consumer's insurance may expire and the terms and conditions of the consumer's insurance coverage.

(2) The restrictions provided in subsection (1) do not apply to data or lists that the consumer reporting agency supplies to the insurance producer from whom information was received, the insurer on whose behalf the insurance producer acted, or the insurer's affiliates or holding companies.

(3) This section may not be construed to restrict any insurer from being able to obtain a claims history report or a motor vehicle report.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 363, L. 2005.

33-18-612. Refund for expunged record. An insurance company that charges an additional premium based on insurance points assessed against a policyholder as a result of a charge or conviction that was expunged because of identity theft pursuant to 46-24-219 shall refund the additional premiums to the policyholder upon notification and verification of the expungement.

Restrictions on Use of Genetic Information

33-18-901. Definitions. Unless the context indicates otherwise, the following definitions apply to this part:

(1) "Genetic information" means, unless otherwise provided by Public Law 104-191, information derived from genetic testing or medical evaluation to determine the presence or absence of variations or mutations, including carrier status, in an individual's genetic material or genes that are scientifically or medically believed to cause a disease, disorder, or syndrome or are associated with a statistically increased risk of developing a disease, disorder, or syndrome that is asymptomatic at the time of testing.

(2) "Genetic testing" or "genetic test" means a test used to diagnose a presymptomatic genetic factor, including analysis of human deoxyribonucleic acid or ribonucleic acid, chromosomes, proteins, or metabolites. The term does not include a routine physical examination or a chemical, blood, or urine analysis, unless conducted or analyzed purposefully or knowingly to obtain genetic information, or a family history.

(3) "Genetic trait" means any medically or scientifically identified genetic factor, known or presumed to be present in the individual or a biological relative but not presently associated with any manifestations of the disorder in the individual, that could cause a disorder or be statistically associated with an increased risk of development of a disorder.

(4) "Group policy" includes:

(a) the group insurance program authorized by Title 2, chapter 18, part 7;

(b) the state employee group insurance program required by Title 2, chapter 18, part 8; and

(c) a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that is not regulated pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 334, L. 1999.

33-18-902. Requirement for genetic testing — limitations. (1) An insurer, health service corporation, health maintenance organization, fraternal benefit society, or other issuer of an individual or group policy or certificate of insurance may not require an individual to obtain a genetic test unless the test is otherwise required by law for reasons including but not limited to the following:

(a) to establish parentage;

(b) to determine the presence of metabolic disorders in a newborn by testing conducted pursuant to newborn screening and protocols;

(c) in connection with a criminal investigation or prosecution; or

(d) for remains identification.

(2) This section does not apply to transactions of life, disability income, or long-term care insurance.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 334, L. 1999.

33-18-903. Discrimination on basis of genetic traits prohibited. (1) Unless otherwise required by law, an insurer, health service corporation, health maintenance organization, fraternal benefit society, or other issuer of an individual or group policy or certificate of insurance may not, on the basis of a person's genetic traits:

(a) fail or refuse to accept an application for a policy or certificate of insurance;

(b) fail or refuse to issue a policy or certificate of insurance to an applicant;

(c) cancel a policy or certificate of insurance;

(d) refuse to renew a policy or certificate of insurance;

(e) charge a higher rate or premium for a policy or certificate of insurance; or

(f) offer or provide different terms, conditions, or benefits or place a limitation on coverage under a policy or certificate of insurance.

(2) An insurer, health service corporation, health maintenance organization, fraternal benefit society, or other issuer of an individual or group policy or certificate of insurance may not underwrite or condition coverage on the basis of:

(a) a requirement or agreement that the individual undergo genetic testing; or

(b) genetic information about a member of the individual's family.

(3) Discrimination may not be made in the fees or commissions of agents or brokers for writing or renewing an individual or group policy of insurance on the basis of an individual's genetic traits.

(4) This section does not apply to transactions of life, disability income, or long-term care insurance.

(5) This section does not prohibit an insurer, health service corporation, health maintenance organization, fraternal benefit society, or other issuer of an individual or group policy or certificate of insurance from discriminating as otherwise allowed by law on the basis of other factors unrelated to genetic traits.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 334, L. 1999.

33-18-904. Seeking genetic information for nontherapeutic purposes prohibited. (1) An insurer, health service corporation, health maintenance organization, fraternal benefit society, or other issuer of an individual or group policy or certificate of insurance may not seek genetic information about an individual for a purpose that is:

(a) unrelated to assessing or managing the individual's current health;

(b) inappropriate in an asymptomatic individual; or

(c) unrelated to research in which a subject is not personally identifiable.

(2) This section does not apply to transactions of life, disability income, or long-term care insurance.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 334, L. 1999.

Part 10
Enforcement

33-18-1001. Complaint handling — marketing — performance — record. (1) An insurer shall maintain a complete record of all complaints it has received since the date of its last examination under 33-1-401. This record must indicate the total number of complaints, their classification by line of insurance, the nature of each complaint, the disposition of the complaints, and the time it took to process each complaint.

(2) An insurer or a health insurance lead generator shall maintain its books, records, documents, and other business records in an order that ensures data regarding complaints, claims, rating, underwriting, and marketing materials are accessible and retrievable for examination by the commissioner. The data must be maintained for at least 5 years.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "complaint" means any written communication primarily expressing a grievance.

History: En. 40-3502.2 by Sec. 2, Ch. 320, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3502.2; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 229, L. 2025.

33-18-1002. Power of commissioner to examine insurers. The commissioner may examine and investigate the affairs of every person engaged in the business of insurance in this state in order to determine whether such person has been or is engaged in any unfair method of competition or in any unfair or deceptive act or practice prohibited by this chapter.

33-18-1003. Undefined unfair practices — procedures for determining and restraining. (1) If the commissioner believes that any person engaged in the insurance business is engaging in this state in any method of competition or in any act or practice in the conduct of the business that is not defined in this chapter but that the method of competition is unfair or that the act or practice is unfair or deceptive and that a proceeding by the commissioner in respect to the act or practice would be in the public interest, the commissioner shall, after a hearing of which notice of the hearing and of the charges against the person are given to the person, make a written report of the findings of fact relative to the charges and serve a copy of the report upon the person and any intervenor at the hearing.

(2) If the report charges a violation of this chapter and if the method of competition, act, or practice has not been discontinued, the commissioner may, through the attorney general of this state, at any time after the service of the report cause an action to be instituted to enjoin and restrain the person from engaging in the method, act, or practice. In the action, the court may grant a restraining order or injunction upon terms that may be just, but the people of this state may not be required to give security before the issuance of any order or injunction. If a stenographic record of the proceedings in the hearing before the commissioner was made, a certified transcript, including all evidence taken and the report and findings, must be received in evidence in the action.

(3) If the commissioner's report made under subsection (1) or order on hearing made under 33-18-1004 does not charge a violation of this chapter, then any intervenor in the proceedings may appeal from the report or order on hearing within the time and in the manner provided in this code for appeals from the commissioner generally.

33-18-1004. Desist orders for prohibited practices. (1) If, after a hearing of the charges of which notice of the hearing and of the charges against the person was given to the person, the commissioner finds that a person in this state has engaged or is engaging in any act or practice defined in or prohibited under this chapter, the commissioner shall order the person to desist from the acts or practices.

(2) The desist order becomes final upon expiration of the time allowed for appeals from the commissioner's orders if an appeal is not taken or, in event of an appeal, upon final decision of the court if the court affirms the commissioner's order or dismisses the appeal. An intervenor in the hearing has the right to appeal as provided in 33-18-1003(3).

(3) In event of an appeal, to the extent that the commissioner's order is affirmed, the court shall issue its own order commanding obedience to the terms of the commissioner's order.

(4) An order of the commissioner pursuant to this section or order of court to enforce it does not in any way relieve or absolve a person affected by the order from any other liability, penalty, or forfeiture under law.

(5) This section may not be considered to affect or prevent the imposition of any penalty provided by this code or by other law for violation of any other provision of this chapter, whether or not the hearing is called or held or the desist order is issued.

History: En. Sec. 216, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 320, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3514; amd. Sec. 1209, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-18-1005. Penalty for violation of cease and desist orders. (1) Any person who violates a cease and desist order issued pursuant to 33-18-1004 is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed $1,000. Each day of violation constitutes a separate violation. The total penalty may not exceed a $10,000 aggregate. The department may institute and maintain in the name of the state any enforcement proceedings hereunder. Upon request of the department, the attorney general or the county attorney of the county in which the violation occurred shall petition the district court to impose, assess, and recover the civil penalty.

(2) An action under subsection (1) of this section is not a bar to enforcement of this chapter or rules or orders made under it by injunction or other appropriate remedies.

(3) Moneys collected hereunder shall be deposited in the state general fund.

Part 1

General Provisions

33-19-101. Short title. This chapter may be cited as the "Insurance Information and Privacy Protection Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 580, L. 1981.

33-19-102. Purpose. The purpose of this chapter is to establish standards for the collection, use, and disclosure of information gathered in connection with insurance transactions by insurance institutions, insurance producers, or insurance-support organizations; to maintain a balance between the need for information by those conducting the business of insurance and the public's need for fairness in insurance information practices, including the need to minimize intrusiveness; to establish a regulatory mechanism to enable natural persons to ascertain what information is being or has been collected about them in connection with insurance transactions and to have access to that information for the purpose of verifying or disputing its accuracy; to limit the disclosure of information collected in connection with insurance transactions; and to enable insurance applicants and policyholders to obtain the reasons for any adverse underwriting decision. The purpose of this chapter is also to provide privacy protection consistent with federal regulations governing the privacy of medical records when this chapter is consistent with those federal regulations. In those instances in which this chapter and the federal privacy regulations are inconsistent and this chapter provides privacy protection beyond that offered by the federal regulations, the purpose of this chapter is to provide that additional privacy protection.

33-19-103. Scope. (1) The obligations imposed by this chapter apply to those insurance institutions, insurance producers, or insurance-support organizations that, on or after July 1, 1982:

(a) in the case of life, health, or disability insurance:

(i) collect, receive, or maintain information in connection with insurance transactions that pertains to natural persons who are residents of this state; or

(ii) engage in insurance transactions with applicants, individuals, or policyholders who are residents of this state; and

(b) in the case of property or casualty insurance:

(i) collect, receive, or maintain information in connection with insurance transactions involving policies, contracts, or certificates of insurance delivered, issued for delivery, or renewed in this state; or

(ii) engage in insurance transactions involving policies, contracts, or certificates of insurance delivered, issued for delivery, or renewed in this state.

(2) The rights granted by this chapter extend to:

(a) in the case of life, health, or disability insurance, the following persons who are residents of this state:

(i) natural persons who are the subject of information collected, received, or maintained in connection with insurance transactions; and

(ii) applicants, individuals, or policyholders who engage in or seek to engage in insurance transactions; and

(b) in the case of property or casualty insurance, the following persons:

(i) natural persons who are the subject of information collected, received, or maintained in connection with insurance transactions involving policies, contracts, or certificates of insurance delivered, issued for delivery, or renewed in this state; and

(ii) applicants, individuals, or policyholders who engage in or seek to engage in insurance transactions involving policies, contracts, or certificates of insurance delivered, issued for delivery, or renewed in this state.

(3) For the purposes of this section, a person is considered a resident of this state if the person's last-known mailing address, as shown in the records of the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization, is located in this state.

(4) This chapter does not apply to information collected from the public records of a governmental authority and maintained by an insurance institution or its representatives for the purpose of insuring the title to real property located in this state.

33-19-104. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) (a) "Adverse underwriting decision" means any of the following actions with respect to insurance transactions involving insurance coverage that are individually underwritten:

(i) a declination of insurance coverage;

(ii) a termination of insurance coverage;

(iii) failure of an insurance producer to apply for insurance coverage with a specific insurance institution that the insurance producer represents and that is requested by an applicant;

(iv) in the case of a property or casualty insurance coverage:

(A) placement by an insurance institution or insurance producer of a risk with a residual market mechanism, an unauthorized insurer, or an insurance institution that specializes in substandard risks; or

(B) the charging of a higher rate on the basis of information that differs from that which the applicant or policyholder furnished;

(v) in the case of a life, health, or disability insurance coverage, an offer to insure at higher than standard rates.

(b) The following actions are not adverse underwriting decisions, but the insurance institution or insurance producer responsible for their occurrence shall nevertheless provide the applicant or policyholder with the specific reason or reasons for their occurrence:

(i) the termination of an individual policy form on a class or statewide basis;

(ii) a declination of insurance coverage solely because the coverage is not available on a class or statewide basis; or

(iii) the rescission of a policy.

(2) "Affiliate" or "affiliated" means a person who directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with another person.

(3) "Applicant" means a person who seeks to contract for insurance coverage other than a person seeking group insurance that is not individually underwritten.

(4) "Consumer report" means any written, oral, or other communication of information bearing on a natural person's credit worthiness, credit standing, credit capacity, character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living that is used or expected to be used in connection with an insurance transaction.

(5) "Consumer reporting agency" means a person who:

(a) regularly engages, in whole or in part, in the practice of assembling or preparing consumer reports for a monetary fee;

(b) obtains information primarily from sources other than insurance institutions; and

(c) furnishes consumer reports to other persons.

(6) "Control", including the terms "controlled by" or "under common control with", means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting securities, by contract other than a commercial contract for goods or nonmanagement services, or otherwise, unless the power is the result of an official position with or corporate office held by the person.

(7) "Declination of insurance coverage" means a denial, in whole or in part, by an insurance institution or insurance producer of requested insurance coverage.

(8) "Individual" means a natural person who:

(a) regarding property or casualty insurance, is a past, present, or proposed named insured or certificate holder;

(b) regarding life, health, or disability insurance, is a past, present, or proposed principal insured or certificate holder;

(c) is a past, present, or proposed policyowner;

(d) is a past or present applicant;

(e) is a past or present claimant; or

(f) derived, derives, or is proposed to derive insurance coverage under an insurance policy or certificate subject to this chapter.

(9) "Institutional source" means a person or governmental entity that provides information about an individual to an insurance producer, insurance institution, or insurance-support organization, other than:

(a) an insurance producer;

(b) the individual who is the subject of the information; or

(c) a natural person acting in a personal capacity rather than a business or professional capacity.

(10) "Insurance function" means claims administration, claims adjustment and management, fraud investigation, fraud prevention, underwriting, loss control, ratemaking functions, reinsurance, risk management, case management, disease management, quality assessment, quality improvement, provider credentialing verification, utilization review, peer review activities, subrogation, grievance procedures, insurance transactions, internal administration of compliance and policyholder service functions, and technical, administrative, or professional services related to the provision of the functions described in this subsection.

(11) (a) "Insurance institution" means a corporation, association, partnership, reciprocal exchange, interinsurer, Lloyd's insurer, fraternal benefit society, or other person engaged in the business of insurance, including health maintenance organizations, and health service corporations as defined in 33-30-101.

(b) Insurance institution does not include insurance producers or insurance-support organizations.

(12) "Insurance producer" means an insurance producer as defined in 33-17-102 and 33-30-311.

(13) (a) "Insurance-support organization" means a person who assembles or collects information about natural persons for the purpose of providing the information to an insurance institution or insurance producer for insurance transactions, including:

(i) the furnishing of consumer reports or investigative consumer reports to an insurance institution or insurance producer for use in connection with an insurance transaction; or

(ii) the collection of personal information from insurance institutions, insurance producers, or other insurance-support organizations for the purpose of detecting or preventing fraud, material misrepresentation, or material nondisclosure in connection with insurance underwriting or insurance claim activity.

(b) The following persons are not insurance-support organizations for purposes of this chapter: insurance producers, government institutions, medical care institutions, and medical professionals.

(14) "Insurance transaction" means a transaction involving insurance primarily for personal, family, or household needs, rather than for business or professional needs, that entails:

(a) the determination of an individual's eligibility for an insurance coverage, benefit, or payment; or

(b) the servicing of an insurance application, policy, contract, or certificate.

(15) "Investigative consumer report" means a consumer report or portion of a consumer report containing information about a natural person's character, general reputation, personal characteristics, or mode of living obtained through personal interviews with the person's neighbors, friends, associates, acquaintances, or others who may have knowledge concerning this type of information.

(16) "Licensee" means:

(a) an insurance institution, insurance producer, or other person who is licensed or required to be licensed, authorized or required to be authorized, or registered or required to be registered pursuant to this title; or

(b) a surplus lines insurer.

(17) "Medical care institution" means a facility or institution that is licensed to provide health care services to natural persons, including but not limited to health maintenance organizations, home health agencies, hospitals, medical clinics, public health agencies, rehabilitation agencies, and skilled nursing facilities.

(18) "Medical professional" means a person who is licensed or certified to provide health care services to natural persons, including but not limited to a chiropractor, clinical dietitian, clinical psychologist, dentist, nurse, occupational therapist, optometrist, pharmacist, physical therapist, physician, podiatrist, psychiatric social worker, or speech-language pathologist.

(19) "Medical record information" means personal information that:

(a) relates to an individual's physical or mental condition, medical history, medical claims history, or medical treatment; and

(b) is obtained from a medical professional or medical care institution, from the individual, or from the individual's spouse, parent, or legal guardian.

(20) "Person" means a natural person, corporation, association, partnership, or other legal entity.

(21) "Personal information" means any individually identifiable information gathered in connection with an insurance transaction from which judgments can be made about an individual's character, habits, avocations, finances, occupation, general reputation, credit, health, or any other personal characteristics. Personal information includes an individual's name and address and medical record information but does not include privileged information.

(22) "Policyholder" means a person who:

(a) in the case of individual property or casualty insurance, is a present named insured;

(b) in the case of individual life, health, or disability insurance, is a present policyowner; or

(c) in the case of group insurance that is individually underwritten, is a present group certificate holder.

(23) "Pretext interview" means an interview during which a person, in an attempt to obtain information about a natural person, performs one or more of the following acts:

(a) pretends to be someone else;

(b) pretends to represent a person not in fact being represented;

(c) misrepresents the true purpose of the interview; or

(d) refuses to provide identification upon request.

(24) "Privileged information" means any individually identifiable information that:

(a) relates to a civil or criminal proceeding involving an individual; and

(b) is collected in connection with or in reasonable anticipation of a claim for insurance benefits or civil or criminal proceeding involving an individual. Information otherwise meeting the requirements of privileged information under this subsection is considered personal information under this chapter if it is disclosed in violation of 33-19-306.

(25) "Residual market mechanism" means an association, organization, or other entity defined or described in 61-6-144.

(26) "Separate, written authorization" means an individual's written authorization that is:

(a) obtained by the recipient of personal or privileged information that has been disclosed to the recipient pursuant to 33-19-306(10), (11), (14), (15), and (17); and

(b) separate from any written authorization obtained by the disclosing insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization.

(27) "Termination of insurance coverage" or "termination of an insurance policy" means either a cancellation or nonrenewal of an insurance policy, in whole or in part, for any reason other than the failure to pay a premium as required by the policy.

(28) "Unauthorized insurer" means an insurance institution that has not been granted a certificate of authority by the commissioner to transact the business of insurance in this state.

33-19-105. Exemption based on federal standards for privacy of individually identifiable health information — notice to commissioner required — rules. (1) Except as provided in subsection (5), the obligations imposed under this chapter do not apply to a licensee that is a covered entity under the provisions of federal regulations that are part of the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), 45 CFR, parts 160 and 164, standards for privacy of individually identifiable health information or security standards for the protection of electronic health information as to any use or disclosure of personal information that is covered under the HIPAA privacy and security regulations, except for the following provisions:

(a) A notice of insurance information practices described as a notice of privacy practices for protected health information under HIPAA privacy regulations must be delivered as provided for in 33-19-202(1).

(b) To the extent that an insurer collects, discloses, or uses personal information that is not covered under the HIPAA notice of privacy practices, a separate Montana specific notice must be delivered pursuant to the provisions of 33-19-202.

(c) A disclosure authorization remains valid for a period that does not exceed 24 months, as provided for in 33-19-206(2).

(d) The reasons for an adverse underwriting decision must be specified, as provided for in 33-19-303.

(e) Disclosure of underwriting information is required, as provided for in 33-19-308.

(2) The commissioner may adopt rules regarding the exceptions from the exemption provisions described in subsection (1), including additional exceptions that embody substantive provisions of this chapter but would not be preempted by HIPAA privacy regulations.

(3) If a licensee considers itself exempt from a provision of this chapter for the reason provided in subsection (1), the licensee shall give written notice to the commissioner of that exemption and a brief statement describing why the licensee is a HIPAA-covered entity.

(4) A licensee may claim an exemption only for those lines of business that are subject to HIPAA privacy regulations. All other lines of business are subject to this chapter.

(5) A licensee exempt under subsection (1) shall comply with 33-19-321.

(6) Except as provided in subsection (7), a business associate, as defined in the HIPAA privacy regulations, 45 CFR 160.103, that is a party to a valid business associate agreement required by HIPAA privacy regulations is exempt from the provisions of this chapter, but only as to the scope of that particular agreement. Any activity of the business associate that falls outside of the scope of that agreement is subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(7) A business associate party to an agreement with a licensee exempt under subsection (1) shall comply with 33-19-321.

(8) The commissioner retains the authority to conduct complete market conduct examinations of the licensee as to the privacy policies and practices that are subject to state privacy laws.

(9) Beginning July 1, 2011:

(a) if a licensee is subject to and in compliance with a federal regulation that is part of the federal health insurance portability and accountability privacy and security regulations, 45 CFR, parts 160 and 164, and the federal regulation with which the licensee complies is inconsistent with a provision of this chapter and not less protective of consumer privacy, the licensee is exempt from compliance with the inconsistent provision of this chapter;

(b) if a licensee considers itself exempt from a provision of this chapter for the reason provided in subsection (9)(a), the licensee shall give written notice to the commissioner of that exemption unless the requirements of this subsection (9) are preempted by HIPAA privacy regulations. The notice must include a statement of the reason for the claimed exemption.

Part 2
Information Gathering

33-19-201. Pretext interviews prohibited — exception. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization may not use or authorize the use of pretext interviews to obtain information in connection with an insurance transaction.

(2) A pretext interview may be undertaken to obtain information from a person or institution that does not have a generally or statutorily recognized privileged relationship with the person about whom the information relates for the purpose of investigating a claim when based upon specific information available for review by the commissioner that there is a reasonable basis for suspecting criminal activity, fraud, material misrepresentation, or material nondisclosure in connection with the claim.

33-19-202. Notice of insurance information practices — delivery of notice. A licensee shall provide a clear and conspicuous notice of information practices that accurately reflects its privacy policies and practices to individuals about whom personal information is collected and disclosed by the licensee in connection with insurance transactions as follows:

(1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2), in the case of a policyholder or certificate holder, a notice must be delivered by an insurance institution:

(i) in the case of policies issued after July 1, 2001, no later than at the time of the delivery of the insurance policy or certificate, unless the notice delivered to the policyholder or certificate holder pursuant to subsection (5)(a) when the policyholder or certificate holder was an applicant is still accurate; and

(ii) within 60 days after any material change, other than typographical, in the insurance institution's privacy policies or practices.

(b) When a policyholder or certificate holder obtains a new insurance product or service or when a policy is reinstated and any notices already provided are no longer accurate with respect to the new product, service, or reinstatement, a new or revised and accurate notice must be delivered to the policyholder or certificate holder no later than the time that the product or service is provided by the licensee or at the time of reinstatement.

(2) (a) An insurance institution is not required to meet the requirements of this section with respect to certificate holders until the insurance institution has personally identifiable information regarding the certificate holder.

(b) Until the notice requirements of subsection (1) are met, a third-party administrator or other agent or representative of an insurance institution may not disclose personal information, except as allowed in 33-19-306(2).

(3) The notice required in subsection (1) must be in writing and must state:

(a) the categories of personal information that may be collected from persons other than the individual or individuals covered;

(b) if a licensee discloses personal or privileged information to a third party without an authorization pursuant to an exception in 33-19-306 or 33-19-307, a separate description of the categories of information and the categories of third parties to whom the licensee discloses personal information;

(c) the categories of personal information about a former policyholder or certificate holder that the licensee discloses pursuant to 33-19-306 and 33-19-307 and the categories of persons to whom the disclosure may be made;

(d) any disclosure that the licensee makes pursuant to section 603(d)(2)(A)(iii) of the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C. 1681, et seq.; and

(e) the licensee's policies and practices with respect to protecting the confidentiality and security of personal and privileged information.

(4) The following information must be contained in the initial notice delivered at the time of application and in any subsequent notice:

(a) a description of the rights established under 33-19-301 and 33-19-302 and the manner in which those rights may be exercised;

(b) that information obtained from a report prepared by an insurance-support organization may be retained by the insurance-support organization and disclosed to other persons if the licensee collects or uses information from or discloses personal information to an insurance-support organization; and

(c) that an individual is entitled to receive, upon written request to the licensee, a record of any subsequent disclosures of medical record information, as described in 33-19-301, made by the licensee pursuant to 33-19-306 and 33-19-307.

(5) In the case of individuals who are not policyholders or certificate holders:

(a) except as provided in subsection (8), in the case of an applicant, an insurance institution shall provide a notice as described in subsection (3) when the applicant submits an application;

(b) for all other individuals, a notice must be given when a licensee seeks an authorization pursuant to 33-19-306(2) to make a disclosure that is not allowed by a disclosure exception provided for in 33-19-306(3) through (24) or 33-19-307. A notice given pursuant to this subsection (5)(b) may be in an abbreviated form and must state that:

(i) personal information may be collected from persons other than the individual or individuals proposed for coverage;

(ii) the information as well as other personal or privileged information subsequently collected by the insurance institution or insurance producer may in certain circumstances be disclosed to third parties without authorization;

(iii) a right of access and correction exists with respect to all personal information collected; and

(iv) the notice prescribed in subsection (3) must be furnished upon request. The abbreviated notice provided for in this subsection (5)(b) must explain a reasonable means by which an individual may obtain that notice.

(6) The obligations imposed by this section upon a licensee may be satisfied:

(a) by another licensee authorized to act on its behalf;

(b) by sending a notice to the primary policyholder of an individual policy or to the primary certificate holder.

(7) A licensee shall provide a notice required by this section so that an intended recipient can reasonably be expected to receive actual notice in writing or, if the intended recipient agrees, electronically, as follows:

(a) by hand-delivering a printed copy of the notice to the intended recipient;

(b) by mailing a printed copy of the notice to the last-known address of the individual separately or in a policy, billing, or other written communication; or

(c) for an individual who has agreed to conduct transactions electronically, as provided in applicable law, by posting the notice on the electronic site and requiring the individual to acknowledge receipt of the notice as a necessary step to obtaining a particular insurance product or service.

(8) An insurance institution may provide the notice required in subsection (5)(a) telephonically if an application is submitted by telephone. A telephone notice under this subsection may be in abbreviated form as provided for in subsections (5)(b)(i) through (5)(b)(iv).

(9) A licensee may satisfy the notice requirements in this section through the use of combined or separate notices. If more than one notice form is used, the licensee shall refer the individual to state specific notice forms that may be used. Any national notice form must give individuals clear and conspicuous notice that when state law is more protective of individuals than federal privacy law, the licensee will protect information in accordance with state law.

33-19-205. Investigative consumer reports. (1) An insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization may not prepare or request an investigative consumer report about an individual in connection with an insurance transaction involving an application for insurance, a policy renewal, a policy reinstatement, or a change in insurance benefits unless the insurance institution or insurance producer informs the individual:

(a) that the individual may request to be interviewed in connection with the preparation of the investigative consumer report; and

(b) that upon a request pursuant to 33-19-301, the individual is entitled to receive a copy of the investigative consumer report.

(2) If an investigative consumer report is to be prepared by an insurance institution or insurance producer, the insurance institution or insurance producer shall institute reasonable procedures to conduct a personal interview requested by an individual.

(3) If an investigative consumer report is to be prepared by an insurance-support organization, the insurance institution or insurance producer desiring the report shall inform the insurance-support organization as to whether a personal interview has been requested by the individual. The insurance-support organization shall institute reasonable procedures to conduct the interview, if requested.

33-19-206. Disclosure authorizations — content — conditions prohibited. If a disclosure authorization is required by this chapter, the following requirements apply:

(1) A valid authorization to disclose personal information must be in written form, or in electronic form as provided by applicable law, and must contain the following:

(a) the identity of the individual who is the subject of the personal information;

(b) a description of the types of personal information to be disclosed;

(c) a description of the entity or type of entity to which the licensee discloses personal information, the purpose of the disclosure, and how the information will be used;

(d) the signature of the individual who is the subject of the personal information or the individual who may by law allow the disclosure and the date on which the authorization is signed; and

(e) notice of the length of time for which the authorization is valid, notice that the individual may revoke the authorization at any time, and notice of the procedure for revocation.

(2) An authorization remains valid for a period stated in the authorization that does not exceed 24 contiguous months.

(3) An individual who is the subject of personal information and has signed an authorization may revoke the authorization at any time.

(4) A licensee shall retain the original authorization or a copy of it in the record of the individual who is the subject of personal information.

(5) A licensee may not condition enrollment, coverage, benefits, or rates on an individual's signing of a disclosure authorization unless the disclosure sought through the authorization is necessary for the licensee to perform an insurance function.

Part 3
Disclosure of Information

Part Cross-References

Right of privacy, Art. II, sec. 10, Mont. Const.

33-19-301. Access to recorded personal information. (1) If an individual, after proper identification, submits a written request to an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization for access to recorded personal information about the individual that is reasonably described by the individual and reasonably locatable and retrievable by the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization, the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization shall, within 30 business days from the date that the request is received:

(a) inform the individual of the nature and substance of the recorded personal information in writing, by telephone, or by other oral communication, whichever the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization prefers;

(b) permit the individual to see and copy, in person, the recorded personal information pertaining to the individual or to obtain a copy of the recorded personal information by mail, whichever the individual prefers. If the recorded personal information is in coded form, an accurate translation in plain language must be provided in writing.

(c) except for the tracking of disclosures of medical record information that must be recorded and disclosed under subsection (2), disclose to the individual the identity, if recorded, of those persons to whom the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization has disclosed the personal information within 2 years prior to the request and, if the identity is not recorded, the names of those insurance institutions, insurance producers, insurance-support organizations, or other persons to whom the information is normally disclosed; and

(d) provide the individual with a summary of the procedures that the individual may use to request correction, amendment, or deletion of recorded personal information.

(2) (a) If an individual, after proper identification, submits a written request to a licensee for a record of disclosures of medical record information, the licensee shall provide to the individual a record of all disclosures of medical record information made by the licensee pursuant to 33-19-306(8), (9), other than disclosures made to law enforcement authorities, (10)(b), (12)(a)(iii), (13), (14), only as to medical record information that has not been de-identified, (15), (21), only as to medical record information that has not been de-identified, or (22) or 33-19-307. The record of those disclosures must include:

(i) the name, address, and institutional affiliation, if any, of each person receiving or examining the medical information during the preceding 2 years;

(ii) the date of the receipt or examination; and

(iii) to the extent practicable, a description of the information disclosed.

(b) If an individual submits a written request to a licensee for a record of disclosures of medical record information and the licensee may have made medical record information disclosures pursuant to 33-19-306(4)(b), (5), (11), (12)(a)(i), (12)(a)(ii), (12)(b), (16), (18), or (19), the licensee shall provide the individual with a description of the types of medical record information that the licensee may disclose under those exceptions, along with a general description of the usual recipients of that information. Individual tracking of each disclosure of medical record information is not required.

(3) Personal information provided pursuant to subsection (1) must identify the source of the information if the source is an institutional source.

(4) Medical record information supplied by a medical care institution or medical professional and requested under subsection (1), together with the identity of the medical professional or medical care institution that provided the information, must be supplied either directly to the individual or to a medical professional designated by the individual and licensed to provide medical care with respect to the condition to which the information relates, whichever the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization prefers. If it elects to disclose the information to a medical professional designated by the individual, the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization shall notify the individual, at the time of the disclosure, that it has provided the information to the medical professional. The medical professional may review and interpret the information and, at the request of the affected individual, shall consult with the affected individual.

(5) Except for personal information provided under 33-19-303, an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization may charge a reasonable fee to cover the costs incurred in providing a copy of recorded personal information to individuals.

(6) The obligations imposed by this section upon an insurance institution or insurance producer may be satisfied by another insurance institution or insurance producer authorized to act on its behalf. With respect to the copying and disclosure of recorded personal information pursuant to a request under subsection (1), an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization may make arrangements with an insurance-support organization or a consumer reporting agency to copy and disclose recorded personal information on its behalf.

(7) The rights granted to individuals in this section extend to all natural persons to the extent information about them is collected, maintained, and disclosed by an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization in connection with an insurance transaction. The rights granted to all natural persons by this subsection do not extend to information about them that relates to and is collected in connection with or in reasonable anticipation of a claim or civil or criminal proceeding involving them, except for the tracking of medical record information as provided for in subsection (2).

(8) For the purposes of this section, the term "insurance-support organization" does not include "consumer reporting agency".

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 385, L. 2003.

33-19-302. Correction, amendment, or deletion of recorded personal information. (1) Within 30 business days from the date of receipt of a written request from an individual to correct, amend, or delete any recorded personal information in its possession about the individual, an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization shall either:

(a) correct, amend, or delete the portion of the recorded personal information in dispute; or

(b) notify the individual of:

(i) its refusal to make the correction, amendment, or deletion;

(ii) the reasons for the refusal; and

(iii) the individual's right to file a statement as provided in subsection (3).

(2) If the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization corrects, amends, or deletes recorded personal information in accordance with subsection (1)(a), the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization shall notify the individual in writing about the action that it has taken and furnish the correction, amendment, or fact of deletion to:

(a) any person specifically designated by the individual who may have, within the preceding 2 years, received recorded personal information about the individual;

(b) any insurance-support organization whose primary source of personal information is insurance institutions if the insurance-support organization has systematically received recorded personal information from the insurance institution within the preceding 7 years, but the correction, amendment, or fact of deletion need not be furnished if the insurance-support organization no longer maintains recorded personal information about the individual; and

(c) any insurance-support organization that furnished the personal information that has been corrected, amended, or deleted.

(3) Whenever an individual disagrees with an insurance institution's, insurance producer's, or insurance-support organization's refusal to correct, amend, or delete recorded personal information, the individual may file with the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization:

(a) a concise statement setting forth what the individual thinks is the correct, relevant, or fair information; and

(b) a concise statement of the reasons why the individual disagrees with the insurance institution's, insurance producer's, or insurance-support organization's refusal to correct, amend, or delete recorded personal information.

(4) If an individual files either statement described in subsection (3), the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization shall:

(a) file the statement with the disputed personal information and provide a means by which anyone reviewing the disputed personal information will be made aware of the individual's statement and have access to it;

(b) in any subsequent disclosure by the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization of the recorded personal information that is the subject of disagreement, clearly identify the matter in dispute and provide the individual's statement along with the recorded personal information being disclosed; and

(c) furnish the statement to the persons in the manner specified in subsection (2).

(5) The commissioner may review a refusal by an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization to correct, amend, or delete recorded personal information in order to determine if the information is correct. The commissioner may order the insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization to correct, amend, or delete information that the commissioner determines is erroneous in an individual's recorded information file.

(6) The rights granted individuals by this section extend to all natural persons to the extent information about them is collected and maintained by an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization in connection with an insurance transaction. The rights granted to natural persons by this subsection do not extend to information about them that relates to and is collected in connection with or in reasonable anticipation of a claim or civil or criminal proceeding involving them.

(7) For the purposes of this section, the term "insurance-support organization" does not include a consumer reporting agency.

33-19-303. Reasons for adverse underwriting decisions. (1) If an adverse underwriting decision is made, the insurance institution or insurance producer responsible for the decision shall:

(a) either provide the applicant, policyholder, or individual proposed for coverage with the specific reason or reasons for the adverse underwriting decision in writing or advise the person that upon written request, the person may receive the specific reason or reasons in writing; and

(b) provide the applicant, policyholder, or individual proposed for coverage with a summary of the rights established under subsection (2) and 33-19-301 and 33-19-302.

(2) If a written request is received within 90 business days from the date of the mailing of notice or other communication of an adverse underwriting decision to an applicant, policyholder, or individual proposed for coverage, the insurance institution or insurance producer shall within 21 business days from the date of receipt of the written request furnish the person:

(a) the specific reason or reasons for the adverse underwriting decision, in writing, if the information was not initially furnished in writing pursuant to subsection (1)(a);

(b) the specific items of personal and privileged information that support those reasons; however:

(i) the insurance institution or insurance producer is not required to furnish specific items of privileged information if it has a reasonable suspicion, based upon specific information available for review by the commissioner, that the applicant, policyholder, or individual proposed for coverage has engaged in criminal activity, fraud, material misrepresentation, or material nondisclosure; and

(ii) specific items of medical record information supplied by a medical care institution or medical professional must be disclosed either directly to the individual about whom the information relates or to a medical professional designated by the individual and licensed to provide medical care with respect to the condition to which the information relates, whichever the insurance institution or insurance producer prefers; and

(c) the names and addresses of the institutional sources that supplied the specific items of information pursuant to subsection (2)(b), except that the identity of any medical professional or medical care institution must be disclosed either directly to the individual or to the designated medical professional, whichever the insurance institution or insurance producer prefers.

(3) The obligations imposed by this section upon an insurance institution or insurance producer may be satisfied by another insurance institution or insurance producer that is authorized to act on its behalf.

(4) When an adverse underwriting decision results solely from an oral request or inquiry, the explanation of reasons and summary of rights required by subsection (1) may be given orally but must be made in writing at the request of the applicant, policyholder, or individual.

33-19-304. Information concerning previous adverse underwriting decisions. An insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization may not seek information in connection with an insurance transaction concerning:

(1) any previous adverse underwriting decision experienced by an individual unless the inquiry also requests the reasons for any previous adverse underwriting decision and the individual is advised of the source of the information; or

(2) any previous insurance coverage obtained by an individual through a residual market mechanism unless the inquiry also requests the reasons why insurance coverage was previously obtained through a residual market mechanism and the individual is advised of the source of information.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 518, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-19-305. Previous adverse underwriting decisions. An insurance institution or insurance producer may not base an adverse underwriting decision in whole or in part:

(1) on the fact of a previous adverse underwriting decision or on the fact that an individual previously obtained insurance coverage through a residual market mechanism, but an insurance institution or insurance producer may base an adverse underwriting decision on further information obtained from an insurance institution or insurance producer responsible for a previous adverse underwriting decision;

(2) on personal information received from an insurance-support organization whose primary source of information is insurance institutions, but an insurance institution or insurance producer may base an adverse underwriting decision on further personal information obtained as the result of information received from such insurance-support organization.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-19-306. Disclosure limitations and conditions. (1) Except as provided in this section, a licensee may not disclose personal or privileged information about an individual collected or received in connection with an insurance transaction.

(2) Disclosure may be made with the written authorization of the individual. The authorization must be in the form provided in 33-19-206.

(3) Disclosure limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made to a person to enable the person to provide information to the disclosing licensee for the purpose of detecting or preventing criminal activity, fraud, material misrepresentation, or material nondisclosure in connection with an insurance transaction. A person to whom information is disclosed pursuant to this subsection shall agree in writing not to further disclose the information, but this requirement for an agreement does not prevent disclosure of information that is necessary to obtain further information for the purposes set forth in this subsection.

(4) (a) Disclosure may be made between licensees if the information disclosed is limited to that which is reasonably necessary:

(i) to detect or prevent criminal activity, fraud, material misrepresentation, or material nondisclosure in connection with insurance transactions; or

(ii) for either the disclosing or receiving licensee to perform its insurance function.

(b) A licensee receiving information pursuant to this subsection (4) may not further disclose the information unless otherwise permitted by this section.

(5) Disclosure may be made to a medical care institution, a medical professional, or the individual to whom the information pertains if that information is reasonably necessary for the following purposes:

(a) verifying insurance coverage or benefits;

(b) informing an individual of a medical problem of which the individual may not be aware;

(c) conducting an operations or services audit; or

(d) determining the reasonableness or necessity of medical services.

(6) Disclosure:

(a) may be made to an insurance regulatory authority;

(b) must be made as required by law; and

(c) must be or may be made to the commissioner as required or permitted by law.

(7) Disclosure may be made by a licensee or an insurance-support organization to a law enforcement or other government authority or to an insurance regulatory agency:

(a) to protect the interests of a licensee in preventing, investigating, or prosecuting the perpetration of fraud upon a licensee;

(b) if the licensee or insurance-support organization reasonably believes that illegal activities have been conducted by the individual; or

(c) as provided in 61-6-157.

(8) Disclosure that is limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made as otherwise permitted or required by law.

(9) Disclosure that is limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made in response to a facially valid administrative or judicial order, including a search warrant or subpoena.

(10) (a) Except as provided in subsection (10)(b), disclosure that is limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made for the purpose of conducting actuarial or research studies if:

(i) an individual is not identified in any actuarial or research report;

(ii) materials allowing the individual to be identified are returned or destroyed as soon as they are no longer needed; and

(iii) the actuarial or research organization agrees not to further disclose the information without the individual's separate, written authorization.

(b) Disclosure of information may be made for:

(i) health research that is subject to the approval of an institutional review board and the requirements of federal law and regulations governing biomedical research; or

(ii) epidemiological or drug therapy outcomes research that requires information that has been made anonymous to protect the identity of the patient through coding or encryption.

(11) Disclosure may be made to a party or a representative of a party to a proposed sale, transfer, merger, or consolidation of all or part of the business of the licensee or insurance-support organization if:

(a) prior to the consummation of the sale, transfer, merger, or consolidation only information that is reasonably necessary to enable the recipient to make business decisions about the purchase, transfer, merger, or consolidation is disclosed; and

(b) the recipient agrees not to further disclose the information without the individual's separate, written authorization.

(12) (a) Disclosure that is limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made to a licensee's affiliate as follows:

(i) to allow use of the information in connection with an audit of the licensee;

(ii) to enable a licensee to perform an insurance function; or

(iii) as allowed by 33-19-307.

(b) A licensee disclosing pursuant to this section must have a written agreement with the affiliate that the affiliate will not use or further disclose information received except to carry out the purposes set forth in subsection (12)(a) and that if further disclosure is necessary to meet those purposes, the disclosure will be made only to the licensee or to a person who agrees in writing to be bound by the same prohibition on use and disclosure. A disclosure allowed by 33-19-307 is governed by that section.

(13) Disclosure that is limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made to an insurance-support organization to perform insurance-support services for the licensee. The insurance-support organization may redisclose the information to the extent necessary to provide its services to its member or subscriber licensees and other insurance-support organizations or as otherwise permitted by law, but not for a marketing purpose.

(14) Disclosure may be made to a group policyholder for the purpose of reporting claims experience or conducting an audit of the licensee's operations or services if the information disclosed is reasonably necessary for the group policyholder to conduct the review or audit and the group policyholder agrees not to further disclose the information without the individual's separate, written authorization. Medical record information disclosed pursuant to this subsection must be edited to prevent the identification of the applicant, policyholder, or certificate holder. Employer audits that are required by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq., as amended, are not subject to the provisions of this subsection.

(15) Disclosure that is limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made to a professional peer review organization for the purpose of reviewing the service or conduct of a medical care institution or medical professional if the professional peer review organization agrees not to further disclose the information without the individual's separate, written authorization.

(16) Disclosure that is limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made to a governmental authority as required by federal or state law or for the purpose of determining the individual's eligibility for health benefits for which the governmental authority may be liable.

(17) Disclosure that is limited to that which is reasonably necessary may be made to a certificate holder or policyholder for the purpose of providing information regarding the status of an insurance transaction. Disclosure pursuant to this subsection may not be made to a group policyholder without a separate, written authorization from the individual.

(18) Disclosure may be made to a person contractually engaged to provide services to enable a licensee to perform an insurance function, or to perform an insurance function on behalf of a licensee, if the person agrees in writing that the person will not use or further disclose information obtained or developed pursuant to the engagement except to carry out the limited purpose of the engagement and that if further disclosure is necessary to perform the insurance function, that disclosure will be made only to the licensee or to a person who agrees in writing to be bound by the same prohibitions on use and disclosure.

(19) If a licensee has to disclose personal or privileged information in order to perform an insurance function and disclosure is not permitted under another exception in this section, disclosure may be made to a person other than a licensee if the disclosure is limited to that which is reasonably necessary to enable the person to perform services or an insurance function for the disclosing licensee and if the person is notified by the licensee that the person is prohibited from:

(a) using the information other than to carry out the limited purpose for which the information is disclosed; and

(b) disclosing the information other than to the licensee and as allowed in subsection (3).

(20) Disclosure may be made to a lienholder, mortgagee, assignee, lessor, or other person shown on the records of an insurance institution or insurance producer as having a legal interest in a policy of insurance if:

(a) medical record information is not disclosed; and

(b) the information disclosed is limited to that which is reasonably necessary to permit the person with a legal interest in the policy to protect that person's interests in that policy.

(21) Disclosure may be made to provide information to insurance rate advisory organizations, guaranty funds or agencies, agencies that are rating a licensee, persons that are assessing the licensee's compliance with industry standards, and the licensee's attorneys, accountants, and auditors if the disclosure is limited to that which is reasonably necessary to enable the person or entity to perform services or an insurance function for the disclosing licensee and if the person or entity is notified by the licensee that the person or entity is prohibited from using the information, other than to carry out the limited purpose for which the information is disclosed.

(22) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, disclosure for a marketing purpose may be made only as allowed by 33-19-307.

(23) This section may not be construed to prevent the disclosure of personal information that is otherwise discoverable pursuant to the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure.

(24) The commissioner may adopt rules creating additional exceptions to disclosure restrictions for the purpose of allowing a licensee or insurance-support organization to carry out a necessary insurance function. The commissioner shall adopt rules establishing the methods that must be used by licensees to prevent identification as described in subsection (14).

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 212, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 341, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 385, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 413, L. 2009.

33-19-307. Personal information used for marketing purposes — restrictions. (1) Except as permitted in this section, a licensee may not use or disclose personal information for a marketing purpose. For the purposes of this section, an insurance producer who describes to the producer's clients products or services available through the producer is not engaged in marketing.

(2) A licensee may use or disclose to another licensee personal information that is reasonably necessary to enable the licensee to market insurance products or services. A licensee may use or disclose to another licensee personal information, excluding medical record information, that is reasonably necessary to enable the licensee to market financial products and services. A licensee that receives personal information under this section from a disclosing licensee may not further disclose the information or use the information for any purpose other than marketing insurance and financial products and services.

(3) A licensee may disclose personal information that is reasonably necessary to enable an affiliate that is not a licensee to market insurance products and services. A licensee may disclose to an affiliate that is not a licensee personal information, excluding medical record information, that is reasonably necessary to enable the affiliate to market financial products and services. Disclosures under this subsection may be made only with a written agreement with the affiliate that the affiliate will not further disclose the information and will use it only for marketing insurance or financial products and services.

(4) A licensee may disclose personal information that is reasonably necessary to enable a person contractually engaged to provide services for or on behalf of the licensee to market insurance or financial products or services if the person agrees in writing that the person will not use or further disclose information obtained or developed pursuant to the engagement except to carry out the limited purpose of the engagement. A licensee shall adopt and maintain policies and procedures reasonably designed to ensure that third parties with whom the licensee contracts under this subsection comply with the requirements of this section.

(5) A licensee may use or disclose personal information for purposes other than those specified in subsections (2) through (4) only with an individual's written authorization as described in 33-19-306(2). In addition to meeting the requirements of 33-19-206, the authorization must:

(a) clearly and conspicuously state that the disclosed information is intended to be used for marketing purposes;

(b) specify each entity or type of entity to which the licensee intends to disclose the information;

(c) specify what information the licensee intends to disclose; and

(d) specify the type of marketing that the individual might receive pursuant to the disclosure.

33-19-308. Disclosure of underwriting information. (1) An insurance institution or insurance-support organization shall, within 30 days of receiving a written request from an entity listed in subsection (2) that it provides coverage for, disclose to that entity the following information that the entity specifically requests about the entity's coverage:

(a) total premiums collected from the entity for the policy year; and

(b) total losses paid out with respect to the entity for the policy year.

(2) Any of the following entities may request information about the entity's coverage pursuant to this section:

(a) an association having a group health insurance program for its members;

(b) a group purchasing cooperative;

(c) a group health plan that is a multiple employer welfare arrangement;

(d) a self-insured group; and

(e) a business that provides group health insurance for its employees, except that a business with between 2 and 50 employees is not subject to the provisions of this section.

(3) Information disclosed pursuant to this section may not include any personal information pertaining to an individual covered by a group plan that has been obtained or administered by an entity listed in subsection (2).

(4) Information that is obtainable pursuant to the provisions of this section may not be requested more than once during any calendar year.

(5) An association provided for in subsection (2)(a) must be provided with reasonable information by its insurance institution or insurance-support organization to enable the association to receive a bid or quote for coverage from other insurance entities.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 471, L. 2001.

33-19-309. (Effective July 1, 2026) Health carrier and patient access to health information — exemption — deadline extensions. (1) A health carrier as defined in 33-2-2402 shall establish and maintain the following application programming interfaces for the benefit of the carrier's insureds and contracted providers:

(a) a patient access application programming interface, pursuant to 42 CFR 422.119(a) through 422.119(e);

(b) a provider directory application programming interface, pursuant to 42 CFR 422.120;

(c) a provider access application programming interface, pursuant to 42 CFR 422.121(a);

(d) a payer-to-payer exchange application programming interface, pursuant to 42 CFR 422.121(b); and

(e) a prior authorization application programming interface, pursuant to section 42 CFR 422.122.

(2) A health carrier shall establish and maintain each application programming interface provided for in subsection (1) for the health carrier's insured and providers at the earliest date required by the centers for medicare and medicaid services for that type of application programming interface.

(3) An application programming interface must comply with standards published by the centers for medicare and medicaid services, including effective dates, enforcement delays, and suspensions.

(4) This section does not apply to a health carrier offering a dental only or vision only plan.

(5) (a) The commissioner may extend the deadlines described in this section.

(b) To obtain an extension, a health carrier shall submit a request in writing demonstrating that compliance:

(i) would be unduly burdensome, impracticable, or unfeasible; and

(ii) would result in economic harm to the carrier or other stakeholders.

(c) An extension must be granted in writing, including the commissioner's reasoning for the decision to extend.

(d) An approved extension must be published on the commissioner's website.

(6) For the purposes of this section, "commissioner" means the insurance commissioner of the state of Montana.

Compiler's Comments

Effective Date: Section 5, Ch. 694, L. 2025, provided: "[This act] is effective July 1, 2026."

33-19-310 through 33-19-320 reserved.

33-19-321. Computer security breach. (1) Any licensee or insurance-support organization that conducts business in Montana and that owns or licenses computerized data that includes personal information shall provide notice of any breach of the security of the system following discovery or notice of the breach of the security of the system to any individual whose unencrypted personal information was or is reasonably believed to have been acquired by an unauthorized person. The notice must be made without unreasonable delay, consistent with the legitimate needs of law enforcement, as provided in subsection (3), or consistent with any measures necessary to determine the scope of the breach and restore the reasonable integrity of the data system.

(2) Any person to whom personal information is disclosed in order for the person to perform an insurance function pursuant to this part that maintains computerized data that includes personal information shall notify the licensee or insurance-support organization of any breach of the security of the system in which the data is maintained immediately following discovery of the breach of the security of the system if the personal information was or is reasonably believed to have been acquired by an unauthorized person.

(3) The notice required by this section may be delayed if a law enforcement agency determines that the notice will impede a criminal investigation and requests a delay of notice. The notice required by this section must be made after the law enforcement agency determines that the notice will not compromise the investigation.

(4) Licensees, insurance-support organizations, and persons to whom personal information is disclosed pursuant to this part shall develop and maintain an information security policy for the safeguarding of personal information and security breach notice procedures that provide expedient notice to individuals as provided in subsection (1).

(5) Any licensee or insurance-support organization that is required to issue a notification pursuant to this section shall simultaneously submit an electronic copy of the notification and a statement providing the date and method of distribution of the notification to the commissioner, excluding any information that personally identifies any individual who is entitled to receive notification. If a notification is made to more than one individual, a single copy of the notification must be submitted that indicates the number of individuals in the state who received notification.

(6) For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Breach of the security of the system" means unauthorized acquisition of computerized data that compromises the security, confidentiality, or integrity of personal information maintained by a licensee, insurance-support organization, or person to whom information is disclosed pursuant to this part. Acquisition of personal information by a licensee, insurance-support organization, or employee or agent of a person as authorized pursuant to this part is not a breach of the security of the system.

(b) (i) "Personal information" means an individual's first name or first initial and last name in combination with any one or more of the following data elements, when the name and the data elements are not encrypted:

(A) social security number;

(B) driver's license number, state identification card number, or tribal identification card number;

(C) account number or credit or debit card number, in combination with any required security code, access code, or password that would permit access to an individual's financial account;

(D) medical record information;

(E) a taxpayer identification number; or

(F) an identity protection personal identification number issued by the United States internal revenue service.

(ii) Personal information does not include publicly available information that is lawfully made available to the general public from federal, state, or local government records.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 518, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 180, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 62, L. 2015.

Part 4
Enforcement

33-19-401. Power of the commissioner. (1) The commissioner has the power to examine and investigate the affairs of every insurance institution or insurance producer doing business in this state to determine whether the insurance institution or insurance producer has been or is engaged in any conduct in violation of this chapter.

(2) The commissioner has the power to examine and investigate the affairs of every insurance-support organization acting on behalf of an insurance institution or insurance producer that either transacts business in this state or transacts business outside this state which has an effect on a person residing in this state in order to determine whether such insurance-support organization has been or is engaged in any conduct in violation of this chapter.

33-19-402. Repealed. Sec. 11, Ch. 341, L. 2001.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-19-403. Service of process — insurance-support organizations. For the purpose of this chapter, an insurance-support organization transacting business outside this state that has an effect on a person residing in this state is considered to have appointed the commissioner to accept service of process on its behalf. The party seeking service and the commissioner shall follow the procedure in 33-1-606 to effectuate service.

33-19-404. Repealed. Sec. 11, Ch. 341, L. 2001.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-19-405. Civil penalty. A person who violates this chapter is subject to the civil penalty provided in 33-1-317.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 101, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 341, L. 2001.

33-19-406. Repealed. Sec. 11, Ch. 341, L. 2001.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 101, L. 1985.

33-19-407. Individual remedies. (1) If any insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization fails to comply with 33-19-301, 33-19-302, or 33-19-303 with respect to the rights granted under those sections, any person whose rights are violated may apply to the district court of this state or any other court of competent jurisdiction for appropriate equitable relief.

(2) An insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization that discloses information in violation of 33-19-306 or 33-19-307 is liable for damages sustained by the individual to whom the information relates. However, an individual is not entitled to a monetary award that exceeds the actual damages sustained by the individual as a result of a violation of 33-19-306 or 33-19-307.

(3) In an action brought pursuant to this section, the court may award the cost of the action and reasonable attorney fees to the prevailing party.

(4) An action under this section must be brought within 2 years from the date the alleged violation is or should have been discovered.

(5) Except as specifically provided in this section, there is no remedy or recovery available to individuals, in law or in equity, for occurrences constituting a violation of any provision of this chapter.

33-19-408. Immunity. A cause of action or claim for relief in the nature of defamation, invasion of privacy, or negligence does not arise against any person for disclosing personal or privileged information in accordance with this chapter, nor does such a cause of action or claim for relief arise against any person for furnishing personal or privileged information to an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization. However, this section does not provide immunity for disclosing or furnishing false information with malice or willful intent to injure any person.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 580, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-19-409. Obtaining information under false pretenses. Any person who knowingly and willfully obtains information about an individual from an insurance institution, insurance producer, or insurance-support organization under false pretenses shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than 1 year, or both.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 276, L. 2007.

33-20-102. Industrial life insurance defined. For the purposes of this code, industrial life insurance is that form of life insurance written under policies of face amount of $2,000 or less bearing the words "industrial policy" imprinted on the face thereof as part of the descriptive matter and under which premiums are payable monthly or more often.

33-20-103. Standard provisions required — exceptions. (1) A policy of life insurance, other than group and pure endowments with or without return of premiums or of premiums and interest, may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance all of the applicable provisions as required by 33-20-104 through 33-20-108, 33-20-110 through 33-20-116, and 33-20-131.

(2) This section does not apply to annuity contracts or to any provision of a life insurance policy, or contract supplemental to an annuity contract or life insurance policy, relating to disability benefits or to additional benefits in the event of death by accident or accidental means. However, the provisions of 33-20-114 do apply to annuity contracts.

(3) Any provision or portions of a provision not applicable to single premium or term policies may not to that extent be incorporated in single premium or term policies.

History: En. Sec. 297, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3803; amd. Sec. 83, Ch. 370, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 25, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-20-104. Grace period. There shall be a provision that a grace period of 30 days or, at the option of the insurer, of 1 month of not less than 30 days or of 4 weeks in the case of industrial life insurance policies, the premiums for which are payable more frequently than monthly, shall be allowed within which the payment of any premium after the first may be made, during which period of grace the policy shall continue in full force; but if a claim arises under the policy during such period of grace, the amount of any premium due or overdue may be deducted from the policy proceeds.

33-20-105. Incontestability. (1) There must be a provision that the policy, exclusive of provisions relating to disability benefits or to additional benefits in the event of death by accident or accidental means, is incontestable, except for nonpayment of premiums, after the policy has been in force during the lifetime of the insured for a period of 2 years from the policy date of issue.

(2) (a) Life insurance coverage issued as the result of an exchange or a conversion of existing life insurance coverage with the same insurer or its subsidiaries is incontestable, except for nonpayment of premiums, under the following conditions:

(i) the person who is covered is alive; and

(ii) the policy that is being exchanged or converted has been in effect for 2 years from the date of issue.

(b) This subsection (2) does not apply to any amount of insurance provided by the new policy that exceeds the coverage amount that was exchanged or converted.

33-20-106. Entire contract. There shall be a provision that the policy, or the policy and the application therefor if a copy of such application is endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties and, if the application is so made a part of the policy, that all statements contained in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

33-20-107. Misstatement of age. There shall be a provision that if the age of the insured or of any other person whose age is considered in determining the premium has been misstated, any amount payable or benefit accruing under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age or ages.

33-20-108. Dividends. (1) There shall be a provision in participating policies that, beginning not later than the end of the third policy year, the insurer shall annually ascertain and apportion the divisible surplus, if any, that will accrue on the policy anniversary or other dividend date specified in the policy, provided the policy is in force and all premiums to that date are paid.

(2) Except as hereinafter provided, any dividend becoming payable shall at the option of the party entitled to elect such option be either:

(a) payable in cash; or

(b) applied to any one of such other dividend options as may be provided by the policy.

(3) If any such other dividend options are provided, the policy shall further state which option shall be automatically effective if such party shall not have elected some other option. If the policy specifies a period within which such other dividend option may be elected, such period shall be not less than 30 days following the date on which such dividend is due and payable.

(4) The annually apportioned dividend shall be deemed to be payable in cash within the meaning of subsection (2)(a) above even though the policy provides that payment of such dividend is to be deferred for a specified period, provided such period does not exceed 6 years from the date of apportionment and that interest will be added to such dividend at a specified rate.

(5) If a participating policy provides that the benefit under any paid-up nonforfeiture provision is to be participating, it may provide that any divisible surplus becoming payable or apportioned while the insurance is in force under such nonforfeiture provision shall be applied in the manner set forth in the policy.

(6) In participating industrial life insurance policies, in lieu of the provision required in subsections (1) through (5) above, there shall be a provision that, beginning not later than the end of the fifth policy year, the policy shall participate annually in the divisible surplus, if any, in the manner set forth in the policy.

33-20-111. Table of installments. In case the policy provides that the proceeds may be payable in installments which are determinable at issue of the policy, there shall be a table showing the amounts of the guaranteed installments.

33-20-112. Reinstatement. There shall be a provision that the policy will be reinstated at any time within 3 years, or 2 years in the case of industrial life insurance policies, from the date of premium default upon written application therefor, the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the insurer, the payment of all premiums in arrears, and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the insurer upon the policy, with interest on all premiums in arrears at a rate not exceeding 6% per annum compounded annually and with interest on any indebtedness at a rate as provided in 33-20-132 through 33-20-136, unless:

(1) the policy has been surrendered for its cash surrender value;
(2) its cash surrender value has been exhausted; or
(3) the paid-up term insurance, if any, has expired.

33-20-113. Payment of premiums. There shall be a provision relative to the payment of premiums.

33-20-114. Payment of claims — interest. (1) There must be a provision, which may be made by endorsement, that when a claim is made upon the death of the insured, settlement must be made upon receipt of proof of death and, at the insurer's option, surrender of the policy or proof of the interest of the claimant, or both.

(2) There must be a provision, which may be made by endorsement, that settlement must be made within 60 days of receipt of proof of death and that if settlement is made after the first 30 days, the settlement must include interest from the 30th day until settlement. Interest must be paid at the monthly average discount rate on 90-day AA asset-backed commercial paper in effect at the federal reserve bank in the ninth federal reserve district at the time of proof of death or at the rate stated in the policy, whichever is greater. The settlement period and interest provisions of this subsection apply to all claims upon deaths filed with an insurer, regardless of whether those provisions are included in the policy.

33-20-115. Beneficiary — industrial policies. (1) An industrial life insurance policy shall have the name of the beneficiary designated thereon with a reservation of the right to designate or change the beneficiary after the issuance of the policy.

(2) The policy may also provide that no designation or change of beneficiary shall be binding on the insurer until endorsed on the policy by the insurer and that the insurer may refuse to endorse the name of any proposed beneficiary who does not appear to the insurer to have an insurable interest in the life of the insured.

(3) The policy may also provide that if the beneficiary designated in the policy does not make a claim under the policy or does not surrender the policy with due proof of death within the period stated in the policy, which shall not be less than 30 days after the death of the insured, or if the beneficiary is the estate of the insured or is a minor or dies before the insured or is not legally competent to give a valid release, then the insurer may make any payment thereunder to the personal representative of the insured or to any relative of the insured by blood or legal adoption or connection by marriage or to any person appearing to the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto by reason of having been named beneficiary or by reason of having incurred expense for the maintenance, medical attention, or burial of the insured.

(4) The policy may also include a similar provision applicable to any other payment due under the policy.

(5) The provisions of 33-20-114(2) shall be incorporated into an industrial life insurance policy and are applicable as set out in that subsection.

History: En. Sec. 309, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3815; amd. Sec. 150, Ch. 575, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 469, L. 1985.

33-20-116. Title. There shall be a title on the policy, briefly describing the same.

33-20-117. Nonforfeiture rights — policies issued before operative date. (1) This section applies only to policies of life insurance issued prior to the operative date of 33-20-213.

(2) In the event of default in payment of any premium due on any policy, if not less than 3 full years' premiums have been paid, there must be secured to the insured, without action on the insured's part, either paid-up or extended insurance as specified in the policy, the net value of which must be at least equal to the entire net reserve held by the insurer of the policy, less 2½% of the amount insured by the policy and dividend additions, if any, and less any outstanding indebtedness to the insurer on the policy at the time of default. There must be secured to the insured the right to surrender the policy to the insurer at its home office within 1 month after the date of default for cash value otherwise available for the purchase of the paid-up or extended insurance.

33-20-118. Contestability — excluded or restricted coverage. A clause in any policy of life insurance providing that such policy shall be incontestable after a specified period shall preclude only a contest of the validity of the policy and shall not preclude the assertion at any time of defenses based upon provisions in the policy which exclude or restrict coverage, whether or not such restrictions or exclusions are excepted in such clause.

History: En. Sec. 311, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3817.

33-20-119. Incontestability — limitation on liability after reinstatement of life insurance or annuity. (1) A reinstated policy of life insurance or annuity contract may be contested on account of fraud or misrepresentation of facts material to the reinstatement only for the same period following reinstatement and with the same conditions and exceptions as the policy provides with respect to contestability after original issuance.

(2) When any life insurance policy or annuity contract is reinstated, such reinstated policy or contract may exclude or restrict liability to the same extent that such liability might have been or was excluded or restricted when the policy or contract was originally issued, and such exclusion or restriction shall be effective from the date of reinstatement.

History: En. Sec. 322, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3828.

33-20-120. Policy settlements — holding proceeds — indebtedness deducted from proceeds. (1) Any life insurer shall have the power to hold under agreement the proceeds of any policy issued by it, upon such terms and restrictions as to revocation by the policyholder and control by beneficiaries and with such exemptions from the claims of creditors of beneficiaries other than the policyholder as set forth in the policy or as agreed to in writing by the insurer and the policyholder. Upon maturity of a policy, in the event the policyholder has made no such agreement, the insurer shall have the power to hold the proceeds of the policy under an agreement with the beneficiaries. The insurer shall not be required to segregate the funds so held but may hold them as part of its general assets.

(2) In determining the amount due under any life insurance policy heretofore or hereafter issued, deduction may be made of:

(a) any unpaid premiums or installments thereof for the current policy year due under the terms of the policy; and

(b) the amount of principal and accrued interest of any policy loan or other indebtedness against the policy then remaining unpaid.

33-20-121. Prohibited provisions — limitations on liability. (1) A policy of life insurance may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state if it contains a provision:

(a) for a period shorter than that provided by statute within which an action at law or in equity may be commenced on the policy; or

(b) that excludes or restricts liability for death caused in a certain specified manner or occurring while the insured has a specified status, except that a policy may contain provisions excluding or restricting coverage as specified in the policy in the event of death:

(i) as a result, directly or indirectly, of war, declared or undeclared, or of action by military forces or of an act or hazard of war or action or of service in the military, naval, or air forces or in civilian forces auxiliary to those military forces or from any cause while a member of military, naval, or air forces of a country at war, declared or undeclared, or of a country engaged in military action;

(ii) as a result of aviation, air travel, or flight;

(iii) as a result of a specified hazardous occupation or occupations;

(iv) while the insured is a resident outside the continental United States and Canada; or

(v) within 2 years from the date of issue of the policy as a result of suicide. If a life insurance policy contains a dependent rider, the dependent coverage may be continued upon payment of the premium for the dependent rider.

(2) A policy that contains an exclusion or restriction pursuant to subsection (1) must also provide that in the event of death under the circumstances to which the exclusion or restriction is applicable, the insurer will pay an amount not less than a reserve determined according to the commissioner's reserve valuation method on the basis of the mortality table and interest rate specified in the policy for the calculation of nonforfeiture benefits or, if the policy does not provide for nonforfeiture benefits, computed according to a mortality table and interest rate determined by the insurer and specified in the policy or by any other method more favorable to the policyholder, with adjustment for indebtedness or dividend credit.

(3) This section does not apply to industrial life insurance, group life insurance, disability insurance, reinsurance, or annuities or to a provision in a life insurance policy relating to disability benefits or to additional benefits in the event of death by accident or accidental means.

(4) This section does not prohibit a provision that in the opinion of the commissioner is more favorable to the policyholder than a provision permitted by this section.

33-20-122. Prohibited provisions — industrial life insurance. No policy of industrial life insurance shall contain any of the following provisions:

(1) a provision by which the insurer may deny liability under the policy for the reason that the insured has previously obtained other insurance from the same insurer;

(2) a provision giving the insurer the right to declare the policy void because the insured has had any disease or ailment, whether specified or not, or because the insured has received institutional, hospital, medical, or surgical treatment or attention, except a provision which gives the insurer the right to declare the policy void if the insured has, within 2 years prior to the issuance of the policy, received institutional, hospital, medical, or surgical treatment or attention and if the insured or claimant under the policy fails to show that the condition occasioning such treatment or attention was not of a serious nature or was not material to the risk;

(3) a provision giving the insurer the right to declare the policy void because the insured has been rejected for insurance, unless such right be conditioned upon a showing by the insurer that knowledge of such rejection would have led to a refusal by the insurer to make such contract.

33-20-123. Prohibited policy plans — life insurance policies or annuity contracts. (1) No insurer shall issue for delivery or deliver in this state any life insurance policy or annuity contract issued under any plan for the segregation of policyholders into mathematical groups and providing benefits for a surviving policyholder of a group arising out of the death of another policyholder of such group or under any other similar plan.

(2) No insurer shall issue for delivery or deliver in this state any life insurance policy or annuity contract providing benefits or values for surviving or continuing policyholders contingent upon the lapse or termination of the policies of other policyholders, whether by death or otherwise. This provision shall not be deemed to prohibit the payment or allowance of regular annual dividends or "savings" under participating forms of policies or contracts or prohibit the annual distribution to policyholders or beneficiaries of sums representing in part gains to the insurer from lapses, surrenders, or mortality either in general or as resulting from particular classifications of policies.

33-20-124. Policy provisions — conformity with state statutes. Each policy regulated by this part must contain a provision or the equivalent thereto as follows:

"Conformity with Montana statutes. The provisions of this policy conform to the minimum requirements of Montana law and control over any conflicting statutes of any state in which the insured resides on or after the effective date of this policy."

33-20-125 and 33-20-126 reserved.

33-20-127. Life insurance policy with long-term care provision or accelerated benefits provision — summary required. At the time of policy delivery, a summary must be delivered to the insured for an individual life insurance policy that provides accelerated benefits within the policy or by rider. An individual life insurance policy that provides long-term care benefits must provide a summary as described in 33-22-1123. In the case of direct response solicitations, the insurer shall deliver the summary upon the applicant's request but not later than the time of policy delivery. In addition to complying with all applicable requirements, the summary must also include:

(1) an explanation of how the long-term care benefits or accelerated benefits interact with other components of the policy, including deductions from death benefits;

(2) an illustration of the amount of benefits, the length of benefits, and the guaranteed lifetime benefits, if any, for each covered person;

(3) any exclusions, reductions, and limitations of long-term care benefits and accelerated benefits; and

(4) if applicable to the policy type:

(a) a disclosure of the effects of exercising other rights under the policy;

(b) a disclosure of guaranties related to long-term care costs of insurance charges; and

(c) current and projected maximum lifetime benefits.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 152, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 24, Ch. 451, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

33-20-128. Life insurance policy paying long-term benefits — monthly report. When a long-term care benefit, funded through a life insurance vehicle by the acceleration of the death benefit, is in benefit payment status, a monthly report must be provided to the policyholder as provided for in 33-22-1123 and this section. The report must include the following information for the month for which the report is issued:

(1) the amount of long-term care benefits paid out during the month;

(2) an explanation of any changes in the policy, including without limitation death benefits or cash values, resulting from long-term care benefits having been paid out; and

(3) the amount of long-term care benefits existing or remaining.

33-20-131. Policy loan or certificate loan. (1) Subject to the provisions of 33-20-101(2) and except as provided in 33-20-132 through 33-20-136, there must be a provision that after 3 full years' premiums have been paid and after the policy or certificate has a cash surrender value and while a premium is not in default beyond the grace period for payment, the insurer will advance, on proper assignment or pledge of the policy or certificate and on the sole security of the policy or certificate, at a specified rate of interest not exceeding 6% a year, an amount equal to or, at the option of the party entitled to the loan, less than the loan value of the policy or certificate. The commissioner may authorize a rate of interest in excess of 6%, but not in excess of 8% a year (or 7.4% if payable annually in advance), for policies or certificates issued on or after January 1, 1980, if the insurer provides adequate written certification that the holders of the policies will benefit fully from the increased earnings of the insurer resulting from the use of an interest rate in excess of the 6% per annum, such as from higher interest income to the company on policy or certificate loans, higher investment yield resulting from a reduction in policy or certificate loans because of the higher policy or certificate loan interest rate, and any additional income to the company resulting from the use of the higher interest rate in any manner. These benefits to the policyholder must be reflected through higher dividends, lower premiums, or both. The loan value of the policy must be at least equal to the cash surrender value at the end of the then current policy or certificate year, provided that the insurer may deduct, either from the loan value or from the proceeds of the loan, any existing indebtedness not already deducted in determining the cash surrender value (including interest then accrued but not due), an unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy or certificate year, and interest on the loan to the end of the current policy or certificate year unless the policyowner by written notice to the insurer elects to defer payment of interest until it has accrued. The policy or certificate may also provide that if interest on indebtedness is not paid when due, it must be added to the existing indebtedness and must bear interest at the same rate, and that if and when the total indebtedness on the policy or certificate, including interest due or accrued, equals or exceeds the amount of its loan value, the policy or certificate terminates and is void. The policy or certificate must reserve to the insurer the right to defer the granting of a loan, other than for the payment of a premium to the insurer, for 6 months after application for the loan. The policy or certificate, at the insurer's option, may provide for an automatic premium loan, subject to an election of the party entitled to elect.

(2) This section does not apply to term policies or to term insurance benefits provided by rider or supplemental policy provisions or to industrial life insurance policies.

33-20-132. Variable policy loan interest rates — purpose. The purpose of 33-20-132 through 33-20-136 is to permit and set guidelines for life insurers to include in life insurance policies issued after October 1, 1985, a provision for periodic adjustment of policy loan interest rates.

33-20-133. Variable interest rates — exclusions from application. The provisions of 33-20-132 through 33-20-136 do not apply to:

(1) term policies;

(2) term insurance benefits provided by rider or supplemental policy provisions; or

(3) industrial life insurance policies except as provided in 33-20-112.

33-20-134. Variable interest rates — published monthly average defined. For purposes of 33-20-132 through 33-20-136, the "published monthly average" means:

(1) Moody's corporate bond yield average—monthly average corporates, as published by Moody's investors service, incorporated; or

(2) in the event that Moody's corporate bond yield average—monthly average corporates is no longer published, a substantially similar average, established by rule of the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 191, L. 1985.

33-20-135. Variable interest rates on policy loans. (1) (a) Life insurance policies issued on or after October 1, 1985, may have a provision permitting policy loan interest rates as follows:

(i) a maximum interest rate of not more than 8% a year; or

(ii) an adjustable maximum interest rate established from time to time by the life insurer as permitted by 33-20-132 through 33-20-136.

(b) A life insurer is not permitted to issue policies containing variable rates of interest on policy loans under subsection (1)(a)(ii) unless the insurer also makes available policies, which may or may not be on the same plan of insurance, with fixed rates of interest on policy loans under subsection (1)(a)(i).

(2) The rate of interest charged on a policy loan made under subsection (1)(a)(ii) may not exceed the greater of:

(a) the published monthly average for the calendar month ending 2 months before the date on which the rate is determined; or

(b) the rate used to compute the cash surrender values under the policy during the applicable period plus 1% a year.

(3) If the maximum rate of interest is determined pursuant to subsection (1)(a)(ii), the policy must contain a provision setting forth the frequency at which the rate is to be determined for that policy.

(4) The maximum rate for each policy must be determined at regular intervals that must occur at least once every 12 months, but may not occur more frequently than once in any 3-month period. At the intervals specified in the policy, the rate being charged:

(a) may be increased whenever an increase as determined under subsection (2) would increase the rate by 0.5% or more a year;

(b) must be reduced whenever a reduction as determined under subsection (2) would decrease the rate by 0.5% or more a year.

(5) The life insurer shall:

(a) notify the policyholder of the initial rate of interest on the loan at the time a cash loan is made;

(b) notify the policyholder, with respect to premium loans, of the initial rate of interest on the loan as soon as practical after making the initial loan. Notice does not have to be given to the policyholder when a further premium loan is added, except as provided in subsection (5)(c).

(c) send reasonable advance notice of any increase in the rate to policyholders with loans; and

(d) include in the notices required by this subsection (5) the substance of subsection (1) and the frequency of rate determinations as provided in subsection (3).

(6) The policy may provide that if interest on any indebtedness is not paid when due, the interest will be added to the existing indebtedness and will bear interest at the same rate as the indebtedness.

(7) The loan value of the policy must be determined in accordance with the provisions of 33-20-131, but no policy may be terminated in a policy year solely as a result of a change in the interest rate during that policy year. The life insurer shall maintain coverage during that policy year until the time at which the policy would otherwise have terminated if there had been no interest rate change during that policy year.

(8) The substance of the pertinent provisions of subsections (1) and (3) must be set forth in the policies to which they apply.

(9) For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Policy" includes certificates issued by a fraternal benefit society and annuity contracts that provide for policy loans.

(b) "Policy loan" includes any premium loan made under a policy used to pay one or more premiums that were not paid to the life insurer as they became due. The rate of interest on policy loans permitted under this section includes the interest rate charged on reinstatement of policy loans for the period during and after the lapse of a policy.

(c) "Policyholder" includes the owner of the policy or the person designated to pay premiums as shown on the records of the life insurer.

(10) No other provision of law applies to policy loan interest rates unless it is made specifically applicable to such rates.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 191, L. 1985.

33-20-136. Variable interest rates — applicability to policies issued before October 1985. The provisions of 33-20-132 through 33-20-135 do not apply to any insurance contract issued before October 1, 1985, unless the policyholder agrees in writing to the applicability of such provisions.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 191, L. 1985.

33-20-137 through 33-20-140 reserved.

33-20-141. Notice required for cancellation. (1) Subject to subsection (2), an insurer may not cancel a life insurance policy or annuity for nonpayment of premiums until the insurer has mailed or delivered to the named insured and policyowner, where they are not the same, at the last-known post office address shown in the records of the company one written notice of cancellation in addition to any billing statement, stating the date the cancellation will become effective, which may not be less than 30 days after the date of mailing or delivery of the notice. Said 30 days shall run concurrently with the grace period required by 33-20-104.

(2) (a) An insurer that delivers or issues for delivery an individual life insurance policy in this state shall notify an applicant in writing at the time of application for the policy of the applicant's right to designate a third party to receive notice of cancellation of the policy based on nonpayment of premium. The applicant may make the designation at the time of application for the policy or at any time the policy is in force by submitting a written notice to the insurer containing the name and address of the third-party designee.

(b) The insurer's transmission to the third-party designee of a copy of a notice of cancellation based on nonpayment of premium must be in addition to the transmission of the original document to the policyowner. The copy of the notice of cancellation transmitted to the third party must be governed by the same law and policy provisions that govern the notice being transmitted to the policyowner.

(c) The designation of a third party may not constitute acceptance of any liability on the part of the third party or insurer for services provided to the policyowner.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 723, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 324, L. 2017.

33-20-142. Contents of notice — proof — limitation on recovery — exemptions. (1) (a) The notice of cancellation shall state:

(i) the amount of the premium, installment, or interest due on such policy;

(ii) the place where it must be paid; and

(iii) the name and address of the person or company to which the premium is payable.

(b) The notice must also state that unless the premium or other sums are paid to the company or its insurance producer, the policy will lapse or be forfeited, except as to any nonforfeiture options provided for by a life insurance policy.

(2) "Policyowner", as used in this section, means the owner of the policy or any other person designated as the person to receive premium notices, as shown by the records of the insurance company.

(3) The affidavit of any responsible officer, clerk, or insurance producer of the insurance company authorized to mail the notice that it is the standard practice of the company to mail to policyowners the notice required by this section is prima facie evidence that the notice has been duly given.

(4) No action may be maintained to recover under a lapsed or forfeited policy on the ground that the insurance company failed to comply with this section unless the action is instituted within 2 years from the due date upon which default was made in paying the premium, installment, or interest for which lapse or forfeiture is claimed.

(5) Section 33-20-141 does not apply to:

(a) group or group-type policies;

(b) industrial life or industrial disability policies; or

(c) policies upon which premiums are payable monthly or at more frequent intervals.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 723, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-20-143 through 33-20-149 reserved.

33-20-150. Life insurance policy and sales illustrations — annuity disclosure — rules. (1) (a) The commissioner shall adopt rules providing for and regulating life insurance policy illustrations, annuity disclosure, and sales illustrations that are marketed, issued, or issued for delivery to Montana residents.

(b) The rules must specify any types of life insurance or annuities that are exempt from the provisions of the rules.

(2) The rules must be designed to:

(a) protect life insurance and annuity consumers;

(b) foster consumer education;

(c) improve consumers' ability to understand the basic features of life insurance policies and annuities; and

(d) improve consumers' ability to select the most appropriate plan of life insurance or annuity.

(3) Rules that are adopted by the commissioner may not go beyond the scope of, or contain material differences from, the national association of insurance commissioners' life insurance illustrations, annuity disclosure, and sales model regulations.

(4) After the effective date of rules that are adopted pursuant to this section, a group or individual life insurance policy, certificate, or annuity may not be marketed, issued, or issued for delivery to a Montana resident unless the policy, certificate, or annuity conforms to the rules that are adopted pursuant to this section.

Part 2
Standard Nonforfeiture Law
Life Insurance

Part Cross-References

Nonforfeiture rights — applicable to policies issued prior to operative date, 33-20-117.

33-20-201. Short title. This part shall be known as the "Standard Nonforfeiture Law for Life Insurance".

History: En. Sec. 325, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 65, L. 1961; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 42, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 341, L. 1973; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3831(1); amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-202. Nonforfeiture provisions. (1) In the case of policies issued on or after the operative date of this part as defined in 33-20-213, no policy of life insurance, except as set forth in 33-20-212, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it shall contain in substance the following provisions or corresponding provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner are at least as favorable to the defaulting or surrendering policyholder as are the minimum requirements specified in this section and are essentially in compliance with 33-20-210:

(a) that in the event of default in any premium payment after premiums have been paid for at least 1 full year, the insurer will grant, upon proper request not later than 60 days after the due date of the premium in default, a paid-up nonforfeiture benefit on a plan stipulated in the policy, effective as of such due date, of such amount as may be specified in this part. In lieu of such stipulated paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, the company may substitute, upon proper request not later than 60 days after the due date of the premium in default, an actuarially equivalent alternative paid-up nonforfeiture benefit that provides a greater amount or longer period of death benefits or, if applicable, a greater amount or earlier payment of endowment benefits.

(b) that upon surrender of the policy within 60 days after the due date of any premium payment in default after premiums have been paid for at least 3 full years in the case of ordinary insurance and 5 full years in the case of industrial insurance, the insurer will pay, in lieu of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, a cash surrender value of such amount as may be specified in this part;

(c) that a specified paid-up nonforfeiture benefit shall become effective as specified in the policy unless the person entitled to make such election elects another available option not later than 60 days after the due date of the premium in default;

(d) that if the policy shall have become paid up by completion of all premium payments or if it is continued under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit which became effective on or after the third policy anniversary in the case of ordinary insurance or the fifth policy anniversary in the case of industrial insurance, the insurer will pay, upon surrender of the policy within 30 days after any policy anniversary, a cash surrender value of such amount as may be specified in this part;

(e) for a policy that has on a basis guaranteed in the policy unscheduled changes in benefits or premiums or that provides an option for changes in benefits or premiums other than a change to a new policy, a statement of the mortality table, interest rate, and method used in calculating cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits available under the policy. For each other policy a statement of the mortality table and interest rate used in calculating the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits available under the policy, together with a table showing the cash surrender value, if any, and paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, if any, available under the policy on each policy anniversary, either during the first 20 policy years or during the term of the policy, whichever is shorter, such values and benefits to be calculated upon the assumption that there are no dividends or paid-up additions credited to the policy and that there is no indebtedness to the insurer on the policy.

(f) a statement that the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits available under the policy are not less than the minimum values and benefits required by or pursuant to the insurance law of this state;

(g) an explanation of the manner in which the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits are altered by the existence of any paid-up additions credited to the policy or any indebtedness to the insurer on the policy;

(h) if a detailed statement of the method of computation of the values and benefits shown in the policy is not stated therein, a statement that such method of computation has been filed with the insurance supervisory official of the state in which the policy is delivered; and

(i) a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender value and paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy on any policy anniversary beyond the last anniversary for which such values and benefits are consecutively shown in the policy.

(2) Any of the provisions or portions thereof set forth in subsections (1)(a) through (1)(i) which are not applicable by reason of the plan of insurance may, to the extent inapplicable, be omitted from the policy. The insurer shall reserve the right to defer the payment of any cash surrender value for a period of 6 months after demand therefor with surrender of the policy.

33-20-203. Cash surrender value — paid-up nonforfeiture benefit — life. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in the premium payment due on any policy anniversary, whether or not required by 33-20-202, is an amount not less than the excess, if any, of the present value on the anniversary of the future guaranteed benefits that would have been provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, if there had been no default, over the sum of:

(a) the then present value of the adjusted premiums as defined in 33-20-204 through 33-20-208 corresponding to premiums that would have fallen due on and after the anniversary; and

(b) the amount of any indebtedness to the insurer on account of or secured by the policy.

(2) For any policy issued on or after the relevant operative date of 33-20-208 that provides supplemental life insurance or annuity benefits at the option of the insured and for an identifiable additional premium by rider or supplemental policy provision, the cash surrender value referred to in subsection (1) is an amount not less than the sum of the cash surrender value as defined in subsection (1) for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without a rider or a supplemental policy provision and the cash surrender value as defined in subsection (1) for a policy that provides only the benefits otherwise provided by the rider or the supplemental policy provision.

(3) Any cash surrender value available within 30 days after any policy anniversary under any policy paid up by completion of all premium payments or any policy continued under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, whether or not required by 33-20-202, is an amount not less than the present value, on the anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, decreased by any indebtedness to the insurer on account of or secured by the policy.

(4) Any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in the premium payment due on any policy anniversary is its present value as of the anniversary to the extent that the nonforfeiture benefit is at least equal to the cash surrender value then provided for by the policy or, if none is provided for, that cash surrender value that would have been required by this part in the absence of the conditions that premiums must have been paid for at least a specified period.

(5) For any family policy issued on or after the relevant operative date of 33-20-208 that defines a primary insured and provides term insurance on the life of the spouse of the primary insured expiring before the spouse reaches 71 years of age, the cash surrender value referred to in subsection (1) is an amount not less than the sum of the cash surrender value as defined in subsection (1) for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without the term insurance on the life of the spouse and the cash surrender value as defined in subsection (1) for a policy that provides only the benefits otherwise provided by the term insurance on the life of the spouse.

33-20-204. Adjusted premium. (1) This section does not apply to policies issued on or after the operative date of 33-20-208.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (3), the adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding extra premiums on a substandard policy, that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of:

(i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy;

(ii) 2% of the amount of the insurance if the insurance be uniform in amount or of the equivalent uniform amount, as hereinafter defined, if the amount of insurance varies with the duration of the policy;

(iii) 40% of the adjusted premium for the first policy year;

(iv) 25% of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole of life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance, whichever is less.

(b) In applying the percentages specified in subsections (iii) and (iv) above, no adjusted premiums shall be deemed to exceed 4% of the amount of insurance or uniform amount equivalent thereto.

(c) Whenever the plan or term of a policy has been changed, either by request of the insured or automatically in accordance with the provisions of the policy, the date of inception of the changed policy for the purposes of determining a nonforfeiture benefit or cash surrender value shall be the date as of which the age of the insured is determined for the purposes of the changed policy. The date of issue of a policy for the purposes of this subsection shall be the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

(d) (i) In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with the duration of the policy, the equivalent uniform amount thereof for the purpose of the preceding subsections

(a) and (b) shall be deemed to be the uniform amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy, containing the same endowment benefit or benefits, if any, issued at the same age and for the same term, the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the date of issue as the benefits under the policy.

(ii) In the case of a policy for a varying amount of insurance issued on the life of a child under age 10, the equivalent uniform amount may be computed as though the amount of insurance provided by the policy prior to the attainment of age 10 were the amount provided by such policy at age 10.

(3) (a) The adjusted premiums for any policy providing term insurance benefits by rider or supplemental policy provision shall be equal to (i) the adjusted premiums for an otherwise similar policy issued at the same age without such term insurance benefits, increased, during the period for which premiums for such term insurance benefits are payable, by (ii) the adjusted premiums for such term insurance.

(b) The foregoing items (a)(i) and (a)(ii) being calculated separately and as specified in subsection (2) except that, for the purposes of (ii), (iii), and (iv) of subsection (2), the amount of insurance or equivalent uniform amount of insurance used in the calculation of the adjusted premiums referred to in (a)(ii) of this subsection shall be equal to the excess of the corresponding amount determined for the entire policy over the amount used in the calculation of the adjusted premiums in (a)(i) of this subsection.

33-20-205. Calculation — mortality table — rates of interest. Except as otherwise provided in 33-20-206 and 33-20-207:

(1) All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this part shall for all policies of ordinary insurance be calculated on the basis of the commissioner's 1941 standard ordinary mortality table.

(2) For any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated, at the option of the insurer with approval of the commissioner, according to an age younger than the actual age of the insured, and such calculations for all policies of industrial insurance shall be made on the basis of the 1941 standard industrial mortality table.

(3) All calculations shall be made on the basis of the rate of interest, not exceeding 3½% per annum, specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits.

(4) In calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than 130% of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table.

(5) For insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the insurer and approved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 325, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 65, L. 1961; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 42, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 341, L. 1973; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3831(8).

33-20-206. Mortality tables — policies issued after operative date. (1) This section does not apply to ordinary policies issued on or after the operative date of 33-20-208.

(2) In the case of ordinary policies issued on or after the operative date of this section as defined herein, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this part shall be calculated on the basis of the commissioner's 1958 standard ordinary mortality table and the rate of interest specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits, provided that:

(a) such rate of interest shall not exceed 3½% per annum, except that a rate of interest not exceeding 4% per annum may be used for policies issued on or after March 17, 1973, and prior to July 1, 1979, and a rate of interest not exceeding 5½% a year may be used for policies issued on or after July 1, 1979;

(b) for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than 6 years younger than the actual age of the insured;

(c) in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the commissioner's 1958 extended term insurance table;

(d) for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the commissioner.

(3) After July 1, 1961, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this section after a specified date before January 1, 1966. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date of this section for such insurer), this section shall become operative with respect to the ordinary policies thereafter issued by such insurer. If an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this section for such insurer shall be January 1, 1966.

33-20-207. Industrial policies — mortality tables. (1) This section does not apply to industrial policies issued on or after the operative date of 33-20-208.

(2) In the case of industrial policies issued on or after the operative date of this section as defined herein, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this part shall be calculated on the basis of commissioner's 1961 standard industrial mortality table and the rate of interest specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits provided that:

(a) such rate of interest shall not exceed 3½% per annum except that a rate of interest not exceeding 4% per annum may be used for policies issued on or after March 17, 1973, and prior to July 1, 1979, and a rate of interest not exceeding 5½% a year may be used for policies issued on or after July 1, 1979;

(b) in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the commissioner's 1961 industrial extended term insurance table;

(c) for insurance issued on a substandard basis the calculations of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the commissioner.

(3) After February 22, 1965, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this section after a specified date before January 1, 1968. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date of this section for such insurer), this section shall become operative with respect to the industrial policies thereafter issued by such insurer. If an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this section for such insurer shall be January 1, 1968.

33-20-208. Mortality tables — interest rate adjusted premiums. (1) (a) This section applies to all policies issued on or after the operative date of this section. Except as provided in subsection (7), the adjusted premiums for any policy are calculated on an annual basis and must be a uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding amounts payable as extra premiums to cover impairments, special hazards, and any uniform annual contract charge or policy fee specified in the policy in a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits. The uniform percentage must represent the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all adjusted premiums that is equal to the sum of:

(i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy;

(ii) 1% of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance is uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years; and

(iii) 125% of the nonforfeiture net level premium as provided in subsection (2). A nonforfeiture net level premium is considered not to exceed 4% of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance is uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years.

(b) The date of issue of a policy for the purpose of this subsection is the date as of which the rated age of the insured is determined.

(2) The nonforfeiture net level premium is equal to the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of the guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy divided by the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of an annuity of one per annum payable on the date of issue of the policy and on each anniversary of that policy on which a premium falls due.

(3) For policies that have on a basis guaranteed in the policy unscheduled changes in benefits or premiums or that provide an option for changes in benefits or premiums other than a change to a new policy, the adjusted premiums and present values are initially calculated on the assumption that future benefits and premiums do not change from those stipulated at the date of issue of the policy. At the time of any change in the benefits or premiums, the future adjusted premiums, nonforfeiture net level premiums, and present values must be recalculated on the assumption that future benefits and premiums do not change from those stipulated by the policy immediately after the change.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (7), the recalculated future adjusted premiums for any policy are a uniform percentage of the respective future premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding amounts payable as extra premiums to cover impairments, special hazards, and any uniform annual contract charge or policy fee specified in the policy in a statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits. The uniform percentage must be the present value, at the time of change to the newly defined benefits or premiums, of all future adjusted premiums that is equal to the excess of:

(a) the sum of:

(i) the then present value of the then future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; and

(ii) the additional expense allowance, if any; over

(b) the then cash surrender value, if any, or present value of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit under the policy.

(5) The additional expense allowance, at the time of the change to the newly defined benefits or premiums, is the sum of:

(a) 1% of the excess, if positive, of the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years subsequent to the change, over the average amount of insurance prior to the change at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years subsequent to the time of the most recent previous change or, if there has been no previous change, the date of issue of the policy; and

(b) 125% of the increase, if positive, in the nonforfeiture net level premium.

(6) The recalculated nonforfeiture net level premium is equal to the result obtained by dividing the product of subsection (a) by the product of subsection (b):

(a) (i) the nonforfeiture net level premium applicable prior to the change multiplied by the present value of an annuity of one per annum payable on each anniversary of the policy on or subsequent to the date of the change on which a premium would have fallen due had the change not occurred; and

(ii) the present value of the increase in future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy;

(b) the present value of an annuity of one per annum payable on each anniversary of the policy on or subsequent to the date of change on which a premium falls due.

(7) Adjusted premiums and present values for a substandard policy may be calculated as if the substandard policy were issued to provide higher uniform amounts of insurance on the standard basis, regardless of other provisions of this section for a policy issued on a substandard basis that provides reduced graded amounts of insurance so that, in each policy year, the policy has the same tabular mortality cost as an otherwise similar policy issued on the standard basis that provides higher uniform amounts of insurance.

(8) Except as provided below, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this part are for policies of ordinary insurance calculated on the basis of the commissioner's 1980 standard ordinary mortality table or, at the election of the insurer for any one or more specified plans of life insurance, the commissioner's 1980 standard ordinary mortality table with 10-year

select mortality factors. All adjusted premiums and present values for policies of industrial insurance are calculated on the basis of the commissioner's 1961 standard industrial mortality table. All adjusted premiums and present values for all policies issued in a particular calendar year are calculated on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the nonforfeiture interest rate as provided in this subsection for policies issued in that calendar year; with the following exceptions and conditions:

(a) At the option of the insurer, calculations for all policies issued in a particular calendar year may be made on the basis of a rate of interest not exceeding the nonforfeiture interest rate, as provided in this subsection for policies issued in the immediately preceding calendar year.

(b) Under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, including any paid-up dividend additions, any cash surrender value available, whether or not required by 33-20-202, is calculated on the basis of the mortality table and rate of interest used in determining the amount of the paid-up nonforfeiture benefit and paid-up dividend additions, if any.

(c) An insurer may calculate the amount of any guaranteed paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, including any paid-up additions under the policy, on the basis of an interest rate no lower than that specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values.

(d) In calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the commissioner's 1980 extended term insurance table for policies of ordinary insurance and not more than the commissioner's 1961 industrial extended term insurance table for policies of industrial insurance.

(e) For insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any adjusted premiums and present values may be based on appropriate modifications of the tables set forth in this subsection (8).

(f) (i) For policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual as provided in 33-2-409, any commissioner's standard ordinary mortality tables adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that are approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard may be substituted for the commissioner's 1980 standard ordinary mortality table with or without 10-year select mortality factors or for the commissioner's 1980 extended term insurance table.

(ii) For policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual as provided in 33-2-409, the commissioner may use the standard mortality table provided in the valuation manual for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard instead of using either the commissioner's 1980 standard ordinary mortality table with or without 10-year select mortality factors or the commissioner's 1980 extended term insurance table.

(iii) A minimum nonforfeiture standard, if adopted by the commissioner by rule for the commissioner's standard mortality table adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard for policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, supersedes the valuation manual's nonforfeiture standard.

(g) (i) For policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual, any industrial mortality tables adopted after 1980 by the national association of insurance commissioners that are approved by the commissioner by rule for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard may be substituted for the commissioner's 1961 standard industrial mortality table or the commissioner's 1961 industrial extended term insurance table.

(ii) For policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, the valuation manual must provide the commissioner's standard mortality table for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard that may be substituted for the commissioner's 1961 standard industrial mortality table or the commissioner's 1961 industrial extended term insurance table.

(iii) A minimum nonforfeiture standard, if adopted by the commissioner by rule for the commissioner's standard industrial mortality table adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners for use in determining the minimum nonforfeiture standard for policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, supersedes the valuation manual's nonforfeiture standard.

(9) (a) For policies issued prior to the operative date of the valuation manual, the annual nonforfeiture interest rate for any policy issued in a particular calendar year must be equal to

125% of the calendar year statutory valuation interest rate for such policy as defined in the standard valuation law, Title 33, chapter 2, part 5, rounded to the nearer 1/4 of 1%. However, the nonforfeiture interest rate provided for in this subsection (9)(a) may not be less than 4.00%.

(b) For policies issued on or after the operative date of the valuation manual, the annual nonforfeiture interest rate for any policy issued in a particular calendar year must be as provided in the valuation manual.

(10) Any refiling of nonforfeiture values or their methods of computation for any previously approved policy form that involves only a change in the interest rate or mortality table used to compute nonforfeiture values does not require refiling of any other provisions of that policy form.

(11) After October 1, 1983, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this section after a specified date, before January 1, 1989, which is the operative date of this section for that insurer. If an insurer makes no election, the operative date of this section for the insurer is January 1, 1989.

33-20-209. Determination of nonforfeiture values for special plans. For a plan of life insurance that provides for future premium determination the amounts of which are to be determined by the insurer based on then estimates of future experience or for a plan of life insurance that is of such a nature that minimum values cannot be determined by the methods described in 33-20-204 through 33-20-208:

(1) the commissioner must be satisfied that the benefits provided under the plan are substantially as favorable to policyholders and insureds as the minimum benefits otherwise required by 33-20-204 through 33-20-208;

(2) the commissioner must be satisfied that the benefits and the pattern of premiums of that plan are not such as to mislead prospective policyholders or insureds; and

(3) the cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits provided by such plan may not be less than the minimum values and benefits required for the plan computed by a method consistent with the principles of this part, as determined by rules promulgated by the commissioner.

33-20-210. Additional rules for calculating cash surrender values. (1) This section, in addition to all other applicable sections of this chapter, applies to all policies issued on or after January 1, 1987. Any cash surrender value available under the policy upon default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary is an amount that does not differ by more than 2/10 of 1% of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance is uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years subtracted from the sum of:

(a) the greater of zero and the basic cash value specified in subsection (2); and

(b) the present value of any existing paid-up additions less the amount of any indebtedness to the insurer under the policy.

(2) The basic cash value is equal to the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits that would have been provided for by the policy, excluding any existing paid-up additions and before deduction of any indebtedness to the insurer, if there had been no default less the then present value of the nonforfeiture factors, as provided in subsection (3), corresponding to premiums that would have fallen due on and after such anniversary date. However, the effects on the basic cash value of supplemental life insurance or annuity benefits or of family coverage, as described in 33-20-203 or 33-20-204, whichever is applicable, are the same as the effects specified in 33-20-203 or 33-20-204, whichever is applicable, on the cash surrender values defined in that section.

(3) The nonforfeiture factor for each policy year is an amount equal to a percentage of the adjusted premium for the policy year, as defined in 33-20-204 or 33-20-208, whichever is applicable. Except as is required by subsection (4), the percentage:

(a) must be the same percentage for each policy year between the second policy anniversary date and the later of the fifth policy anniversary date and the first policy anniversary date at which there is available under the policy a cash surrender value in an amount, before including any paid-up additions and before deducting any indebtedness, of at least 2/10 of 1% of either the amount of insurance, if the insurance is uniform in amount, or the average amount of insurance at the beginning of each of the first 10 policy years; and

(b) must be such that no percentage after the later of the two policy anniversary dates specified in subsection (3)(a) applies to less than 5 consecutive policy years.

(4) No basic cash value may be less than the value that would be obtained if the adjusted premiums for the policy, as provided in 33-20-204 or 33-20-208, whichever is applicable, were substituted for the nonforfeiture factors in the calculation of the basic cash value.

(5) Adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this section must, for a particular policy, be calculated on the same mortality and interest bases as are used in demonstrating the policy's compliance with the other sections of this part. The cash surrender values referred to in this section include any endowment benefits provided for by the policy.

(6) A cash surrender value available other than upon default in a premium payment due on a policy anniversary date and the amount of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment are determined consistently with provisions specified for determining the analogous minimum amounts in 33-20-202 through 33-20-204, 33-20-208, and 33-20-211. The amounts of any cash surrender values and of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits granted in connection with additional benefits such as those listed in 33-20-211(4) must conform with the principles of this section.

33-20-211. Calculation of values — other requisites. (1) Any cash surrender value and any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond the last preceding policy anniversary.

(2) All values referred to in 33-20-203 through 33-20-208 may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death.

(3) The net value of any paid-up additions, other than paid-up term additions, shall be not less than the amounts used to provide such additions.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) and (3) of 33-20-203, additional benefits payable under the following circumstances shall be disregarded in ascertaining cash surrender values and nonforfeiture benefits required by this part, and no such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits:

(a) in the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means;

(b) in the event of total and permanent disability;

(c) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits;

(d) as term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which, if issued as a separate policy, this part would not apply;

(e) as term insurance on the life of a child or on the lives of children provided in a policy on the life of a parent of the child, if such term insurance expires before the child's age is 26, is uniform in amount after the child's age is 1, and has not become paid up by reason of the death of a parent of the child; and

(f) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits and premiums for all such additional benefits.

33-20-212. Exceptions. (1) This part does not apply to:

(a) reinsurance;

(b) group insurance;

(c) a pure endowment;

(d) an annuity or reversionary annuity contract;

(e) a term policy of uniform amount that provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, or renewal thereof, of 20 years or less expiring before age 71 for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy;

(f) a term policy of decreasing amount that provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, on which each adjusted premium, calculated as specified in 33-20-204 through 33-20-208, is less than the adjusted premiums so calculated on a term policy of uniform amount, or renewal thereof, which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits, issued at the same age and for the same initial amount of insurance and for a term of 20 years or less expiring before age 71, for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy;

(g) a policy which provides no guaranteed nonforfeiture or endowment benefits for which the cash surrender value, if any, or present value of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit at the beginning of any policy year, calculated as specified in 33-20-203 through 33-20-208, does not exceed 2.5% of the amount of insurance at the beginning of the same policy year;

(h) a policy that is delivered outside this state through an insurance producer or other representative of the insurer issuing the policy.

(2) For purposes of subsection (1), the age at expiry for a joint term life insurance policy is the age at expiry of the oldest life.

33-20-213. Operative date. After July 1, 1945, any insurer could have filed with the state auditor a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this part, except 33-20-206 and 33-20-207, after a specified date before January 1, 1948, with respect to the policies specified in the notice. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date for such insurer with respect to such policies), this part, except 33-20-206 and 33-20-207, shall have become operative with respect to the policies specified in such notice thereafter issued by such insurer. As to all of its policies and contracts with respect to which an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this part, except 33-20-206 and 33-20-207, with respect to such policies and contracts for such insurer is January 1, 1948.

Part 3
Annuity Contract Provisions

33-20-301. Standard provisions — annuity and pure endowment contracts. (1) No annuity or pure endowment contract, other than reversionary annuities, survivorship annuities, or group annuities and except as stated herein, shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance each of the provisions specified in 33-20-302 through 33-20-307. Any of such provisions not applicable to single premium annuities or single premium pure endowment contracts shall not, to that extent, be incorporated therein.

(2) This section shall not apply to contracts for deferred annuities included in or upon the lives of beneficiaries under life insurance policies.

History: En. Sec. 312, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3818.

33-20-302. Grace period. In an annuity or pure endowment contract, other than a reversionary, survivorship, or group annuity, there shall be a provision that there shall be a period of grace of 1 month, but not less than 30 days, within which any stipulated payment to the insurer falling due after the first may be made, subject at the option of the insurer to an interest charge thereon at a rate to be specified in the contract but not exceeding 6% per annum for the number of days of grace elapsing before such payment, during which period of grace the contract shall continue in full force; but in case a claim arises under the contract on account of death prior to expiration of the period of grace before the overdue payment to the insurer or the deferred payments of the current contract year, if any, are made, the amount of such payments, with interest on any overdue payments, may be deducted from any amount payable under the contract in settlement.

33-20-303. Incontestability. If any statements other than those relating to age and identity are required as a condition to issuing an annuity or pure endowment contract, other than a reversionary, survivorship, or group annuity, and subject to 33-20-305, there shall be a provision that the contract shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the person or of each of the persons as to whom such statements are required, for a period of 2 years from its date of issue, except for nonpayment of stipulated payments to the insurer; and at the option of the insurer such contract may also except any provisions relative to benefits in the event of disability and any provisions which grant insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means.

33-20-304. Entire contract. In an annuity or pure endowment contract, other than a reversionary, survivorship, or group annuity, there shall be a provision that the contract shall constitute the entire contract between the parties or, if a copy of the application is endorsed upon or attached to the contract when issued, a provision that the contract and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

33-20-305. Misstatement of age. In an annuity or pure endowment contract, other than a reversionary, survivorship, or group annuity, there shall be a provision that if the age of the person or persons upon whose life or lives the contract is made, or of any of them, has been misstated, the amount payable or benefits accruing under the contract shall be such as the stipulated payment or payments to the insurer would have purchased according to the correct age and that if the insurer shall make or has made any overpayment or overpayments on account of any such misstatement, the amount thereof, with interest at the rate to be specified in the contract but not exceeding 6% per annum, may be charged against the current or next succeeding payment or payments to be made by the insurer under the contract.

33-20-306. Dividends. If an annuity or pure endowment contract, other than a reversionary, survivorship, or group annuity, is participating, there shall be a provision that the insurer shall annually ascertain and apportion any divisible surplus accruing on the contract.

33-20-307. Reinstatement. In an annuity or pure endowment contract, other than a reversionary, survivorship, or group annuity, there shall be a provision that the contract may be reinstated at any time within 1 year from the default in making stipulated payments to the insurer, unless the cash surrender value had been paid, but all overdue stipulated payments and any indebtedness to the insurer on the contract shall be paid or reinstated with interest thereon at a rate to be specified in the contract but not exceeding 6% per annum payable annually. In cases where applicable the insurer may also include a requirement of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the insurer.

33-20-308. Annuity information. The commissioner shall promulgate rules prescribing information that must be delivered to prospective annuitants at the time of sale. The rules must address the following:

(1) the manner of delivery of the information;
(2) when the information must be delivered;
(3) by whom the information is to be delivered; and
(4) the contents of the information, including:
(a) the type of annuity being sold; and
(b) the settlement options available under the annuity contract.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 260, L. 1997.

33-20-309. Annuity penalty — 10-year prohibition. (1) An annuity may not charge a surrender penalty on an annuity contract after 10 years from:

(a) the date of issuance; or

(b) for contracts for which the annuitant voluntarily deposits a separate premium that was not required under the annuity contract, the date of each separate annuity premium deposit. Within 10 years after the separate deposit, the insurer may charge a surrender penalty for that deposit.

(2) An insurer must provide written notice to the annuitant of any surrender penalty imposed under the contract, including subsequent notices if the annuitant voluntarily contributes separate premium deposits under subsection (1)(b).

(3) For purposes of this section, the term "surrender penalty" means a surrender penalty, fee, or charge for the early withdrawal of funds from an annuity contract or for the cancellation of the annuity contract.

(4) This section applies to any annuity contract, including but not limited to annuity contracts under Title 30, chapter 10.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 177, L. 2017.

Part 4
Reversionary Annuity Contract Provisions

33-20-401. Standard provisions. (1) Except as stated herein, no contract for a reversionary annuity shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance each of the following provisions:

(a) Any such reversionary annuity contract shall contain the provisions specified in 33-20-302 through 33-20-306, except that under 33-20-302 the insurer may at its option provide for an equitable reduction of the amount of the annuity payments in settlement of an overdue payment in lieu of providing for deduction of such payments from an amount payable upon settlement under the contract.

(b) In such reversionary annuity contracts there shall be a provision that the contract may be reinstated at any time within 3 years from the date of default in making stipulated payments to the insurer, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the insurer and upon condition that all overdue payments and any indebtedness to the insurer on account of the contract be paid or, within the limits permitted by the then cash values of the contract, reinstated, with interest as to both payments and indebtedness at a rate to be specified in the contract but not exceeding 6% per annum compounded annually.

(2) This section shall not apply to group annuities or to annuities included in life insurance policies, and any of such provisions not applicable to single premium annuities shall not to that extent be incorporated therein.

Part 5
Standard Nonforfeiture Law
Individual Deferred Annuities

33-20-501. Short title. This part shall be known as the "Standard Nonforfeiture Law for Individual Deferred Annuities".

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-502. Application. This part does not apply to any reinsurance, group annuity purchased under a retirement plan, or plan of deferred compensation established or maintained by an employer (including a partnership or sole proprietorship) or by an employee organization, or by both, other than a plan providing individual retirement accounts or individual retirement annuities under section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as now or hereafter amended, premium deposit fund, variable annuity, investment annuity, immediate annuity, any deferred annuity contract after annuity payments have commenced, or reversionary annuity or to any contract which is delivered outside this state through an insurance producer or other representative of the company issuing the contract.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 346, L. 1979; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-20-503. Nonforfeiture provisions. In the case of contracts issued on or after the operative date of this part as defined in 33-20-513, no contract of annuity except as stated in 33-20-502 shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it contains in substance the following provisions or corresponding provisions which in the opinion of the commissioner are at least as favorable to the contract holder, upon cessation of payment of considerations under the contract:

(1) that upon cessation of payment of considerations under a contract the company will grant a paid-up annuity benefit on a plan stipulated in the contract of such value as is specified in 33-20-506 through 33-20-509 and 33-20-511;

(2) that if a contract provides for a lump-sum settlement at maturity or at any other time, than upon surrender of the contract at or prior to the commencement of any annuity payments, the company will pay in lieu of any paid-up annuity benefit a cash surrender benefit of such amount as is specified in 33-20-506, 33-20-507, 33-20-509, and 33-20-511. The company shall reserve the right to defer the payment of such cash surrender benefit for a period of 6 months after demand therefor with surrender of the contract.

(3) a statement of the mortality table, if any, and interest rates used in calculating any minimum paid-up annuity, cash surrender, or death benefits that are guaranteed under the contract, together with sufficient information to determine the amounts of such benefits;

(4) a statement that any paid-up annuity, cash surrender, or death benefits that may be available under the contract are not less than the minimum benefits required by any statute of the state in which the contract is delivered and an explanation of the manner in which such benefits are altered by the existence of any additional amounts credited by the company to the contract, any indebtedness to the company on the contract, or any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-504. Exception. Notwithstanding the requirements of 33-20-503, any deferred annuity contract may provide that if no consideration has been received under a contract for a period of 2 full years and the portion of the paid-up annuity benefit at maturity on the plan stipulated in the contract arising from consideration paid prior to such period would be less than $20 monthly, the company may at its option terminate such contract by payment in cash of the then present value of such portion of the paid-up annuity benefit, calculated on the basis of the mortality table, if any, and interest rate specified in the contract for determining the paid-up annuity benefit, and by such payment shall be relieved of any further obligation under such contract.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-505. Minimum nonforfeiture amounts. (1) The minimum values as specified in 33-20-506 through 33-20-509 and 33-20-511 of any paid-up annuity, cash surrender, or death benefits available under an annuity contract must be based upon minimum nonforfeiture amounts, as defined in this section.

(2) (a) The minimum nonforfeiture amount at any time at or prior to the commencement of any annuity payments must be equal to an accumulation up to that time at rates of interest as indicated in subsection (3)(a) of the net considerations, as described in subsection (2)(b), paid prior to that time, decreased by the sum of:

(i) any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract accumulated at rates of interest as indicated in subsection (3)(a);

(ii) an annual contract charge of $50 accumulated at rates of interest as indicated in subsection (3)(a);

(iii) any premium tax paid by the company for the contract accumulated at rates of interest as indicated in subsection (3)(a); and

(iv) the amount of any indebtedness to the company on the contract, including interest due and accrued.

(b) The net consideration for a given contract year used to define the minimum nonforfeiture amount must be an amount equal to 87.5% of the corresponding gross considerations credited to the contract during that contract year.

(3) (a) (i) The interest rate used in determining minimum nonforfeiture amounts must be an annual rate of interest determined as the lesser of 3% a year or the amount calculated under subsection (3)(a)(ii), which must be specified in the contract if the interest rate will be reset.

(ii) The interest rate may be the 5-year constant maturity treasury rate reported by the federal reserve board as of a date or an average over a period, rounded to the nearest 1/20th of 1%, specified in the contract no longer than 15 months prior to the contract issue date or redetermination date under subsection (3)(a)(iii) and reduced by 125 basis points whenever the resulting interest rate is not less than 0.15%.

(iii) The interest rate under subsection (3)(a)(ii) must apply for an initial period and may be redetermined for additional periods. The redetermination date, basis, and period, if any, must be stated in the contract. The basis is the date or the average over a specified period that produces the value of the 5-year constant maturity treasury rate to be used at each redetermination date.

(b) During the period or term that a contract provides substantive participation in an equity indexed benefit, the contract may increase the reduction described in subsection (3)(a)(ii) by up to an additional 100 basis points to reflect the value of the equity index benefit. The present value at the contract issue date, and at each redetermination date, of the additional reduction may not exceed the market value of the benefit. The commissioner may require a demonstration that the present value of the additional reduction does not exceed the market value of the benefit. The commissioner may disallow or limit the additional reduction if the commissioner considers the demonstration unacceptable.

(4) The commissioner may adopt rules to implement the provisions of subsection (3)(b) and to provide for further adjustments to the calculation of minimum nonforfeiture amounts for contracts that provide substantive participation in an equity index benefit and for other contracts for which the commissioner determines that adjustments are justified.

33-20-506. Present value to equal minimum nonforfeiture amount. Any paid-up annuity benefit available under a contract shall be such that its present value on the date annuity payments are to commence is at least equal to the minimum nonforfeiture amount on that date. Such present value shall be computed using the mortality table, if any, and the interest rate specified in the contract for determining the minimum paid-up annuity benefits guaranteed in the contract.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-507. Cash surrender benefits. For contracts which provide cash surrender benefits, such cash surrender benefits available prior to maturity shall not be less than the present value as of the date of surrender of that portion of the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit which would be provided under the contract at maturity arising from considerations paid prior to the time of cash surrender reduced by the amount appropriate to reflect any prior withdrawals from or partial surrenders of the contract, such present value being calculated on the basis of an interest rate not more than 1% higher than the interest rate specified in the contract for accumulating the net considerations to determine such maturity value, decreased by the amount of any indebtedness to the company on the contract, including interest due and accrued, and increased by any existing additional amounts credited by the company to the contract. No cash surrender benefit may be less than the minimum nonforfeiture amount at that time. The death benefit under such contracts shall be at least equal to the cash surrender benefit.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-508. Paid-up annuity benefits. For contracts which do not provide cash surrender benefits, the present value of any paid-up annuity benefit available as a nonforfeiture option at any time prior to maturity may not be less than the present value of that portion of the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit provided under the contract arising from considerations paid prior to the time the contract is surrendered in exchange for or changed to a deferred paid-up annuity, such present value being calculated for the period prior to the maturity date on the basis of the interest rate specified in the contract for accumulating the net considerations to determine such maturity value and increased by any existing additional amounts credited by the company to the contract. For contracts which do not provide any death benefits prior to the commencement of any annuity payments, such present values shall be calculated on the basis of such interest rate and the mortality table specified in the contract for determining the maturity value of the paid-up annuity benefit. However, the present value of a paid-up annuity benefit may not be less than the minimum nonforfeiture amount at that time.

33-20-509. Maturity date. For the purpose of determining the benefits calculated under 33-20-507 and 33-20-508, in the case of annuity contracts under which an election may be made to have annuity payments commence at optional maturity dates, the maturity date is the latest date for which election is permitted by the contract but may not be later than the anniversary of the contract next following the annuitant's 70th birthday or the 10th anniversary of the contract, whichever is later.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-510. Statement of noninclusion of certain death benefits. Any contract which does not provide cash surrender benefits or does not provide death benefits at least equal to the minimum nonforfeiture amount prior to the commencement of any annuity payments shall include a statement in a prominent place in the contract that such benefits are not provided.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-511. Adjusted benefit. Any paid-up annuity, cash surrender, or death benefits available at any time other than on the contract anniversary under any contract with fixed scheduled consideration shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of any scheduled consideration beyond the beginning of the contract year in which cessation of payment of consideration under the contract occurs.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 346, L. 1979.

33-20-512. Calculation of benefits — special benefits excluded. For any contract which provides, within the same contract by rider or supplemental contract provision, both annuity benefits and life insurance benefits that are in excess of the greater of cash surrender benefits or a return of the gross consideration paid with interest, the minimum nonforfeiture benefits shall be equal to the sum of the minimum nonforfeiture benefits for the annuity portion and the minimum nonforfeiture benefits, if any, for the life insurance portion computed as if each portion were a separate contract. Notwithstanding the provisions of 33-20-506 through 33-20-509 and 33-20-511, additional benefits payable in the event of total and permanent disability or as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits or as other policy benefits additional to life insurance, endowment, and annuity benefits, and considerations for all such additional benefits shall be disregarded in ascertaining the minimum nonforfeiture amounts, paid-up annuity, cash surrender, and death benefits that may be required by this section. The inclusion of such additional benefits shall not be required in any paid-up benefits, unless such additional benefits separately would require minimum nonforfeiture amount paid-up annuity, cash surrender, and death benefits.

33-20-513. Operative date. After July 1, 1979, any company may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this section after a specified date before July 1, 1981. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date, which shall be the operative date of this section for such company, this section shall become operative with respect to annuity contracts thereafter issued by such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this section for such company shall be July 1, 1981.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 112, L. 1989.

33-20-602. Powers of commissioner. Except as provided in Title 30, chapter 10, parts 1 through 3, the commissioner has sole authority to regulate the issuance and sale of variable contracts and to adopt rules to carry out the purposes and provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 112, L. 1989.

Cross-References

33-20-603. Separate accounts for life insurance or annuities. (1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2), a life insurer may establish one or more separate accounts and may allocate to those accounts the amounts necessary to provide for life insurance or annuities and benefits incidental to the life insurance or annuities, payable in fixed or variable amounts, or both. The amounts allocated to the accounts may include without limitation proceeds applied under optional modes of settlement or under dividend options.

(2) Separate accounts for life insurance or annuities established under the provisions of subsection (1) are subject to the following:

(a) The income, gains, and losses, realized or unrealized, from assets allocated to a separate account must be credited to or charged against the account, without regard to other income, gains, or losses of the insurer.

(b) Except as provided for reserves for guaranteed benefits and funds in subsection (2)(c):

(i) amounts allocated to a separate account and accumulations on the separate account may be invested and reinvested in any class of investment authorized under chapter 12 if limitations under 33-12-208 or 33-12-308 on investments in stocks are not applicable;

(ii) the investments in the separate account or accounts may not be considered in applying the investment limitations otherwise applicable to the investments of the insurer.

(c) Except with the approval of the commissioner and under conditions relating to investments and other prescribed matters that recognize the guaranteed nature of the benefits provided, reserves for benefits guaranteed as to amount and duration and for funds guaranteed as to principal amount or stated rate of interest may not be maintained in a separate account.

(d) Unless otherwise approved by the commissioner, assets allocated to a separate account must be valued at their market value on the date of valuation or, if there is no readily available market, as provided under the terms of the contract or the rules or other written agreement applicable to that separate account; however, unless otherwise approved by the commissioner, the portion, if any, of the assets of that separate account equal to the insurer's reserve liability with regard to the guaranteed benefits and funds referred to in subsection (2)(c) must be valued in accordance with the laws and rules otherwise applicable to the insurer's assets.

(e) Amounts allocated to a separate account in the exercise of the power granted by this part must be owned by the insurer, and the insurer may not be or hold itself out to be a trustee with respect to those amounts. If and to the extent provided under applicable contracts, that portion of the assets of a separate account equal to the reserves and other contract liabilities with respect to the account are not chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other business the insurer may conduct.

(f) (i) A sale, exchange, or other transfer of assets may not be made by an insurer between any of its separate accounts or between any other investment account and one or more of its separate accounts unless:

(A) in case of a transfer into a separate account, the transfer is made solely to establish the account or to support the operation of the contracts with respect to the separate account to which the transfer is made; or

(B) the transfer, whether into or from a separate account, is made by a transfer of cash or by a transfer of securities having a readily determinable market value and the transfer of securities is approved by the commissioner.

(ii) The commissioner may approve other transfers among these accounts if, in the commissioner's opinion, transfers would not be inequitable.

(g) To the extent an insurer considers it necessary to comply with any applicable federal or state laws, the insurer, with respect to any separate account, including without limitation any separate account that is a management investment company or a unit investment trust account, may provide, for persons having an interest in the account, appropriate voting and other rights and special procedures for the conduct of the business of that account, including without limitation special rights and procedures relating to investment policy, investment advisory services, selection of independent public accountants, and selection of a committee, the members of which need not be otherwise affiliated with the insurer, to manage the business of that account.

33-20-604. Contract to contain statement of essential features. A contract providing benefits payable in variable amounts delivered or issued for delivery in this state must contain a statement of the essential features of the procedures to be followed by the insurer in determining the dollar amount of the variable benefits. A contract under which the benefits vary to reflect investment experience, including a group contract and a certificate evidencing the variable benefits issued thereunder, must state that the dollar amount will vary and must contain on its first page a statement to the effect that the benefits thereunder are on a variable basis.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 112, L. 1989.

Cross-References

Insurance contracts — generally, Title 33, ch. 15.

33-20-605. Requirements for doing business. (1) No insurer may deliver or issue for delivery within this state a variable contract unless the insurer is authorized to transact life insurance or annuity business in this state and the commissioner is satisfied that its condition or method of operation in connection with the issuance of variable contracts will not render its operation hazardous to the public or its policyholders in this state. In making such a determination, the commissioner must consider, among other things:

(a) the history and financial condition of the insurer;

(b) the character, responsibility, and fitness of the officers and directors of the insurer; and

(c) the laws and regulations under which the insurer is authorized in the state of domicile to issue variable contracts. For this purpose, the state of entry of an alien insurer is its place of domicile.

(2) The commissioner may consider an insurer to have met the provisions of this section if:

(a) the insurer is a subsidiary of an authorized life insurer or is affiliated with an authorized life insurer through common management or ownership; and

(b) either it, the parent, or the affiliated insurer meets the requirements of this section.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 112, L. 1989.

33-20-606. Variable contracts to meet insurance contract requirements. (1) Except for 33-15-321 through 33-15-329, 33-20-302, and 33-20-307 for variable annuity contracts and 33-20-104, 33-20-110, 33-20-111, 33-20-112, and 33-20-201 through 33-20-213 for variable life insurance policies and as otherwise provided in this part, all pertinent provisions of Title 33 and other laws relating to insurance apply to separate accounts and their related policies and contracts.

(2) Any individual variable life insurance contract or any individual variable annuity contract delivered or issued for delivery in this state must contain grace and reinstatement provisions appropriate to the contract. Any individual variable life insurance contract must contain nonforfeiture provisions appropriate to that contract.

(3) A final prospectus must be dated and effective before an insurer issues or delivers an individual variable life insurance contract or an individual variable annuity contract in this state. The prospectus must be made available to the commissioner on request.

(4) The reserve liability for any variable contract must be established in accordance with actuarial procedures that recognize the variable nature of benefits provided and mortality guarantees.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 112, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 19, Ch. 271, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 19, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

Part 7
Charitable Gift Annuities

33-20-701. Definitions. In this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Charitable gift annuity" means a transfer of cash or other property by a donor to a charitable organization in return for an annuity payable over one or two lives, for the duration of that life or those lives, under which the actuarial value of the annuity is less than the value of the cash or other property transferred and the difference in value constitutes a charitable deduction for federal tax purposes.

(2) "Charitable organization" means an entity described by:

(a) section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, 26 U.S.C. 501(c)(3); or

(b) section 170(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, 26 U.S.C. 170(c).

(3) (a) "Qualified charitable gift annuity" means a charitable gift annuity, described by section 501(m)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, 26 U.S.C. 501(m)(5), section 514(c)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, 26 U.S.C. 514(c)(5), section 1011(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, 26 U.S.C. 1011(b), and the implementing regulations, that is issued by a charitable organization that, on the date of the annuity agreement:

(i) has a minimum of $300,000 net worth or has a minimum of $100,000 in unrestricted cash, cash equivalents, or publicly traded securities, exclusive of the assets funding the annuity agreement;

(ii) has been in continuous operation for at least 3 years or is a successor or affiliate of a charitable organization that has been in continuous operation for at least 3 years; and

(iii) maintains a separate annuity fund with at least one-half the value of the initial amount transferred for outstanding annuities.

(b) If the charitable organization cannot meet the requirements of subsections (3)(a)(i) through (3)(a)(iii), the issuance of a qualified charitable gift annuity by a charitable organization must be commercially insured by a licensed insurance company that is qualified to do business in Montana.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 482, L. 2003.

33-20-702. Charitable gift annuity not insurance. (1) The issuance of a qualified charitable gift annuity does not constitute engaging in the business of insurance in this state.

(2) A charitable gift annuity issued before April 24, 2003, is a qualified charitable gift annuity for purposes of this part, and the issuance of that charitable gift annuity does not constitute engaging in the business of insurance in this state.

33-20-703. Repealed. Sec. 6, Ch. 26, L. 2019.

33-20-705. Repealed. Sec. 6, Ch. 26, L. 2019.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 482, L. 2003.

Part 8
Suitability in Annuity Transactions

33-20-801. Short title. This part may be referred to as the "Montana Suitability in Annuity Transactions Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 476, L. 2007.

33-20-802. Purpose — scope. (1) The purpose of this part is to require producers to act in the best interest of the consumer when making a recommendation of an annuity and to require insurers to establish and maintain a system to supervise recommendations so that the insurance needs and financial objectives of consumers at the time of the transaction are effectively addressed.

(2) This part applies to any sale or recommendation of an annuity.

(3) Nothing in this part may be construed to create or imply a private cause of action for a violation of this part or to subject a producer to civil liability under the best interest standard of care outlined in 33-20-805 or under standards governing the conduct of a fiduciary or a fiduciary relationship.

33-20-803. Exemptions. Unless otherwise specifically included, this part does not apply to recommendations involving:

(1) direct response solicitations when there is no recommendation made based on information collected from the consumer pursuant to this part;

(2) contracts used to fund:

(a) an employee pension or welfare benefit plan that is covered by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.;

(b) a plan described by section 401(a), 401(k), 403(b), 408(k), or 408(p) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 401(a), 401(k), 403(b), 408(k), or 408(p), if established or maintained by an employer;

(c) a governmental plan or church plan defined in section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 414, a government or church welfare benefit plan, or a deferred compensation plan of a state or local government or tax-exempt organization under section 457 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 457;

(d) a nonqualified deferred compensation plan established or maintained by an employer or plan sponsor;

(3) settlements of or assumptions of liabilities associated with personal injury litigation or any dispute or claim resolution process;

(4) formal prepaid funeral contracts; or

(5) variable annuities regulated under Title 30, chapter 10.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 476, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 432, L. 2021.

(1) "Annuity" means a fixed annuity that is individually solicited, regardless of whether the product is classified as an individual or group annuity.

(2) "Cash compensation" means any discount, concession, fee, service fee, commission, sales charge, loan, override, or cash benefit received by a producer in connection with the recommendation or sale of an annuity from an insurer, intermediary, or directly from the consumer.

(3) "Consumer profile information" means information that is reasonably appropriate to determine whether a recommendation addresses the consumer's financial situation, insurance needs, and financial objectives, including, at a minimum, the following:

(a) age;

(b) annual income;

(c) financial situation and needs, including debts and other obligations;

(d) financial experience;

(e) insurance needs;

(f) financial objectives;

(g) intended use of the annuity;

(h) financial time horizon;

(i) existing assets or financial products, including investment, annuity, and insurance holdings;

(j) liquidity needs;

(k) liquid net worth;

(l) risk tolerance, including but not limited to willingness to accept nonguaranteed elements in the annuity;

(m) financial resources used to fund the annuity; and

(n) tax status.

(4) "Continuing education credit" or "CE credit" means one continuing education credit as provided in Title 33, chapter 17.

(5) "Continuing education provider" or "CE provider" means an individual or entity that is approved to offer continuing education courses pursuant to Title 33, chapter 17.

(6) "Insurer" means a company required to be licensed under the laws of this state to provide insurance products, including annuities.

(7) "Intermediary" means an entity contracted directly with an insurer or with another entity contracted with an insurer to facilitate the sale of the insurer's annuities by producers.

(8) (a) "Material conflict of interest" means a financial interest of the producer in the sale of an annuity that a reasonable person would expect to influence the impartiality of a recommendation.

(b) The term does not include cash compensation or noncash compensation.

(9) "Noncash compensation" means any form of compensation that is not cash compensation, including but not limited to health insurance, office rent, office support, and retirement benefits.

(10) "Nonguaranteed elements" means the premiums, credited interest rates including any bonuses, benefits, values, dividends, noninterest-based credits, charges, or elements of formulas used to determine any of these that are subject to company discretion and are not guaranteed at issue. An element is considered nonguaranteed if any of the underlying nonguaranteed elements are used in its calculation.

(11) "Producer" or "insurance producer" means a person or entity required to be licensed under the laws of this state to sell, solicit, or negotiate insurance, including annuities. For the purposes of this part, the term includes an insurer in which no producer is involved.

(12) (a) "Recommendation" means advice provided by a producer to an individual consumer that was intended to result or does result in a purchase, an exchange, or a replacement of an annuity in accordance with that advice.

(b) The term does not include general communication to the public, generalized customer services, assistance or administrative support, general educational information and tools, prospectuses, or other product and sales material.

(13) "Replacement" means a transaction in which a new annuity is to be purchased, and it is known or should be known to the proposing producer or to the proposing insurer, whether or not a producer is involved, that by reason of the transaction, an existing annuity or other insurance policy or contract has been or is to be any of the following:

(a) lapsed, forfeited, surrendered or partially surrendered, assigned to the replacing insurer, or otherwise terminated;

(b) converted to reduced paid-up insurance, continued as extended term insurance, or otherwise reduced in value by the use of nonforfeiture benefits or other policy values;

(c) amended so as to effect either a reduction in benefits or in the term for which coverage would otherwise remain in force or for which benefits would be paid;

(d) reissued with any reduction in cash value; or

(e) used in a financed purchase.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 476, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 324, L. 2017; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 432, L. 2021.

33-20-805. Duties of insurers and producers— best interest obligations. (1) A producer, when making a recommendation of an annuity, shall act in the best interest of the consumer under the circumstances known at the time the recommendation is made, without placing the producer's or the insurer's financial interest ahead of the consumer's interest. A producer has acted in the best interest of the consumer if the producer has satisfied the following obligations regarding care, disclosure, conflict of interest, and documentation:

(a) The producer, in making a recommendation, shall exercise reasonable diligence, care, and skill to:

(i) know the consumer's financial situation, insurance needs, and financial objectives;

(ii) understand the available recommendation options after making a reasonable inquiry into options available to the producer;

(iii) have a reasonable basis to believe the recommended option effectively addresses the consumer's financial situation, insurance needs, and financial objectives over the life of the product, as evaluated in light of the consumer profile information; and

(iv) communicate the basis or bases of the recommendation to the consumer in writing.

(b) The requirements under subsection (1)(a)(i) include making reasonable efforts to obtain consumer profile information from the consumer prior to the recommendation of an annuity.

(c) The requirements under subsection (1)(a) require a producer to consider the types of products the producer is authorized and licensed to recommend or sell that address the consumer's financial situation, insurance needs, and financial objectives. This does not require analysis or consideration of any products outside the authority and license of the producer or other possible alternative products or strategies available in the market at the time of the recommendation. Producers are to be held to standards applicable to producers with similar authority and licensure.

(d) The requirements under this subsection (1) do not create a fiduciary obligation or relationship and only create a regulatory obligation as established in this part.

(e) The consumer profile information, characteristics of the insurer, and product costs, rates, benefits, and features are those factors generally relevant in making a determination whether an annuity effectively addresses the consumer's financial situation, insurance needs, and financial objectives, but the level of importance of each factor under the care obligation of this section may vary depending on the facts and circumstances of a particular case. However, each factor may not be considered in isolation.

(f) The requirements under subsection (1)(a)(i) include having a reasonable basis to believe the consumer would benefit from certain features of the annuity, such as annuitization, death or living benefit, or other insurance-related features.

(g) The requirements under subsection (1)(a)(i) apply to the particular annuity as a whole and the underlying subaccounts to which funds are allocated at the time of purchase or exchange of an annuity, and riders and similar producer enhancements, if any.

(h) The requirements under subsection (1)(a)(i) do not mean the annuity with the lowest one-time or multiple occurrence compensation structure may necessarily be recommended.

(i) The requirements under subsection (1)(a)(i) do not mean the producer has ongoing monitoring obligations under the care obligation under this section, although this obligation may be separately owed under the terms of a fiduciary, consulting, investment advising, or financial planning agreement between the consumer and the producer.

(2) In the case of an exchange or replacement of an annuity, the producer shall consider the whole transaction, which includes taking into consideration whether:

(a) the consumer will incur a surrender charge, be subject to the commencement of a new surrender period, lose existing benefits, such as death, living, or other contractual benefits, or be subject to increased fees, investment advisory fees, or charges for riders and similar product enhancements;

(b) the replacing product would substantially benefit the consumer in comparison to the replaced product over the life of the product; and

(c) the consumer has had another annuity exchange or replacement and, in particular, an exchange or replacement within the preceding 60 months.

(3) Nothing in this part may be construed to require a producer to obtain a license other than a producer license with the appropriate line of authority to sell, solicit, or negotiate insurance in this state, including but not limited to any securities license, in order to fulfill the duties and obligations contained in this part, provided the producer does not discuss risks specific to a consumer's individual securities holdings, does not provide advice regarding a consumer's specific securities or securities investment performance, does not compare a consumer's securities or securities investment performance with the annuity products being recommended, does not recommend the liquidation of specific securities or identify specific securities that could be used to fund the purchase of a recommended annuity product, does not recommend specific allocations between insurance and securities products, does not offer research, analysis, or recommendations to a consumer regarding specific securities, and does not give advice or provide services that are otherwise subject to securities laws or engage in any other activity requiring other professional licenses.

(4) (a) Prior to the recommendation or sale of an annuity, the producer shall prominently disclose to the consumer on a form substantially similar to a model form established by the insurance department:

(i) a description of the scope and terms of the relationship with the consumer and the role of the producer in the transaction;

(ii) an affirmative statement on whether the producer is licensed and authorized to sell the following products:

(A) fixed annuities;
(B) fixed indexed annuities;
(C) variable annuities;
(D) life insurance;
(E) mutual funds;
(F) stocks and bonds; and
(G) certificates of deposit;

(iii) an affirmative statement describing the insurers the producer is authorized, contracted or appointed, or otherwise able to sell insurance products for, using the following descriptions:

(A) from one insurer;
(B) from two or more insurers; or

(C) from two or more insurers although primarily contracted with one insurer;

(iv) a description of the sources and types of cash compensation and noncash compensation to be received by the producer, including whether the producer is to be compensated for the sale of a recommended annuity by commission as part of premium or other remuneration received from the insurer, intermediary, or other producer, or by fee as a result of a contract for advice or consulting services; and

(v) a notice of the consumer's right to request additional information regarding cash compensation described in subsection (4)(b).

(b) On request of the consumer or the consumer's designated representative, the producer shall disclose:

(i) a reasonable estimate of the amount of cash compensation to be received by the producer, which may be stated as a range of amounts or percentages; and

(ii) whether the cash compensation is a one-time or multiple occurrence amount, and if a multiple occurrence amount, the frequency and amount of the occurrence, which may be stated as a range of amounts or percentages.

(c) Prior to, or at the time of the recommendation or sale of an annuity, the producer has a reasonable basis to believe the consumer has been informed of various features of the annuity, such as the potential surrender period and surrender charge, potential tax penalty if the consumer sells, exchanges, surrenders, or annuitizes the annuity, mortality and expense fees, investment advisory fees, any annual fees, potential charges for and features of riders or other options of the annuity, limitations on interest returns, potential changes in nonguaranteed elements of the annuity, insurance and investment components, and market risk.

(d) A producer shall identify and avoid or reasonably manage and disclose material conflicts of interest, including material conflicts of interest related to an ownership interest.

(e) A producer shall, at the time of recommendation or sale:

(i) make a written record of a recommendation and the basis for the recommendation subject to this part;

(ii) obtain a signed statement from a consumer on a form substantially similar to a model form established by the insurance department documenting:

(A) a customer's refusal to provide the consumer profile information, if any; and

(B) a customer's understanding of the ramifications of not providing the customer's consumer profile information or providing insufficient consumer profile information; and

(iii) obtain a signed statement from a consumer on a form substantially similar to a model form established by the insurance department acknowledging the annuity transaction is not recommended if a customer decides to enter into an annuity transaction that is not based on the producer's recommendation.

(5) Any requirement applicable to a producer under this section must apply to each producer who has exercised material control or influence in the making of a recommendation and has received direct compensation as a result of the recommendation or sale, regardless of whether the producer has had any direct contact with the consumer. Activities such as providing or delivering marketing or educational materials, product wholesaling or other back office product support, and general supervision of a producer do not, in and of themselves, constitute material control or influence.

(6) (a) Except as provided under subsection (6)(b), a producer has no obligation to a consumer under subsection (1) related to any annuity transaction if:

(i) no recommendation is made;

(ii) a recommendation is made but later found to have been prepared based on materially inaccurate information provided by the consumer;

(iii) the consumer refuses to provide relevant consumer profile information and the annuity transaction is not recommended; or

(iv) the consumer decides to enter into an annuity transaction that is not based on a recommendation of the insurer or insurance producer.

(b) An insurer's issuance of an annuity under this subsection (6) must be reasonable under all the circumstances actually known to the insurer at the time the annuity is issued.

(7) (a) Except as permitted under subsection (6), an insurer may not issue an annuity recommended to a consumer unless there is a reasonable basis to believe the annuity would effectively address the particular consumer's financial situation, insurance needs, and financial objectives based on the consumer's consumer profile information.

(b) An insurer shall establish and maintain a supervision system that is reasonably designed to achieve the insurer's and its producers' compliance with this part and, at a minimum, include the following:

(i) the insurer shall establish and maintain reasonable procedures to inform its producers of the requirements of this part and shall incorporate the requirements of this part into relevant producer training manuals;

(ii) the insurer shall establish and maintain standards for producer product training and shall establish and maintain reasonable procedures to require its insurance producers to comply with the requirements of 33-20-807;

(iii) the insurer shall provide product-specific training and training materials that explain all material features of its annuity products to its producers;

(iv) the insurer shall establish and maintain procedures for the review of each recommendation prior to the issuance of an annuity that are designed to ensure there is a reasonable basis to determine that the recommended annuity would effectively address the particular consumer's financial situation, insurance needs, and financial objectives. The review procedures may apply a screening system for the purpose of identifying selected transactions for additional review and may be accomplished electronically or through other means, including but not limited to physical review. The electronic system or other system may be designed to require additional review only of those transactions identified for additional review by the selection criteria.

(v) the insurer shall establish and maintain reasonable procedures to detect recommendations that are not in compliance with subsections (1), (4), (5), (6), (8), and (9). This may include but is not limited to confirmation of the consumer's consumer profile information, systematic consumer surveys, producer and consumer interviews, confirmation letters, producer statements or attestations, and programs of internal monitoring. Nothing in this subsection prevents an insurer from complying with this subsection by applying sampling procedures or by confirming consumer profile information or other required information under this section after issuance or delivery of the annuity.

(vi) the insurer shall establish and maintain reasonable procedures to assess, prior to or on issuance or delivery of an annuity, whether a producer has provided to the consumer the information required to be provided under this section;

(vii) the insurer shall establish and maintain reasonable procedures to identify and address suspicious consumer refusals to provide consumer profile information;

(viii) the insurer shall establish and maintain reasonable procedures to identify and eliminate any sales contests, sales quotas, bonuses, and noncash compensation that are based on the sales of specific annuities within a limited period of time. The requirements of this subsection (7) are not intended to prohibit the receipt of health insurance, office rent, office support, retirement benefits, or other employee benefits by employees as long as those benefits are not based on the volume of sales of a specific annuity within a limited period of time.

(ix) the insurer shall annually provide a written report to senior management, including to the senior manager responsible for audit functions, that details a review, with appropriate testing, reasonably designed to determine the effectiveness of the supervision system, the exceptions found, and corrective action taken or recommended, if any.

(c) (i) Nothing in this subsection (7) restricts an insurer from contracting for performance of a function, including maintenance procedures, required under this subsection (7). An insurer is responsible for taking appropriate corrective action and may be subject to sanctions and penalties under 33-20-806 regardless of whether the insurer contracts for performance of a function and regardless of the insurer's compliance with subsection (7)(c)(ii).

(ii) An insurer's supervision system under this subsection (7) must include supervision of contractual performance. This includes but is not limited to the following:

(A) annually obtaining a certification from a senior manager who has responsibility for the contracted function that the manager has reasonable basis to represent, and does represent that the function is being properly performed; and

(B) monitoring and, as appropriate, conducting audits to ensure that the contracted function is properly performed.

(d) An insurer is not required to include in its system of supervision:

(i) a producer's recommendations to consumers of products other than the annuities offered by the insurer; or

(ii) consideration of or comparison to options available to the producer or compensation relating to those options other than the annuities or other products offered by the insurer.

(8) A producer or an insurer may not dissuade or attempt to dissuade a consumer from:

(a) truthfully responding to an insurer's request for confirmation of the consumer profile information;

(b) filing a complaint; or

(c) cooperating with the investigation of a complaint.

(9) (a) Recommendations and sales of annuities made in compliance with comparable standards must satisfy the requirements under this part. This subsection (9) applies to all recommendations and sales of annuities made by financial professionals in compliance with business rules, controls, and procedures that satisfy a comparable standard even if the standard would not otherwise apply to the product or recommendation at issue. However, nothing in this subsection (9) may limit the insurance commissioner's ability to investigate and enforce the provisions of this part.

(b) Nothing in subsection (9)(a) may limit the insurer's obligation to comply with subsection (7), although the insurer may base its analysis on information received from either the financial professional or the entity supervising the financial professional.

(c) For subsection (9)(a) to apply, an insurer shall:

(i) monitor the relevant conduct of the financial professional seeking to rely on subsection (9)(a) or the entity responsible for supervising the financial professional, such as the financial professional's broker-dealer or an investment adviser registered under federal or state securities laws, using information collected in the normal course of an insurer's business; and

(ii) provide to the entity responsible for supervising the financial professional seeking to rely on subsection (9)(a), such as the financial professional's broker-dealer or investment adviser registered under federal or state securities laws, information and reports that are reasonably appropriate to assist the entity to maintain its supervision system.

(d) For the purposes of this subsection, a "financial professional" means a producer that is regulated and acting as:

(i) a broker-dealer registered under federal or state securities laws or a registered representative of a broker-dealer;

(ii) an investment adviser registered under federal or state securities laws or an investment adviser representative associated with the federal or state registered investment adviser; or

(iii) a plan fiduciary under section 3(21) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 or a fiduciary under section 4975(e)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(e) For the purposes of this subsection, a "comparable standards" means:

(i) with respect to broker-dealers and registered representatives of broker-dealers, applicable securities and exchange commission and financial industry regulatory authority rules pertaining to best interest obligations and supervision of annuity recommendations and sales, including but not limited to regulation best interest;

(ii) with respect to investment advisers registered under federal or state securities laws or investment adviser representatives, the fiduciary duties and all other requirements imposed on the investment advisers or investment adviser representatives by contract or under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, Title 30, chapter 10, including but not limited to the Form ADV and interpretations; and

(iii) with respect to plan fiduciaries or fiduciaries, the duties, obligations, prohibitions, and all other requirements attendant to the status under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq., or the Internal Revenue Code.

(10) (a) Insurers, insurance producers, and independent agencies shall maintain or be able to make available to the commissioner records of the information collected from the consumer, disclosures made to the consumer, including summaries of oral disclosures, and other information used in making the recommendations that were the basis for insurance transactions for 5 years after the insurance transaction is completed by the insurer. An insurer is permitted, but is not required, to maintain documentation on behalf of a producer.

(b) Records required to be maintained by this section may be maintained in paper, photographic, microprocess, magnetic, mechanical, or electronic media or by any process that accurately reproduces the actual document.

33-20-806. Compliance mitigation — penalties — enforcement. (1) An insurer is responsible for compliance with this part. If a violation occurs, either because of the action or inaction of the insurer or its producer, the commissioner may order:

(a) an insurer or insurance producer to take reasonably appropriate corrective action for any consumer harmed by a failure to comply with this part by the insurer, an entity contracted to perform the insurer's supervisory duties, or the producer; or

(b) a general agency, independent agency, or the producer to take reasonably appropriate corrective action for any consumer harmed by the producer's violation of this part; and

(c) appropriate penalties and sanctions.

(2) A violation of this part is an unfair trade practice under Title 33, chapter 18. Fines may be imposed pursuant to 33-1-317.

(3) Any applicable penalty for a violation of this part may be reduced or eliminated if corrective action for the consumer was taken promptly after a violation was discovered or the violation was not part of a pattern or practice.

(4) The authority to enforce compliance with this part is vested exclusively with the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 476, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 432, L. 2021.

33-20-807. Producer training. (1) A producer may not solicit the sale of an annuity product unless the producer has adequate knowledge of the product to recommend the annuity and the producer is in compliance with the insurer's standards for product training. A producer may rely on insurer-provided product-specific training standards and materials to comply with this section.

(2) (a) (i) A producer who engages in the sale of annuity products shall complete a one-time, 4-credit training course approved by the department of insurance and provided by the department of insurance-approved education provider.

(ii) Producers who hold a life insurance line of authority on October 1, 2021, and who desire to sell annuities shall complete the requirements of this section within 6 months after October 1, 2021. Individuals who obtain a life insurance line of authority on or after October 1, 2021, may not engage in the sale of annuities until the annuity training course required under this section has been completed.

(b) The minimum length of the training required under this subsection (2) must be sufficient to qualify for at least four continuing education credits, but may be longer.

(c) The training required under this section must include, at a minimum, information on the following topics:

(i) the types of annuities and various classifications of annuities;

(ii) identification of the parties to an annuity;

(iii) how product-specific annuity contract features affect consumers;

(iv) the application of income taxation of qualified and nonqualified annuities;

(v) the primary uses of annuities; and

(vi) appropriate standard of conduct, sales practices, replacement, and disclosure requirements.

(d) Training required under this section may not include any information on marketing, sales techniques, or the specific aspects of a particular insurer's products.

(e) An insurer shall verify that a producer has completed the training under this section before allowing the producer to sell an annuity product for that insurer. An insurer may satisfy its responsibility under this section by obtaining certificates of completion of the training course or obtaining reports provided by a database system satisfactory to the commissioner.

(f) A producer who has completed an annuity training course approved by the department of insurance prior to October 1, 2021, shall, within 6 months after October 1, 2021, complete either:

(i) a new four-credit training course approved by the department of insurance after October 1, 2021; or

(ii) an additional one-time, one-credit training course approved by the department of insurance and provided by the department of insurance-approved education provider on appropriate sales practices and replacement and disclosure requirements under this part.

(g) The satisfaction of the components of the training requirements of a course or courses with components substantially similar to the provisions of this section must be considered to satisfy the training requirements of this section in this state.

Part 9
Annuity Disclosure

33-20-901. Short title. This part may be referred to as the "Montana Annuity Disclosure Act".

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 476, L. 2007.

33-20-902. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to provide standards for the disclosure of certain minimum information about annuity contracts to protect consumers and to foster consumer education. This part specifies the minimum information that must be disclosed and the method for disclosing the information in connection with the sale of annuity contracts. The goal of this part is to ensure that purchasers of annuity contracts understand certain basic features of annuity contracts.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 476, L. 2007.

33-20-903. Applicability. (1) This part applies to all group and individual annuity contracts and certificates except:

(a) registered or nonregistered variable annuities or other registered products;

(b) immediate and deferred annuities that do not contain nonguaranteed elements;

(c) structured settlement annuities; and

(d) as provided in subsection (2), annuities used to fund:

(i) an employee pension plan that is covered by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.;

(ii) a plan described by section 401(a), 401(k), or 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 401(a), 401(k), or 403(b), when the plan, for purposes of the Employment Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, is established or maintained by an employer;

(iii) a governmental plan or church plan defined in section 414 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 414, or a deferred compensation plan of a state or local government or a tax-exempt organization under section 457 of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 457; or

(iv) a nonqualified deferred compensation arrangement established or maintained by an employer or plan sponsor.

(2) (a) The provisions of this part apply to annuities used to fund a plan or arrangement when:

(i) the plan or arrangement is funded solely by contributions that an employee elects to make whether on a pretax or after-tax basis;

(ii) the insurer has been notified that plan participants may choose from among two or more fixed annuity providers; and

(iii) there is a direct solicitation of an individual employee by an insurance producer for the purchase of an annuity contract.

(b) As used in this subsection (2), direct solicitation does not include any meeting held by an insurance producer solely for the purpose of educating or enrolling employees in the plan or arrangement.

(1) "Contract owner" means the owner named in the annuity contract or a certificate holder in the case of a group annuity contract.

(2) (a) "Determinable elements" means elements that are derived from processes or methods that are guaranteed at issue and are not subject to insurer discretion, but the values or amounts cannot be determined until some point after issue.

(b) The term includes premiums, credited interest rates (including any bonus), benefits, values, noninterest-based credits, and charges or elements of formulas used to determine any of these items.

(c) Determinable elements may be described as guaranteed but not determined at issue.

(d) An element is considered determinable if it was calculated from underlying determinable elements only or from both determinable and guaranteed elements.

(3) "Generic name" means a short title descriptive of the annuity contract being applied for, such as "single premium deferred annuity".

(4) "Guaranteed elements" means the premiums, credited interest rates (including any bonus), benefits, values, noninterest-based credits, and charges or elements of formulas used to determine any of these items that are guaranteed and determined at issue. An element is considered guaranteed if all of the underlying elements that go into its calculation are guaranteed.

(5) "Nonguaranteed elements" means the premiums, credited interest rates (including any bonus), benefits, values, noninterest-based credits, and charges or elements of formulas used to determine any of these items that are subject to insurer discretion and are not guaranteed at issue. An element is considered nonguaranteed if any of the underlying nonguaranteed elements are used in its calculation.

(6) "Structured settlement annuity" means a qualified funding asset as defined in section 130(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 130(d), or an annuity that would be a qualified funding asset under section 130(d) except that it is not owned by an assignee under a qualified assignment.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 476, L. 2007.

33-20-905. Standards for disclosure document and buyer's guide. (1) When the application for an annuity contract is taken in a face-to-face meeting, the applicant must be given, at or before the time of application, both the disclosure document and the buyer's guide.

(2) (a) When the application for an annuity contract is taken by means other than in a face-to-face meeting, the applicant must be sent both the disclosure document and the buyer's guide not later than 5 business days after the completed application is received by the insurer.

(b) When an application is received as a result of a direct solicitation through the mail, providing a disclosure document and a buyer's guide in the mailing inviting prospective applicants to apply for an annuity contract satisfies the requirement that the disclosure document and buyer's guide be provided not later than 5 business days after receipt of the application.

(c) When an application is received over the internet, taking reasonable steps to make the disclosure document and buyer's guide available for viewing and printing on the insurer's website satisfies the requirement that the disclosure document and the buyer's guide be provided not later than 5 business days of receipt of the application.

(d) A solicitation for an annuity contract provided in other than a face-to-face meeting must include a statement that the proposed applicant may contact the commissioner's office for a free annuity buyer's guide, or an insurer may include a statement that the prospective applicant may contact the insurer for a free annuity buyer's guide.

(3) When the disclosure document and buyer's guide are not provided at or before the time of application, a free-look period of not less than 15 days must be provided for the applicant to return the annuity contract without penalty. This free-look period must run concurrently with any other free-look period provided under state law.

(4) At a minimum, the following information must be included in the disclosure document:

(a) the generic name of the contract, the company product name, if different, the form number, and the fact that it is an annuity;

(b) the insurer's name and address;

(c) a description of the contract and its benefits, emphasizing its long-term nature, including when appropriate:

(i) the guaranteed elements, nonguaranteed elements, and determinable elements of the contract and their limitations, if any, and an explanation of how the elements operate;

(ii) an explanation of the initial crediting rate, specifying any bonus or introductory portion, the duration of the rate, and the fact that rates may change from time to time and are not guaranteed;

(iii) periodic income options both on a guaranteed and nonguaranteed basis;

(iv) any value reductions caused by withdrawals from or surrender of the contract within 10 years of issuance under 33-20-309;

(v) how values in the contract can be accessed;

(vi) the death benefit, if one is available, and how it will be calculated;

(vii) a summary of the federal tax status of the contract and any penalties applicable on withdrawal of values from the contract; and

(viii) the impact of any rider, such as a long-term care rider;

(d) specific dollar amount or percentage charges and fees with an explanation of how they apply; and

(e) information about the current guaranteed rate for new contracts that contains a clear notice that the rate is subject to change.

(5) Insurers shall define terms used in the disclosure statement in language that facilitates the understanding by a typical person within the segment of the public to which the disclosure statement is directed.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 476, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 177, L. 2017.

33-20-906. Report to contract owners. (1) For annuities in the payout period with changes in nonguaranteed elements and for the accumulation period of a deferred annuity, the insurer shall provide each contract owner with a report, at least annually, on the status of the contract.

(2) The report must contain at least the following information:

(a) the beginning and ending date of the current report period;

(b) the accumulation and cash surrender value, if any, at the end of the previous report period and at the end of the current report period;

(c) the total amounts, if any, that have been credited, charged to the contract value, or paid during the current report period; and

(d) the amount of outstanding loans, if any, as of the end of the current report period.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 476, L. 2007.

33-20-907. Penalties. In addition to any other penalties provided in Title 33, an insurer or insurance producer that violates a provision of this part also violates 33-18-102.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 476, L. 2007.

Part 10
General Requirements for Group Life

33-20-1001. Group contracts required to meet group requirements. (1) No life insurance policy shall be delivered in this state insuring the lives of more than one individual unless to one of the groups as provided for in 33-20-1101 through 33-20-1106 and unless in compliance with the other applicable provisions of parts 10 through 12 of this chapter.

(2) Subsection (1) above shall not apply to life insurance policies insuring only individuals:

(a) related by blood, marriage, or legal adoption;

(b) having a common interest through ownership of a business enterprise or a substantial legal interest or equity therein and who are actively engaged in the management thereof; or

(c) otherwise having an insurable interest in each other's lives.

History: En. Sec. 328, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3901; amd. Sec. 151, Ch. 575, L. 1981.

33-20-1002. Employee life insurance defined. "Employee life insurance" is that plan of life insurance, other than salary savings life insurance or pension trust insurance and annuities, under which individual policies are issued to the employees of any employer and when the policies are issued on the lives of not less than five employees at date of issue. Premiums for the policies must be paid by the employer or the trustee of a fund established by the employer either wholly from the employer's funds or funds contributed by the employer or partly from those funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured employees.

33-20-1003. Repealed. Sec. 32, Ch. 396, L. 2017.

History: En. Sec. 350, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3923.

Part 11
Groups and Group Requirements

Part Cross-References

Group disability insurance — same group eligible, 33-22-501.

Physicians' liens — exemptions, 71-3-1118.

33-20-1101. Employee groups. (1) Subject to the requirements in subsections (2) through (5), the lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to an employer or to the trustees of a fund established by an employer to insure employees of the employer for the benefit of persons other than the employer. The employer or trustees must be considered the policyholder.

(2) (a) The employees eligible for insurance under the policy must be all of the employees of the employer or all of any class or classes of the employer determined by conditions pertaining to their employment. The policy may provide that the term "employees" includes:

(i) the employees of one or more subsidiary corporations and the employees, individual proprietors, and partners of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietors, or partnerships if the business of the employer and of the employer's affiliated corporations, proprietors, or partnerships is under common control;

(ii) the individual proprietor or partners if the employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership; or

(iii) retired employees.

(b) A director of a corporate employer is not eligible for insurance under the policy unless the director is otherwise eligible as a bona fide employee of the corporation by performing services other than the usual duties of a director.

(c) An individual proprietor or partner is not eligible for insurance under the policy unless the individual proprietor or partner is actively engaged in and devotes a substantial part of working hours to the conduct of the business of the proprietor or partnership.

(3) (a) Payment of the premium for the insurance must be made by the policyholder from:

(i) the employer's funds or funds contributed by the employer;

(ii) funds contributed by the insured employees or members; or

(iii) funds contributed by a combination of payors in subsections (3)(a)(i) and (3)(a)(ii).

(b) A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employees must insure all eligible employees or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(4) The policy must cover at least two employees at date of issue.

(5) The amount of insurance under the policy must be based upon a plan precluding individual selection either by the employees or by the employer or trustees.

History: En. Sec. 329, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3902; amd. Sec. 25, Ch. 469, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 430, L. 2007.

33-20-1102. Labor union groups. The lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to a labor union, which shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure members of such union for the benefit of persons other than the union or any of its officials, representatives, or agents, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The members eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the members of the union or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment or to membership in the union, or both.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either wholly from the union's funds or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. No policy may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance.

A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance may be placed in force only if at least 75% of the then eligible members, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required contributions. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance must insure all eligible members or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(3) The policy must cover at least 25 members at date of issue.

(4) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the members or by the union.

33-20-1103. Employer and labor union combinations — trustee groups. The lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to the trustees of a fund established by two or more employers or by one or more labor unions or by one or more employers and one or more labor unions, which trustees must be considered the policyholder, to insure employees of the employers or members of the unions for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the unions, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The persons eligible for insurance must be all of the employees of the employers or all of the members of the unions or all of any class or classes of the employees or members determined by conditions pertaining to their employment or to membership in the unions, or to both. The policy may provide that the term "employees" includes retired employees and the individual proprietor or partners if an employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. A director of a corporate employer may not be eligible for insurance under the policy unless the person is otherwise eligible as a bona fide employee of the corporation by performing services other than usual duties of a director. An individual proprietor or partner may not be eligible for insurance under the policy unless the proprietor or partner is actively engaged in and devotes a substantial part of the individual's time to the conduct of the business of the proprietor or partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" includes the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with the trusteeship.

(2) The premium for the policy must be paid by the trustees wholly from funds contributed by the employer or employers of the insured persons or by the union or unions, or by both, or partly from the funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured persons. A policy may not be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance may be placed in force only if at least 75% of the then eligible persons, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required contributions. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance must insure all eligible persons or all except any person for whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(3) The policy must cover at date of issue at least 100 persons and not less than an average of 5 persons per employer unit, and if the fund is established by the members of an association of employers the policy may be issued if:

(a) either:

(i) the participating employers constitute at date of issue at least 60% of those employer members whose employees are not already covered for group life insurance; or

(ii) the total number of persons covered at date of issue exceeds 600; and

(b) the policy does not require that, if a participating employer discontinues membership in the association, the insurance of the employer's employees shall cease solely by reason of the discontinuance.

(4) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the insured persons or by the policyholder, employers, or unions.

33-20-1104. Public employee groups. The lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to an incorporated city, town, or village or an association or league of cities, towns, or villages, an independent school district, state college or university, any association of state employees, and any association of state, county, and city, town, or village employees and any combination of state, county, or city, town, or village employees and any department of the state or county government, which employer or association shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure the employees of any such incorporated city, town, or village, of any such independent school district, of any such state college and university, or of any such department of the state or county government or members of any association of state, county, or city, town, or village employees, for the benefit of persons other than the policyholder, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The employees eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the employees of the employer or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees. A policy issued to insure the employees of a public body may provide that the term "employees" shall include elected or appointed officials.

(2) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder wholly from funds contributed by it as employer or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured employees or wholly from funds contributed by the insured employees, except that:

(a) the employer may deduct from the employees' salaries the required contributions for the premiums when authorized in writing by the respective employees so to do; and

(b) the premium for the policy may be paid by the policyholder wholly or partly from funds contributed by any incorporated city, town, or village policyholder when authorized by the charter of such city, town, or village or as otherwise authorized by law.

(3) Such policy may be placed in force only if at least 75% of the eligible employees, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, elect to make the required premium contributions and become insured thereunder.

(4) The policy must cover at least 10 employees at date of issue.

33-20-1105. Debtor groups. The lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to a creditor, who is considered the policyholder, to insure the debtors of the creditor, subject to the following requirements:

(1) The debtors eligible for insurance under the policy must be all of the debtors of the creditor or all of any class or classes of those debtors determined by conditions pertaining to the indebtedness or the purchase giving rise to the indebtedness. The policy may provide that the term "debtors" includes the debtors of one or more subsidiary corporations and the debtors of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietors, or partnerships if the business of the policyholder and of the affiliated corporations, proprietors, or partnerships is under common control.

(2) The premium for the policy must be paid by the policyholder from the creditor's funds, from charges collected from the insured debtors, or from both. A policy on which part or all of the premium is to be derived from the collection from the insured debtors of identifiable charges not required of uninsured debtors may not include, in the class or classes of debtors eligible for insurance, debtors under obligations outstanding at its date of issue without evidence of individual insurability unless at least 75% of the then eligible debtors elect to pay the required charges. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from the collection of identifiable charges must insure all eligible debtors or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(3) The policy may be issued only if the group of eligible debtors is then receiving new entrants at the rate of at least 100 persons yearly or may reasonably be expected to receive at least 100 new entrants during the first policy year and only if the policy reserves to the insurer the right to require evidence of individual insurability if less than 75% of the new entrants become insured. The policy may exclude from the classes eligible for insurance classes of debtors determined by age.

(4) The amount of insurance on the life of any debtor may not at any time exceed the amount owed by the debtor to the creditor.

(5) The insurance must be payable to the policyholder. Each payment must reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness of the debtor to the extent of the payment.

33-20-1106. Credit union groups. The lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to a credit union organized pursuant to the laws of the state of Montana or the Federal Credit Union Act, which shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure eligible members for amounts of insurance not in excess of the share balance of each member, based upon some plan which will preclude individual selection, for the benefit of someone other than the credit union or its officials and subject to the following requirements:

(1) The members eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all the members of the credit union who meet standard physical requirement conditions of the insurer or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their age or to membership in the credit union or both.

(2) The premiums for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder, either wholly from the credit union's funds or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. No policy may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance may be placed only if at least 75% of the then eligible members, excluding any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insured, elect to make the required contribution. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance must insure all eligible members or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(3) The policy must cover at least 25 members at the date of issue.

33-20-1111. Dependents of employee and labor union groups — coverage. Any group life policy issued under 33-20-1101, 33-20-1102, or 33-20-1103 may be extended to insure the employees or members against loss due to the death of their spouses and minor children, or any class or classes of employees, members, spouses, or minor children, subject to the following requirements:

(1) (a) The premium for the insurance must be paid by the policyholder from:

(i) the employer's or union's funds or funds contributed by the employer or union;

(ii) funds contributed by the insured employees or members; or

(iii) a combination of payors in subsections (1)(a)(i) and (1)(a)(ii).

(b) If no part of the premium is to be paid from funds contributed by the employees or members, all eligible employees or members, excluding any as to whose family members evidence of insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer, must be insured with respect to their spouses and children.

(2) The amounts of insurance must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the employees or members or by the policyholder, employer, or union.

(3) (a) Upon termination of the insurance with respect to the members of the family of any employee or member by reason of the employee's or member's termination of employment, termination of membership in the class or classes eligible for coverage under the policy, or death, the spouse is entitled to have issued by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, an individual policy of life insurance, without disability or other supplementary benefits, providing application for the individual policy is made and the first premium is paid to the insurer within 31 days after the termination, subject to the requirements of 33-20-1209(1)(a) through (1)(c).

(b) (i) If the group policy terminates or is amended to terminate the insurance of any class of employees or members and the employee or member is entitled to have issued an individual policy under 33-20-1210, the spouse is also entitled to have issued by the insurer an individual policy, subject to the conditions and limitations provided above.

(ii) If the spouse dies within the period during which the spouse would have been entitled to have an individual policy issued in accordance with this provision, the amount of life insurance that the spouse would have been entitled to have issued under the individual policy must be payable as a claim under the group policy, whether or not application for the individual policy or the payment of the first premium for the individual policy has been made.

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions in 33-20-1208, only one certificate must be issued for delivery to an insured person if a statement concerning any dependent's coverage is included in the certificate.

33-20-1112. Discretionary groups. (1) Subject to the requirements of this section, the lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to a group other than one described in this part if the commissioner finds that:

(a) the issuance of the policy is not contrary to the best interest of the public;

(b) the issuance of the policy would result in economies of acquisition or administration; and

(c) the benefits of the policy are reasonable in relation to the premiums charged.

(2) Group life insurance coverage under this section may be offered in this state by an insurer under a policy issued in another state only if this state or another state that has requirements substantially similar to the requirements in subsection (1) has made a determination that the requirements of subsection (1) have been met.

(3) The premium for a policy issued under this section must be paid either from the policyholder's funds, from funds contributed by the covered persons, or from both.

(4) An insurer may exclude or limit the coverage on any individual if the evidence of the individual's insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

Group Contract Provisions

Part Cross-References

Commissioner to approve policy forms, Title 33, ch. 1, part 5.

33-20-1201. Provisions required in group contracts. A policy of group life insurance or a certificate may not be delivered in this state unless it contains in substance the provisions set forth in this part or provisions that in the opinion of the commissioner are more favorable to the persons insured or at least as favorable to the persons insured and more favorable to the policyholder. A provision may be omitted from a certificate if the commissioner has determined that the provision is not appropriate in a certificate. However:

(1) 33-20-1207 through 33-20-1211 do not apply to policies issued to a creditor to insure debtors of the creditor;

(2) the standard provisions required for individual life insurance policies do not apply to group life insurance policies; and

(3) if the group life insurance policy is on a plan of insurance other than the term plan, it must contain a nonforfeiture provision or provisions that in the opinion of the commissioner is or are equitable to the insured persons and to the policyholder. However, this subsection may not be construed to require that group life insurance policies contain the same nonforfeiture provisions as are required for individual life insurance policies.

History: En. Sec. 337, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3910; amd. Sec. 39, Ch. 472, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 49, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

Cross-References

33-20-1202. Grace period. The group life insurance policy and certificate must contain a provision that the policyholder is entitled to a grace period of 31 days for the payment of any premium due except the first, during which grace period the death benefit coverage must continue in force, unless the policyholder has given the insurer written notice of discontinuance in advance of the date of discontinuance and in accordance with the terms of the policy. The policy may provide that the policyholder is liable to the insurer for the payment of a pro rata premium for the time the policy was in force during the grace period.

33-20-1204. Application — statements considered representations. The group life insurance policy and certificate must contain a provision that a copy of the application, if any, of the policyholder must be attached to the policy when issued, that all statements made by the policyholder or by the persons insured must be considered representations and not warranties, and that a statement made by any person insured may not be used in any contest unless a copy of the instrument containing the statement is or has been furnished to the person or to the person's beneficiary.

Cross-References

33-20-1205. Insurability. The group life insurance policy and certificate must contain a provision setting forth the conditions, if any, under which the insurer reserves the right to require a person eligible for insurance to furnish evidence of individual insurability satisfactory to the insurer as a condition to part or all of the person's coverage.

History: En. Sec. 341, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-3914; amd. Sec. 31, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-20-1206. Misstatement of age. The group life insurance policy and certificate must contain a provision specifying an equitable adjustment of premiums or of benefits or of both to be made in the event the age of a person insured has been misstated. The provision must contain a clear statement of the method of adjustment to be used.

33-20-1207. Payment of benefits. (1) The group life insurance policy and certificate must contain a provision that any benefits becoming due by reason of the death of the person insured are payable to the beneficiary designated by the person insured, subject to the provisions of the policy. In the event there is not a designated beneficiary with regard to all or some of the benefits, then those benefits must be considered a part of the intestate estate, pursuant to 72-2-111. In addition, the insurer may pay a benefit amount not exceeding $500 to any person appearing to the insurer to be equitably entitled to that amount by reason of having incurred funeral or other expenses incident to the last illness or death of the person insured.

(2) The provisions of 33-20-114(2) must be incorporated into the group life insurance policy and certificate and are applicable as set out in that subsection.

33-20-1208. Certificate. The group life insurance policy must contain a provision that the insurer will issue to the policyholder for delivery to each person insured an individual certificate setting forth a statement as to the insurance protection to which the person is entitled, to whom the insurance benefits are payable, and the rights and conditions set forth in 33-20-1209 through 33-20-1211.

33-20-1209. Conversion on termination of eligibility. (1) The group life insurance policy or certificate must contain a provision that if the insurance or any portion of it on a person covered under the policy ceases because of termination of employment or of membership in the class or classes eligible for coverage under the policy, the person is entitled to have issued to the person by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, an individual policy of life insurance if the application for the individual policy is made and the first premium is paid to the insurer within 31 days after termination and provided that:

(a) the individual policy must, at the option of the person, be on any one of the forms, including but not limited to term insurance, if the group policy provides for term insurance, then customarily issued by the insurer at the age and for the amount applied for, and must offer benefits at least equal to those under the group coverage;

(b) the individual policy must, at the option of the insured, be in an amount not in excess of the amount of life insurance that ceases because of the termination, less the amount of any life insurance for which the person is insured under any other group policy within 31 days after the termination, provided that any amount of insurance that has matured on or before the date of the termination as an endowment payable to the person insured, whether in one sum or in installments or in the form of an annuity, may not, for the purposes of this provision, be included in the amount that is considered to cease because of the termination; and

(c) the premium on the individual policy is the insurer's then customary rate applicable to the form and amount of the individual policy, to the class of risk that the person belongs, and to the person's age attained on the effective date of the individual policy.

(2) A group insurer may meet the requirements of this section by contracting with another insurer to issue conversion policies as described in subsection (1). The conversion carrier must be authorized to act as an insurer in this state and shall submit the conversion policies to the commissioner.

(3) (a) (i) With the consent of the employer, a person covered under a group life insurance policy issued to an employer or to the trustees of a fund established by an employer under 33-20-1101 may continue the person's coverage under the group policy during the person's employment even if there has been a reduction of the person's regular work schedule to less than the minimum number of hours required for eligibility for membership. The premium charged for the continued coverage must be equal to that charged other members of the group.

(ii) The person's coverage under the group ceases if the person subsequently becomes eligible for coverage under another group policy because of employment elsewhere.

(b) A group life insurance policy on which the payment of premiums is provided under 33-20-1101(3)(a)(ii) or (3)(a)(iii) may continue in effect for a person whose regular work schedule has been reduced to less than the minimum number of hours required for eligibility for membership. The premium charged for the continued coverage must be equal to that charged other members of the group, and the provisions of subsection (3)(a)(ii) of this section apply.

33-20-1210. Conversion on termination of policy or certificate. (1) The group life insurance policy or certificate must contain a provision that if the group policy or certificate terminates or is amended to terminate the insurance of any class of insured persons, every person insured under the group policy or certificate at the date of the termination whose insurance terminates and who has been insured for at least 3 years prior to the termination date is entitled to have issued to the person by the insurer an individual policy of life insurance, subject to the same conditions and limitations that are provided by 33-20-1209, except that the group policy or certificate may provide that the amount of the individual policy may not exceed the smaller of:

(a) the amount of the person's life insurance protection ceasing because of the termination or amendment of the group policy or certificate, less the amount of any life insurance for which the person is or becomes eligible under any group policy issued or reinstated by the same or another insurer within 31 days after the termination; or

(b) $10,000.

33-20-1212. Notice as to conversion right. If an individual insured under a group life insurance policy or certificate delivered in this state becomes entitled under the terms of the policy or certificate to have an individual policy of life insurance issued to the individual without evidence of insurability, subject to making an application and payment of the first premium within the period specified in the policy and if an individual is not given notice of the existence of the right at least 15 days prior to the expiration date of the period, then the individual must have an additional period to exercise the right, but this section may not be construed to continue any insurance beyond the period provided in the policy. The additional period expires 15 days after the individual is given the notice, but an additional period may not extend beyond 60 days after the expiration date of the period provided in the policy. Written notice presented to the individual or mailed by the policyholder to the last-known address of the individual or mailed by the insurer to the last-known address of the individual as furnished by the policyholder constitutes notice for the purpose of this section.

Part 13
Viatical Settlements

33-20-1301. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Viatical Settlement Act".

33-20-1302. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Financing entity" means an underwriter, placement agent, lender, or any entity, other than a nonaccredited investor, that has a direct ownership in a policy or certificate that is the subject of a viatical settlement contract, whose sole activity related to the transaction is the provision of funds to effect the viatical settlement contract, and who has an agreement in writing with one or more licensed viatical settlement providers.

(2) "Related provider trust" means a trust established by a licensed viatical settlement provider or a financing entity for the sole purpose of holding the ownership or beneficial interest in purchased policies in connection with a financing transaction. The trust must have a written agreement with the viatical settlement provider under which the licensed viatical settlement provider is responsible for ensuring compliance with all statutory and regulatory requirements and under which the trust agrees to make all records and files related to viatical settlement transactions available to the commissioner.

(3) "Special purpose entity" means a corporation, partnership, trust, limited liability company, or other similar entity formed solely to provide, either directly or indirectly, access to institutional capital markets for a financing entity or licensed viatical settlement provider.

(4) (a) "Viatical settlement broker" means an individual who, for a fee, commission, or other consideration:

(i) offers or advertises the availability of viatical settlement contracts;

(ii) introduces holders of life insurance policies or certificates insuring the lives of individuals with a terminal illness or condition to viatical settlement providers; or

(iii) offers or attempts to negotiate viatical settlement contracts between the policyholders or certificate holders and one or more viatical settlement providers.

(b) Viatical settlement broker does not mean an attorney, accountant, or financial planner retained to represent the policyholder or certificate holder unless compensation paid to the attorney, accountant, or consultant is paid by the viatical settlement provider.

(5) (a) "Viatical settlement contract" means a written agreement establishing the terms under which compensation or anything of value will be paid, when the compensation or value is less than the expected death benefit of the insurance policy or certificate, in return for the viator's assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of the death benefit or ownership of any portion of the insurance policy or certificate of insurance.

(b) The term includes:

(i) a contract for a loan or other financing transaction with a viator secured primarily by an individual or group life insurance policy, other than a loan by a life insurance company pursuant to the terms of the life insurance contract, or a loan secured by the cash value of a policy; or

(ii) an agreement with a viator to transfer ownership or change the beneficiary designation at a later date regardless of the date that compensation is paid to the viator.

(c) The term does not mean a written agreement entered into between a viator and a person having an insurable interest in the viator's life.

(6) (a) "Viatical settlement provider" means a person who solicits, enters into, or negotiates viatical settlement contracts or offers to enter into or negotiate viatical settlement contracts.

(b) Viatical settlement provider does not mean:

(i) a bank, savings bank, savings and loan association, credit union, or other licensed lending institution that takes an assignment of a life insurance policy only as collateral for a loan;

(ii) an insurer issuing a life insurance policy providing accelerated benefits pursuant to 33-20-127 or pursuant to the laws of the state to which the policy was subject when issued;

(iii) an individual who enters into a single agreement in a calendar year for the transfer of life insurance policies for any value less than the expected death benefit; or

(iv) any corporation, partnership, or partner that purchases a life insurance contract of an employee or retiree of the corporation or of a partner. The settlement made on any contract exempt under this section must be reasonable and subject to the standards imposed on licensees under 33-20-1304.

(7) (a) "Viatical settlement purchase agreement" means a contract or agreement entered into by a viatical settlement purchaser with a viatical settlement provider to purchase a life insurance policy or an interest in a life insurance policy for the purpose of deriving an economic benefit.

(b) A viatical settlement purchase agreement does not include a viatical settlement contract.

(8) (a) "Viatical settlement purchaser" means a person who, for the purpose of deriving an economic benefit:

(i) gives consideration for a life insurance policy or an interest in the death benefits of a life insurance policy; or

(ii) owns, acquires, or is entitled to a beneficial interest in a trust that owns a viatical settlement contract or that is the beneficiary of a life insurance policy that has been or will be the subject of a viatical settlement contract.

(b) A viatical settlement purchaser does not include a licensed viatical settlement provider, a licensed viatical settlement broker, a qualified institutional buyer as defined in 17 CFR 230.144A, a financing entity, a special purpose entity, or a related provider trust.

(9) (a) "Viator" means the owner of a life insurance policy or the certificate holder under a group policy who enters or seeks to enter into a viatical settlement contract. For the purposes of this part, a viator may not be limited to an owner of a life insurance policy or a certificate holder under a group policy insuring the life of an individual with a terminal or chronic illness or condition except where specifically addressed.

(b) The term does not include a licensed viatical settlement provider, a licensed viatical settlement broker, a qualified institutional buyer as defined in 17 CFR 230.144A, a financing entity, a special purpose entity, or a related provider trust.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 17, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-20-1303. License requirements. (1) A person may not act as or purport to be a viatical settlement provider unless licensed as a viatical settlement provider under this part.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsections (2)(b) and (2)(c), an individual may not broker, solicit, or negotiate viatical settlement contracts between a viator and one or more viatical settlement providers or otherwise act on behalf of a viator without first having obtained a license as a viatical settlement broker from the commissioner. An applicant for a viatical settlement broker's license shall:

(i) attend required viatical settlement broker training and pass a viatical settlement broker examination designated by the commissioner by rule; and

(ii) pay a fee for an original viatical settlement broker's license pursuant to 33-2-708. The fees for license renewal and lapsed license reinstatement for a viatical settlement broker's license are as provided in 33-2-708.

(b) A resident or nonresident insurance producer must be considered to meet the licensing requirements of a viatical settlement broker and must be permitted to operate as a viatical settlement broker if the insurance producer is licensed as an insurance producer with a life insurance line of authority in this state or in the insurance producer's home state and has been licensed for at least 1 year. In addition:

(i) not later than 30 days from the first day of operating as a viatical settlement broker, the insurance producer shall notify the commissioner, on a form or in a manner prescribed by the commissioner, that the insurance producer is acting as a viatical settlement broker and shall pay a fee pursuant to 33-2-708(1)(b)(viii). The notification must include an acknowledgment by the insurance producer that the insurance producer will operate as a viatical settlement broker in accordance with this part.

(ii) regardless of the manner in which the insurance producer is compensated, the insurance producer must be considered to represent only the viator and owes a fiduciary duty to the viator to act according to the viator's instructions and in the best interests of the viator.

(c) If requested by the commissioner, a life insurance producer acting as a viatical settlement broker under this subsection (2) who has previously complied with subsection (2)(b)(i) shall report to the commissioner when renewing a resident or nonresident life insurance producer's license regarding the life insurance producer's intent to continue to act as a viatical settlement broker. The statement regarding an intent to continue acting as a viatical settlement broker must be made on the life insurance producer's license renewal form. An individual who makes a statement pursuant to this subsection (2)(c) may not be charged an additional fee.

(d) The provisions of subsections (2)(a) and (2)(b) do not prohibit an individual licensed as an attorney, certified public accountant, or certified financial planner who is accredited by a nationally recognized accreditation agency, who is retained to represent the viator, and whose compensation is not paid directly or indirectly by the viatical settlement provider from negotiating viatical settlement contracts without having to obtain a license as a viatical settlement broker.

(3) Regardless of the manner in which a viatical settlement broker or insurance producer is compensated, the viatical settlement broker or insurance producer must be considered to represent only the viator and the viatical settlement broker or insurance producer owes a fiduciary duty to the viator to act according to the viator's instructions and in the best interests of the viator.

(4) (a) To obtain a license to transact business as a viatical settlement provider or as a viatical settlement broker, if required to obtain a viatical settlement broker's license under the provisions of subsection (2)(a), an applicant shall apply for the license in a form approved by the commissioner and shall pay the fee required for the application.

(b) The commissioner may request biographical, organizational, locational, financial, employment, and other information on the application form that the commissioner determines to be relevant to the evaluation of applications and to the granting of the license. The commissioner may require a statement of the business plan or plan of operation of the applicant. The commissioner shall require an applicant for a viatical settlement provider license to file with the application for the commissioner's approval a copy of the viatical settlement contract that the applicant intends to use in business under the license.

(c) If an applicant is a corporation, the corporation must be:

(i) incorporated or organized under the laws of this state; or

(ii) a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state.

(d) If the applicant is a partnership, the partnership must be organized under the laws of this state.

(e) If the applicant is a business entity other than a corporation or partnership, the business entity must be organized under the laws of this state.

(5) (a) An individual licensed as a viatical settlement broker must meet the continuing education requirements in 33-17-1203.

(b) The hours of continuing education required under subsection (5)(a) must be in the subjects of life insurance, viaticals, or ethics.

(c) For an individual licensed as a viatical settlement broker, the 24-month period for meeting the continuing education requirements must correlate with the broker's license renewal period.

(d) The viatical settlement broker's license of an individual who fails to comply with this continuing education requirement and who has not been granted an extension of time to comply in accordance with 33-17-1203(2) must be terminated and promptly surrendered to the commissioner.

33-20-1304. Issuance of license. (1) The commissioner may issue a license to the applicant if the commissioner determines that the applicant:

(a) has satisfied all of the requirements for the license for which an application is made;

(b) has not engaged in conduct that would authorize the commissioner to refuse to issue a license under this part; and

(c) is financially responsible and has a good business reputation.

(2) If the commissioner denies an application, the commissioner shall inform the applicant and state the grounds for the denial.

(3) An individual may act as a viatical settlement provider or viatical settlement broker under the authority of the license of a firm or of a corporate viatical settlement provider whether or not the individual holds a license as a viatical settlement provider if:

(a) the individual is a member or employee of the firm or is an employee, officer, or director of the corporation; and

(b) the individual is designated by the firm or corporation on its license application or on a form that amends or supplements the application as being authorized to act as a viatical settlement provider under the authority of the license.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 298, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-20-1305. Expiration of license. (1) A license issued under this part expires on its expiration date unless it is renewed on or before its expiration date.

(2) Unless the commissioner designates another date, a license expires on the last day of the month in which the second anniversary of the initial issuance date of the license occurs and on the last day of the month of the second anniversary following each renewal.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 298, L. 1997.

33-20-1306. Notification by licensee of material change affecting qualification for license. A licensee shall immediately notify the commissioner of any material change in ownership or control or in any other matter affecting the qualification of the licensee for the license in this state, including keeping the commissioner informed about personnel and address changes.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 298, L. 1997.

33-20-1307. Suspension — revocation — refusal to issue or renew license. (1) The commissioner may suspend, revoke, refuse to issue, or refuse to renew a license if the commissioner determines that the licensee or applicant for a license is untrustworthy or incompetent to act as a licensee or is guilty of one or more of the following:

(a) dishonesty, fraud, or gross negligence in the conduct of business as a licensee;

(b) a pattern of unreasonable payments to policyholders or certificate holders;

(c) falsification of an application for the license or renewal of the license or misrepresentation or engagement in any other dishonest act in relation to the application;

(d) conduct resulting in a conviction of a felony under the laws of any state or of the United States;

(e) conviction of any crime, an essential element of which is dishonesty or fraud, under the laws of any state or of the United States;

(f) refusal to renew or cancellation, revocation, or suspension of authority to transact insurance or business as a viatical settlement provider, viatical settlement broker, or similar entity in another state;

(g) failure to pay a civil penalty imposed by final order of the commissioner or to carry out terms of probation set by the commissioner;

(h) refusal by a licensee to be examined or to produce accounts, records, or files for examination, refusal by any officers or employees to give information with respect to the affairs of the licensee, or refusal to perform any other legal obligation as to the examination, when required by the commissioner;

(i) affiliation with or under the same general management or interlocking directorate or ownership as another viatical settlement provider, viatical settlement broker, or insurer, any of which unlawfully transacts business in this state;

(j) failure at any time to meet any qualification for which issuance of the license could have been refused had the failure then existed and been known to the commissioner; or

(k) violation of any rule or order of the commissioner or any provision of Montana law.

(2) The commissioner may suspend or refuse to renew a license immediately and without hearing if the commissioner determines that one or both of the following circumstances exist:

(a) the licensee is insolvent;

(b) the financial condition or business practices of the licensee otherwise pose an imminent threat to the public health, safety, or welfare of the residents of this state.

(3) The commissioner may refuse to issue a license in the name of any business entity if the commissioner believes that any member, officer, employee, stockholder, or partner who may materially influence the conduct of the applicant does not meet the standards of this section.

(4) A viatical settlement provider or viatical settlement broker holding a license that has not been renewed or that has been revoked shall surrender the license to the commissioner at the commissioner's request.

(5) The commissioner may take any other administrative action authorized under Montana law in addition to or in lieu of the actions authorized under this part.

33-20-1308. Terms of contract. (1) A viatical settlement contract must be in writing. A viatical settlement provider shall establish in the contract the terms under which the viatical settlement provider will pay compensation or anything of value in return for the policyholder's or certificate holder's assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of the death benefit or ownership of the insurance policy or certificate to the viatical settlement provider.

(2) A viatical settlement provider may not use a viatical settlement contract in this state unless the viatical settlement provider has filed the contract form with the commissioner and the commissioner has approved the contract form according to the provisions set forth in 33-1-501. The commissioner shall disapprove a viatical settlement contract form if, in the commissioner's judgment, the contract or any provision of the contract is unreasonable, contrary to the interests of the public, or otherwise misleading or unfair to the policyholder or certificate holder.

(3) Each viatical settlement contract entered into in this state must contain a provision enabling the policyholder or certificate holder to rescind the contract not later than the 30th day after the date on which the contract is executed by all parties or not later than the 15th day after the policyholder or certificate holder receives the viatical settlement proceeds, whichever is the longer period. In order to rescind a contract, a policyholder or certificate holder who has received the proceeds shall return them to the viatical settlement provider or financing entity.

(4) If a viatical settlement provider enters into a viatical settlement that allows the viator to retain an interest in the policy, the viatical settlement contract must contain all of the following provisions:

(a) that the viatical settlement provider shall effect the transfer of the amount of the death benefit only to the extent or portion of the amount viaticated. Benefits in excess of the amount viaticated must be paid directly to the viator's beneficiary by the insurance company.

(b) that the premiums to be paid by the viatical settlement provider and the viator will be apportioned unless the viatical settlement contract specifies that all premiums must be paid by the viatical settlement provider. The contract may also require that the viator reimburse the viatical settlement provider for the premiums attributable to the retained interest.

(c) that the viatical settlement provider shall, upon acknowledgment of the perfection of the transfer, either:

(i) advise the insured in writing that the insurance company has confirmed the viator's interest in the policy; or

(ii) provide the insured with a copy of the instrument provided by the insurance company to the viatical settlement provider that acknowledges the viator's interest in the policy.

33-20-1309. Annual report by provider. Unless the commissioner grants a time extension, a viatical settlement provider shall file a report for the preceding calendar year with the commissioner on or before March 1 of each year. The report must be in the form and must contain the information that the commissioner prescribes. The report must be verified as follows:

(1) if the viatical settlement provider is a corporation, by at least two principal officers of the viatical settlement provider;

(2) if the viatical settlement provider is a partnership, by two partners; or

(3) if the viatical settlement provider is not a corporation or a partnership, by the provider's owner and manager.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 298, L. 1997.

33-20-1310. Examination of business and practices of licensee or applicant — maintenance of business records. (1) The commissioner may examine the business and practices of any licensee or applicant for a license when the commissioner determines an examination to be necessary. The commissioner may order a licensee or applicant to produce any records, books, files, or other information reasonably necessary to ascertain whether the licensee or applicant is acting or has acted in violation of the law or contrary to the interests of the public. The licensee or applicant shall pay the expenses incurred in conducting an examination.

(2) A viatical settlement provider shall maintain records of all transactions of viatical settlement contracts of the viatical settlement provider and shall make the records available to the commissioner for inspection during reasonable business hours. The records must be maintained for a period of not less than 5 years from the date of their creation.

(3) The commissioner may at any time require a licensee to fully disclose the identity of all stockholders, partners, officers, and employees.

(4) The names of and individual identification data for all policyholders and certificate holders who have entered viatical settlement contracts with viatical settlement providers are confidential and may not be disclosed except in cases in which the commissioner determines that the merits of public disclosure exceed the demands of individual privacy.

33-20-1311. Disclosure of information to policyholder. A viatical settlement provider shall disclose the information specified in this section to the policyholder or certificate holder entering the viatical settlement contract prior to the date on which the viatical settlement contract is signed by all parties. The disclosure must be in the form approved by the commissioner. The information must include the following:

(1) possible alternatives to viatical settlement contracts for persons with terminal illnesses or conditions, including but not limited to accelerated benefits offered by the issuer of the life insurance policy;

(2) the fact that some or all of the proceeds of the viatical settlement may be taxable and that assistance should be sought from a personal tax adviser. Viatical settlement brokers, viatical settlement providers, or their respective employees or agents may not act as personal tax advisers for purposes of this disclosure requirement.

(3) the fact that the viatical settlement could be subject to the claims of creditors;

(4) the fact that receipt of a viatical settlement may adversely affect the recipient's eligibility for medicaid or other government benefits or entitlement and that advice should be obtained from the appropriate agencies;

(5) the right of a policyholder or certificate holder to rescind a viatical settlement contract as provided in 33-20-1308. The disclosure must state the deadlines for rescission and the return of proceeds received.

(6) the date by which the funds will be available to the policyholder or certificate holder and the source of the funds; and

(7) the fact that the viatical settlement contract is void if the viatical settlement provider or viatical settlement broker fails to tender payment of the proceeds as provided in the viatical settlement contract.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 298, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 295, L. 2001.

33-20-1312. Conditions precedent to entering into viatical settlement contract. (1) Before a viatical settlement provider enters into a viatical settlement contract with a policyholder or certificate holder who has a terminal illness or condition, the viatical settlement provider shall first obtain the following:

(a) a written statement from an attending physician that the policyholder or certificate holder is of sound mind and not under constraint or undue influence; and

(b) a witnessed document in which the policyholder or certificate holder:

(i) consents to the viatical settlement contract;

(ii) acknowledges that the illness or condition is terminal;

(iii) represents that the policyholder or certificate holder has a full and complete understanding of the viatical settlement contract;

(iv) confirms that the policyholder or certificate holder has a full and complete understanding of the benefits of the life insurance policy;

(v) releases the medical records of the policyholder or certificate holder relating to the terminal illness or condition; and

(vi) acknowledges that the policyholder or certificate holder has entered into the viatical settlement contract freely and voluntarily.

(2) A viatical settlement provider may enter a viatical settlement contract only after the individual whose life would be the subject of the viatical settlement contract is determined to have a terminal illness or condition, as follows:

(a) if the individual is the policyholder or certificate holder, an attending physician of the policyholder or certificate holder shall make the determination; or

(b) if the individual is a person other than the policyholder or certificate holder, an attending physician of the individual or of the policyholder or certificate holder shall make the determination.

(3) For purposes of this section, "attending physician" means a medical doctor, a doctor of osteopathy, or a naturopathic physician licensed in this state, who is primarily responsible for the treatment or a portion of treatment of the individual whose life would be the subject of the viatical settlement contract.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 298, L. 1997.

33-20-1313. Requirements for entering into viatical settlement contract — prohibitions on finder's fee — solicitations — discrimination — false or misleading advertising or solicitation — misuse of confidential information. (1) A person may not enter into a viatical settlement contract within a 2-year period from the date of issuance of an insurance policy or certificate unless the person certifies to the viatical settlement provider that one or more of the following conditions have been met within the 2-year period:

(a) (i) the policy or certificate was issued upon the person's exercise of conversion rights arising out of a group or individual policy or certificate and the total of the time covered under the conversion policy or certificate plus the time covered by the policy or certificate prior to the conversion equal at least 24 months; and

(ii) the time covered under a group policy or certificate was calculated without regard to any change in insurance carriers if the coverage was continuous and under the same group sponsorship; or

(b) the person submits independent evidence to the viatical settlement provider that one or more of the following conditions have been met within the 2-year period:

(i) the person is terminally ill or chronically ill; or

(ii) the person has disposed of the person's ownership interest in a closely held corporation pursuant to the terms of a buyout agreement or similar agreement that was in effect at the time that the insurance policy or certificate was issued.

(2) Copies of the certification and independent evidence required under subsection (1) must be submitted by the viatical settlement provider to the insurer when the viatical settlement provider submits a request to the insurer for verification of coverage. The copies must be accompanied by a letter of attestation from the viatical settlement provider that the copies are true and correct copies of the documents received by the viatical settlement provider.

(3) A licensee may not pay or offer to pay a finder's fee, commission, or other compensation to a person described in this subsection (3) in connection with a policy insuring the life of an individual with a terminal illness or condition. The prohibition under this subsection (3) applies with respect to payments or offers of payment to:

(a) the physician, attorney, or accountant of the policyholder, the certificate holder, or the insured individual;

(b) any person other than a physician, attorney, or accountant described in subsection (3)(a) who provides medical, legal, or financial planning services to the policyholder, to the certificate holder, or to the insured individual when the individual is other than the policyholder or certificate holder; or

(c) any person other than one described in subsection (3)(a) or (3)(b) who acts as an agent of the policyholder, certificate holder, or insured individual.

(4) A licensee may not solicit an investor who could influence the treatment of the illness or condition of the individual whose life would be the subject of a viatical settlement contract.

(5) All information solicited or obtained from a policyholder or certificate holder by a licensee is subject to the confidentiality requirements set forth in Title 33, chapter 19. For purposes of this subsection, a licensee must be considered an insurance-support organization as defined in 33-19-104.

(6) A licensee may not discriminate in the making of a viatical settlement contract on the basis of race, age, sex, national origin, creed, religion, occupation, marital or family status, or sexual orientation and may not discriminate between persons who have dependents and persons who do not have dependents.

(7) A person licensed pursuant to 33-20-1304 may not engage in any false or misleading advertising, solicitation, or practice as described in 33-18-203.

(8) A person licensed pursuant to 33-20-1304 may not sell another product of insurance to the contract holder unless approval is obtained from the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 298, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 552, L. 2005.

33-20-1314. Payment to escrow or trust account — lump-sum payment. (1) Within 3 business days after receipt of documents from the policyholder or certificate holder effecting the transfer of the insurance policy or certificate, the viatical settlement provider shall pay the proceeds of the settlement to an escrow or trust account managed by a trustee or escrow agent in a bank approved by the commissioner, pending acknowledgment of the transfer by the issuer of the life insurance policy. The trustee or escrow agent shall transfer the proceeds due to the policyholder or certificate holder immediately upon receipt of acknowledgment of the transfer from the insurer.

(2) A viatical settlement provider shall make payment of the proceeds of a viatical settlement contract in a lump sum except as provided in this subsection. A viatical settlement provider may not retain any portion of the proceeds. A viatical settlement provider may make installment payments only if the viatical settlement provider has purchased an annuity issued by an authorized insurer or a similar financial instrument issued by a financial institution authorized to engage in the business of a financial institution in this state.

(3) Failure by the viatical settlement provider to tender the viatical settlement by the date disclosed to the policyholder or certificate holder renders the contract void.

33-20-1315. Rules — standards — bond. The commissioner may, in accordance with the provisions of 33-1-313, adopt rules for the purpose of carrying out this part. In addition, the commissioner:

(1) may establish standards for evaluating reasonableness of payments under viatical settlement contracts for insured individuals who are terminally ill or chronically ill. The authority includes but is not limited to regulation of discount rates used to determine the amount paid in exchange for assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of a benefit under a life insurance policy. For the purpose of the standards, the commissioner shall consider payments made in regional and national viatical settlement markets to the extent that this information is available, as well as model standards developed by the national association of insurance commissioners. When the insured is not terminally ill or chronically ill, the commissioner may not establish standards for evaluating the reasonableness of payments, except that a viatical settlement provider shall pay an amount greater than the greater of the cash surrender value or the accelerated death benefit then available.

(2) shall require a bond or other mechanism for financial accountability of viatical settlement providers and viatical settlement brokers; and

(3) shall adopt rules to establish:

(a) trade practice standards for the purpose of regulating advertising and solicitation of viatical settlement contracts;

(b) fees that are commensurate with fees charged pursuant to 33-2-708; and

(c) the continuing education program provided for in 33-20-1303(5).

33-20-1316. Service of process. (1) For viatical settlement providers, the provisions of Title 33, chapter 1, part 6, apply.

(2) For viatical settlement brokers, service of process must be made pursuant to 35-7-113 or in any other manner permitted by law.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 227, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-20-1317. Disclosure of information to viatical settlement purchasers. (1) A viatical settlement provider shall disclose the information specified in this section to a viatical settlement purchaser prior to the date on which the parties sign the viatical settlement purchase agreement.

(2) The viatical settlement purchaser shall date and sign the information disclosure. The viatical settlement provider shall provide a copy of the information disclosure to the viatical settlement purchaser.

(3) The information disclosure must include the following:

(a) that the viatical settlement purchaser will not receive payment until the insured dies;

(b) that the actual annual rate of return on a viatical settlement purchase agreement is dependent upon an accurate projection of the insured's life expectancy and the actual date of the insured's death and that an annual guaranteed rate of return is not determinable;

(c) that the viatical insurance contract is not a liquid purchase since it is impossible to predict the exact timing of its maturity, that the funds are probably not available until the death of the insured, and that there is not an established secondary market for the resale of viatical settlement products by the viatical settlement purchaser;

(d) that the viatical settlement purchaser may lose all benefits or may receive substantially reduced benefits if the insurer goes out of business during the term of the viatical settlement investment;

(e) (i) that the viatical settlement purchaser is responsible for payment of the insurance premium or other costs related to the policy, if required by the terms of the viatical purchase agreement, and that these payments may reduce the viatical settlement purchaser's return and may continue beyond the insured's projected life expectancy; and

(ii) if a party other than the viatical settlement purchaser is responsible for the payment, that the name of that party must also be disclosed;

(f) the amount of the premium that a purchaser is required to pay, if applicable;

(g) that the viatical settlement purchaser may be responsible for payment of the insurance premium or other costs related to the policy if the insured returns to health;

(h) the amount of any fees or other expenses to be charged to the viatical settlement purchaser;

(i) whether or not the viatical settlement purchaser is entitled to a refund of all or part of the investment under the viatical settlement purchase agreement if the policy is later determined to be void;

(j) that group policies:

(i) may contain limitations on conversion rights;

(ii) may require additional premiums to be paid if the group policy is converted; and

(iii) may be terminated and replaced by another group policy, with benefits under the new policy that may be substantially less than those in the original coverage;

(k) for group policies, the name of the party responsible for the payment of any additional premiums;

(l) that there are risks associated with policy contestability, including the risk that the viatical settlement purchaser may not have a claim or may have only a partial claim to death benefits if the insurer rescinds the policy within the contestability period;

(m) whether or not the viatical settlement purchaser will be the beneficiary or owner of the policy and, if the viatical settlement purchaser is the beneficiary, the special risks associated with beneficiary status, including the risk that the beneficiary may be changed;

(n) a description of:

(i) the experience and qualifications of the person who has determined the life expectancy of the insured, such as in-house staff, independent physicians, or specialty firms that weigh medical and actuarial data;

(ii) the information on which the projection of life expectancy is based; and

(iii) the relationship of the person who has made the determination of life expectancy to the viatical settlement provider, if any;

(o) all of the life expectancies obtained in the process of determining the price paid to the policyholder or certificate holder;

(p) a description and amount of any loan or other encumbrance against or in connection with the policy; and

(q) that the viatical settlement purchaser is encouraged to consult with an attorney, accountant, or financial planner who is not affiliated with the viatical settlement broker or viatical settlement provider prior to purchase.

33-20-1318. Conflict of laws. (1) If there is more than one owner on a single life insurance policy and the owners are residents of different states, the viatical settlement contract is governed by the law of the state in which the owner having the largest percentage ownership resides or, if the owners hold equal ownership, the state of residence of one owner agreed upon in writing by all of the owners. The law of the state of the insured governs if equal owners fail to agree in writing upon a state of residence for jurisdictional purposes.

(2) (a) A viatical settlement provider from this state who enters into a viatical settlement contract with a viator who is a resident of another state that has enacted statutes or adopted regulations governing viatical settlement contracts is governed in the effectuation of that viatical settlement contract by the statutes and regulations of the viator's state of residence.

(b) A viatical settlement provider from this state who enters into a viatical settlement contract with a viator who is a resident of another state that has not enacted statutes or adopted regulations governing viatical settlement contracts is governed in the effectuation of that viatical settlement contract by the laws of this state. The viatical settlement provider shall give the viator notice that this state regulates the transaction into which the viator is entering. The viatical settlement provider shall maintain all records required by this state and use forms approved in this state.

(3) If there is a conflict in the laws that apply to a viator and a viatical settlement purchaser in any individual transaction, the laws of the state that apply to the viator take precedence and the viatical settlement provider shall comply with those laws.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 272, L. 2009.

Part 14
Structured Settlement Protection

33-20-1401. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Structured Settlement Protection Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1402. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Annuity issuer" means an insurer that has issued a contract to fund periodic payments under a structured settlement.

(2) "Consideration" has the meaning provided in 28-2-801.

(3) "Dependent" means a payee's spouse, a minor child of the payee, or any person for whom the payee is legally obligated to provide support, including spousal maintenance.

(4) "Discounted present value" means the present value of future payments determined by discounting the future payments to the present using the most recently published applicable federal rate for determining the present value of an annuity, as issued by the United States internal revenue service.

(5) "Gross advance amount" means the sum payable to the payee or to the payee's account as consideration for a transfer of a structured settlement payment right before any reduction for a transfer expense or any other deduction is made from the sum.

(6) "Independent professional advice" means advice of an attorney, a certified public accountant, an actuary, or any licensed professional adviser.

(7) "Interested party" means, with respect to a structured settlement, the payee, any beneficiary irrevocably designated under the annuity contract to receive a payment after the payee's death, the annuity issuer, the structured settlement obligor, or any other party that has a continuing right or obligation under the structured settlement.

(8) "Net advance amount" means the gross advance amount minus the aggregate amount of the actual and estimated transfer expenses required to be disclosed under 33-20-1403(5).

(9) "Payee" means an individual who is receiving tax-free payments under a structured settlement and proposes to make a transfer of the payment rights.

(10) "Periodic payment" includes both a recurring payment and any scheduled future lump-sum payments.

(11) "Qualified assignment agreement" means an agreement providing for a qualified assignment, as defined for federal tax purposes, of the liability to make periodic payments under a structured settlement.

(12) "Responsible administrative authority" means, with respect to a structured settlement, any government authority vested by law with exclusive jurisdiction over the settled claim resolved by the structured settlement.

(13) "Settled claim" means the original tort claim.

(14) "Structured settlement" means an arrangement for periodic payment of damages for personal injuries or sickness established by settlement or judgment in resolution of a tort claim.

(15) "Structured settlement agreement" means the written agreement, judgment, stipulation, or release embodying the terms of a structured settlement.

(16) "Structured settlement obligor" means, with respect to a structured settlement, the party that has the continuing obligation to make periodic payments to the payee under a structured settlement agreement or a qualified assignment agreement.

(17) "Structured settlement payment right" means the right to receive periodic payments under a structured settlement, whether from the structured settlement obligor or the annuity issuer, when:

(a) (i) the payee is domiciled in this state; or

(ii) the domicile or principal place of business of the structured settlement obligor or the annuity issuer is located in this state;

(b) a court or responsible administrative authority in this state approved the structured settlement agreement; or

(c) the structured settlement agreement is expressly governed by the laws of this state.

(18) "Terms of the structured settlement" means, with respect to a structured settlement, the terms of the structured settlement agreement, the annuity contract, a qualified assignment agreement, or any order or other approval of a court or responsible administrative authority or other government authority that authorized or approved the structured settlement.

(19) (a) "Transfer" means a sale, assignment, pledge, hypothecation, or other alienation or encumbrance of a structured settlement payment right made by a payee for consideration.

(b) The term does not include the creation or perfection of a security interest in a structured settlement payment right under a blanket security agreement entered into with an insured depository institution in the absence of any action:

(i) to redirect the structured settlement payment to the insured depository institution or its agent or successor in interest; or

(ii) to otherwise enforce the blanket security interest against the structured settlement payment right.

(20) "Transfer agreement" means the agreement providing for a transfer of a structured settlement payment right.

(21) (a) "Transfer expenses" means all expenses of a transfer that are:

(i) required under the transfer agreement to be paid by the payee; or

(ii) deducted from the gross advance amount, including without limitation any court filing fee, attorney fee, escrow fee, lien recordation fee, judgment and lien search fee, finder's fee, commission, and other payments to a broker or other intermediary.

(b) Transfer expenses do not include a payee's preexisting obligations that are payable on the payee's account from the proceeds of a transfer.

(22) "Transferee" means a party acquiring or proposing to acquire a structured settlement payment right through a transfer.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1403. Disclosure to payee. No less than 3 days prior to the date on which a payee signs a transfer agreement, the transferee shall provide to the payee a written disclosure statement separate from the transfer agreement that sets forth in bold type no smaller than 14 points:

(1) the amounts and the due dates of the structured settlement payment to be transferred;

(2) the aggregate amount of the amounts in subsection (1);

(3) the discounted present value of the payments to be transferred, which must be identified as:

(a) the calculation of the present value of the transferred structured settlement payment under federal standards for valuing annuities; and

(b) the amount of the applicable federal rate used in calculating the discounted present value;

(4) the gross advance amount;

(5) an itemized list of all applicable transfer expenses, other than attorney fees and related disbursements, based on the transferee's best estimate of the amount of fees and disbursements payable in connection with the transferee's application for approval of the transfer;

(6) the net advance amount;

(7) the amount of any penalty or liquidated damages payable by the payee in the event of a breach of the transfer agreement by the payee; and

(8) a statement that the payee has the right to cancel the transfer agreement without penalty or further obligation no later than the third business day after the date on which the payee signs the agreement.

33-20-1404. Transfer of structured settlement payment right — conditions. A direct or indirect transfer of a structured settlement payment right is not effective and a structured settlement obligor or annuity issuer is not required to make a payment directly or indirectly to a transferee of a structured settlement payment right unless a final court order or order of a responsible administrative authority has approved the transfer in advance based on written findings by the court or responsible administrative authority that:

(1) the transfer is in the best interest of the payee, taking into account the welfare and support of the payee's dependents, if any;

(2) the payee has been advised in writing by the transferee to seek independent professional advice regarding the transfer and either has received independent professional advice or knowingly waived independent professional advice in writing; and

(3) the transfer does not contravene any applicable statute or the order of any court or other government authority.

33-20-1405. Obligations after transfer. After the transfer of a structured settlement payment right pursuant to this part:

(1) the structured settlement obligor and the annuity issuer are discharged and released from liability for the transferred payments to all parties except to the transferee;

(2) the transferee is liable to the structured settlement obligor and the annuity issuer:

(a) if the transfer contravenes the terms of the structured settlement for any tax incurred by the structured settlement obligor or annuity issuer as a consequence of the transfer; and

(b) for any other liability or cost, including reasonable costs and attorney fees, arising:

(i) from compliance by the structured settlement obligor and annuity issuer with the order of the court or responsible administrative authority; or

(ii) as a consequence of the transferee's failure to comply with this part; and

(3) neither the structured settlement obligor nor the annuity issuer may be required to divide a periodic payment between a payee and a transferee or assignee or between two or more transferees or assignees.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1406. Additional transfers. After the transfer of a structured settlement payment right pursuant to this part, any further transfer by the payee is subject to all of the requirements of this part.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1407. Jurisdiction — notice. (1) A transferee may apply under this part for approval of a transfer of a structured settlement payment right:

(a) in the county in which the payee resides;

(b) in the county in which the structured settlement obligor or the annuity issuer maintains a principal place of business; or

(c) in any court or before any responsible administrative authority that approved the structured settlement agreement.

(2) Not less than 20 days prior to a scheduled hearing on an application for approval of a transfer of a structured settlement payment right under 33-20-1404, the transferee shall file with the court or responsible administrative authority and serve on all interested parties a notice of the proposed transfer and the application for an authorized transfer. The notice must include the following:

(a) a copy of the transferee's application;

(b) a copy of the transfer agreement;

(c) a copy of the disclosure statement required under 33-20-1403;

(d) a listing of each of the payee's dependents, if any, together with the age of each dependent;

(e) notification that any interested party is entitled to support, oppose, or otherwise respond to the transferee's application either in person or by counsel by submitting written comments to the court or responsible administrative authority or by participating in the hearing; and

(f) notification of the time and the place of the hearing and notification of the manner in which and the time by which written responses to the application must be filed. The filing deadline may not be less than 15 days after the transferee's notice has been served.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1408. Waiver not allowed. A payee may not waive the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1409. Disputes — entry of judgment. (1) A transfer agreement entered into on or after October 1, 2005, by a payee who resides in this state must provide that disputes under the transfer agreement, including a claim that the payee has breached the agreement, must be determined in this state under the laws of this state.

(2) A transfer agreement may not authorize the transferee or any other party to confess judgment or consent to entry of judgment against the payee.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1410. Contingent payment conditions. A transfer of a structured settlement payment right may not extend to a payment that is contingent upon the life of a payee unless prior to the date on which the payee signs the transfer agreement the transferee has established and agreed to maintain procedures reasonably satisfactory to the annuity issuer and the structured settlement obligor for:

(1) periodically confirming the payee's survival; and

(2) giving the annuity issuer and the structured settlement obligor prompt written notice upon the payee's death.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1411. Responsibility for compliance — liability. (1) Compliance with the requirements in 33-20-1403 and fulfillment of the conditions in 33-20-1404 are the sole responsibility of the transferee in any transfer of a structured settlement payment right. Neither the structured settlement obligor nor the annuity issuer bears responsibility for or liability arising from noncompliance with 33-20-1403 or failure to fulfill the conditions of 33-20-1404.

(2) A payee who proposes to make a transfer of a structured settlement payment right may not incur a penalty, forfeit an application fee or other payment, or otherwise incur any liability to the proposed transferee or any assignee based on a failure of a transfer agreement to satisfy the conditions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

33-20-1412. Construction. This part may not be construed to authorize a transfer of a structured settlement payment right in contravention of any law or to imply that any transfer under a transfer agreement entered into prior to October 1, 2005, is valid or invalid.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 351, L. 2005.

Part 15
Funeral Insurance

33-20-1501. Funeral insurance. (1) (a) "Funeral insurance" means an insurance policy or certificate that requires a one-time payment or the payment of premiums to provide for the costs of a funeral and burial for the policyholder or a named individual.

(b) Funeral insurance is a type of life insurance provided for in 33-1-208 and regulated under Title 33, chapter 20. The terms "burial insurance" and "preneed funeral insurance" have the same meaning as funeral insurance.

(c) Funeral insurance may be:

(i) included in a life insurance policy. This form of funeral insurance may not be sold by or through a person licensed under Title 37, chapter 19, regardless of whether a person licensed under Title 37, chapter 19, also has an insurance producer's license in this state.

(ii) a limited policy or certificate with a guaranteed death benefit that may be sold by:

(A) a licensed insurance producer; or

(B) a person licensed under Title 37, chapter 19, parts 3 and 4, if that person also is licensed as a life insurance producer in this state.

(d) Unless otherwise provided by Title 33, chapter 20, the initial policy or certificate limit under subsection (1)(c)(ii) is up to $25,000.

(2) Funeral insurance for the purposes of Title 33 is not a fixed amount prepaid into a trust or escrow fund, called a prearranged funeral plan, as described in 37-19-827, or a preneed arrangement, as defined in 37-19-101, and regulated under Title 37, chapter 19.

(3) A funeral insurance policy and any solicitation material for the policy must clearly indicate that:

(a) the policy is a life insurance product;

(b) the applicant may designate the beneficiary, including but not limited to a funeral director, mortician, mortuary, or undertaker, if the applicant has an insurable interest in the life of the insured; and

(c) subject to the provisions of 33-20-1502 and this section, the beneficiary may use the proceeds for any purpose.

(4) The funeral insurance policy must state that the insurance company shall, as a condition of paying the benefits of the insurance policy, require from the funeral director, mortician, mortuary, or undertaker:

(a) a certified copy of the certificate of death of the insured or other evidence of death satisfactory to the insurance company; and

(b) a certificate of completion signed by the funeral director, mortician, or undertaker stating that the funeral director, mortician, undertaker, or mortuary has delivered all the goods and performed all the services contracted for, by, or on behalf of the insured.

(5) (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of 33-15-414, the funeral insurance policy must contain an assignability clause that allows the policy or certificate to be assigned or otherwise transferred to another funeral director, mortician, mortuary, or undertaker licensed to do business in this state in conjunction with the assumption of the contractual obligation to provide the funeral goods or services to the extent permitted by state or federal law for the purpose of the insured's eligibility for supplemental security income benefits, medicaid, or other public assistance benefits.

(b) The assignability clause may not be used by a funeral director, mortician, mortuary, or undertaker to pledge, assign, transfer, borrow from, or otherwise encumber an insurance policy assigned to it for purposes of purchasing funeral goods or services prior to delivering all of the goods and performing all of the services contracted for, by, or on behalf of the insured.

(6) After the death of a person who at any time received medicaid benefits, a funeral director, mortician, mortuary, undertaker, or other person, including but not limited to the decedent's spouse, heir, devisee, or personal representative, who is the beneficiary of funeral insurance in excess of $5,000 in value designated to pay for the disposition of the medicaid recipient's remains and for related expenses shall, after paying for the disposition and related expenses, pay all remaining funds to the department of public health and human services within 30 days following the receipt of the funeral insurance death benefit. The funds must be paid to the department regardless of any provision in a written contract, insurance policy, or other agreement entered into on or after January 1, 2008, directing a different disposition of the funds. Funds paid to the department under this section are not considered to be property of the deceased medicaid recipient's estate, and the provisions of 53-6-167 do not apply to recovery of the funds by the department.

33-20-1502. Excess funeral insurance proceeds. Funeral insurance proceeds that exceed the cost of the funeral goods and services provided must be paid in accordance with the beneficiary designation in the insurance policy or certificate.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 507, L. 2007.

33-20-1503. Rules. The commissioner may adopt rules to regulate funeral insurance, including but not limited to rules regarding licensure of producers, form review, and consumer protection.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 507, L. 2007.

Part 16
Unclaimed Life Insurance Benefits Act

33-20-1601. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Unclaimed Life Insurance Benefits Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 119, L. 2013.

33-20-1602. Purpose. The purposes of this part are to require recognition of the escheat or unclaimed property statutes of Montana and to require complete and proper disclosure, transparency, and accountability relating to any method of payment for life insurance death benefits regulated by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 119, L. 2013.

33-20-1603. Application of part. (1) This part applies to life insurance policies, annuity contracts, certificates under a life insurance policy or annuity contract, or certificates issued to a fraternal benefit society under which benefits are payable upon the death of the insured.

(2) This part may not be construed to limit any agreement by the commissioner with an insurer regarding unclaimed life insurance benefits.

(3) For the purposes of this part, the term "annuity contract" does not include an annuity used to fund an employment-based retirement plan or program when the insurer is not committed by terms of the annuity contract to pay death benefits to the beneficiaries of specific plan participants.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 119, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 63, L. 2015.

(1) (a) "Certificate under a life insurance policy" means a certificate of life insurance that provides a death benefit.

(b) The term does not include a certificate of life insurance that provides a death benefit under:

(i) an employee benefit plan that is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.;

(ii) any federal employee benefit program;

(iii) a policy or certificate used to fund a preneed funeral contract or prearrangement; or

(iv) a policy or certificate of credit life insurance or accidental death insurance.

(2) "Death master file" means the social security administration's death master file or any other database or service at least as comprehensive as the social security administration's death master file used for determining that a person has reportedly died.

(3) "Match" means a search of the death master file that results in a match of the social security number or the name and date of birth of an insured, annuitant, or retained asset account owner.

(4) "Policy" means a policy that provides a death benefit. The term does not include a policy that provides a death benefit under:

(a) an employee benefit plan that is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.;

(b) any federal employee benefit program;

(c) a policy or certificate of insurance used to fund a preneed funeral contract or prearrangement;

(d) a policy or certificate of credit life insurance or accidental death insurance; or

(e) a policy issued to a group master policyholder for which the insurer does not provide recordkeeping services.

33-20-1605. Insurer conduct. (1) An insurer shall perform a comparison of life insurance policies, annuity contracts, and retained asset accounts that are in force for its insureds against a death master file on at least a semiannual basis to identify potential matches of its insureds. For any potential matches, the insurer shall within 90 days:

(a) make a reasonable effort, documented by the insurer, to confirm the death of the insured, annuity contract holder, or retained asset account holder; and

(b) determine whether benefits are due in accordance with the applicable policy or contract.

(2) If benefits are due in accordance with the applicable policy or contract, the insurer shall:

(a) use reasonable efforts, documented by the insurer, to locate the beneficiary; and

(b) provide the appropriate claims forms or instructions to the beneficiary to make a claim, including the requirement to provide an official death certificate, if applicable under the policy or contract.

(3) With respect to group life insurance, an insurer is required to confirm the possible death of an insured when the insurer maintains at least the following information with regard to those covered under a policy or contract:

(a) social security number or name and date of birth;

(b) beneficiary designation information;

(c) coverage eligibility;

(d) benefit amount; and

(e) premium payment status.

(4) To the extent permitted by law, an insurer may disclose minimum necessary personal information about an insured or beneficiary to a person the insurer reasonably believes may be able to assist the insurer in locating the beneficiary or a person otherwise entitled to payment of claim proceeds.

(5) An insurer or its service provider may not charge insureds, account holders, or beneficiaries for any fees or costs associated with a search or verification conducted pursuant to this section.

(6) The benefits from a life insurance policy, an annuity contract, or a retained asset account, plus any applicable accrued interest, must be first payable to the designated beneficiary. In the event the beneficiary cannot be found, the benefits escheat to the state as unclaimed property pursuant to Title 70, chapter 9, part 8.

(7) If claim proceeds are presumed abandoned pursuant to 70-9-803, the insurer shall notify the department of revenue that:

(a) the beneficiary of a life insurance policy, annuity contract, or retained asset account has not submitted a claim with the insurer; and

(b) the insurer has been unable, after reasonable efforts documented by the insurer, to contact the beneficiary.

(8) In addition to giving notice to the department of revenue, the insurer shall immediately submit the unclaimed life insurance or annuity contract benefits or the unclaimed retained asset accounts, plus any applicable accrued interest, to the department of revenue.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 119, L. 2013.

33-20-1606. Unfair trade practices. A violation of the provisions of 33-20-1605 by an insurer constitutes an unfair method of competition or a deceptive act or practice in the business of insurance as provided in Title 33, chapter 18, part 2.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 119, L. 2013.

General Provisions

33-21-101. Short title. This chapter may be cited as "The Model Act for the Regulation of Credit Life Insurance and Credit Disability Insurance".

History: En. Sec. 393, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4202.

33-21-102. Purpose and scope. (1) The purpose of this chapter is to promote the public welfare by regulating credit life insurance and credit disability insurance. Nothing in this chapter is intended to prohibit or discourage reasonable competition. The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), this chapter applies to each policy, certificate of insurance, notice of proposed insurance, binder, endorsement, and rider of life insurance and disability insurance delivered or issued for delivery in Montana in connection with loans or other credit transactions for personal, family, or household purposes.

(3) This chapter does not apply to life insurance or disability insurance delivered or issued for delivery in connection with:

(a) a loan or other credit transaction of more than 15 years' duration;

(b) a credit transaction that is:

(i) secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust; and

(ii) made to finance the purchase of real property or the construction of a dwelling thereon or to refinance a prior credit transaction made for that purpose; or

(c) a credit transaction that is an isolated transaction on the part of the insurer and that is not related to an agreement or a plan for insuring debtors of the creditor.

33-21-103. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Credit disability insurance" means insurance on a debtor or joint debtors to provide indemnity for payments becoming due on a specific loan or other credit transaction while the debtor or either of the joint debtors is disabled as defined in the policy.

(2) "Credit life insurance" means insurance on the life of a debtor or the lives of joint debtors pursuant to or in connection with a specific loan or other credit transaction.

(3) "Credit transaction" means a transaction by the terms of which, at a future date:

(a) repayment of money loaned is made;

(b) a loan commitment is made; or

(c) payment for goods, services, or property sold or leased is made.

(4) "Creditor" means:

(a) a lender of money or vendor or lessor of goods, services, property, rights, or privileges, for which payment is arranged through a credit transaction;

(b) any successor to the right, title, or interest of a lender, vendor, or lessor;

(c) an affiliate, associate, or subsidiary of a lender, vendor, or lessor;

(d) a director, officer, or employee of a lender, vendor, or lessor; or

(e) any other person in any way associated with a lender, vendor, or lessor.

(5) "Debtor" means a borrower of money or a purchaser or lessee of goods, services, property, rights, or privileges for which payment is arranged through a credit transaction.

(6) "Indebtedness" means the total amount payable by a debtor to a creditor in connection with a loan or other credit transaction.

(7) "Open-end credit" means credit extended by a creditor under an agreement in which:

(a) the creditor reasonably contemplates repeated transactions;

(b) the creditor imposes a finance charge from time to time on an outstanding unpaid balance; and

(c) the amount of credit that may be extended to the debtor during the term of the agreement (up to any limit set by the creditor) is generally made available to the extent that any outstanding balance is repaid.

33-21-104. Existing insurance — choice of insurer. When credit life insurance or credit disability insurance is required as additional security for an indebtedness, the debtor, upon request to the creditor, has the option of furnishing the required amount of insurance through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by the debtor or of procuring and furnishing the required coverage through an insurer authorized to transact insurance within Montana.

33-21-105. Claims. (1) A claim must be promptly reported to the insurer or its designated claim representative, and the insurer shall maintain adequate claim files. A claim must be settled as soon as possible and in accordance with the terms of the insurance contract.

(2) A claim must be paid either by draft drawn upon the insurer or by check of the insurer to the order of the claimant to whom payment of the claim is due pursuant to the policy provisions or upon direction of the claimant to one specified.

(3) No plan or arrangement may be used whereby a person, partnership, or corporation other than the insurer or its designated claim representative is authorized to settle or adjust claims. The creditor may not be designated as claim representative for the insurer in adjusting claims, except that a group policyholder may, by arrangement with the group insurer, draw drafts or checks in payment of claims due to the group policyholder subject to audit and review by the insurer.

33-21-111. Rules — enforcement of chapter. The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, adopt rules that the commissioner considers appropriate for the supervision of this chapter. Whenever the commissioner finds that there has been a violation of this chapter or any rules adopted pursuant to this chapter and after written notice and hearing given to the insurer or other person authorized or licensed by the commissioner, the commissioner shall set forth the details of the commissioner's findings together with an order for compliance by a specified date. The order is binding on the insurer and other person authorized or licensed by the commissioner on the date specified unless withdrawn by the commissioner or unless a stay has been ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction.

33-21-112. Judicial review. Any party to the proceeding affected by an order of the commissioner shall be entitled to judicial review by following the procedure set forth in 33-1-711.

33-21-113. Penalties. In addition to any penalty provided by law, a person or business entity who violates an order of the commissioner after it has become final and while the order is in effect shall, upon proof of the violation to the satisfaction of a court, pay to the state of Montana a sum not to exceed $250 if the violation is found to be not willful. The sum may be recovered in a civil action. If the violation is found to be willful, the amount of the penalty may be in an amount not to exceed $1,000. The commissioner may revoke or suspend the license or certificate of authority of the person or business entity guilty of the violation. The order for suspension or revocation is subject to judicial review as provided in 33-1-711.

33-21-201. Form of issuance. An insurer may deliver or issue for delivery credit life insurance and credit disability insurance only in the following forms:

(1) individual policies of life insurance issued to debtors on a term plan;

(2) individual policies of disability insurance issued to debtors on a term plan or disability benefit provisions in individual policies of credit life insurance;

(3) group policies of life insurance issued to creditors providing insurance on the lives of debtors on a term plan;

(4) group policies of disability insurance issued to creditors on a term plan insuring debtors or disability provisions in group credit life insurance policies to provide disability coverage;

(5) joint policies of life insurance issued to debtors providing insurance jointly on the lives of joint debtors on a term plan; or

(6) joint policies of disability insurance issued to debtors on a term plan insuring joint debtors or disability provisions in joint credit life insurance policies to provide disability coverage.

History: En. Sec. 396, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4205; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 156, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 179, L. 1993.

33-21-202. Amount. (1) The initial amount of credit life insurance may not exceed the total amount repayable under the contract of indebtedness. If an indebtedness is repayable in substantially equal installments, the amount of credit life insurance may not exceed the scheduled or actual amount of unpaid indebtedness on the date of death, whichever is greater. The amount of credit life insurance written in connection with:

(a) a credit transaction repayable over a term in excess of 63 months or, at the option of the insurer, for a shorter term may not exceed the actual amount of unpaid indebtedness on the date of death, excluding any:

(i) unearned interest or finance charges; and

(ii) delinquency or extension exceeding 4 months;

(b) an open-end credit agreement having a credit limit exceeding $10,000 may not exceed the plan's credit limit;

(c) an agricultural loan commitment not exceeding 1 year may not exceed the amount of the loan commitment on a nondecreasing or level term plan; and

(d) an education loan commitment may be for the amount of the portion of the commitment that has not been advanced by the creditor.

(2) The amount of periodic indemnity payable by credit disability insurance in the event of disability, as defined in the policy, may not exceed:
(a) the aggregate of the periodic scheduled unpaid installments of indebtedness; and
(b) the original indebtedness divided by the number of periodic installments.
(3) A group or individual credit disability insurance policy or a certificate that provides coverage for credit card indebtedness must provide a disability benefit during each credit card billing cycle throughout the term of coverage that, subject to any specified dollar amount limit defined in the policy or certificate, may not be less than the sum of the following amounts payable in the billing cycle and based on the insured balance on the date that an insured disability commences:
(a) the greater of:
(i) the minimum payment required by the creditor for the billing cycle, less any past-due payments and accelerated payments required for the overlimit usage of the credit card; or
(ii) the finance charge calculated pursuant to the credit card contract;
(b) all premiums charged for credit disability insurance coverage; and
(c) all other charges related to the insured balance as of the date the insured disability commences that are incurred in the billing cycle as a result of the insurer's delay in processing a claim payment.

Cross-References

33-21-203. Term. (1) The term of any credit life insurance or credit disability insurance commences, subject to acceptance by the insurer, on the date on which the debtor becomes obligated to the creditor. However, if a group policy provides coverage with respect to existing obligations, the insurance on a debtor with respect to the indebtedness commences on the effective date of the policy.

(2) When evidence of insurability is required and the evidence is furnished more than 30 days after the date on which the debtor becomes obligated to the creditor, the term of the insurance may commence on the date the insurer determines the evidence is satisfactory. In that event, the insurer shall make an appropriate refund or adjustment of any charge to the debtor for insurance.

(3) The term of the insurance may not extend more than 15 days beyond the scheduled maturity date of the indebtedness except when extended without additional cost to the debtor, but the term of the insurance may be less than the term of the credit transaction to provide modified or partial coverage or extend beyond the maturity date to provide coverage consistent with 33-21-202(1)(a).

(4) If the indebtedness is discharged due to renewal or refinancing prior to the scheduled maturity date, the insurance in force must be terminated before any new insurance may be issued in connection with the renewed or refinanced indebtedness. In all cases of termination prior to scheduled maturity, a refund must be paid or credited as provided in 33-21-206.

33-21-204. Policy or certificate delivered — time of delivery — provisions. (1) All credit life insurance and credit disability insurance sold must be evidenced by an individual policy or, in the case of group insurance, by a certificate of insurance. The individual policy or group certificate of insurance must be delivered to the debtor at the time the indebtedness is incurred except as provided in this section.

(2) If the individual policy or group certificate of insurance is not delivered to the debtor at the time the indebtedness is incurred, a copy of the application for the policy or a notice of proposed insurance, signed by the debtor and setting forth the name and home office address of the insurer, the name of each debtor, the premium or amount of payment, if any, by the debtor separately in connection with credit life insurance and credit disability insurance coverage, the amount, term, and a brief description of the coverage provided or to be provided, must be delivered to the debtor at the time the indebtedness is incurred. The copy of the application for or notice of proposed insurance must also refer exclusively to insurance coverage and must be separate and apart from the loan, sale, or other credit statement of account, instrument, or agreement unless the information required by this section is prominently set forth in the statement of account, instrument, or agreement. Upon approval by the insurer of the application for insurance or acceptance of the insurance by the insurer and within 30 days of the date upon which the indebtedness is incurred, the insurer shall deliver the individual policy or group certificate of insurance to the debtor. The application or notice of proposed insurance must state that, upon acceptance by the insurer, the insurance becomes effective as of the date the indebtedness is incurred. If the named insurer does not accept the risk, the debtor must receive a policy or certificate of insurance setting forth the name and home office address of the substituted insurer and the amount of the premium to be charged. If the amount of premium is less than that set forth in the notice of proposed insurance, the insurer shall make an appropriate refund.

(3) Each individual policy or group certificate of credit life insurance and credit disability insurance must, in addition to other requirements of law, set forth the name and home office address of the insurer, the name of each debtor or, in the case of a group certificate of insurance, the identity by name or otherwise of the debtor, the rate or amount of payment, if any, by the debtor separately in connection with credit life insurance and credit disability insurance, and a description of the coverages, including the amount and term of the coverages and any exceptions, limitations, or restrictions, and must state that the benefits must be paid to the creditor to reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness and, wherever the amount of insurance may exceed the unpaid indebtedness, that any excess must be payable to a beneficiary, other than the creditor, named by the debtor or to the debtor's estate. If the term of the insurance is less than the term of the loan, that fact must be stated on the face of the individual policy or group certificate in not less than 10-point boldface type.

(4) For the purposes of subsections (1) and (2), an individual policy or group certificate of insurance delivered in connection with an open-end credit agreement is considered to be delivered at the time the indebtedness is incurred if delivery occurs on or before the date the indebtedness is incurred.

33-21-205. Filing, approval, and withdrawal of forms and rates — disapproval. (1) With respect to credit life insurance or credit disability insurance:

(a) a policy, certificate of insurance, notice of proposed insurance, application for insurance, binder, endorsement, or rider may not be delivered or issued for delivery in Montana unless it has been filed with and approved by the commissioner, in accordance with 33-1-501, and the regulatory official of the state in which it is issued; and

(b) a schedule of premium rates pertaining to a policy, certificate of insurance, notice of proposed insurance, application for insurance, binder, endorsement, or rider may not be used in Montana unless it has been filed with the commissioner.

(2) With respect to credit life insurance or credit disability insurance and in accordance with 33-1-501, the commissioner may disapprove a policy, certificate of insurance, notice of proposed insurance, application for insurance, binder, endorsement, or rider:

(a) for a reason listed in 33-1-502;

(b) if the table of premium rates charged or to be charged appears by reasonable assumptions to be excessive in relation to benefits; or

(c) if it contains provisions that are unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading, deceptive, or encourage misrepresentation of the insurance.

(3) If the commissioner notifies the insurer that a form is disapproved, it is unlawful for the insurer to issue or use the form.

(4) An insurer may not issue or use a form after the commissioner withdraws approval of the form pursuant to 33-1-501. An order or final determination of the commissioner under this section is subject to judicial review.

33-21-206. Premiums and refunds. (1) Each insurer issuing credit life insurance or credit disability insurance shall file with the commissioner its schedules of premium rates for use in connection with such insurance. Any insurer may revise the schedules from time to time and shall file the revised schedules with the commissioner. No insurer may issue any credit life insurance policy or credit disability insurance policy for which the premium rate exceeds that determined by the schedules of such insurer as then on file with the commissioner. The commissioner may require the filing of the schedule of premium rates for use in connection with and as a part of the specific policy filings as provided by 33-21-205.

(2) Each individual policy, group certificate of insurance, or notice of proposed insurance of credit life insurance and credit disability insurance must provide that, if the insurance is terminated before the scheduled maturity date of the indebtedness, any refund of premium or amount paid by the debtor for insurance must be paid or credited promptly to the person entitled thereto; provided, however, that the commissioner shall prescribe a minimum refund and no refund which would be less than such minimum need be made. The formula to be used in computing refunds must be filed with and approved by the commissioner.

(3) If a creditor requires a debtor to make a payment in connection with credit life insurance or credit disability insurance and an individual policy or group certificate of insurance is not issued, the creditor shall immediately give written notice to the debtor and shall promptly make an appropriate credit to the account.

(4) The amount charged to a debtor for any credit life insurance or credit disability insurance may not exceed the premiums charged by the insurer, as computed at the time the charge to the debtor is determined.

(5) Nothing in this chapter may be construed to authorize any payments for insurance prohibited under a statute, or rule thereunder, governing credit transactions.

History: En. Sec. 402, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 113, L. 1967; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4211; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 156, L. 1989.

33-21-207. Issuance of policies. Each policy, certificate of insurance, or notice of proposed insurance of credit life insurance and credit disability insurance must be delivered or issued for delivery in Montana only by an insurer authorized to transact insurance in Montana and must, except as provided in 33-17-103, be issued only through a licensed insurance producer.

33-22-107. Premium increase restriction — exception — notice of rate increase and policy changes. (1) An insurer or a health service corporation that issues or renews a policy, certificate, or membership contract covering a resident of this state may not increase a premium in an individual's or an individual's group disability insurance policy more frequently than once during a 12-month period unless failure to increase the premium more frequently than once during the 12-month period would:

(a) place the insurer in violation of the laws of this state; or

(b) cause the financial impairment of the insurer to the extent that further transaction of insurance by the insurer injures or is hazardous to its policyholders or to the public.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a premium increase necessitated by a state or federal law, court decision, or rule adopted by an agency of competent jurisdiction of the state or federal government.

(3) (a) Every health insurance issuer delivering or issuing for delivery group or individual health insurance coverage shall give a group policyholder at least 60 days' advance notice and an individual policyholder at least 45 days' advance notice of a change in rates or a change in terms or benefits.

(b) A notice given under this subsection (3) must be delivered in the following manner:

(i) it must be mailed to the policyholder's last-known address as shown by the records of the insurer; and

(ii) if a health insurance issuer bills any certificate holder directly at the certificate holder's home address for premiums, the notice must be mailed by the health insurer directly to each certificate holder's last-known home address.

(c) If the health insurance issuer fails to provide the notice required by this subsection (3), the coverage must remain in effect at the existing rate with the existing benefits until the full notice period has expired or until the effective date of the replacement coverage obtained by the insured, whichever occurs first.

33-22-108 reserved.

33-22-109. Riders. (1) Except for group health insurance coverage provided by a group health plan or a health insurance issuer, a policy of disability insurance may contain a provision that excludes coverage for specific conditions through the use of elimination riders for conditions for which medical advice, diagnosis, care, or treatment was recommended by or received from a provider of health care services within 3 years preceding the effective date of coverage of an insured person. The provisions of 33-22-110 do not apply to elimination riders. An insured person may apply to the insurer for removal or modification of a rider, and the insurer shall respond to the application within 60 days of receipt.

(2) An insurer may not, except upon agreement by the insured, retroactively impose an elimination rider on an existing policy, certificate, or contract.

33-22-110. Preexisting conditions. (1) Except as provided in 33-22-246 and 33-22-514, a policy or certificate of disability insurance may not exclude coverage for a condition for which medical advice or treatment was recommended by or received from a provider of health care services unless the condition occurred within 5 years preceding the effective date of coverage of an insured person. The condition may only be excluded for a maximum of 12 months.

(2) An insurer may use an application form designed to elicit the complete health history of an applicant and, on the basis of the answers on that application, perform underwriting in accordance with the insurer's established underwriting standards.

(3) A policy of disability income insurance may not exclude coverage for a condition for which medical advice or treatment was recommended by or received from a provider of health care services unless the condition occurred within 5 years preceding the effective date of coverage of an insured person. An exclusion may not apply to a disability commencing more than 12 months from the effective date of coverage of an insured person.

33-22-111. Policies and certificates to provide for freedom of choice of practitioners — professional practice not enlarged. (1) All policies or certificates of disability insurance, including individual, group, and blanket policies or certificates, must provide that the insured has full freedom of choice in the selection of any licensed physician, physician assistant, dentist, osteopath, chiropractor, optometrist, podiatrist, psychologist, licensed social worker, licensed professional counselor, licensed marriage and family therapist, acupuncturist, naturopathic physician, physical therapist, speech-language pathologist, audiologist, licensed addiction counselor, or advanced practice registered nurse as specifically listed in 37-8-202 for treatment of any illness or injury within the scope and limitations of the person's practice. Whenever the policies or certificates insure against the expense of drugs, the insured has full freedom of choice in the selection of any licensed and registered pharmacist.

(2) This section may not be construed as enlarging the scope and limitations of practice of any of the licensed professions enumerated in subsection (1). This section may not be construed as amending, altering, or repealing any statutes relating to the licensing or use of hospitals.

(2) A disability insurance policy is considered issued in Montana if the insured purchasing the disability insurance policy is, at the time of the purchase, residing in the state of Montana.

(3) If the exclusion prohibited by this section appears in a disability insurance policy issued in Montana after February 14, 1973, the provision is void and the disability insurance policy will be considered to cover services rendered the insured in a Montana state institution if the services would have been covered if rendered to an insured outside a Montana state institution.

(4) Payment for services rendered in a Montana state institution must be to the same extent and at the same rates, according to the provisions of the disability policy, that would be paid for the services if rendered outside a Montana state institution.

33-22-113. Disability insurance coverage of persons eligible for public medical assistance. No disability insurance policy providing hospital, medical, or surgical expense benefits delivered or issued for delivery in this state on or after July 1, 1979, may contain any provision denying or reducing such benefits for the reason that the person insured is eligible for or receiving public medical assistance provided under Title 53, chapter 2.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 169, L. 1979.

33-22-114. Coverage required for services provided by physician assistants, advanced practice registered nurses, and registered nurse first assistants. An insurer, a health service corporation, or any employee health and welfare fund that provides accident or health insurance benefits to residents of this state shall provide, in group and individual insurance contracts, coverage as well as payment or reimbursement for health services provided by:

(1) a physician assistant as normally covered by contracts for services supplied by a physician if health care services that the physician assistant performs are covered by the contract;

(2) an advanced practice registered nurse, defined in 37-8-102, as normally covered by contracts for services supplied by a physician or a physician assistant if health care services that the advanced practice registered nurse is approved to perform are covered by the contract; and

(3) a registered nurse first assistant, licensed under Title 37, chapter 8, as normally covered by contracts for surgical services supplied by a physician, a physician assistant, or an advanced practice registered nurse if surgical services that the registered nurse first assistant is approved to perform are covered by the contract.

33-22-115. Provider agreement limited to covered services — dental network constraints — penalty — definitions. (1) A provider agreement entered into or renewed on or after July 1, 2013, between dentists licensed under Title 37, chapter 4, and an issuer that offers an excepted benefits plan for limited-scope dental benefits or a health benefit plan that includes covered services may not:

(a) require the dentist to provide dental services to an individual covered under the excepted benefits plan or health benefit plan at a fee set by or subject to the approval of the issuer unless the dental services are covered services; or

(b) prohibit the dentist from offering or providing to an individual covered under the excepted benefits plan or health benefit plan any dental services that are not covered services. The fee for the noncovered services may be determined only under terms or conditions set by the dentist or negotiated by the dentist with the individual covered under the excepted benefits plan or health benefit plan.

(c) provide minimal coverage for covered services under the provider agreement for the sole purpose of avoiding the requirements of this section.

(2) A business entity that owns a network of health care providers and markets access to that network may not circumvent the terms of this section by making available to an issuer of an excepted benefits plan for limited-scope dental benefits or a health benefit plan that includes covered services any dentists in that network if the business entity sets dental services fees in its network for any services except covered services.

(3) An issuer of an excepted benefits plan for limited-scope dental benefits or a health benefit plan that includes covered services is subject to a fine as provided in 33-1-317 for a violation of this section.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Covered services" means dental care services provided under a plan for limited-scope dental benefits or a health benefit plan for which a payment is available subject to the application of contractual terms, including but not limited to annual or lifetime maximums, deductibles, copayments, coinsurance, waiting periods, frequency limitations, or alternative benefit reimbursement.

(b) "Issuer" includes an insurer, a health service corporation, or a third-party administrator that offers or administers an excepted benefits plan for limited-scope dental benefits or a health benefit plan that includes covered services.

33-22-116. Prohibition on coverage of abortion services in qualified health plans. (1) A qualified health plan, as defined by 42 U.S.C. 18021, may not be offered or otherwise made available through a health insurance exchange established in the state pursuant to Public Law 111-148, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, if the plan provides coverage for abortion as defined in 50-20-104.

(2) The prohibition in this section does not apply to a plan that provides coverage for an abortion performed when:

(a) the life of the mother is endangered by a physical disorder, physical illness, or physical injury, including a life-endangering physical condition caused by or arising from the pregnancy itself; or

(b) the pregnancy is the result of an act of rape or incest.

33-22-121. Notice required for cancellation or refusal to renew. (1) An insurer may not cancel or refuse to renew a disability insurance policy or certificate until the insurer has mailed or delivered to the named insured and to the policyowner or certificate holder, as appropriate if they are not the same as the named insured, at the last-known address shown in the records of the company, one written notice in addition to any billing statement, stating the date the cancellation will become effective, which may not be earlier than:

(a) the beginning of the period for which premiums have not been paid in full if the notice of cancellation for nonpayment of premiums is mailed or delivered within 15 days after the due date of the missed premiums for that period;

(b) the date of mailing or delivery of notice of cancellation for nonpayment of premiums if notice of cancellation for nonpayment of premiums is not mailed or delivered within 15 days after the premium due date for the applicable policy period; or

(c) 90 days after the date of mailing or delivery of the notice of cancellation or refusal to renew for any reason other than nonpayment of premiums or a material misrepresentation contained in the application.

(2) An insurer shall give notice of cancellation at least 30 days in advance of cancellation for nonpayment of premiums or 90 days in advance of cancellation or refusal to renew for any reason other than nonpayment of premiums or a material misrepresentation contained in the application.

(3) An insurer may not cancel a disability insurance policy or a certificate based upon nonpayment of premiums if the premiums are paid in full within the 30-day notice period.

(4) The notice requirements in subsections (1) and (2) run concurrently with any grace period required by 33-22-206.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 723, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 191, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 399, L. 2007.

33-22-122. Contents of notice — proof — limitation on recovery — exemptions. (1) (a) The notice of cancellation must state:

(i) the amount of the premium, installment, or interest due on the policy or certificate;

(ii) the place where it must be paid; and

(iii) the name and address of the person or company to which the premium is payable.

(b) The notice must also state:

(i) that, unless the premium or other sums are paid to the company or its insurance producer, the policy or certificate will be canceled; and

(ii) the date, determined in accordance with 33-22-121, on which cancellation will become effective.

(2) "Policyowner" or "certificate holder", as used in this section, means the owner of the policy or certificate or any other person designated as the person to receive premium notices, as shown by the records of the insurance company.

(3) If any responsible officer, clerk, or insurance producer of the insurance company authorized to mail the notice states in an affidavit that it is the standard practice of the company to mail to policyowners or certificate holders the notice required by this section, the affidavit is prima facie evidence that the notice has been given.

(4) An action may not be maintained to recover under a lapsed or forfeited policy or certificate on the ground that the insurance company failed to comply with this section unless the action is instituted within 2 years from the due date upon which default was made in paying the premium, installment, or interest for which lapse or forfeiture is claimed.

(5) Section 33-22-121 does not apply to:

(a) group health plans; or

(b) industrial life or industrial disability policies.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 723, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 384, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 399, L. 2007.

33-22-123. Return of unearned premium. If an insured pays a premium in advance for coverage to any disability insurer licensed in this state and the insured subsequently cancels the coverage, the disability insurer shall refund the unearned portion of the premium. The disability insurer may consider the premium to be earned only on a calendar-month basis. The disability insurer may not charge the insured any fees or penalty for canceling the coverage. This section does not apply to a short-term disability policy that has a duration of 6 months or less.

33-22-124 reserved.

33-22-125. Independent chiropractic physical examination or review of records. (1) If a patient's attending health care professional is a licensed chiropractor, the following provisions govern the conduct of a utilization review of the health care services rendered to the patient by the chiropractor:

(a) If an independent physical examination is required by the insurer, it must be conducted by a chiropractor engaged in the practice of chiropractic in Montana.

(b) If a review of the patient's or the chiropractor's records is required by the insurer in the course of an appeal or a redetermination of an adverse determination of medical necessity or appropriateness made pursuant to an insurer's review, the review must be conducted by a person trained in the field of chiropractic. During an appeal or redetermination, the patient may, at the patient's expense, request an independent review of the patient's or the chiropractor's records by a chiropractor engaged in the practice of chiropractic in Montana and may require that review to be considered by the insurer in reaching its decision. If the initial adverse determination of medical necessity or appropriateness is reversed, the insurer shall bear the expense of the independent review.

(2) This section does not prevent a health care insurer from requesting additional medical review of a patient's condition or treatment by another chiropractor or medical provider.

(3) The provisions of this section do not apply to routine claim administration or determination by an insurer.

(4) As used in this section, "health care insurer" means:

(a) an insurer who provides disability insurance as defined in 33-1-207;

(b) a health service corporation as defined in 33-30-101;

(c) a health maintenance organization as defined in 33-31-102;

(d) a fraternal benefit society as defined in 33-7-108;

(e) an administrator as defined in 33-17-102; and

(f) any other entity regulated by the commissioner that provides health care coverage.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 727, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1221, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-22-126 reserved.

33-22-127. Coverage of oral therapy — opioid use disorder. A health insurance issuer may not impose prior authorization or step therapy requirements for an oral therapy prescription used to treat opioid use disorder.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-22-128. Coverage for children who are deaf or hard of hearing — definitions. (1) Health insurance coverage sold in the group or individual market in this state must provide coverage for diagnosis and treatment of various auditory ranges for a covered child 18 years of age or younger in accordance with subsection (2).

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), coverage under this section, in addition to diagnosis, must include treatment that is:

(i) a medical necessity; and

(ii) prescribed, provided, or ordered by a licensed health care provider to treat various auditory ranges of the covered child.

(b) Treatment may not include more than one hearing device with required accessories or amplification device with required accessories for each ear every 3 years or as required by an audiologist licensed under Title 37, chapter 15.

(3) Benefits provided under this section may not be construed as limiting physical health benefits that are otherwise available to the covered child.

(4) (a) Coverage under this section may be subject to deductibles, coinsurance, and copayment provisions and utilization review as provided in Title 33, chapter 32.

(b) Special deductible, coinsurance, copayment, or other limitations that are not generally applicable to other medical care covered under the plan may not be imposed on the coverage under this section.

(5) This section also applies to the state employee group insurance program, the university system employee group insurance program, any employee group insurance program of a city, town, school district, or other political subdivision of this state, and any self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that is not regulated by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.

(6) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, specific disease, or long-term care policies.

(7) As used in this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Amplification device" means a hearing device, hearing aid, or wearable, nondisposable, nonexperimental instrument or device designed to aid or compensate for various auditory ranges and any parts, attachments, or accessories for the instrument or device, including an ear mold but excluding batteries and cords.

(b) "Generally accepted standards of medical practice" means standards that are based on credible scientific evidence published in peer-reviewed medical literature generally recognized by the relevant medical community, physician specialty society recommendations, the view of physicians practicing in relevant clinical areas, and any other relevant factors.

(c) "Health care provider" means an individual licensed under Title 37, chapter 3, 15, or 20. A nurse practitioner licensed under Title 37, chapter 8, also is a health care provider for the purposes of this section.

(d) "Medical necessity" means health care services that a physician, exercising prudent clinical judgment, would provide to a patient for the purpose of preventing, evaluating, diagnosing, or treating an illness, injury, disease, or its symptoms, and that are:

(i) in accordance with generally accepted standards of medical practice;

(ii) clinically appropriate, in terms of type, frequency, extent, site, and duration, and considered effective for the patient's illness, injury, or disease;

(iii) not primarily for the convenience of the patient, physician, or other health care provider; and

(iv) not more costly than an alternative service or sequence of services at least as likely to produce equivalent therapeutic or diagnostic results as to the diagnosis or treatment of that patient's illness, injury, or disease.

(e) "Various auditory ranges" means a diversity in the hearing process that may occur in the outer, middle, or inner ear, whereby sound waves are not converted to electrical signals and nerve impulses are not transmitted to the brain to be interpreted.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 7, Ch. 237, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-22-129. Coverage for treatment of diabetes — outpatient self-management training and education — limited benefit for medically necessary equipment and supplies — limitations on cost-sharing requirements for insulin. (1) Each group disability policy, certificate of insurance, and membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage for outpatient self-management training and education for the treatment of diabetes. Any education must be provided by a licensed health care professional with expertise in diabetes.

(2) (a) Coverage must include an annual benefit for medically necessary and prescribed outpatient self-management training and education for the treatment of diabetes. At a minimum, the benefit must consist of:

(i) 20 visits of training and education in diabetes self-management provided in either an individual or group setting if the person has not received the training and education previously; and

(ii) 12 visits of followup diabetes self-management training and education services in subsequent years for an insured who has previously received and exhausted the initial 20 visits of education.

(b) Nothing in subsection (2)(a) prohibits an insurer from providing a greater benefit.

(c) For the purposes of this subsection (2), the term "visit" refers to a period of 30 minutes.

(3) (a) Each group disability policy, certificate of insurance, and membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage for diabetic equipment and supplies that is limited to insulin, syringes, injection aids, devises for self-monitoring of glucose levels (including those for the visually impaired), test strips, visual reading and urine test strips, one insulin pump for each warranty period, accessories to insulin pumps, one prescriptive oral agent for controlling blood sugar levels for each class of drug approved by the United States food and drug administration, and glucagon emergency kits.

(b) Coverage for insulin must limit the insured's required copayment or other cost-sharing requirement for insulin to $35 for up to a 30-day supply of insulin, regardless of the amount or type of insulin prescribed. The limitation in this subsection (3)(b) applies to insulin covered by the insurer's or group health plan's formulary.

(4) Annual copayment and deductible provisions are subject to the same terms and conditions applicable to all other covered benefits within a given policy.

(5) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, specific disease, or long-term care policies.

(6) (a) This section does not apply to any employee group insurance program of a city, town, county, school district, or other political subdivision of this state that on January 1, 2002, provides substantially equivalent or greater coverage for outpatient self-management training and education for the treatment of diabetes and certain diabetic equipment and supplies provided for in subsection (3).

(b) Any employee group insurance program of a city, town, county, school district, or other political subdivision of this state that reduces or discontinues substantially equivalent or greater coverage after January 1, 2002, is subject to the provisions of this section.

33-22-130. Coverage for adopted children from time of placement — preexisting conditions. (1) Each group and individual disability policy, certificate of insurance, or membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage for an adopted child of the insured or subscriber to the same extent as for natural children of the insured or subscriber.

(2) The coverage required by this section must be effective from the date of placement for the purpose of adoption and must continue unless the placement is disrupted prior to legal adoption and the child is removed from placement. Coverage at the time of placement must include the necessary care and treatment of medical conditions existing prior to the date of placement and may not impose a preexisting condition exclusion.

(3) As used in this section, "placement" means the transfer of physical custody of a child who is legally free for adoption to a person who intends to adopt the child.

33-22-131. Coverage for treatment of inborn errors of metabolism. (1) Each group or individual medical expense disability policy, certificate of insurance, and membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage for the treatment of inborn errors of metabolism that involve amino acid, carbohydrate, and fat metabolism and for which medically standard methods of diagnosis, treatment, and monitoring exist.

(2) Coverage must include expenses of diagnosing, monitoring, and controlling the disorders by nutritional and medical assessment, including but not limited to clinical services, biochemical analysis, medical supplies, prescription drugs, corrective lenses for conditions related to the inborn error of metabolism, nutritional management, and medical foods used in treatment to compensate for the metabolic abnormality and to maintain adequate nutritional status.

(3) For purposes of this section:

(a) "medical foods" means nutritional substances in any form that are:

(i) formulated to be consumed or administered enterally under supervision of a physician;

(ii) specifically processed or formulated to be distinct in one or more nutrients present in natural food;

(iii) intended for the medical and nutritional management of patients with limited capacity to metabolize ordinary foodstuffs or certain nutrients contained in ordinary foodstuffs or who have other specific nutrient requirements as established by medical evaluation; and

(iv) essential to optimize growth, health, and metabolic homeostasis;

(b) "treatment" means licensed professional medical services under the supervision of a physician.

(4) These services are subject to the terms of the applicable group or individual disability policy, certificate, or membership contract that establishes durational limits, dollar limits, deductibles, and copayment provisions as long as the terms are not less favorable than for physical illness generally.

(5) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, or specified disease policies.

33-22-132. Coverage for minimum mammography and other breast examinations. (1) Each group or individual medical expense and blanket disability policy, certificate of insurance, and membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage of minimum mammography and other breast examinations as provided in this section.

(2) For the purpose of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Cost-sharing requirement" means a deductible, coinsurance, copayment, and any maximum limitation on the application of a deductible, coinsurance, copayment, or similar out-of-pocket expense.

(b) (i) "Diagnostic breast examination" means a medically necessary and clinically appropriate examination of the breast that is used to evaluate an abnormality seen or suspected from a screening examination for breast cancer or detected by another means of examination.

(ii) The term includes examinations using diagnostic mammography, breast magnetic resonance imaging, or breast ultrasound.

(c) "Minimum mammography examination" means:

(i) one baseline mammogram for a woman who is 35 years of age or older and under 40 years of age;

(ii) a mammogram every 2 years for any woman who is 40 years of age or older and under 50 years of age or more frequently if recommended by the woman's physician; and

(iii) a mammogram each year for a woman who is 50 years of age or older.

(d) (i) "Supplemental breast examination" means a medically necessary and clinically appropriate examination of the breast that is used to screen for breast cancer when there is no abnormality seen or suspected and is based on personal or family medical history or other factors that may increase a person's risk of breast cancer.

(ii) The term includes examination using breast magnetic resonance imaging or breast ultrasound.

(3) A minimum $70 payment or the actual charge if the charge is less than $70 must be made for each minimum mammography examination performed before the application of the terms of the applicable group or individual disability policy, certificate of insurance, or membership contract that establish durational limits, deductibles, and copayment provisions as long as the terms are not less favorable than for physical illness generally.

(4) (a) Except as provided in subsection (4)(b), a group health plan or a health insurance issuer offering group or individual health insurance coverage may not impose any cost-sharing requirements for a diagnostic breast examination or supplemental breast examination rendered by a preferred provider as defined in 33-22-1703 when the plan or coverage provides screening benefits, supplemental breast examinations, and diagnostic breast examinations furnished to an individual enrolled under the plan or coverage.

(b) If, under federal law, application of subsection (4)(a) would result in health savings account ineligibility under section 223 of the federal Internal Revenue Code, this requirement may apply only, for health savings account-qualified high deductible health plans with respect to the deductible of the plan after the individual has satisfied the plan's minimum deductible as required by section 223, except for with respect to items or services that are preventive care pursuant to section 223(c)(2)(C) of the federal Internal Revenue Code, in which case the requirements of subsection (4)(a) apply regardless of whether the plan's minimum deductible has been satisfied.

(5) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, or specified disease policies.

33-22-133. Coverage for minimum hospital stay following childbirth. (1) For the purposes of this section, "attending health care provider" means a person licensed under Title 37 who is responsible for providing obstetrical and pediatric care to a mother and newborn infant.

(2) Each group or individual policy, certificate of disability insurance, subscriber contract, membership contract, or health care services agreement that provides coverage for maternity services, including benefits for childbirth, must provide coverage for at least 48 hours of inpatient hospital care following a vaginal delivery and at least 96 hours of inpatient hospital care following delivery by cesarean section for a mother and newborn infant in a health care facility as defined in 50-5-101.

(3) A decision to shorten the length of inpatient stay to less than that provided under subsection (2) must be made by the attending health care provider and the mother. A health benefit plan, as defined in 33-22-1803, may not terminate the service of an attending health care provider or penalize or otherwise provide financial disincentives to an attending health care provider in response to orders by the attending health care provider for care consistent with the provisions of this section.

(4) A health benefit plan that provides coverage for postdelivery care that is provided to a mother and newborn infant in the home may not be required to provide coverage of inpatient care under subsection (2) unless the inpatient care is determined to be medically necessary by the attending health care provider.

(5) A health benefit plan, as defined in 33-22-243, must provide written notice, in a manner consistent with the provisions of this chapter, to all enrollees, insureds, or subscribers regarding the coverage required by this section.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 183, L. 1997.

33-22-134. Postmastectomy care. Each group and individual disability policy, certificate of insurance, or membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage for hospital inpatient care for a period of time as is determined by the attending physician and, in the case of a health maintenance organization, also the primary care physician, in consultation with the patient, to be medically necessary following a mastectomy, a lumpectomy, or a lymph node dissection for the treatment of breast cancer. This section also applies to any employee group insurance program of a city, town, county, school district, or other political subdivision of the state, and any self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that is not regulated by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 410, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 54, L. 2011.

33-22-135. Coverage for reconstructive breast surgery after mastectomy — benefits and conditions. (1) Each group and individual disability policy, certificate of insurance, or membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage for:

(a) all stages of reconstruction of the breast on which a mastectomy has been performed;

(b) surgery and reconstruction of the other breast to produce a symmetrical appearance; and

(c) prostheses and physical complications of a mastectomy, including lymphedemas.

(2) The treatment covered under subsection (1) must be determined in consultation with the attending physician and the patient.

(3) The coverage required under this section may be subject to annual deductibles and coinsurance provisions consistent with those established for other benefits under an insurance policy, a membership contract, or a certificate of insurance.

(4) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "mastectomy" means the surgical removal of all or part of a breast;

(b) "reconstructive breast surgery" means surgery performed as a result of a mastectomy to reestablish symmetry between the breasts. The term includes but is not limited to augmentation mammoplasty, reduction mammoplasty, and mastopexy.

(5) Benefits for reconstructive breast surgery under any contract providing outpatient x-ray or radiation therapy include benefits for outpatient chemotherapy following surgical procedures in connection with the treatment of breast cancer that must be included as a part of the outpatient x-ray or radiation therapy benefit.

(6) An insurer shall provide written notice in compliance with the model language of the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 to a covered person of the availability of benefits with respect to the Women's Health and Cancer Rights Act of 1998 upon enrollment and subsequently on an annual basis.

(7) (a) An insurer may not deny to an individual eligibility or continued eligibility to enroll or to renew coverage under the terms of a plan solely for the purpose of avoiding the requirements of this section.

(b) An insurer may not penalize or otherwise reduce or limit the reimbursement of an attending health care provider or provide incentives to an attending health care provider to induce the health care provider to provide care for a covered person in a manner that is inconsistent with this section.

33-22-136. Insurance for spouse and dependents of deceased peace officer, game warden, or firefighter. (1) Any insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization issuing group disability coverage to the spouse or dependents of a peace officer as defined in 45-2-101, a game warden as defined in 19-8-101, a firefighter as defined in 19-13-104, or a volunteer firefighter as defined in 19-17-102 shall renew the coverage of the spouse or dependents if the peace officer, game warden, firefighter, or volunteer firefighter dies within the course and scope of employment. This section also applies to an employee group insurance program of a city, town, county, school district, or other political subdivision of the state, and any self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement not regulated by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 that provides coverage for a peace officer, game warden, firefighter, or volunteer firefighter. Except as provided in subsection (2), the continuation of the coverage is at the option of the spouse or dependents. Renewals of coverage under this section must provide for the same level of benefits as are available to other members of the group. Premiums charged to a spouse or dependent under this section must be the same as premiums charged to other similarly situated members of the group. Dependent special enrollment must be allowed under the terms of 33-22-523(2) and (3). The provisions of this subsection are applicable to a spouse or dependent who is insured under a COBRA continuation provision.

(2) A disability insurance issuer subject to the provisions of subsection (1) may discontinue or not renew the coverage of a spouse or dependent only if:

(a) the spouse or dependent has failed to pay premiums or contributions in accordance with the terms of the disability insurance coverage or if the disability insurer has not received timely premium payments;

(b) the spouse or dependent has performed an act or practice that constitutes fraud or has made an intentional misrepresentation of a material fact under the terms of the coverage; or

(c) the disability insurance issuer is ceasing to offer coverage in the group disability market in accordance with applicable state law.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 178, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 54, L. 2011.

33-22-137. Cost-sharing requirements — applicability. (1) Each group or individual health insurance policy, certificate of insurance, and membership contract that covers prescription drugs and that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide that after the applicable deductible is met, the insured shall pay only the required copayment or other cost-sharing requirement for a covered prescription drug at the time of purchase if the prescription drug dispenser, third-party administrator, or health insurance issuer can determine that amount at the time of purchase.

(2) This section applies to blanket policies issued pursuant to Title 33, chapter 22, part 6.

(3) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, or long-term care policies.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 271, L. 2009.

33-22-138. Coverage for telehealth services — rulemaking. (1) Each group or individual policy, certificate of disability insurance, subscriber contract, membership contract, or health care services agreement that provides coverage for health care services must provide coverage for health care services provided by a health care provider or health care facility by means of telehealth if the services are otherwise covered by the policy, certificate, contract, or agreement.

(2) A policy, certificate, contract, or agreement may not:

(a) impose restrictions involving:

(i) the site at which the patient is physically located and receiving health care services by means of telehealth; or

(ii) the site at which the health care provider is physically located and providing the services by means of telehealth; or

(b) distinguish between telehealth services provided to patients in rural locations and telehealth services provided to patients in urban locations.

(3) Coverage under this section must be equivalent to the coverage for services that are provided in person by a health care provider or health care facility.

(4) Nothing in this section may be construed to require:

(a) a health insurance issuer to provide coverage for services that are not medically necessary, subject to the terms and conditions of the insured's policy;

(b) coverage of an otherwise noncovered benefit;

(c) a health care provider to be physically present with a patient at the site where the patient is located unless the health care provider who is providing health care services by means of telehealth determines that the presence of a health care provider is necessary; or

(d) except as provided in 16-12-509 or as provided in Title 37 and related administrative rules, a patient to have a previously established patient-provider relationship with a specific health care provider in order to receive health care services by means of telehealth.

(5) Coverage under this section may be subject to deductibles, coinsurance, and copayment provisions. Deductibles, coinsurance, copayment, or other limitations that are imposed on the coverage for services provided by means of telehealth may not be more than deductibles, coinsurance, copayment, or other limitations that are applicable to other medical services covered under the plan.

(6) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, specified disease, or long-term care policies.

(7) The commissioner may adopt rules necessary to implement the provisions of this section.

(8) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Health care facility" means a critical access hospital, hospice, hospital, long-term care facility, mental health center, outpatient center for primary care, or outpatient center for surgical services licensed pursuant to Title 50, chapter 5.

(b) "Health care provider" means an individual:

(i) licensed pursuant to Title 37, chapter 3, 4, 6, 7, 10, 11, 15, 17, 20, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, or 35;

(ii) licensed pursuant to Title 37, chapter 8, to practice as a registered professional nurse or as an advanced practice registered nurse;

(iii) certified by the American board of genetic counseling as a genetic counselor; or

(iv) certified by the national certification board for diabetes educators as a diabetes educator.

(c) (i) "Telehealth" means the use of audio, video, or other telecommunications technology or media, including audio-only communication, that is:

(A) used by a health care provider or health care facility to deliver health care services; and

(B) delivered over a secure connection that complies with state and federal privacy laws.

(ii) The term does not include delivery of health care services by means of facsimile machines or electronic messaging alone. The use of facsimile and electronic message is not precluded if used in conjunction with other audio, video, or telecommunications technology or media.

(iii) For physicians providing written certification of a debilitating medical condition pursuant to 16-12-509, the term does not include audio-only communication unless the physician has previously established a physician-patient relationship through an in-person encounter.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 19, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-22-139. Coverage of therapies for Down syndrome. (1) Health insurance coverage sold in the group or individual market in this state must provide coverage for diagnosis and treatment of Down syndrome for a covered child 18 years of age or younger.

(2) Coverage under this section must include:

(a) habilitative or rehabilitative care that is prescribed, provided, or ordered by a licensed physician, including but not limited to professional, counseling, and guidance services and treatment programs that are medically necessary to develop and restore, to the maximum extent practicable, the functioning of the covered child; and

(b) medically necessary therapeutic care that is provided as follows:

(i) up to 104 sessions per year with a speech-language pathologist licensed pursuant to Title 37;

(ii) up to 52 sessions per year with a physical therapist licensed pursuant to Title 37; and

(iii) up to 52 sessions per year with an occupational therapist licensed pursuant to Title 37.

(3) Habilitative and rehabilitative care includes medically necessary interactive therapies derived from evidence-based research, including intensive intervention programs and early intensive behavioral intervention.

(4) Benefits provided under this section may not be construed as limiting physical health benefits that are otherwise available to the covered child.

(5) (a) Coverage under this section may be subject to deductibles, coinsurance, and copayment provisions.

(b) Special deductible, coinsurance, copayment, or other limitations that are not generally applicable to other medical care covered under the plan may not be imposed on the coverage for Down syndrome therapies provided for under this section.

(6) When treatment is expected to require continued services, the insurer may request that the treating physician provide a treatment plan consisting of diagnosis, proposed treatment by type and frequency, the anticipated duration of treatment, the anticipated outcomes stated as goals, and the reasons the treatment is medically necessary. The treatment plan must be based on evidence-based screening criteria. The insurer may ask that the treatment plan be updated every 6 months.

(7) As used in this section, "medically necessary" means any care, treatment, intervention, service, or item that is prescribed, provided, or ordered by a physician licensed in this state and that will or is reasonably expected to:

(a) reduce or improve the physical, mental, or developmental effects of Down syndrome; or

(b) assist in achieving maximum functional capacity in performing daily activities, taking into account both the functional capacity of the recipient and the functional capacities that are appropriate for a child of the same age.

(8) This section applies to the state employee group insurance program, the university system employee group insurance program, any employee group insurance program of a city, town, school district, or other political subdivision of this state, and any self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that is not regulated by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.

(9) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, specific disease, or long-term care policies.

33-22-140. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Beneficiary" has the meaning given the term by 29 U.S.C. 1002(33).

(2) "Church plan" has the meaning given the term by 29 U.S.C. 1002(33).

(3) "COBRA continuation provision" means:

(a) section 4980B of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 4980B, other than subsection (f)(1) of that section as that subsection relates to pediatric vaccines;

(b) Title I, subtitle B, part 6, excluding section 609, of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.; or

(c) Title XXII of the Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. 300dd, et seq.

(4) (a) "Creditable coverage" means coverage of the individual under any of the following:

(i) a group health plan;

(ii) health insurance coverage;

(iii) Title XVIII, part A or B, of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 1395c through 1395i-4 or 42 U.S.C. 1395j through 1395w-4;

(iv) Title XIX of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 1396a through 1396u, other than coverage consisting solely of a benefit under section 1928, 42 U.S.C. 1396s;

(v) Title 10, chapter 55, United States Code;

(vi) a medical care program of the Indian health service or of a tribal organization;

(vii) a health plan offered under Title 5, chapter 89, of the United States Code;

(viii) a public health plan;

(ix) a health benefit plan under section 5(e) of the Peace Corps Act, 22 U.S.C. 2504(e); or

(x) a high-risk pool in any state.

(b) Creditable coverage does not include coverage consisting solely of coverage of excepted benefits.

(5) "Dependent" means:

(a) a spouse;

(b) an unmarried child under 25 years of age:

(i) who is not an employee eligible for coverage under a group health plan offered by the child's employer for which the child's premium contribution amount is no greater than the premium amount for coverage as a dependent under a parent's individual or group health plan;

(ii) who is not a named subscriber, insured, enrollee, or covered individual under any other individual health insurance coverage, group health plan, government plan, church plan, or group health insurance;

(iii) who is not entitled to benefits under 42 U.S.C. 1395, et seq.; and

(iv) for whom the insured parent has requested coverage;

(c) a child of any age who is disabled and dependent upon the parent as provided in 33-22-506 and 33-30-1003; or

(d) any other individual defined as a dependent in the health benefit plan covering the employee.

(6) "Elimination rider" means a provision attached to a policy that excludes coverage for a specific condition that would otherwise be covered under the policy.

(7) "Enrollment date" means, with respect to an individual covered under a group health plan or health insurance coverage, the date of enrollment of the individual in the plan or coverage or, if earlier, the first day of the waiting period for enrollment.

(8) "Excepted benefits" means:

(a) coverage only for accident or disability income insurance, or both;

(b) coverage issued as a supplement to liability insurance;

(c) liability insurance, including general liability insurance and automobile liability insurance;

(d) workers' compensation or similar insurance;

(e) automobile medical payment insurance;

(f) credit-only insurance;

(g) coverage for onsite medical clinics;

(h) other similar insurance coverage under which benefits for medical care are secondary or incidental to other insurance benefits, as approved by the commissioner;

(i) if offered separately, any of the following:

(i) limited-scope dental or vision benefits;

(ii) benefits for long-term care, nursing home care, home health care, community-based care, or any combination of these types of care; or

(iii) other similar, limited benefits as approved by the commissioner;

(j) if offered as independent, noncoordinated benefits, any of the following:

(i) coverage only for a specified disease or illness; or

(ii) hospital indemnity or other fixed indemnity insurance;

(k) if offered as a separate insurance policy:

(i) medicare supplement coverage;

(ii) coverage supplemental to the coverage provided under Title 10, chapter 55, of the United States Code; and

(iii) similar supplemental coverage provided under a group health plan.

(9) "Federally defined eligible individual" means an individual:

(a) for whom, as of the date on which the individual seeks coverage in the group market or individual market, the aggregate of the periods of creditable coverage is 18 months or more;

(b) whose most recent prior creditable coverage was under a group health plan, governmental plan, church plan, or health insurance coverage offered in connection with any of those plans;

(c) who is not eligible for coverage under:

(i) a group health plan;

(ii) Title XVIII, part A or B, of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 1395c through 1395i-4 or 42 U.S.C. 1395j through 1395w-4; or

(iii) a state plan under Title XIX of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 1396a through 1396u, or a successor program;

(d) who does not have other health insurance coverage;

(e) for whom the most recent coverage within the period of aggregate creditable coverage was not terminated for factors relating to nonpayment of premiums or fraud;

(f) who, if offered the option of continuation coverage under a COBRA continuation provision or under a similar state program, elected that coverage; and

(g) who has exhausted continuation coverage under the COBRA continuation provision or program described in subsection (9)(f) if the individual elected the continuation coverage described in subsection (9)(f).

(10) "Group health insurance coverage" means health insurance coverage offered in connection with a group health plan or health insurance coverage offered to an eligible group as described in 33-22-501.

(11) "Group health plan" means an employee welfare benefit plan, as defined in 29 U.S.C. 1002(1), to the extent that the plan provides medical care and items and services paid for as medical care to employees or their dependents, directly or through insurance, reimbursement, or otherwise.

(12) "Health insurance coverage" means benefits consisting of medical care, including items and services paid for as medical care, that are provided directly, through insurance, reimbursement, or otherwise, under a policy, certificate, membership contract, or health care services agreement offered by a health insurance issuer.

(13) (a) "Health insurance issuer" means an insurer, a health service corporation, or a health maintenance organization.

(b) The term does not include a direct patient care agreement established pursuant to 50-4-107.

(14) "Individual health insurance coverage" means health insurance coverage offered to individuals in the individual market, but does not include short-term limited duration insurance.

(15) "Individual market" means the market for health insurance coverage offered to individuals other than in connection with group health insurance coverage.

(16) "Large employer" means, in connection with a group health plan, with respect to a calendar year and a plan year, an employer who employed an average of at least 51 employees on business days during the preceding calendar year and who employs at least two employees on the first day of the plan year.

(17) "Large group market" means the health insurance market under which individuals obtain health insurance coverage directly or through any arrangement on behalf of themselves and their dependents through a group health plan or group health insurance coverage issued to a large employer.

(18) "Late enrollee" means an eligible employee or dependent, other than a special enrollee under 33-22-523, who requests enrollment in a group health plan following the initial enrollment period during which the individual was entitled to enroll under the terms of the group health plan if the initial enrollment period was a period of at least 30 days. However, an eligible employee or dependent is not considered a late enrollee if a court has ordered that coverage be provided for a spouse, minor, or dependent under a covered employee's health benefit plan and a request for enrollment is made within 30 days after issuance of the court order.

(19) "Medical care" means:

(a) the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease or amounts paid for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body;

(b) transportation primarily for and essential to medical care referred to in subsection (19)(a); or

(c) insurance covering medical care referred to in subsections (19)(a) and (19)(b).

(20) "Network plan" means health insurance coverage offered by a health insurance issuer under which the financing and delivery of medical care, including items and services paid for as medical care, are provided, in whole or in part, through a defined set of providers under contract with the issuer.

(21) "Plan sponsor" has the meaning provided under section 3(16)(B) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1002(16)(B).

(22) "Preexisting condition exclusion" means, with respect to coverage, a limitation or exclusion of benefits relating to a condition based on presence of a condition before the enrollment date coverage, whether or not any medical advice, diagnosis, care, or treatment was recommended or received before the enrollment date.

(23) "Small group market" means the health insurance market under which individuals obtain health insurance coverage directly or through an arrangement, on behalf of themselves and their dependents, through a group health plan or group health insurance coverage maintained by a small employer as defined in 33-22-1803.

(24) "Waiting period" means, with respect to a group health plan and an individual who is a potential participant or beneficiary in the group health plan, the period that must pass with respect to the individual before the individual is eligible to be covered for benefits under the terms of the group health plan.

33-22-141. Crediting previous coverage. (1) (a) A period of creditable coverage may not be counted, with respect to enrollment of an individual under a group health plan, if there was a 63-day break in coverage.

(b) The 63-day period provided for in subsection (1)(a) must be counted from the date that the certificate of creditable coverage was issued to the individual.

(2) The time that an individual is in a waiting period for coverage under a group health plan or for group health insurance coverage or is in an affiliation period, as defined in 33-31-102, may not be considered in determining the continuous period under subsection (1).

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4), for the purposes of applying 33-22-514, a group health plan or a health insurance issuer offering group health insurance coverage shall count a period of creditable coverage without regard to the specific benefits coverage during the period.

(4) (a) A group health plan or a health insurance issuer offering group health insurance may elect to apply the provisions of 33-22-514 based on coverage of benefits within each of several classes or categories of benefits specified in regulations implementing Public Law 104-191, rather than as provided under subsection (3). If electing to apply the provisions of 33-22-514 pursuant to this subsection (4), a group health plan or a health insurance issuer shall:

(i) make the election on a uniform basis for all participants and beneficiaries; and

(ii) count a period of creditable coverage with respect to any class or category of benefits if any level of benefits is covered within the class or category.

(b) In the case of an election under this subsection (4), a group health plan shall:

(i) prominently state in a disclosure statement concerning the group health plan to each enrollee at the time of enrollment that the group health plan has made an election; and

(ii) include a description of the effect of the election in the statement.

(c) In the case of an election under this subsection (4), a health insurance issuer shall:

(i) prominently state in a disclosure statement concerning the health insurance coverage to each employer at the time of the offer or sale of the health insurance coverage that the health insurance issuer has made an election; and

(ii) include a description of the effect of the election in the statement.

(5) Periods of creditable coverage with respect to an individual must be established through presentation of certifications described in 33-22-142 or in such other manner as may be specified in regulations implementing Public Law 104-191.

33-22-142. Certification of creditable coverage. (1) (a) A group health plan and a health insurance issuer offering group or individual health insurance coverage shall issue the certification described in subsection (3) within 10 days after a request by an individual who ceases to be covered under the group or individual health plan.

(b) A request for the certification may be made no later than 24 months after the date of termination of coverage.

(2) The certification may be provided, to the extent practicable, at a time consistent with notices required under any applicable COBRA continuation provision.

(3) Certification is the written:

(a) certification of the period of creditable coverage of the individual under a group or individual health plan and the coverage under any applicable COBRA continuation provision;

(b) certification of the waiting period, if any, and affiliation period, as defined in 33-31-102, if applicable, imposed with respect to the individual for any coverage under a group health plan;

(c) certification of the date of issuance of the certificate specified on the form; and

(d) notification to the individual of:

(i) the individual's conversion rights;

(ii) the availability of COBRA continuation coverage; and

(iii) other notification as determined necessary and in the form prescribed by rule by the commissioner.

(4) To the extent that medical care under a group health plan consists of group health insurance coverage, a group health plan satisfies the certification requirement of this section if the health insurance issuer offering the coverage provides the certification in accordance with this section.

(5) In the case of an election described in 33-22-141 by a group health plan or health insurance issuer, if the group health plan or health insurance issuer enrolls an individual for coverage under the group health plan and the individual provides a certification of coverage of the individual, the entity that issued the certification shall upon request of the group health plan or health insurance issuer promptly disclose information on coverage of classes and categories of health benefits available under the certified coverage. The entity may charge the requesting group health plan or health insurance issuer the reasonable cost of disclosing the information.

(6) At the time that an individual ceases to be covered by a group or individual health plan, the group health plan or health insurance issuer shall notify the individual that the individual may request the certification described in subsection (3) within the timeframes described in subsection (1).

33-22-143. Rules. The commissioner may adopt rules to implement 33-22-140 through 33-22-142, 33-22-246, 33-22-247, 33-22-514, and 33-22-523 through 33-22-526.

History: En. Sec. 45, Ch. 416, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 63, L. 2015.

33-22-149. (Effective October 1, 2026) Reciprocity in gender transition treatment coverage required. (1) A group or individual insurance policy that includes coverage for gender transition treatment or subsequent treatment directly related to the provision of gender transition treatment must also include coverage for detransition treatment under equivalent cost-sharing policies.

(2) If the group or individual insurance policy ceases coverage for gender transition treatment, the policy is not required to provide equivalent coverage for detransition treatment, except that the policy must provide equivalent coverage to insureds who were enrolled when gender transition treatment coverage was provided and received benefits under that coverage.

(3) For the purposes of this section "gender transition treatment" means the following medical treatments provided:

(a) to a female to address her perception that her gender or sex is not female:

(i) surgical procedures, including a vaginectomy, hysterectomy, oophorectomy, ovariectomy, reconstruction of the urethra, metoidioplasty, phalloplasty, scrotoplasty, implantation of erection or testicular protheses, subcutaneous mastectomy, voice surgery, and pectoral implants;

(ii) supraphysiologic doses of testosterone or other androgens; or

(iii) puberty blockers, such as GnRH agonists or other synthetic drugs that suppress the production of estrogen and progesterone to delay or suppress pubertal development in female minors; and

(b) to a male to address his perception that his gender or sex is not male:

(i) surgical procedures, including a penectomy, orchiectomy, vaginoplasty, clitoroplasty, vulvoplasty, augmentation mammoplasty, facial feminization surgery, voice surgery, thyroid cartilage reduction, and gluteal augmentation;

(ii) supraphysiologic doses of estrogen; or

(iii) puberty blockers, such as GnRH agonists or other synthetic drugs that suppress the production of testosterone to delay or suppress pubertal development in male minors.

33-22-150. Reciprocal limitations on claim filing and claim audits — time limit for reimbursements or offsets — exceptions. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3), (4), or (5), if a health insurance issuer limits the time in which a health care provider or other person is required to submit a claim for payment, the health insurance issuer has the same time limit following payment of the claim to perform any review or audit to reconsider the validity of the claim and to request reimbursement or offset another claim payment for reimbursement of an invalid claim or overpayment of a claim.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), (4), or (5), if a health insurance issuer does not limit the time in which a health care provider or other person is required to submit a claim for payment, the health insurance issuer may not request reimbursement or offset another claim payment for reimbursement of an invalid claim or overpayment of a claim more than 12 months after the payment of an invalid or overpaid claim.

(3) Regardless of the period allowed by a health insurance issuer for submission of claims for payment, the health insurance issuer may perform a review or audit to reconsider the validity of a claim and may request reimbursement or offset another claim payment for reimbursement of an invalid or overpaid claim within 12 months from the date upon which the health insurance issuer received notice of a determination, adjustment, or agreement regarding the amount payable with respect to a claim by:

(a) medicare;

(b) a workers' compensation insurer;

(c) another health insurance issuer or group health plan;

(d) a liable or potentially liable third party; or

(e) a foreign health insurance issuer under an agreement among plans operating in different states when the agreement provides for payment by the Montana health insurance issuer as host plan to Montana providers for services provided to an individual under a plan issued outside of the state of Montana.

(4) (a) The time limitations on the health insurance issuer in subsections (1) and (2) do not commence running until the time specified in subsection (4)(b) if the health insurance issuer pays a claim in which the health insurance issuer:

(i) suspects the health care provider or claimant of insurance fraud related to the claim; and

(ii) has reported evidence of fraud related to the claim to the commissioner pursuant to 33-1-1205.

(b) The time limitation commences running on the date that the commissioner determines that insufficient evidence of fraud exists.

(5) The time limitations on the health insurance issuer in subsections (1) and (2) do not commence running until the health insurance issuer has actual knowledge of an invalid claim, claim overpayment, or other incorrect payment if the health insurance issuer has paid a claim incorrectly because of an error, misstatement, misrepresentation, omission, or concealment, other than insurance fraud, by the health care provider or other person. Regardless of the date upon which the health insurance issuer obtains actual knowledge of an invalid claim, claim overpayment, or other incorrect payment, this subsection does not permit the health insurance issuer to request reimbursement or to offset another claim payment for reimbursement of the claim more than 24 months after payment of the claim.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 20, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-22-151. Offset agreement. A health insurance issuer may not collect a claim overpayment or other reimbursement by offsetting another claim payment made to a health care provider or other person unless the health care provider or other person has previously authorized the health insurance issuer in writing to recover an overpayment or other reimbursement by offsetting a future claim payment.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 290, L. 2005.

33-22-152. Continuation of dependent coverage. A health insurance issuer that issues or renews an individual or a group health insurance policy, certificate, or membership contract under which an individual's or employee's dependents are eligible for coverage may not terminate coverage on the basis of the age of an unmarried dependent, as defined in 33-22-140(5)(b), prior to the dependent reaching 25 years of age. Except as otherwise provided by law, the continuation of the coverage of the dependent, as defined in 33-22-140(5)(b), is at the option of the covered employee.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 356, L. 2007.

33-22-153. Coverage of routine patient costs for participants in cancer clinical trials — definitions — limitations. (1) A plan of group or individual health insurance coverage that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state may not:

(a) deny participation by a qualified individual in an approved clinical trial;

(b) deny, limit, or impose additional conditions on the coverage of routine patient costs; or

(c) discriminate against an individual on the basis of the individual's participation in an approved clinical trial.

(2) A network plan may require a qualified individual who wishes to participate in an approved clinical trial to participate in a trial that is offered through a provider who is part of the network plan if the provider is participating in the trial and the provider accepts the individual as a participant in the trial.

(3) This section applies to a qualified individual who participates in an approved clinical trial that is conducted outside of Montana.

(4) This section does not require a health insurance issuer offering individual or group health insurance coverage to provide benefits for routine patient costs if the services are provided outside of the network plan offered by the health insurance coverage unless out-of-network benefits are otherwise provided under the coverage.

(5) As used in this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Approved clinical trial" means a phase I, phase II, phase III, or phase IV clinical trial that is conducted in relation to the prevention, detection, or treatment of cancer and is not designed exclusively to test toxicity or disease pathophysiology. The trial must be:

(i) conducted under an investigational new drug application reviewed by the United States food and drug administration;

(ii) exempt from obtaining an investigational new drug application; or

(iii) approved or funded by:

(A) the national institutes of health, the centers for disease control and prevention, the agency for healthcare research and quality, the centers for medicare and medicaid services, or a cooperative group or center of any of the entities described in this subsection (5)(a)(iii)(A);

(B) a cooperative group or center of the United States department of defense or the United States department of veterans affairs;

(C) a qualified nongovernmental research entity identified in the guidelines issued by the national institutes for health for center support groups; or

(D) the United States departments of veterans affairs, defense, or energy if the study or investigation has been reviewed and approved through a system of peer review determined by the United States secretary of health and human services to:

(I) be comparable to the system of peer review of studies and investigations used by the national institutes of health; and

(II) provide unbiased scientific review by individuals who have no interest in the outcome of the review.

(b) "Qualified individual" means an individual with health insurance coverage who is eligible to participate in an approved clinical trial according to the trial protocol for the treatment of cancer because:

(i) the referring health care professional is participating in the clinical trial and has concluded that the individual's participation in the trial would be appropriate; or

(ii) the individual provides medical and scientific information establishing that the individual's participation in the clinical trial is appropriate because the individual meets the conditions described in the trial protocol.

(c) (i) "Routine patient costs" include all items and services covered by a plan of individual or group health insurance coverage when the items or services are typically covered for a qualified individual who is not enrolled in an approved clinical trial.

(ii) The term does not include:

(A) an investigational item, device, or service that is part of the trial;

(B) an item or service provided solely to satisfy data collection and analysis needs for the trial if the item or service is not used in the direct clinical management of the patient;

(C) a service that is clearly inconsistent with widely accepted and established standards of care for the individual's diagnosis; or

(D) an item or service customarily provided and paid for by the sponsor of a clinical trial.

33-22-154. Coverage for refill of eyedrops. (1) Each group or individual policy, certificate of disability insurance, subscriber contract, membership contract, or health care services agreement that provides coverage of prescription eyedrops may not deny coverage for a refill of a prescription eyedrop if:

(a) the eyedrop is a covered benefit under the policy, contract, or agreement;

(b) the prescriber indicates on the original prescription that additional quantities are needed;

(c) the refill requested by the insured does not exceed the number of additional quantities needed; and

(d) (i) an amount of time has passed in which the insured should have used 70% of the dosage unit of the drug according to the prescriber's instructions; or

(ii) (A) 21 days have passed since a 30-day supply of the eyedrop was dispensed;

(B) 42 days have passed since a 60-day supply of the eyedrop was dispensed; or

(C) 63 days have passed since a 90-day supply of the eyedrop was dispensed.

(2) (a) Coverage under this section may be subject to deductibles, coinsurance, and copayment provisions and to utilization review as provided in Title 33, chapter 32.

(b) Special deductible, coinsurance, copayment, or other limitations that are not generally applicable to other medical care covered under the plan may not be imposed on the coverage under this section.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 179, L. 2023.

33-22-155. Coverage of contraceptives. (1) Each group or individual disability policy, certificate of insurance, or membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state that includes coverage for prescription contraceptives must provide reimbursement for up to a 12-month supply of any covered drug, device, or product for contraception that is prescribed and that has been approved by the U.S. food and drug administration.

(2) The coverage under this section must allow the insured to renew and refill a 12-month prescription a minimum of 60 days before the prescription expires.

(3) The coverage under this section must allow the insured to receive the 12-month supply at one time unless the insured requests less than a 12-month supply or a health care provider specifically prescribes less than a 12-month supply.

(4) If the insured's prescriber recommends a specific contraceptive drug, device, or product approved by the U.S. food and drug administration based on medical necessity, the insurer shall defer to the prescriber's determination and provide coverage for the prescribed contraceptive if the prescribed contraceptive drug, device, or product is covered by the insurer.

(5) Coverage required under this section may not:

(a) in the absence of clinical contraindications, impose utilization controls or other forms of medical management to limit the supply of covered contraceptive drugs, devices, or products that will be reimbursed to less than a 12-month supply;

(b) require prior authorization for coverage of prescription contraceptives, except to review the medical necessity of prescribing a 12-month supply of a brand-name contraceptive instead of a 12-month supply of a generic-name contraceptive;

(c) impose a waiting period for the coverage required under this section; or

(d) impose a special deductible, coinsurance, copayment, or other limitation on prescription contraceptives covered under this section that are not generally applicable to other medical care covered under the plan.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 600, L. 2023.

33-22-156. Health insurance rates — filing required — use. (1) Each health insurance issuer that issues, delivers, or renews individual or small employer group health insurance coverage in the individual or small employer group market shall, at least 60 days before the rate goes into effect, file with the commissioner its rates, fees, dues, and other charges for each product form intended for use in Montana, together with sufficient information to support the premium to be charged as described in 33-22-156 through 33-22-159. This filing may be made simultaneously with a notice of premium increase to policyholders and certificate holders required by 33-22-107.

(2) A health insurance issuer may submit a single combined justification for rate increases subject to review affecting multiple products if the claims experience of all products has been aggregated to calculate the rate increases and the rate increases are the same for all products. Rate increases are determined by combining the total amount of increases taken on a single product form or market segment, if the rate increase is the same for all products, over a 12-month period. A market segment means the individual or small group market.

(3) The commissioner may waive the 60-day filing requirement under subsection (1) if the rate increase is implemented pursuant to 33-22-107(1)(b). However, the rates and justifications for the rate increase still must be filed.

(4) The health insurance issuer shall submit a new filing to reflect any material change to the previous rate filing. For all other changes, the insurer shall submit an amendment to a previous rate filing. The insurer may file an actuarial trend to phase in rate increases over a 12-month period. The insurer may file amendments to that trend within the 12-month period.

(5) The filing of rates for health plans must include:

(a) the product form number or numbers and approval date of the product form or forms to which the rate applies;

(b) a statement of actuarial justification; and

(c) information sufficient to support the rate as described in 33-22-157.

(6) The commissioner shall prescribe the form and content of the information required under this section.

(7) A rate filing required under this section must be submitted by a qualified actuary representing the health insurance issuer. The qualified actuary shall certify in a form prescribed by the commissioner that, to the best of the actuary's knowledge and belief, the rates are not excessive, inadequate, unjustified, or unfairly discriminatory, as described in 33-22-157, and comply with the applicable provisions of Title 33 and rules adopted pursuant to Title 33.

(8) The rate filing must be delivered by the national association of insurance commissioners' system for electronic rate and form filing.

(9) Subject to 33-22-157(4), an insurer may use a rate filing under this section 60 days after the date of filing with the commissioner.

(10) Sections 33-22-156 through 33-22-159 do not apply to coverage consisting solely of excepted benefits as defined in 33-22-140.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 334, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 22, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-22-157. Standards for review — notice of deficiency. (1) (a) When reviewing a premium rate filing, the commissioner shall consider whether the proposed premium rate is excessive, inadequate, unjustified, or unfairly discriminatory. Rates may be considered excessive if they cause the premium charged for the health insurance coverage to be unreasonably high in relation to the benefits provided under the coverage. In order to determine if the rate is excessive, the commissioner shall consider whether:

(i) the assumptions on which the rate increase is based are reasonable; and

(ii) one or more of the assumptions is not supported by the evidence.

(b) Rates may be considered inadequate if the rate is unreasonably low for the coverage provided, and the commissioner may consider if the rate would endanger the solvency of the insurer or disrupt the insurance market in Montana.

(c) A rate increase may be considered unjustified if the health insurance issuer provides data or documentation in connection with the increase that is incomplete, inadequate, or otherwise does not provide a basis upon which the reasonableness of an increase may be determined.

(d) Rates may be considered unfairly discriminatory if they violate 33-18-206, 33-22-526, 49-2-309, or other applicable state laws prohibiting discrimination in health insurance.

(2) In order to determine whether the proposed premium rates for health insurance coverage are not excessive, inadequate, unjustified, or unfairly discriminatory, the commissioner may consider:

(a) the health insurance issuer's financial position, including but not limited to surplus, reserves, and investment savings;

(b) historical and projected administrative costs and medical and hospital expenses, including medical trends;

(c) the historical and projected medical loss ratio;

(d) changes to covered benefits or health plan design, along with actuarial projections concerning cost savings or additional expenses related to those changes;

(e) changes in the health insurance issuer's health care cost containment and quality improvement efforts following the health insurance issuer's last rate filing for the same category of health plan;

(f) product development and startup costs, drug and other benefit costs or expenses, and product age and credibility;

(g) whether the proposed change in the premium rate is necessary to maintain the health insurance issuer's solvency or to maintain rate stability and prevent excessive rate increases in the future;

(h) historical and projected claims experience;

(i) trend projections related to utilization and service or unit cost;

(j) allocation of the overall rate increase to claims and nonclaims costs;

(k) allocation of current and projected premium for each enrollee each month;

(l) the 3-year history of rate increases for the product or group of products associated with the rate increase if the product is 3 years old or older and otherwise any available rate history;

(m) employee and executive compensation data from the health insurance issuer's annual financial statements; and

(n) any other applicable information identified in administrative rules adopted pursuant to Title 33, except that the administrative rules may not include by reference any provisions of Public Law 111-148 and Public Law 111-152 or any regulations promulgated under those laws.

(3) The commissioner shall review rate filings and, if applicable, shall provide a notice of deficiencies containing detailed reasons describing why the commissioner finds that the proposed premium rate is excessive, inadequate, unjustified, or unfairly discriminatory. The notice must be provided within 60 days of receipt of filing.

(4) Within 30 days after receiving a notice of deficiencies alleging that a proposed rate is excessive, inadequate, unjustified, or unfairly discriminatory, the insurer may amend its rate filing, request reconsideration based upon additional information, or, unless the rate is unfairly discriminatory pursuant to subsection (1)(d), implement the proposed rate.

(5) At the end of the 30-day period described in subsection (4), if the insurer implements a rate that the commissioner has determined to be excessive, inadequate, or unjustified, the commissioner shall publish the finding on the commissioner's website indicating the commissioner's determination.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 334, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 24, Ch. 151, L. 2017.

33-22-158. Trade secret disclosure exemption. The commissioner, upon request by the health insurance issuer, may exempt from disclosure any part of a premium rate filing submitted pursuant to 33-22-156 that the commissioner determines to contain trade secrets as defined in 30-14-402. The commissioner may not disclose that part of a filing that is subject to a health insurance issuer's request until the commissioner makes a determination under this section. The commissioner shall provide the issuer with 30 days' advance notice of the determination before releasing the information to the public.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 334, L. 2013.

33-22-159. Rulemaking. The commissioner may adopt rules necessary to implement the provisions of 33-22-156 through 33-22-159, except that the administrative rules may not include by reference any provisions of Public Law 111-148 and Public Law 111-152 or any regulations promulgated under those laws.

33-22-170. (Temporary) Definitions. As used in 33-22-170 through 33-22-177 and 33-22-180, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Contract pharmacy" means a pharmacy operating under contract with a federally certified health entity to provide dispensing services to the federally certified health entity.

(2) "Effective rate contracting" means an agreement or arrangement between a pharmacy or a contracting agent acting on behalf of a pharmacy and a pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer that establishes a reimbursement rate for pharmaceuticals based on the effective rate of payment rather than on a predetermined fixed price or a fixed discount percentage. An effective rate of payment involves any calculation for which pharmacy reimbursement is based on an aggregation of more than one claim, rather than on a per-claim basis.

(3) "Federally certified health entity" means a 340B covered entity as described in 42 U.S.C. 256b(a)(4).

(4) "Independent pharmacy" means a pharmacy as defined in 37-7-101 that:

(a) is licensed with the board of pharmacy as a pharmacy;

(b) is located in the state; and

(c) is not owned or operated by or a subsidiary or affiliate of:

(i) a for-profit entity with more than 10 pharmacy locations nationwide;

(ii) a pharmacy benefit manager; or

(iii) a publicly traded entity.

(5) "Maximum allowable cost list" means the list of drugs used by a pharmacy benefit manager that sets the maximum cost on which reimbursement to a network pharmacy or pharmacist is based.

(6) "Pharmacist" means a person licensed by the state to engage in the practice of pharmacy pursuant to Title 37, chapter 7.

(7) "Pharmacy" means an established location, either physical or electronic, that is licensed by the board of pharmacy pursuant to Title 37, chapter 7, and that has entered into a network contract with a pharmacy benefit manager, health insurance issuer, or plan sponsor.

(8) "Pharmacy benefit manager" means a person who contracts with pharmacies on behalf of a health insurance issuer, third-party administrator, or plan sponsor to process claims for prescription drugs, provide retail network management for pharmacies or pharmacists, pay pharmacies or pharmacists for prescription drugs, or provide other prescription drug or device services.

(9) "Pharmacy performance measurement entity" means:

(a) the electronic quality improvement platform for plans and pharmacies; or

(b) an entity approved by the board of pharmacy provided for in 2-15-1733 as a nationally recognized and unbiased entity that assists pharmacies in improving performance measures.

(10) "Pharmacy services administrative organization" means an entity that acts as a contracting agent or provides contracting and other administrative services to pharmacies to assist them in their interactions with third-party payers and pharmacy benefit managers.

(11) "Prescription drug" means any drug that is required by federal law or regulation to be dispensed only by a prescription subject to section 353(b) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.

(12) "Prescription drug order" has the meaning provided in 37-7-101.

(13) "Reference pricing" means a calculation for the price of a pharmaceutical that uses the most current nationally recognized reference price or amount to set the reimbursement for prescription drugs and other products, supplies, and services covered by a network contract between a plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager and a pharmacy or pharmacist. (Terminates June 30, 2029—sec. 8, Ch. 474, L. 2025.)

33-22-170. (Effective July 1, 2029) Definitions. As used in 33-22-170 through 33-22-177 and 33-22-180, the following definitions apply:

Applicability: Section 7, Ch. 474, L. 2025, provided: "[This act] applies to conduct occurring on or after October 1, 2025."

33-22-172. (Temporary) Maximum allowable cost or reference price list — price formulation, updating, and disclosure — exceptions. (1) At the time of entering into a contract with a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization and subsequently upon request, a plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager shall provide the pharmacy or pharmacy services administrative organization with the sources used to determine the pricing for the maximum allowable cost list or the reference used for reference pricing.

(2) If using a maximum allowable cost list, a plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager shall:

(a) review and update the price information for each drug on the maximum allowable cost list at least once every 10 calendar days to reflect any modification of pricing, ensuring that maximum allowable cost increases are processed and updated on the same schedule as decreases;

(b) establish a process for eliminating products from the maximum allowable cost list or modifying the prices in the maximum allowable cost list in a timely manner to remain consistent with pricing changes and product availability in the marketplace; and

(c) provide a process for each pharmacy to readily access the maximum allowable cost list specific to the pharmacy in a searchable and usable format.

(3) If using reference pricing, a plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager shall:

(a) review and update not less than every 10 business days the price information for each drug, product, supply, or service for which reference pricing is used, updating reference pricing on the same date of the change in the referenced source; and

(b) provide a process for each pharmacy to readily access the reference pricing specific to the plan sponsor or the health insurance issuer's plan.

(4) A plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager may not:

(a) prohibit a pharmacist from discussing reimbursement criteria with a covered person;

(b) penalize a pharmacy or a pharmacist for disclosing the information described in subsection (4)(a) to a covered person or for selling a more affordable alternative to a covered person; or

(c) require a pharmacy to charge or collect a copayment from a covered person that exceeds the total charges submitted by the network pharmacy.

(5) (a) A plan sponsor, pharmacy benefits manager, or third-party payer shall ensure that reimbursement to independent pharmacies for each drug dispensed is not less than the national average drug acquisition cost plus a professional dispensing fee that is not less than the minimum specified in this subsection (5). The national average drug acquisition cost price must be the price published in effect for the day the drug claim was billed by the pharmacy.

(b) In the event that a particular drug does not have a published national average drug acquisition price, the reimbursement to independent pharmacies must be:

(i) for generic drugs, 100% of published wholesale acquisition costs plus a professional dispensing fee that is not less than the minimum specified in this subsection (5); and

(ii) for brand-name drugs, 100% of wholesale acquisition costs plus a professional dispensing fee that is not less than the minimum specified in this subsection (5).

(c) The minimum professional dispensing fee for independent pharmacies is $15, subject to an annual increase. On January 1 of each year, a plan sponsor, pharmacy benefits manager, or third-party payer shall increase the amount of the minimum professional dispensing fee for independent pharmacies for inflation. Inflation is measured by the annual percentage increase, if any, in the consumer price index, U.S. city average, all urban consumers, for all items, as published by the bureau of labor statistics of the United States department of labor.

(d) This subsection (5) does not apply to reimbursements to pharmacies under Title 39, chapter 71. (Terminates June 30, 2029—sec. 8, Ch. 474, L. 2025.)

33-22-172. (Effective July 1, 2029) Maximum allowable cost or reference price list — price formulation, updating, and disclosure — exceptions. (1) At the time of entering into a contract with a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization and subsequently upon request, a plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager shall provide the pharmacy or pharmacy services administrative organization with the sources used to determine the pricing for the maximum allowable cost list or the reference used for reference pricing.

(2) If using a maximum allowable cost list, a plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager shall:

(a) review and update the price information for each drug on the maximum allowable cost list at least once every 10 calendar days to reflect any modification of pricing;

(b) establish a process for eliminating products from the maximum allowable cost list or modifying the prices in the maximum allowable cost list in a timely manner to remain consistent with pricing changes and product availability in the marketplace; and

(c) provide a process for each pharmacy to readily access the maximum allowable cost list specific to the pharmacy in a searchable and usable format.

(3) If using reference pricing, a plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager shall:

(a) review and update no less than every 10 business days the price information for each drug, product, supply, or service for which reference pricing is used; and

(b) provide a process for each pharmacy to readily access the reference pricing specific to the plan sponsor or the health insurance issuer's plan.

33-22-173. Maximum allowable cost — appeals process. (1) In contracting with a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization, a plan sponsor or pharmacy benefit manager shall:

(a) provide a procedure by which a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization may appeal the price of a drug or drugs on the maximum allowable cost list;

(b) provide a telephone number at which a network pharmacy may contact the pharmacy benefit manager to discuss the status of the pharmacy's appeal; and

(c) respond to an appeal no later than 10 calendar days after the date the appeal is made.

(2) If the final determination is a denial of the pharmacy's or the pharmacy services administrative organization's appeal, the pharmacy benefit manager shall state the reason for the denial and provide the national drug code of an equivalent drug that is available for purchase by pharmacies in this state from national or regional wholesalers at a price that is equal to or less than the maximum allowable cost for that drug.

(3) If a pharmacy's or a pharmacy services administrative organization's appeal is determined to be valid by the pharmacy benefit manager, the pharmacy benefit manager shall:

(a) make an adjustment in the drug price effective on the date the appeal is resolved;

(b) make the adjustment applicable to all similarly situated network pharmacy providers as determined by the plan sponsor or the pharmacy benefit manager, as appropriate; and

(c) permit the appealing pharmacy to reverse and rebill the claim in question, using the dates of the original claim or claims.

(4) A pharmacy benefit manager shall make price adjustments to all similarly situated pharmacies within 3 days.

(5) A pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization shall file its appeal within 10 calendar days from the time of denial by the pharmacy benefit manager.

33-22-174. Opt-out of reference pricing — notification. (1) A pharmacist or pharmacy in a network plan with a plan sponsor, health insurance issuer, or pharmacy benefit manager providing covered drugs on a reference pricing basis may decline to provide a brand-name drug, multisource generic drug, supply, or service if the reference pricing amount is less than the acquisition cost paid by the pharmacy or pharmacist.

(2) If a pharmacist or pharmacy declines to provide the prescription or service under the conditions in subsection (1), the pharmacy or pharmacist shall attempt to provide the customer with adequate information as to where the prescription for the drug, supply, or service may be filled.

(3) A pharmacy or pharmacist who declines to provide the prescription or service as provided in subsection (2) shall cooperate with any investigation and review of network adequacy.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 136, L. 2017; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-22-175. (Temporary) Allowable and prohibited fees on pharmacies. (1) A pharmacy benefit manager, a third-party payer, or a discount card processor may not directly or indirectly charge or hold a pharmacy responsible for a fee, including but not limited to the following:

(a) a fee for submission of a claim;

(b) any other claim-related fee;

(c) a fee for enrollment or participation in a retail pharmacy network;

(d) a credentialing or recredentialing fee;

(e) a fee for the development or management of claims processing services or claims payment services; or

(f) a fee on remittance advice or a fee that is retroactive.

(2) Only criteria established by a pharmacy performance measurement entity may be used to measure a pharmacy's performance for the purposes of this section.

(3) A pharmacy benefits manager or third-party payer may not make or allow any reduction in payment for pharmacy services by a pharmacy benefits manager or third-party payer or directly or indirectly reduce a payment for a pharmacy service under a reconciliation process to an effective rate of reimbursement, including generic effective rates, brand effective rates, direct and indirect remuneration fees, or any other reduction or aggregate reduction of payments.

(4) All reimbursements to pharmacies must be made through direct bank transfers, checks, or other payment methods that do not incur processing fees for the pharmacy. Checks must have a 180-day expiration to deposit. (Terminates June 30, 2029—sec. 8, Ch. 474, L. 2025.)

33-22-175. (Effective July 1, 2029) Allowable and prohibited fees on pharmacies. (1) A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may not directly or indirectly charge or hold a pharmacy responsible for a fee related to a claim:

(a) if the fee is not apparent at the time the claim is processed;

(b) if the fee is not reported on the remittance advice of an adjudicated claim; or

(c) after the initial claim is adjudicated.

(2) A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may collect a performance-based fee from a pharmacy only if the pharmacy fails to meet the criteria established by a pharmacy performance measurement entity. The fee may be applied only to the professional dispensing fee outlined in the contract with the pharmacy and may not be imposed on the cost of goods sold by a pharmacy.

(3) Only criteria established by a pharmacy performance measurement entity may be used to measure a pharmacy's performance for the purposes of this section.

33-22-176. Limitation on copayments. A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may not charge a patient a copayment that exceeds the cost of the prescription drug. If a patient pays a copayment, the dispensing provider or pharmacy may retain the adjudicated reimbursement and the pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may not alter the adjudicated reimbursement.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 88, L. 2019.

33-22-177. (Temporary) Rights of pharmacies. (1) A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may not prohibit a pharmacist or pharmacy from:

(a) participating in a class-action lawsuit;

(b) disclosing to the plan sponsor or to the patient information regarding the adjudicated reimbursement paid to the pharmacy if the pharmacist or pharmacy complies with the requirements of the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, 29 U.S.C. 1181 et seq.;

(c) providing relevant information to a patient about the patient's prescription drug order, including but not limited to the cost and clinical efficacy of a more affordable alternative drug if one is available;

(d) mailing or delivering a prescription drug to a patient as an ancillary service of a pharmacy if the practice is not prohibited under Title 37, chapter 7; or

(e) charging a shipping and handling fee to a patient who has asked that a prescription drug be mailed or delivered if the practice is not prohibited under Title 37, chapter 7.

(2) A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may not:

(a) require pharmacy accreditation standards or recertification requirements inconsistent with, more stringent than, or in addition to federal and state requirements for licensure as a pharmacy in this state; or

(b) exclude a pharmacy from the pharmacy benefit manager's or third-party payer's network based solely on the pharmacy being newly opened or open less than a defined amount of time, or because a license or location transfer occurs, unless there is a pending investigation for fraud, waste, or abuse.

(3) A pharmacist or pharmacy that belongs to a pharmacy services administrative organization may receive a copy of a contract the pharmacy services administrative organization entered into with a pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer on the pharmacy's or pharmacist's behalf.

(4) A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer shall provide a pharmacy or pharmacist with the processor control number, bank identification number, and group number for each pharmacy network established or administered by a pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer to enable the pharmacy to make an informed contracting decision.

(5) (a) A pharmacy benefit manager shall:

(i) offer a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization an opportunity to renew an existing contract every 3 years, at a minimum;

(ii) allow a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization to terminate a contract upon a 90-day notice to the pharmacy benefit manager;

(iii) ensure pharmacy credentialing applications are processed and that pharmacies are added to applicable networks within 45 calendar days after all needed documentation has been submitted by the pharmacy or the pharmacy services administrative organization; and

(iv) ensure pharmacy ownership changes are processed and that the pharmacy can process prescriptions for applicable networks within 30 calendar days after all needed documentation has been submitted by the pharmacy or the pharmacy services administrative organization.

(b) An addendum or amendment to an existing contract between a pharmacy benefit manager and a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization is effective only upon signing of the addendum or amendment by both parties.

(6) A pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization has a private right of action to enforce provisions of 33-22-175 through 33-22-177.

(7) Effective rate contracting is prohibited in all agreements between pharmacies or contracting agents acting on behalf of a pharmacy and a pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer. A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may not enter into any contract that establishes payment for services or medications based on an effective rate of reimbursement. A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer found to be in violation of this section is subject to penalties, including but not limited to fines, revocation of licensure, or other disciplinary actions.

(8) A pharmacy benefit manager may not:

(a) reimburse a network pharmacy an amount less than the contract price between the pharmacy benefit manager and the insurer, third-party payer, or the pharmacy services management organization the pharmacy benefit manager has contracted with; or

(b) require or coerce a patient to use a pharmacy that is owned by or affiliated with the pharmacy benefit manager.

(9) A pharmacy benefit manager shall apply the same utilization review, fees, copayments or cost-sharing, days allowance, and other conditions on a covered person when the covered person obtains a prescription drug from a pharmacy that is included in the pharmacy benefit manager's pharmacy network, including mail-order pharmacies and the pharmacy benefit manager's owned, affiliated, or preferred pharmacies.

(10) If a covered person is using a mail-order pharmacy, the pharmacy benefit manager shall allow for dispensing at local network pharmacies under the following circumstances to ensure patient access to prescription drugs:

(a) if the prescription is delayed more than 1 day after the expected delivery date provided by the mail-order pharmacy; or

(b) if the prescription drug arrives in an unusable condition as determined by the patient.

(11) A pharmacy benefit manager may not require the usage of mail order for a patient residing in an area where the U.S. postal service does not provide service delivery to a physical address. (Terminates June 30, 2029—sec. 8, Ch. 474, L. 2025.)

33-22-177. (Effective July 1, 2029) Rights of pharmacies. (1) A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may not prohibit a pharmacist or pharmacy from:

(a) participating in a class-action lawsuit;

(b) disclosing to the plan sponsor or to the patient information regarding the adjudicated reimbursement paid to the pharmacy if the pharmacist or pharmacy complies with the requirements of the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, 29 U.S.C. 1181 et seq.;

(c) providing relevant information to a patient about the patient's prescription drug order, including but not limited to the cost and clinical efficacy of a more affordable alternative drug if one is available;

(d) mailing or delivering a prescription drug to a patient as an ancillary service of a pharmacy if the practice is not prohibited under Title 37, chapter 7; or

(e) charging a shipping and handling fee to a patient who has asked that a prescription drug be mailed or delivered if the practice is not prohibited under Title 37, chapter 7.

(2) A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer may not require pharmacy accreditation standards or recertification requirements inconsistent with, more stringent than, or in addition to federal and state requirements for licensure as a pharmacy in this state.

(3) A pharmacist or pharmacy that belongs to a pharmacy services administrative organization may receive a copy of a contract the pharmacy services administrative organization entered into with a pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer on the pharmacy's or pharmacist's behalf.

(4) A pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer shall provide a pharmacy or pharmacist with the processor control number, bank identification number, and group number for each pharmacy network established or administered by a pharmacy benefit manager or third-party payer to enable the pharmacy to make an informed contracting decision.

(5) (a) A pharmacy benefit manager shall:

(i) offer a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization an opportunity to renew an existing contract every 3 years, at a minimum; and

(ii) allow a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization to terminate a contract upon a 90-day notice to the pharmacy benefit manager.

(b) An addendum or amendment to an existing contract between a pharmacy benefit manager and a pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization is effective only upon signing of the addendum or amendment by both parties.

(6) A pharmacy or a pharmacy services administrative organization has a private right of action to enforce provisions of 33-22-175 through 33-22-177.

33-22-180. Contract coverage — nondiscrimination — penalty. (1) A health insurance issuer, a plan sponsor not subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, or a pharmacy benefit manager may not include in a contract with a federally certified health entity provisions that allow:

(a) payment for a prescription drug to the federally certified health entity or a contract pharmacy at less than the state rate determined by surveys used to develop national average drug acquisition costs for the centers for medicare and medicaid services or, if a national average drug acquisition cost has not been calculated, a payment less than the wholesale acquisition cost described in 42 U.S.C. 1395w-3a(c)(6)(B); or

(b) an additional fee or charge or other adjustment that is imposed only on the federally certified health entity or its contract pharmacy. Other adjustments under this subsection (1)(b) include but are not limited to payment of a lower dispensing fee or requiring an add-on payment.

(2) A patient eligible to receive drugs under an agreement covered by 42 U.S.C. 256b may not be discriminated against through conditions imposed on a federally certified health entity or its contract pharmacy through which the patient is eligible to receive drugs.

(3) If a health insurance issuer, plan sponsor not subject to Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended, or a pharmacy benefit manager is found guilty of violating subsection (1) or (2), the insurance commissioner shall impose a fine for each separate entity not to exceed $5,000 for each violation, subject to a maximum fine of no more than $100,000 in any year.

Individual Policy Requirements

Approval of forms by Commissioner, Title 33, ch. 1, part 5.

Life and disability insurance policy language simplification, 33-15-321 through 33-15-329.

33-22-201. Format and content. An individual policy of disability insurance may not be delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state unless it otherwise complies with this code and complies with the following:

(1) The entire money and other considerations for the policy must be expressed in the policy.

(2) The time when the insurance takes effect and terminates must be expressed in the policy.

(3) The policy may insure only one person, except that a policy may insure, originally or by subsequent amendment, upon the application of an adult member of a family who is the policyholder, any two or more eligible members of that family, including husband, wife, dependent children or any children under a specified age that may not exceed 25 years, and any other person dependent upon the policyholder.

(4) The style, arrangement, and overall appearance of the policy may not give undue prominence to any portion of the text, and every printed portion of the text of the policy and of any endorsements or attached papers must be plainly printed in lightfaced type of a style in general use, the size of which must be uniform and not less than 10 point with a lowercase, unspaced alphabet length not less than 120 point.

(5) The "text" must include all printed matter except the name and address of the insurer, name or title of the policy, the brief description, if any, and captions and subcaptions.

(6) The exceptions and reductions of indemnity must be set forth in the policy and, other than those contained in 33-22-204 through 33-22-215 and 33-22-221 through 33-22-230, must be printed, at the insurer's option, either included with the benefit provision to which they apply or under an appropriate caption such as "Exceptions" or "Exceptions and Reductions", except that if an exception or reduction specifically applies only to a particular benefit of the policy, a statement of the exception or reduction must be included with the benefit provision to which it applies.

(7) The policy may not contain a provision purporting to make any portion of the charter, rules, constitution, or bylaws of the insurer a part of the policy unless the portion is set forth in full in the policy, except in the case of the incorporation of or reference to a statement of rates or classification of risks or short-rate table filed with the commissioner.

33-22-202. Required provisions — captions — omissions — substitutions — order. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), each policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state must contain the provisions specified in 33-22-204 through 33-22-215, as those provisions appear. However, the insurer may, at its option, substitute for one or more of the provisions corresponding provisions of different wording approved by the commissioner and not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary. Each provision must be preceded by the applicable caption shown or, at the option of the insurer, by the appropriate individual or group captions or subcaptions as the commissioner may approve.

(2) If any provision is in whole or in part inapplicable to or inconsistent with the coverage provided by a particular form of policy, the insurer, with the approval of the commissioner, shall omit from the policy any inapplicable provision or part of a provision and shall modify any inconsistent provision or part of a provision in a manner that makes the provision contained in the policy consistent with the coverage provided by the policy.

(3) The provisions that are the subject of 33-22-204 through 33-22-215, 33-22-221 through 33-22-230, and 33-22-232 or any corresponding provisions used in accordance with the cited sections must be printed in the consecutive order of the provisions in the sections. However, at the option of the insurer, any provision may appear as a unit in any part of the policy with other provisions to which it may be logically related if the resulting policy is not in whole or in part unintelligible, uncertain, ambiguous, abstruse, or likely to mislead a person to whom the policy is offered, delivered, or issued.

33-22-203. Requirement of other jurisdictions — statutes — violation. (1) Any policy of a foreign or alien insurer, when delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state, may contain any provision which is not less favorable to the insured or the beneficiary than the provisions of parts 1 through 4 of this chapter and which is prescribed or required by the law of the state or country under which the insurer is organized.

(2) Any policy of a domestic insurer may, when issued for delivery in any other state or country, contain any provision permitted or required by the laws of such other state or country.

(3) No policy provision which is not subject to parts 1 through 4 of this chapter shall make a policy, or any portion thereof, less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary than the provisions thereof which are subject to this chapter.

(4) A policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this state in violation of parts 1 through 4 of this chapter shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided in parts 1 through 4 of this chapter. When any provision in a policy subject to parts 1 through 4 of this chapter is in conflict with any provision of parts 1 through 4 of this chapter, the rights, duties, and obligations of the insurer, the insured, and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of parts 1 through 4 of this chapter.

33-22-205. Time limit on certain defenses. (1) There shall be a provision as follows:

"Time Limit on Certain Defenses: (1) After 2 years from the date of issue of this policy no misstatements, except fraudulent misstatements, made by the applicant in the application for such policy shall be used to void the policy or to deny a claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after the expiration of such 2-year period.

(2) No claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after 2 years from the date of issue of this policy shall be reduced or denied on the ground that a disease or physical condition not excluded from coverage by name or specific description effective on the date of loss had existed prior to the effective date of coverage of this policy."

(2) Policy provision (1) of subsection (1) shall not be so construed as to affect any legal requirement for avoidance of a policy or denial of a claim during such initial 2-year period or to limit the application of 33-22-222 through 33-22-226 in the event of misstatement with respect to age or occupation or other insurance.

(3) A policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premium until at least age 50 or, in the case of a policy issued after age 44, for at least 5 years from its date of issue, may contain in lieu of policy provision (1) of subsection (1) the following provision (from which the clause in parentheses may be omitted at the insurer's option) under the caption "Incontestable":

"After this policy has been in force for a period of 2 years during the lifetime of the insured (excluding any period during which the insured is disabled), it shall become incontestable as to the statements contained in the application."

History: En. Sec. 355, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4005; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 303, L. 1981.

33-22-206. Grace period. (1) There must be a provision as follows:

"Grace Period: A grace period of.... (insert a number not less than 7 for weekly premium policies, 10 for monthly premium policies, and 31 for all other policies) days will be granted for the payment of each premium falling due after the first premium, during which grace period the policy must continue in force."

(2) A policy in which the insurer reserves the right to refuse renewal must include the following language at the beginning of the provision contained in subsection (1):

"If the insurer does not deliver to the insured or mail to the insured's last address as shown by the records of the insurer a written notice at least 30 days prior to the premium due date of its intention not to renew this policy beyond the period for which the premium has been accepted."

33-22-207. Reinstatement. (1) There shall be a provision as follows:

"Reinstatement: If any renewal premium be not paid within the time granted the insured for payment, a subsequent acceptance of premium by the insurer or by any insurance producer duly authorized by the insurer to accept such premium, without requiring in connection therewith an application for reinstatement, shall reinstate the policy; provided, however, that if the insurer or such insurance producer requires an application for reinstatement and issues a conditional receipt for the premium tendered, the policy will be reinstated upon approval of such application by the insurer or, lacking such approval, upon the 45th day following the date of such conditional receipt unless the insurer has previously notified the insured in writing of its disapproval of such application. The reinstated policy shall cover only loss resulting from such accidental injury as may be sustained after the date of reinstatement and loss due to such sickness as may begin more than 10 days after such date. In all other respects the insured and insurer shall have the same rights thereunder as they had under the policy immediately before the due date of the defaulted premium, subject to any provisions endorsed hereon or attached hereto in connection with the reinstatement. Any premium accepted in connection with a reinstatement shall be applied to a period for which premium has not been previously paid, but not to any period more than 60 days prior to the date of reinstatement."

(2) The last sentence of the above provision may be omitted from any policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums:

(a) until at least age 50; or

(b) in the case of a policy issued after age 44, for at least 5 years from its date of issue.

33-22-208. Notice of claim. (1) A policy must contain a provision as follows:

"Notice of Claim: Written notice of claim must be given to the insurer within 6 months after the occurrence or commencement of any loss covered by the policy or as soon after that date as is reasonably possible. Notice given by or on behalf of the insured or the beneficiary to the insurer at.... (insert the location of the office that the insurer may designate for the purpose) or to any authorized insurance producer of the insurer, with information sufficient to identify the insured, is considered notice to the insurer."

(2) A policy may allow written notice of a claim to be given to the insurer more than 6 months after the occurrence or commencement of any loss covered by the policy or as soon after that date as is reasonably possible.

(3) In a policy providing a loss-of-time benefit that may be payable for at least 2 years, an insurer may at its option insert the following between the first and second sentences of the provision in subsection (1):

"Subject to the qualifications set forth below, if the insured suffers loss of time on account of disability for which indemnity may be payable for at least 2 years, the insured shall, at least once in every 6 months after having given notice of the claim, give to the insurer notice of continuance of the disability, except in the event of legal incapacity. The period of 6 months following any filing of proof by the insured or any payment by the insurer on account of the claim or any denial of liability in whole or in part by the insurer must be excluded in applying this provision. Delay in giving the notice may not impair the insured's right to any indemnity that would otherwise have accrued during the period of 6 months preceding the date on which the notice is actually given."

"Payment of Claims: Indemnity for loss of life will be payable in accordance with the beneficiary designation and the provisions respecting such payment which may be prescribed herein and effective at the time of payment. If no such designation or provision is then effective, such indemnity shall be payable to the estate of the insured. Any other accrued indemnities unpaid at the insured's death may, at the option of the insurer, be paid either to such beneficiary or to such estate. All other indemnities will be payable to the insured."

(2) The following provisions, or either of them, may be included with the foregoing provision at the option of the insurer:

"If any indemnity of this policy shall be payable to the estate of the insured or to an insured or beneficiary who is a minor or otherwise not competent to give a valid release, the insurer may pay such indemnity, up to an amount not exceeding $.... (insert an amount which shall not exceed $1,000), to any relative by blood or connection by marriage of the insured or beneficiary who is deemed by the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto. Any payment made by the insurer in good faith pursuant to this provision shall fully discharge the insurer to the extent of such payment.

Subject to any written direction of the insured in the application or otherwise, all or a portion of any indemnities provided by this policy on account of hospital, nursing, medical, or surgical services may, at the insurer's option and unless the insured requests otherwise in writing not later than the time of filing proof of such loss, be paid directly to the hospital or person rendering such services; but it is not required that the service be rendered by a particular hospital or person."

However, the insurer may, at its option, use in lieu of a repetitious provision a corresponding provision of different wording approved by the commissioner if the different wording is not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary. Any provision contained in the policy must be preceded individually by the appropriate caption or, at the option of the insurer, by the appropriate individual or group captions or subcaptions that the commissioner may approve.

33-22-222. Change of occupation. There may be a provision as follows:

"Change of Occupation: If the insured is injured or contracts sickness after having changed the insured's occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in this policy or while doing for compensation anything pertaining to a classified occupation, the insurer will pay only the portion of the indemnities provided in this policy that the premium paid would have purchased at the rates and within the limits fixed by the insurer for the more hazardous occupation. If the insured changes the insured's occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in this policy, the insurer, upon receipt of proof of the change of occupation, will reduce the premium rate accordingly and will return the excess pro rata unearned premium from the date of change of occupation or from the policy anniversary date immediately preceding receipt of the proof, whichever is the more recent. In applying this provision, the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates must be those that have been last filed by the insurer prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable or prior to date of proof of change in occupation with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided at the time this policy was issued. However, if the filing was not required, then the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates must be those last made effective by the insurer in that state prior to the occurrence of the loss or prior to the date of proof of change in occupation."

33-22-223. Misstatement of age. There may be a provision as follows:

"Misstatement of Age: If the age of the insured has been misstated, all amounts payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age."

33-22-224. Other insurance in this insurer. (1) There may be a provision as follows:

"Other Insurance in This Insurer: If an accident or sickness or accident and sickness policy or policies previously issued by the insurer to the insured are in force concurrently with this policy, making the aggregate indemnity for .... (insert type of coverage or coverages) in excess of $.... (insert maximum limit of indemnity or indemnities), the excess insurance is void and all premiums paid for the excess must be returned to the insured or to the insured's estate."

(2) Instead of the provision in subsection (1), there may be the following:

"Insurance effective at any one time on the insured under a similar policy or policies in this insurer is limited to the one policy elected by the insured, the insured's beneficiary, or the insured's estate, as appropriate, and the insurer will return all premiums paid for all other policies."

33-22-225. Insurance with other insurers — provision of service or expense incurred basis. (1) There may be a provision as follows:

"Insurance with Other Insurers: If there be other valid coverage, not with this insurer, providing benefits for the same loss on a provision of service basis or on an expense incurred basis and of which this insurer has not been given written notice prior to the occurrence or commencement of loss, the only liability under any expense incurred coverage of this policy shall be for such proportion of the loss as the amount which would otherwise have been payable hereunder plus the total of the like amounts under all such other valid coverages for the same loss of which this insurer had notice bears to the total like amounts under all valid coverages for such loss and for the return of such portion of the premiums paid as shall exceed the pro rata portion for the amount so determined. For the purpose of applying this provision when other coverage is on a provision of service basis, the 'like amount' of such other coverage shall be taken as the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage."

(2) If the foregoing policy provision is included in a policy which also contains the policy provision set out in 33-22-226, there shall be added to the caption of the foregoing provision the phrase "—Expense Incurred Benefits". The insurer may, at its option, include in this provision a definition of "other valid coverage", approved as to form by the commissioner, which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada and by hospital or medical service organizations and to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner. In the absence of such definition such term shall not include group insurance, automobile medical payments insurance, or coverage provided by hospital or medical service organizations or by union welfare plans or employer or employee benefit organizations. For the purpose of applying the foregoing policy provision with respect to any insured, any amount of benefit provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute, including any workers' compensation or employer's liability statute, whether provided by a governmental agency or otherwise shall in all cases be deemed to be "other valid coverage" of which the insurer has had notice. In applying the foregoing policy provision no third-party liability coverage shall be included as "other valid coverage".

33-22-226. Insurance with other insurers — other benefits. (1) There may be a provision as follows:

"Insurance with Other Insurers: If there be other valid coverage, not with this insurer, providing benefits for the same loss on other than an expense incurred basis and of which this insurer has not been given written notice prior to the occurrence or commencement of loss, the only liability for such benefits under this policy shall be for such proportion of the indemnities otherwise provided hereunder for such loss as the like indemnities of which the insurer had notice (including the indemnities under this policy) bear to the total amount of all like indemnities for such loss and for the return of such portion of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro rata portion for the indemnities thus determined."

(2) If the foregoing policy provision is included in a policy which also contains the policy provision set out in 33-22-225, there shall be added to the caption of the foregoing provision the phrase "—Other Benefits". The insurer may, at its option, include in this provision a definition of "other valid coverage", approved as to form by the commissioner, which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada and to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner. In the absence of such definition such term shall not include group insurance or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations. For the purpose of applying the foregoing policy provision with respect to any insured, any amount of benefit provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute, including any workers' compensation or employer's liability statute, whether provided by a governmental agency or otherwise shall in all cases be deemed to be "other valid coverage" of which the insurer has had notice. In applying the foregoing policy provision no third-party liability coverage shall be included as "other valid coverage".

33-22-227. Relation of earnings to insurance. (1) There may be a provision as follows:

"Relation of Earnings to Insurance: If the total monthly amount of loss-of-time benefits promised for the same loss under all valid loss-of-time coverage upon the insured, whether payable on a weekly or monthly basis, exceeds the monthly earnings of the insured at the time disability commenced or the insured's average monthly earnings for the period of 2 years immediately preceding a disability for which claim is made, whichever is the greater, the insurer will be liable only for the proportionate amount of benefits under this policy that the amount of the monthly earnings or the average monthly earnings of the insured bears to the total amount of monthly benefits for the same loss under all coverage upon the insured at the time the disability commences and for the return of the part of the premiums paid during the 2 years that exceed the pro rata amount of the premiums for the benefits actually paid under this policy. However, this may not operate to reduce the total monthly amount of benefits payable under all coverage upon the insured below the sum of $200 or the sum of the monthly benefits specified in the coverages, whichever is the lesser, and may not operate to reduce benefits other than those payable for loss of time."

(2) The policy provision in subsection (1) may be inserted only in a policy that the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums until at least age 50 or, in the case of a policy issued after age 44, for at least 5 years from its date of issue. The insurer may, at its option, include in this provision a definition of "valid loss of time coverage", approved as to form by the commissioner. The definition must be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by governmental agencies or by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada or to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner or any combination of coverages. In the absence of a definition, the term may not include any coverage provided for the insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute, including any workers' compensation or employer's liability statute, or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations.

33-22-229. Conformity with state statutes. There must be a provision or the equivalent thereto as follows:

"Conformity with Montana statutes: The provisions of this policy conform to the minimum requirements of Montana law and control over any conflicting statutes of any state in which the insured resides on or after the effective date of this policy."

History: En. Sec. 374, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4024; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 518, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 33, Ch. 798, L. 1991.

33-22-230. Illegal occupation. There may be a provision as follows:

"Illegal Occupation: The insurer shall not be liable for any loss to which a contributing cause was the insured's commission of or attempt to commit a felony or to which a contributing cause was the insured's being engaged in an illegal occupation."

33-22-232. Renewal at option of insurer. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), disability insurance policies, other than accident insurance only policies, in which the insurer reserves the right to refuse renewal must provide the statement in a policy provision, an endorsement, or an attached rider. The statement must provide that, subject to the insurer's right to terminate the policy upon nonpayment of premium when due, the right to refuse renewal may not be exercised so as to take effect before the renewal date occurring on or after and nearest each policy anniversary or, in the case of lapse and reinstatement, at the renewal date occurring on or after and nearest each anniversary of the last reinstatement and that any refusal of renewal must be without prejudice to any claim originating while the policy is in force. The reference to lapse and reinstatement may be omitted at the insurer's option.

33-22-241. Definitions. As used in 33-22-242 and 33-22-243, unless the context indicates otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Block of business" means an individual disability insurance policy certificate or contract filed and approved by the commissioner pursuant to 33-1-501 and written and sold by a health care insurer to a defined set of individuals. All individuals covered by the policy or contract are considered to be within the block of business.

(2) "Health care insurer" means a disability insurer, a health service corporation, a health maintenance organization, or a fraternal benefit society.

(3) (a) "Individual health benefit plan" means any hospital or medical expense policy or certificate, subscriber contract, or contract of insurance provided by a prepaid hospital or medical service plan or health maintenance organization subscriber contract and issued for delivery to an individual.

(b) Individual health benefit plan does not include a self-funded group health plan; a self-funded multiemployer group health plan; a group conversion plan; an insured group health plan; accident-only, specified disease, short-term hospital or medical, hospital confinement indemnity, credit, dental, vision, medicare supplement, long-term care, or disability income insurance; coverage issued as a supplement to liability insurance; workers' compensation or similar insurance; or automobile medical payment insurance.

(4) "Qualifying previous coverage" means benefits or coverage provided under:

(a) medicare or medicaid;

(b) group health insurance or a health benefit plan that provides benefits similar to or exceeding benefits provided under the plan being applied for; or

(c) an individual health benefit plan, including coverage issued by a health maintenance organization, a prepaid hospital or medical care plan, or a fraternal benefit society, that provides benefits similar to or exceeding the plan being applied for.

33-22-242. Waiver of preexisting condition exclusion — exclusion prohibited. (1) A health care insurer shall waive any time period applicable to a preexisting condition exclusion or limitation period with respect to particular services in an individual health benefit plan for the period of time that an individual was previously covered by qualifying previous coverage that provided benefits with respect to those services, if the qualifying previous coverage was continuous to a date not more than 30 days prior to the date of application for new coverage.

(2) A health care insurer that offers individual health insurance coverage to a federally defined eligible individual may not impose a preexisting condition exclusion with respect to that coverage.

33-22-243. Premium increases to be distributed proportionately. (1) A health care insurer may increase the health benefit plan charges for an individual policy, certificate, or contract previously issued by that insurer because of a change in the attained age of the insured. Increases in premium, certificate, or contract charges for individual policies, certificates, or contracts previously issued by that insurer, based on factors other than attained age, must be distributed proportionately across the block of business as defined in 33-22-241.

(2) As used in this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) (i) "Health benefit plan" means a hospital or medical policy or certificate providing for physical and mental health care issued by an insurance company, a fraternal benefit society, or a health service corporation or issued under a health maintenance organization subscriber contract.

(ii) Health benefit plan does not include:

(A) accident-only, credit, dental, vision, specified disease, medicare supplement, long-term care, or disability income insurance;

(B) coverage issued as a supplement to liability insurance, workers' compensation insurance, or similar insurance; or

(C) automobile medical payment insurance.

(b) "Health care insurer" or "insurer" means a disability insurer, a health service corporation, a health maintenance organization, or a fraternal benefit society.

(3) The provisions of Title 33, chapter 1, parts 3 and 7, apply to this section.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 527, L. 1995.

33-22-244. Disclosure standards — individual policy. (1) In order to provide for full and fair disclosure in the sale of disability insurance, an individual disability insurance policy may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless an outline of coverage is filed with and approved by the insurance commissioner in accordance with 33-1-501 and is delivered to the applicant at the time the application is made.

(2) The outline of coverage must include:

(a) a general description of the principal benefits and coverages provided by the policy;

(b) a general description of the insured's financial responsibility under the policy, including, if applicable, the amount of the deductible, the amount or percentage of copayment, and the maximum annual out-of-pocket expenses to be paid by the insured;

(c) a statement of the maximum lifetime benefit available under the policy;

(d) a statement of the estimated periodic premium to be paid by the insured;

(e) a general description of the factors or case characteristics that the insurer may consider in establishing or changing the premiums and, if applicable, in determining the insurability of the applicant;

(f) a description of any preauthorization or other preapproval requirements for medical care; and

(g) a prominently displayed statement of the insured's responsibility for payment of billed charges beyond those charges reimbursed by the insurer when the insured uses health care services from a health care provider who is outside a network of health care providers used by the insurer.

(3) The outline of coverage may include any other information that the insurer considers relevant to the applicant's selection of an appropriate individual disability policy.

(4) An insurer or producer shall provide to an individual, upon request, an outline of coverage for any health benefit product marketed to the general public. The outline of coverage provided under this subsection may exclude the statement of the estimated periodic premium to be paid by the insured.

(5) Prior to issuance of an individual disability insurance policy, written informational materials describing the policy's cancer screening coverages must be provided to a potential applicant. The informational materials are not subject to filing with and approval of the insurance commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 527, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 336, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 463, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 207, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 23, Ch. 8, L. 2025.

33-22-247. Guaranteed renewability of individual health insurance coverage. (1) Except as provided in this section, a health insurance issuer that provides individual health insurance coverage to an individual shall renew or continue the coverage in force at the option of the individual.

(2) A health insurance issuer may nonrenew or discontinue health insurance coverage of an individual in the individual market only if:

(a) the individual has failed to pay premiums or contributions in accordance with the terms of the health insurance coverage or if the health insurance issuer has not received timely premium payments;

(b) the individual has performed an act or practice that constitutes fraud or has made an intentional misrepresentation of a material fact under the terms of the coverage;

(c) the health insurance issuer is ceasing to offer coverage in the individual market in accordance with this section and applicable state law;

(d) in the case of a health insurance issuer that offers health insurance coverage in the individual market through a network plan, the individual no longer lives, resides, or works in the service area of the health insurance issuer or in an area for which the health insurance issuer is authorized to do business, but only if the coverage is terminated under this subsection (2)(d) uniformly without regard to any health status-related factor of covered individuals; or

(e) in the case of health insurance coverage that is made available in the individual market only through one or more bona fide associations, as defined in 33-22-1803, the membership of the individual in the bona fide association ceases, but only if the coverage is terminated under this subsection (2)(e) uniformly without regard to any health status-related factor of a covered individual.

(3) A health insurance issuer may not discontinue offering a particular type of individual health insurance coverage offered in the individual market unless in accordance with applicable state law and unless:

(a) the health insurance issuer gives notice to each covered individual provided coverage of this type in the individual market of the discontinuation at least 90 days prior to the date of the discontinuation of the coverage;

(b) the health insurance issuer offers to each individual in the individual market provided coverage of this type the option to purchase any other individual health coverage currently being offered by the health insurance issuer to individuals in the individual market; and

(c) in exercising the option to discontinue coverage of this type and in offering the option of coverage under subsection (3)(b), the health insurance issuer acts uniformly, without regard to the claims experience of individuals or any health status-related factor of individuals who may become eligible for the coverage.

(4) (a) A health insurance issuer may not discontinue offering all health insurance coverage in the individual market unless in accordance with applicable state law and unless:

(i) the health insurance issuer provides notice of discontinuation to the commissioner and each covered individual at least 180 days prior to the date of the discontinuation of coverage; and

(ii) all health insurance issued or delivered for issuance in Montana in the individual market is discontinued and coverage under the health insurance coverage in the individual market is not renewed.

(b) In the case of a discontinuation under subsection (4)(a) in the individual market, the health insurance issuer may not provide for the issuance of any health insurance coverage in the individual market during the 5-year period beginning on the date of the discontinuation of the last health insurance coverage not renewed.

(5) A health insurance issuer may modify upon renewal health insurance coverage for a policy form offered to individuals in the individual market if the modification is consistent with applicable state law and effective on a uniform basis among all individuals with that policy form.

(6) In the case of health insurance coverage that is made available by a health insurance issuer in the individual market to individuals only through one or more bona fide associations, references to "individual" under this section include a reference to the bona fide association of which the individual is a member.

Part 3

Requirements for Certain Individual Coverages

33-22-301. Coverage of newborn under disability policy. (1) Each policy of disability insurance or certificate issued must contain a provision granting immediate accident and sickness coverage, from and after the moment of birth, to each newborn infant of any insured.

(2) The coverage for newborn infants must be the same as provided by the policy for the other covered persons. However, for newborn infants there may not be waiting or elimination periods. A deductible or reduction in benefits applicable to the coverage for newborn infants is not permissible unless it conforms and is consistent with the deductible or reduction in benefits applicable to all other covered persons.

(3) A policy or certificate of insurance may not be issued or amended in this state if it contains any disclaimer, waiver, or other limitation of coverage relative to the accident and sickness coverage or insurability of newborn infants of an insured from and after the moment of birth.

(4) The policy or contract may require notification of the birth of a child and payment of a required premium or subscription fee to be furnished to the insurer or nonprofit or indemnity corporation within 31 days of the birth in order to have the coverage extend beyond 31 days.

33-22-302. Age limits — effect on coverage. (1) (a) Except as provided in subsection (1)(b), if any disability policy contains a provision establishing, as an age limit or otherwise, a date after which the coverage provided by the policy will not be effective and if that date falls within a period for which premium is accepted by the insurer or if the insurer accepts a premium after that date, the coverage provided by the policy will continue in force subject to any right of cancellation until the end of the period for which premium has been accepted.

(b) Policies conforming to subsection (1)(a) are subject to the guaranteed renewability provisions of 33-22-247 or 33-22-524.

(2) In the event the age of the insured has been misstated and if, according to the correct age of the insured, the coverage provided by the policy would not have become effective or would have ceased prior to the acceptance of the premium or premiums, then the liability of the insurer is limited to the refund, upon request, of all premium or premiums paid for the period not covered by the policy.

33-22-303. Coverage for well-child care. (1) Each medical expense policy of disability insurance or certificate issued under the policy that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state by a disability insurer and that provides coverage for a family member of the insured or subscriber must provide coverage for well-child care for children from the moment of birth through 7 years of age. Benefits provided under this coverage are exempt from any deductible provision that may be in force in the policy or certificate issued under the policy.

(2) Coverage for well-child care under subsection (1) must include:

(a) a history, physical examination, developmental assessment, anticipatory guidance, and laboratory tests, according to the schedule of visits adopted under the early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment services program provided for in 53-6-101; and

(b) routine immunizations according to the schedule for immunizations recommended by the immunization practices advisory committee of the U.S. department of health and human services.

(3) Minimum benefits may be limited to one visit payable to one provider for all of the services provided at each visit cited in this section.

(4) This section does not apply to disability income, specified disease, accident-only, medicare supplement, or hospital indemnity policies.

(5) For purposes of this section:

(a) "developmental assessment" and "anticipatory guidance" mean the services described in the Guidelines for Health Supervision II, published by the American academy of pediatrics; and

(b) "well-child care" means the services described in subsection (2) and delivered by a physician or a health care professional supervised by a physician.

(6) When a policy of disability insurance or a certificate issued under the policy provides coverage or benefits to a resident of this state, it is considered to be delivered in this state within the meaning of this section, whether the insurer that issued or delivered the policy or certificate is located inside or outside of this state.

33-22-304. Continuation of coverage for individuals with disabilities — individual contracts. (1) An individual hospital or medical expense insurance policy or hospital or medical service plan contract delivered or issued for delivery in this state that provides that coverage of a dependent child terminates upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the policy or contract must also provide in substance that attainment of the limiting age may not operate to terminate the coverage of the child while the child is and continues to be both incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of intellectual disability or physical disability and chiefly dependent upon the policyholder or subscriber for support and maintenance. Proof of intellectual disability or physical disability and dependency must be furnished to the insurer or hospital or medical service plan corporation by the policyholder or subscriber within 31 days of the child's attainment of the limiting age and subsequently as may be required by the insurer or corporation. Proof may not be required more frequently than annually after the 2-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

(2) Notwithstanding any other exemption or contrary law, the provisions of this section have equal application to hospital or medical expense insurance policies and hospital and medical service plan contracts.

33-22-305. Short title. Sections 33-22-305 through 33-22-311 may be cited as the "Individual Family Disability Insurance Continuity of Coverage Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 245, L. 1981.

33-22-306. Purpose. The purpose of 33-22-305 through 33-22-311 is to provide for the right of covered family members under individual family disability insurance policies to continuity of coverage upon the death of the named insured, the divorce, annulment of marriage, or legal separation of the spouse from the named insured, or any other condition specifically stated in such disability insurance policies under which coverage would otherwise terminate as to the covered spouse or covered dependent children of the named insured.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 245, L. 1981.

33-22-307. Continuity of coverage. (1) Subject to the requirements of 33-22-305 through 33-22-311 and on the date specified in the policy under which coverage otherwise terminates because of the death of the named insured or for any other reason specified in 33-22-306, as to covered family members, other than for nonpayment of premium, nonrenewal of the policy, or the expiration of the term for which the policy is issued, a covered person, other than one eligible for medicare or any other similar federal or state disability insurance program, including the spouse and any covered dependent child of the last-named insured or the representative of the child, has the right to continuation of coverage under provisions that, at the option of the carrier, are consistent with:

(a) the continuation of the policy, with the person exercising the right of continuation designated as the named insured;

(b) the issuance of a converted policy with the person exercising the conversion right designated as the named insured; or

(c) both (1)(a) and (1)(b).

(2) When continuation of coverage or conversion is made in the name of the spouse of the named insured, the coverage may, at the option of the spouse, include covered dependent children for whom the spouse has the responsibility for care and support.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 245, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 43, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-22-308. Form of coverage — requirements — evidence of insurability — preexisting conditions. (1) Coverage continued through the issuance of a converted policy shall consist of the form of coverage then being offered by the carrier as a conversion policy in the jurisdiction where the person exercising the conversion right resides that most nearly approximates the coverage of the policy from which conversion is exercised. Continued and converted coverages, other than those provided through the exercise of continuation or conversion rights contained in optionally renewable or limited right of renewal contracts, must contain:

(a) provisions allowing the person exercising the continuation or conversion the right to renew the coverage until the attainment of the age of eligibility for medicare or any other similar federal or state disability insurance program, subject to the right of the carrier to nonrenew all such policies in this state as a class; or

(b) other renewal provisions that are not less favorable to the insured than those contained in the policy from which conversion is exercised.

(2) Coverage provided through continuation or conversion may not require additional evidence of insurability except as to overinsurance and may not impose any preexisting condition limitations or other contractual time limitations other than those remaining unexpired under the policy or contract from which continuation or conversion is exercised.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 245, L. 1981.

33-22-309. Notice. The eligible covered family member exercising the continuation or conversion right must notify the carrier and make payment of the applicable premium within 31 days following the date such coverage otherwise terminates as specified in the policy or contract from which continuation or conversion is being exercised.

33-22-310. Nonduplication. Benefits otherwise payable under a converted policy may be reduced:

(1) so they are not, during the first policy year of the converted policy, in excess of those benefits that would have been payable had the coverage under the policy from which conversion is exercised not terminated; and

(2) by the amount of benefits, if any, payable as to the same loss under the policy from which conversion is exercised.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 245, L. 1981.

33-22-311. Overinsurance. The carrier is not required to issue a converted policy if at the time of application the applicant:

(1) (a) has coverage under other disability insurance policies, health service corporation contracts, or self-insured health benefit plans providing similar benefits;

(b) is eligible for coverage under a group policy or contract providing similar benefits;

(c) is provided with similar benefits required by any statute; or

(d) is covered under any national, state, or governmental plan; and

(2) has coverage under subsection (1) that, together with the converted policy, would result in overinsurance according to the carrier's underwriting standards.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 245, L. 1981.

33-22-312. Limitations on cost sharing for insulin. (1) Each individual policy of disability insurance or certificate issued that contains coverage for prescription drugs must limit the insured's required copayment or other cost-sharing requirement to $35 for up to a 30-day supply of insulin, regardless of the amount or type of insulin prescribed.

(2) The limitation in this section applies to insulin covered by the insurer's formulary.

(3) Coverage of insulin prescribed for an insured is not subject to a deductible. Cost-sharing amounts paid by the insured for insulin must be counted toward the insured's deductible.

(4) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, specific disease, or long-term care policies.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 463, L. 2023.

33-22-316. Coverage for self-management training and education for treatment of diabetes. (1) Each individual policy, certificate of insurance, and membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage for outpatient self-management training and education for the treatment of diabetes. Any education must be provided by a licensed health care professional with expertise in diabetes.

(2) (a) Coverage must include an annual benefit for medically necessary and prescribed outpatient self-management training and education for the treatment of diabetes. At a minimum, the benefit must consist of:

(i) 20 visits of training and education in diabetes self-management in either an individual or group setting within the first year of diagnosis if the insured has not received the training and education previously; and

(ii) 12 visits of followup diabetes self-management training and education services in subsequent years for an insured who has previously received and exhausted the initial 20 visits of education under subsection (2)(a)(i).

(b) Nothing in subsection (2)(a) prohibits an insurer from providing a greater benefit.

(c) For the purposes of this subsection (2), the term "visit" refers to a period of 30 minutes.

(3) Annual copayment and deductible provisions are subject to the same terms and conditions applicable to all other covered benefits within a given policy.

(4) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, specific disease, or long-term care policies.

Part 5
Group Disability Insurance

33-22-501. Group disability insurance defined — eligible groups. Group disability insurance is that form of disability insurance covering groups of persons as defined in this section, with or without one or more members of their families or one or more of their dependents, or covering one or more members of the families or one or more dependents of the groups of persons and issued upon the following bases:

(1) under a policy issued to an employer or trustees of a fund established by an employer, who must be considered the policyholder, insuring employees of the employer for the benefit of persons other than the employer. The term "employees" as used in this subsection includes the officers, managers, and employees of the employer, the individual proprietor or partner if the employer is an individual proprietor or partnership, the officers, managers, and employees of subsidiary or affiliated corporations, the individual proprietors, partners, and employees of individuals and firms, if the business of the employer and the individual or firm is under common control through stock ownership, contract, or otherwise. The term "employees" as used in this subsection may include retired employees. A policy issued to insure employees of a public body may provide that the term "employees" includes elected or appointed officials. The policy may provide that the term "employees" includes the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with the trusteeship.

(2) under a policy issued to an association, including a labor union, that has been organized and is maintained in good faith for purposes other than that of obtaining insurance or of insuring members, employees, or employees of members of the association for the benefit of persons other than the association or its officers or trustees. The term "employees" as used in this subsection may include retired employees.

(3) under a policy issued to the trustees of a fund established by two or more employers in the same or related industry or by one or more labor unions or by one or more employers and one or more labor unions or by an association as defined in subsection (2), in which the trustees are considered the policyholder, to insure employees of the employers or members of the unions or of the association or employees of members of the association for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the unions or the association. The term "employees" as used in this subsection may include the officers, managers, and employees of the employer and the individual proprietor or partners if the employer is an individual proprietor or partnership. The term "employees" as used in this subsection may include retired employees. The policy may provide that the term "employees" includes the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with the trusteeship.

(4) under a policy issued to any person or organization to which a policy of group life insurance may be issued or delivered in this state to insure any class or classes of individuals that could be insured under a group life policy;

(5) under a policy issued to a voluntary purchasing pool or to the member employers of a voluntary purchasing pool that is formed solely for the purpose of obtaining insurance as provided in 33-22-1815;

(6) under a policy issued to cover any other substantially similar group that, in the discretion of the commissioner, may be subject to the issuance of a group disability policy or contract.

33-22-502. Required provisions of group policies. Each group disability insurance policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state must contain in substance the following provisions:

(1) a provision that, in the absence of fraud, all statements made by applicants or the policyholder or by an insured person must be considered representations and not warranties and that a statement made for the purpose of effecting insurance may not avoid the insurance or reduce benefits unless contained in a written instrument signed by the policyholder or the insured person, a copy of which has been furnished to the policyholder or to the insured person or the insured person's beneficiary;

(2) a provision that the insurer will furnish to the policyholder for delivery to each employee or member of the insured group a statement in summary form of the essential features of the insurance coverage of the employee or member and to whom benefits are payable. If dependents are included in the coverage, only one certificate is required to be issued for each family unit.

(3) a provision that to the group originally insured may be added from time to time eligible new employees or members or dependents, as the case may be, in accordance with the terms of the policy;

(4) a provision or the equivalent that reads:

"Conformity with Montana statutes. The provisions of this policy conform to the minimum requirements of Montana law and control over any conflicting statutes of any state in which the insured resides on or after the effective date of this policy."

History: En. Sec. 386, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 74, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 83, L. 1974; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4102(part); amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 798, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1227, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-22-503. Continuation of benefits to dependents. Any group disability policy which contains provisions for the payment by the insurer of benefits for expenses incurred on account of hospital, nursing, medical, or surgical services for members of the family or dependents of a person in the insured group may provide for the continuation of such benefit provisions, or any part or parts thereof, after the death of the person in the insured group.

History: En. Sec. 385, Ch. 286, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 74, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 83, L. 1974; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4101(6).

33-22-504. Newborn infant coverage. (1) A group disability policy or certificate of insurance delivered or issued for delivery in this state may not be issued or amended in this state if it contains any disclaimer, waiver, preexisting condition exclusion, or other limitation of coverage relative to the accident and sickness coverage or insurability of newborn infants of persons covered under the policy from and after the moment of birth.

(2) A policy or certificate subject to this section, must contain a provision granting immediate accident and sickness coverage, from and after the moment of birth, to each newborn infant of any person covered under the policy.

(3) The coverage for newborn infants must be the same as provided by the policy for other covered persons. However, for newborn infants there may not be waiting or elimination periods. A deductible or reduction in benefits applicable to the coverage for newborn infants is not permissible unless it conforms and is consistent with the deductible or reduction in benefits applicable to all other covered persons.

(4) This section does not apply to medicare supplement policies issued by reason of age.

(5) When a group disability policy or certificate issued under the policy provides for coverage or benefits for a resident of this state, the policy or certificate is considered delivered in this state within the meaning of this section regardless of whether the insurer issuing the policy or certificate is located in this state.

(6) The policy or certificate may require notification of the birth of a child and payment of a required premium or subscription fee to be furnished to the insurer or nonprofit or indemnity corporation within 31 days of the birth in order to have the coverage extend beyond 31 days.

33-22-505. Direct payment of hospital and medical services. Any group disability policy may on request by the group policyholder provide that all or any portion of any indemnities provided by any such policy on account of hospital, nursing, medical, or surgical services may, at the insurer's option, be paid directly to the hospital or person rendering such services; but the policy may not require that the service be rendered by a particular hospital or person. Payment so made shall discharge the insurer's obligation with respect to the amount of insurance so paid.

33-22-506. Continuation of coverage for persons with disabilities — group contracts. (1) A group hospital or medical expense insurance policy or hospital or medical service plan contract delivered or issued for delivery in this state that provides that coverage of a dependent child of an employee or other member of the covered group terminates upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the policy or contract must also provide in substance that attainment of the limiting age may not operate to terminate the coverage of the child while the child is and continues to be both incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of intellectual disability or physical disability and chiefly dependent upon the employee or member for support and maintenance. Proof of intellectual disability or physical disability and dependency must be furnished to the insurer or hospital or medical service plan corporation by the employee or member within 31 days of the child's attainment of the limiting age and subsequently as may be required by the insurer or corporation. Proof may not be required more frequently than annually after the 2-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

(2) Notwithstanding any other exemption or contrary law, the provisions of this section have equal application to hospital or medical expense insurance policies and hospital and medical service plan contracts.

33-22-507. Continuing group coverage after reduction of work schedule. A person covered by a group disability insurance policy issued or renewed after October 1, 1981, under 33-22-501(1) may, for a period of 1 year, with the consent of the employer or the trustees, continue coverage under group disability policy during the person's employment notwithstanding any reduction of the person's regular work schedule to less than the minimum time required to qualify for membership in the group, and the premium charged the person must be equal to that charged other members of the group of the same risk class.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 579, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1228, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-22-508. Conversion on termination of eligibility. (1) A group disability insurance policy or certificate of insurance must contain a provision that if the insurance or any portion of the insurance on a person or the person's dependents or family members covered under the policy ceases because of termination of the person's membership in a group eligible for coverage under the policy, because of termination of the person's employment, as a result of a person's employer discontinuing the employer's business, or as a result of a person's employer discontinuing the group disability insurance policy and not providing for any other group disability insurance or plan and if the person had been insured for a period of 3 months and is not insured under another major medical disability insurance policy or plan, the person is entitled to have issued to the person by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, group disability coverage or an individual disability policy or, in the absence of an individual disability policy issued by the insurer, a group disability policy issued by the insurer on the person or on the person's dependents or family members if application for the individual policy is made and the first premium tendered to the insurer within 31 days after the termination of the group coverage.

(2) A group insurer may meet the requirements of this section by contracting with another insurer to issue conversion policies as described in subsections (5) and (6). The conversion carrier must be authorized to act as an insurer in this state, and the commissioner shall approve the conversion policies pursuant to 33-1-501.

(3) The individual policy or group policy, at the option of the insured, may be on any form then customarily issued by the insurer to individual or group policyholders, with the exception of a policy the eligibility for which is determined by affiliation other than by employment with a common entity. In addition, the insurer or conversion carrier shall make available a conversion policy as required by subsection (6).

(4) The premium for the individual policy or group policy must be at no more than 200% of the insurer's customary rate applicable to the group policy being terminated at the time of the conversion. If the person entitled to conversion under this section has been insured for more than 3 years, the premium may not be more than 150% of the customary rate of the policy being terminated at the time of the conversion. The customary rate is that rate that is normally issued for medically underwritten policies without discount for healthy lifestyles.

(5) A conversion carrier shall offer an individual or group conversion policy that provides the same schedule of benefits and covers the same eligible expenses as those being terminated. The premium for the policy must be calculated as described in subsection (4).

(6) The insurer or conversion carrier shall also make available a conversion policy, certificate, or membership contract that provides at least the level of benefits provided by the insurer's lowest cost basic health benefit plan, as defined in 33-22-1803. The conversion rate may not exceed 150% of the highest rate charged for that plan. This subsection does not apply to disability plans that provide only excepted benefits as defined in 33-22-140.

(7) The effective date and time of the conversion policy must be established to ensure that there is no break in coverage between the termination of the group policy coverage and the inception of the conversion policy.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 579, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 384, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 200, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 699, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 63, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 527, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 531, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 228, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 54, Ch. 227, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 28, Ch. 469, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 227, L. 2011.

33-22-509. Preexisting conditions. The converted policy may not exclude, as a preexisting condition, any conditions covered by the group contract, including pregnancy of the insured or the insured's spouse or dependents covered by the group contract at the time of conversion.

33-22-510. Insured's family — conversion entitlement. Subject to the conditions set forth in this section, the conversion privilege is also available:

(1) to the surviving spouse, if any, at the death of the employee or member, with respect to the spouse and children whose coverage under the group policy terminates by reason of the death, otherwise to each surviving child whose coverage under the group policy terminates by reason of the death, or if the group policy provides for continuation of dependent's coverage following the employee's or member's death, at the end of the continuation;

(2) to the spouse of the employee or member upon termination of coverage of the spouse, by reason of ceasing to be a qualified family member under the group policy, while the employee or member remains under the group policy, including children whose coverage under the group policy terminates at the same time; or

(3) to a child solely with respect to the child upon termination of child's coverage by reason of ceasing to be a qualified family member under the group policy if a conversion privilege is not otherwise provided in this section with respect to the termination.

33-22-511. Applicability. Notwithstanding any provision of Title 33 or other law to the contrary, it shall be lawful for an insurer and insured to agree to any terms in an insurance contract that provides more favorable terms for the benefit of the insured than authorized in Title 33 or other provisions of law.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 579, L. 1981.

33-22-512. Coverage for well-child care. (1) Each group disability policy or certificate of insurance that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state by a disability insurer and that provides coverage for a family member of the insured or subscriber must provide coverage for well-child care for children from the moment of birth through 7 years of age. Benefits provided under this coverage are exempt from any deductible provision that may be in force in the policy or certificate issued under the policy.

(2) Coverage for well-child care under subsection (1) must include:

(a) a history, physical examination, developmental assessment, anticipatory guidance, and laboratory tests, according to the schedule of visits adopted under the early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment services program provided for in 53-6-101; and

(b) routine immunizations according to the schedule for immunizations recommended by the immunization practices advisory committee of the U.S. department of health and human services.

(3) Minimum benefits may be limited to one visit payable to one provider for all of the services provided at each visit cited in this section.

(4) This section does not apply to disability income, specified disease, accident-only, medicare supplement, or hospital indemnity policies or certificates.

(5) For purposes of this section:

(a) "developmental assessment" and "anticipatory guidance" mean the services described in the Guidelines for Health Supervision II, published by the American academy of pediatrics; and

(b) "well-child care" means the services described in subsection (2) and delivered by a physician or a health care professional supervised by a physician.

(6) When a group disability policy or certificate of insurance issued under the policy provides coverage or benefits to a resident of this state, it is considered to be delivered in this state within the meaning of this section, whether the insurer that issued or delivered the policy or certificate is located inside or outside of this state.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 199, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 40, Ch. 380, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 390, L. 2007.

33-22-513. Limitation of eligibility on conversion. An individual who purchases a policy of insurance under 33-22-508 ceases to be eligible for a conversion policy if the individual insured by the policy:

(1) fails to pay the premium on the policy purchased under 33-22-508; or

(2) enrolls under another major medical disability insurance policy or plan, except that the individual may maintain the conversion policy during any waiting period established under any new disability insurance policy or plan that the insured individual purchases.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 200, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 15, Ch. 399, L. 2007.

33-22-514. Preexisting conditions relating to group market. (1) A group health plan or a health insurance issuer offering group health insurance coverage may not exclude coverage for a preexisting condition unless:

(a) medical advice, diagnosis, care, or treatment was recommended or received by the participant or beneficiary within the 6-month period ending on the enrollment date;

(b) exclusion of coverage extends for a period of not more than 12 months or 18 months in the case of a late enrollee; and

(c) the period of the preexisting condition exclusion is reduced by the aggregate of the periods of creditable coverage applicable to the participant or beneficiary as of the enrollment date.

(2) Genetic information may not be excluded as a preexisting condition in the absence of a diagnosis of the condition related to the genetic information.

(3) Pregnancy may not be excluded as a preexisting condition.

History: En. Sec. 39, Ch. 416, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 44, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-22-515. Coverage of autism spectrum disorders. (1) Each group disability policy, certificate of insurance, or membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state must provide coverage for diagnosis and treatment of autism spectrum disorders for a covered child 18 years of age or younger.

(2) Coverage under this section must be provided to a child who is diagnosed with one of the following disorders as defined by the most recent edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders:

(a) autistic disorder;

(b) Asperger's disorder; or

(c) pervasive developmental disorder not otherwise specified.

(3) (a) Coverage under this section must include:

(i) habilitative or rehabilitative care that is prescribed, provided, or ordered by a licensed physician or licensed psychologist, including but not limited to professional, counseling, and guidance services and treatment programs that are medically necessary to develop and restore, to the maximum extent practicable, the functioning of the covered child;

(ii) medications prescribed by a physician licensed under Title 37, chapter 3;

(iii) psychiatric or psychological care; and

(iv) therapeutic care that is provided by a speech-language pathologist, audiologist, occupational therapist, or physical therapist licensed in this state.

(b) (i) Habilitative and rehabilitative care includes medically necessary interactive therapies derived from evidence-based research, including applied behavior analysis, which is also known as Lovaas therapy, discrete trial training, pivotal response training, intensive intervention programs, and early intensive behavioral intervention.

(ii) Applied behavior analysis covered under this section must be provided by an individual who is licensed by the behavior analyst certification board or is certified by the department of public health and human services as a family support specialist with an autism endorsement.

(4) (a) Coverage for treatment of autism spectrum disorders under this section may be limited to a maximum benefit of:

(i) $50,000 a year for a child 8 years of age or younger; and

(ii) $20,000 a year for a child 9 years of age through 18 years of age.

(b) Benefits provided under this section may not be construed as limiting physical health benefits that are otherwise available to the covered child.

(5) (a) Coverage under this section may be subject to deductibles, coinsurance, and copayment provisions.

(b) Special deductible, coinsurance, copayment, or other limitations that are not generally applicable to other medical care covered under the plan may not be imposed on the coverage for autism spectrum disorders provided for under this section.

(6) When treatment is expected to require continued services, the insurer may request that the treating physician provide a treatment plan consisting of diagnosis, proposed treatment by type and frequency, the anticipated duration of treatment, the anticipated outcomes stated as goals, and the reasons the treatment is medically necessary. The treatment plan must be based on evidence-based screening criteria. The insurer may ask that the treatment plan be updated every 6 months.

(7) As used in this section, "medically necessary" means any care, treatment, intervention, service, or item that is prescribed, provided, or ordered by a physician or psychologist licensed in this state and that will or is reasonably expected to:

(a) prevent the onset of an illness, condition, injury, or disability;

(b) reduce or improve the physical, mental, or developmental effects of an illness, condition, injury, or disability; or

(c) assist in achieving maximum functional capacity in performing daily activities, taking into account both the functional capacity of the recipient and the functional capacities that are appropriate for a child of the same age.

(8) This section applies to the state employee group insurance program, the university system employee group insurance program, any employee group insurance program of a city, town, school district, or other political subdivision of this state, and any self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that is not regulated by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.

(9) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, medicare supplement, accident-only, vision, dental, specific disease, or long-term care policies.

33-22-521. Disclosure standards — group policy. (1) In order to provide for full and fair disclosure in the sale of disability insurance, a group disability insurance policy may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless an outline of coverage is filed with and approved by the insurance commissioner in accordance with 33-1-501 and is delivered to the applicant at the time the application is made.

(2) The outline of coverage must include:

(a) a general description of the principal benefits and coverages provided by the policy;

(b) a general description of the insured's financial responsibility under the policy, including, if applicable, the amount of the deductible, the amount or percentage of copayment, and the maximum annual out-of-pocket expenses to be paid by the insured;

(c) a statement of the maximum lifetime benefit available under the policy;

(d) a statement of the estimated periodic premium to be paid by the insured;

(e) a general description of the factors or case characteristics that the insurer may consider in establishing or changing the premiums and, if applicable, in determining the insurability of the applicant;

(f) a description of any preauthorization or other preapproval requirements for medical care; and

(g) a prominently displayed statement of the insured's responsibility for payment of billed charges beyond those charges reimbursed by the insurer when the insured uses health care services from a health care provider who is outside a network of health care providers used by the insurer.

(3) If applicable, the outline of coverage must disclose that the policy does not contain coverage for mental illness or chemical dependency.

(4) The outline of coverage may include any other information that the insurer considers relevant to the applicant's selection of an appropriate group disability policy.

(5) An insurer or producer shall provide to an individual, upon request, an outline of coverage for any health benefit product marketed to the general public. The outline of coverage provided under this subsection may exclude the statement of the estimated periodic premium to be paid by the insured.

(6) An outline of coverage must also be sent to an employee when an employee is sent a certificate of insurance.

(7) Prior to issuance of a group disability insurance policy, written informational materials describing the policy's cancer screening coverages must be provided to a prospective applicant. The informational materials are not subject to filing with and approval of the insurance commissioner.

33-22-523. Special enrollment periods. (1) A group health plan and a health insurance issuer offering group health insurance coverage in connection with a group health plan shall permit an employee or a dependent of an employee who is eligible, but not enrolled, for coverage under the terms of the group health plan to enroll for coverage under the terms of the group health plan if:

(a) the employee or dependent was covered under a group health plan or had health insurance coverage at the time that coverage was previously offered to the employee or dependent;

(b) the employee stated in writing at the time that coverage under a group health plan or health insurance coverage was the reason for declining enrollment, but only if the plan sponsor or health insurance issuer required the statement at the time and provided the employee with notice of the requirement and the consequences of the requirement at the time;

(c) the employee's or dependent's coverage described in subsection (1)(a) was:

(i) under a COBRA continuation provision and was exhausted; or

(ii) not under a COBRA continuation provision and was terminated as a result of loss of eligibility for the coverage or because employer contributions toward the coverage were terminated; and

(d) under the terms of the group health plan, the employee requests the enrollment not later than 30 days after the date of exhaustion of coverage described in subsection (1)(c)(i) or termination of coverage or employer contribution described in subsection (1)(c)(ii).

(2) (a) A group health plan must provide for a dependent special enrollment period described in subsection (2)(b) during which a dependent may be enrolled under the group health plan as a dependent of the individual if the person becomes a dependent of the individual through marriage, birth, adoption, or placement for adoption. In the case of the birth or adoption of a child, the spouse of the individual may be enrolled as a dependent of the individual if the spouse is otherwise eligible for coverage.

(b) A dependent special enrollment period under this subsection (2) is a period of not less than 30 days that begins on the later of:

(i) the date dependent coverage is made available; or

(ii) the date of the marriage, birth, adoption, or placement for adoption.

(3) If an individual seeks to enroll a dependent during the first 30 days of the dependent special enrollment period, the coverage of the dependent becomes effective:

(a) in the case of marriage, not later than the first day of the first month beginning after the date on which the completed request for enrollment is received;

(b) in the case of a dependent's birth, as of the date of birth; or

(c) in the case of a dependent's adoption or placement for adoption, the date of the adoption or placement for adoption.

33-22-524. Guaranteed renewability of coverage for employers in group market. (1) Except as provided in this section, if a health insurance issuer offers health insurance coverage in the small group market or large group market in connection with a group health plan, the health insurance issuer shall renew or continue the coverage in force at the option of the plan sponsor.

(2) A health insurance issuer may nonrenew or discontinue health insurance coverage offered in connection with a group health plan in the small group market or large group market if:

(a) the plan sponsor has failed to pay premiums or contributions in accordance with the terms of the health insurance coverage or if the health insurance issuer has not received timely premium payments;

(b) the plan sponsor has performed an act or practice that constitutes fraud or has made an intentional misrepresentation of material fact under the terms of the coverage;

(c) the plan sponsor has failed to comply with a material plan provision relating to employer contribution or group health plan participation rules;

(d) the health insurance issuer is ceasing to offer coverage in that group market in accordance with this section and applicable state law;

(e) in the case of a health insurance issuer that offers health insurance coverage in the group market through a network plan, there is no longer any enrollee in connection with the group health plan who lives, resides, or works in the service area of the health insurance issuer and, in the case of the small group market, if the health insurance issuer would deny enrollment with respect to the plan under 33-22-1811(4)(a)(i); or

(f) in the case of health insurance coverage that is made available in the small group market or large group market only through one or more bona fide associations, the membership of an employer in the bona fide association ceases, but only if the coverage is terminated under this subsection (2)(f) uniformly without regard to any health status-related factor of a covered individual.

(3) A health insurance issuer may not discontinue offering a particular type of group health insurance coverage offered in the small group market or large group market unless in accordance with applicable state law and unless:

(a) the issuer provides notice to each plan sponsor, participant, and beneficiary provided coverage of this type in that group market of the discontinuation at least 90 days prior to the date of the discontinuation of the coverage;

(b) the issuer offers to each plan sponsor provided coverage of this type in the market the option to purchase any other health insurance coverage currently being offered by the health insurance issuer to a group health plan in the market; and

(c) the health insurance issuer acts uniformly without regard to the claims experience of those sponsors or any health status-related factor of any participants or beneficiaries covered or new participants or beneficiaries who may become eligible for the coverage.

(4) (a) A health insurance issuer may not discontinue offering all health insurance coverage in the small group market, the large group market, or both the small group market and the large group market, unless in accordance with applicable state law and unless:

(i) the issuer provides notice of discontinuation to the commissioner and to each plan sponsor, participant, and beneficiary covered at least 180 days prior to the date of the discontinuation of coverage; and

(ii) all health insurance issued or delivered for issuance in Montana in the group market or markets is discontinued and coverage under the health insurance coverage in the group market or markets is not renewed.

(b) In the case of a discontinuation under this section in a group market, the health insurance issuer may not provide for the issuance of any health insurance coverage in the group market for a period of 5 years beginning on the date of the discontinuation of the last health insurance coverage not renewed.

(5) A health insurance issuer may modify upon renewal health insurance coverage for a product offered to a group health plan in the large group market or in the small group market if, for coverage that is available in the small group market other than only through one or more bona fide associations, modification is consistent with applicable state law and effective on a uniform basis among group health plans with that product.

(6) In the case of health insurance coverage that is made available by a health insurance issuer in the small group market or large group market to employers only through one or more bona fide associations, references to "plan sponsor" under this section include those employers.

A group health plan that is a multiple employer welfare arrangement, as defined by 29 U.S.C. 1002, may not deny an employer whose employees are covered under the group health plan continued access to the same or different coverage under the terms of the group health plan other than:

(1) for nonpayment of contributions;

(2) for fraud or other intentional misrepresentation of material fact by the employer;

(3) for noncompliance with material plan provisions;

(4) because the group health plan is ceasing to offer any coverage in a geographic area;

(5) in the case of a group health plan that offers benefits through a network plan, because there is no longer any individual enrolled through the employer who lives, resides, or works in the service area of the network plan and the group health plan applies to this section uniformly without regard to the claims experience of employers or any health status-related factor of those individuals or their dependents; or

33-22-526. Group health discrimination prohibited. (1) (a) A group health plan or a health insurance issuer offering group health insurance coverage may not establish rules for eligibility, including continued eligibility, of any individual to enroll under the terms of the group health plan based on any of the following health status-related factors of the individual or a dependent of the individual:

(i) health status;

(ii) medical condition, including both physical and mental illnesses;

(iii) claims experience;

(iv) receipt of health care;

(v) medical history;

(vi) genetic information;

(vii) evidence of insurability, including conditions arising out of acts of domestic violence; or (viii) disability.

(b) This subsection does not:

(i) require a group health plan or group health insurance coverage to provide particular benefits other than those provided under the terms of the group health plan or group health insurance coverage; or

(ii) prevent the group health plan or group health insurance coverage from establishing limitations or restrictions on the amount, level, extent, or nature of the benefits or coverage for similarly situated individuals enrolled in the group health plan or group health insurance coverage.

(c) For purposes of subsection (1)(a), rules for eligibility to enroll under a group health plan include rules defining an applicable waiting period for the enrollment.

(2) (a) A group health plan and a health insurance issuer offering health insurance coverage in connection with a group health plan may not require an individual, as a condition of enrollment or continued enrollment under the group health plan, to pay a premium or contribution that is greater than the premium or contribution for a similarly situated individual enrolled in the group health plan on the basis of any health status-related factor of the individual or of an individual enrolled under the plan as a dependent of the individual.

(b) This subsection (2) does not:

(i) restrict the amount that an employer may be charged for coverage under a group health plan; or

(ii) prevent a group health plan and a health insurance issuer offering group health insurance coverage from establishing premium discounts or modifying otherwise applicable copayments or deductibles in return for adherence to programs of health promotion and disease prevention.

33-22-530. Notice required for cancellation for nonpayment of group health insurance. (1) A health insurance issuer shall provide at least 15 days prior notification of cancellation for nonpayment of premium for group health insurance coverage.

(2) The notice must be sent to the policyholder at the policyholder's last-known address and must specify the date of cancellation of coverage. The insurer shall attach a properly executed proof of mailing to this notice and maintain a copy of the proof of mailing in its records.

(3) The health insurance issuer shall hold for processing of payment any claims for covered benefits incurred during the 15-day notification period for nonpayment of premium for group health insurance coverage. Upon receipt of the premium, claims held for the 15-day notification period must be processed for payment.

(4) The policy continues in full force and effect, subject to the requirements of subsection (3), until the proper 15-day notice has been given, unless the coverage has already been replaced.

(5) The 15-day period begins to run from the date of the proof of mailing.

(6) The issuer may collect premiums for any time period that the coverage remains in effect.

(7) When coverage is actually canceled, notice must also be mailed to all certificate holders at:

(a) their last-known home addresses if available; or

(b) the business address of the group policyholder.

(8) The notice of cancellation to certificate holders must be separate from the certificate of creditable coverage required in 33-22-142, although it may be mailed simultaneously with the certificate.

Part 6
Blanket Disability Insurance

33-22-601. Blanket disability insurance defined. Blanket disability insurance is hereby declared to be that form of disability insurance covering groups of persons as enumerated in one of the following subsections:

(1) under a policy or contract issued to any common carrier or to any operator, owner, or lessee of a means of transportation, who or which shall be deemed the policyholder, covering a group defined as all persons or all persons of a class who may become passengers on such common carrier or such means of transportation;

(2) under a policy or contract issued to an employer, who shall be deemed the policyholder, covering all employees, dependents, or guests, defined by reference to specified hazards incident to the activities or operations of the employer or any class of employees, dependents, or guests similarly defined;

(3) under a policy or contract issued to a school or other institution of learning, camp or sponsor thereof; or to the head or principal thereof, who or which shall be deemed the policyholder, covering students or campers. Supervisors and employees may be included.

(4) under a policy or contract issued in the name of any religious, charitable, recreational, educational, or civic organization, which shall be deemed the policyholder, covering participants in activities sponsored by the organization;

(5) under a policy or contract issued to a sports team or sponsors thereof, which shall be deemed the policyholder, covering members, officials, and supervisors;

(6) under a policy or contract issued in the name of any volunteer fire department, first aid, or other such volunteer group, or agency having jurisdiction thereof, which shall be deemed the policyholder, covering all of the members of such fire department or group;

(7) under a policy or contract issued to cover any other risk or class of risks which in the discretion of the commissioner may be properly eligible for blanket disability insurance. The discretion of the commissioner may be exercised on an individual risk basis or class of risks, or both.

33-22-602. Required provisions of blanket policies. An insurer authorized to write disability insurance in this state has the power to issue blanket disability insurance. A blanket policy may not be issued or delivered in this state unless a copy of the policy form is filed in accordance with 33-1-501. A blanket policy must contain provisions that in the opinion of the commissioner are at least as favorable to the policyholder and the individual insured as the following provisions:

(1) the policy and the application constitute the entire contract between the parties, all statements made by the policyholder are, in absence of fraud, considered representations and not warranties, and statements may not be used in defense to a claim under the policy unless it is contained in a written application;

(2) written notice of sickness or of injury must be given to the insurer within 20 days after the date when the sickness or injury occurred. Failure to give notice within 20 days may not invalidate or reduce a claim if the insured shows that it was not reasonably possible to give the required notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible.

(3) the insurer will furnish to the policyholder forms for filing proof of loss. If forms are not furnished within 15 days after the insured provided notice of sickness or injury, the claimant is considered to have complied with the requirements of the policy as to proof of loss upon submitting, within the time established in the policy for filing proof of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, character, and extent of the loss for which claim is made.

(4) in the case of a claim for loss of time for disability, written proof of the loss must be furnished to the insurer within 30 days after the commencement of the period for which the insurer is liable and subsequent written proof of the continuance of the disability must be furnished to the insurer at intervals established by the insurer. In the case of a claim for any other loss, written proof of the loss must be furnished to the insurer within 90 days after the date of the loss. Failure to furnish proof within 90 days may not invalidate or reduce a claim if the insured shows it was not reasonably possible to furnish the required proof and that proof was furnished as soon as was reasonably possible.

(5) except as provided in 33-22-137, all benefits payable under the policy other than benefits for loss of time are payable immediately upon receipt of written proof of the loss. Subject to proof of loss, all accrued benefits payable under the policy for loss of time must be paid at least every 30 days during the period for which the insurer is liable. Any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of the period of liability must be paid immediately upon receipt of the proof of loss.

(6) the insurer at its own expense has the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and as often as reasonably required during the pendency of a claim under the policy and also the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of death when it is not prohibited by law;

(7) an action at law or in equity may not be brought to recover a loss under the policy sooner than 60 days after written proof of loss has been furnished in accordance with the requirements of the policy and no later than 3 years after the time written proof of loss is required to be furnished.

33-22-604. Payment of claims — discharge. (1) (a) Subject to subsection (1)(b), all benefits under a blanket disability policy must be payable to:

(i) the person insured or to the person's designated beneficiary or beneficiaries or to the person's estate, except that if the person insured is a minor or is mentally incompetent, the benefits may be made payable to the parent, guardian, or other person actually supporting the person; or

(ii) the employer, if the entire cost of the insurance has been borne by the employer.

(b) The policy may provide that all or any portion of any indemnities provided by the policy on account of hospital, nursing, medical, or surgical services may, at the insurer's option, be paid directly to the hospital or person rendering the services, but the policy may not require that the service be rendered by a particular hospital or person.

(2) Payment made as provided in subsection (1) discharges the insurer's obligation with respect to the amount of insurance paid.

33-22-702. Definitions. For purposes of this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Inpatient benefits" are as set forth in 33-22-705.

(2) "Mental health benefits" means benefits with respect to items or services for mental health conditions, as defined under the terms of the plan or health insurance coverage and in accordance with applicable federal and state law. Any condition defined by the plan or coverage as being or as not being a mental health condition must be defined to be consistent with generally recognized independent standards of current medical practice, including but not limited to the most recent edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders.

(3) "Mental health treatment center" means a treatment facility organized to provide care and treatment for mental illness or severe mental illness through multiple modalities or techniques pursuant to a written treatment plan approved and monitored by a qualified health care provider and a treatment facility that is:

(a) licensed as a mental health treatment center by the state;

(b) funded or eligible for funding under federal or state law; or

(c) affiliated with a hospital under a contractual agreement with an established system for patient referral.

(4) (a) "Mental illness" means a clinically significant behavioral or psychological syndrome or pattern that occurs in a person and that is associated with:

(i) present distress or a painful symptom;

(ii) a disability or impairment in one or more areas of functioning; or

(iii) a significantly increased risk of suffering death, pain, disability, or an important loss of freedom.

(b) Mental illness must be considered as a manifestation of a behavioral, psychological, or biological dysfunction in a person.

(c) Mental illness does not include:

(i) a developmental disorder;

(ii) a speech disorder;

(iii) a psychoactive substance use disorder;

(iv) an eating disorder, except for bulimia and anorexia nervosa; or

(v) an impulse control disorder, except for intermittent explosive disorder and trichotillomania.

(5) "Outpatient benefits" are as set forth in 33-22-705.

(6) "Primary care behavioral health model" means an evidence-based, integrated behavioral health care service delivery model delivered in primary or specialty care settings that recognizes licensed psychologists as consultants as well as direct service providers.

(7) "Psychiatric collaborative care model" means the evidence-based, integrated behavioral health service delivery method in which care:

(a) is delivered by a primary care team consisting of a primary care provider and a care manager who work in collaboration with a psychiatric consultant, including but not limited to a psychiatrist;

(b) is directed by the primary care team;

(c) includes structured care management with regular assessments of clinical status using validated tools and modification of treatment as appropriate; and

(d) involves regular consultations between the psychiatric consultant and the primary care team to review the clinical status and care of patients and to make recommendations.

(8) "Qualified health care provider" means a person licensed as a physician, psychologist, social worker, clinical professional counselor, marriage and family therapist, or addiction counselor or another appropriate licensed health care practitioner.

(9) "Severe mental illness" means the following disorders as defined by the American psychiatric association:

(a) schizophrenia;
(b) schizoaffective disorder;
(c) bipolar disorder;
(d) major depression;
(e) panic disorder;
(f) obsessive-compulsive disorder; and
(g) autism.

(10) "Substance use disorder" means the uncontrollable or excessive use of an addictive substance, including but not limited to alcohol, morphine, cocaine, heroin, opium, cannabis, barbiturates, amphetamines, tranquilizers, or hallucinogens, and the resultant physiological or psychological dependency that develops with continued use of the addictive substance and that requires medical care or other appropriate treatment as determined by a licensed addiction counselor or other appropriate medical practitioner.

(11) "Substance use disorder benefits" means benefits with respect to items or services for substance use disorders, as defined under the terms of the plan or health insurance coverage and in accordance with applicable federal and state law. Any disorder defined by the plan as being or as not being a substance use disorder must be defined to be consistent with generally recognized independent standards of current medical practice, including but not limited to the most recent edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders.

(12) "Substance use disorder treatment center" means a treatment facility that:

(a) provides a program for the treatment of substance use disorders pursuant to a written treatment plan approved and monitored by a qualified health care provider; and

33-22-703. Coverage for mental illness, severe mental illness, and substance use disorders — definition. (1) A health insurance issuer that issues, modifies, or renews individual or group health insurance coverage or a group health plan shall provide for the necessary care and treatment of mental illness, severe mental illness, and substance use disorders at a level of benefits that is no less favorable than the level provided for physical illness generally, including:

(a) inpatient benefits;
(b) outpatient benefits;
(c) emergency care; and
(d) prescription drugs.

(2) For the purposes of this section, "no less favorable" means the same level of parity as required under the Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act of 2008 and related federal regulations as of January 1, 2017.

(3) Coverage for a child with autism who is 18 years of age or younger must comply with 33-22-515(3) through 33-22-515(5) if the child is diagnosed with:

(a) autistic disorder;
(b) Asperger's disorder; or
(c) pervasive developmental disorder not otherwise specified.

33-22-705. Inpatient and outpatient benefits — use of psychiatric collaborative care or primary care behavioral health model. (1) (a) Inpatient benefits are benefits payable for charges made by:

(i) a hospital or freestanding inpatient facility for the necessary care and treatment of mental illness, severe mental illness, or substance use disorder furnished to a covered person while confined as an inpatient; or

(ii) a qualified health care provider for the necessary care and treatment of mental illness, severe mental illness, or substance use disorder furnished to a covered person while confined as an inpatient.

(b) Care and treatment of a substance use disorder in a freestanding inpatient facility must be in a substance use disorder treatment center.

(c) Inpatient benefits include payment for medically monitored and medically managed intensive inpatient services and clinically managed high-intensity residential services.

(2) Outpatient benefits are benefits payable for:

(a) reasonable charges made by a hospital for the necessary care and treatment of mental illness, severe mental illness, or substance use disorder furnished to a covered person while not confined as an inpatient;

(b) reasonable charges for services rendered or prescribed by a qualified health care provider for the necessary care and treatment for mental illness, severe mental illness, or substance use disorder furnished to a covered person while not confined as an inpatient;

(c) reasonable charges made by a mental health or substance use disorder treatment center for the necessary care and treatment of a covered person provided in the treatment center while not confined as an inpatient;

(d) reasonable charges for services rendered by a qualified health care provider, hospital, mental health treatment center, or substance use disorder treatment center in an acute or subacute partial hospitalization or intensive outpatient treatment setting; or

(e) reasonable charges for outpatient benefits listed in this subsection (2) that are delivered through the psychiatric collaborative care model or primary care behavioral health model. The charges must be reimbursed through the use of the following common procedural terminology billing codes established by the American medical association:

(i) 99492;

(ii) 99493;

(iii) 99494;

(iv) 99484, the code for care management services for behavioral health conditions;

(v) 96156, 96158, 96159, 96164, 96165, 96167, 96168, 96170, and 96171, the codes for health behavior assessment and intervention; and

(vi) 99446, 99447, 99448, 99449, and 99451, the codes for interprofessional telephone/internet/electronic health record consultations.

Part 9
Medicare Supplement Insurance Minimum Standards

33-22-901. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Medicare Supplement Insurance Minimum Standards Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 298, L. 1981.

33-22-902. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to establish minimum standards for medicare supplement policies and certificates and to establish a regulatory program that meets the requirements of 42 U.S.C. 1395ss(p)(1)(A).

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 298, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 163, L. 1993.

(1) "Applicant" means:

(a) in the case of an individual medicare supplement policy, the person who seeks to contract for insurance benefits; and

(b) in the case of a group medicare supplement policy, the proposed certificate holder.

(2) "Certificate" means a certificate delivered or issued for delivery in this state under a group medicare supplement policy.

(3) "Certificate form" means the form on which the certificate is delivered or issued for delivery by the issuer.

(4) "Entity" means an insurer as defined in 33-1-201, a health service corporation as defined in 33-30-101, and a health maintenance organization as defined in 33-31-102.

(5) "Health care expenses":

(a) means expenses of a health maintenance organization associated with the delivery of health care services that are analogous to incurred losses of an insurer;

(b) does not include home office and overhead costs, advertising costs, commissions and other acquisition costs, taxes, capital costs, administrative costs, or claims processing costs.

(6) "Issuer" includes insurance companies, fraternal benefit societies, health care service plans, health maintenance organizations, and any entity delivering or issuing for delivery in this state medicare supplement policies or certificates.

(7) "Medicare" means Health Insurance for the Aged, Title XVIII of the Social Security Amendments of 1965, as then constituted or later amended.

(8) "Medicare supplement policy" means a group or individual policy of disability insurance or a subscriber contract of a health service corporation, other than a policy issued pursuant to a contract under 42 U.S.C. 1395ss(g)(1), or a policy issued under a demonstration project authorized pursuant to amendments to the federal Social Security Act, that is advertised, marketed, or designed primarily as a supplement to reimbursements under medicare for the hospital, medical, or surgical expenses of persons eligible for medicare. The term does not include:

(a) a policy or contract of one or more employers or labor organizations or of the trustees of a fund established by one or more employers or labor organizations, or a combination of employers, organizations, and trustees, for employees or former employees, or a combination of current and former employees, or for members or former members, or a combination of current and former members, of the labor organizations; or

(b) individual policies or contracts issued pursuant to a conversion privilege under a policy or contract of group or individual insurance when the group or individual policy or contract includes provisions that are inconsistent with the requirements of this part or policies issued to employees or members as additions to franchise plans in existence on April 8, 1981.

(9) "Policy form" means the form on which the policy is delivered or issued for delivery by the issuer.

33-22-904. Standards for policy provisions — rules. (1) A medicare supplement policy or certificate in force in this state may not contain benefits that duplicate benefits provided by medicare.

(2) The commissioner shall adopt reasonable rules to establish specific standards for policy provisions of medicare supplement policies and certificates. A requirement of this code relating to minimum required policy benefits, other than the minimum standards contained in this part, may not apply to medicare supplement policies and certificates. The standards are in addition to and in accordance with applicable laws of this state, including the provisions of Title 33, chapter 22, and may cover but are not limited to:

(a) terms of renewability;
(b) initial and subsequent conditions of eligibility;
(c) nonduplication of coverage;
(d) probationary periods;
(e) benefit limitations, exceptions, and reductions;
(f) elimination periods;
(g) requirements for replacement;
(h) recurrent conditions; and
(i) definitions of terms.

(3) The commissioner may adopt reasonable rules that prohibit policy or certificate provisions not otherwise specifically authorized by statute that, in the opinion of the commissioner, are unjust, unfair, or unfairly discriminatory to any person insured or proposed for coverage under a medicare supplement policy or certificate.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law, a medicare supplement policy or certificate may not exclude or limit benefits for losses incurred more than 6 months from the effective date of coverage because it involved a preexisting condition. The policy or certificate may not define a preexisting condition more restrictively than a condition for which medical advice was given or treatment was recommended by or received from a physician within 6 months before the effective date of coverage.

(5) The commissioner may adopt rules necessary to conform medicare supplement policies and certificates to the requirements of federal law and federal regulations, including but not limited to rules:

(a) requiring refunds or credits if the policies or certificates do not meet loss requirements;

(b) establishing a uniform methodology for calculating and reporting loss ratios;

(c) ensuring public access to policies, premiums, and loss ratio information of issuers of medicare supplement insurance;

(d) establishing a process for approving or disapproving policy forms and certificate forms and proposed premium increases; and

(e) establishing a policy for holding public hearings prior to approval of premium increases.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 298, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 682, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 163, L. 1993.

Cross-References

Adoption and publication of rules, Title 2, ch. 4, part 3.

33-22-905. Minimum standards for benefits and payment of claims — rules. The commissioner shall adopt reasonable rules to establish minimum standards for benefits, payment of claims, marketing practices, compensation arrangements, and reporting practices for medicare supplement policies and certificates.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 298, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 682, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 163, L. 1993.

Cross-References

33-22-906. Loss ratio standards and filing requirements — limits on compensation. (1) Medicare supplement policies and certificates must return to policyholders or certificate holders benefits that are reasonable in relation to the premium charged. The commissioner shall adopt reasonable rules to establish minimum standards for loss ratios of medicare supplement policies and certificates on the basis of incurred claims experience or incurred health care expenses, where coverage is provided by a health maintenance organization on a service rather than reimbursement basis, and earned premiums for the entire period for which rates are computed to provide coverage and in accordance with accepted actuarial principles and practices. Every issuer providing medicare supplement insurance benefits to a resident of this state shall make premium adjustments:

(a) necessary to produce an expected loss ratio under the policy or certificate that meets the minimum loss ratio standards for medicare supplement policies and certificates as established by rule; and

(b) expected to result in a loss ratio at least as great as that originally anticipated by the issuer when it established current premiums for the medicare supplement policy or certificate.

(2) The commissioner shall by rule establish the timing and manner of the premium adjustments. Every issuer providing medicare supplement policies or certificates in this state shall annually file with the commissioner its rates, rating schedule, and supporting documentation demonstrating that it is in compliance with the applicable loss ratio standards of this part. An issuer transacting medicare supplement insurance in this state may not adjust its rates more than twice a year and may not adjust its rates for the first year a policy is in force, except to allow for changes in federal laws or regulations relating to medicare. Each filing of rates and rating schedules must demonstrate that the actual and expected losses in relation to premiums complies with the requirements of this part.

(3) An issuer may not provide compensation to its insurance producers that is greater than the renewal compensation that would be paid on an existing policy or certificate if:

(a) the existing policy or certificate were replaced by another policy or certificate with the same issuer and the new benefits are substantially similar to the benefits under the old policy or certificate; and

(b) the old policy or certificate was issued by the same issuer or insurance group.

33-22-907. Disclosure standards — informational brochure — rules. (1) In order to provide for full and fair disclosure in the sale of medicare supplement policies and certificates, a medicare supplement policy may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state and a certificate may not be delivered pursuant to a group medicare supplement policy delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless an outline of coverage is delivered to the applicant at the time that application is made. The outline of coverage must be filed with the commissioner as required by 33-1-501. The filing must be made at least 60 days in advance of the date that the outline of coverage is delivered to any resident of this state.

(2) (a) The commissioner shall prescribe the format and content of the outline of coverage required by subsection (1).

(b) For purposes of this section, "format" means style, arrangements, and overall appearance, including such items as the size, color, and prominence of type and the arrangement of text and captions.

(c) The outline of coverage must include:

(i) a description of the principal benefits and coverage provided in the policy or certificate;

(ii) a statement of the exceptions, reductions, and limitations contained in the policy or certificate;

(iii) a statement of the renewal provisions, including any reservation by the issuer of a right to change premiums and disclosure of the existence of any automatic renewal premium increases based on the policyholder's or certificate holder's age;

(iv) a statement that the outline of coverage is a summary of the policy or certificate issued or applied for and that the policy or certificate should be consulted to determine governing contractual provisions.

(3) The commissioner may prescribe by rule a standard form and the contents of an informational brochure for persons eligible for medicare, which is intended to improve the buyer's ability to select the most appropriate coverage and to improve the buyer's understanding of medicare. Except in the case of direct response insurance policies, the commissioner may require by rule that the information brochure be provided to any prospective insureds eligible for medicare at the same time that the outline of coverage is delivered. With respect to direct response insurance policies, the commissioner may require by rule that the prescribed brochure be provided upon request, but not later than the time of policy delivery, to any prospective insureds eligible for medicare.

(4) The commissioner may adopt reasonable rules for captions or notice requirements, determined to be in the public interest and designed to inform prospective insureds that particular insurance coverages are not medicare supplement coverages, for all accident and sickness insurance policies sold to persons eligible for medicare, other than:

(a) medicare supplement policies or certificates; or

(b) disability income policies.

(5) The commissioner may further adopt reasonable rules to govern the full and fair disclosure of the information in connection with the replacement of accident and sickness policies or certificates by persons eligible for medicare.

(6) As soon as practicable, but no later than 30 days before the annual effective date of a medicare benefit change, every issuer providing medicare supplement insurance or benefits to a resident of this state shall notify its policyholders and certificate holders, in a format that the commissioner prescribes by rule, of the changes that it has made to the medicare supplement policy or certificate.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 26, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-22-908. Notice of free examination. Medicare supplement policies and certificates must have a notice prominently printed on the first page of the policy or certificate or attached to the policy or certificate stating in substance that the applicant has the right to return the policy or certificate within 30 days of its delivery and to have the premium refunded if, after examination of the policy or certificate, the applicant is not satisfied for any reason. The issuer shall pay any refund made pursuant to this section directly to the applicant in a timely manner.

33-22-909. Administrative procedures. Rules adopted pursuant to this part are subject to the provisions of 33-1-313 and Title 2, chapter 4.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 298, L. 1981.

33-22-910. Filing requirements for advertising. Every issuer of medicare supplement policies or certificates in this state shall provide to the commissioner for the commissioner's approval a copy of any medicare supplement advertising intended for use in this state, whether through written, radio, or television medium.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 682, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 163, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 33, Ch. 531, L. 1997.

33-22-911. Penalties. In addition to any other penalties for violations of the insurance code, the commissioner may after hearing require issuers violating any provision of or rule adopted under Title 33, chapter 16, or this part to cease marketing a medicare supplement policy or certificate in this state that is related directly or indirectly to the violation or take action that is necessary to comply with the provisions of Title 33, chapter 16, or this part or the rules adopted under Title 33, chapter 16, or this part, or both.

33-22-921. Discontinuance or nonrenewal — alternate policy or certificate — same issuer. (1) If an issuer discontinues or does not renew a medicare supplement policy product or certificate and offers an alternate medicare supplement policy or certificate to its insureds within this state, it may not deny benefits under the replacing policy or certificate to an insured who receives treatment for a condition that was a covered expense under the replaced policy or certificate and is a covered expense under the replacing policy or certificate if the insured enrolls in and pays the premium for the replacing policy or certificate within 31 days after the termination of the replaced policy or certificate.

(2) An issuer who discontinues or does not renew a medicare supplement policy product or certificate and offers an alternate medicare supplement policy or certificate shall base its premium for the alternate policy or certificate on the rates currently in place for that policy or certificate.

(3) If the insured has not satisfied the preexisting condition limitation under the replaced medicare supplement policy or certificate, any period of time that was covered by that policy or certificate must be credited toward the preexisting condition limitation period of the replacing policy or certificate.

33-22-922. Discontinuance or nonrenewal — alternate policy — unauthorized bulk reinsurance. (1) Alternate medicare supplement coverage as provided in 33-22-921 must be offered to its insureds by an issuer that:

(a) bulk cedes its medicare supplement policy business to an insurer that does not meet the requirements of chapter 2;

(b) authorizes the bulk reinsurer to administer the medicare supplement policies on its behalf; and

(c) discontinues or does not renew a medicare supplement policy product.

(2) The premium for the alternate policy referred to in subsection (1) must be based on actuarially justified rates.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 28, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-22-923. Replacement policy or certificate — different issuer. (1) If an issuer replaces a medicare supplement policy or certificate, it may not deny benefits under the replacing policy or certificate to an insured who receives treatment for a condition that was a covered expense under the replaced policy or certificate and is a covered expense under the replacing policy or certificate if the insured pays the premium for the replacing policy or certificate when due or within 31 days after the termination of the replaced policy or certificate.

(2) An issuer who replaces a medicare supplement policy or certificate shall base its premium for the replacement policy or certificate on the rates currently in place for that policy or certificate.

(3) If the insured has not satisfied the preexisting condition limitation under the replaced medicare supplement policy or certificate, any period of time that was covered by that policy or certificate must be credited toward the preexisting condition limitation period of the replacing policy or certificate.

(4) To receive the benefits of subsections (1) through (3), a person shall submit to the replacing issuer proof of prior coverage, evidence of benefits provided under the previous policy or certificate, and the effective date and the date of termination of coverage under the previous policy or certificate.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 29, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-22-924. Renewal requirement. (1) If a person pays a renewal premium on the date it is due or within 31 days after it is due, an issuer may not refuse to renew a medicare supplement policy or certificate unless the issuer:

(a) refuses to renew all policies or certificates in this state that are of the same form and issued to persons of the same class; and

(b) offers a replacement policy or certificate at actuarially justified rates.

(2) If an issuer refuses to renew all policies or certificates in this state that are of the same form and issued to persons of the same class, the policies or certificates will remain in force during the grace period stated in the replaced policy or certificate. An issuer's refusal to renew a policy or certificate may not affect a claim that arose under the discontinued policy or certificate during the period in which an insured was confined without interruption to a medical care facility for treatment.

Part 10
Home Health Care Coverage

33-22-1001. Definition of home health care. "Home health care" means services provided by a licensed home health agency to an insured in the insured's place of residence that is prescribed by the insured's attending physician as part of a written plan of care. Services provided by home health care include:

(1) nursing;
(2) home health aide services;
(3) physical therapy;
(4) occupational therapy;
(5) speech therapy;
(6) hospice service;
(7) medical supplies and equipment suitable for use in the home; and
(8) medically necessary personal hygiene, grooming, and dietary assistance.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 508, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 1231, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Cross-References

Hospitals and related facilities — general provisions, Title 50, ch. 5, part 1.

33-22-1002. Availability of coverage for home health care. Insurers and health service corporations transacting health insurance business in this state shall make available, under group insurance policies or certificates and under group hospital and medical service plan contracts, benefits for home health care. Applicants for a group policy, certificate, or contract may select any level of benefits that may be offered by the insurer or service plan corporation.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 508, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 59, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-22-1003. Applicability. This part applies to policies, certificates, or contracts delivered or issued for delivery in this state after January 29, 1981, but does not apply to blanket, short-term travel, accident-only, limited or specified disease, or individual conversion policies or contracts, to policies or contracts designed for coverage under Title XVIII of the Social Security Act, known as Medicare, or to any other similar coverage under federal governmental plans.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 508, L. 1981; amd. Sec. 60, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

Part 11
Long-Term Care Insurance Act

33-22-1101. Short title. This part may be cited as the “Long-Term Care Insurance Act”.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 355, L. 1989.

33-22-1102. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to:

(1) promote the public interest;

(2) promote the availability of long-term care insurance;

(3) protect applicants for long-term care insurance from unfair or deceptive sales or enrollment practices;

(4) establish standards for long-term care insurance;

(5) facilitate public understanding and comparison of long-term care insurance policies; and

(6) facilitate flexibility and innovation in the development of long-term care insurance coverage.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 355, L. 1989.

33-22-1103. Compliance required. A policy may not be advertised, marketed, or offered in this state as long-term care insurance or nursing home insurance unless it complies with this part.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 355, L. 1989.

33-22-1104. Scope. This part is not intended to supersede the obligations of entities subject to this part to comply with the substance of other applicable insurance laws insofar as they do not conflict with this part. However, laws and regulations designed and intended to apply to medicare supplement insurance policies may not be applied to long-term care insurance.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

(1) “Activities of daily living” means:

(a) eating;

(b) toileting;

(c) transferring;

(d) bathing;

(e) dressing; and

(f) continence.

(2) “Applicant” means:

(a) in the case of an individual long-term care insurance policy, the person who seeks to contract for benefits; and

(b) in the case of a group long-term care insurance policy, the proposed certificate holder.

(3) “Appropriate sale criteria” means the set of conditions that an insurance company is required to address with an applicant that help to determine whether or not a particular insurance policy or contract offered for sale is appropriate to the applicant. These conditions must include but are not limited to any insurance premium involved in the policy, the income of the applicant, and the savings and investments of the applicant.

(4) "Certificate" means a certificate issued under a group long-term care insurance policy that has been delivered or issued for delivery in this state.

(5) "Group long-term care insurance" means a long-term care insurance policy that is delivered or issued for delivery in this state and issued to:

(a) (i) one or more employers;

(ii) a labor organization;

(iii) a trust established by an employer or labor organization; or

(iv) a trustee of a fund established by one or more employers or labor organizations or a combination of employers and labor organizations for:

(A) employees or former employees or a combination of employees and former employees; or

(B) members or former members of the labor organization or a combination of members and former members;

(b) any professional, trade, or occupational association for its current, former, or retired members or a combination of current, former, and retired members if the association:

(i) is composed of individuals all of whom are or were actively engaged in the same profession, trade, or occupation; and

(ii) has been maintained in good faith for purposes other than obtaining insurance; or

(c) an association, a trust, or the trustee of a fund established, created, or maintained for the benefit of members of one or more associations.

(i) Prior to advertising, marketing, or offering the policy within this state, the association or the insurer of the association shall file evidence with the commissioner that the association has:

(A) a minimum of 100 persons at the outset;

(B) been organized and maintained in good faith for purposes other than obtaining insurance;

(C) been in active existence for at least 1 year; and

(D) a constitution and bylaws requiring that the association hold regular meetings at least annually to further purposes of the membership; except for credit unions, the association collects dues or solicits contributions from members; and the members have voting privileges and representation on the governing board and committees.

(ii) Thirty days after filing, the association must be considered to have satisfied the organizational requirements unless the commissioner finds that the association does not satisfy the organizational requirements.

(d) a group other than as described in subsections (5)(a) through (5)(c) if the commissioner determines that the:

(i) issuance of the group policy is not contrary to the best interests of the public;

(ii) issuance of the group policy would result in economies of acquisition or administration; and

(iii) benefits are reasonable in relation to the premiums charged.

(6) (a) "Long-term care insurance":

(i) means any insurance policy that is advertised, marketed, offered, or designed to provide coverage for not less than 12 consecutive months for each covered person, on an expense-incurred, indemnity, prepaid, or other basis, for one or more necessary or medically necessary diagnostic, preventive, therapeutic, rehabilitative, or maintenance or personal-care services provided in a setting other than an acute care unit of a hospital;

(ii) may be issued by an insurer, fraternal benefit society, nonprofit health service corporation, prepaid health plan, health maintenance organization, or similar organization to the extent that the organization is otherwise authorized to issue life or health insurance;

(iii) includes group and individual annuities and life insurance policies that provide directly or that supplement long-term care insurance;

(iv) includes any product advertised, marketed, or offered as long-term care insurance regardless of any exceptions to the definition included in this section;

(v) includes a policy that provides for payment of benefits based upon cognitive impairment or the loss of functional capacity; and

(vi) includes qualified long-term care insurance contracts.

(b) Long-term care insurance does not include:

(i) any insurance policy that is offered primarily to provide basic medicare supplement coverage, basic hospital expense coverage, basic medical-surgical expense coverage, hospital confinement indemnity coverage, major medical expense coverage, disability income or related asset protection coverage, accident-only coverage, specified disease or specified accident coverage, or limited benefit health coverage; or

(ii) life insurance policies that accelerate the death benefit specifically for one or more of the qualifying events of terminal illness, medical conditions requiring extraordinary medical intervention, or permanent institutional confinement and that provide the option of a lump-sum payment for those benefits and in which neither the benefits nor the eligibility for the benefits is conditioned upon the receipt of long-term care.

(c) An insurance policy that is offered primarily to provide basic medicare supplement coverage, basic hospital expense coverage, basic medical-surgical expense coverage, hospital confinement indemnity coverage, major medical expense coverage, disability income protection coverage, accident-only coverage, specified disease or specified accident coverage, or limited benefit health coverage and that also contains long-term care insurance benefits of a duration of at least 6 months is not required to meet the requirements of this part unless the premium allocable to the long-term care insurance benefits contained in the policy is greater than 25% of the total policy premium.

(7) "Policy" means any policy, certificate, contract, membership contract, subscriber agreement, health care services agreement, rider, or endorsement delivered or issued for delivery in this state by an insurer, fraternal benefit society, health service corporation, prepaid health plan, health maintenance organization, or similar organization.

(8) "Preexisting condition" means a condition for which medical advice or treatment was recommended by or received from a provider of health care services within 6 months preceding the effective date of coverage of an insured person.

(9) "Qualified long-term care insurance contract" or "federally tax-qualified long-term care insurance contract" means:

(a) an individual or group insurance contract that meets the requirement of section 7702B of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 7702B, if:

(i) the only insurance protection provided under the contract is coverage of qualified long-term care services, as defined in 33-22-1126. A contract may also satisfy the requirements of this subsection (9)(a) if payments are made on a per diem or other periodic basis without regard to the expenses incurred during the period to which the payments relate.

(ii) the contract does not pay or reimburse expenses incurred for services or items to the extent that the expenses are reimbursable under 42 U.S.C. 1395 or would be reimbursable but for the application of a deductible or coinsurance amount. The requirements of this subsection (9)(a) do not apply to expenses that are reimbursable under 42 U.S.C. 1395 only as a secondary payor. A contract may also satisfy the requirements of this subsection (9)(a) if payments are made on a per diem or other periodic basis without regard to the expenses incurred during the period to which the payments relate.

(iii) the contract is guaranteed renewable within the meaning of section 7702B(b)(1)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 7702B(b)(1)(C);

(iv) the contract does not provide for a cash surrender value or other money that can be paid, assigned, pledged as collateral for a loan, or borrowed. All refunds of premiums and all policyholder dividends or similar amounts under the contract are to be applied as a reduction in future premiums or to increase future benefits. However, a refund of the aggregate premium paid under the contract may be allowed in the event of death of the insured or a complete surrender or cancellation of the contract.

(v) the contract contains the consumer protection provisions set forth in section 7702B(g) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 7702B(g); or

(b) a life insurance contract that provides long-term care coverage by rider or as a part of the contract as long as the contract complies with section 7702B(b) and (e) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 7702B(b) and (e).

(10) "Transferring" means moving into or out of a bed, chair, or wheelchair.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 355, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 152, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 240, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 416, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

33-22-1108. Preexisting condition — definition. (1) A long-term care insurance policy or certificate other than a policy or certificate issued to a group, as specified in 33-22-1107(5)(a)(ii), (5)(a)(iii), or (5)(a)(iv), may not use a definition of preexisting condition that is more restrictive than the definition in 33-22-1107.

(2) A long-term care insurance policy or certificate may not exclude coverage for a loss or confinement that is the result of a preexisting condition unless the loss or confinement begins within 6 months following the effective date of coverage of an insured person.

(3) If a long-term care insurance policy or certificate replaces, with similar benefits, another long-term care insurance policy or certificate, the insurer issuing the replacing long-term care insurance policy or certificate shall waive any time periods applicable to preexisting conditions or probationary periods in the replacing long-term care insurance policy or certificate to the extent that similar time periods have been satisfied under the original policy.

(4) The commissioner may extend the limitation periods in subsections (1) and (2) as to specific age group categories in specific policy forms if extending the limitation periods is in the best interests of the public.

(5) An insurer may use an application form designed to elicit the complete health history of an applicant and on the basis of the answers on that application perform underwriting in accordance with the insurer's established underwriting standards. Unless otherwise provided in the long-term care insurance policy or certificate, a preexisting condition, regardless of whether it is disclosed on the application, need not be covered until the waiting period described in subsection (2) expires. A long-term care insurance policy or certificate may not exclude or use a waiver or rider of any kind to exclude, limit, or reduce coverage or benefits for specifically named or described preexisting diseases or physical conditions beyond the waiting period described in subsection (2).

33-22-1111. Outline of coverage. (1) (a) An insurer shall deliver an outline of coverage as approved by the commissioner to a prospective applicant for long-term care insurance at the time of initial solicitation through means that prominently direct the attention of the recipient to the document and its purpose.

(b) The commissioner shall prescribe a standard format, including style, arrangement, and overall appearance, and the content of the outline of coverage.

(c) In the case of insurance producer solicitations, an insurance producer shall deliver the outline of coverage prior to the presentation of an application or enrollment form.

(d) In the case of direct response solicitations, the insurer shall deliver the outline of coverage upon the earlier of the applicant's request or the delivery of the policy.

(2) The outline of coverage must include:

(a) a description of the principal benefits and coverage provided in the policy;

(b) a statement of the principal exclusions, reductions, and limitations contained in the policy;

(c) a statement of the terms under which the policy or certificate, or both, may be continued in force or discontinued, including any reservation in the policy of a right to change premiums. Continuation or conversion provisions of a group policy must be specifically described.

(d) a statement that the outline of coverage is only a summary of the policy issued or applied for, not a contract of insurance, and that the policy or group master policy contains governing contractual provisions;

(e) a description of the terms under which the policy or certificate may be returned and the premium refunded;
(f) a brief description of the relationship of cost of care and benefits; and
(g) a statement that discloses to the policyholder or certificate holder whether the policy is intended to be a federally tax-qualified long-term care insurance contract.
(3) The outline of coverage:
(a) must prominently display the name of the insurer;
(b) must be a freestanding document not dependent for purposes of reader comprehension upon any other document;
(c) must use no smaller than 12-point type; and
(d) may not contain material of an advertising nature.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 355, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 416, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

33-22-1112. Required content for certificate. A certificate issued pursuant to a group long-term care insurance policy that is delivered or issued for delivery in this state must include:
(1) a description of the principal benefits and coverage provided in the policy;
(2) a statement of the principal exclusions, reductions, and limitations contained in the policy; and
(3) a statement that the group master policy determines governing contractual provisions.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 355, L. 1989.

33-22-1113. Disclosure and performance standards for long-term care insurance. (1) The commissioner may by rule adopt standards for full and fair disclosure, setting forth the manner, content, and disclosures required to be made in a long-term care insurance policy, including but not limited to:
(a) terms of renewability;
(b) initial and subsequent conditions of eligibility;
(c) nonduplication of coverage provisions;
(d) coverage of dependents;
(e) preexisting conditions;
(f) termination of insurance;
(g) continuation or conversion;
(h) probationary periods;
(i) limitations;
(j) exceptions;
(k) reductions;
(l) elimination periods;
(m) requirements for replacement;
(n) recurrent conditions;
(o) definition of terms;
(p) prohibitions on limitations and exclusions;
(q) extension of benefits;
(r) discontinuance and replacement of policies;
(s) unintentional lapse;
(t) prohibitions against postclaim underwriting;
(u) minimum standards for home health and community care benefits;
(v) inflation protection;
(w) incontestability period; and
(x) tax consequences.
(2) A group long-term care insurance policy must include a provision relating to conversion on termination of eligibility as described in 33-22-508 or include a provision for continuation of coverage that maintains coverage under the existing group policy if the coverage would otherwise terminate.

Cross-References

Conversion on termination of eligibility, 33-22-508.

33-22-1114. Prohibited practices and policy provisions. (1) An insurance company may not issue a refund to a person other than the owner of the policy or certificate.

(2) A long-term care insurance policy may not:

(a) be canceled, nonrenewed, or otherwise terminated on any grounds other than the insured's or certificate holder's failure to pay the premium;

(b) contain a provision establishing a new waiting period if existing coverage is converted to or replaced by a new or other form within the same company, except with respect to an increase in benefits voluntarily selected by the insured individual or group policyholder; or

(c) provide coverage for only skilled nursing care or provide substantially more coverage for skilled nursing care in a facility than coverage for lower levels of care.

33-22-1115. Prior hospitalization or institutionalization. (1) A long-term care insurance policy may not be delivered or issued for delivery in Montana if the policy conditions eligibility for a benefit:

(a) on a prior hospitalization requirement;

(b) provided in an institutional care setting on the receipt of a higher level of institutional care; or

(c) other than waiver of premium, postconfinement benefits, postacute care benefits, or recuperative benefits, on a prior institutionalization requirement.

(2) A long-term care insurance policy containing a limitation or condition for eligibility other than those prohibited in subsection (1) must clearly label, in a separate paragraph of the policy or certificate entitled "Limitations or Conditions on Eligibility for Benefits", the limitations or conditions, including any required number of days of confinement.

(3) A long-term care insurance policy that contains a benefit advertised, marketed, or offered as a home health care benefit may not condition receipt of a benefit on a prior institutionalization requirement.

(4) A long-term care insurance policy that conditions eligibility of noninstitutional benefits on the prior receipt of institutional care may not require a prior institutional stay of more than 30 days.

(5) A long-term care insurance policy that provides benefits only following institutionalization may not condition the benefits upon admission to a facility for the same or a related condition within a period of less than 30 days after discharge from the institution.

33-22-1116. Nonforfeiture benefits — offer requirement. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3), a long-term care insurance policy may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless the policyholder or certificate holder has been offered the option of purchasing a policy that includes a nonforfeiture benefit. The offer of a nonforfeiture benefit may be in the form of a rider that is attached to the policy.

(2) If a policyholder or certificate holder declines the nonforfeiture benefit, the insurer shall provide a contingent benefit upon lapse that must be available for a specified period of time following a substantial increase in premium rates.

(3) When a group long-term care insurance policy is issued, the offer required in subsection (1) must be made to the group policyholder. However, if the policy is issued as group long-term care insurance as defined in 33-22-1107(5)(d), other than to a continuing care retirement community or other similar entity, the offer must be made to each proposed certificate holder.

33-22-1117. Appropriate sale criteria. (1) Appropriate sale criteria must be established and communicated to the consumer prior to the insurance company's acceptance of a person's application for long-term care insurance.

(2) This section may not preclude the purchase of a long-term care insurance policy by a consumer.

33-22-1118 reserved.

33-22-1119. Right to return policy — free look — refunds upon denial of application. (1) A long-term care insurance applicant and insured has the right to return the policy within 30 days of the policy's delivery and to have the premium refunded if, after examination of the policy, the applicant or insured is not satisfied for any reason. A long-term care insurance policy must have a notice prominently printed on the first page of the policy or attached to the policy stating that the applicant or insured has the right to return the policy within 30 days of the policy's delivery and to have the premium refunded if, after examination of the policy, other than a certificate issued to a group defined in 33-22-1107(5)(a), the applicant or insured is not satisfied for any reason.

(2) An applicant or a person insured under a long-term care insurance policy issued pursuant to a direct response solicitation has the right to return the policy within 30 days of its delivery and to have the premium refunded if, after examination of the policy, the applicant or the insured is not satisfied for any reason. A long-term care insurance policy issued pursuant to a direct response solicitation must have a notice prominently printed on the first page or attached to it stating that the applicant or the insured has the right to return the policy within 30 days of its delivery and to have the premium refunded if, after examination of the policy, the applicant or the insured is not satisfied for any reason.

(3) If the application of a person for long-term care insurance is denied, any refund due the person must be refunded within 30 days of the denial or return of the application.

33-22-1120. Extraterritorial jurisdiction. A group long-term care insurance policy or certificate may not be delivered or issued for delivery to a resident of Montana under a group policy issued in another state unless it is approved by:

(1) the commissioner; and

(2) the insurance regulatory official of a state that has statutory and regulatory long-term care insurance requirements substantially similar to those adopted in Montana.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 355, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 64, Ch. 379, L. 1995.

33-22-1121. Rules. The commissioner may adopt rules necessary to implement this part, including but not limited to rules that:

(1) establish loss ratio standards for long-term care insurance policies;

(2) promote premium adequacy and protect the policyholder in the event of substantial rate increases;

(3) establish minimum standards for insurance producer training, marketing practices, compensation, and testing;

(4) establish penalties and reporting practices for long-term care insurance;

(5) specify, with respect to nonforfeiture benefits and contingent benefits:

(a) the type or types of nonforfeiture benefits to be offered as part of long-term care insurance policies;

(b) the standards for nonforfeiture benefits;

(c) the rules regarding contingent benefits upon lapse, including:

(i) a determination of the specified period of time during which a contingent benefit upon lapse will be available;

(ii) the substantial premium rate increase that triggers a contingent benefit upon lapse as described in 33-22-1116; and

(d) the types of appropriate sale criteria to be communicated at the time of application;

(6) establish a requirement for the mandatory triggering of policy benefits based upon the number of activities of daily living that an individual is capable or incapable of performing; and

(7) are necessary to implement a determination made by the secretary of health and human services pursuant to 45 CFR, parts 160 and 164, as to who is a licensed health care practitioner.

History: (1)En. Sec. 14, Ch. 355, L. 1989; (2)En. Sec. 9, Ch. 355, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 240, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 16, Ch. 416, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

33-22-1122. Policy waiting periods not cumulative. A waiting or elimination period contained in a long-term care insurance policy under which an insured is required to wait a specified period of time before receiving policy benefits must be concurrent with any 90-day period used to determine whether an individual is a chronically ill individual.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 416, L. 1997.

33-22-1123. Delivery of policy — policy summary — monthly reports. (1) If an application for a long-term care insurance policy is approved, the issuer shall deliver the policy to the applicant or policyholder not later than 30 days after the date of approval.

(2) (a) At the time of delivery of an individual life insurance policy that provides long-term care benefits within the policy or by rider, a policy summary must be provided to the insured.

(b) In the case of direct response solicitations, the insurer shall deliver the policy summary upon the applicant's request, and whether or not a request is made, a policy summary must be delivered not later than at the time the policy is delivered.

(c) In addition to complying with any other applicable requirements, the summary must include:

(i) an explanation of how the long-term care benefit interacts with other components of the policy, including deductions from death benefits;

(ii) an illustration of the amount of benefit, the length of benefit, and the guaranteed lifetime benefit, if any, for each covered person;

(iii) any exclusions, reductions, and limitations on benefits of long-term care;

(iv) a statement that any long-term care inflation protection option required by the Administrative Rules of Montana is or is not available under this policy;

(d) If applicable to the policy type, the summary must also include:

(i) a disclosure of the effects of other exercising rights under the policy;

(ii) a disclosure of guarantees related to long-term care costs of insurance charges; and

(iii) current and projected maximum lifetime benefits.

(3) The required provisions of the policy summary may be incorporated into a basic illustration required to be delivered in accordance with administrative rules or into the life insurance policy summary.

(4) Any time a long-term care benefit funded through a life insurance vehicle by the acceleration of the death benefits is in benefit payment status, a monthly report must be provided to the policyholder. The report must include:

(a) any long-term care benefits paid out during the month;

(b) an explanation of any changes in the policy, such as to death benefits or cash values, due to long-term care benefits being paid out; and

(c) the amount of long-term care benefits existing or remaining.

History: En. Sec. 47, Ch. 416, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

33-22-1124. Denial of claims. If a claim under a long-term care insurance policy is denied, the issuer shall, not later than 60 days after the date of a written request by the policyholder, certificate holder, or the representative of either of them:

(1) provide a written explanation of the reasons for the denial; and

(2) provide all information possessed by the issuer relating to the denial.

History: En. Sec. 48, Ch. 416, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

33-22-1125. Benefit triggers. (1) A long-term care insurance policy may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state unless it complies with the requirements of this section and applicable rules for the triggering of mandatory provision of benefits.

(2) (a) A long-term care insurance policy must condition the payment of benefits on a determination of the insured's inability to perform activities of daily living or on cognitive impairment.

(b) Eligibility for the payment of benefits may not be more restrictive than requiring a deficiency in the ability to perform not more than three of the activities of daily living or requiring the presence of cognitive impairment.

(c) Insurers may use activities of daily living to trigger covered benefits that are in addition to those contained in the definition under 33-22-1107 or rules as long as they are defined in the policy.

(3) An insurer may use additional provisions for the determination of when benefits are payable under a policy. However, the provisions may not restrict or be in lieu of the requirements contained in subsections (1) and (2).

(4) For purposes of this section, the determination of a deficiency may not be more restrictive than:

(a) requiring the hands-on assistance of another person to perform the prescribed activities of daily living; or

(b) if the deficiency is due to the presence of a cognitive impairment, the need for supervision or verbal cueing by another person in order to protect the insured or others.

(5) Assessments of activities of daily living and cognitive impairment must be performed by licensed or certified professionals, such as physicians, nurses, or social workers.

(6) Long-term care insurance policies must include a clear description of the process of appealing and resolving benefit determinations.

33-22-1126. Additional standards for qualified long-term care contracts — definitions. (1) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) (i) "Chronically ill individual" has the meaning provided by section 7702B(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 7702B(c)(2), and means any individual who has been certified by a licensed health care practitioner as:

(A) being unable to perform without substantial assistance from another individual at least two activities of daily living for a period of at least 90 days due to a loss of functional capacity; or

(B) requiring substantial supervision to protect the individual from threats to health and safety due to severe cognitive impairment.

(ii) The term may not include an individual otherwise meeting the requirements of subsection (1)(a)(i)(A) or (1)(a)(i)(B) unless within the preceding 12-month period a licensed health care practitioner has certified that the individual meets the requirements of subsection (1)(a)(i)(A) or (1)(a)(i)(B).

(b) "Licensed health care practitioner" means a physician, as defined in section 1861(r)(1) of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. 1395x(r)(1), a registered professional nurse, licensed social worker, or other individual who meets the requirements prescribed by the secretary of the treasury.

(c) "Maintenance or personal care services" means any care the primary purpose of which is the provision of needed assistance with any of the disabilities as a result of which the individual is a chronically ill individual, including the protection from threats to health and safety due to severe cognitive impairment.

(d) "Qualified long-term care services" means services that meet the requirements of section 7702(c)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 7702(c)(1), and that:

(i) provide necessary diagnostic, preventative, therapeutic, curative, treatment, mitigation, and rehabilitative services;

(ii) provide maintenance or personal care services that are required by a chronically ill individual; and

(iii) are provided pursuant to a plan of care prescribed by a licensed health care practitioner.

(2) A qualified long-term care insurance contract must condition the payment of benefits on a certification of the insured's inability to perform activities of daily living for an expected period of at least 90 days due to a loss of functional capacity or to severe cognitive impairment.

(3) Certifications regarding activities of daily living and cognitive impairment required pursuant to subsection (2) must be performed by the following licensed or certified professionals:

(a) physicians or registered professional nurses;

(b) licensed social workers; or

(c) other individuals who meet the requirements prescribed by the secretary of the treasury.

(4) Certifications required pursuant to subsection (2) may be performed by a licensed health care professional at the direction of the insurer as is reasonably necessary with respect to a specific claim, except that when a licensed health care practitioner has certified that an insured is unable to perform activities of daily living for an expected period of at least 90 days due to a loss of functional capacity and the insured is in claim status, the certification may not be rescinded and additional certifications may not be performed until after the expiration of the 90-day period.

(5) Qualified long-term care insurance contracts must include a clear description of the process for appealing and resolving disputes with respect to benefit determinations.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

33-22-1127. Incontestability period. (1) Upon a showing of misrepresentation that is material to the acceptance for coverage, a policy that has been in force for less than 6 months may be rescinded by the insurer or the insurer may deny an otherwise valid long-term care insurance claim.

(2) Upon a showing of misrepresentation that is both material to the acceptance for coverage and that pertains to the condition for which benefits are sought, a policy that has been in force for at least 6 months but less than 2 years may be rescinded by the insurer or the insurer may deny an otherwise valid long-term care insurance claim.

(3) After a policy has been in force for 2 years, it is not contestable upon the grounds of misrepresentation alone. The policy may be contested only upon a showing that the insured knowingly and intentionally misrepresented relevant facts relating to the insured's health.

(4) (a) A long-term care insurance policy may be field-issued if the compensation to the field issuer is not based on the number of policies sold.

(b) For purposes of subsection (4)(a), "field-issued" means a policy issued by a producer or a third-party administrator pursuant to the underwriting authority granted to the producer or third-party administrator by an insurer and using the insurer's underwriting guidelines.

(5) If an insurer has paid benefits under the long-term care insurance policy, the benefit payments may not be recovered by the insurer if the policy is rescinded.

(6) In the event of the death of the insured, this section may not be applied to the remaining death benefit of a life insurance policy that accelerates benefits for long-term care. In that situation, the remaining death benefits under the policy must be governed by Title 33, chapter 20. In all other situations, this section applies to life insurance policies that accelerate benefits for long-term care.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 32, L. 2007.

33-22-1128. Insurance producer training requirements. (1) An individual may not sell, solicit, or negotiate long-term care insurance unless the individual is licensed as an insurance producer for disability or life insurance, has completed a one-time training course, and completes ongoing training within every 24-month period.

(2) The training requirements of this section may be approved as continuing education courses under Title 33, chapter 17, part 12.

(3) The one-time training course required by this section may not be less than 8 hours, and the ongoing training required by this section may not be less than 4 hours for each 24-month period.

(4) (a) The training must consist of topics related to long-term care insurance, long-term care services, and, if applicable, qualified state long-term care insurance partnership programs.

(b) The training must address but is not limited to:

(i) state and federal regulations and requirements and the relationship between qualified state long-term care insurance partnership programs and other public and private coverage of long-term care services, including medicaid;

(ii) available long-term care services and providers;

(iii) changes or improvements in long-term care services or providers;

(iv) alternatives to the purchase of private long-term care insurance;

(v) the effect of inflation on benefits and the importance of inflation protection; and

(vi) consumer suitability standards and guidelines.

(5) The training required by this section may not include training that is specific to the insurer or a company product or that includes any sales or marketing information, materials, or training, other than those required by state or federal law.

(6) (a) An insurer subject to this section shall obtain verification that an insurance producer acting on the insurer's behalf receives the training required by this section before the insurance producer is permitted to sell, solicit, or negotiate the insurer's long-term care insurance products.

(b) The insurer shall maintain records subject to this state's record retention requirements and make the verification of the insurance producer's compliance with training requirements available to the commissioner upon request.

(7) (a) An insurer subject to this section shall maintain records with respect to the training of its insurance producers concerning the distribution of its policies that will allow the commissioner to provide assurance to the department of public health and human services that insurance producers have received the required training and that the insurance producers have demonstrated an understanding of the insurer's policies and the relationship of the policies to public and private coverage of long-term care, including medicaid, in this state.

(b) The records must be maintained in accordance with this state's record retention requirements and must be made available to the commissioner upon request.

(8) The satisfaction of the training requirements required by this section in any state must be considered to satisfy the training requirements in this state.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 32, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 27, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-22-1129. Penalties. In addition to any other penalty provided for in Title 33, an insurer or an insurance producer found to have violated any requirement of this state relating to the regulation of long-term care insurance or the marketing of long-term care insurance is subject to a fine of up to three times the amount of any commissions paid for each policy involved in the violation or up to $10,000, whichever is greater.

Part 13

Montana Reinsurance Association Act

Part Compiler's Comments

Contingent Voidness: Section 18, Ch. 210, L. 2019, provided: "The implementation of [sections 1 through 15] [this part] is contingent upon the approval of the state innovation waiver under [section 15] [33-22-1322]. If the state innovation waiver is not approved, [this act] is void." On August 16, 2019, the U.S. department of health and human services and the U.S. department of the treasury, having completed a review of Montana's application, approved Montana's state innovation waiver under section 1332 of the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act. This approval is effective for January 1, 2020, through December 31, 2024.

33-22-1301. Short title — purpose. This part may be cited as the "Montana Reinsurance Association Act". The purpose of this act is to establish a Montana-based public reinsurance program in order to stabilize the individual health insurance market, maintain competition, and reduce premiums.

33-22-1302. Reinsurance association — mandatory membership — exceptions. (1) The Montana reinsurance association is established as a nonprofit legal entity. As a condition of doing business, an insurer that has issued or renewed disability insurance, as defined in 33-1-207, regardless of license type, in this state in the past 12 months must be a member of the association.

(2) Disability insurers are exempt from the requirement to be association members and are not subject to the assessment in 33-22-1313 if the insurers solely issue or administer one or more of the following coverage types under the Montana Insurance Code:

(a) self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements licensed under chapter 35;

(b) disability insurance sold through a fraternal benefit society as described in chapter 7;

(c) excepted benefits as defined in 33-22-140;

(d) long-term care insurance as described in chapter 22, part 11; or

(e) disability income insurance as defined in 33-1-235.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

(1) "Association" means the Montana reinsurance association provided for in this part.

(2) "Attachment point" means the threshold amount for claims costs incurred by an eligible health insurer for an enrolled individual's covered benefits in a benefit year, beyond which the claims costs for benefits are eligible for reinsurance payments.

(3) "Benefit year" means the calendar year for which an eligible health insurer provides coverage through an individual health insurance policy.

(4) "Board" means the association's board of directors provided for in 33-22-1306.

(5) "Coinsurance rate" means the rate at which the association will reimburse an eligible health insurer for claims incurred for an enrolled individual's covered benefits in a benefit year above the attachment point and below the reinsurance cap.

(6) "Eligible health insurer" means a health insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization that:

(a) offers individual health insurance coverage in the individual market, as defined in 33-22-140;

(b) offers a qualified health plan as defined in 42 U.S.C. 18021(a) that does not discriminate on the basis of health status in rating or issuance, covers all essential health benefits, and does not impose lifetime or annual limits or exclude preexisting conditions; and

(c) incurs claims costs for an individual enrollee's covered benefits in the applicable benefit year.

(7) "Major medical" health insurance includes individual market and employer group health insurance that:

(a) is guaranteed available;

(b) is guaranteed renewable;

(c) does not impose preexisting condition exclusions;

(d) (i) offers essential health benefits as defined in 42 U.S.C. 18022; or

(ii) for large employer group coverage, meets the federal requirements for minimum value;

(e) pays medical claims, with no lifetime or annual limits; and

(f) complies with the federal limits for maximum out-of-pocket.

(8) "Payment parameters" means the attachment point, reinsurance cap, and coinsurance rate for the Montana reinsurance program.

(9) "Program" means the Montana reinsurance program operated by the Montana reinsurance association.

(10) "Reinsurance cap" means the maximum amount of each claim incurred by an eligible health insurer for an enrolled individual's covered benefits in a benefit year, after which the claims costs for benefits are no longer eligible for reinsurance payments.

(11) "Reinsurance payments" means an amount paid by the association to an eligible health insurer under the program.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1304 and 33-22-1305 reserved.

33-22-1306. Association board of directors. (1) The association is governed by a board of directors consisting of five directors who have experience in health care, health insurance, or finance as follows:

(a) three directors, one each from the eligible health insurers with the largest enrollment in the individual market. If there are fewer than three, the board shall select another director from a health insurance issuer that markets primarily major medical insurance.

(b) one insurer director appointed by the commissioner who is a participating member of the association; and

(c) one director appointed by the governor to represent the public interest.

(2) The board of directors may be reimbursed by the association for travel expenses but may not otherwise be compensated for their services.

(3) Each director has one vote.

(4) Initial appointments must be finalized no later than May 1, 2019, and the board shall meet for the first time no later than May 8, 2019.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1307. Duties of commissioner — rulemaking. (1) The commissioner shall:

(a) oversee the activities of the association and the board;

(b) examine the affairs of the board and program;

(c) approve the plan of operation set by the board as needed within 30 days of receiving the plan or amendments to the plan from the board;

(d) with the assistance of the association, collect the assessment and the federal funding designated for this program;

(e) designate staff to attend meetings of the board and the association as an ex officio member; and

(f) require all eligible health insurers to calculate the premium amount the eligible health insurer would have charged for the benefit year if the Montana reinsurance program had not been established. The eligible health insurer shall submit this information as part of its rate filing. The commissioner shall consider this information as part of the rate review.

(2) The commissioner may adopt rules necessary to implement this part. Any proposed administrative rules must be submitted to the board for review and comment before the proposed rules are submitted to the secretary of state.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1308. Board duties — powers. (1) The board shall:

(a) adopt a plan of operation and the reinsurance parameters for the following year, no later than June 15, 2019, in accordance with the requirements of this part, and update the plan of operation and reinsurance parameters, if needed, no later than May 1 of each succeeding year. The board shall submit its plan of operation to the commissioner for approval.

(b) establish administrative and accounting procedures for the association and the program;

(c) select an association administrator in accordance with 33-22-1309 who will pay reinsurance claims in accordance with the plan of operation; and

(d) set the budget for the reinsurance program for each policy year, including the assessment levels as provided in 33-22-1313 for the various members of the association.

(2) The board may:

(a) enter into contracts as necessary to carry out the purposes of this part;

(b) appoint appropriate actuarial or other committees as necessary to provide technical assistance and any other functions within the authority of the association; and

(c) apply for funds or grants from public or private sources.

(3) The board may be audited by the legislative auditor.

(4) An annual review of the association and the program for solvency and compliance must be performed by an independent certified public accountant using generally accepted accounting principles and submitted to the commissioner and the economic affairs committee of the legislature provided for in 5-5-223 as provided in 5-11-210 for review by June 30 of each year, beginning in 2020.

(5) The board shall prepare an annual report on operations and finance and send that report to the economic affairs interim committee as provided in 5-11-210 and the commissioner by June 30 of each year, beginning in 2020.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1309. Association administrator. (1) The board shall select an administrator, who is either an employee of the nonprofit association or an independent contractor, to administer the reinsurance program pursuant to the parameters decided by the board of directors. The board shall establish qualifications and compensation in the plan of operation for the administrator and the length of the contract of an independent contractor.

(2) The administrator shall:

(a) perform all administrative functions relating to the association;

(b) submit regular reports to the board regarding the operation of the association. The frequency, content, and form of the reports must be set forth in the plan of operation.

(c) pay reinsurance claims as provided for in the plan of operation.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1310 through 33-22-1312 reserved.

33-22-1313. Association member assessments. (1) (a) (i) For 2020 and each year thereafter, the commissioner shall assess each member insurer 1.2% of its total premium volume covering Montana residents, from the prior calendar year, regardless of type of license.

(ii) For purposes of subsection (1)(a)(i), total premium volume may not include premiums that member insurers collect on any coverage issued for excepted benefits as defined in 33-22-140.

(b) The board shall determine the timing of the assessment.

(c) The commissioner shall consider the board's recommendation when determining the assessment amounts.

(d) The commissioner shall verify the amount of each insurer's assessment based on annual financial statements and other reports determined to be necessary.

(2) The association shall determine and report to the commissioner the association's reinsurance payments and other expenses for the previous calendar year, including administrative expenses and any incurred but not reported claims for the previous calendar year.

(a) The report must consider investment income and other appropriate gains.

(b) The report must include an estimate of the assessments needed to cover the expected reinsurance claims for the following calendar year.

(3) If assessments and other funds collected by the association exceed the actual losses and administrative expenses of the association, the board shall use the excess funds to offset future claims or to reduce future assessments.

(4) The commissioner may, after notice and hearing:

(a) suspend or revoke the certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state of any member insurer that fails to pay an assessment;

(b) impose a penalty on any insurer that fails to pay an assessment when due; or

(c) use any power granted to the commissioner to collect any unpaid assessment.

(5) An eligible health insurer may not submit claims for reinsurance payments unless the insurer has a medical loss ratio of 80% or greater, as defined in 45 CFR 158.232(f).

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 210, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 471, L. 2021.

33-22-1314. Payment parameters. (1) The board shall design and adjust the payment parameters to ensure that the payment parameters will:

(a) stabilize or reduce premium rates in the individual market;

(b) increase or maintain participation in the individual market;

(c) mitigate the impact high-cost individuals have on premium rates in the individual market;

(d) consider any federal funding available for the plan; and

(e) consider the total amount available to fund the plan.

(2) The attachment point must be set by the board at $40,000 or more but may not exceed the reinsurance cap.

(3) The coinsurance rate must be set by the board between 50% and 80%.

(4) The reinsurance cap must be set by the board at $1 million or less.

(5) The board may adjust the payment parameters annually to the extent necessary to secure federal approval of the state innovation waiver.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1315. Calculation of reinsurance payments. (1) Each reinsurance payment must be calculated with respect to an eligible health insurer's incurred claims costs for an individual enrollee's covered benefits in the applicable benefit year. If the claims costs do not exceed the attachment point, the reinsurance payment is $0. If the claims costs exceed the attachment point, the reinsurance payment must be calculated as the product of the coinsurance rate and the less of:

(a) the claims costs minus the attachment point; or

(b) the reinsurance cap minus the attachment point.

(2) The board shall ensure that the reinsurance payments made to the eligible health insurer do not exceed the total amount paid by the eligible health insurer for any eligible claim.

(3) For purposes of this section, "total amount paid" means the amount paid by the eligible health insurer based on the allowed amount less any deductible, coinsurance, or copayment.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1316. Administration of reinsurance payments. (1) Claims that are incurred during a benefit year and are submitted for reimbursement in the following benefit year by the date established by the board in the plan of operation will be allocated to the benefit year in which they are incurred. Any claims from the preceding benefit year not submitted for reimbursement by the date established in the plan of operation may not be reimbursed.

(2) If funds accumulated in the reinsurance program account in the state special revenue fund with respect to a benefit year are expected to be insufficient to pay all program expenses, claims for reimbursement, and other disbursements allocable to that benefit year, all claims for reimbursement allocable to that benefit year must be reduced proportionately to the extent necessary to prevent a deficiency in the funds for that benefit year. Any reduction in claims for reimbursement with respect to a benefit year must apply to all claims that are allocated to that benefit year without regard to when those claims were submitted for reimbursement, and any reduction must be applied to each claim in the same proportion.

(3) If funds accumulated in the reinsurance program account in the state special revenue fund exceed the actual claims for reimbursement and program expenses of the association in a given benefit year, the board shall use the excess funds to pay reinsurance claims in successive benefit years and may recommend to the commissioner a reduction in the assessment amount for the following year.

(4) For each applicable benefit year, the board shall notify eligible health insurers of reinsurance payments to be made for the applicable benefit year by the date established in the plan of operation in the year following the applicable benefit year.

(5) By December 31 of the year following the applicable benefit year, the board shall disburse all applicable reinsurance payments payable to an eligible health insurer.

33-22-1317. Eligible health insurer requests for reinsurance payments. (1) An eligible health insurer shall:

(a) make requests for reinsurance payment in accordance with any requirements established by the board;

(b) provide the association with access to data according to the rules and timeline established by the board in the plan of operation or by the commissioner in the administrative rules. The data environment utilized must be compatible with the federal risk adjustment program.

(c) maintain documents and records sufficient to substantiate the requests for reinsurance payments made pursuant to this part for a period of at least 6 years;

(d) apply all managed care, utilization review, case management, preferred provider arrangements, claims processing, and other methods of operation as appropriate to each claim without regard to whether that claim is eligible for or may be paid by reinsurance;

(e) make records available upon request from the commissioner or the board for purposes of verification, investigation, audit, or other review of reinsurance payment requests; and

(f) repay to the reinsurance program account in the state special revenue fund any reinsurance overpayments as determined by the commissioner as a result of an investigation, audit, or other review.

(2) Data collected from eligible health insurers under this section is confidential and not subject to public inspection.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1320. Liability of association members. An association member may not be held liable for the acts or omissions of the association board or the association membership.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 210, L. 2019.

33-22-1321. (Temporary) State and federal special revenue accounts — reinsurance program. (1) (a) There is a reinsurance program account in the state special revenue fund established by 17-2-102. The account must be administered by the commissioner for the benefit of the program. The money in the reinsurance program account is statutorily appropriated, as provided in 17-7-502, to the commissioner for the purposes provided in subsection (1)(c) of this section.

(b) There must be deposited in the account:

(i) all assessments collected under 33-22-1313;

(ii) any interest and income earned on the account; and

(iii) any other money from any other source accepted for the benefit of the account.

(c) The account may be used only to provide funding for the administration, operation, and claims expenses incurred by the program created in 33-22-1302.

(2) There is an account in the federal special revenue fund to the credit of the board and administered by the commissioner for the benefit of the program. There must be deposited in the account:

(a) federal funding allocated as a result of a section 1332 waiver application;

(b) any federal or grant funding; and

(c) any interest and income earned on the account. (Terminates June 30, 2031—sec. 5, Ch. 645, L. 2025.)

33-22-1321. (Effective July 1, 2031) State and federal special revenue accounts — reinsurance program. (1) (a) There is a reinsurance program account in the state special revenue fund established by 17-2-102. The account must be administered by the commissioner for the benefit of the program.

(b) There must be deposited in the account:

(i) all assessments collected under 33-22-1313;

(ii) any interest and income earned on the account; and

(iii) any other money from any other source accepted for the benefit of the account.

(c) The account may be used only to provide funding for the administration, operation, and claims expenses incurred by the program created in 33-22-1302.

(2) There is an account in the federal special revenue fund to the credit of the board and administered by the commissioner for the benefit of the program. There must be deposited in the account:

(a) federal funding allocated as a result of a section 1332 waiver application;

(b) any federal or grant funding; and

(c) any interest and income earned on the account.

Subrogation — Notice

Part Cross-References
State employee group insurance — subrogation — notice, Title 2, ch. 18, part 9.
Health service corporations — subrogation — notice, Title 33, ch. 30, part 11.

33-22-1601. Subrogation rights. A disability insurance policy subject to this chapter may contain a provision providing that, to the extent necessary for reimbursement of benefits paid to or on behalf of the insured, the insurer is entitled to subrogation, as provided for in 33-22-1602, against a judgment or recovery received by the insured from a third party found liable for a wrongful act or omission that caused the injury necessitating benefit payments.
History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 365, L. 1987.

33-22-1602. Notice — shared costs of third-party action — limitation. (1) If an insured intends to institute an action for damages against a third party, the insured shall give the insurer reasonable notice of the intention to institute the action.

(2) The insured may request that the insurer pay a proportionate share of the reasonable costs of the third-party action, including attorney fees.

(3) An insurer may elect not to participate in the cost of the action. If an election is made, the insurer waives 50% of any subrogation rights granted to it by 33-22-1601.

(4) The insurer's right of subrogation granted in 33-22-1601 may not be enforced until the injured insured has been fully compensated for the insured's injuries.
History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 365, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1232, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Part 17
Preferred Provider Agreements

33-22-1701. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Preferred Provider Agreements Act".
History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 638, L. 1987.

33-22-1702. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to allow a health care insurer providing disability insurance benefits to negotiate and contract with health care providers to:

(1) provide health care services to its insureds or subscribers at a reduction in the fees customarily charged by the provider; or

(2) enter into agreements in which the participating providers accept negotiated fees as payment in full for health care services the health care insurer is obligated to provide or pay for under the health benefit plan.
History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 638, L. 1987.

33-22-1703. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Emergency medical condition" means a condition manifesting itself by symptoms of sufficient severity, including severe pain, that the absence of immediate medical attention could reasonably be expected to result in any of the following:

(a) the covered person's health would be in serious jeopardy;

(b) the covered person's bodily functions would be seriously impaired; or

(c) a bodily organ or part would be seriously damaged.

(2) "Emergency services" means health care items or services furnished or required to evaluate and treat an emergency medical condition.

(3) "Health benefit plan" means the health insurance policy or subscriber arrangement between the insured or subscriber and the health care insurer that defines the covered services and benefit levels available.

(4) "Health care insurer" means:

(a) an insurer that provides disability insurance as defined in 33-1-207;

(b) a health service corporation as defined in 33-30-101;
(c) a fraternal benefit society as described in 33-7-105; or
(d) any other entity regulated by the commissioner that provides health coverage except a health maintenance organization.

(5) "Health care services" means health care services or products rendered or sold by a provider within the scope of the provider's license or legal authorization or services provided under Title 33, chapter 22, part 7.

(6) "Insured" means an individual entitled to reimbursement for expenses of health care services under a policy or subscriber contract issued or administered by an insurer.

(7) "Preferred provider" means a provider or group of providers who have contracted to provide specified health care services.

(8) "Preferred provider agreement" means a contract between or on behalf of a health care insurer and a preferred provider.

(9) "Provider" means an individual or entity licensed or legally authorized to provide health care services or services covered within Title 33, chapter 22, part 7.

(10) "Subscriber" means a certificate holder or other person on whose behalf the health care insurer is providing or paying for health care coverage.

33-22-1704. Preferred provider agreements authorized. (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a health care insurer may:

(a) enter into agreements with providers relating to health care services that may be rendered to insureds or subscribers on whose behalf the health care insurer is providing health care coverage, including preferred provider agreements relating to:
(i) the amounts an insured may be charged for services rendered; and
(ii) the amount and manner of payment to the provider; and
(b) issue or administer policies or subscriber contracts in this state that include incentives for the insured to use the services of a provider that has entered into an agreement with the insurer pursuant to subsection (1)(a).

(2) A preferred provider agreement issued or delivered in this state may not unfairly deny health benefits for health care services covered.

(3) A preferred provider agreement entered into or renewed after March 26, 1993, must provide each health care provider with the opportunity to participate on the basis of a competitive bid or offer. For each health care service that an insurer proposes to obtain for its insureds from a preferred provider in the geographic area covered by the proposal, the insurer shall provide all known providers of the health care service in that area with an equal opportunity to submit a competitive bid or offer to become a preferred provider. Except as provided in subsection (5), the insurer shall issue a request for proposals and shall select the lowest cost bid or offer. If only one bid or offer is received, the insurer may enter into a preferred provider agreement with the health care provider.

(4) If a bid or an offer is not received in response to a request for proposals under subsection (3), the insurer may not establish a preferred provider agreement for that service in the geographic area except pursuant to a new request for proposals.

(5) An insurer may reserve the right in its request for proposals to reject bids or offers submitted in response to the request, including the lowest cost bid or offer. A bid or offer must be rejected in the manner established in the request for proposals. An insurer may not enter into a preferred provider agreement for a health care service except pursuant to a request for proposals.

33-22-1705. Incentives in health benefit plans. (1) A health care insurer may issue a policy or a health benefit plan that provides for incentives for covered persons to use the health care services of preferred providers. The policy or health benefit plan must contain at least:

(a) a provision that if a covered person receives emergency care for services specified in the preferred provider agreement and cannot reasonably reach a preferred provider, the care rendered during the course of the emergency will be reimbursed as though the covered person had been treated by a preferred provider; and

(b) a provision that clearly identifies the difference in benefit levels for health care services of a preferred provider and benefit levels for the same health care services of a nonpreferred provider.

(2) A health care insurer may not require hospital staff privileges as criteria for designation as a preferred provider in a preferred provider agreement.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 638, L. 1987.

33-22-1706. Permissible and mandatory provisions in provider agreements, insurance policies, and subscriber contracts. (1) A provider agreement, insurance policy, or subscriber contract issued or delivered in this state may contain components designed to control the cost and improve the quality of health care for insureds and subscribers as provided in this part.

(2) All terms or conditions of an insurance policy or subscriber contract, except those already approved by the commissioner, are subject to the prior approval of the commissioner.

(3) Provisions designed to control cost and improve the quality of health care under this section include but are not limited to those that set a payment difference for reimbursement of a nonpreferred provider as compared to a preferred provider and those designed to give policyholders or subscribers an incentive to choose a particular provider consistent with the other provisions of this part.

(4) (a) A health benefit plan that contains a payment difference provision and that the commissioner has determined to have an adequate provider network is not subject to subsection (4)(b).

(b) A health benefit plan that contains a payment difference provision and has not been determined to have an adequate provider network may not exceed a 25% payment difference in the reimbursement level for a preferred provider, and the commissioner shall review differences between copayments, deductibles, and other cost-sharing arrangements under this subsection (4)(b).

(c) For the purposes of this subsection (4), a provider network is adequate if:

(i) the network includes at least 80% of the licensed individual physicians actively practicing in the state of Montana;

(ii) the network includes at least 80% of the licensed individual nonphysician health care providers actively practicing in the state of Montana; and

(iii) the network includes at least 90% of those facilities licensed and operating as hospitals in the state of Montana.

(5) A health benefit plan or other plan offering prepaid dental services under this part shall offer its insureds the right to obtain dental care from any licensed dental care provider of their choice subject to the same terms and conditions imposed under this section.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 638, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 265, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 306, L. 2013.

Part 18
Small Employer Health Insurance Availability Act

33-22-1801. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Small Employer Health Insurance Availability Act".

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 606, L. 1993.

33-22-1802. Purpose. (1) This part must be interpreted and construed to effectuate the following express legislative purposes:

(a) to promote the availability of health insurance coverage to small employers regardless of health status or claims experience;

(b) to prevent abusive rating practices;

(c) to require disclosure of rating practices to purchasers;

(d) to establish rules regarding renewability of coverage;

(e) to establish limitations on the use of preexisting condition exclusions;

(f) to provide for the development of basic and standard health benefit plans to be offered to all small employers;

(g) to provide for the establishment of a reinsurance program; and

(h) to improve the overall fairness and efficiency of the small employer health insurance market.

(2) This part is not intended to provide a comprehensive solution to the problem of affordability of health care or health insurance.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 606, L. 1993.

(1) "Actuarial certification" means a written statement by a member of the American academy of actuaries or other individual acceptable to the commissioner that a small employer carrier is in compliance with the provisions of 33-22-1809, based upon the person's examination, including a review of the appropriate records and of the actuarial assumptions and methods used by the small employer carrier in establishing premium rates for applicable health benefit plans.

(2) "Affiliate" or "affiliated" means any entity or person who directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with a specified entity or person.

(3) "Assessable carrier" means all carriers of disability insurance, including excess of loss and stop loss disability insurance.

(4) "Base premium rate" means, for each class of business as to a rating period, the lowest premium rate charged or that could have been charged under the rating system for that class of business by the small employer carrier to small employers with similar case characteristics for health benefit plans with the same or similar coverage.

(5) "Basic health benefit plan" means a health benefit plan, except a uniform health benefit plan, developed by a small employer carrier, that has a lower benefit value than the small employer carrier's standard benefit plan.

(6) "Benefit value" means a numerical value based on the expected dollar value of benefits payable to an insured under a health benefit plan. The benefit value must be calculated by the small employer carrier using an actuarially based method and must take into account all health care expenses covered by the health benefit plan and all cost-sharing features of the health benefit plan, including deductibles, coinsurance, copayments, and the insured individual's maximum out-of-pocket expenses. The benefit value must apply equally to indemnity-type health benefit plans and to managed care health benefit plans, including health maintenance organization-type plans.

(7) "Bona fide association" means an association that:

(a) has been actively in existence for at least 5 years;

(b) was formed and has been maintained in good faith for purposes other than obtaining insurance;

(c) does not condition membership in the association on a health status-related factor relating to an individual, including an employee of an employer or a dependent of an employee;

(d) makes health insurance coverage offered through the association available to a member regardless of a health status-related factor relating to the member or an individual eligible for coverage through a member; and

(e) does not make health insurance coverage offered through the association available other than in connection with a member of the association.

(8) "Carrier" means any person who provides a health benefit plan in this state subject to state insurance regulation. The term includes but is not limited to an insurance company, a fraternal benefit society, a health service corporation, and a health maintenance organization. For purposes of this part, companies that are affiliated companies or that are eligible to file a consolidated tax return must be treated as one carrier, except that the following may be considered as separate carriers:

(a) an insurance company or health service corporation that is an affiliate of a health maintenance organization located in this state;

(b) a health maintenance organization located in this state that is an affiliate of an insurance company or health service corporation; or

(c) a health maintenance organization that operates only one health maintenance organization in an established geographic service area of this state.

(9) "Case characteristics" means demographic or other objective characteristics of a small employer that are considered by the small employer carrier in the determination of premium rates for the small employer, provided that gender, claims experience, health status, and duration of coverage are not case characteristics for purposes of this part.

(10) "Class of business" means all or a separate grouping of small employers established pursuant to 33-22-1808.

(11) "Dependent" means:

(a) a spouse;

(b) an unmarried child under 25 years of age:

(i) who is not an employee eligible for coverage under a group health plan offered by the child's employer for which the child's premium contribution amount is no greater than the premium amount for coverage as a dependent under a parent's individual or group health plan;

(ii) who is not a named subscriber, insured, enrollee, or covered individual under any other individual health insurance coverage, group health plan, government plan, church plan, or group health insurance;

(iii) who is not entitled to benefits under 42 U.S.C. 1395, et seq.; and

(iv) for whom the parent has requested coverage;

(c) a child of any age who is disabled and dependent upon the parent as provided in 33-22-506 and 33-30-1003; or

(d) any other individual defined as a dependent in the health benefit plan covering the employee.

(12) (a) "Eligible employee" means an employee who works on a full-time basis with a normal workweek of 30 hours or more, except that at the sole discretion of the employer, the term may include an employee who works on a full-time basis with a normal workweek of between 20 and 40 hours as long as this eligibility criteria is applied uniformly among all of the employer's employees. The term includes a sole proprietor, a partner of a partnership, and an independent contractor if the sole proprietor, partner, or independent contractor is included as an employee under a health benefit plan of a small employer. The term also includes those persons eligible for coverage under 2-18-704.

(b) The term does not include an employee who works on a part-time, temporary, or substitute basis.

(13) "Established geographic service area" means a geographic area, as approved by the commissioner and based on the carrier's certificate of authority to transact insurance in this state, within which the carrier is authorized to provide coverage.

(14) (a) "Health benefit plan" means any hospital or medical policy or certificate providing for physical and mental health care issued by an insurance company, a fraternal benefit society, or a health service corporation or issued under a health maintenance organization subscriber contract.

(b) The term does not include coverage of excepted benefits, as defined in 33-22-140, if coverage is provided under a separate policy, certificate, or contract of insurance.

(15) "Index rate" means, for each class of business for a rating period for small employers with similar case characteristics, the average of the applicable base premium rate and the corresponding highest premium rate.

(16) "New business premium rate" means, for each class of business for a rating period, the lowest premium rate charged or offered or that could have been charged or offered by the small employer carrier to small employers with similar case characteristics for newly issued health benefit plans with the same or similar coverage.

(17) "Premium" means all money paid by a small employer and eligible employees as a condition of receiving coverage from a small employer carrier, including any fees or other contributions associated with the health benefit plan.

(18) "Rating period" means the calendar period for which premium rates established by a small employer carrier are assumed to be in effect.

(19) "Restricted network provision" means a provision of a health benefit plan that conditions the payment of benefits, in whole or in part, on the use of health care providers that have entered into a contractual arrangement with the carrier pursuant to Title 33, chapter 22, part 17, or Title 33, chapter 31, to provide health care services to covered individuals.

(20) "Small employer" means a person, firm, corporation, partnership, or bona fide association that is actively engaged in business and that, with respect to a calendar year and a plan year, employed at least two but not more than 50 eligible employees during the preceding calendar year and employed at least two employees on the first day of the plan year. In the case of an employer that was not in existence throughout the preceding calendar year, the determination of whether the employer is a small or large employer must be based on the average number of employees reasonably expected to be employed by the employer in the current calendar year. In determining the number of eligible employees, companies are considered one employer if they:

(a) are affiliated companies;

(b) are eligible to file a combined tax return for purposes of state taxation; or

(c) are members of a bona fide association.

(21) "Small employer carrier" means a carrier that offers health benefit plans that cover eligible employees of one or more small employers in this state.

(22) "Standard health benefit plan" means a health benefit plan that is developed by a small employer carrier.

33-22-1804. Applicability and scope. (1) This part applies to a health benefit plan marketed through a small employer that provides coverage to the employees of a small employer in this state if any of the following conditions are met:

(a) a portion of the premium or benefits is paid by or on behalf of the small employer;

(b) an eligible employee or dependent is reimbursed, whether through wage adjustments or otherwise, by or on behalf of the small employer for any portion of the premium;

(c) the health benefit plan is treated by the employer or any of the eligible employees or dependents as part of a plan or program for the purposes of section 106, 125, or 162 of the Internal Revenue Code, except a plan or program that is funded entirely by contributions from the employees; or

(d) all of the premium is paid by the employee who obtains coverage through the employer's group health benefit plan.

(2) This part does not apply to an individual health benefit plan for which the entire premium is paid by an employee through payroll deduction or other means.

(3) Unless prohibited by a written opinion from a federal agency, by final regulations implementing Public Law 104-191, or by a ruling by a court of competent jurisdiction, this part does not apply to an individual health benefit plan if the eligible employee or dependent is directly or indirectly reimbursed, whether through wage adjustments or otherwise, by or on behalf of the small employer for any portion of the premium. However, this part does apply to an individual health benefit plan if the employer making the direct or indirect reimbursement for any portion of the premium has had in place an employer-sponsored group health benefit plan in the 12 months preceding the reimbursement.

33-22-1808. Establishment of classes of business. (1) A small employer carrier may establish a separate class of business only to reflect substantial differences in expected claims experience or administrative costs that are related to the following reasons:

(a) The small employer carrier uses more than one type of system for the marketing and sale of health benefit plans to small employers.

(b) The small employer carrier has acquired a class of business from another small employer carrier.

(c) The small employer carrier provides coverage to one or more association groups that meet the requirements of 33-22-501(2).

(2) A small employer carrier may establish up to nine separate classes of business under subsection (1).

(3) The commissioner shall adopt rules to provide for a period of transition in order for a small employer carrier to come into compliance with subsection (2) in the case of acquisition of an additional class of business from another small employer carrier.

(4) The commissioner may approve the establishment of additional classes of business upon application to the commissioner and a finding by the commissioner that the action would enhance the fairness and efficiency of the small employer health insurance market.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 606, L. 1993.

33-22-1809. Restrictions relating to premium rates. (1) Premium rates for health benefit plans under this part are subject to the following provisions:

(a) The index rate for a rating period for any class of business may not exceed the index rate for any other class of business by more than 20%.

(b) For each class of business, the premium rates charged during a rating period to small employers with similar case characteristics for the same or similar coverage or the rates that could be charged to the employer under the rating system for that class of business may not vary from the index rate by more than 25% of the index rate.

(c) The percentage increase in the premium rate charged to a small employer for a new rating period may not exceed the sum of the following:

(i) the percentage change in the new business premium rate measured from the first day of the prior rating period to the first day of the new rating period; in the case of a health benefit plan into which the small employer carrier is no longer enrolling new small employers, the small employer carrier shall use the percentage change in the base premium rate, provided that the change does not exceed, on a percentage basis, the change in the new business premium rate for the most similar health benefit plan into which the small employer carrier is actively enrolling new small employers;

(ii) any adjustment, not to exceed 15% annually and adjusted pro rata for rating periods of less than 1 year, because of the claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage of the employees or dependents of the small employer, as determined from the small employer carrier's rate manual for the class of business; and

(iii) any adjustment because of a change in coverage or a change in the case characteristics of the small employer, as determined from the small employer carrier's rate manual for the class of business.

(d) Adjustments in rates for claims experience, health status, and duration of coverage may not be charged to individual employees or dependents. Any adjustment must be applied uniformly to the rates charged for all employees and dependents of the small employer.

(e) If a small employer carrier uses industry as a case characteristic in establishing premium rates, the rate factor associated with any industry classification may not vary from the average of the rate factors associated with all industry classifications by more than 15%.

(f) A small employer carrier shall:

(i) apply rating factors, including case characteristics, consistently with respect to all small employers in a class of business. Rating factors must produce premiums for identical groups that differ only by the amounts attributable to plan design and that do not reflect differences because of the nature of the groups. Differences among base premium rates may not be based in any way on the actual or expected health status or claims experience of the small employer groups that choose or are expected to choose a particular health benefit plan.

(ii) treat all health benefit plans issued or renewed in the same calendar month as having the same rating period.

(g) For the purposes of this subsection (1), a health benefit plan that includes a restricted network provision may not be considered similar coverage to a health benefit plan that does not include a restricted network provision.

(2) A small employer carrier may not transfer a small employer involuntarily into or out of a class of business. A small employer carrier may not offer to transfer a small employer into or out of a class of business unless the offer is made to transfer all small employers in the class of business without regard to case characteristics, claims experience, health status, or duration of coverage since the insurance was issued.

(3) The commissioner may suspend for a specified period the application of subsection (1)(a) for the premium rates applicable to one or more small employers included within a class of business of a small employer carrier for one or more rating periods upon a filing by the small employer carrier and a finding by the commissioner either that the suspension is reasonable in light of the financial condition of the small employer carrier or that the suspension would enhance the fairness and efficiency of the small employer health insurance market.

(4) In connection with the offering for sale of any health benefit plan to a small employer, a small employer carrier shall make a reasonable disclosure, as part of its solicitation and sales materials, of each of the following:

(a) the extent to which premium rates for a specified small employer are established or adjusted based upon the actual or expected variation in claims costs or upon the actual or expected variation in health status of the employees of small employers and the employees' dependents;

(b) the provisions of the health benefit plan concerning the small employer carrier's right to change premium rates and the factors, other than claims experience, that affect changes in premium rates;

(c) the provisions relating to renewability of policies and contracts; and

(d) the provisions relating to any preexisting condition.

(5) (a) Each small employer carrier shall maintain at its principal place of business a complete and detailed description of its rating practices and renewal underwriting practices, including information and documentation that demonstrate that its rating methods and practices are based upon commonly accepted actuarial assumptions and are in accordance with sound actuarial principles.

(b) Each small employer carrier shall file with the commissioner annually, on or before March 15, an actuarial certification certifying that the carrier is in compliance with this part and that the rating methods of the small employer carrier are actuarially sound. The actuarial certification must be in a form and manner and must contain information as specified by the commissioner. A copy of the actuarial certification must be retained by the small employer carrier at its principal place of business.

(c) A small employer carrier shall make the information and documentation described in subsection (5)(a) available to the commissioner upon request. Except in cases of violations of the provisions of this part and except as agreed to by the small employer carrier or as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction, the information must be considered proprietary and trade secret information and is not subject to disclosure by the commissioner to persons outside of the department.

(6) The commissioner may not require prior approval of the rating methods used by small employer carriers or the premium rates of the health benefit plans offered to small employers.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 606, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 377, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 378, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 23, Ch. 416, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 48, Ch. 472, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 271, L. 2009.

33-22-1810. Renewability of coverage. (1) A health benefit plan subject to the provisions of this part is renewable with respect to all eligible employees or their dependents, at the option of the small employer, except in any of the following cases:

(a) nonpayment of the required premium;

(b) fraud or misrepresentation of the small employer or with respect to coverage of individual insureds or their representatives;

(c) noncompliance with the carrier's minimum participation requirements;

(d) noncompliance with the carrier's employer contribution requirements;

(e) repeated misuse of a restricted network provision;

(f) election by the small employer carrier to not renew all of its health benefit plans delivered or issued for delivery to small employers in this state, in which case the small employer carrier shall:

(i) provide advance notice of this decision under this subsection (1)(f) to the commissioner in each state in which it is licensed; and

(ii) at least 180 days prior to the nonrenewal of all small employer health benefit plans by the carrier, provide notice of the decision not to renew coverage to all affected small employers and to the commissioner in each state in which an affected insured individual is known to reside. Notice to the commissioner under this subsection (1)(f) must be provided at least 3 working days prior to the notice to the affected small employers.

(g) the commissioner finds that the continuation of the coverage would:

(i) not be in the best interests of the policyholders or certificate holders; or

(ii) impair the carrier's ability to meet its contractual obligations.

(2) If the commissioner makes a finding under subsection (1)(g), the commissioner shall assist affected small employers in finding replacement coverage.

(3) (a) A small employer carrier that elects not to renew all of its health benefit plans under subsection (1)(f) is prohibited from writing new business in the small employer market in this state for a period of 5 years from the date of notice to the commissioner.

(b) The provisions of 33-22-524(3) apply to a small employer carrier that elects to renew only a portion, but not all, of its small employer health benefit plans.

(4) In the case of a small employer carrier doing business in one established geographic service area of the state, the rules set forth in this section apply only to the carrier's operations in that service area.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 606, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 61, Ch. 227, L. 2001.

33-22-1811. Availability of coverage — required plans. (1) (a) As a condition of transacting business in this state with small employers, each small employer carrier must have approved for issuance to small employer groups at least two health benefit plans.

(b) (i) A small employer carrier shall issue all plans marketed under this part to any eligible small employer that applies for a plan and agrees to make the required premium payments and to satisfy the other reasonable provisions of the health benefit plan not inconsistent with this part.

(ii) In the case of a small employer carrier that establishes more than one class of business pursuant to 33-22-1808, the small employer carrier shall maintain and offer to eligible small employers all plans marketed under this part in each established class of business. A small employer carrier may apply reasonable criteria in determining whether to accept a small employer into a class of business, provided that:

(A) the criteria are not intended to discourage or prevent acceptance of small employers applying for a health benefit plan;

(B) the criteria are not related to the health status or claims experience of the small employers' employees;

(C) the criteria are applied consistently to all small employers that apply for coverage in that class of business; and

(D) the small employer carrier provides for the acceptance of all eligible small employers into one or more classes of business.

(iii) The provisions of subsection (1)(b)(ii) may not be applied to a class of business into which the small employer carrier is no longer enrolling new small businesses.

(2) (a) A small employer carrier shall, pursuant to 33-1-501, file the basic health benefit plans and the standard health benefit plans to be used by the small employer carrier.

(b) The commissioner may at any time, after providing notice and an opportunity for a hearing to the small employer carrier, disapprove the continued use by a small employer carrier of a basic or standard health benefit plan on the grounds that the plan does not meet the requirements of this part.

(3) Health benefit plans covering small employers must comply with the following provisions:

(a) A health benefit plan may not:

(i) because of a preexisting condition, deny, exclude, or limit benefits for a covered individual for losses incurred more than 12 months following the individual's enrollment date. A health benefit plan may not define a preexisting condition exclusion more restrictively than 33-22-140.

(ii) use a preexisting condition exclusion more restrictive than exclusions allowed under 33-22-514.

(b) A health benefit plan must waive any time period applicable to a preexisting condition exclusion or limitation period with respect to particular services for the period of time that an individual was previously covered by creditable coverage that provided benefits with respect to those services if the creditable coverage was continuous to a date not more than 63 days prior to the submission of an application for new coverage. A health benefit plan may determine waivers of time periods applicable to preexisting condition exclusions or limitations on the basis of prior coverage of benefits within each of several classes or categories as specified in regulations implementing Public Law 104-191, rather than as provided in this subsection (3)(b). This subsection (3)(b) does not preclude application of any waiting period applicable to all new enrollees under the health benefit plan.

(c) A health benefit plan may exclude coverage for late enrollees for 18 months or for an 18-month preexisting condition exclusion, provided that if both a period of exclusion from coverage and a preexisting condition exclusion are applicable to a late enrollee, the combined period may not exceed 18 months from the date on which the individual enrolls for coverage under the health benefit plan.

(d) (i) Requirements used by a small employer carrier in determining whether to provide coverage to a small employer, including requirements for minimum participation of eligible employees and minimum employer contributions, must be applied uniformly among all small employers that have the same number of eligible employees and that apply for coverage or receive coverage from the small employer carrier. For the purpose of meeting minimum participation requirements of groups of four or more, a small employer carrier may not consider employees who, because they are covered under another health plan, waive coverage under the small employer's plan as part of the group of eligible employees. However, a small employer carrier may require at least two eligible employees to participate in a plan.

(ii) A small employer carrier may vary the application of minimum participation requirements and minimum employer contribution requirements only by the size of the small employer group.

(e) (i) If a small employer carrier offers coverage to a small employer, the small employer carrier shall offer coverage to all of the eligible employees of a small employer and their dependents. A small employer carrier may not offer coverage only to certain individuals in a small employer group or only to part of the group, except in the case of late enrollees as provided in subsection (3)(c).

(ii) A small employer carrier may not modify a plan marketed under this part with respect to a small employer or any eligible employee or dependent, through riders, endorsements, or otherwise, to restrict or exclude coverage for certain diseases or medical conditions otherwise covered by the health benefit plan.

(iii) A small employer carrier shall secure a waiver of coverage from each eligible employee who declines, at the sole discretion of the eligible employee, an offer of coverage under a health benefit plan provided by the small employer. The waiver must be signed by the eligible employee and must certify that the employee was informed of the availability of coverage under the health benefit plan and of the penalties for late enrollment. The waiver may not require the eligible employee to disclose the reasons for declining coverage.

(iv) A small employer carrier may not issue coverage to a small employer if the carrier or a producer for the carrier has evidence that the small employer induced or pressured an eligible employee to decline coverage due to the health status or risk characteristics of the eligible employee or of the dependents of the eligible employee.

(4) (a) A small employer carrier may not be required to offer coverage or accept applications pursuant to subsection (1) in the case of the following:

(i) to an employer whose employees do not work or reside within the small employer carrier's established geographic service area for a network plan, as defined in 33-22-140; or

(ii) within an area where the small employer carrier reasonably anticipates and demonstrates to the satisfaction of the commissioner that it will not have the capacity within its established geographic service area to deliver service adequately to the members of a group because of its obligations to existing group policyholders and enrollees. The small employer carrier may not deny coverage under this subsection unless the small employer carrier acts uniformly without regard to claims experience or health status-related factors of employers, employees, or dependents.

(b) A small employer carrier may not be required to provide coverage to small employers pursuant to subsection (1) for which the commissioner determines that the small employer carrier does not have the financial reserves necessary to underwrite additional coverage and that the small employer carrier has denied coverage of small employers uniformly throughout the state and without regard to the claims experience and health status-related factors of the applicant small employer groups. The small employer carrier exempted from providing coverage under this subsection may not offer coverage to small employer groups in this state for 180 days after the date on which coverage is denied or until the small employer carrier has demonstrated to the commissioner that the small employer carrier has sufficient financial reserves to underwrite additional coverage, whichever is later.

33-22-1812. Repealed. Sec. 13, Ch. 377, L. 1995.

33-22-1813. Standards to ensure fair marketing. (1) Each small employer carrier shall actively market health benefit plan coverage, including the basic and standard health benefit plans, to eligible small employers in the state.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), a small employer carrier or producer may not directly or indirectly engage in the following activities:

(i) encouraging or directing small employers to refrain from filing an application for coverage with the small employer carrier because of the health status of the employer's employees or the claims experience, industry, occupation, or geographic location of the small employer;

(ii) encouraging or directing small employers to seek coverage from another carrier because of the health status of the employer's employees or the claims experience, industry, occupation, or geographic location of the small employer.

(b) The provisions of subsection (2)(a) do not apply with respect to information provided by a small employer carrier or producer to a small employer regarding the established geographic service area or a restricted network provision of a small employer carrier.

(3) (a) Except as provided in subsection (3)(b), a small employer carrier may not, directly or indirectly, enter into any contract, agreement, or arrangement with a producer that provides for or results in the compensation paid to a producer for the sale of a health benefit plan to be varied because of the health status of the employer's employees or the claims experience, industry, occupation, or geographic location of the small employer.

(b) Subsection (3)(a) does not apply with respect to a compensation arrangement that provides compensation to a producer on the basis of the percentage of a premium, provided that the percentage may not vary because of the health status of the employer's employees or the claims experience, industry, occupation, or geographic area of the small employer.

(4) A small employer carrier shall provide reasonable compensation, as provided under the plan of operation of the program, to a producer, if any, for the sale of a basic or standard health benefit plan.

(5) A small employer carrier may not terminate, fail to renew, or limit its contract or agreement of representation with a producer for any reason related to the health status of the employer's employees or the claims experience, industry, occupation, or geographic location of the small employers placed by the producer with the small employer carrier.

(6) A small employer carrier or producer may not induce or otherwise encourage a small employer to separate or otherwise exclude an employee from health coverage or benefits provided in connection with the employee's employment.

(7) Denial by a small employer carrier of health insurance coverage for a small employer must be in writing and must state the reason or reasons for the denial.

(8) The commissioner may adopt rules setting forth additional standards to provide for the fair marketing and broad availability of health benefit plans to small employers in this state.

(9) (a) A violation of this section by a small employer carrier or a producer is an unfair trade practice under 33-18-102.

(b) If a small employer carrier enters into a contract, agreement, or other arrangement with an administrator who holds a certificate of registration pursuant to 33-17-603 to provide administrative, marketing, or other services related to the offering of health benefit plans to small employers in this state, the administrator is subject to this section as if the administrator were a small employer carrier.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 606, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 50, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-22-1814. Restoration of terminated coverage. The commissioner may promulgate rules to require small employer carriers, as a condition of transacting business with small employers in this state after January 1, 1994, to reissue a health benefit plan to any small employer whose health benefit plan has been terminated or not renewed by the carrier after July 1, 1993. The commissioner may prescribe the terms for the reissuance of coverage that the commissioner finds are reasonable and necessary to provide continuity of coverage to small employers.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 606, L. 1993.

33-22-1815. Qualifications for voluntary purchasing pool. A voluntary purchasing pool of disability insurance purchasers may be formed solely for the purpose of obtaining disability insurance upon compliance with the following provisions:

(1) It contains at least 51 eligible employees.

(2) It establishes requirements for membership. The voluntary purchasing pool shall accept for membership any small employers and may accept for membership any employers with at least 51 eligible employees that otherwise meet the requirements for membership. However, the voluntary purchasing pool may not exclude any small employers that otherwise meet the requirements for membership on the basis of claim experience, occupation, or health status.

(3) It holds an open enrollment period at least once a year during which new members can join the voluntary purchasing pool.

(4) It offers coverage to eligible employees of member employers and to the employees' dependents. Coverage may not be limited to certain employees of member small employers except as provided in 33-22-1811(3)(c).

(5) It does not assume any risk or form self-insurance plans among its members.

(6) (a) Disability insurance policies, certificates, or contracts offered through the voluntary purchasing pool must rate the entire purchasing pool group as a whole and charge each insured person based on a community rate within the common group, adjusted for case characteristics as permitted by the laws governing group disability insurance.

(b) Rates for voluntary purchasing pool groups must be set pursuant to the provisions of 33-22-1809.

(c) At its discretion, premiums may be paid to the disability insurance policies, certificates, or contracts by the voluntary purchasing pool or by member employers.

(7) A person marketing disability insurance policies, certificates, or contracts for a voluntary purchasing pool must be licensed as an insurance producer.

33-22-1816. Commissioner powers and duties — application for registration — reporting insolvency. (1) The commissioner shall develop forms for registration of an organization as a voluntary purchasing pool.

(2) An organization seeking to be registered as a voluntary purchasing pool shall make application to the commissioner. The commissioner shall register an organization as a voluntary purchasing pool upon proof of fulfillment of the qualifications provided in 33-22-1815.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (5), on March 1 of each year, the voluntary purchasing pool shall provide a report and financial statement for the previous calendar year to the commissioner so that the commissioner may determine:

(a) whether the operation of the voluntary purchasing pool is fiscally sound;

(b) whether the voluntary purchasing pool is bearing any risk; and

(c) the number of individuals covered.

(4) The annual report of the voluntary purchasing pool must disclose its total administrative cost.

(5) A voluntary purchasing pool may choose to operate on a fiscal year other than on the calendar year. A voluntary purchasing pool that establishes a fiscal year that is other than the calendar year shall provide the report required in subsection (3) to the commissioner within 60 days of the voluntary purchasing pool's fiscal yearend.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 375, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 52, Ch. 472, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 87, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 28, Ch. 151, L. 2017.

33-22-1817. Collection of charges and premiums. (1) All insurance or premiums collected by a voluntary purchasing pool on behalf of or for an insurer and all return premiums received from the insurer are held by the voluntary purchasing pool in a fiduciary capacity. These funds must be remitted immediately to the person entitled to them or must be deposited promptly in a fiduciary bank account established and maintained by the administrator of the voluntary purchasing pool. If deposited charges or premiums are collected on behalf of or for more than one insurer, the voluntary purchasing pool shall either keep or require the bank in which the fiduciary account is maintained to keep records clearly recording the deposits to and withdrawals from the account on behalf of each insurer. The voluntary purchasing pool shall promptly obtain and keep copies of all these records and shall, upon request of an insurer, furnish the insurer with copies of the records pertaining to deposits and withdrawals on behalf of or for the insurer.

(2) The voluntary purchasing pool may not pay a claim by withdrawals from the fiduciary account. Withdrawals from the fiduciary account must be made, as provided in the written agreement between the voluntary purchasing pool and the insurer, for:

(a) remittance to an insurer entitled to the remittance;

(b) deposit in an account maintained in the name of the insurer;

(c) payment to a group policyholder for remittance to the insurer entitled to the payment; or

(d) remittance of return premiums to the person entitled to the premium.

33-22-1820. Periodic market evaluation — report. The commissioner may study and report at least every 3 years to the governor or other interested persons on the effectiveness of this part. The report must analyze the effectiveness of this part in promoting rate stability, product availability, and coverage affordability. The report may contain recommendations for actions to improve the overall effectiveness, efficiency, and fairness of the small employer health insurance markets. The report must address whether carriers and producers are fairly and actively marketing or issuing health benefit plans to small employers in fulfillment of the purposes of this part. The report may contain recommendations for market conduct or other regulatory standards or action.

Part 19

Obstetricians and Gynecologists — Primary Care Physicians

33-22-1901. Scope — purpose. The provisions of this part apply to all health benefit plans offered to persons who receive health care services in this state. The purpose of this part is to ensure that obstetricians and gynecologists may be participating primary care physicians under health benefit plans offered to patients who receive health care services in this state and that persons covered by health benefit plans have direct access to the services of a participating obstetrician or gynecologist of their choice.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 198, L. 1997.

(1) "Covered person" means a policyholder, subscriber, certificate holder, enrollee, or other individual who is participating in a health benefit plan.

(2) "Health benefit plan" means any individual or group plan, policy, certificate, subscriber contract, contract of insurance provided by a managed care plan, preferred provider agreement, or health maintenance organization subscriber contract that is issued, delivered, issued for delivery, or renewed in this state by a health carrier that pays for, purchases, or furnishes health care services to covered persons who receive health care services in this state. For the purposes of this part, a health benefit plan located or domiciled outside of the state of Montana is subject to the provisions of this part if it receives, processes, adjudicates, pays, or denies claims for health care services submitted by or on behalf of covered persons who reside or who receive health care services in the state of Montana.

(3) "Health carrier" means a disability insurer, health care insurer, health maintenance organization, accident and sickness insurer, fraternal benefit society, nonprofit hospital service corporation, health service corporation, health care service plan, preferred provider organization or arrangement, multiple employer welfare arrangement, or any other person, firm, corporation, joint venture, or similar business entity.

(4) "Obstetrician or gynecologist" means a physician who is board-eligible or board-certified by the American board of obstetrics and gynecology.

(5) "Participating obstetrician or gynecologist" means an obstetrician or gynecologist who is employed by or under contract with a health benefit plan.

(6) "Primary care physician" means a physician who has the responsibility for providing initial and primary care to patients, for maintaining the continuity of patient care, and for initiating referrals for specialist care.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 198, L. 1997.

33-22-1903. Obstetricians or gynecologists as primary care physicians. (1) Each health benefit plan that provides coverage for primary care or obstetrical or gynecological care must allow obstetricians and gynecologists to participate as primary care physicians. The health carrier that provides the health benefit plan shall contract with a sufficient number of obstetricians and gynecologists to ensure that covered persons have access to the options under this section without unreasonable delay if there are obstetricians or gynecologists practicing in the geographic service areas in which the plan operates who are willing to participate in the plan. An obstetrician or gynecologist may not be required to accept primary care physician status if the obstetrician or gynecologist does not wish to be designated as a primary care physician. A health benefit plan must use the same criteria with regard to credentials and other selection criteria for a participating obstetrician or gynecologist as are applied by the health benefit plan with respect to other physicians who are participating in the health benefit plan. An obstetrician or gynecologist wishing to accept designation as a primary care physician must meet the same criteria with regard to credentials and other selection criteria for a participating primary care physician as other physicians who are participating as primary care physicians in the health benefit plan.

(2) Each health benefit plan must allow a covered person to select any participating obstetrician or gynecologist of the covered person's choice as the covered person's primary care physician.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 198, L. 1997.

33-22-1904. Self-referral for obstetrical or gynecological care permitted. (1) A health benefit plan must permit self-referral to any participating obstetrician or gynecologist by a covered person who has not selected a participating obstetrician or gynecologist as the covered person's primary care physician for services covered under the health benefit plan. This self-referral is for the purpose of receiving any obstetrical or gynecological examination or care and primary and preventative obstetrical and gynecological services required as a result of any obstetrical or gynecological examination or condition. This self-referral must be allowed without prior authorization or precertification from the health benefit plan or covered person's primary care physician, but the health benefit plan may require the covered person to notify the plan prior to self-referral.

(2) The services covered by this section may be limited to those services defined by the most recent published recommendations of the American college of obstetricians and gynecologists. The self-referral permitted by this section may be limited to one participating obstetrician or gynecologist for obstetrical care and one participating obstetrician or gynecologist for gynecological care of the covered person's choice annually.

(3) The participating obstetrician or gynecologist and the covered person shall comply with the health benefit plan's coordination and referral policies. The health benefit plan may require the participating obstetrician or gynecologist to whom the covered person self-refers to discuss with the covered person's primary care physician any services or treatment the participating obstetrician or gynecologist recommends for the covered person.

(4) Self-referral under this section may not affect the covered person's coverage under the health benefit plan. It is the intent of this section that a covered person must at all times have direct access to the covered services of the participating obstetrician or gynecologist of the covered person's choice under any health benefit plan.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 198, L. 1997.

33-22-1905. Surcharges not allowed. A health benefit plan may not impose a surcharge or additional copayments or deductibles upon a covered person who seeks or receives health care services under 33-22-1903 or 33-22-1904 unless similar surcharges or additional copayments or deductibles are imposed for other types of health care services not described in 33-22-1903 and 33-22-1904.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 198, L. 1997.

33-22-1906. Payment of covered services provided by certified advanced practice registered nurses. A health benefit plan may not deny payment for covered services provided to a covered person under 33-22-1903 and 33-22-1904 by a certified advanced practice registered nurse practicing in collaboration with the participating obstetrician or gynecologist. This section may not be construed to expand the definitions of participating obstetrician or gynecologist or primary care physician in 33-22-1902 to include certified advanced practice registered nurses.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 198, L. 1997.

33-22-1907. Disclosure. Each health benefit plan shall disclose in all of its plan literature, in clear, accurate language, the covered person's option to seek the care described in this part without preapproval, preauthorization, or referral.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 198, L. 1997.

33-22-1908. Enforcement. If the commissioner determines that a health benefit plan does not comply with this part or that a health carrier has not complied with a provision of this part, the commissioner may:

(1) recommend a correction plan that must be followed by the health carrier;

(2) institute corrective action that must be followed by the health carrier;

(3) suspend or revoke the certificate of authority or deny the health carrier's application for a certificate of authority; or

(4) use any of the commissioner's enforcement powers to obtain the health carrier's compliance with this part.

Part 21
Fertility Preservation Services

33-22-2101. Legislative findings — purpose. (1) The legislature finds that young Montanans who are diagnosed with cancer often learn, shortly before they are to begin the medical treatment needed to save their lives, that the treatment may result in infertility, leaving them only a small window of time in which to decide whether to undergo medically necessary efforts to preserve their ability to have biological families.

(2) The legislature further finds that future fertility is a top quality of life priority for many young cancer patients and that the possibility of infertility may cause significant distress and grief during a time when cancer patients are also facing not only their diagnoses but also the prospects of treatment that may include surgery, chemotherapy, radiation, or a combination of those approaches.

(3) The legislature further finds that fertility preservation is medically necessary and considered part of the standard of care for age-eligible oncology patients.

(4) It is the intent of this part to ensure that fertility preservation services for cancer patients are covered by insurance plans in the same manner as other medically necessary care and that cancer patients are made aware of the options for fertility preservation services.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 782, L. 2023.

(1) "Iatrogenic infertility" means an impairment of fertility caused directly or indirectly by surgery, chemotherapy, radiation, or other medical treatment.

(2) "Medical treatment that may directly or indirectly cause iatrogenic infertility" means treatment with a potential side effect of impaired fertility, as established by a national association for practitioners of reproductive medicine or clinical oncology.

(3) "Standard fertility preservation services" means procedures consistent with established medical practices and professional guidelines published by a national association for practitioners of reproductive medicine or clinical oncology.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 782, L. 2023.

33-22-2103. Coverage of fertility preservation services. (1) Each individual and group disability policy, certificate of insurance, and membership contract that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state that provides coverage for hospital, medical, or surgical services must cover medically necessary costs for standard fertility preservation services when an insured member is diagnosed with cancer and the standard of care involves medical treatment that may directly or indirectly cause iatrogenic infertility.

(2) Coverage under this section may be subject to deductibles, coinsurance, and copayment provisions. Special deductible, coinsurance, copayment, or other limitations that are not generally applicable to other hospital, medical, or surgical services covered under the plan may not be imposed on coverage for fertility preservation services.

(3) This section does not apply to disability income, hospital indemnity, accident-only, vision, dental, or long-term care policies.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 782, L. 2023.

33-22-2104. Renumbered 53-6-2210. Sec. 33, Ch. 8, L. 2025.

Part 22
Dental Insurance Transparency and Accountability Act

Part Compiler's Comments

Effective Date: Section 8, Ch. 600, L. 2025, provided that this part is effective June 1, 2025.

Applicability: Section 9, Ch. 600, L. 2025, provided: "[This act] applies to dental insurance policies, plans, contracts, and certificates issued or renewed on or after January 1, 2026."

33-22-2201. Short title — purpose — scope — exceptions. (1) This part may be cited as the "Montana Dental Insurance Transparency and Accountability Act".

(2) The purpose of this part is to:

(a) require that dental insurance coverage has a medical loss ratio that is transparent to the public and fair to covered individuals; and

(b) provide for transparency of the expenditure of dental health care plan premiums and to require annual reports and remediation if the dental loss ratio falls below a certain percentage.

(3) The provisions of this part apply to all policies and certificates of individual and group dental insurance offered to, renewed for, or issued to Montana residents by a disability insurer offering dental coverage.

(4) This part does not apply to health insurance coverage that has dental benefits imbedded in the plan in addition to other medical benefits and is subject to the minimum medical loss ratio requirements of Public Law 111-148, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

(5) This part does not apply to dental care services covered under medicaid or the healthy Montana kids plan provided for in Title 53, chapter 4, part 11.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 600, L. 2025.

(1) (a) "Dental insurer" means an insurance company licensed to do business in the state that offers coverage for dental services, including excepted benefits as defined in 33-22-140.

(b) The term does not include health insurance coverage described in 33-22-2201(4).

(2) "Dental loss ratio" means the percentage of premium dollars spent on patient care as calculated pursuant to subsection (3)(b)(i).

(3) (a) "Medical loss ratio" is the minimum percentage of all premium funds collected by an insurer each year that must be spent on actual patient care rather than overhead costs.

(b) The dental loss ratio is calculated by dividing the numerator by the denominator, in which:

(i) the numerator is the sum of the amount incurred for clinical dental services provided to enrollees, the amount incurred on activities that improve dental care quality, and other incurred claims as defined in 45 CFR 158.140(a); and

(ii) the denominator is the total amount of premium revenue, excluding federal and state taxes, licensing and regulatory fees paid, nonprofit community benefit expenditures as defined in 45 CFR 158.162(c), and any other payments required by federal law.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 600, L. 2025.

33-22-2203. Transparency of dental insurance premiums. (1) A dental insurer that issues, sells, or renews a plan, policy, contract, or certificate covering dental services shall file by March 1 of each year with its annual statement a medical dental loss ratio report with the commissioner of securities and insurance that is organized by market and product type and contains similar information required in the 2013 federal medical loss ratio annual reporting form. The filing must also report additional data that includes the number of enrollees, the plan cost-sharing and deductible amounts, the annual maximum coverage limit, and the number of enrollees who meet or exceed the annual coverage limit.

(2) (a) The dental loss ratio reporting year must be for the policy year during which dental coverage is provided by the insurer. All terms used in the dental loss ratio annual report have the same meaning as used in the federal Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. 300gg-18, and 45 CFR, part 158.

(b) If data verification of the dental insurer's representations in the dental loss ratio annual report is considered necessary, the commissioner shall provide the dental insurer with a notification of the additional information needed within 30 days.

(c) The dental insurer has 30 days from the date of notification to submit to the commissioner all requested data. The commissioner may extend the time for a dental insurer to comply with this subsection (2)(c) on a finding of good cause.

(3) By January 1 of the year after the commissioner receives the dental loss ratio information collected pursuant to this part, the commissioner shall make the information, including the aggregate dental loss ratio and other data reported pursuant to this section, available to the public in a searchable format on a public website that allows members of the public to compare dental loss ratios among insurers by plan type. The commissioner shall accomplish this by posting the information on the department's website.

(4) The commissioner shall report biennially the data in this section to the economic affairs interim committee in accordance with 5-11-210.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 600, L. 2025.

33-22-2204. Excess revenue — rebate. (1) The commissioner shall aggregate dental loss ratios for each dental insurer by year pursuant to 33-22-2203 for each market segment in which the dental insurer operates. The commissioner shall calculate an average dental loss ratio for each market segment using aggregate data for a 3-year period, including data for the most recent dental loss ratio reporting year and the data for the two prior dental loss ratio reporting years. Newer experience is subject to reporting standards specified in 45 CFR 158.121.

(2) (a) The commissioner shall calculate an average dental loss ratio for each market segment using the data pursuant to subsection (1), identify as outliers dental plans that fall outside 1 standard deviation of the average dental loss ratio, and report those plans to the legislature as provided in 33-22-2203(4).

(b) A dental insurer may not be considered an outlier if its dental loss ratio in a market segment is within 3 percentage points of the average dental loss ratio. A higher threshold may be set in unique circumstances as determined reasonable by the commissioner.

(3) The commissioner shall investigate dental insurers that report a dental loss ratio lower than 1 standard deviation from the mathematical average and may take remediation or enforcement actions against them, including ordering them to rebate, in a manner consistent with 45 CFR, part 158, subpart B, all premiums paid above the amounts that would have caused the dental insurer to have achieved the mathematical average of the data submitted in a given year for a given market segment.

(4) The report in subsection (2) is organized to show year-over-year changes in a dental insurer's outlier status relative to meeting the 1 standard deviation outlier standard in subsection (2). If the dental loss ratio for a dental insurer in a market segment does not increase and remains an outlier as described in subsection (2) after 2 consecutive years, barring unique circumstances as determined reasonable by the commissioner, the dental insurer is subject to a minimum dental loss ratio percentage by market segment. The commissioner shall promulgate rules establishing the dental loss ratio percentage based on, at minimum, the average of existing dental insurer loss ratios by market segment in the state to be effective no sooner than 42 months after a dental insurer is determined to be an outlier.

(5) A dental insurer subject to remediation in subsections (3) and (4) shall provide any rebate owing to a policyholder no later than August 1 of the fiscal year following the year for which the ratio described in subsection (1) was calculated. The commissioner may establish alternatives to direct rebates to include premium reductions in the following benefit year.

(6) The commissioner may promulgate rules that create a process to identify dental insurers that increase rates in excess of the percentage increase of the latest dental services consumer price index as reported through the bureau of labor statistics of the United States department of labor.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 600, L. 2025.

33-22-2205. Rulemaking. (1) The commissioner of securities and insurance shall adopt rules to implement the provisions of this part.

(2) (a) The commissioner shall define by rule:

(i) expenditures for clinical dental services;

(ii) activities that improve dental care quality; and

(iii) overhead and administrative cost expenditures.

(b) Activities conducted by an issuer intended to improve dental care quality may not exceed 5% of net premium revenue.

(3) The definitions promulgated by rule pursuant to this section must be consistent with similar definitions that are used for the reporting of medical loss ratios by insurers offering health insurance coverage in the state. Overhead and administrative costs may not be included in the numerator.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 600, L. 2025.

33-23-102. Existence of insurance not to be made evident. No attempt may be made in the trial of an action brought against a political subdivision of the state, municipality, or any public body, corporation, commission, board, agency, organization, or other public entity to suggest the existence of any insurance which covers in whole or in part any judgment or award which may be rendered in favor of plaintiff.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 240, L. 1963; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 234, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4402; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 425, L. 1979.

33-23-103. Casualty insurance policy — conformity with state statutes. A casualty insurance policy relative to a risk resident, located, or to be performed in this state must contain a provision or the equivalent thereto as follows:

"Conformity with Montana statutes. The provisions of this policy conform to the minimum requirements of Montana law and control over any conflicting statutes of any state in which the insured resides on or after the effective date of this policy."

33-23-201. Motor vehicle liability policies to include uninsured motorist coverage — rejection by insured. (1) A motor vehicle liability policy insuring against loss resulting from liability imposed by law for bodily injury or death suffered by any person arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state, with respect to any motor vehicle registered and principally garaged in this state, unless coverage is provided in the policy or supplemental to the policy, in limits for bodily injury or death set forth in 61-6-103, under provisions filed with and approved by the commissioner, for the protection of persons insured under the policy who are legally entitled to recover damages from owners or operators of uninsured motor vehicles because of bodily injury, sickness, or disease, including death, resulting from the injury, sickness, or disease, caused by an accident arising out of the operation or use of the motor vehicle. An uninsured motor vehicle is a land motor vehicle, the ownership, the maintenance, or the use of which is not insured or bonded for bodily injury liability at the time of the accident.

(2) The named insured has the right to reject the coverage. Unless the named insured requests the coverage in writing, the coverage need not be provided in or supplemental to a renewal policy when the named insured had rejected the coverage in connection with the policy previously issued to the named insured by the same insurer.

33-23-203. Limitation of liability under motor vehicle liability policy. (1) Unless a motor vehicle liability policy specifically provides otherwise, the limits of insurance coverage available under each part of the policy must be determined as follows, regardless of the number of motor vehicles insured under the policy, the number of policies issued by the same company covering the insured, or the number of separate premiums paid:

(a) the limits of insurance coverages available for any one accident are the limits specified for each coverage available under the policy insuring the motor vehicle involved in the accident;

(b) if the motor vehicle involved in the accident is not insured under a policy, the limits of the insurance coverages available for any one accident are the highest limits of the coverages specified under one policy for one motor vehicle insured under that policy; and

(c) the limits of the coverages specified under one policy or under more than one policy issued by the same company may not be added together to determine the limits of insurance coverages available under the policy or policies for any one accident if the premiums charged for the coverage by the insurer actuarially reflect the limiting of coverage separately to the vehicles covered by the policy and the premium rates have been filed with the commissioner.

(2) A motor vehicle liability policy may also provide for other reasonable limitations, exclusions, reductions of coverage, or subrogation clauses that are designed to prevent duplicate payments for the same element of loss under the motor vehicle liability policy or under another casualty policy that provides coverage for an injury that necessitates damages or benefit payments or to prevent the adding together of insurance coverage limits in one policy or from more than one policy issued by the same company.

(3) An insurer that charges a premium for a specified coverage shall clearly inform or notify the insured in writing of the limits of the coverage with respect to the premium charged and whether the coverage from one policy or motor vehicle may be added to the coverage of another policy or motor vehicle.

(4) This section is not intended to create coverage for a motor vehicle that would otherwise be uninsured.

(1) (a) "Motor vehicle" means a vehicle propelled by its own power and designed primarily to transport persons or property on the highways of the state.

(b) The term does not include a bicycle or a moped, as defined in 61-8-102, an electric personal assistive mobility device, as defined in 61-1-101, or a motorized nonstandard vehicle, as defined in 61-1-101.

(2) "Motor vehicle liability policy" means a policy of automobile or motor vehicle insurance against liability required under Title 61, chapter 6, parts 1 and 3, and all additional coverages included in or added to the policy by rider, endorsement, or otherwise, whether or not required under Title 61, including, without limitation, uninsured, underinsured, and medical payment coverages.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 139, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 495, L. 1997; amd. Secs. 5, 11, 12, Ch. 468, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 38, Ch. 542, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 374, L. 2015.

33-23-205 through 33-23-210 reserved.

33-23-211. Limitations on basis for cancellation. (1) A notice of cancellation of a motor vehicle liability policy is effective only if it is based on one or more of the following reasons:

(a) nonpayment of premium; or

(b) the driver's license or motor vehicle registration of the named insured or of any other operator who either resides in the same household or customarily operates a motor vehicle insured under the policy has been under suspension or revocation during the policy period or, if the policy is a renewal, during its policy period or the 180 days immediately preceding its effective date.

(2) This section does not apply to any policy or coverage which has been in effect less than 60 days at the time notice of cancellation is mailed or delivered by the insurer unless it is a renewal policy.

(3) Modification of motor vehicle physical damage coverage by the inclusion of a deductible not exceeding $100 may not be deemed a cancellation of the coverage or of the policy.

(4) This section does not apply to nonrenewal of a motor vehicle liability policy.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 262, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4407; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 139, L. 1987.

Cross-References

33-23-212. Notice required for cancellation — statement that insurer will specify reason upon request — exception. (1) A cancellation by an insurer of a motor vehicle liability insurance policy is not effective prior to the mailing or delivery to the named insured, at the address shown in the policy, of a written notice of the cancellation stating the date on which, not less than 45 days after the date of the mailing or delivery, the cancellation becomes effective. Other provisions of this code may not be construed as affecting the requirements provided in this subsection (1).

(2) A notice of cancellation of a policy to which 33-23-211 applies is not effective unless mailed or delivered by the insurer to the named insured at least 45 days prior to the effective date of cancellation. However, if cancellation is for nonpayment of premium, at least 10 days' notice of cancellation accompanied by the reason must be given. Unless the reason accompanies or is included in the notice of cancellation, the notice of cancellation must state or be accompanied by a statement that upon written request of the named insured, mailed or delivered to the insurer not less than 21 days prior to the effective date of cancellation, the insurer shall specify the reason for the cancellation.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply to nonrenewal.

History: En. Secs. 1, 4, 7, Ch. 262, L. 1971; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4405, 40-4408, 40-4411; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 139, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 41, Ch. 83, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 53, Ch. 472, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 339, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 43, Ch. 380, L. 2003.

33-23-213. Notice to insured of ground for cancellation — commissioner to ensure compliance. Whenever an insurer gives notice of cancellation of a motor vehicle liability policy, upon request of the insured, the insurer, within 15 days of receipt of the request, shall furnish to the insured a statement setting forth the ground or grounds upon which the notice of cancellation is based. If the insurer fails to comply with the provisions of this section, the insured may apply to the commissioner for a certificate of the facts or information desired. The commissioner shall exercise any power conferred upon the commissioner by law that may be necessary to ensure compliance with this section.

33-23-214. Advance notice required for nonrenewal — exceptions. (1) An insurer shall renew a motor vehicle liability policy unless it mails or delivers to the named insured, at the address shown in the policy, at least 45 days' advance notice of its intention not to renew. The notice must contain or be accompanied by a statement that upon written request made not later than 1 month following the termination date of the policy of the named insured mailed or delivered to the insurer, the insurer will notify the insured in writing, within 15 days of the insured's request, of the reason or reasons for the nonrenewal.

(2) Notwithstanding the failure of an insurer to comply with this section, the motor vehicle liability policy must terminate on the effective date of any other replacement or succeeding motor vehicle liability policy procured by the insured with respect to any motor vehicle designated in both policies.

(3) This section does not apply where the named insured has failed to discharge when due any of the insured's obligations in connection with the payment of premiums for the policy or the renewal of the policy or any installment payments for the policy, whether payable directly to the insurer or its insurance producer or indirectly under any premium finance plan or extension of credit.

(4) This section does not apply in any of the following cases:

(a) if the insurer has manifested its willingness to renew;

(b) in case of nonpayment of premium. However, notwithstanding the failure of an insurer to comply with this section, the policy must terminate on the effective date of any other insurance policy with respect to any motor vehicle designated in both policies.

(c) if the insured's insurance producer or broker has secured other coverage acceptable to the insured at least 20 days prior to the anniversary date of the policy or termination of the policy period.

(5) Renewal of a motor vehicle liability policy does not constitute a waiver or estoppel with respect to grounds for cancellation which existed before the effective date of the renewal.

(6) A notice of nonrenewal of a motor vehicle liability policy under this section, for a policy that has a term of less than 6 months, is effective only when based on one or more of the reasons listed in 33-23-211.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 262, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 249, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4409; amd. Sec. 13, Ch. 139, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 339, L. 2003.

33-23-215. No liability for statements in connection with cancellation or nonrenewal. There may be no liability on the part of and no cause of action of any nature may arise against the commissioner or against any insurer, its authorized representative, its insurance producers, its employees, or any firm, person, or corporation furnishing to the insurer information as to reasons for cancellation or nonrenewal for any statement made by any of them in any written notice of cancellation or nonrenewal or for statements made or evidence submitted at any hearings conducted in connection therewith.

33-23-216. Retention and proof of notice. (1) A notice of cancellation or of intention not to renew or of reasons for cancellation of insurance issued under terms of this chapter must be retained for a period of 3 years by the insurer or the insurer's insurance producer within this state and must be made available within this state for examination or inspection by the commissioner or the insurer's insurance producers at any time within the 3-year period upon reasonable notice.

(2) Proof of mailing of notice of cancellation or of intention not to renew or of reasons for cancellation to the named insured at the address shown in the policy or to the named insured's last-known address is sufficient proof of notice.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 262, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 469, L. 1977; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4410; amd. Sec. 15, Ch. 139, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1235, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-23-217. Return of unearned premiums. If an insurer cancels a motor vehicle policy covering a commercial or private motor vehicle for nonpayment of a premium, the insurer shall process the cancellation on a pro rata basis. The insurer shall return whatever gross unearned premium is due under the motor vehicle policy to the insured. For purposes of this section, the term "unearned premium" means that part of the original premium, including deposits, not yet earned by the insurer and therefore due the insured if the policy is canceled.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 121, L. 1987.

33-23-218 through 33-23-220 reserved.

33-23-221. Definitions. As used in 33-23-221 through 33-23-226, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Benefit" means any rebate, discount, abatement, credit, reduction of premium, or other advantage to the policyholder provided under the terms of a telematics agreement.

(2) "Policyholder" means a person who is a present named insured in a motor vehicle liability policy as defined in 33-23-204.

(3) "Recorded data" means the data collected, stored, or transmitted by a recording device identifying performance or operation information about a motor vehicle including:

(a) speed;

(b) direction;

(c) location; and

(d) internal controls and diagnostics, such as steering performance, brake performance, or computer diagnostics.

(4) "Recording device" means a device, mechanism, or system installed in or used in conjunction with a motor vehicle that collects, stores, or transmits recorded data. The term includes the following to the extent that they involve recorded data:

(a) event data recorders;

(b) sensing and diagnostic modules;

(c) electronic control modules;

(d) automatic crash notification systems;

(e) geographic information systems;

(f) cellular phones;

(g) personal digital assistants; and

(h) any other device that collects, stores, or transmits recorded data.

(5) "Telematics agreement" means a written agreement between an insurer and a policyholder of the insurer regarding use of a recording device in a motor vehicle to collect or store recorded data or transmit recorded data to the insurer or to a third party designated by the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 304, L. 2015.

33-23-222. Telematics agreement disclosures. (1) A telematics agreement must be signed by the policyholder.

(2) A telematics agreement must disclose the following:

(a) if the insurer or a third party designated by the insurer provides the recording device, the categories of recorded data the recording device is capable of collecting, storing, or transmitting;

(b) the identification of any third party that may collect, store, transmit, or receive the recorded data in relation to the terms of the telematics agreement;

(c) the categories of recorded data that may be collected, stored, or transmitted;

(d) the purposes for which the insurer or a third party may use the recorded data;

(e) the length of time the insurer or third party may collect, store, transmit, or otherwise retain the data; and

(f) the terms of any benefit associated with the telematics agreement.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 304, L. 2015.

33-23-223. Insurer obligations for telematics agreement — termination. (1) An insurer may provide a benefit to a policyholder for participating in a telematics agreement.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (4), an insurer may not cancel, refuse to issue, or refuse to renew a motor vehicle insurance policy solely because a policyholder refuses to:

(a) enter into or consent to a telematics agreement; or

(b) provide access to recorded data from a recording device.

(3) An insurer:

(a) may not reduce coverage, increase a premium, place in a less favorable rate tier, or deny a claim to a policyholder if the policyholder refuses to enter into or consent to a telematics agreement, except as provided in subsection (4) or (7); and

(b) may not, based upon analysis of recorded data collected in connection with the telematics agreement, reduce coverage, increase a premium, place in a less favorable rate tier, deny a claim, or reduce or refuse to provide a benefit to a policyholder, except as provided in subsections (4), (5), and (7).

(4) Subsections (2) and (3) do not apply to a motor vehicle insurance policy:

(a) based upon the policyholder driving a minimum or maximum number of miles or driving within a certain range of miles; and

(b) that requires a policyholder to use a recording device for purposes of determining mileage.

(5) An insurer may adjust the benefit provided under subsection (1) to the extent that an analysis of the recorded data collected through the telematics agreement accurately represents the policyholder's driving habits.

(6) An insurer offering a telematics agreement shall offer all its policyholders under that policy type an equal opportunity to enter into a telematics agreement except to the extent the recording device used under the telematics agreement is not compatible with the motor vehicle of the policyholder.

(7) (a) An insurer may terminate a telematics agreement and any associated benefit if a policyholder materially fails to comply with a term of the telematics agreement.

(b) Termination of a telematics agreement and any associated benefit under this subsection (7) does not constitute a midterm premium increase as provided in 33-15-1108.

(8) An insurer shall terminate a telematics agreement and any associated benefit upon the request of the policyholder.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 304, L. 2015.

33-23-224. Ownership of data. Recorded data collected, stored, or transmitted by a recording device under a telematics agreement:

(1) is personal information as defined in 33-19-104; and

(2) may not be used by an insurer or third party named in the telematics agreement for uses other than those disclosed in the telematics agreement.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 304, L. 2015.

33-23-225. Application — exclusion. (1) The provisions of 33-23-221 through 33-23-226 apply to a telematics agreement entered into between a policyholder and an insurer.

(2) The provisions of 33-23-221 through 33-23-226 do not apply to a manufacturer of a motor vehicle or supplier of an aftermarket device or services or to its respective subsidiaries or affiliates that embed in or provide a recording device for a motor vehicle as long as the manufacturer or supplier or the respective subsidiaries or affiliates is not acting as an insurer.

33-23-310. Medical malpractice insurance report by insurer. (1) If requested in writing by the commissioner, each insurer engaged in issuing medical malpractice professional liability insurance in this state shall, within 60 days, provide a report to the commissioner containing the following categories of information, as directed by the commissioner, for one or more professions provided in subsection (2)(b):

(a) the number of medical malpractice insureds as of December 31 of the preceding calendar year;

(b) the amount of direct premiums written and direct premiums paid for medical malpractice insurance during the preceding calendar year;

(c) the number of medical malpractice claims made against its insureds during the preceding calendar year;

(d) the number of medical malpractice claims that were closed and that had a direct loss paid during the preceding calendar year, together with the total amount of direct losses paid for all closed claims for that year;

(e) the number of medical malpractice claims that were still open and had no direct losses paid as of December 31 of the preceding calendar year;

(f) the number of claims filed against its insureds in state and federal courts during the preceding calendar year, including the number of claims that were closed:

(i) without settlement during the preceding calendar year;

(ii) with a settlement during the preceding calendar year and the total amount paid for those claims;

(iii) during the preceding calendar year and that went to trial and the number that resulted in a judgment or verdict for the plaintiff, the number that resulted in a judgment or verdict for the insured, and the number that resulted in some other judgment or verdict;

(g) the total direct losses paid for claims against its medical malpractice insureds that went to trial and were closed during the preceding year; and

(h) other information and statistics that the commissioner of insurance requires.

(2) For purposes of this section:

(a) "insurer" has the meaning provided in 33-1-201; and

(b) "profession" includes the categories of physician, osteopath, podiatrist, dentist, optometrist, registered nurse, licensed practical nurse, or health care facility as defined in 50-5-101.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-24-101. Measure of the indemnity — rescission for fraud. If there is no valuation in the policy and unless a basis more favorable to the insured is provided for in the policy, the measure of indemnity in an insurance against fire is the expense, at the time that the loss is payable, of replacing the thing lost or injured, in the condition in which it was at the time of the injury; but a valuation, fraudulent in fact, entitles the insurer to rescind the contract.

33-24-102. Insuring improvements — insurance equal to true value. Whenever any policy of insurance is written to insure any improvements upon real property in this state against loss or damage and the property insured is considered to be a total loss, without criminal fault on the part of the insured or the insured's assigns, the amount of insurance written in the policy must be taken conclusively to be the true value of the property insured and the true amount of loss and measure of damages. The payment of money as a premium for insurance must be prima facie evidence that the party paying the insurance premium is the owner of the property insured. However, any insurance company may assert fraud in obtaining the policy as a defense to a suit on the policy.

Cross-References

Construction of policies, 33-15-316.

33-24-103. Specific valuation — loss equal to insured value. (1) This section applies to policies, except motor vehicle insurance policies, that insure specific listed items of personal property against any loss or damage.

(2) If the insurer places specific valuations upon particular items of covered property and bases the premium charge on these valuations, then the insurer shall compute any total loss or total damage to the property, when covered, at the stated valuation with no deductions or offsets except for the selected deductible in the policy.

33-24-104. Tax lien on insured property destroyed by fire. If taxes are due and unpaid on property covered by fire insurance and damaged or destroyed by fire, the government entity owed the taxes has a lien on fire insurance proceeds paid in relation to that property in the amount of the unpaid taxes.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 447, L. 1989.

Cross-References

Tax liens and limitations, Title 15, ch. 16, part 4.

33-24-105. Property insurance policy — conformity with state statutes. A property insurance policy relative to a risk resident, located, or to be performed in this state must contain a provision or the equivalent thereto as follows:

"Conformity with Montana statutes. The provisions of this policy conform to the minimum requirements of Montana law and control over any conflicting statutes of any state in which the insured resides on or after the effective date of this policy."

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 798, L. 1991.

33-24-110. Risk preventative measures for homeowners — premium reduction — fire, wind, and hail. (1) An insurer may provide a benefit or a premium reduction to a homeowner's insurance policyholder for preventative measures taken by the policyholder. Preventative measures include but are not limited to actions that reduce the risk of damage to property from fire, wind, or hail.

(a) Fire preventative measures include but are not limited to any of the following:

(i) using ignition-resistant, fire-resistive, or noncombustible building materials in construction, including noncombustible roofing or coating, exterior glazing for fire protection, and interior building materials designed to stop flame spread and prevent building collapse upon occupants and emergency service personnel;

(ii) maintaining an adequate outside water source;

(iii) providing annual confirmation, if requested by the insurer, that the insured has employed defensible space landscaping around the insured's structures;

(iv) keeping a border of at least 5 feet of nonflammable landscaping around the insured property;

(v) complying with any local, state, or federal fire prevention or community preparedness programs;

(vi) installing fire alarm or emergency alarm systems;

(vii) complying with the requirements of the International Wildland-Urban Interface Code if a building is located in a wildland-urban interface area; and

(viii) providing sufficient access to the property for firefighting equipment and authorized emergency vehicles as defined in 61-8-102.

(b) Wind and hail preventative measures include but are not limited to the following:

(i) using an industry-approved resistant roof shingle;

(ii) anchoring outdoor furniture;

(iii) pruning tree branches or otherwise providing landscaping that reduces potential damage to the insured property; and

(iv) installing protective coverings to avoid additional damage to the insured property.

(2) An insurer who provides a benefit or premium reduction as provided in this section must include the benefit or premium reduction in writing to the policyholder. A benefit or premium reduction provided by an insurer under this section does not constitute an illegal rebate under 33-18-210.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Benefit" means a rebate, discount, abatement, credit, reduction of premium, or other advantage to the policyholder provided under the terms of a preventative measures agreement.

(b) "Policyholder" means a person who is the named insured in a homeowner's insurance policy.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 105, L. 2025.

Compiler's Comments

Effective Date: This section is effective October 1, 2025.

Part 2

Portable Electronics Insurance Act

33-24-201. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Portable Electronics Insurance Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

(1) "Customer" means a person who purchases portable electronics or services related to the use of portable electronics.

(2) "Enrolled customer" means a customer who elects coverage under a portable electronics insurance policy issued to a vendor of portable electronics.

(3) "Location" means any physical location in this state or any website, call center site, or similar location directed to residents of this state.

(4) "Portable electronics" means electronic devices that are portable in nature and their accessories.

(5) (a) "Portable electronics insurance" means insurance providing coverage for the repair or replacement of portable electronics that may provide coverage for portable electronics against loss, theft, inoperability due to mechanical failure, malfunction, damage, or other similar causes of loss. Portable electronics insurance also includes any agreement in which a person or any legal entity, in exchange for consideration paid, agrees to provide for the future repair, replacement, or provision of portable electronics.

(b) The term does not include:

(i) a service contract governed by Title 30, chapter 14, part 13;

(ii) a policy of insurance covering a seller's or a manufacturer's obligations under a warranty; or

(iii) a homeowner's, renter's, private passenger automobile, commercial, or similar policy.

(6) "Portable electronics transaction" means:

(a) the sale or lease of portable electronics by a vendor to a customer; or

(b) the sale of a service related to the use of portable electronics by a vendor to a customer.

(7) "Supervising entity" means a business entity that is a licensed insurer or insurance producer that is authorized by a licensed insurer to supervise the administration of a portable electronics insurance program.

(8) (a) "Vendor" means a person in the business of engaging in portable electronics transactions directly or indirectly.

(b) The term does not include a cooperative organized and transacting business in this state pursuant to Title 35, chapter 18, its subsidiaries, or any other entity affiliated with the cooperative or its subsidiaries through common ownership.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

33-24-203. Licensure of vendors — rulemaking. (1) A vendor must hold a limited lines insurance producer license to sell or offer coverage under a policy of portable electronics insurance.

(2) A license issued under this part authorizes any employee or authorized representative of the vendor to sell or offer coverage under a policy of portable electronics insurance to a customer at each location at which the vendor engages in portable electronics transactions.

(3) The supervising entity shall maintain a registry of vendor locations that are authorized to sell or solicit portable electronics insurance coverage in this state. Upon request by the commissioner and with 10 days' notice to the supervising entity, the registry must be open to inspection and examination by the commissioner during regular business hours of the supervising entity.

(4) A license issued under this part authorizes the licensee and its employees or authorized representatives to engage in those activities that are permitted in this part.

(5) The commissioner may adopt rules to implement the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

33-24-204. Requirements for sale of portable electronics insurance. (1) At each location where portable electronics insurance is offered to customers, brochures or other written materials must be made available to a prospective customer that:

(a) disclose that portable electronics insurance may provide a duplication of coverage already provided by a customer's homeowner's insurance policy, renter's insurance policy, or other source of coverage;

(b) state that the enrollment by the customer in a portable electronics insurance program is not required in order to purchase or lease portable electronics or services;

(c) summarize the material terms of the insurance coverage, including:

(i) the identity of the insurer;

(ii) the identity of the supervising entity;

(iii) the amount of any applicable deductible and how it is to be paid;

(iv) benefits of the coverage; and

(v) key terms and conditions of coverage such as whether portable electronics may be repaired or replaced with similar make and model reconditioned or nonoriginal manufacturer parts or equipment;

(d) summarize the process for filing a claim, including a description of how to return portable electronics and the maximum fee applicable in the event that the customer fails to comply with any equipment return requirements; and

(e) state that an enrolled customer may cancel enrollment for coverage under a portable electronics insurance policy at any time and that the person paying the premium shall receive a refund of any applicable unearned premium.

(2) The written materials required by this section are not subject to filing with or approval by the commissioner.

(3) Portable electronics insurance may be offered on a month-to-month or other periodic basis as a group or master commercial inland marine policy, subject to 33-1-221 through 33-1-229, issued to a vendor of portable electronics for its enrolled customers.

(4) Eligibility and underwriting standards for customers electing to enroll in coverage must be established by the supervising entity for each portable electronics insurance program.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

33-24-205. Authority of vendors of portable electronics. (1) An employee or authorized representative of a vendor may sell or offer portable electronics insurance to a customer and is not subject to licensure as an insurance producer under this title provided that:

(a) the vendor obtains a limited lines insurance producer license to authorize its employees or authorized representatives to sell or offer portable electronics insurance;

(b) the insurer issuing the portable electronics insurance either directly supervises or appoints a supervising entity to supervise the administration of the program, including development of a training program for employees and authorized representatives of the vendors. The training required by this subsection (1)(b) must comply with the following:

(i) the training must be delivered to employees and authorized representatives of a vendor who is directly engaged in the activity of selling or offering portable electronics insurance;

(ii) the training may be provided in electronic form. If the training is conducted in an electronic form, the supervising entity shall implement a supplemental education program regarding the portable electronics insurance product that is conducted and overseen by licensed insurance producers or adjusters employed by the supervising entity; and

(iii) each employee and authorized representative individually must receive basic instruction about the portable electronics insurance offered to customers and the disclosures required under 33-24-204;

(c) employees or authorized representatives of a vendor of portable electronics may not advertise, represent, or otherwise represent to the public that they are nonlimited lines licensed insurance producers.

(2) Employees or authorized representatives of a vendor of portable electronics may not be compensated based primarily on the number of customers enrolled for portable electronics insurance coverage but may receive compensation for activities under the limited lines insurance producer license that is incidental to their overall compensation.

(3) (a) The charges for portable electronics insurance coverage may be billed and collected by the vendor of portable electronics. Any charge to the enrolled customer for coverage that is not included in the cost associated with the purchase or lease of portable electronics or related services must be separately itemized on the enrolled customer's bill.

(b) If the portable electronics insurance coverage is included with the purchase or lease of portable electronics or related services, the vendor shall clearly and conspicuously disclose to the enrolled customer that the portable electronics insurance coverage is included with the portable electronics or related services.

(c) Vendors that are billing and collecting the charges are not required to maintain the funds in a segregated account if the vendor is authorized by the insurer to hold the funds in an alternative manner and remits the amounts to the supervising entity within 60 days of receipt. All funds received by a vendor from an enrolled customer for the sale of portable electronics insurance are considered funds held in trust by the vendor in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of the insurer. Vendors may receive compensation for billing and collection services.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

33-24-206. Application for vendor license — fees. (1) An applicant for a license under this part shall file with the commissioner an application on forms prescribed by the commissioner.

(2) The application must provide:

(a) the name, residence address, and other information required by the commissioner for an employee or officer of the vendor that is designated by the applicant as the person responsible for the vendor's compliance with the requirements of this part, and if the vendor derives more than 50% of its revenue from the sale of portable electronics insurance, the information required by this subsection (2)(a) must be provided for all officers, directors, and shareholders of record having beneficial ownership of 10% or more of any class of securities registered under federal securities law; and

(b) the location of the applicant's home office.

(3) Any vendor engaging in portable electronics insurance transactions on or before August 1, 2013, shall apply for licensure within 90 days of the application being made available by the commissioner. Any applicant commencing operations after August 1, 2013, shall obtain a license prior to offering portable electronics insurance.

(4) Initial licenses issued under this part are valid for a period of 24 months.

(5) Each vendor of portable electronics licensed under this part shall pay to the commissioner a fee determined by the commissioner as follows:

(a) for a vendor that is engaged in portable electronics transactions at 10 or fewer locations in the state, the fee may not exceed $100 for an initial license or for each renewal; and

(b) for a vendor that is engaged in portable electronics transaction at more than 10 locations in the state, the fee may not exceed $1,000 for an initial license or $500 for each renewal.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

33-24-207. Suspension or revocation of vendor license. If a vendor of portable electronics or its employee or authorized representative violates any provision of this part, the commissioner may do any of the following after notice and the opportunity for a hearing:

(1) impose fines not to exceed $500 for each violation or $5,000 in the aggregate for violations;

(2) impose other penalties that the commissioner considers reasonable to carry out the purpose of this part, including:

(a) suspending the privilege of transacting portable electronics insurance under this part at specific business locations where violations have occurred; or

(b) suspending or revoking the ability of individual employees or authorized representatives to act under the license.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

33-24-208. Termination of portable electronics insurance. (1) Except as provided in subsections (3) through (5), an insurer may terminate or otherwise change the terms and conditions of a policy of portable electronics insurance upon providing the vendor policyholder and enrolled customers with at least 30 days' notice.

(2) If the insurer changes the terms and conditions of a policy of portable electronics insurance, the insurer shall provide the vendor policyholder with a revised policy or endorsement and each enrolled customer with a revised certificate, endorsement, updated brochure, or other evidence indicating that a change in the terms and conditions has occurred and a summary of material changes.

(3) An insurer may terminate an enrolled customer's enrollment under a portable electronics insurance policy upon 15 days' notice for discovery of fraud or material misrepresentation in obtaining coverage or in the presentation of a claim under the coverage.

(4) An insurer may terminate an enrolled customer's enrollment under a portable electronics insurance policy for nonpayment of premium with at least 10 days' notice.

(5) An insurer may immediately terminate an enrolled customer's enrollment under a portable electronics insurance policy without prior notice:

(a) if the enrolled customer ceases to have an active service agreement with the vendor of portable electronics; or

(b) if an enrolled customer exhausts the aggregate limit of liability, if any, under the terms of the portable electronics insurance policy and the insurer sends notice of termination to the enrolled customer within 30 calendar days after exhaustion of the limit. If the notice of exhaustion is not timely sent, the customer's enrollment must continue regardless of the aggregate limit of liability until the insurer sends notice of termination to the enrolled customer.

(6) When a portable electronics insurance policy is terminated by a vendor policyholder, the vendor policyholder shall mail or deliver written notice to each enrolled customer advising the enrolled customer of the termination of the policy and the effective date of termination. The written notice must be mailed or delivered to the enrolled customer at least 30 days prior to the termination.

(7) Any notice or correspondence with respect to a policy of portable electronics insurance required by this section or other applicable law must be in writing and sent within the required notice period. Notices and correspondence may be sent either by mail or by electronic means as set forth in this subsection. If the notice or correspondence is mailed, it must be sent to the vendor of portable electronics at the vendor's mailing address specified for the purpose and to an affected enrolled customer's last-known mailing address on file with the insurer. The insurer or vendor of portable electronics shall maintain proof of mailing in a form authorized or accepted by the United States postal service or other commercial mail delivery service. If the notice or correspondence is sent by electronic means, it must be sent to the vendor of portable electronics at the vendor's electronic mail address specified for the purpose and to an affected enrolled customer's last-known electronic mail address as provided by each enrolled customer to the insurer or vendor of portable electronics. For purposes of this subsection, an enrolled customer's provision of an electronic mail address to the insurer or vendor of portable electronics is considered to be consent to receive notices and correspondence by electronic means. The insurer or vendor of portable electronics shall maintain proof that the notice or correspondence was sent.

(8) Notices or correspondence required by this part or otherwise required by law may be sent on behalf of an insurer or vendor by the supervising entity appointed by the insurer.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

33-24-209. Portable electronics insurance claims. (1) An individual who collects claim information from or furnishes claim information to insureds or claimants and who conducts data entry, including entering data into an automated claims adjudication system, is exempt from licensure under this title if no more than 25 of these individuals are under the supervision of one licensed independent adjuster or licensed insurance producer who is exempt from licensure pursuant to 33-17-102(1)(b)(iii).

(2) For purposes of portable electronics insurance claims, residents of Canada may not be licensed as nonresident adjusters unless they have obtained a resident license in another state or designated another state as their home state.

(3) For purposes of this section, "automated claims adjudication system" means a preprogrammed computer system designed for the collection, data entry, calculation, and final resolution of portable electronics insurance claims that:

(a) may be utilized only by a licensed independent adjuster, licensed insurance producer, or supervised individual operating pursuant to this section;

(b) must comply with all claims payment requirements of this title; and

(c) must be certified as compliant with this section by a licensed independent adjuster that is an officer of the entity that employs the individuals operating pursuant to this section.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 406, L. 2013.

Part 3
Self-Storage Insurance Act

Part Cross-References

Self-Storage Facilities Act, Title 70, ch. 6, part 6.

33-24-301. Short title — purpose. This part may be cited as the "Self-Storage Insurance Act". The purpose of this act is to coordinate with the Self-Storage Facilities Act, Title 70, chapter 6, part 6, and allow for operators of the facilities to offer self-storage insurance to their renters.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 121, L. 2021.

33-24-302. Definitions. As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Authorized representative" means an individual authorized by an operator to sell or offer self-storage insurance coverage in accordance with this part.

(2) "Location" means any physical location in this state.

(3) (a) "Operator" means a business entity that is the owner, operator, lessor, or sublessor of a self-storage facility or an agent or another person authorized to manage the facility or to receive rent from a renter under a rental agreement.

(b) The term does not include a warehouse operator if the warehouse operator issues a warehouse receipt, bill of lading, or other document of title for the personal property stored. The operator may be a resident or nonresident of this state.

(4) "Personal property" means movable property not affixed to land.

(5) "Rental agreement" means a written agreement or lease that establishes or modifies the terms, conditions, or rules concerning the use and occupancy of a leased space at a self-storage facility.

(6) "Renter" means a person entitled to the use of a leased space at a self-storage facility under a rental agreement or the person's successors or assigns.

(7) "Self-storage facility" means real property consisting of individual storage spaces in which a renter customarily stores and removes personal property on a self-service basis.

(8) "Self-storage insurance" means insurance offered in connection with and incidental to the rental of a leased space at a self-storage facility and which provides coverage to renters for the loss of or damage to personal property occurring at the facility or when the property is in transit to or from the facility during the term of the rental agreement. Self-storage insurance coverage may be offered on a month-to-month or other periodic basis under an individual, commercial, or group policy.

(9) "Supervising entity" means a business entity that is a licensed insurer or insurance producer that is authorized by a licensed insurer to supervise the administration of a self-storage insurance program.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 121, L. 2021.

33-24-303. Licensure of operators — rulemaking. (1) An operator must hold a limited lines insurance producer license in order to sell or offer self-storage insurance coverage. An operator is not required to hold a license solely to display and make available to renters and prospective renters brochures and other promotional materials created by or on behalf of an authorized insurer.

(2) A license issued under this part authorizes the operator and the employees and authorized representatives of the operator to sell and offer self-storage insurance coverage to renters at each location at which the operator conducts business.

(3) The supervising entity shall maintain a registry of the locations where the operator sells or offers self-storage insurance coverage in this state. On request by the commissioner and with 10 days' notice to the supervising entity, the registry must be open to inspection and examination by the commissioner during regular business hours of the supervising entity.

(4) A license issued under this part authorizes the operator and its employees and authorized representatives to engage in those activities that are permitted in this part.

(5) Operators and their employees and authorized representatives are exempt from all prelicensing examination and continuing education requirements.

(6) The commissioner may adopt rules to implement the provisions of this part.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 121, L. 2021.

33-24-304. Brochures and materials explaining self-storage coverage. (1) At each location where self-storage insurance coverage is offered to renters, written or electronic brochures or materials must be made available to renters that:

(a) disclose that self-storage insurance may provide a duplication of coverage already provided by a renter's homeowner's insurance policy, renter's insurance policy, or other source of coverage;

(b) state that the enrollment by the renter in a self-storage insurance program offered by the operator is not required in order to rent a leased space at the self-storage facility;

(c) provide a copy of the actual self-storage insurance coverage, or summarize the material terms of the insurance coverage, including:

(i) the identity of the insurer;

(ii) the identity of the supervising entity, if different from the insurer;

(iii) the amount of any applicable deductible and how it is to be met;

(iv) benefits of the coverage; and

(v) key terms and conditions of the coverage;

(d) summarize the process for filing a claim; and

(e) state that a renter that purchases self-storage insurance coverage may cancel the coverage at any time and that the person paying the premium must receive a refund of any applicable unearned premium.

(2) The written or electronic brochures or materials required by this section are not subject to filing with or approval by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 121, L. 2021.

33-24-305. Authority of operators. (1) An employee or authorized representative of an operator may sell and offer self-storage insurance coverage to a renter and is not subject to licensure as an insurance producer under this title provided that:

(a) the operator obtains a limited lines insurance producer license to authorize its employees or authorized representatives to sell and offer self-storage insurance coverage;

(b) the insurer issuing the self-storage insurance either directly supervises or appoints a supervising entity to supervise the administration of the program, including development of a training program for employees and authorized representatives of the operator. The training required by this subsection (1)(b) must comply with the following:

(i) the training must be delivered to employees and authorized representatives of an operator who are directly engaged in the activity of selling and offering self-storage insurance coverage;

(ii) if the training is provided in an electronic form, the supervising entity shall implement a supplemental education program regarding the self-storage insurance that is conducted and overseen by licensed insurance producers or adjusters; and

(iii) each employee and authorized representative who is directly engaged in the activity of selling and offering self-storage insurance must receive basic instruction about the self-storage insurance offered to renters and the disclosures required under 33-24-304(1); and

(c) employees and authorized representatives of an operator may not advertise, represent, or otherwise hold out to the public that they are nonlimited lines licensed insurance producers unless otherwise licensed.

(2) Employees or authorized representatives of an operator may not be compensated based primarily on the number of renters enrolled for self-storage insurance coverage but may receive compensation for activities under the limited lines insurance producer license that is incidental to their overall compensation.

(3) (a) The charges for self-storage insurance coverage may be billed and collected by the operator and its employees and authorized representatives. If billed by the operator, the charges for self-storage insurance coverage must be separately itemized on the renter's bill.

(b) Operators that are billing and collecting the charges are not required to maintain the funds in a segregated account if the operator is authorized by the insurer or supervising entity to hold the funds in an alternative manner and remits the premiums to the insurer or supervising entity within 60 days of receipt. All premiums received by an operator from a renter for the sale of self-storage insurance are considered funds held by the operator in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of the insurer. Operators may receive compensation for billing and collection services.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 121, L. 2021.

33-24-306. Application for operator license — fees. (1) An applicant for a license under this part shall file with the commissioner an application on forms prescribed by the commissioner. The applicant may be a resident or nonresident of this state.

(2) (a) The application must provide:

(i) the name, residence address, and other information required by the commissioner for an authorized representative of the operator or supervising entity that is designated by the applicant as the person responsible for the operator's compliance with the requirements of this part; and

(ii) the location of the operator's home office.

(b) If the operator derives more than 50% of its revenue from the sale of self-storage insurance, the information required by subsection (2)(a) must be provided for all officers, directors, and shareholders of record having beneficial ownership of 10% or more of any class of securities registered under federal securities law.

(3) Initial licenses issued under this part are valid for a period of 24 months.

(4) Each operator licensed under this part shall pay to the commissioner a fee determined by the commissioner as follows:

(a) for an operator that sells self-storage insurance at 10 or fewer locations in the state, the fee may not exceed $100 for an initial license or for each renewal; and

(b) for an operator that sells self-storage insurance at more than 10 locations in the state, the fee may not exceed $250 for an initial license or $100 for each renewal.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 121, L. 2021.

33-24-307. Suspension or revocation of operator license. If an operator or its employee or authorized representative violates any provision of this part, the commissioner may do any of the following after notice and the opportunity for a hearing:

(1) impose fines not to exceed $500 for each violation or $5,000 in the aggregate for violations; or

(2) impose other penalties that the commissioner considers reasonable to carry out the purpose of this part, including:

(a) suspending the privilege of transacting self-storage insurance under this part at specific business locations where violations have occurred; or

(b) suspending or revoking the ability of individual employees or authorized representatives to act under the license.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 121, L. 2021.

Part 4
Montana Pet Insurance Act

33-24-401. Short title. This part may be cited as the "Montana Pet Insurance Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 40, L. 2025.

Effective Date: This section is effective October 1, 2025.

33-24-402. Scope and purpose. (1) The purpose of this part is to promote the public welfare by creating a comprehensive legal framework within which pet insurance may be sold in this state.

(2) The requirements of this part apply to pet insurance policies that are issued to a resident of this state and are sold, solicited, negotiated, or offered in this state, and policies or certificates that are delivered or issued for delivery in this state.

(3) All other applicable provisions of Title 33 continue to apply to pet insurance, except that specific provisions of this part supersede any general provisions of law that would otherwise be applicable to pet insurance.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 40, L. 2025.

33-24-403. Definitions. (1) If a pet insurer uses any of the terms in this part in a policy of pet insurance, the pet insurer shall use the definition of each of those terms as set forth in this section and include the definition of the terms in the policy.

(2) Nothing in this part prohibits or limits the types of exclusions pet insurers may use in their policies or require pet insurers to have any of the limitations or exclusions defined below.

(3) As used in this part, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Chronic condition" means a condition that can be treated or managed, but not cured.

(b) "Congenital anomaly or disorder" means a condition that is present from birth, whether inherited or caused by the environment, which may cause or contribute to illness or disease.

(c) "Hereditary disorder" means an abnormality that is genetically transmitted from parent to offspring and may cause illness or disease.

(d) "Orthopedic" refers to conditions affecting the bones, skeletal muscle, cartilage, tendons, ligaments, and joints. It includes but is not limited to elbow dysplasia, hip dysplasia, intervertebral disc degeneration, patellar luxation, and ruptured cranial cruciate ligaments. It does not include cancers or metabolic, hemopoietic, or autoimmune diseases.

(e) "Pet" means any domesticated animal normally maintained in or near the household of its owner. It does not include livestock as defined in 81-8-213 kept for any commercial purpose.

(f) "Pet insurance" means a property insurance policy that provides coverage for accidents and illnesses of pets.

(g) (i) "Preexisting condition" means any condition for which any of the following are true prior to the effective date of a pet insurance policy or during any waiting period:

(A) a veterinarian provided medical advice;

(B) the pet received previous treatment; or

(C) based on information from verifiable sources, the pet had signs or symptoms directly related to the condition for which a claim is being made.

(ii) A condition for which coverage is afforded on a policy may not be considered a preexisting condition on any renewal of the policy.

(h) "Renewal" means to issue and deliver at the end of an insurance policy period a policy that supersedes a policy previously issued and delivered by the same pet insurer or affiliated pet insurer and that provides types and limits of coverage substantially similar to those contained in the policy being superseded.

(i) "Veterinarian" means an individual who holds a valid license to practice veterinary medicine under 37-18-305 or a similar state law in the jurisdiction in which the veterinarian practices.

(j) "Veterinary expenses" means the costs associated with medical advice, diagnosis, care, or treatment provided by a veterinarian, including but not limited to the cost of drugs prescribed by a veterinarian.

(k) "Waiting period" means the period of time specified in a pet insurance policy that is required to transpire before some or all of the coverage in the policy can begin. Waiting periods may not be applied to renewals of existing coverage.

(l) "Wellness program" means a subscription or reimbursement-based program that is separate from an insurance policy and that provides goods and services to promote the general health, safety, or wellbeing of the pet. A wellness program otherwise meeting the definition of insurance set forth in 33-1-201 is still subject to Title 33. This definition is not intended to classify a contract directly between a service provider and a pet owner that only involves the two parties as being insurance unless other indicia of an insurance contract also exist.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 40, L. 2025.

33-24-404. Disclosures. (1) Before completing the sale of a pet insurance policy, a pet insurer transacting in pet insurance shall disclose the following to consumers:

(a) if the policy excludes coverage due to any of the following:

(i) a preexisting condition;

(ii) a hereditary disorder;

(iii) a congenital anomaly or disorder; or

(iv) a chronic condition;

(b) if the policy includes any other exclusions, the following statement: "Other exclusions may apply. Please refer to the exclusions section of the policy for more information."

(c) any policy provision that limits coverage through a waiting period or affiliation period, a deductible, coinsurance, or an annual or lifetime policy limit;

(d) whether the pet insurer reduces coverage or increases premiums based on the insured's claim history, the age of the covered pet, or a change in the geographic location of the insured; and

(e) if the underwriting company differs from the brand name used to market and sell the product.

(2) (a) As provided in this subsection (2), an insured has the right to examine and return the policy.

(b) Unless the insured has filed a claim under the pet insurance policy, pet insurance applicants have the right to examine and return the policy, certificate, or rider to the company or an insurance producer of the company within 15 days of its receipt and to have the premium refunded if, after examination of the policy, certificate, or rider, the applicant is not satisfied for any reason.

(c) Pet insurance policies, certificates, and riders must have a notice prominently printed on the first page or attached to the first page including specific instructions to accomplish a return. The following free look statement or language that is substantially similar must be included:

"You have 15 days from the day you receive this policy, certificate, or rider to review it and return it to the company if you decide not to keep it. You do not have to tell the company why you are returning it. If you decide not to keep it, simply return it to the company at its administrative office or to the agent/insurance producer that you bought it from, so long as you have not filed a claim. You must return it within 15 days of the day you first received it. The company will refund the full amount of any premium paid within 30 days after it receives the returned policy, certificate, or rider. The premium refund will be sent directly to the person who paid it. The policy, certificate, or rider will be void as if it had never been issued."

(3) A pet insurer shall clearly disclose a summary description of the basis or formula on which the pet insurer determines claim payments under a pet insurance policy within the policy, prior to policy issuance.

(4) A pet insurer that uses a benefit schedule to determine claim payment under a pet insurance policy shall clearly disclose the applicable benefit schedule in the policy.

(5) A pet insurer that determines claim payments under a pet insurance policy based on usual and customary fees, or any other reimbursement limitation based on prevailing veterinary service provider charges, shall include a usual and customary fee limitation provision in the policy that clearly describes the pet insurer's basis for determining usual and customary fees and how that basis is applied in calculating claim payments.

(6) If a medical examination by a licensed veterinarian is required to effectuate coverage, the pet insurer shall clearly and conspicuously disclose the required aspects of the examination prior to purchase and disclose that examination documentation may result in a preexisting condition exclusion.

(7) Waiting periods and the requirements applicable to them must be clearly and prominently disclosed to consumers prior to the policy purchase.

(8) The pet insurer shall include a summary of all policy provisions required in subsections (1) through (7) in a separate document titled "Insurer Disclosure of Important Policy Provisions".

(9) In connection with the issuance of a new pet insurance policy, the pet insurer shall provide the consumer with a copy of the "Insurer Disclosure of Important Policy Provisions" document required pursuant to subsection (8) in at least 12-point type when it delivers the policy.

(10) (a) At the time a pet insurance policy is issued or delivered to a policyholder, the pet insurer shall include a written disclosure with the following information, printed in at least 12-point boldface type:

(i) the commissioner's mailing address, toll-free telephone number, and website address; and

(ii) the address and customer service telephone number of the pet insurer and the agent or broker of record, if the policy was issued or delivered by an agent or broker.

(b) The disclosures required in this section are in addition to any other disclosure requirements required by law or rules promulgated by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 40, L. 2025.

Effective Date: This section is effective October 1, 2025.

33-24-405. Policy conditions. (1) A pet insurer may issue policies that exclude coverage on the basis of one or more preexisting conditions with appropriate disclosure to the consumer. The pet insurer has the burden of proving that the preexisting condition exclusion applies to the condition for which a claim is being made.

(2) (a) A pet insurer may issue policies that impose waiting periods upon effectuation of the policy that do not exceed 30 days for illnesses or orthopedic conditions not resulting from an accident. Waiting periods for accidents are prohibited.

(b) (i) A pet insurer utilizing a waiting period permitted in this subsection (2) shall include a provision in its contract that allows the waiting period to be waived upon completion of a medical examination. Pet insurers may require the examination to be conducted by a licensed veterinarian after the purchase of the policy.

(ii) A medical examination under this subsection (2)(b) must be paid for by the policyholder unless the policy specifies that the pet insurer will pay for the examination.

(iii) A pet insurer may specify elements to be included as part of the examination and require documentation of the included elements, provided the specifications do not unreasonably restrict a consumer's ability to waive the waiting periods in this subsection (2).

(c) Waiting periods, and the requirements applicable to them, must be clearly and prominently disclosed to consumers prior to the policy purchase.

(3) A pet insurer may not require a veterinary examination of the covered pet for the insured to have the insured's policy renewed.

(4) If a pet insurer includes any prescriptive, wellness, or noninsurance benefits in the policy form, then it is made part of the policy contract and must follow all applicable laws and regulations in Title 33.

(5) An insured's eligibility to purchase a pet insurance policy may not be based on participation, or lack of participation, in a separate wellness program.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 40, L. 2025.

33-24-406. Sales practices for wellness programs. (1) A pet insurer and producer selling pet insurance may not:

(a) market a wellness program as pet insurance; or

(b) market a wellness program during the sale, solicitation, or negotiation of pet insurance.

(2) If a wellness program is sold by a pet insurer and producer:

(a) the purchase of the wellness program may not be a requirement to the purchase of pet insurance;

(b) the costs of the wellness program must be separate and identifiable from any pet insurance policy;

(c) the terms and conditions for the wellness program must be separate from any pet insurance policy;

(d) the products or coverages available through the wellness program may not duplicate products or coverages available through the pet insurance policy;

(e) the advertising of the wellness program may not be misleading and must be in accordance with this subsection (2); and

(f) the pet insurer and producer shall clearly disclose the following to consumers, printed in at least 12-point boldface type:

(i) that wellness programs are not insurance;

(ii) the address and customer service telephone number of the pet insurer and producer or broker of record, if the policy was issued or delivered by an agent or broker; and

(iii) the mailing address, telephone number, and website address for the commissioner's office.

(3) Coverages included in the pet insurance policy contract described as "wellness" benefits are insurance.

33-24-407. Insurance producer training. (1) An insurance producer may not sell, solicit, or negotiate a pet insurance product until after the producer is appropriately licensed and has completed the required training identified in subsection (4), and completes the training once within every 24-month period after the initial training.

(2) The training requirements of this section may be approved as continuing education courses under Title 33, chapter 17, part 12.

(3) An insurer covered by this part shall ensure that its producers are trained under subsection (4) and that its producers have been appropriately trained on the coverages and conditions of its pet insurance products.

(4) The training required under this subsection must include 2 total hours of training covering the following topics:

(a) preexisting conditions and waiting periods;

(b) the differences between pet insurance and noninsurance wellness programs;

(c) hereditary disorders, congenital anomalies or disorders, and chronic conditions and how pet insurance policies interact with those conditions or disorders; and

(d) rating, underwriting, renewal, and other related administrative topics.

(5) The satisfaction of the training requirements of another state that are substantially similar to the provisions of subsection (4) satisfy these training requirements.

(6) (a) An insurer subject to this section shall obtain verification that an insurance producer acting on the insurer's behalf receives the training required by this section before the insurance producer is permitted to sell, solicit, or negotiate the insurer's pet insurance products.

(b) The insurer shall maintain records subject to this state's record retention requirements and make the verification of the insurance producer's compliance with training requirements available to the commissioner upon request.

33-25-104. Short title. This chapter may be cited as the "Montana Title Insurance Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 519, L. 1985.

33-25-105. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Abstract" means a written representation, provided pursuant to a contract and expected to be relied upon by the person who has contracted for the receipt of that representation, listing all recorded conveyances, instruments, or documents which, under the laws of this state, impart constructive notice regarding the chain of title to real property described in the abstract. Abstract includes "abstract of title".

(2) "Applicant" means a person, whether or not a prospective insured, who applies to a title insurer or title insurance producer for a title insurance policy, but does not include a title insurance producer.

(3) "Approved attorney" means an attorney authorized to practice law in this state, except an agent or employee of a title insurer, whose certification as to the status of the title to real property a title insurer is willing to accept as the basis for issuance of a title insurance policy.

(4) "Associate" means a:

(a) corporation, partnership, or other business entity organized for profit, of which a producer of title business is a director, officer, partner, employee, or owner of 5% or more of its equity or capital;

(b) franchisor or franchisee of a producer of title business;

(c) spouse, parent, or child of a producer of title business;

(d) corporation, partnership, or other business entity that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with a producer of title business; or

(e) person with whom a producer of title business or an associate has an agreement, arrangement, understanding, or course of conduct having the purpose or substantial effect of evading the provisions of this title.

(5) "Controlled business" means that portion of the business of title insurance in this state of a title insurer or title insurance producer that is referred to it by a producer or associate having a financial interest in the title insurer or title insurance producer.

(6) "Financial interest" means a legal or beneficial interest that entitles the holder, directly or indirectly, to 1% or more of the net profits or net worth of the entity in which the interest is held.

(7) "Preliminary report" means an offer to issue a title insurance policy subject to any exceptions stated in the report or other matters that may be incorporated by reference therein. Preliminary report includes a commitment or binder.

(8) "Producer of title business" or "producer" means a person, corporation, partnership, or other business entity, including an officer, director, or owner of 5% or more of the equity or capital thereof, engaged in this state in the trade, business, occupation, or profession of:

(a) buying or selling interests in real property;

(b) making loans secured by interests in real property; or

(c) acting as broker, insurance producer, or representative of a person described in subsection (8)(a) or (8)(b).

(9) "Rate" means fees for:

(a) issuing a title insurance policy, including any service charge or fee for the issuance;

(b) abstracting, searching, and examining title to real property when prepared or issued in contemplation of or in conjunction with the issuance of a title insurance policy; and

(c) preparing or issuing preliminary reports, commitments, binders, or similar products prepared or issued in contemplation of or in conjunction with the issuance of a title insurance policy.

(10) "Refer" means to direct, cause to be directed, or exercise an influence over the direction of title insurance business, whether or not the consent or approval of another person is sought or obtained with respect to the referral.

(11) "Title guarantee" means a contract by which, subject to its stated terms and conditions, a title insurer guarantees the assured against loss sustained by reason of the incorrectness of assurances set forth in the title guarantee with respect to the stated property. The term includes a trustee's sale guarantee, litigation guarantee, lot book guarantee, subdivision guarantee, recorded documents guarantee, or other form of guarantee filed with and approved by the commissioner.

(12) "Title insurance business" means:

(a) issuing or offering to issue a title insurance policy as an insurer;

(b) transacting or proposing to transact any of the following as a title insurer or title insurance producer, in contemplation of or in conjunction with the issuance of a title insurance policy:

(i) soliciting or negotiating the issuance of a title insurance policy;

(ii) guaranteeing, warranting, or otherwise insuring the correctness of title searches;

(iii) handling escrows, settlements, or closings;

(iv) executing title insurance policies, reports, commitments, binders, and endorsements;

(v) effecting contracts of reinsurance; or

(vi) abstracting, searching, or examining titles;

(c) transacting, as a title insurer or insurance producer, matters subsequent to the issuance of a title insurance policy and arising out of the policy; or

(d) doing or proposing to do business that, in substance, is equivalent to any of the activities described in subsections (12)(a) through (12)(c) in a manner designed to evade the provisions of this title.

(13) "Title insurance policy" means a contract by which, subject to its stated terms and conditions, a title insurer insures or indemnifies the insured against loss or damage sustained by reason of:

(a) defects in or liens or encumbrances on the title to the stated property;

(b) unmarketability of the title to the stated property; or

(c) invalidity or unenforceability of liens or encumbrances on the stated property.

(14) (a) "Title insurance producer" means a person who holds a valid title insurance producer's license and is authorized in writing by a title insurer to:

(i) solicit title insurance business;

(ii) collect rates;

(iii) determine insurability in accordance with underwriting rules and standards of the insurer; or

(iv) issue policies of the title insurer.

(b) Title insurance producer does not include an approved attorney.

(15) "Title insurer" means an insurer formed and authorized under the laws of this state to transact the business of title insurance in this state or a foreign or alien insurer so authorized.

(16) "Title plant" means a set of privately maintained records in which entries have been made of documents imparting constructive notice, under the law, of matters affecting title to real property, an interest therein, or an encumbrance thereon, that have been filed or recorded in the jurisdiction for which the title plant is maintained and from which the ownership of real property within the jurisdiction can be ascertained and liens, encumbrances, defects, and clouds on title to the real property can be determined.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Secs. 1, 3, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

Cross-References

33-25-106. Application. (1) This chapter applies to all title insurers, title insurance rating organizations, title insurance producers, applicants for title insurance, title insurance policyholders, and all other persons engaged in title insurance business in this state.

(2) This chapter does not authorize the practice of law by a person who is not licensed to practice law in this state, and this chapter does not authorize the commissioner to regulate the practice of law.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-25-111. Abstracts of title distinguished from title insurance policy and preliminary report. (1) A title insurance policy is not an abstract of title or representation as to the condition of title to the stated property.

(2) A preliminary report is not an abstract of title. The rights, duties, and liabilities applicable to the preparation and issuance of an abstract of title are not applicable to the issuance of a preliminary report. A preliminary report does not constitute a representation as to the condition of title to real property, but constitutes a statement of the terms and conditions upon which the issuer is willing to issue its title insurance policy.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 519, L. 1985.

Part 2
Powers and Duties of Title Insurers

33-25-201. Escrow, closing, or settlement services — title indemnification — maintenance of accounts — maintenance of nominal or short-term accounts — rules. (1) A title insurer or title insurance producer may provide escrow, settlement, or closing services, or any combination of those services and may operate as an escrow, settlement, or closing agent subject to the provisions of subsections (2) through (9).

(2) A title insurer or title insurance producer shall:

(a) deposit funds accepted in connection with an escrow, settlement, closing, or title indemnification in a separate fiduciary trust account in a bank or other financial institution insured by an agency of the federal government and segregate the funds by escrow, settlement, closing, or title indemnification in its records. The funds are the property of the person entitled to the funds under the terms of the escrow, settlement, closing, or title indemnification and are not subject to debts of the title insurer or title insurance producer. A title insurer or title insurance producer may use the funds only in accordance with the terms of the individual escrow, settlement, closing, or title indemnification under which the funds are accepted.

(b) except as provided in subsections (3) through (7), pay any interest received on funds deposited with it in connection with an escrow, settlement, closing, or title indemnification to the depositing person or as otherwise provided by the terms of the escrow, settlement, closing, or title indemnification;

(c) maintain separate records of all receipts and disbursements of escrow, settlement, closing, or title indemnification funds; and

(d) comply with rules adopted by the commissioner pertaining to escrow, settlement, closing, or title indemnification transactions.

(3) In the absence of written instructions to the contrary, a title insurer or title insurance producer may maintain a pooled, interest-bearing, depository account for deposit of trust funds that are nominal in amount or expected to be held for a short period of time. The account must comply with the following provisions:

(a) The account may include only trust funds that are nominal in amount or that are expected to be held for a short period of time.

(b) Interest from the account may not be made available to the title insurer or title insurance producer.

(c) The determination of whether trust funds are nominal in amount or to be held for a short period of time is to be determined by each title insurer or title insurance producer.

(d) Notification to parties whose funds are nominal in amount or to be held for a short period of time is not required.

(4) An interest-bearing account established pursuant to subsection (3) may be established with any financial institution that is authorized by federal or state law to do business in the state in which the title insurer's or title insurance producer's office is situated and that is a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation. Funds deposited in the accounts must be subject to withdrawal upon request and without delay.

(5) (a) The Montana land title association shall establish the Montana land title foundation for the administration of the funds generated by the interest on trust accounts program for the following purposes:

(i) to support Montana nonprofit charitable organizations;

(ii) to provide continuing education programs for licensed title insurance agents; and

(iii) to promote knowledge and awareness of the real estate and title insurance industries.

(b) The foundation shall establish bylaws for the administration of the foundation in accordance with subsections (5)(a)(i) through (5)(a)(iii).

(6) A title insurer or title insurance producer depositing funds in an account created pursuant to subsections (3) and (4) shall direct the depository institution to:

(a) at least quarterly, remit interest and dividends, less any service charges or fees, on the average monthly balance on the account or as otherwise computed in accordance with the institution's standard accounting practice for other depositors to the Montana land title association foundation; and

(b) transmit with each remittance to the foundation a statement showing the name of the title insurer or title insurance producer for whom the remittance is sent and the rate of interest applied.

(7) The Montana land title association foundation shall maintain records of each remittance and statement received from depository institutions for a period of at least 3 years and shall, upon request, promptly make available to a title insurer or title insurance producer the records and statements pertaining to the title insurer's or title insurance producer's account.

(8) All interest transmitted to the Montana land title association foundation must, after deductions for necessary and reasonable administrative expenses of the foundation for operating the interest on trust accounts program, be distributed by the foundation for the purposes set forth in subsections (5)(a)(i) through (5)(a)(iii) in whatever proportion the foundation determines is appropriate.

(9) A title insurance producer shall keep books of account, records, and vouchers pertaining to any escrow, closing, settlement, or title indemnification business transacted, in a manner that allows the commissioner or the commissioner's authorized representative to readily ascertain, under the authority of 33-1-402, whether the title insurance producer has complied with all applicable provisions of this title.

33-25-202. Sharing of rate proceeds. Title insurers and insurance producers may share rate proceeds between or among themselves in any combination and may accept commissions as provided in 33-17-1103, unless the sharing of rate proceeds is an unlawful rebate or inducement under this title or is a payment of a forwarding fee or finders fee.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 61, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

33-25-211. Guaranty fund — investments. (1) A title insurer shall establish and maintain the guaranty fund required under 33-2-517 and may invest in necessary plant and equipment and in other investments as authorized under this section.

(2) In addition to other investments eligible under this part, a title insurer may invest and have invested an amount not exceeding 50% of its paid-in capital stock in its title plant, in equipment, and with the commissioner's consent, in stock of abstract companies and of title insurance producers.

(3) Investments authorized by this section may not be credited against the insurer's required guaranty fund or unearned premium reserve provided for under 33-2-517.

(4) A title plant and equipment may not be allowed as an asset in any determination of the insurer's financial condition at a value greater than actual cost.

History: En. Sec. 417, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4603; Sec. 33-25-101, MCA 1983; redes. 33-25-211 by Code Commissioner, 1985; amd. Sec. 47, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-25-212. Rates filed with commissioner. (1) A title insurer shall file with the commissioner a complete schedule of rates to be charged by it for title insurance as to property located in this state. The rates must be all-inclusive of the total charge for insurance as specified in the policy and must be accompanied by supporting data.

(2) A rate may not be excessive, inadequate, or unreasonably discriminatory.

(3) A title insurer may not quote or charge any rate for title insurance other than the applicable rate previously filed by it with the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 416, Ch. 286, L. 1959; R.C.M. 1947, 40-4602; amd. Sec. 27, Ch. 303, L. 1981; Sec. 33-25-102, MCA 1983; redes. 33-25-212 by Code Commissioner, 1985; amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 399, L. 2007.

33-25-213. Limitations on authority. (1) An insurer that transacts or is licensed to transact a class or kind of insurance other than title insurance is not eligible for the issuance or renewal of a license to transact the business of title insurance in this state and may not transact, underwrite, or issue title insurance. An insurer authorized to transact any combination of kinds of insurance, including title insurance, under an existing certificate of authority may continue to do so until the certificate of authority is renewed effective June 1, 1986.

(2) A title insurer may not engage in the business of guaranteeing payment of the principal or interest of bonds or mortgages.

(3) A title insurer may not engage in the business of guaranteeing the obligations of other persons, except its title insurance producers or approved attorneys in the normal course of its business.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 713, L. 1989.

Cross-References

Combinations of insuring powers, 33-2-108.

33-25-214. Underwriting standards — record retention. (1) A title insurer may not issue a title insurance policy unless it, its title insurance producer, or an approved attorney has conducted a reasonable search and examination of the title and made a determination of insurability of title in accordance with sound underwriting practices. The title insurer or title insurance producer shall preserve and retain in its files evidence of the examination of title and determination of insurability. The title insurer or title insurance producer may keep original evidence or may establish in the regular course of business a system of recording, copying, or reproducing evidence by any process that accurately and legibly reproduces, or forms a durable medium for reproducing, the contents of the original.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to:

(a) a title insurer assuming liability through a contract of reinsurance; or

(b) a title insurer acting as coinsurer if one of the other coinsuring title insurers has complied with subsection (1).

(3) Except as allowed by rules adopted by the commissioner, a title insurer or title insurance producer may not knowingly issue any title insurance product or commitment to insure unless all outstanding enforceable recorded liens or other interests against the property title to be insured are shown.

(4) An insurer issuing a policy in violation of this section is estopped, as a matter of law, to deny the validity of the policy as to any claim or demand of the insured arising under the policy.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 62, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 399, L. 2007.

33-25-215. Report of claims. A title insurance producer must immediately report every loss claim to the title insurer that issued the policy against which the claim is presented.

33-25-216. Notice of issuance of mortgagee policy. (1) A title insurer or title insurance producer that issues a mortgagee's policy of title insurance on a loan made simultaneous to the purchase of all or part of the property securing the loan, when an owner's policy has not been ordered, shall inform the borrower in writing that the mortgagee's policy is to be issued, that the mortgagee's policy does not protect the borrower, and that the borrower may obtain an owner's title insurance policy for the borrower's protection. This notice must be provided, on a form prescribed by the commissioner, before issuance of the mortgagee's policy.

(2) If the borrower elects not to purchase an owner's title insurance policy, the title insurer or title insurance producer shall obtain from the borrower a statement in writing that the notice has been received and that the borrower waives the right to purchase an owner's title insurance policy. If the buyer refuses to provide the statement and waiver, the title insurer or title insurance producer shall indicate the refusal in the file. The statement and waiver must be on a form prescribed by the commissioner and must be retained by the title insurer or title insurance producer for at least 5 years after receipt.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1237, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Part 3
Regulation by Commissioner of Insurance

33-25-301. Refusal, suspension, or revocation of title insurance producer's license. (1) In addition to the causes provided in 33-17-1001, the commissioner may refuse to license an applicant or renew the license of a person as a title insurance producer or may suspend or revoke a title insurance producer's license or may fine a title insurance producer or applicant, after notice and opportunity for a hearing, if the commissioner finds that the license applicant or licensee has:

(a) made a material misstatement in an application for a title insurance producer license;

(b) commingled funds belonging to applicants, escrow participants, or others;

(c) intentionally misrepresented the terms of a title insurance policy to an applicant or policyholder or has misrepresented material facts to, concealed material facts from, or made false statements to a party to an escrow, settlement, or closing transaction;

(d) in conducting affairs as a title insurance producer, used coercive practices or demonstrated financial irresponsibility;

(e) aided, abetted, or assisted another person in violating the provisions of this title or a rule adopted by the commissioner.

(2) The commissioner may impose any other appropriate penalty provided for in this title.

(3) The commissioner may issue an order requiring restitution to injured parties and reimbursement of the commissioner's reasonable costs of bringing an administrative action pursuant to this section.

(4) The commissioner may refuse, suspend, or revoke the license of a person licensed as a title insurance producer for the actions described in subsection (1) committed by any individual designated in the license.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 63, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 62, Ch. 227, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 31, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-25-302. Disapproval of agency contracts. (1) The commissioner may disapprove a title agency contract between a title insurance producer and title insurer, upon appropriate notice to the parties to the contract, if the commissioner finds that the contract, together with all amendments and related documents:

(a) does not provide for adequate monitoring of the insurance producer's financial transactions; or

(b) provides for inadequate, unreasonable, or excessive amounts to be paid to or retained by the title insurance producer. Factors the commissioner may consider in this determination include but are not limited to the insurance producer's duties under the contract and the general level of amounts paid to or retained by other title insurance producers in the state performing or assuming comparable duties.

(2) A person may not act as a title insurance producer under an agency contract that has been disapproved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 64, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1238, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Part 4
Prohibited Practices — Penalties

33-25-401. Prohibited practices — referrals — splitting charges — exemptions. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), a person may not:

(a) give or accept a fee, rebate, or thing of value pursuant to an agreement or understanding that title insurance business will be referred to a title insurance producer; or

(b) give or accept a portion, split, or percentage of a charge made or received for title insurance business in connection with a transaction involving real property in this state, other than for services actually performed.

(2) (a) A person may pay a return on an investment, based on a percentage of an ownership interest in a title insurance agency, if:

(i) at or prior to the time of a referral, a disclosure of the existence of the arrangement is made to the person being referred and, in connection with the referral, the person is provided a written estimate of the charge or range of charges generally made by the title insurance producer to which the person is referred; and

(ii) the person is not required to use a particular insurance producer.

(b) The following arrangements are not a violation of subsection (2)(a)(ii):

(i) an arrangement that requires a buyer, borrower, or seller to pay for the services of an attorney, credit reporting agency, or real estate appraiser chosen by a lender to represent the lender's interest in a real estate transaction; or

(ii) an arrangement by which an attorney or law firm represents a client in a real estate transaction and issues or arranges for the issuance of a policy of title insurance in the transaction directly as insurance producer or through a separate corporate title insurance agency that may be established by that attorney or law firm and operated as an adjunct to the attorney's or firm's law practice.

(c) Failure to disclose a controlled business relationship is not a violation of subsection (2)(a)(i) if the failure was not intentional and resulted from a bona fide error, proven by a preponderance of the evidence.

(3) This section does not prohibit:

(a) the payment of a fee to an attorney for services actually rendered or by a title insurance producer for services actually performed in the issuance of a title insurance policy; or

(b) payment of a bona fide salary, compensation, or other payment for goods or facilities actually furnished or for services actually performed.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 519, L. 1985; amd. Sec. 65, Ch. 713, L. 1989; amd. Sec. 1239, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-25-402. Prohibited practices — penalties — treble damages, court costs, and attorney fees — injunction. (1) A person found to have violated the provisions of 33-25-401 is jointly and severally liable to the person charged for the title insurance business involved in the violation for an amount equal to three times the amount of the charge paid for the business.

(2) In a civil action based on 33-25-401 and this section, the court may award to the prevailing party court costs plus reasonable attorney fees.

(3) The commissioner may bring a civil action to enjoin a violation of 33-25-401.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 519, L. 1985.

Part 1
Surety Insurance

33-26-101. Corporations as sureties. (1) In all cases where an undertaking or bond, with any number of sureties, is authorized or required by any law of this state, any corporation with a paid-up capital of not less than $100,000, incorporated under the laws of this state for the purpose of making, guaranteeing, or becoming a surety upon bonds or undertakings required or authorized by law, may become and must be accepted as security or as a sole and sufficient security upon the undertaking or bond, and the corporate surety must be subject to all liabilities and entitled to all the rights of natural persons as sureties.

(2) Whenever the liabilities of any corporation described in subsection (1) exceed its assets, the state auditor shall require the deficiency to be paid up in 60 days, and if it is not paid up, then the state auditor shall issue a certificate showing the extent of the deficiency and shall publish the certificate once a week for 3 weeks in a daily paper published in the town or city in which the principal office of the corporation is located, and until the deficiency is paid up, the company may not be accepted as a surety on any undertaking or bond. In estimating the condition of a company, the state auditor shall allow as assets only assets that are allowed under existing laws at the time and shall charge as liabilities, in addition to 80% of the capital stock, all outstanding indebtedness of the company and the premium reserved equal to 50% of the premiums charged by the company on all risks then in force.

Tax liability on termination of independent liability fund, 15-30-2118.

33-27-101. Short title. Sections 15-30-2118, 15-31-117, 15-31-118, and this chapter may be cited as the "Independent Liability Fund Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 564, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 50, Ch. 503, L. 2021.

33-27-102. Purpose. The purpose of 15-30-2118, 15-31-117, 15-31-118, and this chapter is to create a means by which small businesses operating in Montana may establish independent liability funds to set aside assets or make investments to meet any liability claims that might be made against the small businesses by third parties.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 564, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 51, Ch. 503, L. 2021.

33-27-103. Definitions. As used in 15-30-2118, 15-31-117, 15-31-118, and this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Fiscal year" means the 12-month period used by a particular small business in preparing and filing its Montana individual income tax, corporate income tax, or alternative corporate income tax return.

(2) "Independent liability fund" means a collection of money, assets, and investments that has been set aside by a small business to meet the needs of any liability claims, except workers' compensation claims, brought against it by third parties.

(3) "Liability claim" means any legal or extralegal action by a third party asserting a right to compensation for a wrong done to it by a small business with an independent liability fund.

(4) "Small business" means any commercial or nonprofit enterprise qualified to do business in the state and qualified as a small business under the criteria established by the federal small business administration on April 20, 1987.

(5) "Third party" means a person other than an employee or the management of a small business or of a subsidiary or closely related enterprise of a small business.

33-27-104. Rules. (1) The commissioner has authority to implement this chapter and to make any rules and regulations required to carry out the purposes of this chapter.

(2) The commissioner shall by rule establish criteria for ascertaining the inviolability and health of each independent liability fund and shall initiate sanctions against funds that are not secure or viable.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 564, L. 1987.

Cross-References

Adoption and publication of rules, Title 2, ch. 4, part 3.

33-27-105 through 33-27-110 reserved.

33-27-111. Right to establish independent liability fund. A small business operating in the state may establish an independent liability fund to provide for defense, settlement, or payment of any liability claims against it by a third party.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 564, L. 1987.

33-27-112. Establishment of independent liability fund. A small business shall notify the commissioner, on a form supplied by the commissioner, of its intention to establish an independent liability fund. The small business shall fully and clearly designate the money, assets, or investments it is setting aside for its independent liability fund.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 564, L. 1987.

33-27-113. Additions to independent liability fund. Within the limits provided in 33-27-114, a small business may make such additions to its independent liability fund as it considers appropriate.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 564, L. 1987.

33-27-114. Limit on the amount of fund. The independent liability fund of any small business may not be greater than the larger of the following:

(1) the total of all legally required liability insurance; or

(2) five times the gross sales of the small business in its most recent fiscal year.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 564, L. 1987.

33-27-115. Composition of independent liability fund. The money, assets, and investments contributed to an independent liability fund must meet the criteria established for investments by an insurance company in chapter 12 and must be valued as those assets and investments would be valued.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 564, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 48, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-27-116. Inviolability of fund. Once money, assets, or investments have been contributed to an independent liability fund, they may not be used or removed from the fund except in the manner prescribed by 33-27-117 and 33-27-119.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 564, L. 1987.

33-27-117. Deduction of costs. (1) The actual costs of administering an independent liability fund may be deducted from the fund or from income arising out of the money, assets, and investments in the fund. Such costs include the cost of defending against or negotiating a settlement of any liability claim, as well as the full amount of any claim paid.

(2) A small business may not deduct the cost of any in-house administration of its independent liability fund. The commissioner may review any third-party arrangement for administration of an independent liability fund to ascertain whether such costs are deductible under this section.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 564, L. 1987.

33-27-118. Taxation of independent liability fund contributions. The net value of independent liability fund contributions for any given fiscal year is taxed in accordance with 33-2-705(2)(a).

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 564, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 377, L. 2015.

33-27-119. Termination of independent liability fund. (1) A small business with an independent liability fund may terminate the independent liability fund by:

(a) providing a trust to administer any principal remaining in its fund and to pay any outstanding claims for whichever is longer:

(i) any legally required period of insurance coverage; or

(ii) 5 years; or

(b) substituting an equivalent liability insurance policy plus five times the amount of the deductible for any legally required period of insurance coverage or 5 years, whichever is longer.

(2) If an equivalent insurance policy as provided for in subsection (1)(b) cannot be procured for the full period required, the small business shall deposit the estimated premium for the required equivalent insurance policy in a suitable trust account. The trust account must be used to purchase liability insurance for the required period of insurance coverage.

(3) The principal of an independent liability fund must remain inviolate, except as it is needed to pay just claims, for the full applicable termination period as provided in subsection (1). However, income from the principal not needed for administrative costs may be paid during the termination period to the person or persons who are designated to ultimately receive the principal of the fund, and the income is taxable to that person or persons.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 564, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 111, L. 2001.

Part 1
General Provisions and Licensing

33-28-101. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Affiliated company" means any company in the same corporate system as a parent, an industrial insured, or a member by virtue of common ownership, control, operation, or management.

(2) "Association" means any legal association of sole proprietorships or business entities that has been in continuous existence for at least 1 year unless the 1-year requirement is waived by the commissioner and the members of which collectively, or the association itself:

(a) owns, controls, or holds with power to vote all of the outstanding voting securities of an association captive insurance company incorporated as a stock insurer;

(b) has complete voting control over an association captive insurance company incorporated as a mutual insurer;

(c) constitutes all of the subscribers of an association captive insurance company formed as a reciprocal insurer; or

(d) owns, controls, or holds with power to vote all of the outstanding ownership interests of an association captive insurance company organized as a limited liability company.

(3) "Association captive insurance company" means any company that insures risks of the members and the affiliated companies of members.

(4) "Branch business" means any insurance business transacted by a branch captive insurance company in this state.

(5) "Branch captive insurance company" means any foreign captive insurance company authorized by the commissioner to transact the business of insurance in this state through a business unit with a principal place of business in this state.

(6) "Branch operations" means any business operations of a branch captive insurance company in this state.

(7) (a) "Business entity" means a corporation, limited liability company, or other legal entity formed by an organizational document.

(b) The term does not include a sole proprietor.

(8) "Captive insurance company" means any pure captive insurance company, association captive insurance company, protected cell captive insurance company, special purpose captive insurance company, or industrial insured captive insurance company formed or authorized under the provisions of this chapter.

(9) "Captive reinsurance company" means a captive insurance company authorized in this state that reinsures the risk ceded by any other insurer.

(10) "Captive risk retention group" means a captive insurance risk retention group formed under the laws of this chapter and pursuant to Title 33, chapter 11.

(11) "Cash equivalent" means any short-term, highly liquid investment that is:

(a) readily convertible to known amounts of cash; and

(b) so near to its maturity that it presents insignificant risk of changes in value because of changes in interest rates. Only an investment with an original maturity of 3 months or less qualifies as a cash equivalent.

(12) (a) "Controlled unaffiliated business entity" means a business entity or sole proprietorship:

(i) that is not in a parent's corporate system consisting of the parent and affiliated companies;

(ii) that has an existing, controlling contractual relationship with the parent or an affiliated company; and

(iii) whose risks are managed by a pure captive insurance company.

(b) The commissioner may promulgate rules that further define a controlled unaffiliated business entity.

(13) "Excess workers' compensation insurance" means, in the case of an employer that has insured or self-insured its workers' compensation risks in accordance with applicable state or federal law, insurance that is in excess of a specified per-incident or aggregate limit established by the commissioner.

(14) "Foreign captive insurance company" means any captive insurance company formed under the laws of any jurisdiction other than this state.

(15) "Industrial insured" means an insured:

(a) who procures the insurance of any risk or risks by use of the services of a full-time employee acting as an insurance manager or buyer;

(b) whose aggregate annual premiums for insurance on all risks total at least $25,000; and

(c) who has at least 25 full-time employees.

(16) "Industrial insured captive insurance company" means any company that insures risks of the industrial insureds that comprise the industrial insured group and their affiliated companies.

(17) "Industrial insured group" means any group that meets either of the following:

(a) the group collectively:

(i) owns, controls, or holds with power to vote all of the outstanding voting securities of an industrial insured captive insurance company incorporated as a stock insurer; or

(ii) has complete voting control over an industrial insured captive insurance company incorporated as a mutual insurer; or

(b) the group is a captive risk retention group.

(18) "Member" means a sole proprietorship or business entity that belongs to an association.

(19) "Mutual insurer" means a business entity without capital stock and with a governing body elected by the policyholders.

(20) "Organizational document" means articles of incorporation, articles of organization, a subscribers' agreement, a charter, or any other document that establishes a business entity.

(21) "Parent" means a sole proprietorship, business entity, or individual that directly or indirectly owns, controls, or holds with power to vote more than 50% of the outstanding voting securities of a captive insurance company.

(22) "Participant" means a sole proprietorship or business entity and any affiliates that are insured by a protected cell captive insurance company in which the losses of the participant are limited through a participant contract to the participant's share of the assets of one or more protected cells identified in the participant contract.

(23) "Participant contract" means a contract by which a protected cell captive insurance company insures the risks of a participant and limits the losses of each participant in the contract.

(24) "Protected cell" means a separate account established by a protected cell captive insurance company formed or authorized under the provisions of this chapter, in which an identified pool of assets and liabilities are segregated and insulated, as provided in this chapter, from the remainder of the protected cell captive insurance company's assets and liabilities in accordance with the terms of one or more participant contracts to fund the liability of the protected cell captive insurance company with respect to the participants as set forth in the participant contracts. All protected cells must be incorporated.

(25) "Protected cell assets" means all assets, contract rights, and general intangibles identified with and attributable to a specific protected cell of a protected cell captive insurance company.

(26) "Protected cell captive insurance company" means any captive insurance company:

(a) in which the minimum capital and surplus required by applicable law are provided by one or more sponsors;

(b) that is formed or authorized under the provisions of this chapter;

(c) that insures the risks of separate participants through participant contracts;

(d) that funds its liability to each participant through one or more protected cells and segregates the assets of each protected cell from the assets of other protected cells and from the assets of the protected cell captive insurance company's general account; and

(e) that is incorporated or formed as a limited liability company.

(27) "Protected cell liabilities" means all liabilities and other obligations identified with and attributable to a specific protected cell of a protected cell captive insurance company.

(28) "Pure captive insurance company" means any company that insures risks of its parent and affiliated companies and controlled unaffiliated business entities.

(29) "Sole proprietorship" means an individual doing business in a noncorporate form.

(30) "Special purpose captive insurance company" means a captive insurance company that is formed or authorized under this chapter that does not meet the definition of any other type of captive insurance company defined in this section or is formed by, on behalf of, or for the benefit of a political subdivision of this state.

(31) "Sponsor" means any entity that meets the requirements of 33-28-301 and 33-28-302 and is approved by the commissioner to provide all or part of the capital and surplus required by the applicable law and to organize and operate a protected cell captive insurance company.

33-28-102. Certificates of authority — lines of business — definition. (1) A captive insurance company, when permitted by its organizational document, may apply to the commissioner for a certificate of authority to provide property insurance, casualty insurance, life insurance, disability income insurance, surety insurance, marine insurance, and health insurance coverage or a group health plan as defined in 33-22-140, except that:

(a) a pure captive insurance company may not insure any risks other than those of its parent and affiliated companies and controlled unaffiliated business entities;

(b) an industrial insured captive insurance company may not insure any risks other than those of the industrial insureds that comprise the industrial insured group and their affiliated companies;

(c) an association captive insurance company may not insure any risks other than those of the members or affiliated companies of members;

(d) a special purpose captive insurance company may not provide insurance or reinsurance for risks unless approved by the commissioner;

(e) a captive insurance company or a branch captive insurance company may not:

(i) provide personal lines of insurance, including but not limited to motor vehicle or homeowner's insurance coverage or any component of those coverages;

(ii) accept or cede reinsurance except as provided in 33-28-203;

(iii) provide health insurance coverage or a group health plan unless the captive insurance company or branch captive insurance company is only providing health insurance coverage or a group health plan for the parent company and its affiliated companies; or

(iv) write workers' compensation insurance on a direct basis; and

(f) a protected cell captive insurance company may not insure any risks other than those of its participants.

(2) A captive insurance company may not write any insurance business unless:

(a) it first obtains from the commissioner a certificate of authority under this section;

(b) its board of directors, board of managing members, or a reciprocal insurer's subscribers' advisory committee holds at least one meeting each year in this state;

(c) it maintains its principal place of business in this state; and

(d) it designates a registered agent to accept service of process, files the name and contact information and any subsequent changes regarding the registered agent with the commissioner, and agrees that whenever the registered agent cannot be found with reasonable diligence, the commissioner's office may act as an agent of the captive insurance company with respect to any action or proceeding and may be served in accordance with 33-1-605 and 33-1-606.

(3) (a) Before receiving a certificate of authority and with respect to a captive insurance company formed as a business entity, a captive insurance company shall:

(i) file with the commissioner a certified copy of its organizational documents, a statement under oath of an officer of the business entity showing its financial condition, and any other statements or documents required by the commissioner; and

(ii) submit to the commissioner for approval a description of the coverages, deductibles, coverage limits, and rates, together with any additional information that the commissioner may reasonably require; and

(iii) provide a statement to the commissioner that addresses the following:

(A) the character, reputation, financial standing, and purposes of the organizers;

(B) the character, reputation, financial responsibility, insurance experience, and business qualifications of any officers, directors, or managing members; and

(C) any other factors that the commissioner considers appropriate.

(b) If there is a subsequent material change in any of the items in the description provided for in subsection (3)(a), the captive insurance company shall submit to the commissioner for approval an appropriate revision and may not offer any additional kinds of insurance until the commissioner approves a revision of the description. The captive insurance company shall inform the commissioner of any change in rates within 30 days of the adoption of the change.

(c) In addition to the information required by subsections (3)(a) and (3)(b), each applicant captive insurance company shall file with the commissioner evidence of the following:

(i) the amount and liquidity of its assets relative to the risks to be assumed;

(ii) the adequacy of the expertise, experience, and character of the person or persons who will manage it;

(iii) the overall soundness of its plan of operation;

(iv) the adequacy of the loss prevention programs of its parent, members, or industrial insureds as applicable; and

(v) any other factors considered relevant by the commissioner in ascertaining whether the proposed captive insurance company will be able to meet its policy obligations.

(d) In addition to the information required by this section, each applicant that is a protected cell captive insurance company shall file with the commissioner the following:

(i) a business plan demonstrating how the applicant will account for the loss and expense experience of each protected cell at a level of detail found to be sufficient by the commissioner and how it will report the experience to the commissioner;

(ii) a statement acknowledging that all financial records of the protected cell captive insurance company, including records pertaining to any protected cells, must be made available for inspection or examination by the commissioner or the commissioner's designated agent;

(iii) all contracts or sample contracts between the protected cell captive insurance company and any participants; and

(iv) evidence that expenses will be allocated to each protected cell in a fair and equitable manner.

(e) In addition to the requirements of subsection (3)(a), a captive insurance company formed as a reciprocal insurer must file with the commissioner a certified copy of the power of attorney of its attorney-in-fact, a certified copy of its subscribers' agreement, a statement under oath of its attorney-in-fact showing its financial condition, and any other statements or documents required by the commissioner;

(f) Information submitted pursuant to this subsection (3) must remain confidential and may not be made public by the commissioner or an employee or agent of the commissioner without the written consent of the company, except that:

(i) the information may be discoverable by a party in a civil action or contested case to which the captive insurance company that submitted the information is a party, upon a showing by the party seeking to discover the information that the information sought is relevant to and necessary for the furtherance of the action or case, the information sought is unavailable from other nonconfidential sources, and a subpoena issued by a judicial or administrative officer of competent jurisdiction has been submitted to the commissioner;

(ii) the commissioner may, in the commissioner's discretion, disclose the information to a public officer having jurisdiction over the regulation of insurance in another state or to a public official of the federal government, as long as the public official agrees in writing to maintain the confidentiality of the information and the laws of the state in which the public official serves, if applicable, require the information to be and to remain confidential.

(4) (a) Each captive insurance company, individual series of members as defined in 35-8-102 of a limited liability company, and protected cell shall pay to the commissioner a nonrefundable fee of $200 for the examining, investigating, and processing of its application, and the commissioner is authorized to retain legal, financial, and examination services from outside the department, the reasonable cost of which may be charged to the applicant.

(b) The provisions of Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, apply to examinations, investigations, and processing conducted under the authority of this section. In addition, each captive insurance company, individual series of members as defined in 35-8-102 of a limited liability company, and protected cell shall pay a fee for the year of registration and a renewal fee for each subsequent year of $300.

(5) If the commissioner is satisfied that the documents and statements that the applicant captive insurance company has filed comply with the provisions of this chapter and applicable provisions of Title 33, the commissioner may grant a certificate authorizing the company to do insurance business in this state. The certificate is effective until March 1 of each year and may be renewed upon proper compliance with this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 298, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 383, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 518, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 28, L. 2009; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 75, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 227, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 335, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 60, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 223, L. 2019.

33-28-103. Names of captive insurance companies. A captive insurance company may not adopt a name that is the same, deceptively similar, or likely to be confused with or mistaken for any other existing business name registered in the state of Montana.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 298, L. 2001.

33-28-104. Minimum capital surplus — letter of credit. (1) A captive insurance company may not be issued a certificate of authority unless it possesses and maintains unimpaired paid-in capital and surplus of:

(a) in the case of a pure captive insurance company, not less than $250,000;

(b) in the case of an industrial insured captive insurance company, including a captive risk retention group, not less than $500,000;

(c) in the case of an association captive insurance company, not less than $500,000;

(d) in the case of a special purpose captive insurance company, an amount determined by the commissioner after giving due consideration to the company's business plan, feasibility study, and pro forma documents, including the nature of the risks to be insured;

(e) in the case of a protected cell captive insurance company, not less than $500,000. However, if the protected cell captive insurance company does not assume any risks, the risks insured by the protected cells are homogenous, and if there are not more than 10 cells, the commissioner may reduce the amount required in this subsection (1)(e) to an amount not less than $250,000.

(f) in the case of a branch captive insurance company, not less than the applicable amount of capital and surplus required in subsections (1)(a) through (1)(e), as determined based upon the organizational form of the foreign captive insurance company. The minimum capital and surplus must be jointly held by the commissioner and the branch captive insurance company in a bank of the federal reserve system approved by the commissioner.

(g) in the case of a captive reinsurance company, not less than 50% of the capital that would be required for that type of captive insurance company.

(2) The commissioner may require additional capital and surplus based upon the type, volume, and nature of insurance business transacted.

(3) Capital and surplus may be in the form of cash, cash equivalent, or an irrevocable letter of credit on a form prescribed by the commissioner and issued by a bank chartered by the state of Montana, a member bank of the federal reserve system, or a bank chartered by another state if that state-chartered bank is approved by the commissioner.

33-28-105. Formation of captive insurance companies. (1) A captive insurance company must be formed or organized as a business entity as provided in this chapter.

(2) An association captive insurance company or an industrial insured captive insurance company may be:

(a) incorporated as a stock insurer with its capital divided into shares and held by the stockholders;

(b) incorporated as a mutual insurer without capital stock, the governing body of which is elected by the members of its association or associations;

(c) organized as a reciprocal insurer under Title 33, chapter 5, except that the requirements of 33-5-201(1) do not apply; or

(d) organized as a manager-managed limited liability company.

(3) A captive insurance company incorporated or organized in this state must be incorporated or organized by at least one incorporator or organizer who is a resident of this state.

(4) The capital stock of a captive insurance company incorporated as a stock insurer may be authorized with no par value.

(5) (a) At least one of the members of the board of directors of a captive insurance company must be a resident of this state. A captive risk retention group must have a minimum of five directors.

(b) In the case of a captive insurance company formed as a limited liability company, at least one of the managers must be a resident of the state. A captive risk retention group formed as a limited liability company is not required to have a manager who is a resident of this state, but the company must maintain a board of directors, of which one board member must be a resident of the state.

(c) In the case of a reciprocal insurer, at least one of the members of the subscribers' advisory committee must be a resident of the state. A captive risk retention group formed as a reciprocal insurer must have a minimum of five members of the subscribers' advisory committee.

(6) (a) A captive insurance company formed as a corporation or another business entity has the privileges and is subject to the provisions of general corporation law or the laws governing other business entities, as well as the applicable provisions contained in this chapter.

(b) In the event of conflict between the provisions of general corporation law or the laws governing other business entities and this chapter, the provisions of this chapter control.

(7) (a) (i) A captive insurance company formed as a reciprocal insurer has the privileges and is subject to the provisions of Title 33, chapter 5, except 33-5-201(1), in addition to the applicable provisions of this chapter. If there is a conflict between Title 33, chapter 5, and this chapter, the provisions of this chapter control.

(ii) The subscribers' agreement or other organizing document of a captive insurance company formed as a reciprocal insurer may authorize a quorum of a subscribers' advisory committee to consist of at least one-third of the number of its members.

(b) A captive risk retention group has the privileges and is subject to the provisions of Title 33, chapter 11, and this chapter. If there is a conflict between Title 33, chapter 11, and this chapter, the provisions of this chapter prevail.

(8) Except as provided in 33-28-111, the provisions of Title 33, chapter 3, pertaining to mergers, consolidations, conversions, mutualizations, and voluntary dissolutions apply in determining the procedures to be followed by captive insurance companies in carrying out any of those transactions.

(9) (a) With respect to a branch captive insurance company, the foreign captive insurance company shall apply to the secretary of state for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state.

(b) A branch captive insurance company established pursuant to the provisions of this chapter to write in this state only insurance or reinsurance of the employee benefit business of its parent and affiliated companies is subject to provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq. In addition to the general provisions of this chapter, the provisions of this section apply to branch captive insurance companies.

(c) A branch captive insurance company may not do any insurance business in this state unless it maintains the principal place of business for its branch operations in this state.

33-28-106. Dividends. (1) A captive insurance company may not pay a dividend out of, or other distribution with respect to, capital or surplus without the prior approval of the commissioner.

(2) Approval of an ongoing plan for the payment of dividends or other distributions must be conditioned upon retention, at the time of each payment, of capital surplus in excess of the amounts specified by or determined in accordance with formulas approved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 298, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 7, Ch. 518, L. 2007.

33-28-107. Reports and statements. (1) A captive insurance company is not required to make an annual report except as provided in this section.

(2) (a) Except as provided in subsection (2)(b), on or before April 1 of each year, each captive insurance company shall submit to the commissioner a report of its financial condition in a form and manner as required by the commissioner, verified by oath of two of its executive officers. On or before March 1 of each year, a captive risk retention group shall submit to the commissioner a report of its financial condition in a form and manner as required by the commissioner and verified by oath by two of its executive officers.

(b) A captive insurance company, other than a captive risk retention group, may make written application for filing the required report on a fiscal yearend basis. If an alternative reporting date is granted:

(i) the required report is due 90 days after fiscal yearend; and

(ii) in order to provide sufficient information to support the premium tax return, a captive insurance company shall file a report acceptable to the commissioner prior to April 1 of each year for the prior calendar yearend.

(c) Each captive insurance company shall report using generally accepted accounting principles, unless the commissioner requires the use of statutory accounting principles, with any necessary or useful modifications or additions required by the commissioner. The commissioner may also require the report to be supplemented by additional information.

(d) On or before April 1 of each year, each branch captive insurance company shall submit to the commissioner a copy of all reports and statements required to be filed under the laws in which the foreign captive insurance company is formed, verified by oath of two of its executive officers. If the commissioner is satisfied that the annual report filed by the foreign captive insurance company in its domiciliary jurisdiction provides adequate information concerning the financial condition of the foreign captive insurance company, the commissioner may waive the requirement for completion of the captive annual statement for business written in the foreign jurisdiction.

(3) The commissioner shall consider financial statements filed pursuant to this section as confidential.

(4) (a) Captive risk retention groups shall file reports and statements in accordance with Title 33, chapter 2, part 7, except that a captive risk retention group may file using generally accepted accounting principles. The filing may include letters of credit that are established, issued, or confirmed by a bank chartered in this state, a member of the federal reserve system, or a bank chartered by another state if that state-chartered bank is acceptable to the commissioner.

(b) The filings in subsection (4)(a) are required on an annual and quarterly basis.

33-28-108. Examinations and investigations. (1) (a) Except for captive risk retention groups as provided in subsection (1)(b), the commissioner or some competent person appointed by the commissioner may examine the affairs, transactions, accounts, records, and assets of each captive insurance company as often as the commissioner considers advisable.

(b) The commissioner or some competent person appointed by the commissioner shall examine the affairs, transactions, accounts, records, and assets of each captive risk retention group as often as the commissioner considers advisable, but no less frequently than every 5 years.

(c) The expenses and charges of the examination must be paid to the commissioner by the company or companies examined.

(2) The provisions of Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, apply to examinations conducted under this section.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4), all examination reports, preliminary examination reports or results, working papers, recorded information, documents, and their copies produced by, obtained by, or disclosed to the commissioner or any other person in the course of an examination made under this section are confidential, are not subject to subpoena, and may not be made public by the commissioner or an employee or agent of the commissioner without the written consent of the company or upon court order.

(4) (a) Subsection (3) does not prevent the commissioner from using information obtained pursuant to this section in furtherance of the commissioner's regulatory authority under Title 33. The commissioner may, in the commissioner's discretion, grant access to information obtained pursuant to this section to public officers having jurisdiction over the regulation of insurance in any other state or country or to law enforcement officers of this state or any other state or agency of the federal government at any time, as long as the officers receiving the information agree in writing to hold it in a manner consistent with this section.

(b) Captive risk retention group reports produced pursuant to the examination requirements of this section are public records as defined in 2-6-1002.

(5) Except as provided in subsection (6), the provisions of this section apply to all business written by a captive insurance company.

(6) The examination for a branch captive insurance company may only be of branch business and branch operations if the branch captive insurance company has satisfied the requirements of 33-28-107(2)(d) to the satisfaction of the commissioner.

(7) As a condition of authorization of a branch captive insurance company, the foreign captive insurance company shall grant authority to the commissioner for examination of the affairs of the foreign captive insurance company in the jurisdiction in which the foreign captive insurance company is formed.

33-28-109. Suspension or revocation of certificate of authority. (1) The certificate of authority of a captive insurance company doing insurance business in this state may be suspended by the commissioner for any of the following reasons:

(a) insolvency or impairment of capital or surplus;

(b) failure to meet and maintain the requirements of 33-28-104;

(c) refusal or failure to submit an annual report, as required by 33-28-107, or any other report or statement required by law or by lawful order of the commissioner;

(d) failure to comply with the provisions of its own charter, bylaws, or other organizational document;

(e) failure to submit to examination or to perform any legal obligation as required by 33-28-108;

(f) use of methods that, although not otherwise specifically prohibited by law, nevertheless render its operation detrimental or its condition unsound with respect to the public or to its policyholders;

(g) failure to pay the tax provided for in 33-28-201; or

(h) failure otherwise to comply with the laws of this state.

(2) If the commissioner finds, upon examination, hearing, or other evidence, that any captive insurance company has committed any of the acts specified in subsection (1), the commissioner may suspend or revoke the company's certificate of authority if the commissioner considers it in the best interest of the public or the policyholders of the captive insurance company.

(3) If the certificate of authority has not been terminated within the period of suspension, the company's certificate of authority may be reinstated if the commissioner finds that the causes of the suspension have been removed or that the insurer is otherwise in compliance with the requirements of this code.

33-28-110. Excess workers' compensation insurance — reinsurance of self-insured plans. (1) A captive insurance company may provide excess workers' compensation insurance to its parent and affiliated companies, unless the laws of the state having jurisdiction over the transaction prohibit providing the insurance.

(2) A captive insurance company may reinsure workers' compensation of a qualified self-insured plan of its parent and affiliated companies.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 383, L. 2003; Sec. 33-28-305, MCA 2005; redes. 33-28-110 by Sec. 21(1), Ch. 518, L. 2007.

33-28-111. Captive mergers. (1) A merger between captive stock insurers must meet the requirements of 33-3-217 and 33-28-105, except that the commissioner may provide notice to the public of the proposed merger prior to approval or disapproval of the merger in place of holding a hearing, at the commissioner's discretion.

(2) A merger between captive mutual insurers must meet the requirements of 33-3-218 and 33-28-105, except that the commissioner may provide notice to the public of the proposed merger prior to approval or disapproval of the merger in place of holding a hearing, at the commissioner's discretion.

(3) (a) An association captive insurance company or industrial insured group formed as a stock or mutual insurer may be converted to or merged with a reciprocal insurer pursuant to this section.

(b) A plan for conversion or merger must:

(i) be fair and equitable to the shareholders in the case of a stock insurer or the policyholders in the case of a mutual insurer; and

(ii) provide for the purchase of the shares of any nonconsenting shareholder of a stock insurer or the policyholder interest of any nonconsenting policyholder of a mutual insurer.

(c) In order to convert to a reciprocal insurer, the conversion must be accomplished under a reasonable plan and procedure approved by the commissioner. The commissioner may not approve the plan unless it:

(i) provides for a hearing upon notice to the insurer, directors, officers, and stockholders or policyholders who have the right to appear at the hearing, unless the commissioner waives or modifies the requirements for the hearing;

(ii) provides for the conversion of the existing stockholder or policyholder interests into subscriber interests in the resulting reciprocal insurer proportionate to stockholder or policyholder interests;

(iii) (A) in the case of a stock insurer, is approved by a majority of the shareholders who are entitled to vote and who are represented at a regular or special meeting at which a quorum is present either in person or by proxy; or

(B) in the case of a mutual insurer, by a majority of the voting interests of the policyholders who are represented at a regular or special meeting at which a quorum is present either in person or by proxy; and

(iv) meets the requirements of 33-28-105.

(d) If the commissioner approves a plan of conversion, the certificate of authority for the converting insurer must be amended to state that it is a reciprocal insurer. The conversion is effective and the corporate existence of the converting entity ceases to exist on the date on which the amended certificate is issued to the attorney-in-fact of the reciprocal insurer. The resulting reciprocal insurer shall file the articles of the merger or conversion with the secretary of state.

33-28-112 through 33-28-119 reserved.

33-28-120. Captive insurance regulatory and supervision account. (1) There is an account in the state special revenue fund called the captive insurance regulatory and supervision account, which may be referred to as the captive account.

(2) The purpose of the captive account is to provide the financial means for the commissioner to administer this chapter and for reimbursement of reasonable expenses incurred in promoting captive insurance in this state.

(3) (a) Twenty percent of the premium tax collected under 33-28-201 and all fees and assessments received by the commissioner pursuant to the administration of this chapter must be deposited in the captive account.

(b) All fines and administrative penalties collected pursuant to this chapter must be deposited in the general fund.

(4) All payments from the captive account for the maintenance of staff and associated expenses, including necessary contractual services, may only be disbursed from the state treasury upon warrants issued by the commissioner, after receipt by the commissioner of proper documentation regarding services rendered and expenses incurred.

(5) At the end of each fiscal year, the balance in the captive account must be transferred to the general fund.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 518, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 15, Ch. 6, Sp. L. November 2017; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 420, L. 2021.

Operations

33-28-201. Tax on premiums collected. (1) (a) Each captive insurance company shall pay to the commissioner, on or before March 1 of each year, a tax on the direct premiums collected or contracted for on policies or contracts of insurance written by the captive insurance company during the year ending December 31, after deducting from the direct premiums subject to the tax the amounts paid to policyholders as return premiums, including dividends on unabsorbed premiums or premium deposits returned or credited to policyholders.

(b) The tax on direct premiums collected in this state must be calculated as follows:

(i) 0.4% on the first $20 million; and

(ii) 0.3% on each subsequent dollar collected.

(2) (a) Each captive insurance company shall pay to the commissioner on or before March 1 of each year a tax on assumed reinsurance premiums.

(b) A reinsurance tax does not apply to premiums for risks or portions of risks that are subject to taxation on a direct basis pursuant to subsection (1).

(c) A reinsurance premium tax is not payable in connection with the receipt of assets in exchange for the assumption of loss reserves and other liabilities of another insurer under common ownership and control if the transaction is part of a plan to discontinue the operations of the other insurer and if the intent of the parties to the transaction is to renew or maintain the business with the captive insurance company.

(d) The amount of the reinsurance tax must be calculated as follows:

(i) 0.225% on the first $20 million of assumed reinsurance premiums;

(ii) 0.150% on the next $20 million of assumed reinsurance premiums; and

(iii) 0.050% on each subsequent dollar of assumed reinsurance premiums.

(3) (a) (i) Except as provided in subsections (3)(a)(ii) and (3)(a)(iii), if the aggregate taxes to be paid by a captive insurance company calculated under subsections (1) and (2) amount to less than $5,000 in any year, the captive insurance company shall pay a tax of $5,000 for that year.

(ii) In the calendar year in which a captive insurance company that is subject to the minimum tax is first authorized, the tax must be prorated on a quarterly basis as follows:

(A) $5,000 if authorized in the first quarter;
(B) $3,750 if authorized in the second quarter;
(C) $2,500 if authorized in the third quarter; and
(D) $1,250 if authorized in the fourth quarter.

(iii) In the calendar year in which a captive insurance company that is subject to the minimum tax surrenders its certificate of authority, the tax must be prorated on a quarterly basis as follows:

(A) $1,250 if surrendered in the first quarter;
(B) $2,500 if surrendered in the second quarter;
(C) $3,750 if surrendered in the third quarter; and
(D) $5,000 if surrendered in the fourth quarter.

(b) Each protected cell in a protected cell captive insurance company must be considered separately in determining the aggregate tax to be paid by the protected cell captive insurance company. If the protected cell captive insurance company insures any risks in addition to the protected cells, the determination of the aggregate tax to be paid by the protected cell captive insurance company must also include the premium on those risks.

(c) Each series of members as defined in 35-8-102 of a limited liability company formed as a special purpose captive insurance company must be considered separately pursuant to this section, except that the minimum tax as described in subsection (3)(a) must be considered in the aggregate.

(4) (a) Except as provided in subsection (4)(b), aggregate taxes to be paid by a captive insurance company under this section may not exceed $100,000 in any year.

(b) The provisions of subsection (4)(a) do not apply to:

(i) a protected cell captive insurance company; and

(ii) a special purpose captive insurance company with a series of members as defined in 35-8-102 in a limited liability company.

(5) Two or more captive insurance companies under common ownership and control must be taxed as though they were a single captive insurance company.

(6) For the purposes of this section, "common ownership and control" means:

(a) in the case of stock corporations, the direct or indirect ownership of 80% or more of the outstanding voting stock of two or more corporations by the same shareholder or shareholders; and

(b) in the case of mutual insurers, the direct or indirect ownership of 80% or more of the surplus and the voting power of two or more insurers by the same member or members.

(7) Only the branch business of a branch captive insurance company is subject to taxation under the provisions of this section.

(8) The tax provided for in this section must be calculated on an annual basis notwithstanding policies or contracts of insurance or contracts of reinsurance issued on a multiyear basis. In the case of multiyear policies or contracts, the premium must be prorated for the purposes of determining the tax.

Compiler's Comments

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 1, Ch. 548, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

Applicability: Section 2, Ch. 548, L. 2025, provided: "[This act] applies to tax years beginning after December 31, 2025."

33-28-202. Legal investments. (1) (a) An industrial insured captive insurance company, an association captive insurance company, and a captive risk retention group shall comply with the investment requirements contained in Title 33, chapter 12, and the rules promulgated in accordance with these provisions.

(b) The commissioner may approve the use of alternative reliable methods of valuation and rating.

(c) When a captive insurance company's admitted assets total less than $5 million, the commissioner may approve an investment of up to 20% of admitted assets in rated credit instruments in any one investment that meets the requirements of 33-12-303(1)(c).

(2) A pure captive insurance company or protected cell captive insurance company is not subject to any restrictions on allowable investments, except that the commissioner may prohibit or limit any investment that threatens the solvency or liquidity of the company.

(3) Any captive insurance company may make loans to any of its affiliates. Loans may not be made without prior written approval of the commissioner and must be evidenced by a note in a form approved by the commissioner. Loans of minimum capital and surplus funds required by 33-28-104 are prohibited.

33-28-203. Reinsurance. (1) Subject to the prior approval of the commissioner, a captive insurance company may provide reinsurance on risks ceded by any other insurer.

(2) (a) Any captive insurance company may take credit for reserves on risks or portions of risks ceded to reinsurers complying with the provisions of 33-2-1216 and 33-2-1217.

(b) Prior approval of the commissioner is required for ceding or taking credit for reserves on risks or portions of risks ceded to reinsurers not complying with 33-2-1216 and 33-2-1217.

(3) (a) In addition to the credit allowed to reinsurers in 33-2-1216 and 33-2-1217, a captive insurance company may, if approved by the commissioner, take credit for reserves on risks or portions of risks ceded to a pool, exchange, or association acting as a reinsurer that has been authorized by the commissioner.

(b) The commissioner may require any documents, financial information, or other evidence that a pool, exchange, or association will be able to provide adequate security for its financial obligations.

(c) The commissioner may deny authorization or impose any limitations on the activities of a reinsurance pool, exchange, or association that, in the commissioner's judgment, are necessary and proper to provide adequate security for the ceding captive insurance company and for the protection and consequent benefit of the public at large.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 298, L. 2001.

33-28-204. Rating organizations. A captive insurance company is not required to join a rating organization.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 298, L. 2001.

33-28-205. Exemption from compulsory organizations. A captive insurance company may not join or contribute financially to any plan, pool, association, or guaranty or insolvency fund in this state, and a captive insurance company, its insureds, its parent, any affiliated company, or any member of an association may not receive any benefit from the plan, pool, association, or guaranty or insolvency fund for claims arising out of the operations of the captive insurance company.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 298, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 12, Ch. 518, L. 2007.

33-28-206. Rules. The commissioner may adopt rules necessary to implement the provisions of this chapter. The rules may include but are not limited to rules relating to forms, payment of fees, authorization, capital and surplus, formation of companies, reports, examinations, investigations, redomestications, captive risk retention groups, risk-based capital and holding company systems, letters of credit, risks managed by pure captive insurance companies, standards to ensure that parent or affiliated companies are able to exercise control of the risk management function of any controlled unaffiliated entities to be insured by the pure captive insurance companies, the use of deductible reimbursement with workers' compensation, and suspension and revocation of licenses.

33-28-207. Applicable laws. (1) The following apply to captive insurance companies:

(a) the definitions of commissioner and department provided in 33-1-202, property insurance provided in 33-1-210, casualty insurance provided in 33-1-206, life insurance provided in 33-1-208, health insurance coverage and group health plans provided in 33-22-140, and disability income insurance provided in 33-1-235;

(b) the limitation provided in 33-2-705 on the imposition of other taxes;

(c) the provisions relating to supervision, rehabilitation, and liquidation of insurance companies as provided for in Title 33, chapter 2, part 13;

(d) the provisions of 33-1-311, 33-1-604 through 33-1-606, 33-2-112, 33-3-431, 33-18-201, 33-18-203, and 33-18-205;

(e) 33-18-242 only applies to captive risk retention group insurers;

(f) the provisions relating to dissolution and liquidation in Title 33, chapter 3, part 6, except that a pure captive insurance company may proceed with voluntary dissolution and liquidation after prior notice to and approval of the commissioner without following the provisions of Title 33, chapter 3, part 6; and

(g) the authority of the commissioner under 33-2-701(6) to impose a fine for failure to timely file an annual statement, except that the annual statement requirements in 33-28-107 apply.

(2) This chapter may not be construed as exempting a captive insurance company, its parent, or affiliated companies from compliance with the laws governing workers' compensation insurance.

(3) A captive insurance company or branch captive insurance company that writes health insurance coverage or group health plans as defined in 33-22-140 shall comply with applicable state and federal laws.

(4) The following provisions apply to captive risk retention groups:

(a) those relating to actuarial opinions in Title 33, chapter 1, part 14;

(b) those relating to risk-based capital in Title 33, chapter 2, part 19; and

(c) those relating to insurance holding company systems in Title 33, chapter 2, part 11.

(5) Except as expressly provided in this chapter, the provisions of Title 33 do not apply to captive insurance companies.

Part 3
Protected Cell Captive Insurance Companies

33-28-301. Protected cell captive insurance company. (1) One or more sponsors may form a protected cell captive insurance company.

(2) A protected cell captive insurance company formed or authorized under the provisions of this chapter is subject to the following:

(a) (i) A protected cell captive insurance company may establish one or more protected cells with the prior written approval of the commissioner of a plan of operation or amendments submitted by the protected cell captive insurance company with respect to each protected cell.

(ii) Upon the written approval of the commissioner of the plan of operation, which must include but is not limited to the specific business objectives and investment guidelines of the protected cell, the protected cell captive insurance company in accordance with the approved plan of operation may attribute to the protected cell insurance obligations with respect to its insurance business.

(iii) A protected cell must have its own distinct name or designation that must include the words "protected cell".

(iv) The protected cell captive insurance company shall transfer all assets attributable to a protected cell to one or more separately established and identified protected cell accounts bearing the name or designation of that protected cell. Protected cell assets must be held in the protected cell accounts for the purpose of satisfying the obligations of that protected cell.

(v) An incorporated protected cell may be organized and operated in any form of business organization authorized by the commissioner. Each protected cell of a protected cell captive insurance company must be treated as a captive insurance company for purposes of this chapter, except that the limit on maximum yearly aggregate taxes paid in 33-28-201 does not apply. Unless otherwise permitted by the articles of incorporation or other organizational document of a protected cell captive insurance company, each protected cell of the protected cell captive insurance company must have the same directors, secretary, and registered office as the protected cell captive insurance company.

(b) All attributions of assets and liabilities between a protected cell and the protected cell captive insurance company's general account must be in accordance with the plan of operation and participant contracts approved by the commissioner. No other attribution of assets and liabilities may be made by a protected cell captive insurance company between the protected cell captive insurance company's general account and its protected cells. Any attribution of assets and liabilities between the general account and a protected cell must be in cash or in readily marketable securities with established market values.

(c) The creation of a protected cell creates, with respect to that protected cell, a legal person separate from the protected cell captive insurance company. Amounts attributed to a protected cell under this chapter, including assets transferred to a protected cell account, are owned by the protected cell, and the protected cell captive insurance company may not be a trustee or hold itself out to be a trustee with respect to those protected cell assets of that protected cell account. A protected cell captive insurance company may allow for a security interest to attach to protected cell assets or a protected cell account when the security interest is in favor of a creditor of the protected cell and is otherwise allowed under applicable law.

(d) This chapter may not be construed to prohibit the protected cell captive insurance company from contracting with or arranging for an investment adviser, commodity trading adviser, or other third party to manage the protected cell assets of a protected cell if all remuneration, expenses, and other compensation of the third party are payable from the protected cell assets of that protected cell and not from the protected cell assets of other protected cells or the assets of the protected cell captive insurance company's general account.

(e) (i) A protected cell captive insurance company shall establish administrative and accounting procedures necessary to properly identify the one or more protected cells of the protected cell captive insurance company and the protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities attributable to the protected cells. The directors of a protected cell captive insurance company shall keep protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities:

(A) separate and separately identifiable from the assets and liabilities of the protected cell captive insurance company's general account; and

(B) attributable to one protected cell separate and separately identifiable from protected cell assets and protected cell liabilities attributable to other protected cells.

(ii) If the provisions of this subsection (2)(e) are violated, the remedy of tracing is applicable to protected cell assets commingled with protected cell assets of other protected cells or the assets of the protected cell captive insurance company's general account. The remedy of tracing may not be construed as an exclusive remedy.

(f) When establishing a protected cell, the protected cell captive insurance company shall attribute to the protected cell assets with a value at least equal to the reserves attributed to that protected cell.

(3) Each protected cell must be accounted for separately on the books and records of the protected cell captive insurance company to reflect the financial condition and result of operations of the protected cell, including but not limited to the net income or loss, dividends or other distributions to participants, and any other factor provided in the participant contract or required by the commissioner.

(4) The assets of a protected cell may not be chargeable with liabilities arising from any other insurance business of the protected cell captive insurance company.

(5) A sale, exchange, or other transfer of assets may not be made by a protected cell captive insurance company among any of its protected cells without the consent of the participants of each affected protected cell.

(6) A sale, exchange, transfer of assets, dividend, or distribution may not be made from a protected cell to a sponsor or a participant without the commissioner's prior written approval, which may not be given if the sale, exchange, transfer, dividend, or distribution would result in insolvency or impairment with respect to the protected cell.

(7) Each protected cell captive insurance company shall file annually with the commissioner any financial reports required by the commissioner and shall include, without limitation, accounting statements detailing the financial experience of each protected cell.

(8) Each protected cell captive insurance company shall notify the commissioner in writing within 20 business days from the time that a protected cell has become impaired or insolvent or is otherwise unable to meets its claim or expense obligations.

(9) A participant contract may not take effect without the commissioner's prior written approval.

(10) An addition of each new protected cell or the withdrawal of any participant of an existing protected cell constitutes a change in the business plan of the protected cell captive insurance company and may not be effective without the commissioner's prior written approval.

(11) The business written by a protected cell captive insurance company, with respect to each cell, must be fronted by an insurance company authorized under the laws of any state or approved by the commissioner.

(12) If a protected cell captive insurance company's business is reinsured, with respect to each cell it must be:

(a) reinsured by a reinsurer authorized or approved by the commissioner; or

(b) secured by a trust fund in the United States for the benefit of policyholders and claimants, which must be funded by an irrevocable letter of credit or other asset that is acceptable to the commissioner, and subject to the following:

(i) the amount of the security provided by the trust fund may not be less than the reserves associated with the liabilities that are not fronted or reinsured, including but not limited to reserves for losses that are allocated for loss adjustment expenses, incurred but not reported losses, and unearned premiums for business written through the participant's protected cell;

(ii) the commissioner may require the protected cell captive insurance company to increase the funding of any trust;

(iii) if the form of security in the trust is a letter of credit, the letter of credit must be established, issued, or confirmed by a bank chartered in this state, a member of the federal reserve system, or a bank chartered by another state if that state-chartered bank is approved by the commissioner; and

(iv) the trust and trust instrument must be in a form and with terms approved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 383, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 15, Ch. 518, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 75, L. 2011; amd. Sec. 21, Ch. 169, L. 2013; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 335, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 223, L. 2019.

33-28-302. Qualification of sponsors. A sponsor of a protected cell captive insurance company must be an insurer authorized under the laws of any state, a reinsurer authorized under the laws of any state, a captive insurance company formed or authorized under this chapter, an insurance producer licensed under chapter 17 of this title and approved by the commissioner, or any other person approved by the commissioner.

33-28-303. Delinquency of protected cell captive insurance company. If delinquency proceedings have been taken against a protected cell captive insurance company:

(1) the assets of a protected cell may not be used to pay any expenses other than those attributable to the protected cell; and

(2) the capital and surplus of the protected cell captive insurance company must be available at all times to pay expenses of or claims against the protected cell captive insurance company.

33-28-304. Participants in protected cell captive insurance companies. (1) An individual or business entity may be a participant in a protected cell captive insurance company.

(2) A sponsor may be a participant in a protected cell captive insurance company.

(3) A participant is not required to be a shareholder of a protected cell captive insurance company or its affiliate.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 383, L. 2003; amd. Sec. 18, Ch. 518, L. 2007; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 75, L. 2011.

33-28-306. Repealed. Sec. 11, Ch. 223, L. 2019.

33-28-307 through 33-28-309 reserved.

33-28-310. Investments by protected cell captive insurance companies. The assets of two or more protected cells may be combined for the purposes of investment by a protected cell captive insurance company, and the combination of the protected cells may not be construed as defeating the segregation of the assets for accounting or other purposes.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 518, L. 2007.

Part 4
Dormant Captive Insurers

33-28-401. Dormant captive insurer. (1) As used in this section, unless the context requires otherwise, "dormant captive insurance company" means a captive insurance company, other than a captive risk retention group, that has:

(a) ceased transacting the business of insurance, including the issuance of insurance policies; and

(b) no remaining liabilities associated with insurance business transactions or insurance policies issued prior to the filing of its application for a certificate of dormancy under this section.

(2) A captive insurance company domiciled in Montana that meets the criteria of this section may apply to the commissioner for a certificate of dormancy. The certificate of dormancy is subject to expiration at the end of a consecutive 5-year period and may not be renewed.

(3) (a) A dormant captive insurance company that has been issued a certificate of dormancy shall:

(i) possess and thereafter maintain unimpaired, paid-in capital and surplus of not less than $25,000;

(ii) within 90 days of each fiscal year end, submit to the commissioner a report of its financial condition, verified by oath of two of its executive officers, in a form as may be prescribed by the commissioner; and

(iii) pay $1,000 annual dormancy tax due on or before March 1 of each year for any portion of the preceding year in which the captive insurance company held a certificate of dormancy. Each series of members as defined in 35-8-102 or protected cell as defined in 33-28-101 is considered separate pursuant to this section for purposes of paying the $1,000 annual dormancy tax under a certificate of dormancy. A dormant captive insurance company is not otherwise liable for any annual renewal as provided in 33-28-102.

(b) A dormant captive insurance company that has been issued a certificate of dormancy may not:

(i) be subject to or liable for the payment of any tax under 33-28-201;

(ii) be subject to examinations as provided in 33-28-108.

(4) A dormant captive insurance company shall apply to the commissioner for approval to surrender its certificate of dormancy and resume conducting the business of insurance prior to issuing any insurance policies.

(5) A certificate of dormancy must be revoked if a dormant captive insurance company no longer meets the criteria of this section.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 304, L. 2017; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 223, L. 2019.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-30-101. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) (a) "Health service corporation" means a nonprofit corporation organized or operating for the purposes of establishing and operating a nonprofit plan or plans under which prepaid hospital care, medical-surgical care, and other health care and services, or reimbursement for the preceding care and services, may be furnished to a member or beneficiary.

(b) The term does not include a direct patient care agreement established pursuant to 50-4-107.

(2) "Health services" means the health care and services provided by hospitals or other health care institutions, organizations, associations, or groups and by doctors of medicine, osteopathy, dentistry, chiropractic, optometry, and podiatry; nursing services; licensed acupuncturist services; licensed social worker, licensed professional counselor, or psychologist services; medical appliances, equipment, and supplies; and drugs, medicines, ambulance services, and other therapeutic services and supplies.

(3) "Membership contract" means any agreement, contract, or certificate by which a health service corporation describes the health services or benefits provided to its members or beneficiaries.

History: En. 40-5901 by Sec. 1, Ch. 319, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5901(1) thru (3); amd. Sec. 14, Ch. 544, L. 1983; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 606, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 362, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 10, Ch. 262, L. 2021.

33-30-105. Examination of health service corporation. (1) If the commissioner believes a health service corporation is unable or potentially unable to fulfill its contractual obligations to its members, the commissioner may conduct an examination of that corporation.

(2) In addition to the examination authorized in subsection (1), at least once every 4 years, the commissioner shall conduct an examination of each health service corporation to determine if the corporation is fulfilling its contractual obligations by prompt satisfaction of claims at the highest monetary level consistent with reasonable dues or fees and that the corporation's management exercises appropriate fiscal controls, operations, and personnel policies to ensure that efficient and economic administration restrains overhead costs for the benefit of its members.

(3) Each health service corporation examined and its officers, employees, and insurance producers shall produce and make available to the commissioner or the commissioner's examiners the accounts, records, documents, files, information, assets, and matters in its possession or control relating to the subject of the examination.

(4) The commissioner or the commissioner's examiner shall make a verified report of the examination.

(5) The report must comprise only facts appearing from the books, papers, records, or documents of the corporation examined or ascertained from the testimony, under oath, of individuals concerning its affairs and conclusions and recommendations as warranted by those facts.

(6) The commissioner shall furnish a copy of the proposed report to the corporation examined not less than 20 days prior to its filing in the commissioner's office. If the corporation requests a hearing, in writing, within the 20-day period, the commissioner shall grant a hearing with respect to the report and may not file the report until after the hearing and after modifications, if any, that the commissioner considers proper.

(7) The health service corporation shall pay for each examination conducted pursuant to subsections (1) and (2) in accordance with 33-1-413.

33-30-107. Annual statement. (1) On or before March 1 of each year, each health service corporation shall file an annual statement for the preceding year on the national association of insurance commissioners' health blank form with the commissioner of insurance. This annual statement must be completed in accordance with the annual statement instructions and the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual of the national association of insurance commissioners. The statement must be accompanied by an actuarial opinion attesting to the insurer's reserves.

(2) The health service corporation shall file a statement containing any other information concerning its financial affairs that may be reasonably requested by the commissioner.

(3) (a) Each health service corporation shall file electronic versions of its annual and quarterly financial statements with the national association of insurance commissioners. The date for submission of the annual statement electronic filing is March 1. The dates for submission of the quarterly statement electronic filing are as follows:

(i) the first quarter filing is due May 15;
(ii) the second quarter filing is due August 15; and
(iii) the third quarter filing is due November 15.

(b) The commissioner may exempt health service corporations operating only in Montana from these filing requirements.

(c) The health service corporation shall pay all fees and costs associated with preparing the annual statement and other filings and submitting them to the national association of insurance commissioners.

(4) The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, suspend or revoke a health service corporation's certificate of authority or impose a fine not to exceed $100 a day and not to exceed $1,000 upon a health service corporation that fails to file an annual statement as required by this part.

33-30-108. Certificate required. (1) A person may not act as a health service corporation and a health service corporation may not conduct business in this state except as authorized by a certificate of authority issued by the commissioner.

(2) The commissioner may issue a certificate of authority after the person has complied with the applicable provisions of this title and has submitted an application on a form prescribed by the commissioner.

(3) A health service corporation is entitled to a continuation of its certificate of authority upon payment of the annual continuation fee specified in 33-30-204 on or before March 1 of each year and upon continued compliance with the provisions of this title.

(4) The commissioner may revoke or suspend any certificate of authority issued under this section for violations of this title.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 558, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 69, Ch. 379, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 65, Ch. 227, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 29, Ch. 63, L. 2015.

Finance

33-30-201. Reserves — requirements suspended. (1) The corporation shall maintain at all times unobligated funds adequate to:

(a) provide the hospital, medical-surgical, and other health services made available to its members and beneficiaries; and

(b) meet all costs and expenses.

(2) In addition, reserves of a health service corporation in cash, certificates of deposit, obligations issued or guaranteed by the government of the United States, or other assets approved by the commissioner must be maintained in an amount not less than:

(a) $500,000 or, if authorized under this chapter after October 1, 1999, $750,000; or

(b) an amount equal to 1 month's average income from dues or fees paid to the corporation by its members or beneficiaries, based on an average of the preceding 12 months, whichever is less.

(3) The determination of minimum reserves is subject, as to amounts payable to participating providers of the health services, to any right of the corporation to prorate the amounts under the terms of its health service contracts with providers.

(4) The commissioner may decrease or suspend the requirements of this section if the commissioner finds that the action is in the best interest of the members of the corporation.

33-30-202. Annual report by certified public accountant. (1) All corporations subject to the provisions of this chapter shall file annually with the commissioner, on or before June 1, a financial statement audited by a certified public accountant pursuant to rules promulgated by the commissioner.

(2) (a) The commissioner may establish rules governing the content and preparation of the report required by subsection (1).

(b) The report must include:

(i) the corporation's financial statements for the most recent calendar year;

(ii) an opinion by the certified public accountant concerning the accuracy and fairness of the corporation's representation of its financial statements; and

(iii) other information that the commissioner specifies by rule.

33-30-302. Allowed contracts. (1) A corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter may enter into contracts for the rendering of health services on behalf of its members or beneficiaries with:

(a) hospitals maintained by a governmental body or agency;

(b) hospitals maintained by a nonprofit corporation organized for hospital purposes; or

(c) other corporations, organizations, associations, partnerships, or individuals furnishing health services.

(2) A health service corporation may enter into agreements or contracts with other organizations or corporations licensed to do business in this state or in any other state for:

(a) the transfer of members or beneficiaries;

(b) the reciprocal joint provisions of benefits to the members or beneficiaries of the corporation and of those other organizations or corporations; or

(c) other joint undertakings the corporation's board of directors approves.

33-30-304. Nonliability for injuries caused by contractees. A health service corporation is not liable for injuries resulting from neglect, misfeasance, malfeasance, or malpractice on the part of any person, organization, agency, or corporation rendering health services to the health service corporation's members and beneficiaries.

History: En. 40-5914 by Sec. 14, Ch. 319, L. 1975; R.C.M. 1947, 40-5914.

33-30-305. Prohibited trade practices. In order to regulate trade practices of health service corporations the following practices are prohibited:

(1) No person may make, issue, circulate, or cause to be made, issued, or circulated any estimate, circular, or statement misrepresenting:

(a) the terms of any health service corporation membership contract issued or to be issued; or

(b) the benefits or advantages promised thereby.

(2) No person may make any misleading representation or any misrepresentation as to the financial condition of any health service corporation.

(3) No person may make, publish, disseminate, circulate, or place before the public or cause, directly or indirectly, to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, or placed before the public in a newspaper, magazine, or other publication or in the form of a notice, circular, pamphlet, letter, or poster or over any radio or television station or in any other way an advertisement, announcement, or statement containing any assertion, representation, or statement with respect to the business of a health service corporation which is untrue, deceptive, or misleading.

(4) No person may make or issue or cause to be made or issued any written or oral statement misrepresenting or making incomplete comparisons as to the terms, conditions, or benefits contained in any health service corporation membership contract for the purpose of inducing or attempting or tending to induce a member to cancel or convert any membership contract.

(5) No person may file with any public official or make, publish, disseminate, circulate, or deliver to any person or place before the public or cause directly or indirectly to be made, published, disseminated, circulated, delivered to any person, or placed before the public any false statement of financial condition of a health service corporation with intent to deceive.

(6) No person may make any false entry in any book, report, or statement of any health service corporation with intent to deceive any agent or examiner lawfully appointed to examine into its condition or into any of its affairs or any public official to whom that health service corporation is required by law to report or who has authority by law to examine into its condition or into any of its affairs or, with like intent, willfully omit to make a true entry of any material fact pertaining to the business of that health service corporation in any book, report, or statement of the health service corporation.

(7) No person may make, publish, disseminate, or circulate, directly or indirectly, or aid, abet, or encourage the making, publishing, disseminating, or circulating of any oral or written statement or any pamphlet, circular, article, or literature which is false or maliciously critical of or derogatory to the financial condition of a health service corporation or of an organization proposing to become a health service corporation and which is calculated to injure any person engaged or proposing to engage in the business of operating a health service corporation.

(8) No person may enter into agreement to commit or by any concerted action commit any act of boycott, coercion, or intimidation resulting in or tending to result in unreasonable restraint of the operation of health service corporations.

33-30-306. Discrimination between individuals — restrictions — ratesetting by commissioner prohibited. (1) No person may knowingly make or permit any unreasonable discrimination between individuals in any classification which may be established by a health service corporation and of essentially the same condition of health in the amount of dues or rates charged for any membership contract or in the benefits payable thereunder or in any of the terms and conditions of such contract or in any manner whatever.

(2) Nothing herein contained shall, however, restrict the right of a health service corporation within the discretion of its board of directors to limit or define the classes of persons who shall be eligible to become members, to limit and to define the benefits which it will furnish, and define such benefits as it undertakes to furnish into classes or kinds. A health service corporation may make available to its members health services, or reimbursement therefor, as the board of directors of that corporation may approve.

(3) Nothing contained in subsection (1) includes within the definition of discrimination any of the following practices:

(a) readjustment of the rate of payment for membership in a health service corporation under a group contract based on the loss or expense experience thereunder at the end of the first or any subsequent contract year thereunder which may be made retroactive only for that contract year;

(b) in the case of membership contracts issued on the preauthorized bank draft or similar plans, making allowance to members in an amount which fairly represents the saving in collection expense;

(c) reduction of the rate of payment for group contracts covering a large number of members, but not exceeding savings in administrative expenses reasonably attributable to these contracts as compared with contracts offering similar benefits to smaller numbers of members;

(d) issuing individual membership contracts on a "salary savings" or payroll deduction plan reasonably commensurate with the savings made by use of such plan.

(4) Nothing in this chapter gives the commissioner power to fix and determine a rate level by classification or otherwise.

Health Service Corporation Plans

33-30-1001. Newborn infants covered by insurance by health service corporation. A disability insurance plan or group disability insurance plan issued by a health service corporation may not be issued or amended in this state if it contains any disclaimer, waiver, preexisting condition exclusion, or other limitation of coverage relative to the accident and sickness coverage or insurability of newborn infants of the persons insured from and after the moment of birth. Each policy must contain a provision granting immediate accident and sickness coverage, from and after the moment of birth, to each newborn infant of any insured person. The policy or contract may require notification of the birth of a child and payment of a required premium or subscription fee to be furnished to the insurer or nonprofit or indemnity corporation within 31 days of the birth in order to have the coverage extend beyond 31 days.

33-30-1002. Disability coverage of services received in state institutions — coverage of persons eligible for public medical assistance. (1) It is unlawful for any health service corporation issuing membership contracts in Montana to exclude from coverage in a membership contract services rendered the insured while a resident in a Montana state institution if the services to the insured would be covered by the membership contract if rendered to the insured outside a Montana state institution.

(2) A membership contract is considered issued in Montana if the insured purchasing the membership contract is, at the time of purchase, residing in the state of Montana.

(3) If the exclusion prohibited by this section appears in a membership contract issued in Montana after February 14, 1973, the provision is void and the membership contract will be considered to cover services rendered the insured in a Montana state institution if the services would have been covered if rendered to an insured outside a Montana state institution.

(4) Payment for services rendered in a Montana state institution must be to the same extent and at the same rates, according to the provisions of the membership contract, that would be paid for the services if rendered outside a Montana state institution.

(5) A membership contract issued by a health service corporation on or after July 1, 1979, may not deny or reduce benefits to any member on the ground that the person insured is eligible for or receiving public medical assistance provided under Title 53, chapter 2.

33-30-1003. Continuation of coverage for persons with disabilities — individual contracts. (1) An individual hospital or medical service plan contract delivered or issued for delivery in this state that provides that coverage of a dependent child terminates upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the contract must also provide in substance that attainment of the limiting age may not operate to terminate the coverage of the child while the child is and continues to be both incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of intellectual disability or physical disability and chiefly dependent upon the subscriber for support and maintenance. Proof of intellectual disability or physical disability and dependency must be furnished to the hospital or medical service plan corporation by the subscriber within 31 days of the child's attainment of the limiting age and subsequently as may be required by the corporation. Proof may not be required more frequently than annually after the 2-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

(2) Notwithstanding any other exemption or contrary law, the provisions of this section have equal application to hospital or medical expense insurance policies and hospital and medical service plan contracts.

33-30-1004. Continuation of coverage for persons with disabilities — group contracts. (1) A group hospital or medical service plan contract delivered or issued for delivery in this state that provides that coverage of a dependent child of an employee or other member of the covered group terminates upon attainment of the limiting age for dependent children specified in the contract must also provide in substance that attainment of the limiting age may not operate to terminate the coverage of the child while the child is and continues to be both incapable of self-sustaining employment by reason of intellectual disability or physical disability and chiefly dependent upon the employee or member for support and maintenance. Proof of intellectual disability or physical disability and dependency must be furnished to the hospital or medical service plan corporation by the employee or member within 31 days of the child's attainment of the limiting age and subsequently as may be required by the corporation. Proof may not be required more frequently than annually after the 2-year period following the child's attainment of the limiting age.

(2) Notwithstanding any other exemption or contrary law, the provisions of this section have equal application to hospital or medical expense insurance policies and hospital and medical service plan contracts.

33-30-1005. Right of rescission. Each membership contract, other than a group contract, issued for delivery in this state on or after January 1, 1980, must contain a notice stating in substance that if the person to whom the contract is issued is not satisfied for any reason, the person is permitted to return the contract within 10 days of its delivery or a longer period that the contract may provide and to have refunded the amount of the premium paid. A contract returned pursuant to this section is void from the beginning.

33-30-1006. Continuing group coverage after termination. A person covered by a group hospital or medical service plan contract, issued or renewed by a health service corporation after October 1, 1981, may, for a period of 1 year with the consent of the employer or the trustees, continue coverage under the group contract during the person's employment notwithstanding any reduction of the person's regular work schedule to less than the minimum time required to qualify for membership in the group, and the premium charged must be equal to that charged the members of the group.

33-30-1007. Conversion on termination of eligibility. (1) The group hospital or medical service plan contract issued or renewed by a health service corporation after October 1, 1981, must contain a provision that if the insurance or any portion of it on a person or a person's dependents or family members covered under the policy ceases because of termination of the person's employment or of a person's membership in the class or classes eligible for coverage under the policy as a result of an employer discontinuing the employer's business or as a result of an employer discontinuing the policy issued by the health service corporation and not providing for any other group disability insurance or plan, a person must, if the person has been insured for a period of 3 months and if the person is not insured under another major medical disability insurance policy or plan, be entitled to have issued to the person by the insurer, without evidence of insurability, an individual policy of hospital or medical service insurance on the person or the person's dependents or family members. Application for the individual policy must be made and the first premium tendered to the insurer within 31 days after the termination of group coverage.

(2) The individual policy must, at the option of the insured, be on any of the forms then customarily issued by the insurer to individual policyholders with the exception of those whose eligibility is determined by their affiliation other than by employment with a particular entity. In addition, the health service corporation shall make available a conversion policy as required by subsection (4).

(3) The premium on the individual policy may not be more than 200% of the insurer's then customary rate applicable to the coverage of the individual policy. If the person entitled to conversion under this section has been insured for more than 3 years, the premium may not be more than 150% of the customary rate. The customary rate is that rate that is normally issued for medically underwritten policies without discount for healthy lifestyles.

(4) The health service corporation shall make available an individual conversion policy that provides the level of benefits provided by its lowest cost basic health benefit plan, as defined in 33-22-1803. If the insurer is not a small employer carrier under chapter 22, part 18, the insurer shall make available an individual conversion policy that provides equivalent benefits to a basic health benefit plan. The conversion rate may not exceed 150% of the highest rate charged for that plan.

(5) The premium rate for an individual policy converted from a group plan in accordance with the provisions of subsection (3) may not be increased during the first 6 months of coverage of the individual policy.

33-30-1008. Preexisting conditions. The converted policy may not exclude, as a preexisting condition, any conditions covered by the group contract.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 579, L. 1981.

33-30-1009. Insured's family — conversion entitlement. Subject to the conditions set forth in this section, the conversion privilege is also available:

(1) to the surviving spouse, if any, at the death of the employee or member, with respect to the spouse and children whose coverage under the group policy terminates by reason of the death, otherwise to each surviving child whose coverage under the group policy terminates by reason of the death, or if the group policy provides for continuation of dependent's coverage following the employee's or member's death, at the end of the continuation;

(2) to the spouse of the employee or member upon termination of coverage of the spouse, by reason of ceasing to be a qualified family member under the group policy, while the employee or member remains under the group policy, including children whose coverage under the group policy terminates at the same time; or

(3) to a child solely with respect to the child upon termination of the child's coverage by reason of ceasing to be a qualified family member under the group policy if a conversion privilege is not otherwise provided in this section with respect to the termination.

33-30-1013. Coverage required for services provided by nurse specialists. A health service corporation shall provide, in group and individual insurance contracts, coverage for health services provided by a nurse specialist, as specifically listed in 37-8-202, if health care services that nurse specialists are licensed to perform are covered by the contract.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 329, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 467, L. 2005.

33-30-1014. Coverage for well-child care. (1) Each disability insurance plan or group disability insurance plan that is delivered, issued for delivery, renewed, extended, or modified in this state by a health service corporation and that provides coverage for a family member of the insured or subscriber must provide coverage for well-child care for children from the moment of birth through 7 years of age. Benefits provided under this coverage are exempt from any deductible provision that may be in force in the plan.

(2) Coverage for well-child care under subsection (1) must include:

(a) a history, physical examination, developmental assessment, anticipatory guidance, and laboratory tests, according to the schedule of visits adopted under the early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment services program provided for in 53-6-101; and

(b) routine immunizations according to the schedule for immunizations recommended by the immunization practices advisory committee of the U.S. department of health and human services.

(3) Minimum benefits may be limited to one visit payable to one provider for all of the services provided at each visit cited in this section.

(4) This section does not apply to disability income, specified disease, medicare supplement, or hospital indemnity policies.

(5) For purposes of this section:

(a) "developmental assessment" and "anticipatory guidance" mean the services described in the Guidelines for Health Supervision II, published by the American academy of pediatrics; and

(b) "well-child care" means the services described in subsection (2) and delivered at the intervals required in that subsection by a physician or a health care professional supervised by a physician.

(6) When a disability insurance plan or group disability insurance plan issued by a health service corporation provides coverage or benefits to a resident of this state, it is considered to be delivered in this state within the meaning of this section, whether the health service corporation that issued or delivered the policy or certificate is located inside or outside of this state.

33-30-1015. Limitation of eligibility on conversion. A person who purchases a policy of insurance under 33-30-1007 ceases to be eligible for a conversion policy if the person insured by the policy:

(1) fails to pay the premium on the policy purchased under 33-30-1007; or

(2) enrolls under another major medical disability insurance policy or plan, except that the person may maintain the conversion policy during any waiting period established under any new disability insurance policy or plan that the insured person purchases.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 200, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 22, Ch. 399, L. 2007.

33-30-1016. Coverage for adopted children from time of placement — preexisting conditions. (1) Each individual or group membership contract issued or amended by a health service corporation in this state that provides coverage of dependent children of a member must provide coverage for an adopted child of the member to the same extent as for natural children of the member.

(2) The coverage required by this section must be effective from the date of placement for the purpose of adoption and must continue unless the placement is disrupted prior to legal adoption and the child is removed from placement. Coverage at the time of placement must include the necessary care and treatment of medical conditions existing prior to the date of placement.

(3) As used in this section, "placement" has the meaning as defined in 33-22-130.

33-30-1020. Coverage for services provided under freedom of choice for mental health services. A health service corporation shall provide, in group and individual insurance contracts, coverage for health services provided by marriage and family therapists licensed under Title 37, chapter 39, if the health care services that marriage and family therapists are licensed to perform are covered by the contracts.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 206, L. 2017; amd. Sec. 19, Ch. 713, L. 2023.

33-30-1021. Applicability. Notwithstanding any provision of Title 33 or other law to the contrary, it shall be lawful for an insurer and insured to agree to any terms in an insurance contract that provides more favorable terms for the benefit of the insured than authorized in Title 33 or other provisions of law.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 579, L. 1981; MCA 1981, 33-30-1010; redes. 33-30-1021 by Code Commissioner, 1983.

Part 11

Subrogation — Notice

Part Cross-References

State employee group insurance — subrogation — notice, Title 2, ch. 18, part 9.

Disability insurance — subrogation — notice, Title 33, ch. 22, part 16.

33-30-1101. Subrogation rights. A hospital or medical service plan contract issued by a health service corporation may contain a provision providing that, to the extent necessary for reimbursement of benefits paid to or on behalf of the insured, the health service corporation is entitled to subrogation, as provided for in 33-30-1102, against a judgment or recovery received by the insured from a third party found liable for a wrongful act or omission that caused the injury necessitating benefit payments.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 365, L. 1987.

33-30-1102. Notice — shared costs of third-party action — limitation. (1) If an insured intends to institute an action for damages against a third party, the insured shall give the health service corporation reasonable notice of the intention to institute the action.

(2) The insured may request that the health service corporation pay a proportionate share of the reasonable costs of the third-party action, including attorney fees.

(3) A health service corporation may elect not to participate in the cost of the action. If that election is made, the health service corporation waives 50% of any subrogation rights granted to it by 33-30-1101.

(4) The health service corporation's right of subrogation granted in 33-30-1101 may not be enforced until the injured insured has been fully compensated for the insured's injuries.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 365, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1248, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-31-101. Short title. This chapter may be cited as the "Montana Health Maintenance Organization Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

33-31-102. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Accountable care organization" means a group of health care providers that are willing and capable of accepting accountability for the total cost and quality of care for a defined population.

(2) "Affiliation period" means a period that, under the terms of the health insurance coverage offered by a health maintenance organization, must expire before the health insurance coverage becomes effective.

(3) "Basic health care services" means:

(a) consultative, diagnostic, therapeutic, and referral services by a provider;

(b) inpatient hospital and provider care;

(c) outpatient medical services;

(d) medical treatment and referral services;

(e) accident and sickness services by a provider to each newborn infant of an enrollee pursuant to 33-31-301(3)(e);

(f) care and treatment of mental illness, alcoholism, and drug addiction;

(g) diagnostic laboratory and diagnostic and therapeutic radiologic services;

(h) preventive health services, including:
(i) immunizations;
(ii) well-child care from birth;
(iii) periodic health evaluations for adults;
(iv) voluntary family planning services;
(v) infertility services; and
(vi) children's eye and ear examinations conducted to determine the need for vision and hearing correction;
(i) minimum mammography examination, as defined in 33-22-132;
(j) outpatient self-management training and education for the treatment of diabetes along with certain diabetic equipment and supplies as provided in 33-22-129; and
(k) treatment and medical foods for inborn errors of metabolism. "Medical foods" and "treatment" have the meanings provided for in 33-22-131.
(4) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance of the state of Montana.
(5) "Dependent" has the meaning provided in 33-22-140.
(6) "Enrollee" means a person:
(a) who enrolls in or contracts with a health maintenance organization;
(b) on whose behalf a contract is made with a health maintenance organization to receive health care services; or
(c) on whose behalf the health maintenance organization contracts to receive health care services.
(7) "Evidence of coverage" means a certificate, agreement, policy, or contract issued to an enrollee setting forth the coverage to which the enrollee is entitled.
(8) "Health care services" means:
(a) the services included in furnishing medical or dental care to a person;
(b) the services included in hospitalizing a person;
(c) the services incident to furnishing medical or dental care or hospitalization; or
(d) the services included in furnishing to a person other services for the purpose of preventing, alleviating, curing, or healing illness, injury, or physical disability.
(9) "Health care services agreement" means an agreement for health care services between a health maintenance organization and an enrollee.
(10) (a) "Health maintenance organization" means a person who provides or arranges for basic health care services to enrollees on a prepaid basis, either directly through provider employees or through contractual or other arrangements with a provider or a group of providers. This subsection (10) does not limit methods of provider payments made by health maintenance organizations.
(b) The term does not apply to:
(i) a PACE organization or an accountable care organization that has received a waiver pursuant to 33-31-201; or
(ii) a direct patient care agreement established pursuant to 50-4-107.
(11) "Insurance producer" means an individual or business entity appointed or authorized by a health maintenance organization to solicit applications for health care services agreements on its behalf.
(12) "PACE organization" means an organization, as defined in 42 CFR 460.6, that is authorized by the centers for medicare and medicaid services and the department of public health and human services to operate a program of all-inclusive care for the elderly.
(13) "Person" means:
(a) an individual;
(b) a group of individuals;
(c) an insurer, as defined in 33-1-201;
(d) a health service corporation, as defined in 33-30-101;
(e) a corporation, partnership, facility, association, or trust; or
(f) an institution of a governmental unit of any state licensed by that state to provide health care, including but not limited to a physician, hospital, hospital-related facility, or long-term care facility.

(14) "Plan" means a health maintenance organization operated by an insurer or health service corporation as an integral part of the corporation and not as a subsidiary.

(15) "Point-of-service option" means a delivery system that permits an enrollee of a health maintenance organization to receive health care services from a provider who is, under the terms of the enrollee's contract for health care services with the health maintenance organization, not on the provider panel of the health maintenance organization.

(16) "Provider" means a physician, hospital, hospital-related facility, long-term care facility, dentist, osteopath, chiropractor, optometrist, podiatrist, psychologist, licensed social worker, registered pharmacist, or advanced practice registered nurse, as specifically listed in 37-8-202, or registered nurse first assistant as defined by the board of nursing under Title 37, chapter 8, who treats any illness or injury within the scope and limitations of the provider's practice or any other person who is licensed or otherwise authorized in this state to furnish health care services.

(17) "Provider panel" means those providers with whom a health maintenance organization contracts to provide health care services to the health maintenance organization's enrollees.

(18) "Purchaser" means the individual, employer, or other entity, but not the individual certificate holder in the case of group insurance, that enters into a health care services agreement.

(19) "Uncovered expenditures" mean the costs of health care services that are covered by a health maintenance organization and for which an enrollee is liable if the health maintenance organization becomes insolvent.

Compiler's Comments
2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 6, Ch. 709, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2026.

33-31-112. Filings and reports as public documents. All applications, filings, and reports required under this chapter, except those that contain trade secrets or privileged or confidential commercial or financial information (other than an annual financial statement that the commissioner may require under 33-31-211), are public documents.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

33-31-113. Confidentiality of medical information. (1) Any data or information pertaining to the diagnosis, treatment, or health of an enrollee or applicant obtained from the enrollee, applicant, or a provider by a health maintenance organization must be held in confidence and may not be disclosed to any person except:

(a) to the extent that it may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter;

(b) upon the express consent of the enrollee or applicant;

(c) pursuant to statute or court order for the production of evidence or the discovery thereof; or

(d) in the event of claim or litigation between the enrollee or applicant and the health maintenance organization wherein the data or information is pertinent.

(2) A health maintenance organization is entitled to claim the same statutory privileges against disclosure that the provider who furnished the information to the health maintenance organization is entitled to claim.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

33-31-114. Coverage for adopted children from time of placement — preexisting conditions. (1) Each health maintenance contract regulated under this chapter must provide coverage for an adopted child of the enrollee to the same extent as for natural children of the enrollee.

(2) The coverage required by this section must be effective from the date of placement for the purpose of adoption and must continue unless the placement is disrupted prior to legal adoption and the child is removed from placement. Coverage at the time of placement must include the necessary care and treatment of medical conditions existing prior to the date of placement.

(3) As used in this section, "placement" has the meaning as defined in 33-22-130.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 387, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 163, Ch. 480, L. 1997.

33-31-115. Applicability to managed health care entity. (1) The department of public health and human services may limit the amount, scope, and duration of services provided by a managed health care entity under contract for programs established under Title 53. These services may be less than services required by this title.

(2) The delivery of programs of managed health care services established under Title 53 by a managed health care entity under contract with the department of public health and human services is exempt from the provisions of 33-31-301 and 33-31-321.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 502, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 577, L. 1999; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 466, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 351, L. 2011.

Part 2
Authorization of Health Maintenance Organizations

33-31-201. Establishment of health maintenance organizations. (1) Notwithstanding any law of this state to the contrary, a person may apply to the commissioner for and obtain a certificate of authority to establish and operate a health maintenance organization in compliance with this chapter. A person may not establish or operate a health maintenance organization in this state except as authorized by a subsisting certificate of authority issued to it by the commissioner. A foreign person may qualify for a certificate of authority if it first registers with the secretary of state to transact business in this state as a foreign corporation under 35-14-1502.

(2) Each application of a health maintenance organization, whether separately licensed or not, for a certificate of authority must:

(a) be verified by an officer or authorized representative of the applicant;

(b) be in a form prescribed by the commissioner;
(c) contain:
(i) the applicant's name;
(ii) the location of the applicant's home office or principal office in the United States, if a foreign person;
(iii) the date of organization or incorporation;
(iv) the form of organization, including whether the providers affiliated with the health maintenance organization will be salaried employees or group or individual contractors;
(v) the state or country of domicile; and
(vi) any additional information that the commissioner may reasonably require; and
(d) set forth the following information or be accompanied by the following documents, as applicable:

(i) a copy of the applicant's organizational documents, such as its corporate charters or articles of incorporation, articles of association, partnership agreement, trust agreement, or other applicable documents, and all amendments to those documents, certified by the public officer with whom the originals were filed in the state or country of domicile;

(ii) a copy of the bylaws, rules, and regulations, or similar document, if any, regulating the conduct of the applicant's internal affairs, certified by its secretary or other officer having custody of the documents;

(iii) a list of the names, addresses, and official positions of the persons responsible for the conduct of the applicant's affairs, including all members of the board of directors, board of trustees, executive committee, or other governing board or committee, the principal officers in the case of a corporation, and the partners or members in the case of a partnership or association;

(iv) a copy of any contract made or to be made between:
(A) any provider and the applicant; or
(B) any person listed in subsection (2)(d)(iii) and the applicant. The applicant may file a list of providers executing a standard contract and a copy of the contract instead of copies of each executed contract.

(v) the extent to which any of the following will be included in provider contracts and the form of any provisions that:

(A) limit a provider's ability to seek reimbursement for basic health care services or health care services from an enrollee;

(B) permit or require a provider to assume a financial risk in the health maintenance organization, including any provisions for assessing the provider, adjusting capitation or fee-for-service rates, or sharing in the earnings or losses; and

(C) govern amending or terminating an agreement with a provider;

(vi) a financial statement showing the applicant's assets, liabilities, and sources of financial support. If the applicant's financial affairs are audited by independent certified public accountants, a copy of the applicant's most recent certified financial statement satisfies this requirement unless the commissioner directs that additional or more recent financial information is required for the proper administration of this chapter.

(vii) a description of the proposed method of marketing, a financial plan that includes a projection of operating results anticipated until the organization has had net income for at least 1 year, and a statement as to the sources of working capital as well as any other source of funding;

(viii) a statement reasonably describing the geographic service area or areas to be served, by county, including:

(A) a chart showing the number of primary and specialty care providers, with locations and service areas by county;

(B) the method of handling emergency care, with the location of each emergency care facility; and

(C) the method of handling out-of-area services;

(ix) a description of the way in which the health maintenance organization provides services to enrollees in each geographic service area, including the extent to which a provider under contract with the health maintenance organization provides primary care to those enrollees;

(x) a description of the complaint procedures to be used as required under 33-31-303;

(xi) a description of the mechanism by which enrollees will be afforded an opportunity to participate in matters of policy and operation under 33-31-222;

(xii) a summary of the way in which administrative services will be provided, including the size and qualifications of the administrative staff and the projected cost of administration in relation to premium income. If the health maintenance organization delegates management authority for a major corporate function to a person outside the organization, the health maintenance organization shall include a copy of the contract in its application for a certificate of authority. Contracts for delegated management authority must be filed with the commissioner in accordance with the filing provisions of 33-31-301(2). However, this subsection (2)(d)(xii) does not deprive the health maintenance organization of its right to confidentiality of any proprietary information, and the commissioner may not disclose that proprietary information to any other person. All contracts must include:

(A) the services to be provided;

(B) the standards of performance for the manager;

(C) the method of payment, including any provisions for the administrator to participate in the profits or losses of the plan;

(D) the duration of the contract; and

(E) any provisions for modifying, terminating, or renewing the contract.

(xiii) a summary of all financial guaranties by providers, sponsors, affiliates, or parents within a holding company system or any other guaranties that are intended to ensure the financial success of the plan, including hold harmless agreements by providers, insolvency insurance, reinsurance, or other guaranties;

(xiv) a summary of benefits to be offered enrollees, including any limitations and exclusions and the renewability of all contracts to be written;

(xv) evidence that it can meet the requirement of 33-31-216(10); and

(xvi) any other information that the commissioner may reasonably require to make the determinations required in 33-31-202.

(3) Each health maintenance organization shall file each substantial change, alteration, or amendment to the information submitted under subsection (2) with the commissioner at least 30 days prior to its effective date, including changes in articles of incorporation and bylaws, organization type, geographic service area, provider contracts, provider availability, plan administration, financial projections and guaranties, and any other change that might affect the financial solvency of the plan. The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, disapprove any proposed change, alteration, or amendment to the business plan. The commissioner may adopt reasonable rules exempting from the filing requirements of this subsection those items that the commissioner considers unnecessary.

(4) An applicant or a health maintenance organization holding a certificate of authority shall file with the commissioner all contracts of reinsurance and any modifications to the contracts. An agreement between a health maintenance organization and an insurer is subject to Title 33, chapter 2, part 12. A reinsurance agreement must remain in full force and effect for at least 90 days following written notice of cancellation by either party by certified mail to the commissioner.

(5) Each health maintenance organization shall maintain at its administrative office and make available to the commissioner upon request executed copies of all provider contracts.

(6) The commissioner may adopt reasonable rules exempting an insurer or health service corporation operating a health maintenance organization as a plan from the filing requirements of this section if information requested in the application has been submitted to the commissioner under other laws and rules administered by the commissioner.

(7) (a) The commissioner may waive the requirements of this section for a PACE organization that has entered into a PACE program agreement pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 1396u-4.

(b) A request for waiver must be submitted in a form prescribed by the commissioner. The waiver application must be filed and approved annually. The annual renewal process must be completed by June 30 of each year.

(c) The factors that the commissioner may take into account when granting a waiver include but are not limited to the financial condition of the PACE organization, any consumer complaints against the PACE organization, and the length of time the PACE organization has been in business.

(d) The PACE organization shall submit an audited financial statement for the organization as a whole and a financial statement for the PACE program specifically with the initial waiver application and annually on June 30. The commissioner may request additional information necessary to evaluate the waiver request.

(e) The waiver automatically expires if the certification of the PACE organization by the centers for medicare and medicaid services or the department of public health and human services expires or is terminated.

(f) The PACE organization shall notify the commissioner within 30 days if the centers for medicare and medicaid services takes adverse action or issues any warnings regarding the continuation of the PACE organization.

(8) (a) (i) The commissioner may waive the requirements of this section for an accountable care organization. Upon establishment of a medicare shared savings program pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 1395jjj, an accountable care organization shall demonstrate compliance with the program requirements in a manner determined by the commissioner.

(ii) The commissioner shall follow the medicare shared savings program structure in developing compliance criteria needed for obtaining a waiver.

(b) A request for waiver must be submitted in a form prescribed by the commissioner. The waiver application must be filed and approved every 3 years. The renewal process must be completed by June 30 of every third year.

(c) The factors that the commissioner may take into account when granting a waiver include but are not limited to the financial condition of the accountable care organization, any consumer complaints against the organization, and the length of time the organization has been in business.

(d) The accountable care organization shall submit an audited financial statement for the organization as a whole and a financial statement for the accountable care organization program specifically with the initial waiver application and annually by June 30. The commissioner may request additional information necessary to evaluate the waiver request.

(e) The waiver automatically expires if certification of the accountable care organization under the medicare shared savings program or the department of public health and human services expires or is terminated.

33-31-202. Issuance of certificate of authority. (1) The commissioner shall issue or deny a certificate of authority to any person filing an application pursuant to 33-31-201 within 180 days after receipt of the application. The commissioner shall grant a certificate of authority upon payment of the application fee prescribed in 33-31-212 if the commissioner is satisfied that each of the following conditions is met:

(a) The persons responsible for the conduct of the applicant's affairs are competent and trustworthy.

(b) The health maintenance organization will effectively provide or arrange for the provision of basic health care services on a prepaid basis, through insurance or otherwise, except to the extent of reasonable requirements for copayments. This requirement does not apply to the physical or mental health care services provided by a health maintenance organization to a person receiving medicaid services under the Montana medicaid program as established in Title 53, chapter 6.

(c) The health maintenance organization is financially responsible and can reasonably be expected to meet its obligations to enrollees and prospective enrollees. In making this determination, the commissioner may consider:

(i) the financial soundness of the arrangements for health care services and the schedule of charges used in connection with the services;

(ii) the adequacy of working capital;

(iii) any agreement with an insurer, a health service corporation, a government, or any other organization for ensuring the payment of the cost of health care services or the provision for automatic applicability of an alternative coverage in the event of discontinuance of the health maintenance organization;

(iv) any agreement with providers for the provision of health care services;
(v) any deposit of cash or securities submitted in accordance with 33-31-216; and
(vi) any additional information that the commissioner may reasonably require.

(d) The enrollees must be afforded an opportunity to participate in matters of policy and operation pursuant to 33-31-222.

(e) Nothing in the proposed method of operation, as shown by the information submitted pursuant to 33-31-201 or by independent investigation, violates any provision of this chapter or rules adopted by the commissioner.

(2) The commissioner may deny a certificate of authority only if the requirements of 33-31-404 are complied with.

(3) The commissioner shall examine each health maintenance organization applying for an initial certificate of authority to do business in this state. In lieu of making an examination under this part of any health maintenance organization domiciled in another state, the commissioner may accept an examination report on the organization prepared by the insurance department of the organization's state of domicile.

33-31-203. Powers of insurers and health service corporations. (1) An insurer authorized to transact insurance in this state or a health service corporation authorized to do business in this state may, either directly or through a subsidiary or affiliate, organize and operate a health maintenance organization under the provisions of this chapter. Notwithstanding any other law which may be inconsistent with this section, two or more insurers, health service corporations, or subsidiaries or affiliates thereof may jointly organize and operate a health maintenance organization. The business of insurance is considered to include the provision of health care services by a health maintenance organization owned or operated by an insurer or a subsidiary thereof.

(2) Notwithstanding any insurance or health service corporation laws, an insurer or a health service corporation may contract with a health maintenance organization to provide insurance or similar protection against the cost of care provided through a health maintenance organization and to provide coverage if the health maintenance organization fails to meet its obligations.

(3) The enrollees of a health maintenance organization constitute a permissible group under this title. The insurer or health service corporation may make benefit payments to health maintenance organizations for health care services rendered by providers under the contracts described in subsection (2).

(4) Nothing in this section exempts a health maintenance organization that provides health care services from complying with the applicable certificate of need requirements under Title 50, chapter 5, parts 1 and 3.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

33-31-204. Acquisition, control, or merger of a health maintenance organization. (1) Except as provided in 33-2-1106 and subsection (2) of this section, a person may not tender for, request, or invite tenders of, or enter into an agreement to exchange securities for or acquire in the open market or otherwise, any voting security of a health maintenance organization or enter into any other agreement if, after the consummation of the agreement, that person would, directly or indirectly, or by conversion or by exercise of any right to acquire, be in control of the health maintenance organization.

(2) A person may not enter into an agreement to merge or consolidate with or otherwise to acquire control of a health maintenance organization, unless, at the time any offer, request, or invitation is made or any agreement is entered into, or prior to the acquisition of the securities if no offer or agreement is involved, the acquiring person has filed with the commissioner and has sent to the health maintenance organization information required by 33-2-1104 and the commissioner has approved the offer, request, invitation, agreement, or acquisition pursuant to 33-2-1105.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 457, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 39, Ch. 370, L. 2015.

33-31-211. Annual statements — revocation for failure to file — penalty for false swearing. (1) Unless it is operated by an insurer or a health service corporation as a plan, each authorized health maintenance organization shall annually on or before March 1 file with the commissioner a full and true statement of its financial condition, transactions, and affairs as of the preceding December 31. The statement must be in the general form and content required by the commissioner. The statement must be completed in accordance with the national association of insurance commissioners' annual statement instructions and the Accounting Practices and Procedures Manual of the national association of insurance commissioners. The statement must be verified by the oath of at least two principal officers of the health maintenance organization. The commissioner may waive any verification under oath.

(2) In addition to the annual statement and unless it is operated by an insurer or a health service corporation as a plan, each authorized health maintenance organization shall file quarterly financial statements electronically with the national association of insurance commissioners. The dates for the electronic submission of the quarterly financial statements are March 1 for the first quarter, May 15 for the second quarter, August 15 for the third quarter, and November 15 for the fourth quarter.

(3) At the time of filing the annual statement required by March 1, the health maintenance organization shall pay the commissioner the fee for filing the statement as prescribed in 33-31-212. The commissioner may refuse to accept the fee for continuance of the insurer's certificate of authority, as provided in 33-31-212, may impose a penalty of $100, or may suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of a health maintenance organization that fails to file an annual statement when due. Each day that the insurer fails to file its annual statement constitutes a separate violation. The total penalty may not exceed $1,000.

(4) The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, impose a fine not to exceed $5,000 for each violation upon a director, officer, partner, member, insurance producer, or employee of a health maintenance organization who knowingly subscribes to or concurs in making or publishing an annual statement or quarterly financial statement required by law that contains a material statement that is false.

(5) The commissioner may require reports considered reasonably necessary and appropriate to enable the commissioner to carry out the duties required of the commissioner under this chapter, including but not limited to a statement of operations, transactions, and affairs of a health maintenance organization operated by an insurer or a health service corporation as a plan.

33-31-212. Fees. (1) Each health maintenance organization shall pay to the commissioner the following fees:

(a) for filing an application for a certificate of authority or amendment to a certificate of authority, $300;

(b) for filing an amendment to the organization documents that requires approval, $25;

(c) for filing each annual statement, $25;

(d) for annual continuation of certificate of authority, $300.

(2) All fees, miscellaneous charges, fines, penalties, and those amounts received pursuant to 33-31-211(4) and 33-31-405 collected by the commissioner pursuant to this chapter and the rules adopted under this chapter must be deposited in the state special revenue fund to the credit of the state auditor's office.

33-31-215. Investment regulations. Except for a health maintenance organization operated as a plan by a health service corporation, a domestic health maintenance organization may invest its funds only as prescribed in chapter 12.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 457, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 49, Ch. 304, L. 1999.

33-31-216. Protection against insolvency. (1) Except as provided in subsections (4) through (7), each authorized health maintenance organization shall deposit with the commissioner cash, securities, or any combination of cash or securities acceptable to the commissioner in the amount set forth in this section.

(2) The amount of the deposit for a health maintenance organization during the first year of its operation is $200,000.

(3) At the beginning of each succeeding year, unless not applicable, the health maintenance organization shall deposit with the commissioner cash, securities, or any combination of cash or securities acceptable to the commissioner, in an amount equal to 4% of its estimated annual uncovered expenditures for that year.

(4) Unless not applicable, a health maintenance organization that is in operation on October 1, 1987, shall make a deposit equal to the greater of:

(a) 1% of the preceding 12 months' uncovered expenditures; or

(b) 4% of its estimated annual uncovered expenditures for each year.

(5) The commissioner may waive any of the deposit requirements set forth in subsections (1) through (4) whenever the commissioner is satisfied that:

(a) the health maintenance organization has sufficient net worth and an adequate history of generating net income to ensure its financial viability for the next year;

(b) the health maintenance organization's performance and obligations are guaranteed by an organization with sufficient net worth and an adequate history of generating net income; or

(c) the health maintenance organization's assets or its contracts with insurers, health service corporations, governments, or other organizations are reasonably sufficient to ensure the performance of its obligations.

(6) When a health maintenance organization achieves a net worth not including land, buildings, and equipment of at least $1 million or achieves a net worth including organization-related land, buildings, and equipment of at least $5 million, the annual deposit requirement under subsection (3) does not apply. The annual deposit requirement under subsection (3) does not apply to a health maintenance organization if the total amount of the accumulated deposit is greater than the capital requirement for the formation or admittance of a disability insurer in this state. If the health maintenance organization has a guaranteeing organization that has been in operation for at least 5 years and has a net worth not including land, buildings, and equipment of at least $1 million or that has been in operation for at least 10 years and has a net worth including organization-related land, buildings, and equipment of at least $5 million, the annual deposit requirement under subsection (3) does not apply. If the guaranteeing organization is sponsoring more than one health maintenance organization, however, the net worth requirement is increased by a multiple equal to the number of those health maintenance organizations. This requirement to maintain a deposit in excess of the deposit required of a disability insurer does not apply during any time that the guaranteeing organization maintains for each health maintenance organization it sponsors a net worth at least equal to the capital and surplus requirements for a disability insurer.

(7) All income from deposits belongs to the depositing health maintenance organization and must be paid to it as it becomes available. A health maintenance organization that has made a securities deposit may withdraw the deposit or any part of it after making a substitute deposit of cash, securities, or any combination of cash or securities of equal amount and value. A health maintenance organization may not substitute securities without prior approval by the commissioner.

(8) In any year in which an annual deposit is not required of a health maintenance organization, at the health maintenance organization's request, the commissioner shall reduce the previously accumulated deposit by $100,000 for each $250,000 of net worth in excess of the amount that allows the health maintenance organization to be exempt from the annual deposit requirement. If the amount of net worth no longer supports a reduction of its required deposit, the health maintenance organization shall immediately redeposit $100,000 for each $250,000 of reduction in net worth. However, the health maintenance organization's total deposit may not be required to exceed the maximum required under this section.

(9) (a) Subject to subsection (9)(b) and unless it is operated by an insurer or a health service corporation as a plan, each health maintenance organization must have a minimum capital of at least $200,000 in addition to any deposit requirements under this section. The capital account must be in excess of any accrued liabilities and be in the form of cash, securities, or any combination of cash or securities acceptable to the commissioner.

(b) A health maintenance organization licensed under this chapter after October 1, 1999, must have a minimum capital of at least $750,000. The amount required to be deposited with the commissioner under subsection (2) must be included in the calculation of the capital needed to meet the $750,000 minimum.

(10) Each health maintenance organization shall demonstrate that if it becomes insolvent:

(a) enrollees hospitalized on the date of insolvency will be covered until discharged; and

(b) enrollees will be entitled to similar alternate insurance coverage that does not contain any medical underwriting or preexisting limitation requirements.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 457, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 6, Ch. 413, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 59, Ch. 472, L. 1999.

33-31-221. Powers of health maintenance organizations. (1) The powers of a health maintenance organization include but are not limited to the following:

(a) the purchase, lease, construction, renovation, operation, or maintenance of a hospital, a medical facility, or both, its ancillary equipment, and property that may reasonably be required for its principal office or for purposes that may be necessary in the transaction of the business of the organization;

(b) the making of loans to a medical group under contract with it in furtherance of its program or the making of loans to a corporation under its control for the purpose of acquiring or constructing a medical facility or hospital or in furtherance of a program providing health care services to enrollees;

(c) the furnishing of health care services through a provider who is under contract with or employed by the health maintenance organization;

(d) the contracting with a person for the performance on its behalf of certain functions, such as marketing, enrollment, and administration;

(e) the contracting with an insurer authorized to transact insurance in this state, or with a health service corporation authorized to do business in this state, for the provision of insurance, indemnity, or reimbursement against the cost of health care services provided by the health maintenance organization; and

(f) the offering of other health care services in addition to basic health care services.

(2) A health maintenance organization shall file notice, with adequate supporting information, with the commissioner before exercising a power granted in subsection (1)(a), (1)(b), or (1)(d). The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, within 60 days disapprove the exercise of a power under subsection (1)(a), (1)(b), or (1)(d) only if, in the commissioner's opinion, it would substantially and adversely affect the financial soundness of the health maintenance organization and endanger its ability to meet its obligations. The commissioner may make reasonable rules exempting from the filing requirement of this subsection those activities having a de minimis effect. The commissioner may exempt certain contracts from the filing requirement whenever exercise of the authority granted in this section would have little or no effect on the health maintenance organization's financial condition and ability to meet obligations.

(3) This section does not exempt the activities of a health maintenance organization from any applicable certificate of need requirements under Title 50, chapter 5, parts 1 and 3.

33-31-222. Governing body. (1) The governing body of a health maintenance organization may include providers or other individuals, or both.

(2) The governing body shall establish a mechanism to give the enrollees an opportunity to participate in matters of policy and operation through the establishment of advisory panels, by the use of advisory referenda on major policy decisions, or through the use of other mechanisms.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

33-31-223. Fiduciary responsibilities. (1) Any director, officer, employee, or partner of a health maintenance organization who receives, collects, disburses, or invests funds in connection with the activities of the health maintenance organization is responsible for the funds in the manner of a fiduciary to the health maintenance organization.

(2) A health maintenance organization shall maintain in force a fidelity bond on employees and officers in an amount not less than $100,000 or such other sum as may be prescribed by the commissioner. Each bond must be written with at least a 1-year discovery period and, if written with less than a 3-year discovery period, must contain a provision that a cancellation or termination of the bond, whether by or at the request of the insured or by the underwriter, may not take effect prior to the expiration of 90 days after written notice of the cancellation or termination has been filed with the commissioner unless the commissioner approves an earlier cancellation or termination date.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

Operations

33-31-301. Evidence of coverage — schedule of charges for health care services. (1) Each enrollee residing in this state is entitled to an evidence of coverage. The health maintenance organization shall issue the evidence of coverage, except that if the enrollee obtains coverage through an insurance policy issued by an insurer or a contract issued by a health service corporation, whether by option or otherwise, the insurer or the health service corporation shall issue the evidence of coverage.

(2) A health maintenance organization may not issue or deliver an enrollment form, an evidence of coverage, or an amendment to an approved enrollment form or evidence of coverage to a person in this state before a copy of the enrollment form, the evidence of coverage, or the amendment to the approved enrollment form or evidence of coverage is filed with and approved by the commissioner in accordance with 33-1-501.

(3) An evidence of coverage issued or delivered to a person resident in this state may not contain a provision or statement that is untrue, misleading, or deceptive as defined in 33-31-312(1). The evidence of coverage must contain:

(a) a clear and concise statement, if a contract, or a reasonably complete summary, if a certificate, of:

(i) the health care services and the insurance or other benefits, if any, to which the enrollee is entitled;

(ii) any limitations on the services, kinds of services, or benefits to be provided, including any deductible or copayment feature;

(iii) the location at which and the manner in which information is available as to how services may be obtained;

(iv) the total amount of payment for health care services and the indemnity or service benefits, if any, that the enrollee is obligated to pay with respect to individual contracts; and

(v) a clear and understandable description of the health maintenance organization's method for resolving enrollee complaints;

(b) definitions of geographical service area, emergency care, urgent care, out-of-area services, dependent, and primary provider if these terms or terms of similar meaning are used in the evidence of coverage and have an effect on the benefits covered by the plan. The definition of geographical service area need not be stated in the text of the evidence of coverage if the definition is adequately described in an attachment that is given to each enrollee along with the evidence of coverage.

(c) clear disclosure of each provision that limits benefits or access to service in the exclusions, limitations, and exceptions sections of the evidence of coverage. The exclusions, limitations, and exceptions that must be disclosed include but are not limited to:

(i) emergency and urgent care;

(ii) restrictions on the selection of primary or referral providers;

(iii) restrictions on changing providers during the contract period;

(iv) out-of-pocket costs, including copayments and deductibles;

(v) charges for missed appointments or other administrative sanctions;

(vi) restrictions on access to care if copayments or other charges are not paid; and

(vii) any restrictions on coverage for dependents who do not reside in the service area.

(d) clear disclosure of any benefits for home health care, skilled nursing care, kidney disease treatment, diabetes, maternity benefits for dependent children, alcoholism and other drug abuse, and nervous and mental disorders;

(e) a provision requiring immediate accident and sickness coverage, from and after the moment of birth, to each newborn infant of an enrollee or the enrollee's dependents;

(f) a provision providing coverage as required in 33-22-133;

(g) a provision requiring medical treatment and referral services to appropriate ancillary services for mental illness and for the abuse of or addiction to alcohol or drugs in accordance with the limits and coverage provided in Title 33, chapter 22, part 7; however:

(i) after the primary care physician refers an enrollee for treatment of and appropriate ancillary services for mental illness, alcoholism, or drug addiction, the health maintenance organization may not limit the enrollee to a health maintenance organization provider for the treatment of and appropriate ancillary services for mental illness, alcoholism, or drug addiction;

(ii) if an enrollee chooses a provider other than the health maintenance organization provider for treatment and referral services, the enrollee's designated provider shall limit treatment and services to the scope of the referral in order to receive payment from the health maintenance organization;

(iii) the amount paid by the health maintenance organization to the enrollee's designated provider may not exceed the amount paid by the health maintenance organization to one of its providers for equivalent treatment or services;

(iv) the provisions of this subsection (3)(g) do not apply to services for mental illness provided under the Montana medicaid program as established in Title 53, chapter 6;

(h) a provision requiring coverage for well-child care for children from the moment of birth through at least 7 years of age, including:

(i) a history, a physical examination, developmental assessment and anticipatory guidance, as those terms are defined in 33-22-303, and laboratory tests, according to the schedule of visits adopted under the early and periodic screening, diagnosis, and treatment services program provided for in 53-6-101; and

(ii) routine immunizations according to the schedule recommended by the immunization practices advisory committee of the U.S. department of health and human services;

(i) a provision as follows:

"Conformity With State Statutes: Any provision of this evidence of coverage that on its effective date is in conflict with the statutes of the state in which the insured resides on that date is amended to conform to the minimum requirements of those statutes."

(j) a provision that the health maintenance organization shall issue, without evidence of insurability, to the enrollee, dependents, or family members continuing coverage on the enrollee, dependents, or family members:

(i) if the evidence of coverage or any portion of it on an enrollee, dependents, or family members covered under the evidence of coverage ceases because of termination of employment or termination of membership in the class or classes eligible for coverage under the policy or because the employer discontinues the business or the coverage;

(ii) if the enrollee had been enrolled in the health maintenance organization for a period of 3 months preceding the termination of group coverage; and

(iii) if the enrollee applied for continuing coverage within 31 days after the termination of group coverage. The conversion contract may not exclude, as a preexisting condition, any condition covered by the group contract from which the enrollee converts.

(k) a provision that clearly describes the amount of money an enrollee shall pay to the health maintenance organization to be covered for basic health care services.

(4) A health maintenance organization may amend an enrollment form or an evidence of coverage in a separate document if the separate document is filed with and approved by the commissioner in accordance with 33-1-501 and issued to the enrollee.

(5) (a) A health maintenance organization shall provide the same coverage for newborn infants, required by subsection (3)(e), as it provides for enrollees, except that for newborn infants, there may be no waiting or elimination periods. A health maintenance organization may not assess a deductible or reduce benefits applicable to the coverage for newborn infants unless the deductible or reduction in benefits is consistent with the deductible or reduction in benefits applicable to all covered persons.

(b) A health maintenance organization may not issue or amend an evidence of coverage in this state if it contains any disclaimer, waiver, or other limitation of coverage relative to the accident and sickness coverage or insurability of newborn infants of an enrollee or dependents from and after the moment of birth.

(c) If a health maintenance organization requires payment of a specific fee to provide coverage of a newborn infant beyond 31 days of the date of birth of the infant, the evidence of coverage may contain a provision that requires notification to the health maintenance organization, within 31 days after the date of birth, of the birth of an infant and payment of the required fee.

(6) The provisions of 33-1-501 govern the filing and approval of health maintenance organization forms.

(7) The commissioner may require a health maintenance organization to submit any relevant information considered necessary in determining whether to approve or disapprove a filing made pursuant to this section.

(8) Prior to issuance of evidence of coverage, written informational materials describing the contract's cancer screening coverages must be provided to a potential applicant. The informational materials are not subject to filing with and approval of the insurance commissioner.

33-31-302. Information to enrollees. Each authorized health maintenance organization shall provide to its enrollees 30 days' advance notice in writing of any material change in the operation of the health maintenance organization that will affect them directly.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

33-31-303. Complaint system. (1) (a) Each authorized health maintenance organization shall establish and maintain a complaint system to provide reasonable procedures to resolve written complaints initiated by enrollees. A health maintenance organization may not use a complaint system:

(i) before the commissioner approves it; and

(ii) unless the health maintenance organization describes it in each evidence of coverage issued or delivered to an enrollee in this state.

(b) Each time the health maintenance organization denies a claim or initiates disenrollment, cancellation, or nonrenewal, it shall notify the affected enrollee of the right to file a complaint and the procedure for filing a complaint.

(c) Each health maintenance organization shall acknowledge a complaint within 10 days of receiving it.

(d) Each health maintenance organization shall retain records of all complaints for 3 years and shall develop a summary for each year that must include:

(i) a description of the procedures of the complaint system;

(ii) the total number of complaints handled through the complaint system, a compilation of causes underlying the complaints filed, the date on which each complaint was filed, the date on which each complaint was resolved, the disposition of each complaint filed, the time it took to process each complaint, and a summary of each administrative change made because of a complaint; and

(iii) the number, amount, and disposition of malpractice claims made by enrollees of the health maintenance organization that were settled during the year by the health maintenance organization.

(e) The health maintenance organization shall annually on or before March 1 file with the commissioner the summary described in subsection (1)(d) for the preceding year.

(2) The commissioner shall hold in confidence the information provided by the health maintenance organization pursuant to subsection (1)(d)(iii).

(3) The commissioner may examine a complaint system.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

33-31-304. Dual choice. An employer in this state that offers its employees the option to enroll in a health maintenance organization and an employee benefit fund in this state that offers its members the option to enroll in a health maintenance organization may not be required to pay more for health benefits provided by the health maintenance organization than it would otherwise be required to provide by any prevailing collective bargaining agreement or other contract for the provision of health benefits to its employees, if the employer or benefits fund pays to the health maintenance organization chosen by each employee or member an amount equal to the lesser of:

(1) the amount paid on behalf of its other employees or members of health benefits; or

(2) the health maintenance organization's charge for coverage approved by the commissioner pursuant to 33-31-301.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 457, L. 1987.

33-31-305. Dentist participation as provider. A contract for dental care services through a health maintenance organization that is offered, delivered, or renewed under this chapter must allow a dentist to request participation as a provider on the same terms and conditions as those by which other dentists participate. This opportunity for participation must be offered for each contract or plan. Each contract or plan must provide at least one annual period during which a dentist may exercise this right.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 265, L. 1989.

33-31-306. Point-of-service option. (1) (a) A health maintenance organization that has at least 10,000 enrollees shall offer a point-of-service option benefit plan to each purchaser of a health care services agreement. The purchaser may accept or reject the addition of a point-of-service option to the health care services agreement.

(b) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a), an enrollee does not include an individual receiving medicaid services under the Montana medicaid program provided for in Title 53, chapter 6, or an individual participating in an approved medicare risk contract administered by a licensed health maintenance organization.

(2) Any difference in premium charged for the point-of-service option benefit plan compared to the premium for a standard health care services agreement may not exceed the expected cost to the insurer of benefits and expenses based on sound actuarial principles.

(3) This section may not be construed to permit a health maintenance organization to offer stand-alone indemnity insurance coverage.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 165, L. 1997.

33-31-307. Affiliation periods. (1) A health maintenance organization that offers health insurance coverage in connection with a group health plan and that does not impose a preexisting condition exclusion allowed by 33-22-246 or 33-22-514 with respect to any particular coverage option may impose an affiliation period for that coverage option if:

(a) the affiliation period is applied uniformly without regard to any health status-related factors; and

(b) the affiliation period does not exceed 2 months, or 3 months in the case of a late enrollee, as defined in 33-22-140.

(2) A health maintenance organization is not required to provide health care services or benefits during the affiliation period, and a premium may not be charged to the participant or beneficiary for any coverage during the affiliation period. An affiliation period begins on the enrollment date and runs concurrently with any waiting period under the plan.

(3) A health maintenance organization may use a method other than an affiliation period to address adverse selection if the method is approved by the commissioner.

(4) The definitions in 33-22-140 apply to this section.

History: En. Sec. 43, Ch. 416, L. 1997.

33-31-311. Insurance producer license required. An individual or business entity may not act as or represent to the public that the individual or business entity is an insurance producer for a health maintenance organization unless the individual or business entity is:

(1) licensed as a disability insurance producer by the commissioner pursuant to Title 33, chapter 17, parts 1, 2, 4, and 10 through 12, or licensed as an insurance producer as provided in 33-30-311; and

(2) appointed or authorized by the health maintenance organization or other health insurance issuer to sell, solicit, or negotiate health care service agreements on its behalf.

33-31-312. Prohibited practices. (1) A health maintenance organization or representative of a health maintenance organization may not cause or knowingly permit the use of advertising that is untrue or misleading, solicitation that is untrue or misleading, or any form of evidence of coverage that is deceptive. For purposes of this chapter:

(a) a statement or item of information is considered to be misleading, whether or not it may be literally untrue if, in the total context in which the statement is made or the item of information is communicated, a reasonable person not possessing special knowledge regarding health care coverage may reasonably understand the statement or item of information as indicating a benefit or advantage or the absence of an exclusion, limitation, or disadvantage of possible significance to an enrollee of or person considering enrollment in a health maintenance organization if the benefit or advantage or absence of limitation, exclusion, or disadvantage does not in fact exist; and

(b) an evidence of coverage is considered to be deceptive if, when taken as a whole and with consideration given to typography, format, and language, it can cause a reasonable person not possessing special knowledge regarding health maintenance organizations to expect benefits, services, charges, or other advantages that the evidence of coverage does not provide or that the health maintenance organization issuing the evidence of coverage does not regularly make available to enrollees covered under the evidence of coverage.

(2) Title 33, chapter 18, applies to health maintenance organizations and evidences of coverage issued by a health maintenance organization, except to the extent that the commissioner determines that the nature of health maintenance organizations and evidences of coverage render the chapter clearly inappropriate.

(3) A health maintenance organization shall clearly disclose in the evidence of coverage the circumstances under which it may disenroll, cancel, or refuse to renew an enrollee. A health maintenance organization may disenroll, cancel, or refuse to renew an enrollee only if the enrollee:

(a) has failed to pay required premiums by the end of the grace period;

(b) has committed acts of physical or verbal abuse that pose a threat to providers or other enrollees of the health maintenance organization;

(c) has allowed a nonenrollee to use the health maintenance organization's certification card to obtain services or has knowingly provided fraudulent information in applying for coverage;

(d) has moved outside of the geographical service area of the health maintenance organization;

(e) has violated rules of the health maintenance organization stated in the evidence of coverage;

(f) has violated rules adopted by the commissioner for enrollment in a health maintenance organization; or

(g) is unable to establish or maintain a satisfactory physician-patient relationship with the physician responsible for the enrollee's care. Disenrollment of an enrollee for this reason must be permitted only if the health maintenance organization can demonstrate that it provided the enrollee with the opportunity to select an alternate primary care physician, made a reasonable effort to assist the enrollee in establishing a satisfactory physician-patient relationship, and informed the enrollee that the enrollee may file a grievance on this matter.

(4) A health maintenance organization may not disenroll an enrollee under subsection (3) for reasons related to the physical or mental condition of the enrollee or for any of the following reasons:

(a) failure of the enrollee to follow a prescribed course of treatment; or

(b) administrative actions, such as failure to keep an appointment.

(5) (a) A health maintenance organization that disenrolls a group certificate holder for any reason not listed in subsection (3) or provided in rules adopted by the commissioner shall make arrangements to provide similar alternate insurance coverage to enrollees. The insurance coverage must be continued until the disenrolled group certificate holder finds its own coverage or a period of 12 months elapses, whichever comes first. The premium on the individual coverage must be at the then-customary rate applicable to the individual coverage offered by the insurer, health service corporation, or health maintenance organization that provides the alternate insurance coverage.

(b) If a health maintenance organization disenrolls an enrollee covered on an individual basis for any reason not listed in subsection (3) or provided in rules adopted by the commissioner, coverage must be continued until the anniversary date of the policy or for 1 year, whichever is earlier. A health maintenance organization that disenrolls an individual enrollee for failure to pay a required premium or for fraudulent statements on the enrollment form need not provide alternate insurance coverage to that enrollee.

(6) A health maintenance organization may not refer to itself as an insurer unless licensed as an insurer or use a name deceptively similar to the name or description of an insurer authorized to transact insurance in this state.

(7) A person may not refer to itself as a health maintenance organization or HMO unless it holds a valid certificate of authority issued by the commissioner.

33-31-313. Premium increase restriction — exception. (1) A health maintenance organization may not increase a premium for an individual's or an individual's group health care services agreement more frequently than once during a 12-month period unless failure to increase the premium more frequently than once during the 12-month period would:

(a) place the health maintenance organization in violation of the laws of this state; or

(b) cause the financial impairment of the health maintenance organization to the extent that further transaction of insurance by the health maintenance organization would injure or be hazardous to its enrollees or to the public.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a premium increase necessitated by a state or federal law, by a court decision, by a state rule, or by a federal regulation.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 413, L. 1997.

33-31-321. Disclosure standards — health maintenance organizations. (1) In order to provide for full and fair disclosure in the sale of disability insurance, an enrollment form or evidence of coverage may not be delivered or issued for delivery in this state by a health maintenance organization unless an outline of coverage is delivered to the applicant at the time the application is made. The outline of coverage must be filed with the commissioner as required by 33-1-501.

(2) The outline of coverage must include:

(a) a general description of the principal benefits and coverages provided by the policy;

(b) a general description of the insureds financial responsibility under the policy, including, if applicable, the amount of the deductible, the amount or percentage of copayment, and the maximum annual out-of-pocket expenses to be paid by the insured;

(c) a statement of the maximum lifetime benefit available under the policy;

(d) a statement of the estimated periodic premium to be paid by the insured;

(e) a general description of the factors or case characteristics that the insurer may consider in establishing or changing the premiums and, if applicable, in determining the insurability of the applicant; and

(f) a general description of the trend of premium increases or decreases for comparable policies issued by the insurer during the preceding 5 years, if the trend data is available.

(3) The outline of coverage may include any other information that the insurer considers relevant to the applicant's selection of an appropriate health benefit plan.

(4) An insurer or producer shall provide to an individual, upon request, an outline of coverage for any health benefit product marketed to the general public. The outline of coverage provided under this subsection may exclude the statement of the estimated periodic premium to be paid by the insured.

Part 4
Supervision, Rehabilitation, and Liquidation

33-31-401. Examination. (1) The commissioner may examine the affairs of a health maintenance organization as often as is reasonably necessary to protect the interests of the people of this state. The commissioner shall make an examination at least once every 5 years. Similarly, the commissioner shall examine a health maintenance organization operated by an insurer or health service corporation as a plan at least once every 5 years. The provisions of 33-1-408 and 33-1-409 apply to examinations under this section.

(2) Each authorized health maintenance organization and provider shall submit its relevant books and records for the examinations and in every way facilitate the examinations. For the purpose of examination, the commissioner may administer oaths to and examine the officers and insurance producers of the health maintenance organization and the principals of the providers concerning their business.

(3) (a) Upon presentation of a detailed account of the charges and expenses of examinations by the commissioner, the health maintenance organization being examined shall pay to the examiner as necessarily incurred on account of the examination the actual travel expenses, a reasonable living-expense allowance, and a per diem, all at reasonable rates customary therefor and as established or adopted by the commissioner. The commissioner may present an account periodically during the course of the examination or at the termination of the examination as the commissioner considers proper. A person may not pay and an examiner may not accept any additional emolument on account of any examination.

(b) If a health maintenance organization fails to pay the charges and expenses as referred to in subsection (3)(a), the commissioner shall pay them out of the funds of the commissioner in the same manner as other disbursements of funds. The amount paid is a lien upon all of the person's assets and property in this state and may be recovered by suit by the attorney general on behalf of the state and restored to the appropriate fund.

(4) In lieu of an examination, the commissioner may accept the report of an examination made by the commissioner of another state.

33-31-402. Suspension or revocation of certificate of authority. (1) The commissioner may suspend or revoke any certificate of authority issued to a health maintenance organization under this chapter if the commissioner finds that any of the following conditions exist:

(a) The health maintenance organization is operating in contravention of its basic organizational document or in a manner contrary to that described in any other information submitted under 33-31-201 and the operation adversely affects the health maintenance organization's ability to provide benefits and operate under the application approved by the commissioner, unless amendments to the submissions have been filed with and approved by the commissioner.

(b) The health maintenance organization issues evidences of coverage or uses a schedule of charges for health care services that do not comply with the requirements of 33-31-301.

(c) The health maintenance organization does not provide or arrange for basic health care services.

(d) The health maintenance organization is no longer financially responsible and may reasonably be expected to be unable to meet its obligations to enrollees or prospective enrollees.

(e) The health maintenance organization has failed to implement a mechanism affording the enrollees an opportunity to participate in matters of policy and operation under 33-31-222.

(f) The health maintenance organization has failed to implement the complaint system required by 33-31-303 to resolve valid complaints in a reasonable manner.

(g) The health maintenance organization or any person on its behalf has advertised or merchandised its services in an untrue, misrepresentative, misleading, deceptive, or unfair manner.

(h) The continued operation of the health maintenance organization would be hazardous to its enrollees.

(i) The health maintenance organization has otherwise failed to substantially comply with this chapter.

(2) The commissioner may suspend or revoke a certificate of authority only if the commissioner complies with the requirements of 33-31-404.

(3) When the certificate of authority of a health maintenance organization is suspended, the health maintenance organization may not, during the period of suspension, enroll any additional enrollees except newborn infants or other newly acquired dependents of existing enrollees and may not engage in any advertising or solicitation.

(4) If the commissioner revokes the certificate of authority of a health maintenance organization, the health maintenance organization shall proceed, immediately following the effective date of the order of revocation, to wind up its affairs and may not transact further business except as may be essential to the orderly conclusion of its affairs. It may not engage in further advertising or solicitation following the effective date of the order of revocation. The commissioner may by written order permit further operation of the health maintenance organization if the commissioner finds further operation to be in the best interest of enrollees to the extent that enrollees will be afforded the greatest practical opportunity to obtain continuing health care coverage.

33-31-403. Supervision, rehabilitation, or liquidation of health maintenance organization. (1) The supervision, rehabilitation, or liquidation of a health maintenance organization is considered to be the supervision, rehabilitation, or liquidation of an insurer and must be conducted under the supervision of the commissioner pursuant to chapter 2, part 13. The commissioner may apply for an order directing the commissioner to supervise, rehabilitate, or liquidate a health maintenance organization upon any one or more grounds set out in 33-2-1321, 33-2-1331, or 33-2-1341 or when in the commissioner's opinion the continued operation of the health maintenance organization would be hazardous either to the enrollees or to the people of this state. Enrollees have the same priority in the event of liquidation or rehabilitation as the law provides to policyholders of an insurer.

(2) A claim by a health care provider for an uncovered expenditure has the same priority as a claim by an enrollee if the provider of services agrees not to assert the claim against any enrollee of the health maintenance organization.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 457, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 1253, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-31-404. Administrative procedures. (1) When the commissioner has cause to believe that grounds for the denial of an application for a certificate of authority exist or that grounds for the suspension or revocation of a certificate of authority exist, the commissioner shall give written notice to the health maintenance organization specifically stating the grounds for denial, suspension, or revocation and fixing a time of at least 30 days after the notice for a hearing on the matter.

(2) After the hearing or upon the failure of the health maintenance organization to appear at the hearing, the commissioner shall make written findings and act as the commissioner considers advisable. The commissioner shall mail the written findings to the health maintenance organization. The action of the commissioner is subject to review by the district court having jurisdiction. The court may, in disposing of the issue before it, modify, affirm, or reverse the order of the commissioner in whole or in part.

(3) When notice and hearing are required with regard to actions taken by the commissioner under this chapter, the requirements of 33-1-314 through 33-1-316 and Title 33, chapter 1, part

7, apply, except that the formal rules of pleading and evidence must be observed. To the extent that 33-1-314 through 33-1-316 and Title 33, chapter 1, part 7, do not address the notice and hearing requirements of this chapter, the provisions of Title 2, chapter 4, parts 6 and 7, apply.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 457, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 437, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1254, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

33-31-405. Penalties and enforcement. (1) The commissioner may, in addition to suspension or revocation of a certificate of authority under 33-31-402, after notice and hearing, impose an administrative penalty in an amount not less than $500 or more than $10,000 if the commissioner gives reasonable notice in writing of the intent to levy the penalty and the health maintenance organization has a reasonable time within which to remedy the defect in its operations that gave rise to the penalty citation.

(2) If the commissioner has cause to believe that a violation of this chapter has occurred or is threatened, the commissioner may:

(a) give notice to the health maintenance organization and to the representatives or other persons who appear to be involved in the suspected violation;

(b) arrange a conference with the alleged violators or their authorized representatives to attempt to ascertain the facts relating to the suspected violation; and

(c) if it appears that a violation has occurred or is threatened, arrive at an adequate and effective means of correcting or preventing the violation.

(3) (a) The commissioner may issue an order directing a health maintenance organization or its representative to cease and desist from engaging in an act or practice in violation of this chapter.

(b) Within 15 days after service of the cease and desist order, the respondent may request a hearing to determine whether acts or practices in violation of this chapter have occurred. The hearing must be conducted pursuant to Title 2, chapter 4, part 6, and judicial review must be available as provided by Title 2, chapter 4, part 7.

(4) If a health maintenance organization violates a provision of this chapter and the commissioner elects not to issue a cease and desist order or if the respondent does not comply with a cease and desist order issued pursuant to subsection (3), the commissioner may institute a proceeding to obtain injunctive or other appropriate relief in the district court of Lewis and Clark County.

History: En. Sec. 23, Ch. 457, L. 1987; amd. Sec. 9, Ch. 437, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1255, Ch. 56, L. 2009.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-32-101. Purpose. The legislature finds and declares that it is the purpose of this chapter to:

(1) promote the delivery of quality health care in a cost-effective manner;

(2) foster greater coordination between health care providers, third-party payors, and others who conduct utilization review activities;

(3) ensure timely access to health care services;

(4) preserve the integrity of the health care provider and patient relationship;

(5) protect patients, employers, and health care providers by:

(a) ensuring that utilization review activities result in informed decisions on the appropriateness of medical care made by those best qualified to be involved in the utilization review process; and

(b) establishing the use of written clinical criteria for utilization review programs and reviews by appropriate health care providers to ensure a fair and transparent process for patients; and

(6) establish written standards and clinical criteria for the structure and operation of utilization review and benefit determination processes designed to facilitate ongoing assessment and management of health care services.

33-32-102. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Adverse determination", except as provided in 33-32-402, means:

(a) a determination by a health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization that, based on the provided information and after application of any utilization review technique, a requested benefit under the health insurance issuer's health plan is denied, reduced, or terminated or that payment is not made in whole or in part for the requested benefit because the requested benefit does not meet the health insurance issuer's requirement for medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care, or level of effectiveness or is determined to be experimental or investigational;

(b) a denial, reduction, termination, or failure to provide or make payment in whole or in part for a requested benefit based on a determination by a health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization of a person's eligibility to participate in the health insurance issuer's health plan;

(c) any prospective review or retrospective review of a benefit determination that denies, reduces, or terminates or fails to provide or make payment in whole or in part for a benefit; or

(d) a rescission of coverage determination.

(2) "Ambulatory review" means a utilization review of health care services performed or provided in an outpatient setting.

(3) "Authorized representative" means:

(a) a person to whom a covered person has given express written consent to represent the covered person;

(b) a person authorized by law to provided substituted consent for a covered person; or

(c) a family member of the covered person, or the covered person's treating health care provider, only if the covered person is unable to provide consent.

(4) "Case management" means a coordinated set of activities conducted for individual patient management of serious, complicated, protracted, or otherwise complex health conditions.

(5) "Certification" means a determination by a health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization that an admission, availability of care, continued stay, or other health care service has been reviewed and, based on the information provided, satisfies the health insurance issuer's requirements for medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care, and level of effectiveness.

(6) "Chronic condition" means a condition that lasts 1 year or more and that requires ongoing medical attention or limits activities of daily living.

(7) "Clinical peer" means a physician or other health care provider who:

(a) holds a nonrestricted license in a state of the United States; and

(b) is trained or works in the same or a similar specialty to the specialty that typically manages the medical condition, procedure, or treatment under review.

(8) "Clinical review criteria" means the written policies, written screening procedures, decision abstracts, determination rules, clinical and medical protocols, practice guidelines, or any other criteria or rationale used by a health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization to determine the medical necessity of health care services.

(9) "Concurrent review" means a utilization review conducted during a patient's stay or course of treatment in a facility, the office of a health care professional, or another inpatient or outpatient health care setting.

(10) "Cost sharing" means the share of costs that a covered member pays under the health insurance issuer's health plan, including maximum out-of-pocket, deductibles, coinsurance, copayments, or similar charges, but does not include premiums, balance billing amounts for out-of-network providers, or the cost of noncovered services.

(11) "Covered benefits" or "benefits" means those health care services to which a covered person is entitled under the terms of a health plan.

(12) "Covered person" means a policyholder, a certificate holder, a member, a subscriber, an enrollee, or another individual participating in a health plan.

(13) "Discharge planning" means the formal process for determining, prior to discharge from a facility, the coordination and management of the care that a patient receives after discharge from a facility.

(14) "Emergency medical condition" has the meaning provided in 33-36-103.

(15) "Emergency services" has the meaning provided in 33-36-103.

(16) "External review" describes the set of procedures provided for in Title 33, chapter 32, part 4.

(17) "Final adverse determination" means an adverse determination involving a covered benefit that has been upheld by a health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization at the completion of the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process as provided in Title 33, chapter 32, part 3.

(18) "Grievance" means a written complaint or an oral complaint if the complaint involves an urgent care request submitted by or on behalf of a covered person regarding:

(a) availability, delivery, or quality of health care services, including a complaint regarding an adverse determination made pursuant to utilization review;

(b) claims payment, handling, or reimbursement for health care services; or

(c) matters pertaining to the contractual relationship between a covered person and a health insurance issuer.

(19) "Health care provider" or "provider" means a person, corporation, facility, or institution licensed by the state to provide, or otherwise lawfully providing, health care services, including but not limited to:

(a) a physician, physician assistant, advanced practice registered nurse, health care facility as defined in 50-5-101, osteopath, dentist, nurse, optometrist, chiropractor, podiatrist, physical therapist, psychologist, licensed social worker, speech pathologist, audiologist, licensed addiction counselor, or licensed professional counselor; and

(b) an officer, employee, or agent of a person described in subsection (19)(a) acting in the course and scope of employment.

(20) "Health care services" means services for the diagnosis, prevention, treatment, cure, or relief of a health condition, illness, injury, or disease, including the provision of pharmaceutical products or services or durable medical equipment.

(21) "Health insurance issuer" has the meaning provided in 33-22-140.

(22) "Medical necessity" means health care services that a health care provider exercising prudent clinical judgment would provide to a patient for the purpose of preventing, evaluating, diagnosing, treating, curing, or relieving a health condition, chronic condition, illness, injury, or disease or its symptoms or comorbidities, including minimizing the progression, symptoms, or comorbidities of a health condition, chronic condition, illness, injury, or disease, and that are:

(a) in accordance with generally accepted standards of practice;

(b) clinically appropriate in terms of type, frequency, extent, site, and duration and are considered effective for the patient's illness, injury, or disease; and

(c) not primarily for the economic benefit of the insurer or the convenience of the patient or health care provider and not more costly than an alternative service or sequence of services at least as likely to produce equivalent therapeutic or diagnostic results as to the diagnosis or treatment of the patient's illness, injury, or disease.

(23) "Network" means the group of participating providers providing services to a managed care plan.

(24) "Participating provider" means a health care provider who, under a contract with a health insurance issuer or with its contractor or subcontractor, has agreed to provide health care services to covered persons with the expectation of receiving payment, other than coinsurance, copayments, or deductibles, directly or indirectly from the health insurance issuer.

(25) "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint venture, a joint stock company, a trust, an unincorporated organization, or any similar entity or combination of entities in this subsection.

(26) "Preservice claim" means a request for benefits or payment from a health insurance issuer for health care services that, under the terms of the health insurance issuer's contract of coverage, requires authorization from the health insurance issuer or from the health insurance issuer's designated utilization review organization prior to receiving the services.

(27) "Prospective review" means a utilization review, medical necessity review, or prior authorization conducted of a preservice claim prior to an admission or a course of treatment.

(28) (a) "Rescission" means a cancellation or the discontinuance of coverage under a health plan that has a retroactive effect.

(b) The term does not include a cancellation or discontinuance under a health plan if the cancellation or discontinuance of coverage:

(i) has only a prospective effect; or

(ii) is effective retroactively to the extent that the cancellation or discontinuance is attributable to a failure to timely pay required premiums or contributions toward the cost of coverage.

(29) (a) "Retrospective review" means a review of medical necessity conducted after services have been provided to a covered person.

(b) The term does not include the review of a claim that is limited to an evaluation of reimbursement levels, veracity of documentation, accuracy of coding, or adjudication for payment.

(30) "Second opinion" means an opportunity or requirement to obtain a clinical evaluation by a health care provider other than the one originally making a recommendation for a proposed health care service to assess the clinical necessity and appropriateness of the initial proposed health care service.

(31) "Stabilize" means, with respect to an emergency condition, to ensure that no material deterioration of the condition is, within a reasonable medical probability, likely to result from or occur during the transfer of the individual from a facility.

(32) (a) "Urgent care request" means a request for a health care service or course of treatment with respect to which the time periods for making a nonurgent care request determination could:

(i) seriously jeopardize the life or health of the covered person or the ability of the covered person to regain maximum function; or

(ii) subject the covered person, in the opinion of a health care provider with knowledge of the covered person's medical condition, to severe pain that cannot be adequately managed without the health care service or treatment that is the subject of the request.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (32)(c), in determining whether a request is to be treated as an urgent care request, an individual acting on behalf of the health insurance issuer shall apply the judgment of a prudent lay person who possesses an average knowledge of health and medicine.

(c) Any request that a health care provider with knowledge of the covered person's medical condition determines is an urgent care request within the meaning of subsection (32)(a) must be treated as an urgent care request.

(33) "Utilization review" means a set of formal techniques designed to monitor the use of or to evaluate the clinical necessity, appropriateness, efficacy, or efficiency of health care services, procedures, or settings. Techniques may include ambulatory review, prospective review, second opinions, certification, concurrent review, case management, discharge planning, or retrospective review.

(34) "Utilization review organization" means an entity that conducts utilization review for one or more of the following:

(a) an employer with employees who are covered under a health benefit plan or health insurance policy;

(b) a health insurance issuer providing review for its own health plans or for the health plans of another health insurance issuer;

(c) a preferred provider organization or health maintenance organization; and

(d) any other individual or entity that provides, offers to provide, or administers hospital, outpatient, medical, or other health benefits to a person treated by a health care provider under a policy, plan, or contract.

2025 Amendment — Coordination: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 4, Ch. 612, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

The amendments to this section made by sec. 3, Ch. 274, L. 2025, and sec. 1, Ch. 612, L. 2025, were replaced by sec. 4, Ch. 612, L. 2025, a coordination section.

33-32-103. Utilization review plan. An entity covered under the provisions of this chapter may not conduct a utilization review of health care services provided or to be provided to a patient covered under a contract or plan for health care services issued in this state unless that entity, at all times, maintains and can provide at the commissioner's request a current utilization review plan that includes:

(1) a description of review criteria, standards, and procedures to be used in evaluating proposed or delivered health care services that, to the extent possible, must:

(a) be based on nationally recognized criteria, standards, and procedures;

(b) reflect community standards of care, except that a utilization review plan for health care services under the medicaid program provided for in Title 53 need not reflect community standards of care;

(c) ensure quality of care; and

(d) ensure access to needed health care services;

(2) policies and procedures to ensure that a representative of the entity conducting the utilization review is reasonably accessible to patients and health care providers at all times;

(3) policies and procedures to ensure compliance with all applicable state and federal laws to protect the confidentiality of individual medical records;

(4) a copy of the materials designed to inform applicable patients and health care providers of the requirements of the utilization review plan; and

(5) any other information that may be required by the commissioner that is necessary to implement this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 665, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 5, Ch. 561, L. 1993; amd. Sec. 36, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 39, Ch. 151, L. 2017.

33-32-104. Preemption by federal law. If any provision of this chapter is preempted by federal law or regulations as applied to any specific health care service, then the provision of this chapter that is preempted by federal law or regulations does not apply to that health care service but only to the extent of the preemption.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 665, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 37, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-105. Application — exemptions. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3), the provisions of this chapter apply to:

(a) a health insurance issuer that offers a health plan and provides or performs utilization review services;

(b) any designee of the health insurance issuer or utilization review organization that performs utilization review functions on the health insurance issuer's behalf; and

(c) a health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization that provides or performs prospective review or retrospective review benefit determinations.

(2) A general in-house utilization review for a health care provider, including an in-house utilization review that is conducted by or for a long-term care facility and that is required by regulations for medicare or medicaid, is exempt from the provisions of this chapter as long as the review does not directly result in the approval or denial of payment for health care services for a particular case.

(3) A peer review procedure conducted by a professional society or association of providers is exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

33-32-106. Disclosure of utilization review requirements — drug benefit information. (1) A utilization review organization shall make its current utilization review plan prepared pursuant to 33-32-103, including clinical review criteria, standards, procedures, requirements, and restrictions, readily accessible on its website to covered persons, prospective covered persons, and health care providers. The utilization review plan must be described in detail and in easily understandable language.

(2) If a utilization review organization intends to implement a new or amended utilization review plan, including any new or amended clinical review criteria, standards, procedures, requirements, or restrictions, the entity may not implement the change until it has:

(a) notified health care providers in writing of the new or amended utilization review plan, including any new or amended clinical review criteria, standards, procedures, requirements, or restrictions, no less than 60 days before the new or amended plan is to be implemented; and

(b) updated its website to reflect the new or amended utilization review plan, including any new or amended clinical review criteria, standards, procedures, requirements, or restrictions, to make the information accessible to covered persons, prospective covered persons, and health care providers.

(3) A health insurance issuer or utilization review organization, as applicable, shall display on its public website current prescription drug benefit information, including formulary lists of each prescription drug covered under the health insurance issuer's plan.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 470, L. 2019.

33-32-107. Length of prior authorization. (1) A certification by a utilization review organization approving health care services is valid for at least 6 months from the date the health care provider receives the certification unless the covered person loses coverage under the applicable health plan or health insurance coverage or unless a shorter duration is warranted by the United States food and drug administration guidance or other patient safety concerns.

(2) A certification by a utilization review organization approving a health care service for treatment of a chronic condition is valid for 12 months, unless a shorter duration is warranted by the United States food and drug administration's guidance or other patient safety concerns.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 470, L. 2019; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 274, L. 2025.

2025 Amendment — Coordination: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 4, Ch. 274, L. 2025. Amendment effective January 1, 2026.

The amendment to this section made by sec. 2, Ch. 612, L. 2025, was rendered void by sec. 5, Ch. 612, L. 2025, a coordination section.

33-32-108. (Effective January 1, 2026) Retroactive denials prohibited. When prior approval for a covered service is required and obtained by or on behalf of a covered person and the covered person undergoes the covered service, the approval is final and the health insurance issuer may not rescind approval after the covered service has been provided. This section does not apply to cases of fraud, misrepresentation, nonpayment of premium, exhaustion of benefits, if the covered person for whom the prior approval was granted is not covered when the service was provided, or if the covered service provided was not the same covered service that received prior approval, unless it was necessary and incidental.

33-32-109. (Effective January 1, 2026) Biologic prescriptions for minors. (1) Biologic therapies may be prescribed by a treating provider for individuals under 18 years of age as provided in this section. The biologic therapies must meet the following requirements:

(a) the biologic therapies must be approved by the U.S. food and drug administration for use on adults but need not be approved for use on persons under 18 years of age; and

(b) the biologic therapies must be medically necessary, covered benefits and supported by medical literature in at least two peer-reviewed journals demonstrating that the off-label use is both safe and effective for use on persons in the following comparable phases of life age ranges:

(i) infancy, between birth and 2 years of age;

(ii) childhood, from 2 to 12 years of age; and

(iii) adolescence, from 12 to 18 years of age.

(2) Upon receipt of the request for prior authorization and medical records supporting the request and the literature described in section (1)(b), an entity covered under the provisions of this chapter performing a utilization review must approve or deny a request for prior authorization for biologic therapies under subsection (1) in the timeframe set forth in this chapter.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the term "biologic therapies" means a treatment that uses substances made from living organisms to treat disease. These substances may be made in a laboratory or occur naturally in the body.

Part 2
Utilization Review — Conduct

33-32-201. Repealed. Sec. 40, Ch. 428, L. 2015.
History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 665, L. 1991; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 378, L. 1993.

33-32-202. Commissioner not to approve or disapprove plans. Nothing in this chapter may be construed as authorizing the commissioner to approve or disapprove a utilization review plan required in 33-32-103.
History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 665, L. 1991.

33-32-203. Repealed. Sec. 40, Ch. 428, L. 2015.
History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 665, L. 1991.

33-32-204. Repealed. Sec. 40, Ch. 428, L. 2015.
History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 665, L. 1991.

33-32-205. Corporate oversight of utilization review program. A health insurance issuer is responsible for:

(1) monitoring all utilization review activities carried out by or on behalf of the health insurance issuer;

(2) ensuring that all requirements of this part and rules adopted pursuant to this part are met; and

(3) ensuring that appropriate personnel have operational responsibility for the conduct of the health insurance issuer's utilization review program.
History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-206. Responsibility for contracted services. Whenever a health insurance issuer contracts with a utilization review organization or other entity to perform the utilization review functions required by this part or rules adopted pursuant to this part, the commissioner shall hold the health insurance issuer responsible for monitoring the activities of the utilization review organization or the entity with which the health insurance issuer has contracted and for ensuring that the requirements of this part are met.
History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-207. Health insurance issuer duties for utilization review. (1) A health insurance issuer that requires a request for benefits under the covered person's health plan to be subjected to utilization review shall implement a utilization review program with written documentation describing all review activities and procedures, both delegated and nondelegated, for:

(a) the filing of benefit requests;

(b) the notification of utilization review and benefit determinations; and

(c) the review of adverse determinations in accordance with Title 33, chapter 32, parts 3 and 4.

(2) The written documentation must describe the following:

(a) procedures to evaluate the medical necessity, appropriateness, efficacy, or efficiency of health care services;

(b) data sources and clinical review criteria used in decisionmaking;

(c) mechanisms to ensure consistent application of clinical review criteria and compatible decisions;

(d) data collection processes and analytical methods used in assessing utilization of health care services;

(e) provisions for ensuring confidentiality of clinical and proprietary information;

(f) the organizational structure that periodically assesses utilization review activities and reports to the health insurance issuer's governing body. This organizational structure may include but is not limited to the utilization review committee or a quality assurance committee.

(g) the staff position functionally responsible for day-to-day program management.

(3) A health insurance issuer shall:

(a) file an annual summary report of its utilization review program activities with the commissioner in the format specified by the commissioner;

(b) maintain records for a minimum of 6 years of all benefit requests, claims, and notices associated with utilization review and benefit determinations made in accordance with 33-32-211 and 33-32-212; and

(c) make the records maintained under subsection (3)(b) available, on request, for examination by covered persons, the commissioner, and appropriate federal agencies.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-208. Operational requirements. (1) A utilization review program must use documented clinical review criteria that are based on sound clinical evidence and are evaluated periodically to ensure ongoing efficacy. A health insurance issuer may develop its own clinical review criteria or may purchase or license clinical review criteria from qualified vendors.

(2) A health insurance issuer shall, on request, make available its clinical review criteria to authorized government agencies, including the commissioner.

(3) Qualified health care professionals shall administer and oversee the utilization review program.

(4) A health insurance issuer shall issue utilization review and benefit determinations in a timely manner pursuant to the requirements of 33-32-211 and 33-32-212.

(5) (a) Whenever a health insurance issuer fails to adhere to the requirements of 33-32-211 or 33-32-212, as applicable, with respect to conducting a utilization review and making benefit determinations of a benefit request or claim, the covered person is considered to have exhausted the provisions of this part and may take action under subsection (5)(b).

(b) A covered person may file a request for external review in accordance with the procedures outlined in Title 33, chapter 32, part 4. In addition to filing a request, a covered person is entitled to pursue any available remedies under state or federal law if the health insurance issuer failed to provide a reasonable internal claims and appeals process designed to yield a decision on the merits of the claim.

(6) (a) Section 33-32-211 or 33-32-212 may not be considered exhausted based on a de minimis violation that does not cause and is not likely to cause prejudice or harm to the covered person, as long as the health insurance issuer demonstrates that the violation was for good cause or was due to matters beyond the control of the health insurance issuer and that the violation occurred in the context of an ongoing, good faith exchange of information between the health insurance issuer and the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative.

(b) The exception provided in subsection (6)(a) does not apply if the violation is part of a pattern or practice of violations by the health insurance issuer.

(7) A health insurance issuer shall maintain a process to ensure that utilization reviewers apply clinical review criteria consistently in conducting utilization review.

(8) A health insurance issuer shall routinely assess the effectiveness and efficiency of its utilization review program.

(9) A health insurance issuer's data systems must be sufficient to support utilization review program activities and to generate management reports to enable the health insurance issuer to monitor and manage health care services effectively.

(10) If a health insurance issuer delegates any utilization review activities to a utilization review organization, the health insurance issuer shall maintain adequate oversight, which includes:

(a) a written description of the utilization review organization's activities and responsibilities, including reporting requirements;

(b) evidence of formal approval of the utilization review organization's program by the health insurance issuer; and

(c) a process by which the health insurance issuer evaluates the performance of the utilization review organization.

(11) A health insurance issuer shall coordinate its utilization review program with other medical management activity conducted by the health insurance issuer, such as quality assurance, credentialing, health care provider contracting, data reporting, grievance procedures, processes for assessing member satisfaction, and risk management.

(12) A health insurance issuer shall provide covered persons and participating providers with access to the health insurance issuer's review staff through a toll-free number or collect-call telephone line.

(13) When conducting a utilization review, a health insurance issuer shall collect only the information necessary, including pertinent clinical information, to conduct the utilization review or make the benefit determination.

(14) (a) When conducting a utilization review, a health insurance issuer shall ensure that the review is conducted in a manner that ensures the independence and impartiality of the individuals involved in conducting the utilization review or making the benefit determination.

(b) In ensuring the independence and impartiality of individuals involved in the utilization review or benefit determination, a health insurance issuer may not make decisions regarding hiring, compensation, termination, promotion, or other similar matters based on the likelihood that the individual involved in the utilization review or benefit determination will support the denial of benefits.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-209. (Effective January 1, 2026) Exemption for continuity of care on change in health plans. (1) When a covered person changes health plans, a health insurance issuer or its utilization review organization shall honor a certification for health care services granted by a previous health insurance issuer or its utilization review organization for at least the first 3 months of the person's coverage under a new health plan on receiving information documenting the certification from the covered person or the person's health care provider, provided that the services are covered services under the new plan.

(2) During the time period specified in subsection (1), a utilization review organization may perform its own review to grant certification.

(3) If a change in coverage or approval criteria occurs for a previously certified health care service, the change in coverage or approval criteria does not affect a covered person who received certification for a health care service before the effective date of the change for the remainder of the authorization period or the covered person's plan year, whichever is shorter.

(4) A utilization review organization shall continue to honor a certification for health care services it has granted to a covered person when the person changes to a product offered by the same health insurance issuer, provided that the services are covered under the new plan.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 274, L. 2025.

33-32-210. (Effective January 1, 2026) Qualifications of individuals making or reviewing adverse determinations. (1) A health insurance issuer or its utilization review organization shall ensure that all adverse determinations pursuant to 33-32-211 or 33-32-212 are made by:

(a) a physician when the request is by or on behalf of a physician; or

(b) a health care professional licensed in the same profession as the health care professional making the request, or, in any case, by a physician.

(2) A physician or other health care professional making an adverse determination pursuant to subsection (1) must:

(a) possess a current and valid nonrestricted license; and

(b) have experience treating and managing patients with the medical condition or disease for which the health care service is being requested, or shall refer the review to a physician with the requisite specialized knowledge and experience.

(3) A health insurance issuer or its utilization review organization shall ensure that only a physician reviews a grievance as provided under 33-32-308 or 33-32-309. A physician making an adverse determination or reviewing a grievance must:

(a) possess a current and valid nonrestricted license to practice medicine; and

(b) be of a specialty that focuses on the diagnosis and treatment of the condition that is being treated.

(4) A health insurance issuer or its utilization review organization must make all adverse determinations under the clinical direction of one of the utilization review organization's medical directors who is responsible for the oversight of the utilization review activities for covered persons in the state. A medical director used for this purpose must be a licensed physician.

(5) For the purposes of this section, "adverse determination" has the same meaning as provided in 33-32-102(1)(a) or (1)(c).

33-32-211. Procedures for standard utilization review and benefit determinations — notices. (1) A health insurance issuer shall establish written procedures and clinical review criteria for conducting standard utilization reviews and making benefit determinations on requests for benefits submitted to the health insurance issuer by covered persons or their authorized representatives. The written procedures must also include provisions for notifying covered persons or, if applicable, their authorized representatives of the health insurance issuer's determinations with respect to these requests within the timeframes specified in this section.

(2) (a) Subject to subsection (2)(c), for prospective review determinations, a health insurance issuer shall make the determination and notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the determination, whether the health insurance issuer certifies the provision of the benefit or not, within a reasonable period of time appropriate to the covered person's medical condition. The notification must be made not later than 7 business days after the date the health insurance issuer receives the request or not later than 7 business days after the health insurance issuer receives all information under subsection (2)(d) necessary to make a determination.

(b) If the determination is an adverse determination, the health insurance issuer shall provide notification of the adverse determination in writing in accordance with subsection (8).

(c) The time period for making a determination and notifying the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the determination pursuant to subsection (2)(a) may be extended one time by the health insurance issuer for up to 7 business days if the health insurance issuer:

(i) determines that an extension is necessary due to matters beyond the health insurance issuer's control; and

(ii) notifies the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative, prior to the expiration of the initial 7-business-day period, of the circumstances requiring the extension of time and of the date by which the health insurance issuer expects to make a determination.

(d) If the extension under subsection (2)(c) is necessary because of the failure of the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to submit information necessary to reach a determination on the request, the notice of extension must:

(i) describe specifically the required information necessary to complete the request; and

(ii) give the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative at least 45 days after the date of receipt of the notice to provide the specified information.

(3) (a) If the health insurance issuer receives from a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative a prospective review request that fails to meet the health insurance issuer's filing procedures, the health insurance issuer shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of this failure and provide in the notice any information regarding the proper procedures to be followed for filing a request.

(b) The notice required under subsection (3)(a) must be provided as soon as possible but not later than 3 days after the date of the failure. The health insurance issuer may provide the notice orally or, if requested by the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative, in writing or electronically.

(c) To qualify for the provisions of this subsection (3) related to a failed filing procedure, the communication must:

(i) have been sent by a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative and received by a person or an organizational unit of the health insurance issuer responsible for handling benefit matters; and

(ii) refer to a specific covered person, a specific medical condition or symptom, and a specific health care service, treatment, or health care provider for which certification is being requested.

(4) For concurrent review determinations, if a health insurance issuer has certified an ongoing course of treatment to be provided over a period of time or a specified number of treatments:

(a) any reduction or termination by the health insurance issuer during the course of treatment before the end of the period or the specified number of treatments, other than by health plan amendment or termination of the health plan, constitutes an adverse determination; and

(b) the health insurance issuer shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the adverse determination in accordance with subsection (8) at a time sufficiently in advance of the reduction or termination to allow the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to:

(i) file a grievance requesting a review of the adverse determination pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, parts 3 and 4; and

(ii) obtain a determination with respect to the review of the adverse determination before the benefit is reduced or terminated.

(5) The health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination must be continued without liability to the covered person pending a determination under the internal review request made pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 3.

(6) (a) For retrospective review determinations, a health insurance issuer shall make the determination no later than 30 days after the date of receiving the benefit request.

(b) If the determination is an adverse determination, the health insurance issuer shall provide notice of the adverse determination to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in accordance with subsection (8).

(c) The time period for making a determination and notifying the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the determination pursuant to subsection (6)(a) may be extended one time by the health insurance issuer for up to 15 days if the health insurance issuer:

(i) determines that an extension is necessary due to matters beyond the health insurance issuer's control; and

(ii) notifies the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative, prior to the expiration of the initial 30-day period, of the circumstances requiring the extension of time and of the date by which the health insurance issuer expects to make a determination.

(d) If the extension under subsection (6)(c) is necessary because of the failure of the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to submit information necessary to reach a determination on the request, the notice of extension must:

(i) describe specifically the information required to complete the request; and

(ii) give the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative at least 45 days after the date of receipt of the notice to provide the specified information.

(e) A health insurance issuer is not liable for the payment of interest under 33-18-232(2) when the health insurance issuer timely complies with the requirements of this subsection (6).

(7) (a) For purposes of this section, the period within which a determination must be made begins on the date the request is received by the health insurance issuer in accordance with the health insurance issuer's procedures, established pursuant to 33-32-207, for filing a request. The date the request is received by the health insurance issuer must be counted without regard to whether all of the information necessary to make the determination accompanies the filing of the request.

(b) If the period for making the determination under this section is extended due to the failure of the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to submit the information necessary to make the determination, the period for making the determination is counted from the date on which the health insurance issuer sends the notification of the extension to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative until the earlier of:

(i) the date on which the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative responds to the request for additional information; or

(ii) the date on which the specified information was to have been submitted.

(c) If the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative fails to submit the information before the end of the extension period, as specified in this section, the health insurance issuer may deny the certification of the requested benefit.

(8) A notification of an adverse determination under this section must, in a manner calculated to be understood by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative, set forth:

(a) information sufficient to identify the benefit request or claim involved and, if applicable, the date of service, the health care provider, and the claim amount;

(b) a statement describing the availability, upon request, of the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning and the treatment code and its corresponding meaning. On receiving a request for a diagnosis or treatment code, the health insurance issuer shall provide the information to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative as soon as practicable. A health insurance issuer may not consider a request for the diagnosis code and treatment information, in itself, to be a request to file a grievance for review of an adverse determination pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, or a request for external review as outlined in Title 33, chapter 32, part 4.

(c) the specific rationale behind the adverse determination, including the denial code and its corresponding meaning, as well as a description of the health insurance issuer's standard, if any, that was used in denying the benefit request or claim;

(d) a reference to the specific plan provision on which the determination is based;

(e) a description of any additional material or information necessary for the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to complete the benefit request, including an explanation of why the material or information is necessary to complete the request;

(f) a description of the health insurance issuer's grievance procedures established pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, including any time limits applicable to those procedures;

(g) a copy of any internal rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria that the health insurance issuer may have relied on to make the adverse determination. Alternatively, the health insurance issuer may provide a statement that a specific rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria was relied on to make the adverse determination and that a copy of the rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria will be provided free of charge to the covered person on request.

(h) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for making the adverse determination if the adverse determination is based on a medical necessity or experimental or investigational treatment or similar exclusion or limit. Alternatively, the health insurance issuer may provide a statement that an explanation will be provided to the covered person free of charge on request. The explanation under this subsection (8)(h) must apply the terms of the health plan to the covered person's medical circumstances.

(i) a statement explaining the availability of further assistance from the commissioner's office and the right of the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to contact the commissioner's office at any time for assistance or, on completion of the health insurance issuer's grievance procedure and the external review process as provided under Title 33, chapter 32, parts 3 and 4, to file a civil suit in a court of competent jurisdiction. The statement must include contact information for the commissioner's office.

(9) (a) A health insurance issuer shall provide the notice required under this section in a culturally and linguistically appropriate manner as required in accordance with federal regulations, including 45 CFR 147.136(e), and rules adopted pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 3.

(b) To satisfy the provisions of subsection (9)(a), the health insurance issuer shall, at a minimum:

(i) provide oral language services, such as a telephone assistance hotline, that include answering questions in any applicable non-English language and providing assistance with filing benefit requests, claims, and appeals in any applicable non-English language;

(ii) provide, upon request, a notice in any applicable non-English language; and

(iii) include in the English version of the notice a prominently displayed statement in any applicable non-English language clearly indicating how to access the language services provided by the health insurance issuer.

(c) For purposes of this subsection (9), with respect to any United States county to which a notice is sent, a non-English language is an applicable non-English language if 10% or more of the population residing in the county is literate only in the same non-English language, as determined in federal guidance.

(10) If the adverse determination is a recission, the health insurance issuer shall provide, in addition to any applicable disclosures required under this section, in a notice sent at least 30 days in advance of implementing the rescission decision:

(a) clear identification of the alleged fraudulent act, practice, or omission or the intentional misrepresentation of material fact;

(b) an explanation of why the act, practice, or omission was fraudulent or was an intentional misrepresentation of a material fact;

(c) the date when the advance notice period ends and the date to which the coverage is to be retroactively rescinded;

(d) notice that the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may immediately file a grievance with the health insurance issuer requesting a review of the rescission; and

(e) a description of the health insurance issuer's grievance procedures, including any time limits applicable to these procedures.

(11) A health insurance issuer may provide the notices required under this section in writing or electronically.

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 31, Ch. 8, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-32-212. Procedures for expedited utilization review and benefit determinations. (1) With respect to urgent care requests and concurrent review urgent care requests, a health insurance issuer shall establish written procedures and clinical review criteria for receiving benefit requests from covered persons or, if applicable, their authorized representatives, for conducting an expedited utilization review and making benefit determinations, and for notifying the covered persons or their authorized representatives of the expedited utilization review and benefit determinations.

(2) (a) The procedures established under subsection (1) must include a requirement for the health insurance issuer to provide that, in the case of a failure by a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to follow the health insurance issuer's procedures for filing an urgent care request, the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative must be notified of the failure and the proper procedures to be followed for filing the request.

(b) The notice required under subsection (2)(a):

(i) must be provided to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative not later than 24 hours after receipt of the request; and

(ii) may be made orally, unless the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative requests the notice in writing or electronically.

(c) To qualify for the provisions of this subsection (2) related to a failed filing procedure, the communication must:

(i) be sent by a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative and received by a person or organizational unit of the health insurance issuer responsible for handling benefit matters; and

(ii) contain a reference to a specific covered person, a specific medical condition or symptom, and a specific health care service, treatment, or health care provider for which approval is being requested.

(3) (a) For an urgent care request, unless the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative has failed to provide sufficient information for the health insurance issuer to determine whether or to what extent the benefits requested are covered benefits or payable under the health insurance issuer's health plan, the health insurance issuer shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative as soon as possible, taking into account the medical condition of the covered person, but no later than 48 hours after the receipt of the request by the health insurance issuer.

(b) With respect to the request, the health insurance issuer shall state in the notification whether or not the determination is an adverse determination. If the health insurance issuer's determination is an adverse determination, the notice must comply with the provisions of subsection (7).

(4) (a) If the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative has failed to provide sufficient information for the health insurance issuer to make a determination, the health insurance issuer shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative either orally or, if requested by the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative, in writing or electronically of this failure and identify what specific information is needed. This notification must be made as soon as possible but not later than 24 hours after receipt of the request.

(b) The health insurance issuer shall, taking into account the circumstances, provide the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative with a reasonable period of time to submit the necessary information. The reasonable period may not end less than 48 hours after the health insurance issuer notifies the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the failure to submit sufficient information as provided in subsection (4)(a).

(c) A health insurance issuer shall, in cases in which more information is required as provided in subsection (4)(a), notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of its determination with respect to the urgent care request as soon as possible but not later than 24 hours after the earlier of:

(i) the health insurance issuer's receipt of the requested information; or

(ii) the end of the period provided for the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to submit the requested information.

(d) If the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative fails to submit the information before the end of the period of the extension, as specified in subsection (4)(b), the health insurance issuer may deny the certification of the requested benefit.

(e) If the health insurance issuer's determination is an adverse determination, the health insurance issuer shall provide notice of the adverse determination in accordance with subsection (7).

(5) (a) For concurrent review urgent care requests involving a request by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to extend the course of treatment beyond the initial period of time or the number of treatments, if the request is made at least 24 hours prior to the expiration of the prescribed period of time or number of treatments, the health insurance issuer shall make a determination with respect to the request and notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the determination, whether it is an adverse determination or not, as soon as possible, taking into account the covered person's medical condition, but not later than 24 hours after the health insurance issuer's receipt of the request.

(b) If the health insurance issuer's determination is an adverse determination, the health insurance issuer shall provide notice of the adverse determination as provided in subsection (7).

(6) For the purposes of this section, the time period within which a determination must be made begins on the date and at the time the request is filed with the health insurance issuer in accordance with the health insurance issuer's procedures established pursuant to 33-32-207 for filing a request. The date and time the request is received by the health insurance issuer must be counted without regard to whether all of the information necessary to make the determination accompanies the filing of the request.

(7) A notification of an adverse determination under this section must, in a manner calculated to be understood by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative, set forth:

(a) information sufficient to identify the benefit request or claim involved and, if applicable, the date of service, the health care provider, and the claim amount;

(b) a statement describing the availability, upon request, of the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning and the treatment code and its corresponding meaning. On receiving a request for a diagnosis or treatment code, the health insurance issuer shall provide the information as soon as practicable. A health insurance issuer may not consider a request for the diagnosis code and treatment information, in itself, to be a request to file a grievance for review of an adverse determination pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, or a request for external review as outlined in Title 33, chapter 32, part 4.

(c) the specific rationale behind the adverse determination, including the denial code and its corresponding meaning, as well as a description of the health insurance issuer's standard, if any, that was used in denying the benefit request or claim;

(d) a reference to the specific plan provisions on which the determination is based;

(e) a description of any additional material or information necessary for the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to complete the request, including an explanation of why the material or information is necessary to complete the request;

(f) a description of the health insurance issuer's internal grievance procedures established pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, including any time limits applicable to those procedures;

(g) a description of the health insurance issuer's expedited grievance procedures established pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, including any time limits applicable to those procedures;

(h) a copy of any internal rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria that the health insurance issuer may have relied on to make the adverse determination. Alternatively, the health insurance issuer may provide a statement that a specific rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria was relied on to make the adverse determination and that a copy of the rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria will be provided free of charge to the covered person on request.

(i) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for making the adverse determination if the adverse determination is based on a medical necessity or experimental or investigational treatment or similar exclusion or limit. Alternatively, the health insurance issuer may provide a statement that an explanation will be provided to the covered person free of charge on request. The explanation under this subsection (7)(i) must apply the terms of the health plan to the covered person's medical circumstances.

(j) instructions for requesting any of the following that are applicable:

(i) a copy of the rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria relied on in making the adverse determination in accordance with subsection (7)(h); or

(ii) the written statement of the scientific or clinical rationale for the adverse determination in accordance with subsection (7)(i); and

(k) a statement explaining the availability of further assistance from the commissioner's office and the right of the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to contact the commissioner's office at any time for assistance or, on completion of the health insurance issuer's grievance procedure process as provided under Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, to file a civil suit in a court of competent jurisdiction. The statement must include contact information for the commissioner's office.

(8) A health insurance issuer shall provide the notice required under this section in the manner provided in 33-32-211(9).

(9) (a) A health insurance issuer may provide the notice required under this section orally, in writing, or electronically.

(b) If notice of the adverse determination is provided orally, the health insurance issuer shall provide written or electronic notice of the adverse determination within 3 days following the oral notification.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 470, L. 2019.

33-32-213 and 33-32-214 reserved.

33-32-215. Emergency services. (1) When conducting a utilization review or making a benefit determination for emergency services, a health insurance issuer that provides benefits for services in an emergency department of a hospital shall follow the provisions of this section.

(2) A health insurance issuer shall cover emergency services that screen and stabilize a covered person:

(a) without the need for prior authorization of the emergency services if a prudent lay person would have reasonably believed that an emergency medical condition existed even if the emergency services are provided on an out-of-network basis;

(b) without regard to whether the health care provider furnishing the services is a participating provider with respect to the emergency services;

(c) if the emergency services are provided out-of-network, without imposing any administrative requirement or limitation on coverage that is more restrictive than the requirements or limitations that apply to emergency services received from network providers;

(d) if the emergency services are provided out-of-network, by complying with the cost-sharing requirements in subsection (4); and

(e) without regard to any other term or condition of coverage, other than:

(i) the exclusion of or coordination of benefits;

(ii) an affiliation or waiting period as permitted under 42 U.S.C. 300gg-19a; or

(iii) cost-sharing, as provided in subsection (4)(a).

(3) For in-network emergency services, coverage of emergency services is subject to applicable copayments, coinsurance, and deductibles.

(4) (a) Only in-network cost sharing amounts may be imposed on out-of-network emergency services.

(b) A health insurance issuer complies with the requirements of this section by paying for emergency services provided by an out-of-network provider in an amount not less than the greatest of the following and taking into account exceptions in subsections (4)(c) and (4)(d):

(i) the amount negotiated with in-network providers for emergency services, excluding any in-network cost-sharing imposed with respect to the covered person;

(ii) the amount of the emergency service calculated using the same method the plan uses to determine payments for out-of-network services but using the in-network cost-sharing provisions instead of the out-of-network cost-sharing provisions; or

(iii) the amount that would be paid under medicare for the emergency services, excluding any in-network cost-sharing requirements.

(c) For capitated or other health plans that do not have a negotiated charge for each service for in-network providers, subsection (4)(b)(i) does not apply.

(d) If a health plan has more than one negotiated amount for in-network providers for a particular emergency service, the amount in subsection (4)(b)(i) is the median of those negotiated amounts.

(5) A health insurance issuer shall allow a covered person, the person's authorized representative, and the person's health care provider at least 24 hours following an emergency admission or the provision of emergency services to notify the health insurance issuer of the admission or provision of emergency services. If the admission or the emergency services occur on a holiday or weekend, a health insurance issuer shall allow notification no later than by the next business day following the admission or provision of emergency services.

(6) If prior authorization is required for a postevaluation or poststabilization services review, a health insurance issuer shall provide access to a designated representative 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, to facilitate the review.

33-32-216. Confidentiality. A health insurance issuer and its designee shall comply with all applicable state and federal laws establishing confidentiality and reporting requirements with regard to its utilization review program, including the provisions of Title 33, chapter 19, and 45 CFR, parts 160 and 164.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-217. Disclosure. (1) In the certificate of coverage and member handbook provided to covered persons, a health insurance issuer shall include a clear and comprehensive description of its utilization review procedures, including the procedures for obtaining review of adverse determinations, and a statement of the rights and responsibilities of covered persons with respect to those procedures.

(2) In the outline of coverage provided to covered persons, a health insurance issuer shall include a statement indicating the section of the member handbook containing the information required in subsection (1).

(3) A health insurance issuer shall print on its membership cards a toll-free telephone number to call for utilization review and benefit determinations.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-218 through 33-32-220 reserved.

33-32-221. Prior authorization requirements. (1) A health insurance issuer or an entity that it contracts with to perform prior authorization on its behalf may not perform prior authorization on benefits for:

(a) any generic prescription drug that is not included in subsections (1)(d) through (1)(g) and that is not listed within any of the schedules of controlled substances found at 21 CFR 1308.11 through 21 CFR 1308.15 or the schedules of controlled substances found in Title 50, chapter 32, after a covered person has been prescribed the covered drug at the same quantity without interruption for 6 months;

(b) any prescription drug or drugs, generic or brand name, on the grounds of therapeutic duplication for the same drug if the covered person has already been subject to prior authorization on the grounds of therapeutic duplication for the same dosage of the prescription drug or drugs and coverage of the prescription drug or drugs was approved;

(c) any prescription drug, generic or brand name, solely because the dosage of the medication for the covered person has been adjusted by the prescriber of the prescription drug, as long as the dosage is within the dosage approved by the food and drug administration or is consistent with clinical dosing for the medication;

(d) any prescription drug, generic or brand name, that is a long-acting injectable antipsychotic;

(e) any formulary oral or inhaled nonbiologic generic prescription drug that is not listed as a specialty tier drug by medicare Part D, or within any of the schedules of controlled substances found at 21 CFR 1308.11 through 21 CFR 1308.15 or the schedules of controlled substances found in Title 50, chapter 32;

(f) any formulary nonspecialty inhaled prescription drug, generic or brand name, for the treatment of asthma, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, or chronic lung disease;

(g) formulary generic or brand name insulin for patients diagnosed with diabetes;

(h) any prescription drug, generic or brand name, prescribed for treatment of a substance use disorder, provided that the drug is approved by the U.S. food and drug administration for treatment of substance use disorder and the prescription does not exceed the U.S. food and drug administration labeled dosages; or

(i) any prescription drug, generic or brand name, that is designated as in shortage pursuant to subsection (4).

(2) Any adverse determination for a prescription drug made during prior authorization by a health insurance issuer or an entity that it contracts with to perform prior authorization on its behalf must be made by a physician whose specialty focuses on the diagnosis and treatment of the condition for which the prescription drug was prescribed to treat, provided that prior authorization that does not result in an adverse determination does not require the involvement of a physician on the part of a health insurance issuer or an entity that it contracts with to perform prior authorization on its behalf.

(3) If the health insurance issuer or an entity that it contracts with to perform prior authorization on its behalf makes an adverse determination for a prescription drug during prior authorization, it shall provide a written adverse determination notice that includes a list of reasonable therapeutic alternatives that are covered by the insurer's formulary.

(4) (a) For the purposes of subsection (1)(i), the list of prescription drugs within the therapeutic category of psychiatry that are in shortage on April 1, July 1, October 1, or January 1 must be determined directly from the official shortage list published by the United States food and drug administration on those dates. The quarterly static list remains in effect until the next quarterly date.

(b) A manufacturer of a prescription drug subject to subsection (1)(i) may not engage in predatory pricing or marketing related to any shortage described in this section. A violation of this subsection (4)(b) is subject to enforcement and penalty under Title 30, chapter 14, part 1.

33-32-301. Short title. The provisions of Title 33, chapter 32, parts 3 and 4, may be cited as the "Health Insurance Issuer Grievance Procedures and External Review Act".

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-302. Applicability and scope. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the provisions of Title 33, chapter 32, parts 3 and 4, apply to all health insurance issuers.

(2) The provisions of Title 33, chapter 32, parts 3 and 4, do not apply to:

(a) a policy or certificate that provides coverage only for a specified disease or specified accident, accident-only coverage, credit insurance as described in 33-1-206, dental, disability income, or hospital indemnity insurance, long-term care insurance as defined in 33-22-1107, vision care insurance, or any other limited supplemental benefit;

(b) a medicare supplement policy as defined in 33-22-903;

(c) coverage under a plan through medicare or medicaid or any coverage issued under Title 10, chapter 55, of the United States Code and any coverage issued as supplemental to that coverage; or

(d) any coverage issued as supplemental to liability insurance, workers' compensation or similar insurance, automobile medical payment insurance, or any insurance under which benefits are payable with or without regard to fault, whether written on a group blanket basis or an individual basis.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-303. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to provide standards for the establishment and maintenance of procedures by health insurance issuers to ensure that covered persons have the opportunity for the appropriate resolution of grievances.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-304 and 33-32-305 reserved.

33-32-306. Grievance reporting and recordkeeping requirements — definition. (1) (a) A health insurance issuer shall maintain within a register all written records that document grievances received during a calendar year, including the notices and claims associated with the grievances.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "register" means the written record of grievances received by a health insurance issuer that includes the notices and claims associated with the grievances as required by this section.

(2) Retention of the records in the register must be as provided in subsection (6), except that a health insurance issuer shall maintain for at least 6 years those records specified by the commissioner by rule.

(3) A health insurance issuer shall:

(a) maintain the records in a manner that is reasonably clear and accessible to the commissioner; and

(b) make the records available for examination, on request, by covered persons, the commissioner, and any appropriate federal oversight agency.

(4) A request for a review of a grievance involving an adverse determination must be processed in compliance with 33-32-308 and must be included in the register.

(5) For each grievance, the register must contain, at a minimum, the following information:

(a) a general description of the reason for the grievance;

(b) the date received;

(c) the date of each review or, if applicable, review meeting;

(d) a report on the resolution of the grievance, if applicable;

(e) the date of the resolution, if applicable; and

(f) the name of the covered person for whom the grievance was filed.

(6) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2), a health insurance issuer shall retain the register compiled in a calendar year for 3 years or until the commissioner has adopted a final report of an examination that contains a review of the register for that calendar year, whichever is longer.

(7) (a) At least annually, a health insurance issuer shall submit to the commissioner a report in the format specified by the commissioner.

(b) The report must include for each type of health plan offered by the health insurance issuer:

(i) the certificate of compliance required by 33-32-307(4)(b);

(ii) the number of covered persons;

(iii) the total number of grievances;

(iv) the number of grievances resolved, if applicable, and their resolution;

(v) the number of grievances referred to an alternative dispute resolution procedure or resulting in litigation; and

(vi) a synopsis of actions taken or being taken to correct problems that have been identified.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 62, L. 2019.

33-32-307. Grievance review procedures. (1) Except as specified in 33-32-309, a health insurance issuer shall use written procedures for receiving and resolving grievances from covered persons as provided in 33-32-308.

(2) (a) Whenever a health insurance issuer fails to adhere to the requirements of 33-32-308 or 33-32-309, as applicable, with respect to receiving and resolving grievances involving an adverse determination or waives the review of the grievance, the covered person is considered to have exhausted the provisions of this part and may take action under subsection (2)(b).

(b) (i) A covered person may file a request for external review in accordance with the procedures outlined in Title 33, chapter 32, part 4.

(ii) In addition to filing a request under subsection (2)(b)(i), a covered person is entitled to pursue any available remedies under state or federal law on the basis that the health insurance issuer failed to provide a reasonable internal claims and appeals process that would yield a decision on the merits of the claim.

(3) (a) The provisions of 33-32-308 or 33-32-309 may not be considered exhausted based on a de minimis violation that does not cause and is not likely to cause prejudice or harm to the covered person as long as the health insurance issuer demonstrates that the violation was for good cause or due to matters beyond the control of the health insurance issuer and that the violation occurred in the context of an ongoing, good faith exchange of information between the health insurance issuer and the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative.

(b) The exception provided in subsection (3)(a) does not apply if the violation is part of a pattern or a practice of violations by the health insurance issuer.

(4) A health insurance issuer shall file with the commissioner:

(a) a copy of the procedures required under subsection (1), including all forms used to process requests made pursuant to 33-32-308. Any subsequent material modifications to the documents must also be filed.

(b) as part of the annual report required by 33-32-306(7), a certificate of compliance stating that the health insurance issuer has established and maintains for each of its health plans a set of grievance procedures that fully comply with the provisions of this part; and

(c) a description of the grievance procedures required under this section, which must be included in or attached to the policy, certificate, membership booklet, outline of coverage, or other evidence of coverage provided to covered persons. The grievance procedure documents must include a statement of a covered person's right to contact the commissioner's office for assistance at any time. The statement must include the telephone number and address of the commissioner's office.

(5) The commissioner may disapprove a filing received in accordance with subsection (4) if the filing fails to comply with this part or applicable federal regulations.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-308. Grievances involving adverse determination. (1) Within 180 days after the date of receipt of a notice of an adverse determination sent pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 2, a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may file a grievance with the health insurance issuer requesting a review of the adverse determination.

(2) The health insurance issuer shall provide the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative with the name, address, and telephone number of a person or organizational unit designated to coordinate the review on behalf of the health insurance issuer.

(3) (a) In providing for a review under this section, the health insurance issuer shall ensure that the review meets the requirements of this section and is conducted in a manner that ensures the independence and impartiality of the individuals involved in making the review decision.

(b) To ensure the independence and impartiality of the individuals involved in making the review decision, the health insurance issuer may not make hiring, compensation, termination, promotion, or other similar decisions related to any of those individuals based on the likelihood that the individual will support the denial of benefits.

(4) (a) In the case of an adverse determination involving utilization review, the health insurance issuer shall designate one or more appropriate physicians or health care professionals of the same licensure to review the adverse determination. A physician or health care professional of the same licensure may not have been involved in the initial adverse determination.

(b) In designating an appropriate physician or health care professional of the same licensure pursuant to subsection (4)(a), the health insurance issuer shall ensure that if more than one physician or health care professional of the same licensure is involved in the review, a majority of the individuals reviewing the adverse determination are health care professionals who have appropriate expertise.

(5) In conducting a review under subsection (4), each physician or health care professional of the same licensure shall take into consideration all comments, documents, records, and other information regarding the request for services submitted by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative without regard to whether the information was submitted or considered in making the initial adverse determination.

(6) (a) A covered person does not have the right to attend or to have a representative in attendance at the review, but the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative is entitled to:

(i) submit written comments, documents, records, and other material relating to the request for benefits for the reviewer or reviewers to consider when conducting the review; and

(ii) receive from the health insurance issuer, on request and free of charge, reasonable access to and copies of all documents, records, and other information relevant to the covered person's request for benefits.

(b) For the purposes of subsections (6)(a) and (11)(f)(iii), the term "relevant" in relation to a document, record, or other information related to a covered person's request for benefits means the document, record, or other information:

(i) was relied on in making the benefit determination;

(ii) was submitted, considered, or generated in the course of making the adverse determination without regard to whether the document, record, or other information was relied on in making the benefit determination;

(iii) was used to demonstrate that in making the benefit determination, the health insurance issuer or its designated representatives consistently applied to the covered person the required administrative procedures and safeguards used for other similarly situated covered persons; or

(iv) constituted a statement of policy or guidance with respect to the health plan concerning the denied health care service or treatment for the covered person's diagnosis without regard to whether the advice or statement was relied on in making the benefit determination.

(7) The health insurance issuer shall disclose the provisions of subsection (6) to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative, in writing:

(a) in the notice of adverse determination that is the subject of the grievance; or

(b) in a separate notice sent within 3 working days after the date of receipt of the grievance.

(8) For the purposes of calculating the time period within which a determination must be made and noticed under subsection (9), the time period begins on the date the request for a grievance review is filed with the health insurance issuer in accordance with the health insurance issuer's procedures for filing requests established pursuant to 33-32-307 without regard to whether all of the information necessary to make the determination accompanies the filing.

(9) (a) A health insurance issuer shall notify and issue a decision with respect to a grievance requesting a review of an adverse determination involving a prospective review or a retrospective review request. The notification must be in writing or sent electronically to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative.

(b) The health insurance issuer shall issue a decision and send notification as provided in this section within a reasonable period of time that is appropriate considering the covered person's medical condition but no later than 30 days in the case of a prospective review or 60 days in the case of a retrospective review after the date on which the health insurance issuer received the grievance request for the review made pursuant to subsection (1).

(10) Prior to issuing a decision or final adverse determination in accordance with the timeframe provided in subsection (9) and sufficiently in advance of the required date for a decision or final adverse determination to allow the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative a reasonable opportunity to respond prior to the date of the decision or final adverse determination, the health insurance issuer shall provide free of charge to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative:

(a) any new or additional relevant evidence relied on or generated by the health insurance issuer or at the health insurance issuer's direction in connection with the grievance; and

(b) in relation to the issuance and notice of a final adverse determination based on new or additional rationale, the new or additional rationale.

(11) The decision issued pursuant to subsection (9) must specify in a manner calculated to be understood by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative the following:

(a) the titles and qualifying credentials of each physician or health care professional of the same licensure participating in the review process;

(b) information sufficient to identify the claim involved with respect to the grievance, including, as applicable, the date of service, the health care provider, and the claim amount;

(c) a statement describing the availability, upon request, of the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning and the treatment code and its corresponding meaning. On receiving a request for a diagnosis or treatment code, the health insurance issuer shall provide the information as soon as practicable. A health insurance issuer may not consider a request for the diagnosis code and treatment information, in itself, to be a request to file a grievance for review of an adverse determination pursuant to this part or a request for external review as outlined in Title 33, chapter 32, part 4.

(d) a statement from the physicians or health care professionals of the same licensure participating in the review of their understanding of the covered person's grievance;

(e) the decision of the physicians or health care professionals of the same licensure conducting the review, provided in clear terms, and the contract basis or medical rationale on which the decision was based, provided in sufficient detail for the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to respond further to the health insurance issuer's position;

(f) a reference to the evidence or documentation used as the basis for the decision. The information required under this subsection (11)(f) must also include for a review decision issued pursuant to subsection (9) that upholds an adverse determination:

(i) all specific reasons that uphold the final internal adverse determination, including the denial code and its corresponding meaning, as well as a description of the health insurance issuer's standard, if any, that was used in reaching the denial;

(ii) the reference to the specific plan provisions on which the adverse determination is based;

(iii) a statement that the covered person is entitled to receive, on request and free of charge, reasonable access to and copies of all documents, records, and other information relevant to the covered person's benefit request;

(iv) a copy of any specific rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria that the health insurance issuer may have relied on to make the final adverse determination. Alternatively, the health insurance issuer may provide a statement that a specific rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria was relied on to make the final adverse determination and that a copy of the rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria will be provided free of charge to the covered person on request;

(v) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment used for making the adverse determination if the final adverse determination is based on a medical necessity or experimental or investigational treatment or similar exclusion or limit. The explanation must apply the terms of the health plan to the covered person's medical circumstances. Alternatively, the health insurance issuer may provide a statement that an explanation will be provided to the covered person free of charge on request.

(vi) instructions for requesting all of the following that are applicable:

(A) a copy of the rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria relied on in making the final adverse determination in accordance with subsection (11)(f)(iv); or

(B) the written statement of the scientific or clinical rationale for the final adverse determination in accordance with subsection (11)(f)(v);

(vii) a statement, if applicable, indicating:

(A) a description of the procedures for obtaining an independent external review of the final adverse determination pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 4; and

(B) the covered person's right to bring a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction;

(viii) the following statement, if applicable:

"You and your plan may have other voluntary alternative dispute resolution options, such as mediation. One way to find out what may be available is to contact your state insurance commissioner."

(ix) notice of the covered person's right to contact the commissioner's office for further assistance on any claim, grievance, or appeal at any time, including the telephone number and address of the commissioner's office. The notice under this subsection (11)(f)(ix) must be provided in accordance with federal regulations and as provided in 33-32-211(9).

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-309. Expedited review of grievance involving adverse determination. (1) A health insurance issuer shall establish written procedures for the expedited review of urgent care requests of grievances involving an adverse determination.

(2) A health insurance issuer shall provide an expedited review of a grievance involving an adverse determination with respect to a concurrent review of an urgent care request involving an admission, availability of care, continued stay, or health care service for a covered person who has received emergency services but has not been discharged from a facility. The procedures in subsection (1) must also specify the process for the concurrent review of urgent care requests under this subsection (2).

(3) The procedures under this section must provide that a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may request an expedited review orally, in writing, or electronically.

(4) On receipt of a request for an expedited review, a health insurance issuer shall appoint one or more physicians or health care professionals of the same licensure to review the adverse determination. An appointed physician or health care professional of the same licensure may not have been involved in making the initial adverse determination.

(5) In an expedited review, all necessary information, including the health insurance issuer's decision, must be transmitted between the health insurance issuer and the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in the most expeditious method available, whether by telephone, facsimile, or other method.

(6) (a) The timeframe for making a decision under an expedited review and notification, as provided in subsection (8), must be as expeditious as the covered person's medical condition requires but may take no more than 72 hours after the receipt of the request for the expedited review.

(b) If the expedited review is of a grievance involving an adverse determination with respect to a concurrent review urgent care request, the health insurance issuer shall continue the health care service or treatment without liability to the covered person until the covered person has been notified of the determination.

(7) For purposes of calculating the timeframe within which a decision is required to be made under subsection (6), the time period within which the decision must be made begins on the date the request is filed with the health insurance issuer in accordance with the health insurance issuer's procedures for filing requests established under 33-32-307 without regard to whether all of the information necessary to make the determination accompanies the filing.

(8) A notification of a decision under this section must be in a manner calculated to be understood by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative and, if necessary, meet the requirements of subsection (9). The notification must include:

(a) the titles and qualifying credentials of each physician or health care professional of the same licensure participating in the expedited review process;

(b) information sufficient to identify the claim involved with respect to the grievance, including the date of service, the health care provider, and, if applicable, the claim amount;

(c) a statement describing the availability, upon request, of the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning and the treatment code and its corresponding meaning. On receiving a request for a diagnosis or treatment code, the health insurance issuer shall provide the information as soon as practicable. A health insurance issuer may not consider a request for the diagnosis code and treatment information, in itself, to be a request to file a grievance for external review as outlined in Title 33, chapter 32, part 4.

(d) a statement from the physicians or health care professionals of the same licensure participating in the review of their understanding of the covered person's grievance;

(e) a description in clear terms of the decision of the physicians or health care professionals of the same licensure and the contract basis or medical rationale in sufficient detail for the covered person to respond further to the health insurance issuer's position;

(f) a reference to the evidence or documentation used as the basis for the decision. If the decision involves an adverse determination, the notice must provide:

(i) all specific reasons for the adverse determination, including the denial code and its corresponding meaning, as well as a description of the health insurance issuer's standard, if any, that was used in reaching the denial;

(ii) the reference to the specific plan provisions on which the determination is based;

(iii) if the adverse determination is based on incomplete documentation, a description of any additional material or information necessary for the covered person to complete the request, including an explanation of why the material or information is necessary to complete the request;

(iv) a copy of any internal rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria if relied on by the health insurance issuer to make the adverse determination. Alternatively, the health insurance issuer may provide a statement that a specific rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria was relied on to make the adverse determination and that a copy of the rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria will be provided free of charge to the covered person on request.

(v) an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment used for making the adverse determination if the adverse determination is based on a medical necessity or experimental or investigational treatment or similar exclusion or limit. The explanation must apply the terms of the health plan to the covered person's medical circumstances. Alternatively, the health insurance issuer may provide a statement that an explanation will be provided to the covered person free of charge on request.

(vi) instructions for requesting any of the following that are applicable:

(A) a copy of the rule, guideline, protocol, or other similar criteria relied on in making the adverse determination in accordance with subsection (8)(f)(iv); or

(B) the written statement of the scientific or clinical rationale for the adverse determination in accordance with subsection (8)(f)(v);

(vii) a statement describing the procedures for obtaining an independent external review of the adverse determination pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 4;

(viii) the following statement, if applicable:

"You and your plan may have other voluntary alternative dispute resolution options, such as mediation. One way to find out what may be available is to contact your state insurance commissioner."

(ix) a statement indicating the covered person's right to bring a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction; and

(x) a notice of the covered person's right to contact the commissioner's office for assistance at any time, including the telephone number and address of the commissioner's office.

(9) The notice under subsection (8)(f) must be provided in accordance with federal regulations and as provided in 33-32-211(9).

(10) (a) A health insurance issuer may provide the notice required under this section orally, in writing, or electronically.

(b) If notice of the adverse determination is provided orally, the health insurance issuer shall provide written or electronic notice of the adverse determination within 3 days after the oral notification.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

Part 4
External Review

33-32-401. Purpose. The purpose of this part is to provide uniform standards for the establishment and maintenance of external review procedures to ensure that covered persons have the opportunity for an independent review of an adverse determination or a final adverse determination.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-402. Definitions for external review. For the purposes of this part, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Adverse determination" means a determination by a health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization that an admission, availability of care, continued stay, or other health care service that is a covered benefit has been reviewed and, based on the information provided, does not meet the health insurance issuer's requirements for medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care, or level of effectiveness and as a result the requested service or payment for the service has been denied, reduced, or terminated.

(2) "Best evidence" means evidence based on:

(a) randomized clinical trials;

(b) a cohort study or case-control study if randomized clinical trials are not available;

(c) a case series if information as provided in subsection (2)(a) or (2)(b) is unavailable; or

(d) an expert opinion if information as provided in subsection (2)(a), (2)(b), or (2)(c) is unavailable.

(3) "Case-control study" means a retrospective evaluation of two groups of patients with different outcomes to determine which specific interventions the patients received.

(4) "Case series" means an evaluation of a series of patients with a particular outcome, without the use of a control group.

(5) "Cohort study" means a prospective evaluation of two groups of patients with only one group of patients receiving a specific intervention.

(6) "Disclose" means to release, transfer, or otherwise divulge protected health information to any person other than the individual who is the subject of the protected health information.

(7) "Evidence-based standard" means the conscientious, explicit, and judicious use of the current best evidence based on the overall systematic review of the research in making decisions about the care of individual patients.

(8) "Expert opinion" means a belief or an interpretation by specialists with experience in a specific area about the scientific evidence pertaining to a particular service, intervention, or therapy.

(9) "Health information" means information or data, whether oral or recorded in any form or medium, including personal facts or information about events or relationships that relate to:

(a) the past, present, or future physical, mental, or behavioral health or condition of a covered person or a member of the covered person's family;

(b) the provision of health care services to a covered person; or

(c) payment for the provision of health care services to a covered person.

(10) "Independent review organization" means an entity that conducts independent external reviews of adverse determinations and final adverse determinations.

(11) "Medical or scientific evidence" means evidence found in the following sources:

(a) peer-reviewed scientific studies published in or accepted for publication by medical journals that meet nationally recognized requirements for scientific manuscripts and that submit most of their published articles for review by experts who are not part of the editorial staff;

(b) peer-reviewed medical literature, including literature relating to therapies reviewed and approved by a qualified institutional review board, biomedical compendia, and other medical literature that meet the criteria of the national institutes of health's library of medicine for indexing in Index Medicus and Excerpta Medica, published by the Reed Elsevier group;

(c) medical journals recognized by the secretary of health and human services under 42 U.S.C. 1395x(t)(2)(B) of the federal Social Security Act;

(d) the following standard reference compendia:

(i) the American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information;

(ii) Drug Facts and Comparisons;

(iii) the American Dental Association Guide to Dental Therapeutics; and

(iv) the United States Pharmacopeia;

(e) findings, studies, or research conducted by or under the auspices of federal government agencies and nationally recognized federal research institutes, including:

(i) the federal agency for healthcare research and quality;

(ii) the national institutes of health;

(iii) the national cancer institute;

(iv) the national academy of sciences;

(v) the centers for medicare and medicaid services;

(vi) the food and drug administration; and

(vii) any national board recognized by the national institutes of health for the purpose of evaluating the medical value of health care services; or

(f) any other medical or scientific evidence that is comparable to the sources listed in subsection (11)(d) or (11)(e).

(12) "NAIC" means the national association of insurance commissioners.

(13) "Protected health information" means health information:

(a) that identifies an individual who is the subject of the information; or

(b) with respect to which there is a reasonable basis to believe that the information could be used to identify an individual.

(14) "Randomized clinical trial" means a controlled, prospective study of patients who have been assigned at random to an experimental group or a control group at the beginning of the study with only the experimental group of patients receiving a specific intervention. The term includes a study of the groups for variables and anticipated outcomes over time.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-403. Notice of right to external review. (1) A health insurance issuer shall:

(a) notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in writing of the covered person's right to request an external review pursuant to 33-32-410, 33-32-411, or 33-32-412; and

(b) include the appropriate statements and information described in subsection (4) at the same time that the health insurance issuer sends written notice of:

(i) an adverse determination upon completion of the health insurance issuer's utilization review process described in Title 33, chapter 32, part 2; and

(ii) a final adverse determination.

(2) The health insurance issuer shall include in the written notice required under subsection (1) the following, or substantially equivalent, language:

"We have denied your request for the provision of or payment for a health care service or course of treatment. You have the right to have our decision reviewed by health care professionals who have no association with us if our decision involved making a judgment as to the medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care, or level of effectiveness of the health care service or treatment you requested. You may exercise this right by submitting a request for external review to us [insert address and telephone number of the unit of the health insurance issuer that administers the external review program]."

(3) (a) The commissioner may prescribe the form and content of the notice required under this section.

(b) The notice must also include the following information:

(i) information sufficient to identify the claim involved, including the date of service, the health care provider, and, if applicable, the claim amount; and

(ii) a statement describing the availability, upon request, of the diagnosis code and its corresponding meaning and the treatment code and its corresponding meaning. On receiving a request for a diagnosis or treatment code, the health insurance issuer shall provide the information as soon as practicable. A health insurance issuer may not consider a request for the diagnosis code and treatment information, in itself, to be a request for an external review as outlined in this part.

(4) The health insurance issuer shall include in the notice required under subsection (1) a statement that:

(a) for a notice related to an adverse determination:

(i) the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may file a grievance under the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process provided for in 33-32-308;

(ii) if the health insurance issuer has not issued a written decision to the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative within the time period provided in 33-32-308 or 33-32-309, as applicable, after the date the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative files the grievance with the health insurance issuer and the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative has not requested or agreed to a delay, the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative may file a request for external review pursuant to 33-32-404. Under those conditions, the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative is considered to have exhausted the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process for the purposes of 33-32-307.

(iii) the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative may file a request for an expedited external review to be conducted pursuant to 33-32-411 or 33-32-412, as applicable, under the following circumstances:

(A) a review under 33-32-411 may be requested if the covered person has a medical condition with regard to which the timeframe for completion of an expedited grievance review of an adverse determination would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the covered person or would jeopardize the covered person's ability to regain maximum function; and

(B) a review under 33-32-412 may be requested if the adverse determination involves a denial of coverage based on a determination that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment is experimental or investigational and the covered person's treating health care provider certifies in writing that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination would be significantly less effective if not promptly initiated. The health care provider's certification must be submitted at the same time that the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative files a request for an expedited review of a grievance involving an adverse determination. However, the independent review organization assigned to conduct the expedited external review is responsible for determining whether the covered person is required to complete the expedited review of the grievance before the expedited external review can begin.

(iv) informs the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative of the other exhaustion methods listed in 33-32-405;

(b) for a notice related to a final adverse determination, the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative may file a request for:

(i) an expedited external review under 33-32-411 if the covered person has a medical condition for which the timeframe for completion of a standard external review under 33-32-410 would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the covered person or would jeopardize the covered person's ability to regain maximum function;

(ii) an expedited external review under 33-32-411 if the covered person has received emergency services and has not been discharged from a facility and the request concerns an admission, the availability of care, a continued stay, or a health care service for which the covered person received emergency services;

(iii) a standard external review under 33-32-412 if the denial of coverage was based on a determination that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment is experimental or investigational; or

(iv) an expedited external review under 33-32-412 if a covered person to which subsection (4)(b)(iii) applies attaches a written certification from the covered person's treating health care provider that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment that is the subject of the request would be significantly less effective if not promptly initiated.

(5) In addition to the information to be provided in subsections (1) and (2), the health insurance issuer shall:

(a) include a description of both the standard and the expedited external review procedures as required by the disclosure requirements under 33-32-423, highlighting the provisions in the external review procedures that give the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative the opportunity to submit additional information and including any forms used to process an external review; and

(b) state that the commissioner's office is available to assist covered persons with the external review process. This statement must include the commissioner's contact information.

(6) Among the forms provided under this section, the health insurance issuer shall include an authorization form or other document approved by the commissioner that complies with the requirements of 45 CFR 164.508 and 33-19-206, by which the covered person, for purposes of conducting an external review under this part, authorizes the health insurance issuer and the covered person's treating health care provider to disclose protected health information, including medical records, concerning the covered person for the purposes of the external review.

33-32-404. Request for external review. (1) Except for a request for an expedited external review provided for in 33-32-411, all requests for an external review must be made in writing to the health insurance issuer.

(2) A request for expedited external review may be made by telephone or in another expeditious manner.

(3) The commissioner may prescribe the form and content of external review requests submitted under this section.

(4) A covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may make a request for an external review of an adverse determination or a final adverse determination.

History: En. Sec. 20, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-405. Exhaustion of internal grievance process. (1) Except as provided in subsections (2), (4), (5), and (6), a request for an external review pursuant to 33-32-410, 33-32-411, or 33-32-412 may not be made until the covered person has exhausted the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process provided for in Title 33, chapter 32, part 3.

(2) For the purposes of this section, a covered person is considered to have exhausted the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process if the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative:

(a) has filed a grievance involving an adverse determination pursuant to 33-32-308; and

(b) has not received a written decision on the grievance from the health insurance issuer within the time period provided in 33-32-308 or 33-32-309, as applicable, from the date the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative filed the grievance with the health insurance issuer except to the extent the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative requested or agreed to a delay.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (2), a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may not request an external review of an adverse determination involving a retrospective review determination made pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, until the covered person has exhausted the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process.

(4) (a) At the same time a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative files a request for an expedited review of a grievance involving an adverse determination under 33-32-308, the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative may file a request for an expedited external review of the adverse determination:

(i) under 33-32-411 if the covered person has a medical condition for which the timeframe for completion of an expedited review of the grievance involving an adverse determination provided for in 33-32-308 would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the covered person or would jeopardize the covered person's ability to regain maximum function; or

(ii) under 33-32-412 if the adverse determination involves a denial of coverage based on a determination that:

(A) the recommended or requested health care service or treatment is experimental or investigational; and

(B) the covered person's treating health care provider certifies in writing that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination would be significantly less effective if not promptly initiated.

(b) On receipt of a request for an expedited external review under subsection (4)(a), the independent review organization conducting the external review as provided under 33-32-411 or 33-32-412 shall determine whether the covered person must be required to complete the expedited review process for grievances provided for in 33-32-309 before an expedited external review can be conducted.

(c) Upon a determination made pursuant to subsection (4)(b) that the covered person must first be required to complete the expedited grievance review process provided for in 33-32-309, the independent review organization shall immediately notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of this determination. The notification also must state that the independent review organization will not proceed with the expedited external review under 33-32-411 until:

(i) the expedited grievance review process under 33-32-309 is completed; and

(ii) the covered person's grievance at the completion of the expedited grievance review process remains unresolved.

(5) A request for an external review of an adverse determination may be made before the covered person has exhausted the health insurance issuer's internal grievance procedures as provided in 33-32-307 whenever the health insurance issuer agrees to waive the exhaustion requirement.

(6) If the requirement to exhaust the health insurance issuer's internal grievance procedures is waived under subsection (5), the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may file a request in writing for a review under 33-32-410 or 33-32-412, as applicable.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-406 through 33-32-409 reserved.

33-32-410. Standard external review. (1) Within 120 days after the date of receipt of a notice of an adverse determination or a final adverse determination pursuant to 33-32-403, a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may file a request for an external review with the health insurance issuer.

(2) Within 5 business days after the date of receipt of the external review request, the health insurance issuer shall complete a preliminary review of the request to determine whether:

(a) the individual is or was a covered person in the health plan at the time the health care service or treatment was requested or, in the case of a retrospective review, was a covered person in the health plan at the time the health care service or treatment was provided;

(b) the health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination or the final adverse determination is a covered service under the covered person's health plan but is not covered because of a determination by the health insurance issuer that the health care service or treatment does not meet the health insurance issuer's requirements for medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care, or level of effectiveness;

(c) the covered person has exhausted the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process as set forth in Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, or the covered person is exempt under 33-32-307(2); and

(d) the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative has provided all of the information and forms required to process an external review.

(3) (a) Within 1 business day after completion of the preliminary review, the health insurance issuer shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in writing as to whether:

(i) the request is complete; and

(ii) the request is eligible for external review.

(b) (i) If the request is not complete, the health insurance issuer shall inform the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in writing and include in the notice the information or materials that are needed to make the request complete.

(ii) If the request is not eligible for external review, the health insurance issuer shall inform the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in writing and include in the notice the reasons for the request's ineligibility.

(4) (a) The commissioner may specify the form for the health insurance issuer's notice of initial determination under subsection (3) and any supporting information to be included in the notice.

(b) The notice of initial determination provided under subsection (3) must include a statement informing the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the right to appeal to the commissioner a health insurance issuer's initial determination that the external review request is ineligible for review.

(5) (a) If the commissioner receives an appeal under subsection (4), the commissioner may require a referral for external review, notwithstanding a health insurance issuer's initial determination that the request is ineligible.

(b) A determination by the commissioner under subsection (5)(a) must be based on the terms of the covered person's health plan and all applicable provisions of Title 33, chapter 32, parts 2 through 4.

(6) (a) If the request is eligible for external review, the health insurance issuer shall within 1 business day assign an independent review organization on a random basis, or using another method of assignment that ensures the independence and impartiality of the assignment process, from the list of approved independent review organizations compiled and maintained by the commissioner pursuant to 33-32-416 to conduct the external review.

(b) In making the assignment, the health insurance issuer shall consider whether an independent review organization is qualified to conduct the particular external review based on the nature of the health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(c) The health insurance issuer shall also take into account other circumstances, including conflict of interest concerns pursuant to 33-32-417(4).

(7) The assigned independent review organization, in reaching its decision, is not bound by any decisions or conclusions reached during the health insurance issuer's utilization review process set forth in Title 33, chapter 32, part 2, or the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process set forth in Title 33, chapter 32, part 3.

(8) Within 1 business day of assigning an independent review organization pursuant to subsection (6), the health insurance issuer shall notify, in writing, the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative that the health insurance issuer initiated an external review.

(9) The health insurance issuer shall include in the notice provided to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative a statement that the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative may submit in writing to the assigned independent review organization within 10 business days following the date of receipt of the notice provided pursuant to subsection (8) any additional information for the independent review organization to consider when conducting the external review. The independent review organization shall accept and consider information submitted within 10 business days after the date of receipt of the notice and may accept and consider additional information submitted after the 10 business days.

(10) Within 5 business days after assigning an independent review organization pursuant to subsection (6), the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization shall provide to the assigned independent review organization the medical records, documents, and any information used in making the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(11) Except as provided in subsection (12), failure by the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization to provide the documents and information within the time specified in subsection (10) may not delay the conduct of the external review.

(12) (a) If the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization fails to provide the documents and information within the time specified in subsection (10), the assigned independent review organization may terminate the external review and make a decision to reverse the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(b) Within 1 business day after making a decision under subsection (12)(a), the independent review organization shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative as well as the health insurance issuer.

(13) If the provisions of subsection (12) do not apply, the assigned independent review organization shall review all of the information and documents received pursuant to subsection (10) and any other information submitted in writing to the independent review organization by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative pursuant to subsection (9).

(14) On receipt of any information submitted by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative pursuant to subsection (9), the assigned independent review organization shall within 1 business day after receipt forward the information to the health insurance issuer.

(15) On receipt of the information, if any, forwarded as provided in subsection (14), the health insurance issuer may reconsider its adverse determination or final adverse determination that is the subject of the external review.

(16) Reconsideration by the health insurance issuer of its adverse determination or final adverse determination pursuant to subsection (15) may not delay or terminate the external review.

(17) The external review may be terminated only if the health insurance issuer decides, on completion of its reconsideration, to reverse its adverse determination or final adverse determination and provide coverage or payment for the health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(18) (a) Within 1 business day after making a decision to reverse its adverse determination or final adverse determination, as provided in subsection (17), the health insurance issuer shall notify the following in writing of its decision:

(i) the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative; and

(ii) the assigned independent review organization.

(b) The assigned independent review organization shall terminate the external review on receipt of the notice from the health insurance issuer sent pursuant to subsection (18)(a).

(19) In addition to the documents and information provided pursuant to subsection (10), the assigned independent review organization shall consider the following information and documents in making a decision, to the extent the information or documents are available:

(a) the covered person's medical records;

(b) the attending health care professional's recommendation;

(c) consulting reports from appropriate health care professionals and other documents submitted by the health insurance issuer, the covered person, the covered person's authorized representative, or the covered person's treating health care provider;

(d) the terms of coverage under the covered person's health plan with the health insurance issuer to ensure that the independent review organization's decision is not contrary to the terms of coverage under the covered person's health plan with the health insurance issuer;

(e) the most appropriate practice guidelines, which must include generally accepted practice guidelines, evidence-based standards, or any other practice guidelines developed by the federal government or national or professional medical societies, boards, and associations;

(f) any applicable clinical review criteria developed and used by the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization; and

(g) the opinion of the independent review organization's clinical peer after considering the provisions of subsections (19)(a) through (19)(f) to the extent the information or documents are available.

(20) Within 45 days after the date of receipt of the request for an external review, the assigned independent review organization shall provide written notice of its decision to uphold or reverse the adverse determination or the final adverse determination to:

(a) the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative; and

(b) the health insurance issuer.

(21) The independent review organization shall include in the notice sent pursuant to subsection (20):

(a) a general description of the reason for the request for the external review;

(b) the date the independent review organization received the assignment from the health insurance issuer to conduct the external review;

(c) the time period over which the external review was conducted;

(d) the date of the independent review organization's decision;

(e) the principal reasons for the decision;

(f) the rationale for the decision; and

(g) references to the evidence or documentation, including the evidence-based standards, considered in reaching the decision.

(22) If a notice of a decision under subsection (20) reverses the adverse determination or final adverse determination, the health insurance issuer shall immediately approve the coverage that was the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 41, Ch. 151, L. 2017.

33-32-411. Expedited external review. (1) Except as provided in subsection (11), a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may request an expedited external review with the health insurance issuer at the time the covered person receives:

(a) an adverse determination if:

(i) the adverse determination involves a medical condition of the covered person for which the timeframe for completion of an expedited internal review of a grievance involving an adverse determination under 33-32-309 would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the covered person or would jeopardize the covered person's ability to regain maximum function; and

(ii) the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative has filed a request for an expedited review of a grievance involving an adverse determination as provided in 33-32-309; or

(b) a final adverse determination if:

(i) the covered person has a medical condition for which the timeframe for completion of a standard external review pursuant to 33-32-410 would seriously jeopardize the life or health of the covered person or would jeopardize the covered person's ability to regain maximum function; or

(ii) the final adverse determination concerns an admission, availability of care, continued stay, or health care service for which the covered person received emergency services but has not been discharged from a facility.

(2) (a) On receipt of the request pursuant to subsection (1), the health insurance issuer shall immediately determine whether the request meets the review requirements under 33-32-410(2).

(b) The health insurance issuer shall immediately notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of its eligibility determination.

(3) (a) The commissioner may specify the form for the health insurance issuer's notice of initial determination under subsection (2)(b) and any supporting information to be included in the notice.

(b) The notice of initial determination under subsection (2)(b) must include a statement informing the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the right to appeal to the commissioner a health insurance issuer's initial determination that the external review request is ineligible for review. The notice must also provide contact information for the commissioner's office.

(4) (a) The commissioner may determine that a request is eligible for external review under 33-32-410(5) and require a referral for external review, notwithstanding a health insurance issuer's initial determination that the request is ineligible.

(b) A determination by the commissioner under subsection (4)(a) must be based on the terms of the covered person's health plan and all applicable provisions of Title 33, chapter 32, parts 2 through 4.

(5) (a) If the request is eligible for external review, the health insurance issuer shall immediately assign an independent review organization on a random basis, or using another method of assignment that ensures the independence and impartiality of the assignment process, from the list of approved independent review organizations compiled and maintained by the commissioner pursuant to 33-32-416 to conduct the review.

(b) In making the assignment, the health insurance issuer shall consider whether an independent review organization is qualified to conduct the particular external review based on the nature of the health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(c) The health insurance issuer shall also take into account other circumstances, including conflict of interest concerns pursuant to 33-32-417(4).

(6) In reaching a decision as provided in subsection (9), the assigned independent review organization is not bound by any decisions or conclusions reached during the health insurance issuer's utilization review process, as provided in Title 33, chapter 32, part 2, or the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process provided in Title 33, chapter 32, part 3.

(7) Upon assigning an independent review organization, the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization shall provide or transmit all necessary documents and information used in making the adverse determination or final adverse determination to the assigned independent review organization electronically or by telephone or facsimile or any other available expeditious method.

(8) In addition to the documents and information provided under subsection (7), the assigned independent review organization, to the extent the information or documents are available, shall consider the documents listed in 33-32-410(19) in reaching a decision.

(9) (a) As expeditiously as the covered person's medical condition or circumstances require but no more than 72 hours after receiving the request for an expedited external review that meets the review requirements set forth in 33-32-410(2), the assigned independent review organization shall:

(i) decide whether to uphold or reverse the adverse determination or final adverse determination; and

(ii) notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative as well as the health insurance issuer of the decision.

(b) If the notice required under subsection (9)(a) was not provided in writing, the assigned independent review organization shall within 48 hours after the date of providing the notice:

(i) provide written confirmation of the decision to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative as well as to the health insurance issuer; and

(ii) include the information required in 33-32-410(21).

(10) On receipt of the notice regarding a decision reversing the adverse determination or final adverse determination, the health insurance issuer shall immediately approve the coverage that was the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(11) An expedited external review may not be provided for retrospective adverse or retrospective final adverse determinations.

33-32-412. External review of adverse determinations for experimental or investigational treatment — expedited external review. (1) Within 120 days after the date when a covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative receives notice pursuant to 33-32-403 of an adverse determination or final adverse determination that involves a denial of coverage because a health insurance issuer determined that the health care service or treatment recommended or requested is experimental or investigational, the covered person or the covered person's authorized representative may file a request for an external review with the health insurance issuer.

(2) (a) A covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may make an oral request for an expedited external review of the adverse determination or final adverse determination pursuant to subsection (1) if the covered person's treating health care provider certifies, in writing, that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment that is the subject of the request would be significantly less effective if not promptly initiated.

(b) (i) Upon receipt of a request for an expedited external review, the health insurance issuer shall immediately determine and notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative whether the request meets the review requirements of subsection (4).

(ii) The commissioner may specify the form for the health insurance issuer's notice of initial determination under subsection (2)(b)(i) and any supporting information to be included in the notice.

(iii) The notice of initial determination under subsection (2)(b)(i) must include a statement informing the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the right to appeal to the commissioner a health insurance issuer's initial determination that the external review request is ineligible for review. The notice must also provide contact information for the commissioner's office.

(c) (i) The commissioner may determine that a request is eligible for external review under 33-32-404 or subsection (4) of this section and may require a referral for external review, notwithstanding a health insurance issuer's initial determination that the request is ineligible.

(ii) A determination by the commissioner under subsection (2)(c)(i) must be based on the terms of the covered person's health plan and all applicable provisions of Title 33, chapter 32, parts 2 through 4.

(d) (i) If the request is eligible for expedited external review, the health insurance issuer shall immediately assign an independent review organization on a random basis, or using another method of assignment that ensures the independence and impartiality of the assignment process, from the list of approved independent review organizations compiled and maintained by the commissioner pursuant to 33-32-416 to conduct the external review.

(ii) In making the assignment, the health insurance issuer shall consider whether an independent review organization is qualified to conduct the particular external review based on the nature of the health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(iii) The health insurance issuer shall also take into account other circumstances, including conflict of interest concerns pursuant to 33-32-417(4).

(e) Upon assigning an independent review organization, the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization shall provide or transmit to the assigned independent review organization electronically, by telephone, by facsimile, or by any other available expeditious method all necessary documents and information used in making the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(3) Upon receipt of a request for standard external review, the health insurance issuer shall, within 5 business days, determine whether the request meets the eligibility requirements of subsection (4).

(4) In accordance with the timeframes in subsections (2)(b) and (3), the health insurance issuer shall conduct and complete a preliminary review of the request to determine whether:

(a) the individual is or was a covered person in the health plan at the time the health care service or treatment was recommended or requested or, in the case of a retrospective review, was a covered person in the health plan at the time the health care service or treatment was provided;

(b) the recommended or requested health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination:

(i) is a covered benefit under the covered person's health plan except for the health insurance issuer's determination that the service or treatment is experimental or investigational for a particular medical condition; and

(ii) is not explicitly listed as an excluded benefit under the covered person's health plan;

(c) the covered person's treating health care provider has certified that one of the following situations is applicable:

(i) standard health care services or treatments have not been effective in improving the condition of the covered person;

(ii) standard health care services or treatments are not medically appropriate for the covered person; or

(iii) there is no available standard health care service or treatment covered by the health insurance issuer that is more beneficial than the recommended or requested health care service or treatment described in subsection (4)(d);

(d) (i) the covered person's treating health care provider has recommended a health care service or treatment that the health care provider certifies, in writing, is likely to be more beneficial to the covered person, in the health care provider's opinion, than any available standard health care services or treatments; or

(ii) a physician who is licensed, board-certified, or eligible to take the examination to become board-certified and is qualified to practice in the area of medicine appropriate to treat the covered person's condition has certified in writing that scientifically valid studies using accepted protocols demonstrate that the health care service or treatment requested by the covered person who is subject to the adverse determination or final adverse determination is likely to be more beneficial to the covered person than any available standard health care services or treatments; and

(e) the covered person has exhausted the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process provided in Title 33, chapter 32, part 3, or the covered person is exempt under 33-32-307(2).

(5) (a) Within 1 business day after completion of the preliminary review, the health insurance issuer shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in writing as to whether:

(i) the request is complete; and

(ii) the request is eligible for external review.

(b) (i) If the request is not complete, the health insurance issuer shall inform the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in writing and include in the notice the information or materials that are needed to make the request complete.

(ii) If the request is not eligible for external review, the health insurance issuer shall inform the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative in writing and include in the notice the reasons for the request's ineligibility.

(6) (a) The commissioner may specify the form for the health insurance issuer's notice of initial determination under subsection (5) and any supporting information to be included in the notice.

(b) The notice of initial determination provided under subsection (5) must include a statement informing the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative of the right to appeal to the commissioner a health insurance issuer's initial determination that the external review request is ineligible for review. The notice must also provide contact information for the commissioner's office.

(7) If a request for external review is determined eligible for external review, the health insurance issuer shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative.

(8) (a) If the request is eligible for external review, the health insurance issuer shall within 1 business day assign an independent review organization on a random basis, or using another method of assignment that ensures the independence and impartiality of the assignment process, from the list of approved independent review organizations compiled and maintained by the commissioner pursuant to 33-32-416 to conduct the external review.

(b) In making the assignment, the health insurance issuer shall consider whether an independent review organization is qualified to conduct the particular external review based on the nature of the health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(c) The health insurance issuer shall also take into account other circumstances, including conflict of interest concerns pursuant to 33-32-417(4).

(9) Within 1 business day of assigning an independent review organization pursuant to subsection (2)(d) or (8), the health insurance issuer shall notify in writing the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative that the health insurance issuer initiated an external review.

(10) The health insurance issuer shall include in the notice provided to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative a statement that the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may submit in writing to the assigned independent review organization within 10 business days following the date of receipt of the notice provided pursuant to subsection (9) any additional information for the independent review organization to consider when conducting the external review. The independent review organization shall accept and consider information submitted within 10 business days after the date of receipt of the notice and may accept and consider additional information submitted after the 10 business days.

(11) Within 1 business day after the receipt of the notice of assignment to conduct the external review pursuant to subsection (9), the assigned independent review organization shall select a clinical peer, or multiple peers if medically appropriate under the circumstances, to conduct the external review.

(12) (a) In selecting clinical peers to conduct the external review, the assigned independent review organization shall select physicians or other health care providers who meet the minimum qualifications described in 33-32-417 and who, through clinical experience in the past 3 years, are experts in the treatment of the covered person's condition and knowledgeable about the recommended or requested health care service or treatment.

(b) The choice of the physicians or other health care providers to conduct the external review may not be made by the covered person, the covered person's authorized representative, if applicable, or the health insurance issuer.

(13) (a) In accordance with subsection (20), each clinical peer shall provide a written opinion to the assigned independent review organization on whether the recommended or requested health care service or treatment should be covered.

(b) In reaching an opinion, clinical peers are not bound by any decisions or conclusions reached during the health insurance issuer's utilization review process provided for in Title 33, chapter 32, part 2, or in the health insurance issuer's internal grievance process provided for in Title 33, chapter 32, part 3.

(14) (a) Within 5 business days after assigning an independent review organization pursuant to subsection (9), the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization shall provide to the assigned independent review organization any documents and information considered in making the adverse determination or the final adverse determination.

(b) Except as provided in subsection (15), failure by the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization to provide the documents and information within the time specified in subsection (14)(a) may not delay the conduct of the external review.

(15) (a) If the health insurance issuer or its designated utilization review organization fails to provide the documents and information within the time specified in subsection (14)(a), the assigned independent review organization may terminate the external review and decide to reverse the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(b) Immediately upon making the determination under subsection (15)(a), the independent review organization shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative, the health insurance issuer, and the commissioner.

(16) On receipt of any information submitted by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative pursuant to subsection (10), the assigned independent review organization shall, within 1 business day after the receipt of the information, forward the information to the health insurance issuer.

(17) (a) On receipt of the information required to be forwarded pursuant to subsection (16), the health insurance issuer may reconsider its adverse determination or final adverse determination that is the subject of the external review.

(b) Reconsideration by the health insurance issuer of its adverse determination or final adverse determination pursuant to subsection (17)(a) may not delay or terminate the external review.

(18) (a) The external review may be terminated only if the health insurance issuer decides, on completion of its reconsideration, to reverse its adverse determination or final adverse determination and provide coverage or payment for the recommended or requested health care service or treatment that is the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(b) Immediately upon making the decision to reverse its adverse determination or final adverse determination, as provided in subsection (18)(a), the health insurance issuer shall notify the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative, the assigned independent review organization, and the commissioner in writing of its decision.

(c) The assigned independent review organization shall terminate the external review on receipt of the notice from the health insurance issuer pursuant to subsection (18)(b).

(19) Each clinical peer selected pursuant to subsection (12) shall review all of the information and documents received pursuant to subsection (14) and any other information submitted in writing by the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative pursuant to subsection (10).

(20) (a) Except as provided in subsection (20)(c), within 20 days after being selected in accordance with subsection (12) to conduct the external review, each clinical peer shall provide an opinion to the assigned independent review organization pursuant to subsection (21) on whether the recommended or requested health care service or treatment should be covered.

(b) Except for an opinion provided pursuant to subsection (20)(c), each clinical peer's opinion must be in writing and must include the following information:

(i) a description of the covered person's medical condition;

(ii) a description of the indicators relevant to determining whether there is sufficient evidence to demonstrate that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment is more likely than not to be more beneficial to the covered person than any available standard health care services or treatments and that the adverse risks of the recommended or requested health care service or treatment would not be substantially increased over those of available standard health care services or treatments;

(iii) a description and analysis of any medical or scientific evidence considered in reaching the opinion;

(iv) a description and analysis of any evidence-based standard; and

(v) information on whether the clinical peer's rationale for the opinion is based on subsection (21)(a) or (21)(b).

(c) (i) For an expedited external review, each clinical peer shall provide an opinion orally or in writing to the assigned independent review organization as expeditiously as the covered person's medical condition or circumstances require but no later than 5 calendar days after the clinical peer was selected in accordance with subsection (12).

(ii) If the opinion provided pursuant to subsection (20)(c)(i) was not in writing, the clinical peer shall provide to the assigned independent review organization written confirmation of the opinion within 48 hours after the date the opinion was delivered and include the information required under subsection (20)(b).

(21) In addition to the documents and information provided under this section, each clinical peer selected pursuant to subsection (12) shall consider the following information in reaching an opinion as required in subsection (20) to the extent that the information is available and the clinical peer considers the information to be appropriate:

(a) the covered person's pertinent medical records;

(b) the attending health care provider's recommendation;

(c) consulting reports from appropriate health care professionals and other documents submitted by the health insurance issuer, the covered person, the covered person's authorized representative, or the covered person's treating health care provider;

(d) the terms of coverage under the covered person's health plan with the health insurance issuer. The terms of coverage must be analyzed to ensure that, except for the health insurance issuer's determination that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment that is the subject of the opinion is experimental or investigational, the clinical peer's opinion is not contrary to the terms of coverage under the covered person's health benefit plan with the health insurance issuer; and

(e) whether:

(i) the recommended or requested health care service or treatment has been approved by the food and drug administration, if applicable, for the condition;

(ii) the recommended or requested health care service or treatment is typically covered by other insurers or payers, such as medicare; or

(iii) medical or scientific evidence or evidence-based standards demonstrate that the expected benefits of the recommended or requested health care service or treatment is more likely than not to be more beneficial to the covered person than any available standard health care service or treatment and that the adverse risks of the recommended or requested health care service or treatment would not be substantially increased over those of available standard health care services or treatments.

(22) (a) Except as provided in subsection (22)(b), within 20 days after the date of receiving the opinion of each clinical peer pursuant to subsection (20), the assigned independent review organization shall make a decision and provide written notice of the decision to the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative as well as the health insurance issuer.

(b) (i) For an expedited external review, within 48 hours after the date of receiving the opinion of each clinical peer pursuant to subsection (20), the assigned independent review organization, in accordance with subsection (22)(c), shall make a decision and provide notice of the decision orally or in writing to the recipients listed in subsection (22)(a).

(ii) If the notice provided under subsection (22)(b)(i) was not in writing, within 48 hours after the date of providing that notice the assigned independent review organization shall provide written confirmation of the decision to the recipients listed in subsection (22)(a) and include the information set forth in subsection (22)(d).

(c) (i) If a majority of the clinical peers respond that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment should be covered, the independent review organization shall make a decision to reverse the health insurance issuer's adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(ii) If a majority of the clinical peers respond that the recommended or requested health care service or treatment should not be covered, the independent review organization shall make a decision to uphold the health insurance issuer's adverse determination or final adverse determination.

(iii) If the clinical peers are evenly split as to whether the recommended or requested health care service or treatment should be covered, the independent review organization shall obtain the opinion of an additional clinical peer to help the independent review organization make a decision based on the opinions of a majority of the clinical peers pursuant to subsections (22)(c)(i) or (22)(c)(ii).

(iv) The additional clinical peer selected under subsection (22)(c)(iii) shall use the same information to reach an opinion as used by the clinical peers who have already submitted their opinions pursuant to subsection (20).

(v) The selection of the additional clinical peer under subsection (22)(c)(iii) may not extend the time within which the assigned independent review organization is required to make a decision based on the opinions of the clinical peers.

(d) The independent review organization shall include in the notice provided pursuant to subsection (22)(b):

(i) a general description of the reason for the request for external review;

(ii) the written opinion of each clinical peer, including the opinion of each clinical peer as to whether the recommended or requested health care service or treatment should be covered and the rationale for the reviewer's recommendation;

(iii) the date on which the independent review organization was assigned by the commissioner to conduct the external review;

(iv) the time period during which the external review was conducted;

(v) the date of the independent review organization's decision; and

(vi) the principal rationale for its decision.

(e) On receipt of a notice of a decision pursuant to subsection (22)(c)(i) reversing the adverse determination or final adverse determination, the health insurance issuer shall immediately approve coverage of the recommended or requested health care service or treatment that was the subject of the adverse determination or final adverse determination.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 42, Ch. 151, L. 2017.

33-32-413 and 33-32-414 reserved.

33-32-415. Binding nature of external review decisions. (1) An external review decision is binding on:

(a) the health insurance issuer; and

(b) the covered person except to the extent that the covered person has other remedies available under applicable federal or state law.

(2) A covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative may not file a subsequent request for external review involving the same adverse determination or final adverse determination for which the covered person has already received an external review decision pursuant to this part.

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-416. Approval of independent review organizations — renewal. (1) The commissioner shall approve independent review organizations that are eligible to conduct external reviews under this part.

(2) To be eligible for approval by the commissioner to conduct external reviews under this part, an independent review organization:

(a) must be accredited by a nationally recognized private accrediting entity as provided in subsection (5) and meet the minimum qualifications provided in 33-32-417; and

(b) shall submit an application fee as provided in 33-32-419 and an application for approval in accordance with subsection (4) or, for those currently approved and seeking renewal, a renewal fee and renewal application.

(3) The commissioner shall develop an application form for initially approving and for reapproving independent review organizations to conduct external reviews.

(4) (a) Any independent review organization seeking to be approved to conduct external reviews under this part shall submit the application form and include with the form all documentation, fees, and information necessary for the commissioner to determine whether the independent review organization satisfies the minimum qualifications established under 33-32-417 and subsection (5) of this section.

(b) An independent review organization that is currently approved and seeking renewal shall submit a renewal application, fees, and other information necessary for the commissioner to determine whether the independent review organization continues to satisfy the minimum qualifications established under 33-32-417 and subsection (5) of this section.

(5) An independent review organization is eligible for approval under this section only if it is accredited by a nationally recognized private accrediting entity approved by the commissioner as having independent review organization accreditation standards that are equivalent to or exceed the minimum qualifications for independent review organizations established under 33-32-417.

(6) The commissioner's approval of an independent review organization is effective for 2 years unless the commissioner determines before the expiration date that the independent review organization:

(a) is not satisfying the minimum qualifications established under 33-32-417; or

(b) has not fulfilled the reporting requirements under 33-32-421.

(7) If the commissioner determines that an independent review organization has lost its accreditation or no longer satisfies the minimum requirements established under 33-32-417, the commissioner shall terminate the approval of the independent review organization and remove the independent review organization from the list of independent review organizations maintained by the commissioner pursuant to subsection (9).

(8) If the commissioner determines that an independent review organization has not fulfilled the reporting requirements contained in 33-32-421, the commissioner may terminate the approval of the independent review organization and remove the independent review organization from the list of independent review organizations maintained by the commissioner pursuant to subsection (9).

(9) The commissioner shall maintain and periodically update a list of approved independent review organizations.

(10) A person may not operate as an independent review organization in Montana unless approved by the commissioner.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 2, Ch. 31, L. 2019.

33-32-417. Minimum qualifications for independent review organizations. (1) To be approved to conduct external reviews as provided in 33-32-416, an independent review organization shall establish and maintain written policies and procedures that govern all aspects of both the standard external review process and the expedited external review process set forth in 33-32-410 through 33-32-412. The written policies and procedures must include, at a minimum:

(a) a quality assurance mechanism that ensures:

(i) that external reviews are conducted within the specified timeframes and that required notices are provided in a timely manner;

(ii) that the independent review organization is unbiased;

(iii) both the selection of qualified and impartial clinical peers to conduct external reviews on behalf of the independent review organization and the suitable matching of reviewers to specific cases;

(iv) that the independent review organization employs or contracts with an adequate number of clinical peers to meet the objective of qualified, impartial reviews;

(v) the confidentiality of medical and treatment records as well as clinical review criteria; and

(vi) that any person employed by or under contract with the independent review organization adheres to the requirements of this part;

(b) a toll-free telephone service to receive information related to external reviews on a 24-hour-a-day, 7-day-a-week basis. The telephone service must be capable of accepting, recording, or providing appropriate instruction to incoming telephone callers during other-than-normal business hours.

(c) an agreement to maintain and provide to the commissioner the information required under 33-32-421.

(2) All clinical peers assigned by an independent review organization to conduct external reviews must:

(a) be appropriate health care providers; and

(b) meet the following minimum qualifications:

(i) be an expert in the treatment of the covered person's medical condition that is the subject of the external review;

(ii) be knowledgeable about the recommended health care service or treatment through recent or current actual clinical experience treating patients with the same or similar medical conditions of the covered person;

(iii) hold a nonrestricted professional license in a state of the United States and, for physicians, a current certification by a recognized American medical specialty board in one or more areas appropriate to the subject of the external review; and

(iv) have no history of disciplinary actions or sanctions, including participation restrictions or a loss of staff privileges either taken or pending by any hospital, government agency, governmental unit, or regulatory body if the disciplinary actions or sanctions raise a substantial question as to the clinical peer's physical, mental, or professional competence or moral character.

(3) In addition to the requirements in subsection (1), an independent review organization may not own or control, be a subsidiary of, or in any way be owned or controlled by or exercise control over a health plan, a health insurance issuer, a national, state, or local trade association of health plans, or a national, state, or local trade association of health care providers.

(4) (a) In addition to the requirements in subsections (1) through (3), to be approved under 33-32-416 to conduct an external review of a specified case, neither the independent review organization selected to conduct the external review nor any clinical peer assigned by the independent review organization to conduct the external review may have a material professional, familial, or financial conflict of interest with any of the following:

(i) the health insurance issuer that is the subject of the external review;

(ii) the covered person whose treatment is the subject of the external review or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative;

(iii) any officer, director, or management employee of the health insurance issuer that is the subject of the external review;

(iv) the health care provider, the health care provider's medical group, or the independent practice association recommending the health care service or treatment that is the subject of the external review;

(v) the facility at which the recommended health care service or treatment would be provided; or

(vi) the developer or manufacturer of the principal drug, device, procedure, or other therapy being recommended for the covered person whose treatment is the subject of the external review.

(b) In determining whether an independent review organization or a clinical peer assigned by the independent review organization to conduct the external review has a material professional, familial, or financial conflict of interest, the commissioner shall take into consideration:

(i) situations in which the independent review organization to be assigned to conduct an external review of a specified case or a clinical peer to be assigned by the independent review organization to conduct an external review of a specified case may have an apparent professional, familial, or financial relationship or connection with a person described in subsection (4)(a) if the characteristics of that relationship or connection do not pose a material professional, familial, or financial conflict of interest that otherwise would result in the disapproval of the independent review organization or of the clinical peer from conducting the external review; and

(ii) whether other medical expertise is available within a reasonable timeframe.

(5) (a) An independent review organization that is accredited by a nationally recognized private accrediting entity that has independent review accreditation standards determined by the commissioner to be equivalent to or exceed the minimum qualifications of this section is presumed to be in compliance with this section and eligible for approval under 33-32-416. However, the commissioner shall also consider the conflict of interest provisions of subsection (4).

(b) The commissioner shall initially and periodically review the independent review organization accreditation standards of a nationally recognized private accrediting entity to determine whether the entity's standards are and continue to be equivalent to or exceed the minimum qualifications established under this section. The commissioner may accept a review conducted by the NAIC for the determination under this subsection (5)(b).

(c) On request, a nationally recognized private accrediting entity shall make its current independent review organization accreditation standards available to the commissioner or the NAIC to enable the commissioner to determine if the entity's standards are equivalent to or exceed the minimum qualifications established under this section. The commissioner may exclude any private accrediting entity that is not reviewed by the NAIC.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 43, Ch. 151, L. 2017.

33-32-418. Liability limits for independent review organization. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), an independent review organization or clinical peer working on behalf of an independent review organization or an employee, agent, or contractor of an independent review organization is not liable to any person for any opinions rendered or acts or omissions performed within the scope of the organization's or person's duties under the law during or upon completion of an external review conducted pursuant to this part.

(2) The liability exemption under subsection (1) does not apply if the opinion was rendered or if the act or omission was performed in bad faith or involved gross negligence.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-419. Fees. (1) An application for approval of an independent review organization under 33-32-416 must be accompanied by a fee of $250.

(2) An application for renewal as an approved independent review organization must be accompanied by a fee of $150.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 31, L. 2019.

33-32-420 reserved.

33-32-421. External review reporting requirements. (1) An independent review organization assigned pursuant to 33-32-410, 33-32-411, or 33-32-412 to conduct an external review shall maintain written records in the aggregate by state and by health insurance issuer on all requests for external reviews for which the independent review organization conducted an external review during the calendar year.

(2) Each independent review organization required to maintain written records as provided in subsection (1) shall submit to the commissioner, at least annually by March 1, a report in the format specified by the commissioner.

(3) The report must include, aggregated by state and by health insurance issuer:

(a) the total number of requests for external review;

(b) the number of requests for external review resolved and, of those resolved, the number resolved upholding the adverse determination or final adverse determination and the number resolved reversing the adverse determination or final adverse determination;

(c) the average length of time for resolution;

(d) a summary of the types of coverages or cases for which an external review was sought, provided in the format required by the commissioner;

(e) the number of external reviews that were terminated pursuant to 33-32-410(17) or 33-32-412(15) as the result of a reconsideration by the health insurance issuer of its adverse determination or final adverse determination after the receipt of additional information from the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative; and

(f) any other information the commissioner may request or require.

(4) The independent review organization shall retain the written records required pursuant to subsection (1) for at least 6 years.

(5) Each health insurance issuer shall maintain in the aggregate for each type of health plan offered by the health insurance issuer written records on all requests for external review for which the health insurance issuer received notice pursuant to Title 33, chapter 32, parts 2 through 4.

(6) Each health insurance issuer required to maintain written records on all requests for external review pursuant to subsection (5) shall submit to the commissioner, at least annually by March 1, a report in the format specified by the commissioner.

(7) The report must include in the aggregate by state and by type of health plan:

(a) the total number of requests for external review;

(b) the number of requests determined eligible for a full external review based on the total number of requests for external review reported under subsection (7)(a);

(c) the number of requests for external review resolved and, of those resolved, the number resolved upholding the adverse determination or final adverse determination and the number resolved reversing the adverse determination or final adverse determination;

(d) the average length of time for resolution;

(e) a summary of the types of coverage or cases for which an external review was sought, as provided in the format required by the department;

(f) the number of external reviews that were terminated as the result of a reconsideration by the health carrier of its adverse determination or final adverse determination after the receipt of additional information from the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative; and

(g) any other information the commissioner may request or require.

(8) The health insurance issuer shall retain the written records required pursuant to subsection (5) for at least 6 years.

History: En. Sec. 29, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 31, L. 2019.

33-32-422. Funding of external review. The health insurance issuer against which a request for a standard external review or an expedited external review is filed shall pay the costs of the independent review organization for conducting the external review.

History: En. Sec. 30, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

33-32-423. Disclosure requirements. (1) Each health insurance issuer shall include a description of the external review procedures in or attached to the policy, certificate, membership booklet, outline of coverage, or other evidence of coverage provided to covered persons.

(2) The disclosure required under subsection (1) must:

(a) be in a format prescribed by the commissioner; and

(b) include a statement that informs the covered person of the right of the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative to file a request for an external review of an adverse determination or final adverse determination with the health insurance issuer. The statement may explain that external review is available when the adverse determination or final adverse determination involves an issue of medical necessity, appropriateness, health care setting, level of care, or level of effectiveness. The statement must include the telephone number and address of the commissioner.

(3) In addition to the requirements under subsection (2), the statement must inform the covered person that, when filing a request for an external review, the covered person or, if applicable, the covered person's authorized representative is required to authorize the release of any medical records of the covered person that may be required to be reviewed for the purpose of reaching a decision on the external review.

History: En. Sec. 31, Ch. 428, L. 2015; amd. Sec. 44, Ch. 151, L. 2017.

CHAPTER 33
PROPERTY AND CASUALTY UTILIZATION REVIEW

Part 1 — General Provisions

33-33-101. Purpose.
33-33-102. Scope — rulemaking.
33-33-103. Definitions.

Part 2 — Standards

33-33-201. Standards for utilization review organizations.
33-33-202. Standards for property and casualty insurers.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-33-101. Purpose. The legislature recognizes that property and casualty insurers providing coverage for medical expenses or liability coverage for bodily injury may need, with respect to some claims, to seek medical reviews from qualified utilization review organizations so that an insurer may use the reviews to determine its contractual obligations. This chapter establishes standards for organizations providing utilization reviews and for property and casualty insurers seeking reviews.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 335, L. 2001.

33-33-102. Scope — rulemaking. (1) This chapter applies to property and casualty insurers seeking utilization review opinions and to utilization review organizations that provide opinions with respect to property and casualty insurance contracts issued in this state.

(2) The commissioner may adopt rules to implement the provisions of this chapter, including but not limited to medical privacy requirements.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 335, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 34, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

(1) "Utilization review" has the meaning provided in 33-32-102.

(2) "Utilization review organization" means an entity that provides utilization review services.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 335, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 39, Ch. 428, L. 2015.

Part 2
Standards

33-33-201. Standards for utilization review organizations. (1) A utilization review organization that conducts utilization reviews in this state for property and casualty insurers shall meet the standards set forth in this part.

(2) Utilization review organizations may use only licensed or certified health care professionals to conduct utilization reviews.

(3) Utilization reviews must be conducted by health care professionals who are licensed or certified in the same specialty as the provider whose treatment is being received by the insured or by a health care professional who is qualified to render the treatment being reviewed.

(4) Utilization review organizations shall comply with all applicable state or federal medical privacy laws.

(5) Utilization review evaluations must use generally accepted standards for treatment of the illness, injury, or condition that is being reviewed.

(6) Utilization review opinions must be signed by the health care professional performing the review.

(7) A utilization review organization may not base its fees or charges on any recommendation for a reduction in payment under an insurance contract or on a percentage of claim savings.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 335, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 35, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-33-202. Standards for property and casualty insurers. (1) Property or casualty insurers seeking utilization reviews with respect to insurance contracts issued in this state may use only utilization review organizations that meet the requirements of this part and any rules adopted pursuant to this part.

(2) A property or casualty insurer is responsible for:

(a) monitoring all utilization review activities carried out by or on behalf of the property or casualty insurer;

(b) ensuring that all requirements of this part and rules adopted pursuant to this part are met; and

(c) ensuring that appropriate personnel have operational responsibility for and oversight of the performance of the property or casualty insurer's utilization review program and contracts with utilization review organizations.

(3) A property or casualty insurer that denies, in whole or in part, a policyholder's claim after consideration of a utilization review shall provide the policyholder an opportunity to request reconsideration by the insurer and the opportunity to submit additional information relating to the claim.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 335, L. 2001; amd. Sec. 36, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

Chapter Cross-References

Guaranteed renewability in multiple employer welfare arrangements, 33-22-525.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-35-101. Short title. This chapter may be cited as the "Self-Funded Multiple Employer Welfare Arrangement Regulation Act".

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-102. Purpose. The purposes of this chapter are to:

(1) provide for the authorization and registration of self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements;

(2) regulate self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements in order to ensure the financial integrity of the arrangements;

(3) provide reporting requirements for self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements; and

(4) provide for sanctions against self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements organized and maintained in Montana that do not comply with this chapter.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-103. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Allowable benefit" means a benefit relating to medical, surgical, or hospital care in the event of sickness, accident, disability, or any combination of sickness, accident, or disability.

(2) (a) "Bona fide association" means an association of employers that has been in existence for a period of not less than 5 years prior to sponsoring a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement, during which time the association has engaged in substantial activities relating to the common interests of member employers, and that continues to engage in substantial activities in addition to sponsoring an arrangement.

(b) Notwithstanding subsection (2)(a), an association that was formed and began sponsoring an arrangement prior to October 1, 1995, is not subject to the requirement that the association be in existence for 5 years prior to sponsoring an arrangement.

(3) "Claims liability" means the total of all incurred and unpaid claims for allowable benefits under a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that are not reimbursed or reimbursable by excess of loss insurance, subrogation, or other sources.

(4) (a) "Multiple employer welfare arrangement" means a multiple employer welfare arrangement as defined by 29 U.S.C. 1002.

(b) The term does not include an arrangement, plan, program, or interlocal agreement of or between political subdivisions of this state, including school districts, as provided in 33-1-102.

(5) "Reserves" means the excess of the assets of a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement minus the liabilities of the arrangement. The liabilities of a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement include the claims liability of the arrangement.

(6) "Self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement" or "arrangement" means a multiple employer welfare arrangement that does not provide for payment of benefits under the arrangement solely through a policy or policies of insurance issued by one or more insurance companies with a certificate of authority under this title.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 420, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 25, Ch. 399, L. 2007.

Part 2
Certificate of Authority

33-35-201. Certificate of authority. (1) Except as provided in subsection (3), a person may not establish or maintain a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement in Montana unless the arrangement first obtains a certificate of authority from the commissioner.

(2) A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement is considered to be established or maintained in Montana if one or more of the employer members participating in the arrangement is either domiciled in or maintains its principal place of business in Montana.

(3) A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement established and maintained in Montana prior to January 1, 1995, has until April 1, 1996, to file an application for a certificate of authority. An arrangement that files an application for a certificate of authority by that date is considered to have been issued a certificate of authority unless the commissioner finally denies the arrangement's application for a certificate of authority.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-202. Eligibility for certificate of authority. The commissioner may not issue a certificate of authority to a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement unless the arrangement establishes to the reasonable satisfaction of the commissioner that the following requirements have been satisfied by the arrangement:

(1) the employers participating in the self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement are either engaged in the same trade, profession, or industry or the employers participating in the arrangement are members of a bona fide association;

(2) the employers participating in the arrangement exercise control over the arrangement, as follows:

(a) Subject to subsection (2)(b), control exists if the employers participating in the arrangement have the right to elect at least 75% of the individuals designated in the arrangement's organizational documents as having control over the operations of the arrangement and the individuals designated in the arrangement's organizational documents in fact exercise control over the operation of the arrangement.

(b) The use of a third-party administrator to process claims and to assist in the administration of the arrangement is not evidence of the lack of exercise of control over the operation of the arrangement.

(3) the arrangement provides only allowable benefits. However, an arrangement may provide life insurance coverage to its participants if the coverage is provided pursuant to contracts of insurance that comply with Title 33, chapter 20, parts 10 through 12.

(4) the arrangement provides allowable benefits to not less than 2 employers and not less than 75 employees;

(5) the arrangement may not solicit participation in the arrangement from the general public. However, the arrangement may employ or independently contract with a licensed insurance producer who may be paid a commission or other remuneration to enroll employers in the arrangement, and employees of the arrangement, employees of the association sponsoring the arrangement, or employees of affiliates of the association, other than licensed insurance producers, may enroll employers in the arrangement if the employees do not receive a commission or other remuneration in addition to their customary compensation for enrolling employers.

(6) the arrangement is not organized or maintained solely as a conduit for the collection of premiums and the forwarding of premiums to an insurance company. However, it is permissible for a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement to act as a conduit for the collection and forwarding of premiums for life insurance coverage pursuant to subsection (3).

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-203. Requirements applicable only to arrangements organized after October 1, 1995. (1) In addition to the requirements of 33-35-202, self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements formed after October 1, 1995, are subject to the following requirements:

(a) arrangements shall maintain a calendar year for operations and reporting purposes unless the commissioner consents to a fiscal year;

(b) arrangements shall satisfy one of the following requirements:

(i) (A) the arrangement shall deposit $200,000 with the commissioner pursuant to Title 33, chapter 2, part 6, to be used for the payment of claims in the event that the arrangement becomes insolvent; and

(B) the arrangement shall submit to the commissioner a written plan of operation that, in the reasonable discretion of the commissioner, ensures the financial integrity of the arrangement; or

(ii) the arrangement demonstrates to the reasonable satisfaction of the commissioner the ability of the arrangement to remain financially solvent, for which purpose the commissioner may consider:

(A) the pro forma financial statements of the self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement;

(B) the types and levels of excess of loss insurance coverage, including the attachment points of the coverage and whether the points are reflected as annual or monthly levels;

(C) whether a deposit is required for each employee covered under the arrangement equal to at least one month's cost of providing benefits under the arrangement;

(D) the experience of the individuals who will be involved in the management of the arrangement, including employees, independent contractors, and consultants; and

(E) other factors as reasonably determined by the commissioner to be relevant to a determination of whether the arrangement is able to operate in a financially solvent manner.

(2) Financial information relating to the employers is subject to the confidentiality provisions of 33-1-409(6).

(3) The commissioner may require that the articles, bylaws, agreements, trusts, or other documents or instruments describing the rights and obligations of the employers, employees, and beneficiaries of the arrangement provide that employers participating in the arrangement are subject to pro rata assessment for all liabilities of the arrangement.

(4) Arrangements shall maintain excess of loss insurance coverage covering 100% of claims in excess of the designated attachment point. The commissioner may waive the requirement of excess of loss insurance coverage.

(5) An arrangement shall submit its base contribution rates for participation under the arrangement for its initial year of operations for review and approval by the commissioner.

(6) The commissioner may require continued compliance with respect to the conditions set forth in this section as a condition of granting a certificate of authority to an arrangement. The commissioner may waive continued compliance with respect to the conditions in this section at any time after the commissioner has granted a certificate of authority to an arrangement.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-204 reserved.

33-35-205. Application for certificate of authority. A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement shall apply for a certificate of authority on a form prescribed by the commissioner and shall submit the application, together with the following documents, to the commissioner:

(1) a copy of all articles, bylaws, agreements, trusts, or other documents or instruments describing the rights and obligations of the employers, employees, and beneficiaries of the arrangement;

(2) a copy of the summary plan description or summary plan descriptions of the arrangement filed or required to be filed with the United States department of labor, together with any amendments to the description;

(3) evidence of coverage of or letters of intent to participate executed by at least 2 employers providing allowable benefits to at least 75 employees;

(4) a copy of the arrangement's most recent year's financial statements or, if the arrangement has been in existence for less than 1 year, pro forma financial statements that must include, at a minimum, a balance sheet, an income statement, a statement of changes in financial position, and an actuarial opinion that the unpaid claim liability of the arrangement satisfies the standards of 33-2-514. The commissioner may, in the commissioner's discretion, waive the requirement of an actuarial opinion and require a report by an actuarial firm.

(5) proof that the arrangement maintains or will maintain fidelity bonds required by the United States department of labor pursuant to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq.;

(6) a copy of any excess of loss insurance coverage policies maintained or proposed to be maintained by the arrangement;

(7) biographical reports on forms prescribed by the national association of insurance commissioners evidencing the general trustworthiness and competence of each individual who is serving or who will serve as an employee or fiduciary of the arrangement; and

(8) a statement executed by a representative of the arrangement certifying, to the best knowledge and belief of the representative, that:

(a) the arrangement is in compliance with requirements of 33-35-202;

(b) the arrangement is in compliance with the requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. 1001, et seq., or a statement of any requirements with which the arrangement is not in compliance and a statement of proposed corrective actions; and

(c) the arrangement is in compliance with requirements of 33-35-209 and 33-35-210.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-206 through 33-35-208 reserved.

33-35-209. Minimum reserve requirements. Self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements shall establish by the end of the first year of operations of the arrangement and shall maintain as of the end of each year of operations reserves equal to at least 30% of the unpaid claims liability of the arrangement. The commissioner may adopt rules regarding the supervision, rehabilitation, and liquidation of self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements that fail to maintain the level of reserves required by this section.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-210. Minimum funding levels. A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement shall establish and maintain contribution rates for participation under the arrangement that satisfy either of the following requirements:

(1) contribution rates must equal or exceed the sum of projected claims liability for the year, plus all projected costs of operation of the arrangement for the year, plus an amount equal to any deficiency in the reserves of the arrangement for the prior year, minus an amount equal to the reserves of the arrangement in excess of the minimum required level of reserves; or

(2) contribution rates must equal or exceed a funding level established by a report prepared by an actuarial firm.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-211. Issuance of certificate of authority. (1) The commissioner shall grant or deny an application for a certificate of authority within 180 days of the date that a completed application, together with the items designated in 33-35-205, is submitted to the commissioner.

(2) The commissioner shall grant the application of an arrangement that satisfies the applicable requirements of 33-35-202, 33-35-203, 33-35-205, 33-35-209, and 33-35-210.

(3) The commissioner shall deny the application of an arrangement that does not satisfy the applicable requirements of 33-35-202, 33-35-203, 33-35-205, 33-35-209, and 33-35-210. Denial of an application for a certificate of authority is considered a contested case under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(4) A certificate of authority granted to an arrangement is effective unless revoked by the commissioner under 33-35-302.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

Part 3
Enforcement

33-35-301. Reporting. (1) A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement shall comply with the reporting requirements of this section.

(2) Within 3 months following the close of the arrangement's year of operations, the arrangement shall file with the commissioner, on forms prescribed by the commissioner:

(a) a statement of financial condition;

(b) a statement of change in financial conditions accompanied by an actuarial opinion that the unpaid claim liability of the arrangement satisfies the standards of 33-2-514. The commissioner may, in the commissioner's discretion, waive the requirement of an actuarial opinion and require a report prepared by an actuarial firm and, upon a showing of good cause, may extend by 30 days the filing date for the report.

(c) a statement of its contribution rates for the ensuing year;

(d) a statement of operations for the previous year;

(e) if the total payments to the arrangement for participation during the prior year of operations exceeded the sum of $2 million, an audit satisfying the requirements of the commissioner's rules governing annual audited reports, except that an arrangement audit may be prepared using generally accepted accounting principles. The audit must be certified by an independent certified public accountant. The filing date for the audit must be extended by the commissioner upon a showing of good cause.

(f) additional information as the commissioner reasonably determines to be necessary to determine the financial integrity of the management.

(3) An arrangement shall file with the commissioner a copy of the arrangement's internal revenue service form 5500 together with all attachments to the form, at the time required for filing the form.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 420, L. 1995; amd. Sec. 32, Ch. 63, L. 2015.

33-35-302. Failure to comply. (1) Pursuant to 33-1-317 and 33-1-318, the commissioner may impose sanctions against a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that fails to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The maximum fine may not exceed $5,000 for each violation.

(2) The commissioner may issue a notice of intent to revoke the certificate of authority of a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that fails to comply with the provisions of 33-35-209, 33-35-210, or 33-35-301. If, within 60 days of receiving notice under this subsection, the arrangement fails to file with the commissioner a plan to bring the arrangement into compliance with 33-35-209, 33-35-210, or 33-35-301, the commissioner may revoke the arrangement's certificate of authority. A revocation of a certificate of authority is a contested case under the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(3) The commissioner shall adopt rules to provide sanctions for an arrangement that fails to maintain the level of reserves required by 33-35-209. The rules must be consistent with the provisions of Title 33, chapter 2, part 13.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-303. Violation by arrangement failing to obtain or maintain certificate of authority. A self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement organized or maintained in Montana without a certificate of authority is in violation of 33-2-101.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 420, L. 1995.

33-35-304 and 33-35-305 reserved.

33-35-306. (Temporary) Application of insurance code to arrangements. (1) In addition to this chapter, self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements are subject to the following provisions:

(a) 33-1-111;

(b) Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, but the examination of a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement is limited to those matters to which the arrangement is subject to regulation under this chapter;

(c) Title 33, chapter 1, part 7;

(d) Title 33, chapter 2, parts 23 and 24;

(e) 33-3-308;

(f) Title 33, chapter 7;

(g) Title 33, chapter 18, except 33-18-242;

(h) Title 33, chapter 19;

(j) 33-22-512, 33-22-515, 33-22-525, and 33-22-526;

(k) Title 33, chapter 22, parts 7 and 21; and

(l) 33-22-707.

(2) Except as provided in this chapter, other provisions of Title 33 do not apply to a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that has been issued a certificate of authority that has not been revoked.

33-35-306. (Effective October 1, 2026) Application of insurance code to arrangements. (1) In addition to this chapter, self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangements are subject to the following provisions:

(a) 33-1-111;

(b) Title 33, chapter 1, part 4, but the examination of a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement is limited to those matters to which the arrangement is subject to regulation under this chapter;

(c) Title 33, chapter 1, part 7;

(d) Title 33, chapter 2, parts 23 and 24;

(e) 33-3-308;

(f) Title 33, chapter 7;

(g) Title 33, chapter 18, except 33-18-242;

(h) Title 33, chapter 19;

(j) 33-22-512, 33-22-515, 33-22-525, and 33-22-526;

(k) Title 33, chapter 22, parts 7 and 21; and

(l) 33-22-707.

(2) Except as provided in this chapter, other provisions of Title 33 do not apply to a self-funded multiple employer welfare arrangement that has been issued a certificate of authority that has not been revoked.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-36-101. Short title. This chapter may be cited as the "Managed Care Plan Network Adequacy and Quality Assurance Act".

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 413, L. 1997.

33-36-102. Purpose. The purpose and intent of this chapter are to:

(1) establish standards for the creation and maintenance of networks by health carriers offering managed care plans and to ensure the adequacy, accessibility, and quality of health care services offered under a managed care plan by establishing requirements for written agreements between health carriers offering managed care plans and participating providers regarding the standards, terms, and provisions under which the participating provider will provide services to covered persons;

(2) provide for the implementation of state network adequacy and quality assurance standards in administrative rules, provide for monitoring compliance with those standards, and provide a mechanism for detecting and reporting violations of those standards to the commissioner;

(3) establish minimum criteria for the quality assessment activities of a health carrier issuing a closed plan or a combination plan and to require that minimum state quality assessment criteria be adopted by rule;

(4) enable health carriers to evaluate, maintain, and improve the quality of health care services provided to covered persons; and

(5) provide a streamlined and simplified process by which managed care network adequacy and quality assurance programs may be monitored for compliance through efforts by the commissioner. It is not the purpose or intent of this chapter to apply quality assurance standards applicable to medicaid or medicare to managed care plans regulated pursuant to this chapter or to create or require the creation of quality assurance programs that are as comprehensive as quality assurance programs applicable to medicaid or medicare.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 413, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 38, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-36-103. Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following definitions apply:

(1) "Closed plan" means a managed care plan that requires covered persons to use only participating providers under the terms of the managed care plan.

(2) "Combination plan" means an open plan with a closed component.

(3) "Covered benefits" means those health care services to which a covered person is entitled under the terms of a health benefit plan.

(4) "Covered person" means a policyholder, subscriber, or enrollee or other individual participating in a health benefit plan.

(5) "Emergency medical condition" means a condition manifesting itself by symptoms of sufficient severity, including severe pain, that the absence of immediate medical attention could reasonably be expected to result in any of the following:

(a) the covered person's health would be in serious jeopardy;

(b) the covered person's bodily functions would be seriously impaired; or

(c) a bodily organ or part would be seriously damaged.

(6) "Emergency services" means health care items and services furnished or required to evaluate and treat an emergency medical condition.

(7) "Facility" means an institution providing health care services or a health care setting, including but not limited to a hospital, critical access hospital, or rural emergency hospital, as those terms are defined in 50-5-101, or other licensed inpatient center, an outpatient center for surgical services, a treatment center, a skilled nursing center, a residential treatment center, a diagnostic laboratory, a diagnostic imaging center, or a rehabilitation or other therapeutic health setting.

(8) "Health benefit plan" means a policy, contract, certificate, or agreement entered into, offered, or issued by a health carrier to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services.

(9) "Health care professional" means a physician or other health care practitioner licensed, accredited, or certified pursuant to the laws of this state to perform specified health care services consistent with state law.

(10) "Health care provider" or "provider" means a health care professional or a facility.

(11) "Health care services" means services for the diagnosis, prevention, treatment, cure, or relief of a health condition, illness, injury, or disease.

(12) "Health carrier" means an entity subject to the insurance laws and rules of this state that contracts, offers to contract, or enters into an agreement to provide, deliver, arrange for, pay for, or reimburse any of the costs of health care services, including a disability insurer, health maintenance organization, or health service corporation or another entity providing a health benefit plan.

(13) "Intermediary" means a person authorized to negotiate, execute, and be a party to a contract between a health carrier and a provider or between a health carrier and a network.

(14) "Managed care plan" means a health benefit plan that either requires or creates incentives, including financial incentives, for a covered person to use health care providers managed, owned, under contract with, or employed by a health carrier, but not preferred provider organizations or other provider networks operated in a fee-for-service indemnity environment.

(15) "Medically necessary" means services, medicines, or supplies that are necessary and appropriate for the diagnosis or treatment of a covered person's illness, injury, or medical condition according to accepted standards of medical practice and that are not provided only as a convenience.

(16) "Network" means the group of participating providers that provides health care services to a managed care plan.

(17) "Open plan" means a managed care plan other than a closed plan that provides incentives, including financial incentives, for covered persons to use participating providers under the terms of the managed care plan.

(18) "Participating provider" means a provider who, under a contract with a health carrier or with the health carrier's contractor, subcontractor, or intermediary, has agreed to provide health care services to covered persons with an expectation of receiving payment, other than coinsurance, copayments, or deductibles, directly or indirectly from the health carrier.

(19) "Primary care professional" means a participating health care professional designated by the health carrier to supervise, coordinate, or provide initial care or continuing care to a covered person and who may be required by the health carrier to initiate a referral for specialty care and to maintain supervision of health care services rendered to the covered person.

(20) "Quality assessment" means the measurement and evaluation of the quality and outcomes of medical care provided to individuals, groups, or populations.

(21) "Quality assurance" means quality assessment and quality improvement.

(22) "Quality improvement" means an effort to improve the processes and outcomes related to the provision of health care services within a health plan.

Compiler's Comments

2025 Amendment: See 2025 Session Law for amendment made by sec. 2, Ch. 414, L. 2025. Amendment effective October 1, 2025.

33-36-104. Applicability and scope. This chapter applies to all health carriers that offer managed care plans. This chapter does not exempt a health carrier from the applicable requirements of federal law when providing a managed care plan to medicare recipients or from the applicable requirements of federal law or Title 53, chapter 6, when providing a managed care plan to medicaid recipients.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 413, L. 1997.

33-36-105. Commissioner — general powers and duties — rulemaking. (1) The commissioner shall:

(a) adopt rules pursuant to the Montana Administrative Procedure Act establishing minimum state standards for network adequacy and quality assurance and procedures for ensuring compliance with those standards; and

(b) if appropriate, initiate action against a health carrier whose managed care plan does not comply with standards for network adequacy and quality assurance adopted by the commissioner.

(2) Quality assurance standards adopted by the commissioner must consist of some but not all of the health plan employer data and information standards. The commissioner shall select and adopt only standards appropriate for quality assurance in Montana.

(3) The state may contract, through a competitive bidding process, for the development of network adequacy and quality assurance standards.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 413, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 40, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

Part 2
Network Adequacy

33-36-201. Network adequacy — standards — access plan required. (1) A health carrier offering a managed care plan in this state shall maintain a network that is sufficient in numbers and types of providers to ensure that all services to covered persons are accessible without unreasonable delay. Sufficiency in number and type of provider is determined in accordance with the requirements of this section. Covered persons must have access to emergency care 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. A health carrier providing a managed care plan shall use reasonable criteria to determine sufficiency. The criteria may include but are not limited to:

(a) a ratio of specialty care providers to covered persons;

(b) a ratio of primary care providers to covered persons;

(c) geographic accessibility;

(d) waiting times for appointments with participating providers;

(e) hours of operation; or

(f) the volume of technological and specialty services available to serve the needs of covered persons requiring technologically advanced or specialty care.

(2) Whenever a health carrier has an insufficient number or type of participating providers to provide a covered benefit, the health carrier shall ensure that the covered person obtains the covered benefit at no greater cost to the covered person than if the covered benefit were obtained from participating providers or shall make other arrangements acceptable to the commissioner.

(3) The health carrier shall establish and maintain adequate provider networks to ensure reasonable proximity of participating providers to the businesses or personal residences of covered persons. In determining whether a health carrier has complied with this requirement, consideration must be given to the relative availability of health care providers in the service area under consideration.

(4) A health carrier offering a managed care plan in this state on January 1, 2024, shall file with the commissioner on December 1, 2023, an access plan complying with subsection (6) and the rules of the commissioner. A health carrier offering a managed care plan in this state for the first time after January 1, 2024, shall file with the commissioner an access plan meeting the requirements of subsection (6) and the rules of the commissioner at least 60 days before offering the managed care plan. A plan must be filed with the commissioner in a manner and form complying with the rules of the commissioner. A health carrier shall file any subsequent material changes in its access plan with the commissioner at least 30 days prior to implementation of the change.

(5) A health carrier may request the commissioner to designate parts of its access plan as proprietary or competitive information, and when designated, that part may not be made public. For the purposes of this section, information is proprietary or competitive if revealing the information would cause the health carrier's competitors to obtain valuable business information. A health carrier shall make the access plans, absent proprietary information, available on its business premises and shall provide a copy of the plan upon request.

(6) An access plan for each managed care plan offered in this state must describe or contain at least the following:

(a) a listing of the names and specialties of the health carrier's participating providers;

(b) the health carrier's procedures for making referrals within and outside its network;

(c) the health carrier's process for monitoring and ensuring on an ongoing basis the sufficiency of the network to meet the health care needs of populations that enroll in the managed care plan;

(d) the health carrier's efforts to address the needs of covered persons with limited English proficiency and illiteracy, with diverse cultural and ethnic backgrounds, and with physical and mental disabilities;

(e) the health carrier's methods for assessing the health care needs of covered persons and their satisfaction with services;

(f) the health carrier's method of informing covered persons of the plan's services and features, including but not limited to the plan's grievance procedures, its process for choosing and changing providers, and its procedures for providing and approving emergency and specialty care;

(g) the health carrier's system for ensuring the coordination and continuity of care for covered persons referred to specialty physicians and for covered persons using ancillary services, including social services and other community resources, and for ensuring appropriate discharge planning;

(h) the health carrier's process for enabling covered persons to change primary care professionals;

(i) the health carrier's proposed plan for providing continuity of care in the event of contract termination between the health carrier and a participating provider or in the event of the health carrier's insolvency or other inability to continue operations. The description must explain how covered persons will be notified of the contract termination or the health carrier's insolvency or other cessation of operations and be transferred to other providers in a timely manner.

(j) any other information required by the commissioner to determine compliance with this part and the rules implementing this part.

(7) The commissioner shall ensure timely and expedited review and approval of the access plan and other requirements in this section.

33-36-202. Provider responsibility for care — contracts — prohibited collection practices. (1) A contract between a health carrier and a participating provider must set forth a hold harmless provision specifying protection for covered persons. This requirement is met by including in a contract a provision substantially the same as the following:

"The provider agrees that the provider may not for any reason, including but not limited to nonpayment by the health carrier or intermediary, insolvency of the health carrier or intermediary, or breach of this agreement, bill, charge, collect a deposit, seek compensation, remuneration, or reimbursement, or have any recourse from or against a covered person or a person other than the health carrier or intermediary acting on behalf of the covered person for services provided pursuant to this agreement. This agreement does not prohibit the provider from collecting coinsurance, copayments, or deductibles, as specifically provided in the evidence of coverage, or fees for uncovered services delivered on a fee-for-service basis to a covered person. This agreement does not prohibit a provider, except a health care professional who is employed full-time on the staff of a health carrier and who has agreed to provide services exclusively to that health carrier's covered persons and no others, and a covered person from agreeing to continue services solely at the expense of the covered person if the provider has clearly informed the covered person that the health carrier may not cover or continue to cover a specific service or services. Except as provided in this agreement, this agreement does not prohibit the provider from pursuing any legal remedy available for obtaining payment for services from the health carrier."

(2) A contract between a health carrier and a participating provider must state that if a health carrier or intermediary becomes insolvent or otherwise ceases operations, covered benefits to covered persons will continue through the end of the period for which a premium has been paid to the health carrier on behalf of the covered person, but not to exceed 30 days, or until the covered person's discharge from an acute care inpatient facility, whichever occurs last. Covered benefits to a covered person confined in an acute care inpatient facility on the date of insolvency or other cessation of operations must be continued by a provider until the confinement in an inpatient facility is no longer medically necessary.

(3) The contract provisions that satisfy the requirements of subsections (1) and (2) must be construed in favor of the covered person, survive the termination of the contract regardless of the reason for termination, including the insolvency of the health carrier, and supersede an oral or written contrary agreement between a participating provider and a covered person or the representative of a covered person if the contrary agreement is inconsistent with the hold harmless and continuation of covered benefits provisions required by subsections (1) and (2).

(4) A participating provider may not collect or attempt to collect from a covered person money owed to the provider by the health carrier.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 413, L. 1997.

33-36-203. Selection of providers — professional credentials standards. (1) A health carrier shall adopt standards for selecting participating providers who are primary care professionals and for each health care professional specialty within the health carrier's network. The health carrier shall use the standards to select health care professionals, the health carrier's intermediaries, and any provider network with which the health carrier contracts. A health carrier may not adopt selection criteria that allow the health carrier to:

(a) avoid high-risk populations by excluding a provider because the provider is located in a geographic area that contains populations or providers presenting a risk of higher than average claims, losses, or use of health care services; or

(b) exclude a provider because the provider treats or specializes in treating populations presenting a risk of higher than average claims, losses, or use of health care services.

(2) Subsection (1) does not prohibit a health carrier from declining to select a provider who fails to meet the other legitimate selection criteria of the health carrier adopted in compliance with this part and the rules implementing this part.

(3) This part does not require a health carrier, its intermediary, or a provider network with which the health carrier or its intermediary contract to employ specific providers or types of providers who may meet their selection criteria or to contract with or retain more providers or types of providers than are necessary to maintain an adequate network.

(4) A health carrier may use criteria established in accordance with the provisions of this section to select health care professionals allowed to participate in the health carrier's managed care plan. A health carrier shall make its selection standards for participating providers available for review by the commissioner and by each health care professional who is subject to the selection standards.

33-36-204. Health carriers — general responsibilities. (1) A health carrier offering a managed care plan shall notify, in writing, prospective participating providers of the participating providers' responsibilities concerning the health carrier's administrative policies and programs, including but not limited to payment terms, utilization reviews, the quality assurance program, credentialing, grievance procedures, data reporting requirements, confidentiality requirements, and applicable federal or state requirements.

(2) A health carrier may not offer an inducement under a managed care plan to a participating provider to provide less than medically necessary services to a covered person.

(3) A health carrier may not prohibit a participating provider from discussing a treatment option with a covered person or from advocating on behalf of a covered person within the utilization review or grievance processes established by the health carrier or a person contracting with the health carrier.

(4) A health carrier shall require a participating provider to make health records available to appropriate state and federal authorities, in accordance with the applicable state and federal laws related to the confidentiality of medical or health records, when the authorities are involved in assessing the quality of care or investigating a grievance or complaint of a covered person.

(5) A health carrier and participating provider shall provide at least 60 days' written notice to each other before terminating the contract between them without cause. The health carrier shall make a good faith effort to provide written notice of a termination, within 15 working days of receipt or issuance of a notice of termination from or to a participating provider, to all covered persons who are patients seen on a regular basis by the participating provider whose contract is terminating, irrespective of whether the termination is for cause or without cause. If a contract termination involves a primary care professional, all covered persons who are patients of that primary care professional must be notified.

(6) A health carrier shall ensure that a participating provider furnishes covered benefits to all covered persons without regard to the covered person's enrollment in the plan as a private purchaser or as a participant in a publicly financed program of health care services. This requirement does not apply to circumstances in which the participating provider should not render services because of the participating provider's lack of training, experience, or skill or because of a restriction on the participating provider's license.

(7) A health carrier shall notify the participating providers of their obligation, if any, to collect applicable coinsurance, copayments, or deductibles from covered persons pursuant to the evidence of coverage or of the participating providers' obligations, if any, to notify covered persons of the covered persons' personal financial obligations for noncovered benefits.

(8) A health carrier may not penalize a participating provider because the participating provider, in good faith, reports to state or federal authorities an act or practice by the health carrier that may adversely affect patient health or welfare.

(9) A health carrier shall establish a mechanism by which a participating provider may determine in a timely manner whether or not a person is covered by the health carrier.

(10) A health carrier shall establish procedures for resolution of administrative, payment, or other disputes between the health carrier and participating providers.

(11) A contract between a health carrier and a participating provider may not contain definitions or other provisions that conflict with the definitions or provisions contained in the managed care plan or this chapter.

(12) A contract between a health carrier and a participating provider shall set forth all of the responsibilities and obligations of the provider either in the contract or documents referenced in the contract. A health carrier shall make its best effort to furnish copies of any reference documents, if requested by a participating provider, prior to execution of the contract.

33-36-205. Emergency services. (1) A health carrier offering a managed care plan shall provide or pay for emergency services screening and emergency services and may not require prior authorization for either of those services. If an emergency services screening determines that emergency services or emergency services of a particular type are unnecessary for a covered person, emergency services or emergency services of the type determined unnecessary by the screening need not be covered by the health carrier unless otherwise covered under the health benefit plan. However, if screening determines that emergency services or emergency services of a particular type are necessary, those services must be covered by the health carrier. A health carrier shall cover emergency services if the health carrier, acting through a participating provider or other authorized representative, has authorized the provision of emergency services.

(2) A health carrier shall provide or pay for emergency services obtained from a nonnetwork provider within the service area of a managed care plan and may not require prior authorization of those services if use of a participating provider would result in a delay that would worsen the medical condition of the covered person or if a provision of federal, state, or local law requires the use of a specific provider.

(3) If a participating provider or other authorized representative of a health carrier authorizes emergency services, the health carrier may not subsequently retract its authorization after the emergency services have been provided or reduce payment for an item or health care services furnished in reliance on approval unless the approval was based on a material misrepresentation about the covered person's medical condition made by the provider of emergency services.

(4) Coverage of emergency services is subject to applicable coinsurance, copayments, and deductibles.

(5) For postevaluation or poststabilization services required immediately after receipt of emergency services, a health carrier shall provide access to an authorized representative 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, to facilitate review.

33-36-209. Use of intermediaries — responsibilities of health carriers, intermediaries, and providers. (1) A health carrier is responsible for complying with applicable provisions of this chapter and contracting with an intermediary for all or some of the services for which a health carrier is responsible does not relieve the health carrier of responsibility for compliance.

(2) A health carrier may determine whether a subcontracted provider participates in the provider's own network or a contracted network for the purpose of providing covered benefits to the health carrier's covered persons.

(3) A health carrier shall maintain copies of all intermediary health care subcontracts at the health carrier's principal place of business in this state or ensure that the health carrier has access to all intermediary subcontracts, including the right to make copies of the contracts, upon 20 days' prior written notice from the health carrier.

(4) If required in a contract or otherwise by a health carrier, an intermediary shall transmit utilization documentation and claims-paid documentation to the health carrier. The health carrier shall monitor the timeliness and appropriateness of payments made to providers and health care services received by covered persons. This duty may not be delegated to an intermediary by a health carrier.

(5) If required in a contract or otherwise by a health carrier, an intermediary shall maintain the books, records, financial information, and documentation of services provided to covered persons at its principal place of business in the state and preserve them for 5 years in a manner that facilitates regulatory review.

(6) An intermediary shall allow the commissioner access to the intermediary's books, records, claim information, billing information, and other documentation of services provided to covered persons that are required by any of those entities to determine compliance with this part and the rules implementing this part.

(7) A health carrier may, in the event of the intermediary's insolvency, require the assignment to the health carrier of the provisions of a participating provider's contract addressing the participating provider's obligation to furnish covered benefits.

33-36-210. Contract filing requirements — material changes — state access to contracts. (1) A health carrier offering a managed care plan in this state on January 1, 2024, shall file with the commissioner on December 1, 2023, sample contract forms proposed for use with its participating providers and intermediaries. A health carrier offering a managed care plan in this state for the first time after January 1, 2024, shall file with the commissioner sample contract forms proposed for use with its participating providers and intermediaries at least 60 days before offering the managed care plan.

(2) A health carrier shall file with the commissioner a material change to a contract. The change must be filed with the commissioner at least 60 days before use of the proposed change. A change in a participating provider payment rate, coinsurance, copayment, or deductible or other plan benefit is not considered a material change for the purpose of this subsection.

(3) A health carrier shall maintain participating provider and intermediary contracts at its principal place of business in this state, or the health carrier must have access to all contracts and provide copies to the commissioner on 20 days' prior written notice from the commissioner.

33-36-211. General contracting requirements. (1) The execution of a contract for health care services with an intermediary by a health carrier does not relieve the health carrier of its duty to provide health care services to a person with whom the health carrier has contracted and does not relieve the health carrier of its responsibility for compliance with this chapter or the rules implementing this chapter.

(2) All contracts by a health carrier for the provision of health care services by a managed care plan must be in writing and are subject to review by the commissioner.

33-36-212. Contract compliance dates. A contract between a health carrier and a participating provider or intermediary must comply with this part and the rules implementing this part on the date the contract is issued or put into effect.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 413, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 46, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-36-213. Rulemaking authority. The commissioner may adopt rules to implement this part.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 413, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 47, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

Part 3
Quality Assurance

33-36-301. Quality assurance — national accreditation. (1) A health carrier whose managed care plan has been accredited by a nationally recognized accrediting organization shall annually provide a copy of the accreditation and the accrediting standards used by the accrediting organization to the commissioner.

(2) If the commissioner finds that the standards of a nationally recognized accrediting organization meet or exceed state standards and that the health carrier has been accredited by the nationally recognized accrediting organization, the commissioner shall approve the quality assurance standards of the health carrier.

(3) The commissioner shall maintain a list of accrediting organizations whose standards have been determined by the commissioner to meet or exceed state quality assurance standards.

(4) Section 33-36-302 does not apply to a health carrier's managed care plan if the health carrier maintains current accreditation by a nationally recognized accrediting organization whose standards meet or exceed state quality assurance standards adopted pursuant to this part.

(5) This section does not prevent the commissioner from monitoring a health carrier's compliance with this part.

33-36-302. Standards for health carrier quality assessment programs. A health carrier that issues a closed plan or a combination plan shall adopt and use infrastructure and disclosure systems sufficient to accurately measure the quality of health care services provided to covered persons on a regular basis and appropriate to the types of plans offered by the health carrier. To comply with this requirement, a health carrier shall:

(1) establish and use a system designed to assess the quality of health care provided to covered persons and appropriate to the types of plans offered by the health carrier. The system must include systematic collection, analysis, and reporting of relevant data.

(2) communicate in a timely fashion its findings concerning the quality of health care to regulatory agencies, providers, and consumers as provided in 33-36-304;

(3) report to the appropriate professional or occupational licensing board provided in Title 37 any persistent pattern of problematic care provided by a participating provider that is sufficient to cause the health carrier to terminate or suspend a contractual arrangement with the participating provider; and

(4) file a written description of the quality assessment program and any subsequent material changes with the commissioner in a format that must be prescribed by rules of the commissioner. The description must include a signed certification by a corporate officer of the health carrier that the health carrier's quality assessment program meets the requirements of this part.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 413, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 49, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-36-303. Standards for health carrier quality improvement programs. A health carrier that issues a closed plan or a combination plan shall, in addition to complying with 33-36-302, adopt and use systems and methods necessary to improve the quality of health care provided in the health carrier's managed care plan as indicated by the health carrier's quality assessment program and as required by this section. To comply with this requirement, a health carrier subject to this section shall:

(1) establish an internal system capable of identifying opportunities to improve care;

(2) use the findings generated by the system required by subsection (1) to work on a continuing basis with participating providers and other staff within the closed plan or closed component to improve the health care delivered to covered persons; and

(3) consistent with this part, adopt and use a program for measuring, assessing and improving the outcomes of health care as identified in the health carrier's quality improvement program plan and provide at the commissioner's request a current quality improvement program plan. The quality improvement program plan must:

(a) implement improvement strategies in response to quality assessment findings that indicate improvement is needed; and

(b) evaluate, not less than annually, the effectiveness of the strategies implemented pursuant to subsection (3)(a).

History: En. Sec. 25, Ch. 413, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 50, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

33-36-304. Reporting and disclosure requirements. (1) A health carrier offering a closed plan or a combination plan shall document and communicate information, as required in this section, about its quality assurance program. The health carrier shall:

(a) include a summary of its quality assurance program in marketing materials;

(b) include a description of its quality assurance program and a statement of patient rights and responsibilities with respect to that program in the certificate of coverage or handbook provided to newly enrolled covered persons; and

(c) make available annually to providers and covered persons a report containing findings from its quality assurance program and information about its progress in meeting internal goals and external standards, when available.

(2) A health carrier shall certify to the commissioner annually that its quality assurance program and the materials provided to providers and consumers in accordance with subsection (1) meet the requirements of this part.

(3) A health carrier shall make available, upon request and payment of a reasonable fee, the materials certified pursuant to subsection (2), except for the materials subject to the confidentiality requirements of 33-36-305 and materials that are proprietary to the managed care plan. A health carrier shall retain all certified materials for at least 3 years from the date that the material was certified or until the material has been examined as part of a market conduct examination, whichever is later.

33-36-305. Confidentiality of health care and quality assurance records — disclosure. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), the following information held by a health carrier offering a closed plan or a combination plan is confidential and may not be disclosed by the carrier to a person:

(a) information pertaining to the diagnosis, treatment, or health of a covered person, regardless of whether the information is in the form of paper, is preserved on microfilm, or is stored in computer-retrievable form;

(b) information considered by a quality assurance program and the records of its actions, including testimony of a member of a quality committee, of an officer, director, or other member of a health carrier or its staff engaged in assisting the quality committee or engaged in the health carrier's quality assessment, quality improvement, or quality assurance activities, or of any person assisting or furnishing information to the quality committee.

(2) The information specified in subsection (1) may be disclosed:

(a) as allowed by Title 33, chapter 19;

(b) as required in proceedings before the commissioner, a professional or occupational licensing board provided in Title 37, or the department of public health and human services pursuant to Title 50, chapter 5, part 2;

(c) in an appeal, if an appeal is permitted, from a quality committee's findings or recommendations; or

(d) as otherwise required by law or court order, including a judicial or administrative subpoena.

(3) Information specified in subsection (1) identifying:

(a) the provider may also be disclosed upon a written, dated, and signed approval of the provider if the information does not identify the covered person;

(b) the covered person may also be disclosed upon a written, dated, and signed approval of the covered person or of the parent or guardian of a covered person if the covered person is a minor and if the information does not identify the provider;

(c) neither the provider nor the covered person may also be disclosed upon request for use for statistical purposes only.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 413, L. 1997; amd. Sec. 52, Ch. 157, L. 2023.

Enforcement

33-36-401. Enforcement. (1) If the commissioner determines that a health carrier has not complied with this chapter or the rules implementing this chapter, the commissioner may recommend corrective action to the health carrier.

(2) The commissioner may take an enforcement action provided in subsection (3) if:

(a) a health carrier fails to implement corrective action recommended by the commissioner;

(b) corrective action taken by a health carrier does not result in bringing a health carrier into compliance with this chapter and the rules implementing this chapter within a reasonable period of time;

(c) a health carrier does not comply with this chapter or the rules implementing this chapter; or

(d) the commissioner determines that a health carrier has violated or is violating this chapter or the rules implementing this chapter.

(3) The commissioner may take any of the following enforcement actions to require a health carrier to comply with this chapter or the rules implementing this chapter:

(a) suspend or revoke the health carrier's certificate of authority or deny the health carrier's application for a certificate of authority; or

(b) use any of the commissioner's other enforcement powers provided in Title 33, chapter 1, part 3.

Part 1 — General Provisions

33-38-101. Short title — purpose.
33-38-102. Definitions.
33-38-103. Unlawful acts by medical care discount card suppliers or enrollers.
33-38-104. Right to return or cancel medical care discount card or pharmacy discount card — notice — prohibited acts.
33-38-105. Sale of medical care discount card by unregistered supplier prohibited — requirements for registration — list of authorized enrollers required — exceptions.
33-38-106. Medical care discount card supplier financial responsibility requirements — claims against bonds or accounts — exemptions.
33-38-107. Waiver of registration and bonding requirements.
33-38-108. Pharmacy discount card supplier requirements.

Part 1
General Provisions

33-38-101. Short title — purpose. (1) This part may be cited as the "Montana Medical Care Discount Card and Pharmacy Discount Card Act".

(2) The purposes of this part are to regulate the promotion, offer, sale, and use of medical care discount cards and pharmacy discount cards and to facilitate the detection of and reduce the occurrence of medical care discount card and pharmacy discount card fraud.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 456, L. 2005.

33-38-102. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context indicates otherwise, the following definitions apply:

(1) (a) "Administrator" has the meaning provided for in 33-17-102(3).

(b) The term includes a pharmacy benefit manager as defined in 33-2-2402.

(2) "Enroller" means a person who:

(a) solicits the purchase or renewal of a medical care discount card through that person;

(b) transmits, for consideration, from a supplier to another person or from another person to a supplier a contract or application for a medical care discount card or the renewal of a medical care discount card; or

(c) acts or aids in another manner in the delivery or negotiation of a medical care discount card or the renewal or continuance of a medical care discount card.

(3) "Health care provider" means:

(a) an individual licensed by the department of labor and industry to practice or who holds a temporary permit to practice a branch of the healing arts;

(b) a professional corporation organized pursuant to Title 35, chapter 4, by one or more individuals described in subsection (3)(a);

(c) a Montana limited liability company organized pursuant to Title 35, chapter 8, for the purpose of rendering professional services by individuals described in subsection (3)(a);

(d) a partnership of individuals described in subsection (3)(a);

(e) a Montana nonprofit corporation organized pursuant to Title 35, chapter 2, for the purpose of rendering professional health care services by one or more individuals described in subsection (3)(a); or

(f) a health care facility as defined in 50-5-101.

(4) "Health insurance issuer" means a health insurance issuer, as defined in 33-22-140, that is authorized to do business in this state and its affiliates, as defined in 33-2-1101.

(5) (a) "Medical care discount card" means a paper or plastic device or other mechanism, arrangement, account, or other device that does not constitute insurance, as defined in 33-1-201, that purports to grant, for consideration, a discount or access to a discount in a medical care-related purchase from a health care provider.

(b) The term does not include a pharmacy discount card unless a pharmacy discount benefit is combined with another type of medical care discount.

(6) "Medical care discount card supplier" means a person engaged in selling or furnishing, either as principal or agent, for consideration, one or more medical care discount cards to another person or persons.

(7) "Network of health care providers" means two or more health care providers who are contractually obligated to provide services in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to a medical care discount card.

(8) "Pharmacy discount card" means a paper or plastic device or other mechanism, arrangement, account, or other device that does not constitute insurance, as defined in 33-1-201, that purports to grant, for consideration, a discount or access to a discount on one or more prescription drugs, and that is not combined with another type of medical care discount.

(9) "Pharmacy discount card supplier" means a person engaged in selling or furnishing, either as a principal or agent, for consideration, one or more pharmacy discount cards to another person or persons.

(10) "Preferred provider organization company" means a company that contracts with health care providers for lower fees than those customarily charged by the health care provider for services and contracts with health insurance issuers, administrators, or self-insured employers to provide access to those lower fees to a particular group of insureds, subscribers, participants, beneficiaries, members, or claimants.

(11) "Prescription drug provider" means a pharmacy or other business that is contractually bound to provide a discount on one or more prescription drugs in conjunction with the use of a pharmacy discount card.

(12) "Service area" means the area within a 60-mile radius of the home or place of business of a medical care discount card user or pharmacy discount card user.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 456, L. 2005; amd. Sec. 20, Ch. 501, L. 2021.

33-38-103. Unlawful acts by medical care discount card suppliers or enrollers. (1) A medical care discount card supplier or an enroller that markets, promotes, advertises, or distributes a medical care discount card in Montana:

(a) may not make misleading, deceptive, or fraudulent representations regarding:

(i) the discount or range of discounts offered by a medical care discount card;

(ii) the access to any range of discounts offered by a medical care discount card; or

(iii) another medical care service provided in connection with a medical care discount card;

(b) may not use terms or phrases commonly associated with insurance products that could lead a prospective purchaser or user of a medical care discount card to believe that the card being offered is composed of one or more insurance products or is a substitute for insurance, despite disclaimers to the contrary by the medical care discount card supplier or enroller;

(c) shall provide to a prospective purchaser or user, before purchase, access to a list of health care providers, including the name, city, state, and provider type and, optionally, the address and telephone number of each health care provider in the prospective purchaser's or user's service area; and

(d) shall make continuously available to each medical care discount card user, through a toll-free telephone number, the internet, and in writing upon request, the name, address, telephone number, and provider type of all health care providers in the user's service area who are bound by contract to provide services in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to the card.

(2) A medical care discount card supplier that markets, promotes, advertises, or distributes a medical care discount card in Montana shall:

(a) state, on all advertisements for medical care discount cards, in bold and prominent type of at least 14 points in size, and on all cards themselves in clear and conspicuous type, that the card is not insurance;

(b) designate and provide the commissioner with the name, address, and telephone number of a medical care discount card compliance officer responsible for ensuring compliance with the provisions of this part applicable to medical care discount cards and medical care discount card suppliers and enrollers; and

(c) ensure that if the medical care discount card supplier claims that a specific health care provider offers a discount in conjunction with the medical care discount card, that specific health care provider is contractually bound to provide that discount to the purchaser or user.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 456, L. 2005.

33-38-104. Right to return or cancel medical care discount card or pharmacy discount card — notice — prohibited acts. (1) A medical care discount card or pharmacy discount card issued for delivery in this state is returnable or cancelable, within 30 days of the date of delivery of the card or a longer period if provided in the purchase agreement, by the purchaser or user for any reason, and the user must receive a full refund of all fees, except nominal fees associated with enrollment costs, that were part of the cost of the card.

(2) A medical care discount card supplier or pharmacy discount card supplier may not charge or collect a fee, including a cancellation fee, after a purchaser or user has returned a card to the supplier or given the supplier notice of the person's intention to return or cancel the card.

(3) A medical care discount card supplier or pharmacy discount card supplier shall ensure that each purchaser or user receives with the card a notice stating the terms under which the medical care discount card or pharmacy discount card may be returned or canceled as provided in subsections (1) and (2). A medical care discount card or pharmacy discount card returned or canceled in accordance with this section is void from the date of purchase.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 456, L. 2005.

33-38-105. Sale of medical care discount card by unregistered supplier prohibited — requirements for registration — list of authorized enrollers required — exceptions. (1) A medical care discount card supplier may not market, promote, sell, or distribute a medical care discount card in this state unless the supplier holds a certificate of registration as a supplier issued by the commissioner.

(2) An application to the commissioner for a certificate of registration must be accompanied by a nonrefundable application fee of $100. The commissioner shall issue the certificate unless the commissioner determines that the medical care discount card supplier or an officer or manager is not financially responsible, does not have adequate expertise or experience to operate a medical care discount card business, or is not of good character or that the supplier or its affiliates or a business formerly owned or managed by the supplier or an officer or manager of the supplier has had a previous application for a certificate of registration denied, revoked, suspended, or terminated for cause or is under investigation for or has been found in violation of a statute or regulation in any jurisdiction within the previous 5 years.

(3) A medical care discount card supplier shall renew its certificate of registration annually by December 31. The certificate is renewed upon payment by the supplier of a nonrefundable renewal fee of $100 and expires on the anniversary of its issuance if the renewal fee is not paid before that date. Once issued or renewed, the certificate continues in effect for 1 year unless suspended, revoked, or terminated. The commissioner shall deposit the fees required by this section with the state treasurer, to be credited to the general fund.

(4) A certificate of registration may be suspended or revoked if, after notice and hearing, the commissioner finds that the medical care discount card supplier has violated a provision of this part, that the supplier is not financially responsible or competent, or that the supplier or an affiliate or business formerly owned or managed by the supplier has had a certificate of registration denied or suspended for cause or has been found in violation of a statute or regulation in another jurisdiction.

(5) A medical care discount card supplier that violates the provisions of subsection (1) is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $5,000 or more than $25,000 for each violation. Each day of violation is considered to be a separate violation.

(6) A medical care discount card supplier that is a health insurance issuer is not required to obtain a certificate of registration in accordance with this section, except that affiliates, as defined in 33-2-1101, that are selling medical care discount cards in Montana shall obtain a certificate of registration.

(7) An administrator that is authorized to do business in this state and that provides medical care discount cards to Montana residents who are members of self-funded group health plans administered by that administrator is not required to obtain a certificate of registration pursuant to this section.

(8) A person commencing business as a medical care discount card supplier shall file a certificate of registration and its list of authorized enrollers with the commissioner at least 30 days before commencing business as a supplier. After the initial filing of a list of its enrollers with the commissioner, a supplier shall file an updated list annually by December 31.

(9) This section does not excuse a medical care discount card supplier that is also an insurer from full compliance with the Montana Insurance Code.

33-38-106. Medical care discount card supplier financial responsibility requirements — claims against bonds or accounts — exemptions. (1) A person intending to act as a medical care discount card supplier may not market, promote, advertise, or distribute a medical care discount card in this state until the person has purchased a bond or established a surety account and filed with the commissioner a copy of a bond or a statement identifying a surety account depository as provided in this section.

(2) A person intending to act as a medical care discount card supplier shall:

(a) purchase and maintain a surety bond in the amount of $50,000 issued by a surety company authorized to do business in this state; or

(b) establish and maintain a surety account in the amount of $50,000 at a federally insured bank, savings and loan association, or federal savings bank located in this state.

(3) A person intending to act as a medical care discount card supplier shall provide the depository, trustee, and account number of the surety account to the commissioner and shall annually provide to the commissioner proof of renewal of the bond or maintenance of the surety account. The person shall pay a nonrefundable filing fee of $250 with the initial filing and with each subsequent filing.

(4) A medical care discount card supplier shall maintain the surety account or bond until 2 years after the date that the supplier ceases operations in the state. Money from a surety account may not be released to the supplier without the written consent of the commissioner.

(5) A surety on a medical care discount card company bond may not cancel a bond required by this section without giving at least 21 days' written notice of cancellation to the medical care discount card supplier and the commissioner. If the commissioner receives notice of a surety's intention to cancel a supplier's bond, the commissioner shall notify the affected supplier that, unless the supplier files another $50,000 surety bond with the commissioner or establishes a $50,000 surety account on or before the date the bond is to be canceled, the supplier may no longer do business as a supplier in this state.

(6) A bond surety shall write a bond required by this section and a person intending to act as a medical care discount card supplier shall establish an account in favor of a person, and the commissioner for the benefit of a person, injured by a violation of this part. The bond surety shall also write the bond to cover any fines levied against the supplier, a supplier's enroller, or both, for a violation of this part occurring during the time the supplier's bond is in effect.

(7) A person with a claim against a medical care discount card supplier's bond or surety account for a violation of a provision of this part may maintain an action against the supplier and against either the bond surety or the trustee of the surety account, as appropriate. The aggregate liability of the surety or trustee to a person injured by a violation of this part may not exceed the amount of the surety bond or account.

(8) A person acting as a medical care discount card supplier on October 1, 2005, shall file with the commissioner a copy of a surety bond or statement identifying a surety account depository on that date. A person commencing business as a supplier after October 1, 2005, shall file a copy of a bond or statement with the commissioner at least 30 days before commencing business as a supplier.

(9) A health insurance issuer that is also a medical care discount card supplier is exempt from the requirements of this section.

(10) An administrator that is authorized to do business in this state and that provides medical care discount cards to Montana residents who are members of self-funded group health plans administered by that administrator is exempt from the requirements of this section.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 456, L. 2005.

33-38-107. Waiver of registration and bonding requirements. The commissioner may waive the requirements of 33-38-105 and 33-38-106 for any preferred provider organization company. The factors taken into account in granting a waiver include but are not limited to whether the company:

(1) has contracts in place with health care providers residing in this state;

(2) has contracts in place with users and purchasers of health care services residing in this state who use the medical care discount card in conjunction with a self-funded or fully insured health plan;

(3) is primarily in the preferred provider organization business or primarily in the medical care discount card supplier business; and

(4) was in business in this state prior to October 1, 2005.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 456, L. 2005.

33-38-108. Pharmacy discount card supplier requirements. (1) A pharmacy discount card supplier that sells, markets, promotes, or distributes, for a consideration, a pharmacy discount card in Montana:

(a) shall clearly and conspicuously disclose on all advertising, marketing materials, and enrollment materials that discounts offered through the use of a pharmacy discount card are not insurance and are not intended as a substitute for insurance;

(b) shall clearly and conspicuously disclose on all pharmacy discount cards that discounts offered through the use of the pharmacy discount card are not insurance;

(c) shall disclose, when a pharmacy discount card is sold in combination with a group limited supplemental insurance policy, that discounts offered through the use of the pharmacy discount card are not insurance;

(d) may not, in the advertising or offering of the pharmacy discount card, use terms or phrases commonly associated only with insurance products that could lead a prospective purchaser or user of the card to believe that the pharmacy discount card is composed of insurance products or is a substitute for insurance, despite disclaimers to the contrary by the pharmacy discount card supplier;

(e) shall ensure that each prescription drug provider claimed by the pharmacy discount card supplier to offer a discount in conjunction with the pharmacy discount card is contractually bound to provide that discount to the purchaser or user;

(f) may not make misleading, deceptive, or fraudulent representations regarding a discount or range of discounts available through the use of a pharmacy discount card;

(g) shall provide to each prospective purchaser or user prior to purchase reasonable access to a list of the benefits and services provided through the use of a pharmacy discount card;

(h) shall provide a prospective purchaser or user prior to purchase access to a list of any prescription drug providers in the prospective purchaser's or user's service area;

(i) shall disclose in all enrollment materials that a pharmacy discount card purchaser or user has 30 days to cancel a pharmacy discount card as provided in 33-38-104;

(j) shall make available to each pharmacy discount card user continuously after purchase of a pharmacy discount card, through a toll-free telephone number, the internet, and in writing upon request, the name, address, and telephone number of each prescription drug provider in the user's service area, including mail order prescription drug providers, that are bound by contract to offer prescription drugs in accordance with the terms and conditions of the pharmacy discount card; and

(k) shall designate and provide the commissioner with the name, address, and telephone number of a pharmacy discount card compliance officer responsible for ensuring compliance with the provisions of this part applicable to pharmacy discount cards and pharmacy discount card suppliers.

(2) A person violating the provisions of subsection (1) is subject to the fine provided for in 33-1-317.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 456, L. 2005.

CHAPTER 39
INTERSTATE INSURANCE PRODUCT REGULATION

Part 1 — Interstate Insurance Product Regulation Compact

33-39-101. Compact adopted.
33-39-102. Montana compact commissioner — alternate.
33-39-103. Opt-out duties, guidelines, remedies.

Part 1
Interstate Insurance Product Regulation Compact

33-39-101. Compact adopted. The Interstate Insurance Product Regulation Compact is enacted into law and entered into with all jurisdictions legally joining in the compact, in the form substantially as set forth below.

Article I. Purposes

Pursuant to terms and conditions of this compact, the state of Montana seeks to join with other states and establish the Interstate Insurance Product Regulation Compact. Through means of joint and cooperative action among the compacting states, the purposes of this compact are:

(1) to promote and protect the interest of consumers of individual and group annuity, life insurance, disability income, and long-term care insurance products;
(2) to develop uniform standards for insurance products covered under the compact;
(3) to establish a central clearinghouse to receive and provide prompt review of insurance products covered under the compact and, in certain cases, advertisement related to the products, submitted by insurers authorized to do business in one or more compacting states;
(4) to give appropriate regulatory approval to those product filings and advertisement satisfying the applicable uniform standard;
(5) to improve coordination of regulatory resources and expertise between state insurance departments regarding the setting of uniform standards and review of insurance products covered under the compact;
(6) to create the interstate insurance product regulation commission; and
(7) to perform these and other related functions as may be consistent with the state regulation of the business of insurance.

Article II. Definitions

For purposes of this compact, the following definitions apply:
(1) "Advertisement" means any material designed to create public interest in a product or induce the public to purchase, increase, modify, reinstate, borrow on, surrender, replace, or retain a policy, as more specifically defined in the rules and operating procedures of the commission.
(2) "Bylaws" mean those bylaws established by the commission for its governance or for directing or controlling the commission's actions or conduct.
(3) "Compacting state" means a state that has enacted this compact legislation and that has not withdrawn pursuant to Article XIV, subsection (1), or been terminated pursuant to Article XIV, subsection (2).
(4) "Commission" means the interstate insurance product regulation commission established by this compact.
(5) "Commissioner" means the chief insurance regulatory official of a state, including but not limited to a commissioner, superintendent, director, or administrator.
(6) "Domiciliary state" means the state in which an insurer is incorporated or organized or, in the case of an alien insurer, its state of entry.
(7) "Insurer" means any entity licensed by a state to issue contracts of insurance for any of the lines of insurance covered by this compact.
(8) "Member" means the person chosen by a compacting state as its representative to the commission or the designee named by the representative to the commission.
(9) "Noncompacting state" means a state that is not at the time a compacting state.
(10) "Operating procedures" mean procedures promulgated by the commission implementing a rule, a uniform standard, or a provision of this compact.
(11) "Product" means the form of a policy or contract, including any application, endorsement, or related form that is attached to and made a part of the policy or contract, and any evidence of coverage or certificate, for an individual or group annuity, life insurance, disability income, or long-term care insurance product that an insurer is authorized to issue.
(12) "Rule" means a statement of general or particular applicability and future effect promulgated by the commission, including a uniform standard developed pursuant to Article VII, designed to implement, interpret, or prescribe law or policy or describing the organization, procedure, or practice requirements of the commission, which has the force of law in the compacting states.
(13) "State" means any state, district, or territory of the United States of America.
(14) "Third-party filer" means an entity that submits a product filing to the commission on behalf of an insurer.
(15) "Uniform standard" means a standard adopted by the commission for a product line pursuant to Article VII and includes all of the product requirements in aggregate, provided that each uniform standard must be construed, whether express or implied, to prohibit the use of any inconsistent, misleading, or ambiguous provisions in a product and the form of the product made available to the public may not be unfair, inequitable, or against public policy as determined by the commission.

Article III. Establishment of the Commission and Venue

(1) The compacting states create and establish a joint public agency known as the interstate insurance product regulation commission. Pursuant to Article IV, the commission has the power to develop uniform standards for product lines, receive and provide prompt review of products filed with the commission, and give approval to those product filings satisfying applicable uniform standards. However, it is not intended for the commission to be the exclusive entity for receipt and review of insurance product filings. Nothing in the compact prohibits any insurer from filing its product in any state in which the insurer is licensed to conduct the business of insurance, and any such filing is subject to the laws of the state where filed.

(2) The commission is a body corporate and politic and an instrumentality of the compacting states.

(3) The commission is solely responsible for its liabilities except as otherwise specifically provided in this compact.

(4) Venue is proper and judicial proceedings by or against the commission must be brought solely and exclusively in a court of competent jurisdiction where the principal office of the commission is located.

Article IV. Powers of the Commission

The commission has the following powers:

(1) to promulgate rules, pursuant to Article VII, which have the force of law and are binding in the compacting states to the extent and in the manner provided in this compact;

(2) to exercise its rulemaking authority and establish reasonable uniform standards for products covered under the compact and advertisement related to the products, which have the force of law and are binding in the compacting states, but only for those products filed with the commission, provided that a compacting state has the right to opt out of the uniform standard pursuant to Article VII, to the extent and in the manner provided in this compact, and provided further that any uniform standard established by the commission for long-term care insurance products may provide the same or greater protections for consumers as, but may not provide less than, those protections set forth in the national association of insurance commissioners' Long-Term Care Insurance Model Act and Long-Term Care Insurance Model Regulation, respectively, adopted as of 2001. The commission shall consider whether any subsequent amendments to the national association of insurance commissioners' Long-Term Care Insurance Model Act or Long-Term Care Insurance Model Regulation adopted by the national association of insurance commissioners require amending of the uniform standards established by the commission for long-term care insurance products.

(3) to receive and review in an expeditious manner products filed with the commission and rate filings for disability income and long-term care insurance products and to give approval of those products and rate filings that satisfy the applicable uniform standard, where the approval has the force of law and is binding on the compacting states to the extent and in the manner provided in the compact;

(4) to receive and review in an expeditious manner advertisement relating to long-term care insurance products for which uniform standards have been adopted by the commission and to give approval to all advertisement that satisfies the applicable uniform standard. For any product covered under this compact, other than long-term care insurance products, the commission has the authority to require an insurer to submit all or any part of its advertisement with respect to that product for review or approval prior to use if the commission determines that the nature of the product is such that an advertisement of the product could have the capacity or tendency to mislead the public. The actions of the commission as provided in this section have the force of law and are binding in the compacting states to the extent and in the manner provided in the compact.

(5) to exercise its rulemaking authority and designate products and advertisement that may be subject to a self-certification process without the need for prior approval by the commission;

(6) to promulgate operating procedures pursuant to Article VII that are binding in the compacting states to the extent and in the manner provided in this compact;

(7) to bring and prosecute legal proceedings or actions in its name as the commission, provided that the standing of any state insurance department to sue or be sued under applicable law may not be affected;

(8) to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence;

(9) to establish and maintain offices;

(10) to purchase and maintain insurance and bonds;

(11) to borrow, accept, or contract for services of personnel, including but not limited to employees of a compacting state;

(12) to hire employees, professionals, or specialists and elect or appoint officers, to fix their compensation, define their duties, give them appropriate authority to carry out the purposes of the compact, and determine their qualifications, and to establish the commission's personnel policies and programs relating to, among other things, conflicts of interest, rates of compensation, and qualifications of personnel;

(13) to accept any and all appropriate donations and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services and to receive, utilize, and dispose of the same, provided that at all times the commission shall strive to avoid any appearance of impropriety;

(14) to lease, purchase, or accept appropriate gifts or donations of or otherwise own, hold, improve, or use any property, real, personal, or mixed, provided that at all times the commission shall strive to avoid any appearance of impropriety;

(15) to sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, abandon, or otherwise dispose of any property whether real, personal, or mixed;

(16) to remit filing fees to compacting states as may be set forth in the bylaws, rules, or operating procedures;

(17) to enforce compliance by compacting states with rules, uniform standards, operating procedures, and bylaws;

(18) to provide for dispute resolution among compacting states;

(19) to advise compacting states on issues relating to insurers domiciled or doing business in noncompacting jurisdictions, consistent with the purposes of this compact;

(20) to provide advice and training to those personnel in state insurance departments responsible for product review and to be a resource for state insurance departments;

(21) to establish a budget and make expenditures;

(22) to borrow money;

(23) to appoint committees, including advisory committees comprising members, state insurance regulators, state legislators or their representatives, insurance industry and consumer representatives, and other interested persons as may be designated in the bylaws;

(24) to provide and receive information from and to cooperate with law enforcement agencies;

(25) to adopt and use a corporate seal; and

(26) to perform other functions as may be necessary or appropriate to achieve the purposes of this compact consistent with the state regulation of the business of insurance.

Article V. Organization of the Commission

(1) Membership, voting, and bylaws.

(a) Each compacting state has and is limited to one member. Each member must be qualified to serve in that capacity pursuant to applicable law of the compacting state. Any member may be removed or suspended from office as provided by the law of the state from which the member is appointed. Any vacancy occurring in the commission must be filled in accordance with the laws of the compacting state in which the vacancy exists. Nothing in the compact may be construed to affect the manner in which a compacting state determines the election or appointment and qualification of its own commissioner.

(b) Each member is entitled to one vote and must have an opportunity to participate in the governance of the commission in accordance with the bylaws. Notwithstanding any provision in the compact to the contrary, an action of the commission with respect to the promulgation of a uniform standard may not be effective unless two-thirds of the members vote in favor of the standard.

(c) The commission shall, by a majority vote of the members, prescribe bylaws to govern its conduct as may be necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes and exercise the powers of the compact, including but not limited to:

(i) establishing the fiscal year of the commission;

(ii) providing reasonable procedures for appointing and electing members, as well as holding meetings, of the management committee;

(iii) providing reasonable standards and procedures:

(A) for the establishment and meetings of other committees; and

(B) governing any general or specific delegation of any authority or function of the commission;

(iv) providing reasonable procedures for calling and conducting meetings of the commission that consist of a majority of commission members, ensuring reasonable advance notice of each meeting, and providing for the right of citizens to attend each meeting with enumerated exceptions designed to protect the public's interest, the privacy of individuals, and insurers' proprietary information, including trade secrets. The commission may meet in camera only after a majority of the entire membership votes to close a meeting in whole or in part. As soon as practicable, the commission shall make public:

(A) a copy of the vote to close the meeting revealing the vote of each member with no proxy votes allowed; and

(B) votes taken during the meeting.

(v) establishing the titles, duties, and authority and reasonable procedures for the election of the officers of the commission;

(vi) providing reasonable standards and procedures for the establishment of the personnel policies and programs of the commission. Notwithstanding any civil service or other similar laws of any compacting state, the bylaws must exclusively govern the personnel policies and programs of the commission.

(vii) promulgating a code of ethics to address permissible and prohibited activities of commission members and employees; and

(viii) providing a mechanism for winding up the operations of the commission and the equitable disposition of any surplus funds that may exist after the termination of the compact after the payment or reserving of all of its debts and obligations.

(d) The commission shall publish its bylaws in a convenient form and file a copy of the bylaws and a copy of any amendment to the bylaws with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the compacting states.

(2) Management committee, officers, and personnel.

(a) A management committee comprising no more than 14 members must be established as follows:

(i) one member from each of the six compacting states with the largest premium volume for individual and group annuities, life, disability income, and long-term care insurance products as determined from the records of the national association of insurance commissioners for the prior year;

(ii) four members from those compacting states with at least 2% of the market based on the premium volume described in subsection (2)(a)(i), other than the six compacting states with the largest premium volume, selected on a rotating basis as provided in the bylaws; and

(iii) four members from those compacting states with less than 2% of the market, based on the premium volume described in subsection (2)(a)(i), with one selected from each of the four zone regions of the national association of insurance commissioners as provided in the bylaws.

(b) The management committee has the authority and duties set forth in the bylaws, including but not limited to:

(i) managing the affairs of the commission in a manner consistent with the bylaws and purposes of the commission;

(ii) establishing and overseeing an organizational structure within and appropriate procedures for the commission to provide for the creation of uniform standards and other rules, receipt and review of product filings, administrative and technical support functions, review of decisions regarding the disapproval of a product filing, and the review of elections made by a compacting state to opt out of a uniform standard, provided that a uniform standard may not be submitted to the compacting states for adoption unless approved by two-thirds of the members of the management committee;

(iii) overseeing the offices of the commission; and

(iv) planning, implementing, and coordinating communications and activities with other state, federal, and local government organizations in order to advance the goals of the commission.

(c) The commission shall annually elect officers from the management committee, with each having the authority and duties specified in the bylaws.

(d) The management committee may, subject to the approval of the commission, appoint or retain an executive director for a period, upon the terms and conditions, and for the compensation that the commission considers appropriate. The executive director shall serve as secretary to the commission but may not be a member of the commission. The executive director shall hire and supervise other staff authorized by the commission.

(3) Legislative and advisory committees.

(a) A legislative committee comprising state legislators or their designees must be established to monitor the operations of and make recommendations to the commission, including the management committee, provided that the manner of selection and term of any legislative committee member must be as set forth in the bylaws. Prior to the adoption by the commission of any uniform standard, revision to the bylaws, annual budget, or other significant matter provided in the bylaws, the management committee shall consult with and report to the legislative committee.

(b) The commission shall establish two advisory committees, one comprising consumer representatives independent of the insurance industry and the other comprising insurance industry representatives.

(c) The commission may establish additional advisory committees as its bylaws may provide to carry out its functions.

(4) Corporate records of the commission. The commission shall maintain its corporate books and records in accordance with the bylaws.

(5) Qualified immunity, defense, and indemnification.

(a) The members, officers, executive director, employees, and representatives of the commission are immune from suit and liability, either personally or in their official capacity, for any claim for damage to or loss of property or personal injury or other civil liability caused by or arising out of any actual or alleged act, error, or omission that occurred or that the person against whom the claim is made had a reasonable basis for believing occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, provided that nothing in this subsection (5)(a) may be construed to protect any person from suit or liability for any damage, loss, injury, or liability caused by the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of that person.

(b) The commission shall defend any member, officer, executive director, employee, or representative of the commission in any civil action seeking to impose liability arising out of any actual or alleged act, error, or omission that occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities or that the person against whom the claim is made had a reasonable basis for believing occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, provided that nothing in the compact may be construed to prohibit that person from retaining personal counsel and provided further that the actual or alleged act, error, or omission did not result from that person's intentional or willful and wanton misconduct.

(c) The commission shall indemnify and hold harmless any member, officer, executive director, employee, or representative of the commission for the amount of any settlement or judgment obtained against that person arising out of any actual or alleged act, error, or omission that occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities or that the person had a reasonable basis for believing occurred within the scope of commission employment, duties, or responsibilities, provided that the actual or alleged act, error, or omission did not result from the intentional or willful and wanton misconduct of that person.

Article VI. Meetings and Acts of the Commission

(1) The commission shall meet and take actions that are consistent with the provisions of this compact and the bylaws.

(2) Each member of the commission has the right and power to cast a vote to which that compacting state is entitled and to participate in the business and affairs of the commission. A member shall vote in person or by other means that are provided in the bylaws. The bylaws may provide for members' participation in meetings by telephone or other means of communication.

(3) The commission shall meet at least once during each calendar year. Additional meetings must be held as set forth in the bylaws.

Article VII. Rules and Operating Procedures — Rulemaking Functions of the Commission and Opting Out of Uniform Standards

(1) Rulemaking authority. The commission shall promulgate reasonable rules, including uniform standards, and operating procedures to effectively and efficiently achieve the purposes of this compact. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the commission exercises its rulemaking authority in a manner that is beyond the scope of the purposes of this compact or the powers granted by this compact, then the action by the commission is invalid and has no force.

(2) Rulemaking procedure. Rules and operating procedures must be made pursuant to a rulemaking process that conforms to the Model State Administrative Procedures Act of 1981, as amended, as may be appropriate to the operations of the commission. Before the commission adopts a uniform standard, the commission shall give written notice to the relevant state legislative committee or committees in each compacting state responsible for insurance issues of its intention to adopt the uniform standard. In adopting a uniform standard, the commission shall consider fully all submitted materials and issue a concise explanation of its decision.

(3) Effective date and opt out of a uniform standard. A uniform standard becomes effective 90 days after its promulgation by the commission or at a later date determined by the commission, provided, however, that a compacting state may opt out of a uniform standard as provided in this article. "Opt out" means any action by a compacting state to decline to adopt or participate in a promulgated uniform standard. All other rules and operating procedures and amendments of the rules and operating procedures become effective as of the date specified in each rule, operating procedure, or amendment.

(4) Opt-out procedure.

(a) A compacting state may opt out of a uniform standard, either by legislation or regulation promulgated by the insurance department under the compacting state's administrative procedure act. If a compacting state elects to opt out of a uniform standard by regulation, the compacting state shall:

(i) give written notice to the commission no later than 10 business days after the uniform standard is promulgated or at the time the state becomes a compacting state; and

(ii) find that the uniform standard does not provide reasonable protections to the citizens of the state, given the conditions in the state. The commissioner shall make specific findings of fact and conclusions of law, based on a preponderance of the evidence, detailing the conditions in the state that warrant a departure from the uniform standard and determining that the uniform standard would not reasonably protect the citizens of the state. The commissioner shall consider and balance the following factors and find that the conditions in the state and needs of the citizens of the state outweigh:

(A) the intent of the legislature to participate in, and the benefits of, an interstate agreement to establish national uniform consumer protections for the products subject to this compact; and

(B) the presumption that a uniform standard adopted by the commission provides reasonable protections to consumers of the relevant product.

(b) Notwithstanding subsection (4)(a), a compacting state may, at the time of its enactment of this compact, prospectively opt out of all uniform standards involving long-term care insurance products by expressly providing for the opt out in the enacted compact, and the opt out may not be treated as a material variance in the offer or acceptance of any state to participate in this compact. The opt out is effective at the time of enactment of this compact by the compacting state and applies to all existing uniform standards involving long-term care insurance products and those subsequently promulgated.

(5) Effect of opt out.

(a) If a compacting state elects to opt out of a uniform standard, the uniform standard remains applicable in the compacting state electing to opt out until the opt-out legislation is enacted into law or the regulation opting out becomes effective.

(b) Once the opt out of a uniform standard by a compacting state becomes effective as provided under the laws of that state, the uniform standard has no further force in that state unless the legislation or regulation implementing the opt out is repealed or otherwise becomes ineffective under the laws of the state. If a compacting state opts out of a uniform standard after the uniform standard has been made effective in that state, the opt out has the same prospective effect as provided under Article XIV for withdrawals.

(6) Stay of uniform standard. If a compacting state has formally initiated the process of opting out of a uniform standard by regulation and while the regulatory opt out is pending, the compacting state may petition the commission, at least 15 days before the effective date of the uniform standard, to stay the effectiveness of the uniform standard in that state. The commission may grant a stay if it determines the regulatory opt out is being pursued in a reasonable manner and there is a likelihood of success. If the commission grants or extends a stay, the stay or extension may postpone the effective date by up to 90 days unless affirmatively extended by the commission, provided that a stay may not be permitted to remain in effect for more than 1 year unless the compacting state can show extraordinary circumstances that warrant a continuance of the stay, including but not limited to the existence of a legal challenge that prevents the compacting state from opting out. The commission may terminate a stay upon notice that the rulemaking process has been terminated.

(7) Not later than 30 days after a rule or operating procedure is promulgated, any person may file a petition for judicial review of the rule or operating procedure, provided that the filing of a petition may not stay or otherwise prevent the rule or operating procedure from becoming effective unless the court finds that the petitioner has a substantial likelihood of success. The court shall give deference to the actions of the commission consistent with applicable law and may not find the rule or operating procedure to be unlawful if the rule or operating procedure represents a reasonable exercise of the commission's authority.

Article VIII. Commission Records and Enforcement

(1) The commission shall promulgate rules establishing conditions and procedures for public inspection and copying of its information and official records, except information and records involving the privacy of individuals and insurers' trade secrets. The commission may promulgate additional rules under which it may make available to federal and state agencies, including law enforcement agencies, records and information otherwise exempt from disclosure and may enter into agreements with those agencies to receive or exchange information or records subject to nondisclosure and confidentiality provisions.

(2) Except with regard to privileged records, data, and information, the laws of any compacting state pertaining to confidentiality or nondisclosure may not relieve any compacting state commissioner of the duty to disclose any relevant records, data, or information to the commission, provided that disclosure to the commission may not be considered to waive or otherwise affect any confidentiality requirement and provided further that, except as otherwise expressly provided in this compact, the commission may not be subject to the compacting state's laws pertaining to confidentiality and nondisclosure with respect to records, data, and information in its possession. Confidential information of the commission must remain confidential after the information is provided to any commissioner.

(3) The commission shall monitor compacting states for compliance with duly adopted bylaws, rules, including uniform standards, and operating procedures. The commission shall notify any noncomplying compacting state in writing of its noncompliance with commission bylaws, rules, or operating procedures. If a noncomplying compacting state fails to remedy its noncompliance within the time specified in the notice of noncompliance, the compacting state is considered to be in default as set forth in Article XIV.

(4) The commissioner of any state in which an insurer is authorized to do business or is conducting the business of insurance shall continue to exercise authority to oversee the market regulation of the activities of the insurer in accordance with the provisions of the state's law.

The commissioner's enforcement of compliance with the compact is governed by the following provisions:

(a) With respect to the commissioner's market regulation of a product or advertisement that is approved or certified to the commission, the content of the product or advertisement may not constitute a violation of the provisions, standards, or requirements of the compact except upon a final order of the commission, issued at the request of a commissioner after prior notice to the insurer and an opportunity for hearing before the commission.

(b) Before a commissioner may bring an action for violation of any provision, standard, or requirement of the compact relating to the content of an advertisement not approved or certified to the commission, the commission or an authorized commission officer or employee shall authorize the action. However, authorization pursuant to this subsection (4)(b) does not require notice to the insurer, opportunity for hearing, or disclosure of requests for authorization or records of the commission's action on the requests.

Article IX. Dispute Resolution

The commission shall attempt, upon the request of a member, to resolve any disputes or other issues that are subject to this compact and that may arise between two or more compacting states or between compacting states and noncompacting states, and the commission shall promulgate an operating procedure providing for resolution of the disputes.

Article X. Product Filing and Approval

(1) Insurers and third-party filers seeking to have a product approved by the commission shall file the product with and pay applicable filing fees to the commission. Nothing in this compact may be construed to restrict or otherwise prevent an insurer from filing its product with the insurance department in any state in which the insurer is licensed to conduct the business of insurance, and the filing is subject to the laws of the states where filed.

(2) The commission shall establish appropriate filing and review processes and procedures pursuant to commission rules and operating procedures. Notwithstanding any provision in this compact to the contrary, the commission shall promulgate rules to establish conditions and procedures under which the commission shall provide public access to product filing information. In establishing the rules, the commission shall consider the interests of the public in having access to the information, as well as protection of personal medical and financial information and trade secrets, that may be contained in a product filing or supporting information.

(3) Any product approved by the commission may be sold or otherwise issued in those compacting states in which the insurer is legally authorized to do business.

Article XI. Review of Commission Decisions Regarding Filings

(1) Not later than 30 days after the commission has given notice of a disapproved product or advertisement filed with the commission, the insurer or third-party filer whose filing was disapproved may appeal the determination to a review panel appointed by the commission. The commission shall promulgate rules to establish procedures for appointing a review panel and provide for notice and hearing. An allegation that the commission, in disapproving a product or advertisement filed with the commission, acted arbitrarily, capriciously, or in a manner that is an abuse of discretion or otherwise not in accordance with the law is subject to judicial review in accordance with Article III, subsection (4).

(2) The commission has authority to monitor, review, and reconsider products and advertisement subsequent to their filing or approval upon a finding that the product does not meet the relevant uniform standard. When appropriate, the commission may withdraw or modify its approval after proper notice and hearing subject to the appeal process in subsection (1).

Article XII. Finance

(1) The commission shall pay or provide for the payment of the reasonable expenses of its establishment and organization. To fund the cost of its initial operations, the commission may accept contributions and other forms of funding from the national association of insurance commissioners, compacting states, and other sources. Contributions and other forms of funding from other sources must be of such a nature that the independence of the commission concerning the performance of its duties may not be compromised.

(2) The commission shall collect a filing fee from each insurer and third-party filer filing a product with the commission to cover the cost of the operations and activities of the commission and its staff in a total amount sufficient to cover the commission's annual budget.

(3) The commission's budget for a fiscal year may not be approved until the budget has been subject to notice and comment as set forth in Article VII.

(4) The commission is exempt from all taxation in and by the compacting states.

(5) The commission may not pledge the credit of any compacting state except by and with the appropriate legal authority of that compacting state.

(6) The commission shall keep complete and accurate accounts of all its internal receipts, including grants and donations, and disbursements of all funds under its control. The internal financial accounts of the commission are subject to the accounting procedures established under the commission bylaws. The financial accounts and reports, including the system of internal controls and procedures of the commission, must be audited annually by an independent certified public accountant. Upon the determination of the commission, but no less frequently than every 3 years, the review of the independent auditor must include a management and performance audit of the commission. The commission shall make an annual report to the governor and legislature of the compacting states, which must include a report of the independent audit. The commission's internal accounts are not confidential, and the materials may be shared with the commissioner of any compacting state upon request. However, any work papers related to any internal or independent audit and any information regarding the privacy of individuals and insurers' proprietary information, including trade secrets, must remain confidential.

(7) No compacting state has any claim to or ownership of any property held by or vested in the commission or to any commission funds held pursuant to the provisions of this compact.

Article XIII. Compacting States, Effective Date, and Amendment

(1) Any state is eligible to become a compacting state.

(2) The compact becomes effective and binding upon legislative enactment of the compact into law by two compacting states; however, the commission becomes effective for purposes of adopting uniform standards for, reviewing, and giving approval or disapproval of products filed with the commission that satisfy applicable uniform standards only after 26 states are compacting states or, alternatively, by states representing greater than 40% of the premium volume for life insurance, annuity, disability income, and long-term care insurance products, based on records of the national association of insurance commissioners for the prior year. Thereafter, the compact becomes effective and binding as to any other compacting state upon enactment of the compact into law by the state.

(3) Amendments to the compact may be proposed by the commission for enactment by the compacting states. An amendment does not become effective and binding upon the commission and the compacting states until all compacting states enact the amendment into law.

Article XIV. Withdrawal, Default, and Termination

(1) Withdrawal.

(a) Once effective, the compact continues in force and remains binding upon each compacting state, provided that a compacting state may withdraw from the compact ("withdrawing state") by enacting a statute specifically repealing the statute that enacted the compact into law.

(b) The effective date of withdrawal is the effective date of the repealing statute. The withdrawal may not apply to any product filings approved or self-certified, or any advertisement of those products, on the date the repealing statute becomes effective except by mutual agreement of the commission and the withdrawing state unless the withdrawing state rescinds the approval as provided in subsection (1)(e).

(c) The commissioner of the withdrawing state shall immediately notify the management committee in writing upon the introduction of legislation repealing this compact in the withdrawing state.

(d) The commission shall notify the other compacting states of the introduction of the legislation within 10 days after its receipt of notice.

(e) The withdrawing state is responsible for all obligations, duties, and liabilities incurred through the effective date of withdrawal, including any obligations, the performance of which extend beyond the effective date of withdrawal, except to the extent those obligations may have been released or relinquished by mutual agreement of the commission and the withdrawing state. The commission's approval of products and advertisement prior to the effective date of withdrawal continues to be effective and must be given full force in the withdrawing state unless formally rescinded by the withdrawing state in the same manner as provided by the laws of the withdrawing state for the prospective disapproval of products or advertisement previously approved under state law.

(f) Reinstatement following withdrawal of any compacting state occurs upon the effective date of the withdrawing state reenacting the compact.

(2) Default.

(a) If the commission determines that any compacting state has at any time defaulted ("defaulting state") in the performance of any of its obligations or responsibilities under this compact, the bylaws, or duly promulgated rules or operating procedures, then, after notice and hearing as set forth in the bylaws, all rights, privileges, and benefits conferred by this compact on the defaulting state must be suspended from the effective date of default as fixed by the commission. The grounds for default include but are not limited to failure of a compacting state to perform its obligations or responsibilities and any other grounds designated in the commission rules. The commission shall immediately notify the defaulting state in writing of the defaulting state's suspension pending a cure of the default. The commission shall stipulate the conditions and the time period within which the defaulting state must cure its default. If the defaulting state fails to cure the default within the time period specified by the commission, the defaulting state must be terminated from the compact and all rights, privileges, and benefits conferred by this compact must be terminated from the effective date of termination.

(b) Product approvals by the commission, product self-certifications, or any advertisement in connection with the product that is in force on the effective date of termination remains in force in the defaulting state in the same manner as if the defaulting state had withdrawn voluntarily pursuant to subsection (1) of this article.

(c) Reinstatement following termination of any compacting state requires a reenactment of the compact.

(3) Dissolution of compact.

(a) The compact dissolves effective upon the date of the withdrawal or default of the compacting state that reduces membership in the compact to one compacting state.

(b) Upon the dissolution of this compact, the compact becomes null and void and is of no further force and the business and affairs of the commission must be wound up and any surplus funds must be distributed in accordance with the bylaws.

Article XV. Severability and Construction

(1) The provisions of this compact are severable, and if any phrase, clause, sentence, or provision is considered unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the compact are enforceable.

(2) The provisions of this compact must be liberally construed to effectuate its purposes.

Article XVI. Binding Effect of Compact and Other Laws

(1) Other laws.

(a) Nothing in this compact prevents the enforcement of any other law of a compacting state, except as provided in subsection (1)(b).

(b) For any product approved or certified to the commission, the rules, uniform standards, and any other requirements of the commission constitute the exclusive provisions applicable to the content, approval, and certification of those products. For advertisement that is subject to the commission's authority, any rule, uniform standard, or other requirement of the commission that governs the content of the advertisement constitutes the exclusive provision that a commissioner may apply to the content of the advertisement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no action taken by the commission may abrogate or restrict:

(i) the access of any person to state courts;

(ii) remedies available under state law related to breach of contract, tort, or other laws not specifically directed to the content of the product;

(iii) state law relating to the construction of insurance contracts; or

(iv) the authority of the attorney general of the state, including but not limited to maintaining any actions or proceedings, as authorized by law.

(c) All insurance products filed with individual states are subject to the laws of those states.

(2) Binding effect of this compact.

(a) All lawful actions of the commission, including all rules and operating procedures promulgated by the commission, are binding upon the compacting states.

(b) All agreements between the commission and the compacting states are binding in accordance with their terms.

(c) Upon the request of a party to a conflict over the meaning or interpretation of commission actions and upon a majority vote of the compacting states, the commission may issue advisory opinions regarding the meaning or interpretation in dispute.

(d) In the event any provision of this compact exceeds the constitutional limits imposed on the legislature of any compacting state, the obligations, duties, powers, or jurisdiction sought to be conferred by that provision upon the commission are ineffective as to that compacting state and those obligations, duties, powers, or jurisdiction remain in the compacting state and must be exercised by the agency of the compacting state to which those obligations, duties, powers, or jurisdictions are delegated by law in effect at the time this compact becomes effective.

Article XVII. State of Montana Opt Out

In accordance with the provisions of Article VII, subsection (4)(b), the state of Montana opts out of all existing and prospective uniform standards involving long-term care insurance products and all existing uniform standards involving individual disability income insurance products in order to preserve the state's statutory and constitutional requirements governing these insurance products.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 360, L. 2013.

33-39-102. Montana compact commissioner — alternate. The commissioner of insurance provided for in 2-15-1903 or the commissioner's designated alternate shall represent this state on the interstate insurance product regulation commission.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 360, L. 2013.

33-39-103. Opt-out duties, guidelines, remedies. (1) As a participant in the Interstate Insurance Product Regulation Compact, the commissioner may opt out of any uniform standard that provides a materially lower level of protection for or materially diminishes the rights of Montana policyholders or policy applicants under Montana law.

(2) Using the time periods provided in Title 2, chapter 4, for adopting administrative procedures and prior to notifying the interstate insurance product regulation commission of a decision to opt out, the commissioner shall provide public notice and hold a public hearing to allow for comments on the decision to opt out.

(3) After taking public comment, the commissioner shall notify the interstate insurance product regulation commission, the governor, and the legislative council of the decision to opt out.

(4) A decision of the commissioner to opt out of a uniform standard may be appealed as provided in 33-1-711.
